CONCENTRATED LEAVEN FOR MAKING

RINDS OF PASTRY, &c., Ac.

MANUFACTURED BY RDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO., PROPRIETORS OF SHAWMUT CHEMICAL WORKS NO. 33 INDIA STREET, HOSTON. CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of caroni chemical research. All its ingredients are propared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process; and the manifecturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating housekeepirre confidence to the judgment of discriminating housekeepers, bakers, kc., vc.

Rread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious: bas an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes. It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances, it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than itper cent. In the common process, much of the succharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred and in the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Formentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 lbs, which by the common method ordinarity makes about 250 lbs, of bread, gives by this process 290 lbs, thus effecting the very important saving of it for cent. In the quantity of flour. By orformly to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAVES. Assoyer to the State of Massachusetts.

I have analyzed the CONCENTRATED LEAVEN man ufactured by MESSRS. EDW. CHAMBER LIN & CO., with reference to its purity and efficiency of action in producing its fifor making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable sait, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, paintable bread than can be obtained through the sid of yeast; while for cakes and passry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully, A. A. HAVES, M. D., State Assayer. 16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860. HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with grea advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit pudding and other pastry.

Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately in a hot oven and bake quickly. BOARDING.

Away out in the western wilds, some three hundred miles beyond the Rocky Mountains, and amidst other and loftier mountains still. there exists one of the most remarkable natural curiosities in the world—the Great Salt Lake. More than one hundred and fifty years ago, a vague knowledge of a great salt lake, in the far-off western wilds, was supposed to have been communicated by the Indians to a French voyaguer named La Houtan, who was then Governor of a French colony in New Foundland. But its location was nowhere definitely fixed, and the most exaggerated stories of powerful and civilized Indian nations, living in a hundred cities on its shores, render the whole account fabulous. In a work published by one Daniel Cox, in 1772, a special reference is made to the same sub-ject, perhaps a lengthened shadow of La Houtan's narrative, which is cited as authority, and which was published in English, in 1735. There is no river or stream of any kind running out of Salt Lake, nor are the head waters of any of the streams running into it in the same region of country at all with those of Missouri. All the streams and rivers which run into Salt Lake have their sources in the Great Basin, and what is remarkable, none of them find their way out of it. There are no outlets to the great lake; it receives the waters of several large rivers, swellen annually by their mountain tributaries, but in no very extensive degree are the waters of the lake increased during the seasons of the most copious flowing of these rivers. What becomes of the water is a question, solvable only by the universal laws of Nature, which keep the waters within these circumscribed limits in equilibrium, as the same is done on an imeasurably grander scale with the waters of the great oceans of the world.

It is remarkable that nearly all the rivers, and streams which run into Salt Lake become divided into numerous shallow streams near the shores of the lake, and seem to lose the great volume of their waters by sinking into the extensive salt marshes and artemesian plains which surround the lake. The same is the case with the springs which rise near the lake; they lose themselves in the marshes and in the sand, and cannot be traced to the lake. In the Spring of the year, when the snow is melting, many of these springs are fresh, and furnish excellent drinking water, but as the snow wears away,

The principal streams which flow into Salt Lake are the Jordan river, which is the outlet of Lake Utah, a large fresh-water lake, some fifty miles south of Salt Lake; the Weber river, Box Elder, and Bear river, with its tributary the Maladi; all of which; are fresh-water streams. Great Salt Lake, according to the United States Government survey, which was completed in 1850, is two hundred and ninety-one miles in circumference on the shore line. The storm line, as it is called, would make it much more exten sive. This storm line is the extent to which the waters of the lake are driven by the frequent and violent winds which sweep over e surface, chasing the waters in rolling waves far out upon the salt marshes and san-dy plains. The lake is oblong, being about twice as long north and south, as it is wide There are several islands in the lake, which obstruct the view of its whole surface. Of these, Antelope Island is the largest. It is sixteen miles long, and five miles across in its widest part, and it rises three thousand feet above the level of the lake. These islands are all similar in appearance, being long rocky barren mountains, ranging north and south ; the same being the general course of all the mountains in that region. On some quantities of wild water-fowl, such as gulls, ducks, white brandt. blue herons, cormorants and pelicans, and the eggs are son times found so thick upon the ground in favorite spots, that it is imposs without trampling upon them; these fowls find food in the rivers and streams which flow into the lake. No living thing of any kind exists in the waters of the lake. A deep dark colored substance is washed to the shore which on the shore somewhat resembles very small dried leaves, and in the water looks like mud; this has been proved to be the larvæ of insects, and when disturbed it emits a most nauseating smell. Where they come from, is a question which has never solved; perhaps they were winged insects and fell into the lake. The water of the lake is salter than any other upon the face of the earth. Persons engaged in boiling salt on the shores of the lake, say that thr of the water dipped out of the lake and boiled in an open wooden trough, with a sheet-iron bottom, will yield one bucket of salt; or in other words, that it is one third

