BIBLE VIEW OF SLAVERY OR. RAPHALL'S DISCOURSE AT THE SYNA-GOGUE, BNAI JESHURUN, IN GREENE ST. N. Y.

It remains for me now to exam was the condition of the slave in Biblical times and among the Hebrew. And here at once we must distinguish between the He-brew bondman and the heathen slave. The former could only be reduced to bondage from two causes. If he had committed theft and had not wherewithal to make full restitu-tion he was "sold for his theft." [Exod. xx. II 3.] Or if he became so miserably poor that he could not sustain life except by begging, he had permission to "sell" or bind himself in servitude. [Levit. xxv 39. et sig.] But in either case his servitude was lim in duration and character. "Siz years shall he serve and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing." [Exod. xxi. 2] And if even the bondman preferred bondage to freedom, he could not under any circumstances be held to servitude longer the circumstances. be held to servitude longer than the Jubilee then next coming. At that period the Estate which had originally belonged to his father or remoter ancestor reverted to his ossession, so that he went forth at once freeman and a landed proprietor. As his privilege of Hebrew Citizen was thus only suspended, and the Law, in permitting him suspended, and the Law, in permitting to be sold, contemplated his restoration his full rights, it took care that during servitude his mind should not be crushed the abject and oringing condition of a alave.

"Ye shall not rule over another with rigor" is the provision of the Law. (Lev. xxv. 46.)
Thus he is fenced round with protection against any abuse of power on the part of his employer; and tradition so strictly interpreted the letter of the Law in his favor, that it was a common saying of Biblical times and homes which Maimonides has preserved to us that "he who buys an Hebrew bondman gets him-self a master." Though in servitude this Hebrew was in no wise exempt from his religious duties. Therefore it is not for him or his that the ten Commandments stipulated for rest on the Sabbath of the Lord; for his employer could not compel him to work on that day; and if he did work of his own accord, he became guilty of death, like any other Sabbath-breaker. Neither does the prohibition, "thou shalt not covet the proprohibition, "thou shalt not covet the property of thy neighbor" apply to him, for he was not the property of his employer. In fact, between the Hebrew bondman and the Southern Slave, there is no point of resemblance. There were, however, Slaves am the Hebrews, whose general condition was analagous to that of his Southern fellow sufferers. That was the heathen slave, who was to be bought "from the heathens that were round about the land of Israel, or from the heathen strangers that sojourned in the land; they should be a possession, to be bequeathed as an inheritance to the children, after his death forever." xxv.,44-46]. Over these heathen slave the owners property was absolute; he could put them to hard labor, to the utmost extent of their physical strength; he could inflict on them any degree of chastisement short of injury to life and limb. If his heathen slave ran away or strayed from home, every Israelite was bound to bring or send him back, as he would have to do with any other portion of his neighbors' property that had be me sense as in the Ten Comm or strayed (Deut xxii., 3). Now you may, perhaps, ask me how I can reconcile this statement with the text of scripture so frequently quoted against the Fugitive Slave Law, "Thou shalt not surrender unto his master the slave who has escaped from his master unto thee " (Deut. zxiii., 16). I answer you that, according to all legists, this text applies to a heathen slave, who, from any country, escapes from his master, iding out of the land of Israel. Su -bat such a slave only—is to find a ermanent asylum in any part of the country he may choose. This interpretation is fully borne out by the words of the precept. The pronoun "Thou," is not here used in the There it designates every sout in Israel individually; since every one has it in his power and is in duty bound to over the Commandments. But as the security and protection to be bestowed on the runaway slave is youd the power of any individual, and requires the consent and concurrence of the whole community, the pronoun "Thou" here means the whole of the people, and not one portion in opposition to another portion of the people. And as the expression remains the same throughout the precept "With thee he shall dwell, even among ye in the place he shall choose in one of thy gates where it liketh him best" it plainly shows that the whole of the land was open to him, and the whole of the people were to protect the fugi-tive, which could not have been carried out if it had applied to the slave who escaped from the tribe into the territory of another. Had the precept been expounded in any other than its strictly literal sense, it would have caused great confusion, since it would have nullified two other precepts of God's Law; that which directs that "slaves like lands and houses, were to be inherited forever and that which commands "property lost or strayed to be restored to the owner" Any other interpetration would moreover have caused heart burning and strife among the tribes, for men were as tenacious of their rights and property in those days as they are now. But no second opinion was ever entertained, the slave who ran away from Dan to Be ba had to be given up, even as the runaw from South Carolina has to be given up Massachusetts; whilst the runaway Edom or from Syria found an asylum in the land of Israel, as the runaway slave from Cuba or Brazil would find in New York. Accordingly Shimei reclaimed and recove away slaves from Achish, King of Gath, at that time a Vassal of Israel, (Kings II. 39, 40.) And Saul of Tarsus sent back the runaway slave Onesimus unto his owner Philemon. But to surrender to a ruthless, law-less heathen, the wretched slave who had escaped from his arrests. caped from his cruelty, would have be

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The Standard has a very mean way treating the President and his official documents. Instead of giving him a hearing, by publishing his message, as is customary with nearly all political papers, on both sides, it barely gives a distorted synopsis of them, or presents garbled extracts, from which the reader cannot obtain a full or fair understanding of theviews he expresses. Take the following for a sample, which we find in the Standard, purporting to give the substance of that paragraph in his late message, referring to the misapprehensions at the South : The secession movement, it is said, is owing to a mis apprehension as to the sentiments of the majerity at the North. Certainly; and great efforts have been made by the President's party friends to cause that misapprehension. That is the trouble.

