CANCER CURED WITHOUT PAIN

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE.—
I have devoted many years of timin and close investigation to the cure of Cancers, and have at last an unmistassable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scroius. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and so certain am I of my sbillity to do what I promise, that in all cases where I undertake a cure, I do not hesitate to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANGERS CAN BE CURED, AND THAT I CAN CURE YOU.

DR. BABCOUK is the original cancer Doctor of New England, and the only one who removes Cancers without pain—All others are but ministors, induced by this success to profess themselves Cancer Doctors. Plenty of references to those 4 ho have been cured can be seen at my office.

THE GRAN CHACO.

Of all the tracts of wild territory e in South America, and known by the differ ent appellations of Pampas, Paramos, Copos Parexis, the Puna, the Pajonal, Llar and Montanas, there is none possessed greater interest than that of El Gran Cl —perhaps not one that equals it in this re-spect. It is interesting, not only from hav-ing a peculiar soil, climate, and productions but quite as much from the character and his but quite as much from the character as tory of its inhabitants—both of which sent us with traits and episodes truly tic. The "Gran Chaco" is two he thousand square miles in extent, or twice the size of the British Isles. Its eastern boundary is well defined, being the Paraguay river, and its continuation, the Parana, down to the point where the latter receives one of it great western tributaries—the Science, and this last is usually regarded as the souther and western boundary of the Chaco. North ward, its limits are scarcely so definite, though the highlands of Bolivia and the old mission ary province of Chiquitos—forming a we shed between the rivers of the La Plata the Amazonian basins—may be good to the Amazonian basins—may be good to cally regarded the termination of the Chaco that direction. North and south it enter through seven degrees of latitude; East is West it is of unequal breath—sometimes a panding, sometimes contracting, according to the shillty of the white settlers along it to the ability of the white settl borders to maintain their frontier. On eastern side, as already stated, the frontie eastern side, as already stated, the frontier is definite, and terminates on the banks of the Paraguay and Parana. For a thousand miles, up and down, the two races, European and American, hold the opposite banks of this great stream. They gaze across at each other; the one from the portico of his well built mansion, or perhaps from the street of his town; the other, standing by his humble "olde," or mud covered tent—more probably upon the back of his half wild have sained. up for a moment on some projecting tory that commands a view of the riv thus have these two races gazed at each of for three centuries, with little other int course passing between them than that of a deadly hostility. The surface of the Gran Chaco is throughout of a champaign character. It may be described as a vast plain. It is not, however, a continuation of the Pa —since the two are separated by a more be ken tract of country, in which lie the sier of Cordova and San Luis, with the Argent settlements already mentioned. Besides, these two great plains differ essentially in their character, even to a greater extent their do the Pampas themselves from the desert steppes of Patagonia. Only a few of the imal and vegetable productions of the Chaco are identical with those of the Pampand its Indian inhabitants are altogether. like the sanguinary savages of the southern plain. The Chaoo, approach many degrees nearer to the equator, is tropical in its character; in fact, the next the same savages of the sa ern portion of it is truly so—lying as it does within the torrid sone, and presenting the aspect of a tropical vegetation. Every inch of the Chaco is within the palm region; but in its northern half these beautiful trees abound in numberless species, yet unknown to the botanist, and forming the characteristic features of the landscape. Some grow in forests of many miles in extent, others only in "clumps," with open grass-covered plains between, while species mingle theirstill other of dacotyledonous trees, or clasped in the embrace of luxuriant llianas and parasiti cal climbers, form groves of the mos riegated verdure and fantastic outlin With such groves the whole surface of the Chaco country is enamelled; the intervals between being occupied by plains of rich waving grass, now and then tracts of morass arid spots bristling with singular forms of algarobia and cactus, and in some places, isolated rocky mounds, of dome or conical shape, rising above the general level of the plains, as if intended to be used as watchtowers for their guardianship and safety. Such are the landscapes which the Gran Chaco presents to the eye—far different from the bald and uniform monotony exhibited in the bald and uniform monotony ex the aspect of either Prairie or Par grander and lovelier than eit scenic loveliness, perhaps, unequalled earth. No wonder, then, that the India earth. No wonger. South America esteems it as an earthly South America esteems it as an earthly south America esteems it as an earthly south as a south a sium; no wonder that the Spaniard dre of it as such. At this hour, as at the tin the Peruvian conquest—as on the day whe the ships of Mendoza sailed up the waters the ships of Mendoza sailed up the waters of the Parana—the Gran Chaco is an unconquered country, owned by its aboriginal inhabitants, and by them alone. It is true that it is claimed both by Spaniard and Portuguese, and by no less than four separate claimants belonging to these two nationalities. Brasil and Bolivia, Paraguay and the Argentine Confederation, all assert their title to a slice of this carthly paradiae; and even quarrel as of this earthly paradise; and even quarrel as to how their boundary lines should intersect it!—Odd People, by Capt. Mayne Reid.