The analysis of the water made under the United States Survey in 1850, says that the water contains more than twenty per cent. of pure chloride of sodium, (wh chemical name for common salt,) and about two per cent. of other salts, making one of the purest and most concentrated brines known in the world. The specific gravity of the water is very great; this in the same analysis is given at 1,170, water being 1,000. The water is so heavy or buoyant, that a person bathing in it can sit upright, with the head and shoulders and arms out of the water, like sitting on a rocking-chair; and a person can lay on the surface with head, ha feet out of the water. In the lake the color of the water is a very deep dark blue, much more so than the ocean, but when taken in the hand it is transparent. The water in the lake is generally very shallow for long dis-tances from the shore, and though it is deeper tances from the shore, and though it is deeper father out, yet it cannot be said to be a deep lake. Its rapid changes , receding from one place and rolling out upon another, caused by the frequent and violent storms, which ome sometimes suddenly without any preonition, sweeping over it with the re fury of tornadoes, render it very unsafe for navigation in boats, indeed, it is not considered navigable. This great Salt Lake is only used at present for boiling a little salt upon its dreary, barren, desolate shores.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

What could be more unjust than the posi tion of the Republican party with regard to the territorial question at issue between the sections at the present time? The Northern States, through the operation of natural laws and various favoring circumstances, have discarded slavery and grown to be populous and powerful. When the Union was formed, remarks the New Haven Register, marks the New Haven Register,

It was between slaveholding communities; but now that the non-slaveholding States have attained a controlling power in the government, they coolly propose to exclude entirely their slaveholding sisters from all participation in the common property of the nation. There is no complaint that they have not paid their due proportion to wards the purchase of the territories, nor that they have refused to bear their share of the burden of fighting our battles. They are admitted to be equal under the Constitution—have the same right to be heard in shaping the pelicy of the Government. But the North has the numerical majority; and by banding together for sectional and selfish purposes, they can dictate the course of the government. The territories have been acquired by the common blood and common treasure, but a Northern antislavery fanaticism has conceived a hatred of slavery, and therefore insists the South shall be excluded from the common property! Is this just? Is it honest? It is really beliew the standard of honor said to be recognized among thieves. If the South are equals with the North, why haven't they an equal right to enjoy the common territory? What right has one party to use its "moral convictions" for the exclusion of the other? What if the North has a dislike of slavery!—the South maintain an opposite opinion, and under the Constitution, if not in morals, have an equal right to that opinion. Is it fair for one party, in a coulederacy of equals, to go outside of the national compact, and consult their "moral convictions" to justify a robbery of the other party for sectional aggrandizement? Reverse the case: Suppose the South habel the balance of power in the general government, and should proclaim that the territories shall be all slave, and the North must be prevented from further expansion. No more free States. Would it be any satisfaction to us to be told that the "moral convictions" of the South taught them that slavery was benign and beneficial, and therefore it witeri as they are distributed among a great number of masters, their chances for emancipation are enhanced. The men who advocate the confinement of all the slaves in the cotton States, are not the true friends of the slave. But if the South are granted their right to a participation in the Territories, and the whole problem of slavery suffered to work itself out by the unerring laws of nature and political economy, slavery will take possession only of those districts which are suitable to the cultivation of the great staples of slave labor, and still leave to free labor all the soil it is capable of subduing and peopling for centuries to come. The enterprise and the elastic, fertile spirit of the North have nothing to fear in acompetition with the South; for we have a long way the start. Why, then, should we not acknowledge their right of private judgment in the South as to the proper character of their institutions—acknowledge their right to an equal participation in the federal domain—cease this sectional quarrel—make the interests and glory of sort, and move on together in a brotherly spirit to the fulfilment of the destiny which Providence seems to have marked out for our favored land?