The language of the President on this point

I am firmly convinced that the secession movement hat been chiefly based upon misapprehension at the South of the sentiments of the majority in several of the Northen States. Let the question be transferred from the politica assemblies to the ballot box, and the people themselves would speedily redress the serious grievances which the South have suffered.

P. M. PERRY.

32 STATE STREET, (HENRY SHELTON'S OLD STAND.)

REMEDIES The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct pervision and inspection of Frot. HUMP fit REYS, in order to meet that great and long realised want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple aliments of life. A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases frem which we sufer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and urifing. A mere cold, a slight diarrhoa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or boarseness, a first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dyseniery, Group or other disease, which all the powers of modicine fail to arrest. Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the circuity effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger alisyed. Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable. Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and smong our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE—i have devoted many years of time and close investigat tion to the cure of Cancers, and have at last an unmistakable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scrofula. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and so certain am I of my ability to do what I promise, that in all cases where I undertake a cure, I do not besitate to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANCERS CAN BE CURED, AND THAT I CAN CURE YOU.

DR. BABCOCK is, the original Cancer Doctor of New England, and the only one who removes Cancers without pain.
All others are but imitators, induced by his success to profess themselves Cancer Doctors. Plenty of references to those 4 ho have been cured can be seen at my office.
Orders from abroad promptly attended to. A fee of $1 must accompany each order, or no notice will be taken of it.
White Swellings, Hip Diseases, Birth Marks, Scroftious and Malignant Ulcers, Diseases of the Mouth and Throat, Illiceration of the Bones. Tetter, Scald Head, and all Diseases of the Skin, PERMANENTLY CURED.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—About two years ago, a spot made its appearance upon my nose, which, though at first I theught little of it, soon proved to be that dreaded discase, called Cancer. Dreading to have it cur out, and also having little confidence in the knife treatment, it had been growing from one AND a HALF to two years, when seeing the advertisement of Dr. N. BARCOCK, of this city, and also hearing him spoken of as being skillful in the removal of Cancers by measus of plasters, and that, too, without pain, I put myself under his care, and in a few days learned by experience the entire truth of what had been said of him. The Cancer came out, and the wound quickly healed over without disfiguring my face. I am free to say, that the operation was entirely satisfactory, and that I feel myself entirely cured. I most cheerfully certify to the knowledge and skill of Dr. Bacock, in the treatment—of DROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL BLOOD RENOVATOR.

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

AND BIOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhiliarating, and attengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to stitacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the tans of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the directive organs, and aliay all netwous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilitarating in its effects and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been fet to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the theroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor human ity is constantly itable. Such, for example, as the following:—Consumption. Bronchitis, Indigestion. Dyspensis, Louss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuraigla, Palphation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypocondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Guddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Waknesses and Irregularities.—Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Comps insits, Disascess of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urins, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds. Heaking and Continued Cough, Emacistion, As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sections, and the strength of the hands of all persons of sections and the strength of the hands of all persons of sections of a construction of the strength of the hands of all laddes not accustomed to much out door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find a signessible, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again, the Cordia: the same the hands of the same the same the same the same that the same that it is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect case and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all two claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline and only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, actil too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother i- always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. THE ONLY DISCOVERY

WORTHY OF ANY CONFIDENCE FOR RESTORING THEE BAS.D AND GRAY.

Many, since the great discovery of PROF. WOOD, have attempted not only to imitate his RESTORATIVE, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Prof. Wood's preparation, and bays been orced to leave the field to its resistless sway. Weather following:—

BATH, MAINE, APRIL 18th, 1859.

FROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.: GENTS—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable HAIR RESTORATIVE, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous enquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of neutral color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any singes of my lite for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent abiation of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in Close connection with the widskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, saking me if mw hair still continues to be good; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examin dit with surprise, as I am now 01 years old and not a gray hair in my bead or on my face; and to prove this fact, i send you a lock of my hard taken off the past week. I received your lavor of two quart bottles last summer, for which WORTHY OF ANY CONFIDENCE FOR RESTORING THE SALD AND GRAY.

duty as heretofore, to keep you apprised of the continued effect on my hair, as I assure all who enquire of me of my un shaken opinion of its valuable results.