PATRIOTISM OF THE BIBLE. The following article on the patrictism of the Bible is taken from an old School Pres-byterian paper published at Louisville. We commend it to the attention of our readers:

The Christian who does for his cou The Christian who does for his country all that the Bible requires him to do, will be the very highest style of patriot. His religion requires him to love all men, even including his enemies, and to do good to all men as he has opportunity. He is commanded to love his country, but he is not permitted to hat other countries, and to tear them down that he may build his own up. He should love his whole country and not simply a particular portion of it in which he resides. The patriotism of the Bible is wholly opposed to sectionalism or COACH LACE, FRINGES, GIMPS. THE FANATIOS OF THE GARRISON nusing enough to see the flounde ings of the Standard man over our reprint of its solemn protests, a few years since, against the sayings and doings of the "fanatics of the Garrison order," with whom he is now laboring in this State; and particularly against Francis Gillette, their candidate for lovernor, (now a leading Republican,) whose lection, he declared, " would be a national misfortune:" "would be most disastrous in strengthening the hands of the secessionists, and aging the friends of the Union." Mr. Gillette, luckily, was not then electedbut two years after, strange to say, this chap who talked so loudly against the " ultra Abolitionism" of Mr. Gillette and the "fanatics of the Garrison order :" only two years after. or thereabouts, we say, this man of the Stand- States are already aroused and taking prompt ard joined these " Garrison fanatics." and by same Francis Gillette, was elected, not to the should be got up in every section. is now being proved true. The plea of the Standard for elevating the "Garrison fanatics" to power in this State, and thus "strengthening the hands of the secessionists" is the "break down" of the Missouri Compromise-by the so-called Democratic party. This is mere pretense The motion to break down that Compromise came from one of the strongest Whigs ever in the U.S. Senate-and it was made, no doubt, under convictions of imperative constitutional and patriotic duty. He and his brethren of the Slave States claimed that the law was unauthorized by the Constitution. John P. Hale, and other Garrison fanatics, had denounced it and declared it without any binding authority. Congress, on two memorable occasions, had practically repudiated it. In justice, therefore, to the Slave States, and in obedience to the sacred requirements of the Constitution, the law was repealed, after a most elaborate and search ing discussion. Since then, the validity of the law has been laboriously and carefully investigated in the Supreme Court of the United States, and its unconstitutionality most clearly established. Hale, Seward Giddings, Sumner, and other "ultra fanatics" raised a furious outcry on the subject, and called for a fusion of men of all parties to restore the law. But it was all sham ; mere 'sound and fury." No attempt at its restoration has ever been seriously made. The elements he and they thus drew together have adroitly been moulded into a sectiona party on the basis of hostility to the slaveholding States-between whom and the States of the North, it has been persistently repre sented that there is an "irrepressible conflict" founded on their different systems of labor, the antagonism of which is said to be such as to render the conflict interminable till one or the other shall be overthrown-till the rice and cotton fields of the South are cultivated by free labor, or the wheat and corn fields of the North shall again be tilled by slave labor. To arouse, inflame and intensify the passions of the Northern people, against the people of the South, on this falsely stated issue, every art, every device, every combination has been resorted to, that ingenuity could invent or malice suggest-denuncia tions in the bitterest, and often in the viles terms, have been heaped upon them by the press, by partisan priests, and by traveling orators, almost without ceasing; and the re sult has been as the Standard, nine years ago, predicted-disastrous to the Union. Messrs. Edward Everett, Robert C. Winbury, and E. S. Tobey, the committee appointed by the citizens of Boston to present a memorial, bearing the signatures of four teen thousand persons, in favor of an amicable adjustment of the pending difficulties of the nation, have arrived in Washington. They assert that a large majority of the people of Massachusetts are in favor of the Crittenden resolutions.