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICTS IN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald makes the following disclosures in his letter of the 11th inst. :

Thurlow Weed arrived here this morning. His recent course in urging and recommending the Republican party to adopt a conservative policy, and adjust the political troubles now convulsing the country, has called down upon his head the anathemas of the ultra portion of his party, who follow Greeley's counsels. The ultras and conservatives here are about equally divided, and the war bids fair to be a most bitter one. The former are making a tremendous effort to get Mr. Lincoln to throw Mr. Seward overboard. But in this they will fail. Mr. Seward has a large majority of the party in his own State and other Northern States with him, and who endorse his course. He is preparing another short speech, and is

Our correspondent should not wonder at the profanity of the sheet he refers to. The editor of it belongs to that kind of humanity that "believes rifles better than Bibles." and puffs up sermons where the parson who delivers them says that he is right " for God $5,500. and I make a majority !"

Horace Greeley announced to the citisens of St. Louis, a few days since, that he would deliver a lecture in that place-and started for the West. The citizens of St. Louis announced to Horace Greeley when he arrived near that city that they would mob him if he undertook to carry out his design. Horace thought "discretion the better part of valor;" changed his mind and his course also ; Hinman, Sanford and Ellsworth commenced and started for the East,-sneaking off, it is said, like a whipped puppy. This is the contemptible agitator who is continually charging other people with being cowards, and afraid to stand up and speak in favor of the principles they profess to uphold.

WASHINGTON SEWS. Ac.

It is now said that Northern Republican capitalists decline taking any portion of the U. S. twenty-five million loan. It is evident that the sectionalists are beginning to be frightened at the "work of their hands."

It is said that Senator Seward will soon make another speech, and is ready to make concessions to restore peace to the country. Here is another nut for the Abolitionist of the Standard to crack.

The Peace Convention at Washington met yesterday, but without transacting any business adjourned till Wednesday, in order to give the committee on the subject time to ing on one side of the range, and at the moperfect a plan of adjustment of the pending troubles. The committee were busy yesterday they will be ready to report on Wednesday.

It is a good sign from Washington, that Senators Collamer, Wade, and some other Republican leaders, say that they will vote to submit the proposition of the Conference to a direct vote of the people. They will also, it is said, agree to call a convention of the people. We hope these reports are true.

EMPIRE'S BALL. last night. Franklin Hall was beautifully decorated, every window was curtained with the American flag. Around the room were pictures and mirrors, over which were small flags; the gas fixtures were also ornamented. In front of the gallery the fire caps of the company were arranged. Great taste was shown in all the decorations. The music for the occasion was furnished by Sadler's band, and was of a superior order. Notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the weather there was a large number present, among whom were some representatives of the New Heven Fire Department. The floor managers and each individual member of the company did every thing in their power to contribute to the enjoyment o their guests. The whole affair was managed and conducted with credit to the "Empires" and we hope to their material benefit.

A singular and serious accident occurred at Warehouse Point, during the late cold Hannibal, now exhibiting in Van Amburgh's weather, in the residence of Mrs. N. The pipes connecting the tank and range, usually filled with water, became frozen antics which for awhile diffused terror the previous night, and the ice preventing among the spectators. Mrs. Benton and beast seized a cast-iron frame, used to a couple of children were in the room at the support a canopy, and hurled it across the apartment as if it had been a ball. Not jured, and herself and a young son about three | content with this display of strength, the beast dashed down a wooden partition with a blow, and made Titantic efforts to release himself. His fastenings rendered such efforts abortive, and he was obliged to satiate his burning coals, and but for timely efforts of rage by rolling his enormous eyes and gnashing his teeth. No keeper dared approach him. His tawny skin and huge sinews were contorted during the whole evening, and the strange noises that emanated from his trunk caused a curious crowd to cellect in front of the menagerie. Added to this, the lions as if in sympathy, proceeded to roar in concert, and speedily the entire arena was the scene of general affright and confusion. The elephant weighs 12,000 pounds. His escape from his fastenings would have been a disastrous event to sur rounding parties.

