CANCER CURED WITHOUT PAIN

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE—
I have devoted many years of time and close investigs
tien to the cure of Cancers, and have at hist an unmistable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scrotila. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and coertain ann I of my shility to do what I promise, that in all cases where I undertake a cure, I do not besiste to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANCERS GAN BE GURED, AND THAT I CAN GURE YOU.

BR. BARGOK is, the original Cancer Doctor of New England, and the only one who removes Gancers without pain—
All others are but imitators, induced by his success to profess themselves Cancer Doctors. Plenty of references to those 4ho have been cured can be ent at my office.

MRS. S. S. HULL.

A NABBOW RECAPE I arrived in Chamouny on the 6th of August, 1859, with a friend and companion, an Englishman. We two had been about five weeks in Switzerland, and in that time had done everything considered necessary by our countrymen. We had acquired some experience in glacier work, having accorded the Alitach Horn, whose nummit had been reached for the first time by an Englishman. reached for the first time by an Englishman, a member of the Alpine Club, only two months before. We made the ascent successfully, and were proud of having been the second exploring party to stand on its lofty peak, nearly fourteen thousand feet high. On that occasion we passed two whole days on snow and glacier.

I remember well the first glimpse had into one of those terrible orwasses which intersect glaciers. Getting a guide to hold my hand, I leaned over its yawning brink and gazed carefully into the f The two perpendicular walls of ice appeared to join together about three hundred feet down; an appearance resulting from the convexity of the crevasse. before he could reach the bottom. And then unless there should be ropes at hand long enough and strong erough, what an awhy death. An unfortunate Russian gentleman perished thus in a orevasse only last year.

My companion and I ascended the Brevant, and, as few climbing travellers leave Chamouny without visiting the Mer de Glace and the Jarding, we arranged to make that excursion. To shorten our day's work, we left. Chamouny in the evening and slept at Montanvert, a solitary little mountain inn on the edge of the Mer de Glace.

We were up betimes in the morning. We provided ourselves with some cambbox, and wine, and started with our guide, when we had brought from Courmayeur. It was a glowine, and started with our guide, whom we had brought from Courmayeur. It was a glorious morning, and promised well for our expedition. Our road, for about helf an hour, was along an uneven path skirting the glacier, which lay below us on our left hand, very much crevassed and covered with de-

The excursion to the Mer de Glace not being looked upon as a regular glacier expedition, is not made with the attendant precautions of axes and ropes. We had neither.—
We were in high spirits, and went along at a great rate, so quickly, indeed, that our guide, who had fallen behind, cautioned us once or twice, and requested us to allow him to take and keep the lead. Just then our progress was arrested by a wide crevasse. Looking to the left. I perceived that it terminated some twenty feet from us, in a steep slope of ice, which I thought I could easily climb. As the crevasse was about sixty read have which I thought I could easily cuino. As the crevasse was about sixty yards long. I determined to try this alope rather than go round by the other end.

Using my Alpenstock instead of an axe, therefore, I began making footheles in the ice with it. The guide had now come up with us. He looked at the ice alope and the ide accesses and said very sarionaly. "It is wide crevasse, and said very seriously, "It is dangerous, let us go round." By this time I had, with the aid of my Alpenstock, climbed about half Iway up the slope. I had already come to the conclusion that it was much too steep to scale without an axe, and had determined to retrace my steps. So, when my guide had spoken, I carefully stretched back my right leg, feeling for the last hole I had made in the ice. My foot went past the place and I felt that I was slipping. There was not the least projection that I could grasp.—
The slope became perpendicular, and I fall

I heard a loud cry of despair from my fel-low-traveller and the guide. My own sensa-tions cannot be described, or even distinctly separated from the whirl and shock. I felt that I was being bumped from side to side between the two walls of ice, that I was falling a great depth; that I was being huried to utter destruction—to a hornible death— Suddenly I felt that I was caught by some-thing; that I hung suspended. I was able to take a breath, and to call out for "a rope! a

had been arrested by a little ledge of law had been arrested by a little ledge of ice which spanned the crevasse like a bridge.—
On this frail structure, not more than two inches wide at the top, and—as well as I could judge—about two feet deep, I had fallen, so that my head hang down on one side, my legs on the other. Instinctively and immediately, by means which I cannot at all recall, I raised myself from this dreadful position to a standing one on the ledge, in which there was a little niche sufficiently wide to admit of one foot. I was now so far

My position was an awful one. The little ledge was so narrow that I could not get both my feet upon it. I was, in fact, supporting myself on one leg, half leaning against one side of the crevasse and pressing my hand against the opposite side. It was perfectly smooth, and there was nothing to grasped a stream of water poured over my shoulders drenching me to the skin, and treesing me with its low coldness. Over head I could nended. At the depth to which I had fallen the orevasse was barely two feet wide, but downward it narrowed rapidly, and about two hundred feet below me the sides appeared to join. I believe that if I had fallen six inches on either side of the little ledge I must inevitably have been jammed in, head downwards, at a depth where no ropes that could have been brought there could

I had now been about twenty minute standing in this persions position, straining every nerve to prevent myself from giving way, looking up at the blue sky above me and the clear ice on all sides, but seldom daring to cast a glance into the abyss below.

