Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and natritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten mingtes.
It is valuable because at is not periahable, and may be renleved available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other farment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

wholesome.
It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using GOMENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Formentation, as has

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAVES, Assayer to the State of Marsachusetts.

'I have analyzed the CONCENTRATED LEAVEN man ufactured by MESSES, EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby tendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable sait, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, paintable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

HOW TO USE IT. We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great wantage in all other kinds of cake, also in truit pudding an 1 th SEWING MACHINES.

When sewing machines were first suggested it was feared that they would be a sore injury to the poor women who live by their needle. When they became common it began to be said that soon there would be no gan to be said that soon there would be no need of women at all. Both apprehensions have already proved to be groundless; and with the multiplication of the machines there has come an increased demand for women to work them, and the poor get better pay for lighter work than they did before. The great difficulty to get a machine has to be over-come by the economy and industry of the come by the economy and industry of the party, or by the aid of friends, and then a means of livelihood is at once furnished to any frugal and honest family willing to work.

But it is far from being true that sewing mechanisms are for the necessary.

machines are for the poor only. Tens of thousands of ladies do their own sewing, and any woman of sense, no matter how well off she may be, is in the habit of doing more or less sewing for herself and her children. It is real drudgery to be all day long doing a piece of sewing that, with a machine, may be better done in half an hour. Think of be better done in haif an hour. Think of making up a set of shirts in half a day! Think of a thousand stitches in a minute! Now, the machine is a neat, ornamental piece of furniture in any parlor, taking up no more room than a ladies' work table, and worked so easily that it produces no fatigue, affords a pleasant excitement in the family, and becomes a source of entertainment to those who comes a source of entertainment to those who comes a source of entertainment to those who operate and those who look on to see the work. The introductions of sewing machines into the manufacturing establishments where many women are employed, and their use in the family will certainly introduce a new era in the history of womankind, improving their physical health and comfort, and affording them. them hours of mental and moral improve ment of which thousands of the sex have been hitherto deprived. We have been led to these remarks by We have been led to these remarks by having recently seen the operation on a large scale and on a small scale, that is, in the manufactory and in the parlor, of the Wheeler & Wilson family sewing machine.

It is quite impossible to give such a description of the construction of one of these instruments as will make it intelligible to one who has not seen it, and we will not attempt a mechanical explanation, which would be unsatisfactory to the reader.

Among the advantages of Wheeler & Wilson's machine are—I. Elegance and simplicity of construction, and consequent freedom son's machine are—I. Elegance and simpli-city of construction and consequent freedom from derangement and need of repairs. 2. Durability. A single machine has been run for ten years, and is yet as good as if it were new—as perfect as when it was first put upon the table. Various machines have been kept regularly at sattching ten hours a day—and a good hand will cause them to make two were when they came from the ma hands. 3. Unexampled ease and rapidity of operation. 4. Noiseless movement. 5. Beauty of stitch and firmness of seam. 6. Econpeneath the needle that is now rising and falling, she places her work, and steadily but rapidly the needle plies up and down through it, interweaving two threads, an upper and lower one, so neatly that the thread lies even with the cloth, and on both sides it is equally smooth and handsome.

matrument that it should do equal execu-npon linen, cotten, silk and woolen go We have the most satisfactory evidence We have the most satisfactory evidence that it will accomplish all this, for we have seen the neatest and the mest beautiful work done by the machine on all these different kinds of cloth, and we know that it will answer the purpose in every desired case. Even the most delicate fabrics, such as are used for infants' clothing, are wrought with exquisite finish and with wonderful rapidity, securing an elegance that the finger needle cannot produce, and yet turning it out in a space of time so brief as to be almost incredible. At the Fair of the American Institute is now exhibited a complete dress for a child, trimmed the Fair of the American Institute is now exhibited a complete dress for a child, trimmed with costly lace, with numerous rows of insertion and a prodigious amount of fine stitching expended upon it, the whole being done by one of these machines. And we have seen coarse cloths and leather wrought with equal success, demonstrating the ability of the machine to do all that is promised.

machine to do all that is promised.