The Virginia Congressional delegation, with the exception of Messrs. Boteler, Clemens Millson, Harrison, and Smith, have issued an address to their constituents, expressing their despair of an amicable settlement of our national troubles by Congress, and recommending a State Convention.

A despatch to the Times says that many Northwestern Republicans are disposed to accept the greater portion of Senator Douglas last new compromise.

It is stated that another new project among Northern and Border State men in Washington is that of a Congress of three Commissioners from each State, to assemble at that place in February, to devise a basis of settlement of all questions of doubtful construction respecting the rights of different sections. This to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection in the several States.

Mr. Kellogg, of Illinois, has returned to Washington from Springfield, and the fact that he expresses the opinion that the Border State Committee resolutions come nearer than any other plans to what the public exigencies require. is deemed significant in connection with his recent visit to the President elect.

MESSES. EDITORS:—In accordance with your request, I have concluded, from time to time, to write you of the local events of interest that transpire in this community. Although the business of a correspondent is new to me, yet I will do the best I can for you.

For several weeks past, I have been in attendance upon the Stamford Lyceum of this place. It seems to be a very flourishing institution, which I understand has been organized several years, and has increased in interest each season. It contains, if not the wealth, at least no organized several years, and has increased in interest sech season. It contains, if not the wealth, at least no small amount of the taleut of the place. The courtesy of he members to one another in debate, the knowledge of arliamentary tactics displayed, and the talent of the nembers in the discussions, will compare favorably with he legislative bodies of our country.

Some weeks since, Mr. J. H. Olmstead and the Rev. Mr. Francis being leading disputants, they brought in the following question for discussion: "Is Slavery per se inconsistent with the teachings of the Bible!" On the shirmative were Messrs. Francis, Dodge, Ritch, Osborn, Daskam, Merrill and Wright; on the negative, Olmstead, Whitney and Clark. The discussion of the question has been continued four weeks, and the large hall crowded each evening.

On the affirmative, with the exception of a claim that the spirit of the Bible was against slavery, the arguments were drawn almost entirely from other sources. Quotalent of the spirit of the Suble was against slavery, the arguments were drawn almost entirely from other sources.

On the amrimative, with the exception of a claim that the spirit of the Bible was against slavery, the arguments were drawn almost entirely from other sources. Quotations were freely made from Fred Douglass, Brisbane, John Jay, the poets Moore, Wordsworth, Shakspeare, and Cowper, Beecher; and a drawing or plan of the Mount Vernon estate, drawn from actual survey by one of the members, showing the wash-house, flower garden, tomb, and watch towers, where the Father of his Country placed sentries over his slaves, was presented.

Quotations were also made from an Abolitionist play, written by an Englishman. Scene—A negro woman enters, with a dead child in her arms, which (as one member expressed it.) "the mother had stabbed through the heart with a rusty tenpenny nail." Such were the "Bible" quotations on the affirmative.

On the negative, the curse upon Canaan and his descendants; the servants bought with Abraham's money and born in his house; the recognition of it, in the ten commandents at a time when it did not exist among the Hebrews to whom they were given; and immediately after on the same Mount. Sinat the command of God to mandments at a time when it did not exist among time Hebrews to whom they were given; and immediately after, on the same Mount Sinal, the command of God to Moses to buy them of the heathen, &c., for a "possession, &c., and "an inheritance," &c.—the return of Hagar by an angel; the return of Onesimus; the fact that Chris and his apostles did not condemn slavery, although it existed all around them, and the latter gave rules to mass isted all around them, and the latter gave rules to maters and servants, &c.