Blood was trickling over me from a cut in my cheek; and I felt that my right legfortunately the idle one—was badly bruised In the mean while my left leg was becoming exceedingly painful from the strain upon it, and I was airaid of losing my balance if I tried to relieve myself by changing to the other. I felt that I was growing benumbed by the intense cold of the ice against which I was leaning and of the stream of water from under which 1 durst not move.

I had to strain every nerve to keep myself from sinking, I almost gave up hope; I felt inclined to throw myself down and have the agony over. At that time I suddenly heard my friend shouting from above. He had gone to if he could discern the guide; and when turned round to retrace his steps had lost his way, the surface of the glacier being intersected by innumerable revasses, all so similar in appearance as to eave him no landmark by which to know my living grave. At last he had caught sight of a little knapsack left at the mouth of the crevasse by the guide. This had directed him back. I called to him to look at his watch-five minutes more were passed. The cold growing more intense. It is no figure h to say that I felt the blood freezing my veins. I called to him again, to know if any one were in sight. It was thirty-five minutes since the guide had started, but not a soul was visible. It was most unlikely that he could be back so soon, for we ourselves had been three-quarters of an hour in coming thus far

I felt that I should hold out but a very short time longer, and besides that I did not now at what moment the little ledge, which was my only safety, might give way under my weight. I was about giving up all hopes of being rescued, when suddenly I heard a joyful shout from above. "They are in sight three men with ropes—running as hard as I steadied myself on my terrible narrow and slippery footing, in order to he able to seize and attach the rope when thrown to me. I saw it dangling over my head. I caught the end, and tied it firmly round my waist. Grasping the rope above with both hands, I gave the word. The strain began, and I felt that I was safe. In another minute I was standing on the glacier. I had been fifty minutes in the crevasse, during which time I had not lost consciousness for a single instant.

When I felt myself once more upon a firm footing, an all-pervading sense of gratitude for the wonderful escape I had had came over me and made me faint; and I should have fallen if they had not held me up. This was moon over, and we prepared to start for Montanvert. Before leaving I took a last look at the mouth of the crevasse which had so nearly been my sepulchre.

Our guide was in a most terrible state. He had run the whole way to Montanvert, but could find no rope fit for the purpose in the iouse. He was in despair, and was starting off to Chamouny, when two muleteers me him. Their mules were laden with wood ed on with ropes; he begged hard for those ropes, telling the men that a young man was being frozen to death in a crevasse. They threw the wood from the backs of the es, and came to my rescue with the guide, mules, and came to my rescue with the guide, bringing the ropes with them. Knotted to they made up a length-about sixty feetenough to reach me.

With the assistance of my deliverers, I was able to walk slowly back to Montanvert, where I was immediately put into a comforta ble bed, where the injuries I had received which were insignificant considering the depth which I had fallen-were carefully dressed. I dreamed with unspeakable dread of what had happened, when lying in that since. I believe that nothing would me to go among ice and snow now without a long and strong rope. I offer this caution to all other travelers in Switzerland, out of a great experience and great escape .- Notes of

"No man can be a true patriot without first be coming an abolitionist."—Greeley's Helper Republican Test Book, endorsed by Sixty-Eight Republican members of Congress, and 100,000 copies printed for gratuitous distribution.

The Senators from Pennsylvania said they were willing to make concessions. The Southern States had not asked concession in any form. The South h ad n complaint to make against the Constitu-tion, but that the Constitution had been violated and her rights disregarded, but she never asked concessions. She only asked that the Constitution be carried out. She would be humiliated if she asked anything else, and the North would be humiliated if it granted it. The South only asked for right.—Senator Mason.

HIGHLY COMPLIMENTARY.

It was highly complimentary to the intelligence of the people of Massachusetts, when Mr. Sumner told the Senate that the thirty thousand people who had signed a memorial n favor of the Crittenden Compromise, didn't intelligent freemen deliberately signed their names to a paper, the contents of which they have read and discussed for weeks, and are told by Mr. Sumner that "their best apology for this petition is their ignorance of the character of these, propositions. Had they known what they were they never would have put their names to that petition."

Mr. Sumner will probably be made to inderstand that the want of intelligence is net on the part of the people—that it is himself who does not know the real state of the ease, and misapprehends the feeling of his wn constitutents. The time has come for all patriotic men to cut loose from political eaders who say their party is of more consequence "than fifty Unions."

THE TRIBUNE MARE'S SEST. For weeks the Washington correspondent of the Tribune has been writing "awful disclosures" in regard to a conspiracy at the South to capture Washington city, plunder the Treasury and burn the public buildings. Several editorials of the sensation order also appeared in its columns on the subject, and Tribune. The result was the reference of After a laborious research and a lengthy examination of witnesses, the committee have reported, and say they have been unable to find any grounds for the charge—that it is all humbug. Territory. INCENDIARY PIRE.