It strikes the most of persons, when first sit down to one of the machines, the first sit down to one of the machines, that it is so complicated they will never be able to learn its operation; but a single day's use of it, with the instruction that is easily obtained, will enable any lady to make a good beginning, and a few days' practice will make it a pleasant employment. Of course in this, as in any other work, practice is needful to reach perfection. Sewing with the needle in the fingers is not learned in a day, and years are required to become an expert. But a few are required to become an expert. But a few weeks' use of the sewing machine will enable any lady to do all her plain sewing, and to do it well, and soon her fine sewing, with far ore success than with her needle, and leave her plenty of time for everything else she may have on hand.

We are aware that as our paper reaches the most distant and secluded parts of the country, and is the family paper of thousands who may be determined in their choice of a machine by our commen assuming some responsibility in presenti these facts. But we have seen the operati of Wheeler & Wilson's under the most favorable circumstances for forming an intelligent judgment, and we do not heultate to say that families purchasing them may be sure that they will give entire satisfaction.—New York Observer.

THE PROPOSITION OF THE BOR-

The Committee of the fourteen border Salas, composed of Messrs. Crittenden, of Kentucky, chairman : Harris, of Maryland : Sherman, of Ohio; Nixon, of New Jersey; Saulsbury, of Delaware; Gilmer, of North Carolina ; Hatton, of Tennessee ; Pettit, of Indiana: Harris, of Virginia; McClernand of Illinois : Barrett, of Missouri ; Sebastian, of Arkansas ; Vandever, of Iowa, and Hale, of Pennsylvania, at their meeting in Washington, on Saturday, adopted the following plan of amending the constitution, by a vote wanting only that of Mr. Sherman to make it mmending a repeal of all the Personal Liberty bills.

2. That the Fugitive Slave Law be amended for the preventing of kidnapping, and so as to provide for the equalization of the Commissioners' fees, &c.
3. That the constitution be so amended as to prohibit any interference with slavery in any of the States where it now exists.

4. That Congress shall not abolish slavery in the South of cockyards, arenals, &c., nor in the District of Combin without the consent of Maryland and the consent the inhabitants of the District, nor without compensation re shall be a perpetual prohibition of the

6. That there shall be a perpetual prohibition of the African slave trade.
7. That the line of 36 degrees 30 minutes shall be run through all the existing territory of the United States; that in all north of that line alevery shall be prohibited, and that south of that line neither Congress nor the Territorial Legislature shall hereafter pass any law sholishing, prohibiting or; in any manner interfering with African slavery, and that when any Territory containing a sufficient population for one Member of Congress in any area of 60,000 square miles shall apply for admission as a State, it shall be admitted, with or without slavery as its constitution may determine.

There can be no doubt that these propositions would prove acceptable to the North generally, and if submitted to the vote of the people, would receive three-fourths, or probably five sixths, of the whole vote of the country. The border States have the great. est interest in the present controversy and the most urgent desire to settle it peaceably. The representatives of those States too, appear to possess more statesmanship than their colleagues generally, as these pro positions plainly indicate.

Petitions are | being circulated in Michigan, asking the forthcoming Legislature to repeal the Nullification Laws now on the statute books of that State.

The California Republican papers join the cry, and come out for the repeal of the Nullification laws.

A petition four hundred and fifty-six feet long has been sent from Philadelphia to the Pennsylvania Legislature, praying for a re peal of the Nullification law of that State.

The opponents of repeal—the Abolition papers proper, like the Hartford Press, and Bridgeport Standard-will soon be left out of sight in the onward sweep of the Repeal movement.

