

Why we should recycle

I think recycling is important for our world, because the plastic can take a long time to bring down, we need to keep it clean, and animals can die because of the plastic.

Plastic takes a long time to bring down if there in the trash can. If there is an ocean near the factory, the trash will pile up and fall into the ocean. The creatures in the sea will get hurt by the things in there. Some plastic doesn't go in the recycling bin. Paper, plastic (some), cardboard, and glass goes in the recycling bin.

We need to keep our world clean, safe, and healthy for our world and everyone in it. ( including animals) the more we clean, the more the world stays good.

If the animals get caught in the trash, (the paper/plastic/glass) they can get seriously get hurt if there is an habitat near that factory.

Conclusion,

Next time, recycle the things we talked about otherwise these things will happen:

Animals will die if their habitat is near the factory if the trash piles up, plastic takes days to break down, which can also pile up if doesn't break down.

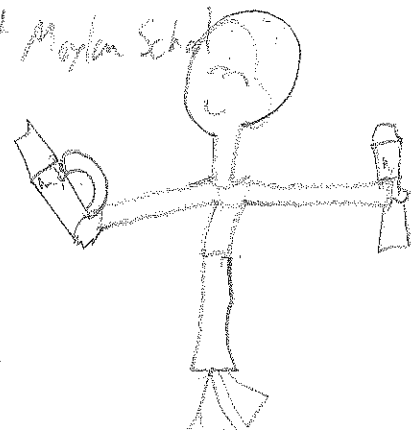

Recycling is cool,

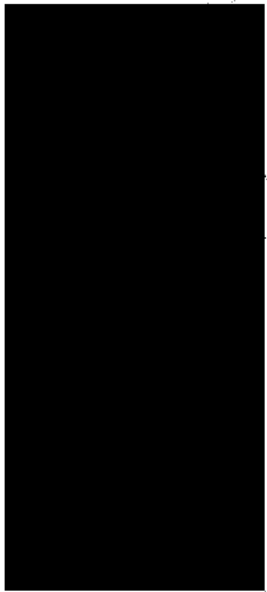

recycle so are world stays:

and healthy clean!