I remain, dear sir, vours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

AARONS RUN, KY., Nov. 30, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: DEAR SIR—I would certainly be doing you a great injustice not to make known to the world, the wonderful, as well as the unexpected result I have experienced from using one bottle of your HAIR RESTORATIVE.

After using every kind of Restoratives extant, but without success, and finding my head nearly destitute of hair, I was finally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative.—Now, candor and isside compel me to a nanounce to whoever may read this, that I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, which I pronounce richer and handsomer than the original was. I will therefore take occasion to recommend this invaluable remedy to all who may feel the necessity of it. Respectfully yours, Rev. S. ALEN BROCK.
P. S. This testimonial of my approbation for your valuable medicine (as you are aware) is unsolicited:—out if you think it worthy a place among the rest, insert if you wish; if not dearoy and say nothing. Yours, &c., Rev. S. A.B.

THE RESTORATIVE is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a tleast twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for one dollar per bottle; the herd holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for Sa abottle.

WHAT IS LIFE?—Ask this question of the forests, which teem with sturdy life. There stand veterane of conturial ages, rearing their rugged and far-reaching arms aloft as if in deprecation of the ignorance of mankind as to the means of preserving health and establishing longevity. For the tree larcs as surely and as distinctly as you co. To kill it you must strike deeply into the health and the tide of the reaching and with many theoretical struggles. Life, everthing has life, even to the poor sponge and the trodden down pebble. How beautiful is the economy of health. How simple the methods of prolonging life, and preserving it from the assaults of the emissaries of our arch enemy, beath! Unlike the lesser living things of the world, we indulge in many ha its that poison the blood, weaken he muscles, waste the flesh, stutify the mind, rob the nerves of their electrical force, and, after keeping as invalids for weary years, finally consignus to premature graves. A life half lived cut is like a fortune thrown into the fathomless ocean. It is a boon, pricetess but useless. How careful then should we be never to get sick; but if, by any mischance, we have become ill, how earnestly should we seek to recover. Doctors who go exclusively by "the books, and who practice medicine as it was practised when cur grandmothers were children, are not the persons to recover us. It is the progressive doctor—the man a rive to the rugarements of the age—the man who is neither too idle nor too old foortish to study for the benefit of his fellows and to give WHAT IS LIFE !- Ask this ques grammonates used to the man after the man after the ruquire ments of the ager han a who is neither too idle nor too of fogrish to study for the benefit of his fellows and to give them a specific remedy—the result of his told—that we must consult. And the product of such study and sacrifice is DR O PHELPS ROWN'S famous ACACIAN BALSAM!—Almost everybody has heard of it—how it heals the tuber O PHELITS and the stand of it—how it heals the tubercies in the lungs, strengthens the weak stomsche, clothes the wasted muscles with their pristine fullness, imparts parity and color to the impoverished blood, renovates the torpid and dying liver, electrifies into beautiful vigor and activity the shatt red herves, silences the incessant cough, and makes the invalid scund, buoyant, strong, cheerful, and useful.—The AG-GIAN BALSAM has done all this—does it every day—and there is not an invalid in the world who should neglect to give it a trial. Get a pamphlet, describing it, from the Doctor's agents. It is said at $2 per large bottle, by a THAYER & STEVENS, No. 28 State street, sol- Agents. A number of specimen bottles, price 25 cents each, may be obtained, as above, if speedily applied for.

NOVEMBER.—MESSRS, HENRY P. WILSON & CO.: I have used your Hair Regenerator and Hair Dressing, and have received great benefit from them. I deem the articles wo thy of high commendation, and cheerfully recommend them to all who want to restore gray hair to its original color, or to any who are troubled with dandref, or a disagreeable itching of the head, or humors, or to those whose hair is falling from the head.

REV. G. W. H. CLARK, Great Falls, N. H.

head. REV. G. W. H. CLARK, Great Falls, N. H.

MESSES, HENRY P. WILSON & CO.: I deem Mrs. Wilson's Hair Regenerator and Hair Dressing the standard articles of all hair preparations. I have, in many instruces, known them to restore the hair where it had fallen off, e-move dandruff, restore the hair to its original color, cure entirely the most painful headaches—and in some instances most serious humors. Personally, I have been a sharer in several of these benefits.

MRS. WILSON'S COCOA-NUT OIL

Mrs. Wilson's Hair Dressing is put up in large bottles, and retails for 37 cents per bottle, and for dressing the hair of any person, young or old, there is not its equal in the world. It will make the hair everything you wish it to be, and moreover, it has a perfume that is infinitely superior to any of the fashionable extracts, either foreign or American, which alene should entitle it to a place on every lady's toilet table.

Use the Regenerator before retiring at night, and in the morning apply a little of the Dressing, and your hair will be even more lifelike in color and beauty.

Use nothing on your hair but these preparations, and use these according to directions, and we warrant you a good healthy head of heir