The Rev. Mr. Nash, of the Methodist church, this city, delivered his Fast-day anti-slavery feeling spoken of by the Dr. Sermon, last evening, in the presence of a large audience. We heard only the latter portion of it-and if the beginning was like unto the end, we are led to the conclusion that the whole was a very one-sided affair: an ingenious, well-studied misrepresentation and partisan coloring of the whole matter such as are to be found in the columns of the Tribune, in the sermons of Beecher and Cheever, in the speeches of Seward, Lincoln, Sumner, and Lovejoy, and in Helper Republican Text-Book. Indeed, the "haygrop" argument was referred to in direct terms; so also was Seward's higher law passage of Scripture (Deut. xxiii. 15,) against at the hall of the Yale Scientific School in the fugitive slave clause, in the Constitution, and Greeley's "blood-hound" argument against complying with the requirements of the law passed to carry that clause into eflican members of Congress had a caucus. Although there was a full attendance, only two or three of the most ultra Republicans spoke on the question, and the language of some of them was very abusive, and not very select. Mr. Lovejoy, of Illinois, was one of the speakers, and his language was exceedingly violent, and bordering on the blasphemous. Mr. Hickman, of Pennsylvania-who was going to lead eighteen millions of men to march upon the South-also spoke, declaring hostility to all and every compromise. But the fact that no vote was taken on the propositions of the border States shows that a majority of the Republican members are not yet prepared to reject every offer of compromise and reconciliation.

It now appears that the rumor so busily circulated by the Abolition Republican press that volunteers were being collected in Virginia and Maryland for the purpose of attacking Washington, is without any foundation whatever-and was set affoat merely to create an excitement at the North.

Thurlow Weed is in Washington. It stated that the object of his mission is to arrange some mode of settlement that will restore peace to the country. He and several other leading NewYork Republicans, according to the Herald's correspondent, are urging the Republican members of Congress to put aside their abstractions and miserable quibbles, and to grapple with the great questions at issue and bring about a settlement alike honorable to all,

The Standard man thinks that there is not much of the bitter anti-slavery feeling referred to in Dr. Hewitt's fast day sermon to be found in this section. We hope there is not. But one thing is certain, what little there, is the result of the teachings of the sectional Abolition sheet of which the Standard man is editor. It is one of the most uncompromising Abolition prints we know offollowing in the footsteps of Greeley's Tribune and Garrison's Liberator; and we are glad that its influence is so small that the bitter "can hardly be said to exist to any considerable extent " in this region.

The Hartford Daily Times and the Hartford Daily Courant have both been enlarged and improved. We are glad to notice these signs of prosperity. Both sheets are deserving of the great patronage they receive, for they are very ably conducted. The Times ranks among the leading Democratic papers in the country; and in the Republican party the old Courant has no superior.

BURRILL S TURKISH LINIMENT. The recipe for making this celebrated Liniment was obtained by a gentleman while visiting the Turkish Empire a few years since. While there he winessed its use upon horses, and so remarkable were the cures, he concluded to horses, and so remarkable were the cures, he concluded to purchase the recipe for making it for his own use if nothing more. After returning to this country, he made some and tried it in several cases of swellings, cuts, burns, bruises, etc. and found it to cure more speedily than any article ever discovered. Becoming acquainted with the gentleman, I purchased the recipe and have made and used it with great success, and found one-half had never been told of its intrinsic value. For Rheumatism, Sprains, Chibblains, Pains in the Back or Cheat, Cramp, Swelled Face, Sore Throat, Neuralgia, Toothache, or Swellings of every kind—it is warranted to cure. For horses, Sprained, Chafed, Wind Galled, Cracked Heels, Chest Foundered, etc. It is the most valuable medicine in vogue. A large number of certificates could be given if necessary, but one trial will satisfy the most sheptical. It is perfectly asfe to take inwardly in case of Colle or Cramp.—The Limiment is for eale by all druggists. Baurses & Park, 13 and 15 Fark Row, New York, Wholesale Agents. REMEDIES

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct pervision and inspection of frot. HUMP FIREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple atlinents of life. A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and riffing. A mere cold, a slight diarrhora, a pain in the side, or a headache, or boarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dynemiery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicino fail to arrest. Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curstive effects are positive and certain, then are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed. Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable. Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in converted the country, with almost invariable suc-

WRITING COMPOSITIONS. What a bug-bear to the school-boy every-where. No exercise of any kind connected with the school-room and its duties, is so uni versally dreaded by scholars of both sexes and of all ages. There seems to be a natural aversion to it in the pupil's mind.