There was a diabolical attempt to destroy the family of Augustus Hoevler, a well-known citizen of Laurenceville, Pa., by an "infernal machine," Saturday night. Several bullets struck in different parts of the room in which the Hoevler family were sleeping, but all miraculously escaped injury. There is no clue to the per-petrator of the fiendish act.

SAM PATCH OUTDONE.

S m Paich leaped many times down into the foaming surges of Niagara, and finally down the great declivity of the Genessee, from which he never rose again. But JAMES PLYE'S DIETETIC SALERATUS, however deeply buried in the dough of bread, biscuit, and cake, is sure to come up again, quickly, "as large as life," and generally much larger and more active and more lively than ever. The reason why? It is Saleratus in absolute perfection. Depot, 345 Washington St., New York.

FEVER AND AGUE, AND ALL FEVERS re cured by perseverance with BRANDRETH'S PILLS, which takes all poisons, of whatever nature they may be from the circulation.

Mr. John Y. Haight, Supervisor of New Castle, Westches ter County, New York, says, November, 1858:—"I was, two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, continued to sorely afflic me for six tedious months; I became yellow as safron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single done of six of Brandreih's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first doze seemed to arouse all the latent energies of my exhausted frame. I feared the worst—their purgative effect was differen from anything I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect cessed and I seemed lighter and breathed freeer Tha evening I was indeed sensibly better and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and continu d to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. My health has been surpris ingly good ever since.

CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH! WHAT IS IT ? HOW CURED ?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Mostpeople know what its inconvenience and resuits are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation, and often enlargement of follicles, and consequent thickening of the mucus membrane, liming the manufactions of the mucus membrane, liming the consequent thickening of the mucus membrane, liming the manufactions from a limines, and sometimes extending into nasal cavities, irontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing lew years since. While there he windssed it does of horses, and so remarkable were the cures, he concluded to purchase the recipe for making it for his own use if nothing more. After returning to this country, he made some and tried it in several cases of swellings, cuts, burns, bruises, etc. and found it to cure more speedily than any article ever discovered. Becoming acquainted with the gentleman, I purchased the recipe and have made and used it with great success, and found one-half had never been told of its intrinsic value. For Rheumatism, Sprains, Chilblains, Fains in the Back or Chest, Cramp, Swelled Face, Sore Throat, Neuraigis, Toothache, or Swellings of every kind—it is warranted to cure. For horses, Sprained, Chafed, Wind Galled, Cracked Heels, Chest Foundered, etc. it is the most valuable medicine in vogue. A large number of certificates could be given if necessary, but one trial will satisfy the most skeptical. It is perfectly safe to take inwardly in case of Colic or Cramp.—The Liniment is for sale by all druggists. Barnes & Park, 13 and 15 Park Row, New York, Wholesale Agents. DARDEE'S THROAT LINIMENT .-DARDEE'S THROAT LINIMENT.

I prepared this Liniment originally for the use of my own children, and with such success that I recommended it to my neighbors. They have been so much benefited by it, and are so much convinced of its importance as a remedy for the throat dilecase which has proved stall in so many instances, that they have advised me to present it to the public. Annexed I give a certificate signed by some of them. Many other names might be added. The Liniment requires only a fair trial to make it a safeguard in every house.

MEDICINES, &C.

Humphreys, SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct pervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPRENYS, in order to meet that creat and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for ait the more common and simple aliments of life. A moment's reflection will show that a vast materity of diseases from which we suffer and die, ware, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight distribute, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest. Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curstive effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed. Expecience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable. Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and smong our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

GRATITUDE.