The discussion of the question was closed last evening and submitted to the audience for a decision on its merit. The large hall was crowded, and slavery per se was decided, by an overwhelming majority, not to be inconsistent with the Bible. The question for next week is whether the North should make any further compromise to exercite Liston.

The number and formidable character c. diseases of the Liver have long challenged the attention of mean. I men.—
Some of these diseases, classed under the general term of Consumption, have been supposed incurable, and the unhappy patient allowed to die, without medical science to offer bim a hope of recovery. Happile this can no longer be the case. A remedy has been found which will cure all complaints, of whatever character, arising from derangement of the Liver. The Pills discovered by Dr. M'LARE, prepared solely by FREMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., act directly on the Liver; and by correcting its operation and purifying it from solely by Freming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa., act directly on the Liver; and by correcting its operation and purifying it from disease, cuts off and extirpates the complaints which have their origin in the diseases of this organ. Remedies hitherto proposed for liver complaints, have failed to operate upon the seat of the disease; but Dr. M'Lane's Pills make them-

THE WAY TO BE SUCCESSFUL .- "That ou may find success," says the Rev. Chas. brooks in an address to boys, "let me tell you how to proceed: To-night begin your great plan of life. You have but one life to live, and it is immeasurably important that you do not make a mistake. To night begin carefully Fix your eye on the fortieth year of your age and then say to yourself: At the age of forty I will be a temperate man; I will be an industrious man; an economical man; a benevo lent man ; a well bred man ; a religious man, and a useful man-I will be such an one; I resolve, and will stand to it. My young friends, let this resolution be firm as adanant ; let it stand like the oak, which canno

CLEANLINESS .- A preacher, whose text led him to speak of the prophet Jonah, among other things, said: "I am of the opinion that Jonah was a cleanly old man, neither smoking nor chewing, from the fact that the fish re tained him so long in his stomach. If the fish had swallowed the house where we are worshipping, he would no doubt have vomit-ed himself to death."

FORM OF PROPOSAL GUARANTY, & CERTIFICATE

Proposal. The undersigned — , whose post office address is to carry the mails of the United States, from July 1, 1881, to June 30, 1850, or route No. _____, between _____ and _____ under the advertisement of the Postmaster General, dated December 12, 1880, " with celerity, certainty, and security," for the annual sum of ______ dollars.

The undersigned, residing at ____, State of undertake that, if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail or oute No. _____ be accepted by the Postimaster General, the bidder shall, prior to the last day of August, 1861, enter into the required obligation, or contract, to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties.

This we do, understanding distinctly the obligations and lia-ilatics assumed by guarantors under the 21th section of the act of Congress of July 2, 1836. Dated Certificate. The undersigned, postmaster at State of certifies, UNDER HIS OATH OF OFFICE, that he is acquainted with the above guarantors, and knows them to be men of property, and able to make good their guaranty.

INSTRUCTIONS. Containing conditions to be incorporated in the contracts the extent the department may deem proper. 1. Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails; but no railroad and attamboat routes there is to be no more dewhen not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails; but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more de lay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail bags.

2. On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the specia agents of the Post Office Department, also nost office blanks mail bags, locks, and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge. mail bag a, locks, and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3. On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the department, also the Stritsh and Canada malis, when offered, and the arents accompanying them, are to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use, while travelling with the malis, a commodious car, or apartment in the centre of a car, properly lighted, warmed, and furnished, and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the malis is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the department.

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from an deliver it into the poot offices at the commencement and end of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted for the performance of all other side service—that is, for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing.

Receipts will be required for mail bags conveyed in charge of cersons employed by railroad companies. There will also be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the department, to accompany the mails, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On the principal stage routes, likewise, receipts will be required and way bills forwarded; the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mail