Yet at the same time, there is no exercise which is more necessary for the welfare and complete education of the youth than this. very fact of its being shunned by the pupil, should be the very reason for teachers to rigorously enforce it. Writing compositions should be a regular school exercise,—as much so as spelling, arithmetic, or geogra-phy. Scholars should be trained to it as they grow older, and in time they will be come good, if not able and accomplished hould always be careful that the attions should be original, or all the stages of this exercise will be utterly away. Scholars themselves shou nake it a matter of conscience to themselves that the compositions are original. Let their sions embody their own thoughts, and not those of any one else. Better let a come but a single sentence, and that riginal, than a page of stolen thoughts.

Want of time forbids our speaking more at length of this important matter at the present time. But let all teachers bear in m those aptly spoken words of Bacon: "Reading makes a full man, conversation makes ready man, writing makes an exact man.

Anything Midas touched was turned to gold. In se days, touch a man with gold and he will turn

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE.—
I have devoted many years of time and close investigation to the cure of Gancers, and have at last an unmistakable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scrofula. ant to the taste, it is revivitying, exhilitarating, and atrengthening to the vital powers. It also revivines, reinstates and renews the blood in all fix original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invalinerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the seedact stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilitarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor hams ity is constantly liable. PROF. O. J. Wood & CO. GENTE—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable HAIR RESTORATIVE, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous enquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stages of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and beiter colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it, is not generally true, is that the substance is washes off by frequent shintion of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some menths, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 51 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and on the prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your lavor of two quart botties last summer, for which I am wery grateful: I gave it to my friends and thereby induced them to try it, many were skeptical until after trial, and then purchased and used it with; universal success. I will ask as a favor, that you send rea a test by which I can discover fraud in the Restorative, sold by many, I fear, witho

E. B. MIDDLEBROOK,

what is life?—Ask this question of the forests, which teem with surdy life. There stand veterans of centurial ages, rearing their rugged and far-reaching arms aloft as if in deprecation of the ignorance of manking arms aloft as if in deprecation of the ignorance of manking arms aloft as if in deprecation of the ignorance of manking arms aloft as if in deprecation of the ignorance of manking as to the means of preserving health and establishing long evity. For the tree seves as surely and as distinctly as you do. 20 kill it you must strike deeply into its heart, and then it dies reductantly and with many theoretical struggles. Life, ever thing has life, even to the poor sponge and the trodden down pebble. How beautiful is the economy of health. How simple the methods of prolonging life, and preserving it from the assaults of the emissaries of our arch enemy, Death. Unlike the lesser living things of the world, we indulge in many habits that poison the blood weaken the muscles, wasts the fiesh, stuitify the mind, rob the nerves of their electrical forces, and, after keeping as is valids for weary years, finally consignus to premature graves. A life half lived out is like a fortune thrown into the fathom-less ocean. It is a boon, priceless but useless. How careful then should we be never to get sick; but if, by any mindenance were children, are not the persons to recover us. It is the progressive doctor—the man alive to the ruquirements of the age—the man who is neither too idle nor too old fogrish to study for the benefit of his fellows and to give them a specific remedy—the result of his toil—that we must consult. And the product of such study and scriffce is DR. O. PHELP'S BLOWN'S famous ACACIAN SALSAM!—Almost everybody has heard of it—how it heals the tabercles in the lungs, arrengthens the weak stomachs, clothes the wasted muscles with their pristine fullness, imparts parily and color to the immoverished blood, renovates the torpid and dying liver, electrifies into beautiful vigor and activity the shatt.