To any one who does us good we feel grateful, and if our feelings are right we shall wish to thank them for their favors, and do something for them in return. Gratitude is a duty owed to those who have done us good or made us happy. Our greatest bene-factor is God. He does more than any one Factor is God. He does more than any one else to make up. We ought to thank Him for his favo... and should try to do something in return. He loves to have all around us happpy, and if we can do anything to make them so, He will be pleased with us. His favors are constant; we do not and we cannot exist an instant without them. The air we breath, the food we eat, and the clothes we wear, are all given to us by Him. We could not see the light of day, nor hear the voices of our senses. He has done, and is always doing more to make us happy than can be done by any one else. There are others to whom we should be grateful besides God. Our teachers labor to do us good and make us happy, and we owe them a debt of gratitude for their exertions on our account. We do not know at first how to repay their kindness; but there are many ways. We can give close attention to their instructions in school and behave well. We can follow the advice which they give; we can always speak the truth, and be kind and affectionate in our conduct; and in so doing these things we shall please and gratify them, and make them think their instructions are producing good effects.

It will arrest nearly at forms of coughs leading to countries sumption but will not cure it when seated, and may be relied on as a test in that disease. It is unlike Hive Syrup and the ordinary Cough and Croup Remedies, insamuch as it contains no dangerous agents though a whole bottle be taken insone hour; while it is efficient, curative, pleasant to the taste, and universally successful, and no bad results can possibly follow its use. follow its use.

Children are liable to be attacked with CROUP without a moment's warning. It is therefore important that every family should have constantly at hand some simple and pleasant, yet efficacious remedy for the cure of this painful and too often fatal disease. the unguarded system open to the auacas of many of the most dangerous to which poor humar ity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following:—Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsis, at Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neurisia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melanchoty, Hypocondris, Night Swests, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities.—Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Compiaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, prediaposition to Silght Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emetation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chilis and Fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the billiary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infailibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating.—As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers, literary men. And all laddes not accustomed to much out door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exit without health, and health cannot exit while the above irregularities continue. MESSES. HENRY P. WILSON & CO.: I deem Mrs. Wilson's Hair Regenerator and Hair Dressing the standard articles of all hair preparations. I have, in many instruces, known them to restore the hair where it had fallen off, remove dandruff, reatore the hair to its original color, cure entirely the most painful headaches—and in some instances most serious humanors. Personally, I have been a sharer in several of these benefits.

Mrs. Wilson's Hair Dressing is put up in large bottles, and retails for 57 cents per bottle, and for dressing the hair of any person, young or old, there is not its equal in the world. It will make the hair everything you wish it to be, and moreover, it has a perfume that is infinitely superior to any of the fashionable extracts, either foreign or American, which alene should entitle it to a place on every lady's toilet table.

MESSRS. HENRY P. WILSON & CO.—My wile is now using your Regenerator for the hair, and pronounces it far superior to anything she ever used for the hair. It is easily applied, does not soll in the least—has no disagreeable odor, increases the growth of hair, prevents its falling off, and often cures the headache. I forward you this certificate unsolicited, because it bink an article that will do what your Hair Regenerator will, should be widely known. I think it is the best article for the hair now in use. phiet issued by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, and to be obtained of his authorized agents. It is a plain, straightforward, incontrovertible essay, in itself, of his, health, and disease: DR. O. PHELPS BROWN also prepares a remedy which is unexampled in its efficacy, the ACACIAN BALSAM. In cases of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and Nervous Debility where death seems the manifest destiny of the sufferer, the world can show no parallel to the effects produced by the ACACIAN BALSAM. Each organ of the body feels its beneficial influence. From pain and feebleness, the patient springs up to a cheerful enjoyment of life, and a powerful sense of solid restoration. The ACACIAN BALSAM is seed lat 22 per large bottle, by THAYER & STEVENS, No. 28 State street, Sole Agents, who has also a small number of trial bottles, price 25 cents each, as the proprietor wishes to introduce this remarkable remedy in such a manner as to preclude all doubts of its being a genuine article.