About four o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the Drug Store of Mesars. Thayer & Stevens in State street. From appearances it was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. A window in the rear was found open, through which entrance had been made to the cellar where a quantity of boxes were piled up and set on fire. A large hole was burnt in the floor, but through the prompt attendance of the firemen, who put a plentiful supply of water into the building, the fire was extinguished. It is but a few weeks since this same firm was burnt out by the work of an incendiary, and they had but just commenced operations again. Their stock is damaged by water and smoke but to what extent we have not been able to ascertain. Mr. O'Connell's stock was damaged by water and fire to the amount of $250; no insurance. The goods of Messrs. Benedict. Perry, and Wakeman was completely smoked. The building was also damaged slightly.

GRAND CONCERT. The choir of the First Congregationa Society will give a grand concert at the North Church, on Wednesday evening. The programme contains a choice selection of over tures, chorusses, duetts and solos. From the high reputation which the members of this choir have achieved, both singly and collectively, our citizens may expect a rich treat and one they rarely have an opportunity to enjoy. The concert will be under the direction of Prof. T. A. Spinning, the organist of the church, through whose efforts the choir has attained its great proficiency. The proceeds are for the benefit of the choir, and we trust that the same, if not greater encouragement will be given to home talent than to those traveling troupes of less merit but who

This discourse was delivered by the Rev M. J. Raphall, M. A. Ph. Dr. Rabbi preacher, at the Synagogue Green street, New York, on the 4th of Jan. 1861. It is very handsomely published, in pamphlet form, with a page or two of prefatory remarks by the learned author, in answer to the inadequate attempts made by the Tribune and other Republican papers to meet his disturbing argument. The discourse is a statement of facts supported by Bible authority, and the learned Dr's position remains unshaken, so long as Bible believers fail to produce the first text of Scripture which directly or indirectly denounces slaveholding as a sin. BRANDESTH'S PILLS, which takes all polsons, of whatever nature they may be

Mr. John Y. Haight, Supervisor of New Castle, Westche ter County, New York, says, November, 1858:—"I was, two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithme for six tedious months; I became yellow as safron, and me for any tedious months; i became yellow as santou, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single dese of six of Brandreth's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose seemed to arouse all the latent energics of my exhausted frame. I feared the worst—their purgative effect was different tinu d to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. My health has been surprislugly good ever since.

CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH!

WHAT IS IT? HOW CURED!

What is it? How cures?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Mostpeople know what its incenvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation, and often enlargement of folicies, and consequent thickening of the mucus nembrane, lining the masal cavities, from al sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tighness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste.

mucus, less oramin, massi voice, and other imparted nearing and tastic.

The old school remedies, have never been able to do any thing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they generally are worthless. Yet Humphrey's Catarara Specific, a simple Sudar Filt., taken two or three times per day, promptly cures the milder cases; it cures at once all colors in the lead, and radically cares, by persevering use, the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

Sr. Louis, July 10th, 1260.

O. J. Wood, Esq:—Dran Siz.—Allow me the pleasure and estisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your HAIR RESTORATIVE, after a trial of 5 years. I commonded using your Restorative in January, 1265, since which time I have not been without a bottle on-hand. When I commonded the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, bottler has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued beaithy, and the facts above mentioned will be of any particular savantage to you, or even faiter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known aiready, and even mere wonderful ones throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in travelling the greater part of the time the past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my own case. It several instances I have mot with people that have pronounced it a humbug; saying they had used it and without effect. In every instance, how ver, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not a sed your article at all, but had used some new article, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles myself advortised as above, which I have no doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours, word o'r word in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have, within the past five years, seen and talked with mere than two thousand persons that have used your preparation with perfect success—some for baldness, gray hair scald head, dandr scald head, dandruff, and every disease the scale and head are subject to.

I called to see you personally, at your original place of business here, but learned you were now tiving in New York.

You are at liberty to publish this or prefer parties to me. Any communication addressed to me, care box No. 1,22; will be promptly answered. Yours truly JAS, WAITE, M. D.

make the experiment commencing in a small way. I purchased one of your small bottles, at one dollar, and commenced using. Ioliowing directions as searly as I could. I soon discovered the dandraf removed, and my hair, that was failing off in large quantities, was considerably tightened, and a radical change takins place in the color. I have continued to use he till I have used three of your small bottles and just beaun on the fourth. I have now as pretty a head of dark brown, or light black hair as any man, or as I had in my youthful days, when a boy in the hills of western Virginia. My head is entirely clear of dandruff, and the hair ceased entirely failing off and is as soft and one, and feels as colly, as though it was tust from the hand of a frameto charm. ily, as though it was just from the hands of a French cham-over. Many of my acquaintances frequently say to me, Butler, where did you get that one wig ?? I tell them it

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We are no habit of pussing every new discovery, for in nine of they are quark nontrums, but we take great plea commending Paorsana Wood's article to all wh failing off or untains gray. Mr. Bocock objected to the second resolution, thus making the question on its rejection. Decided in the negative 67 against 110.

MOVEMENTS OF MR. LINCOPN. UTICA, Feb. 18.-Lincoln left Buffalo befalo before six o'clock this morning. He was escorted by the military and several hundred citizens. Greeley and others joined the par ty. The train arrived at Rochester at 8 A. M. On arriving, Lincoln was introduced by Mayor Scranton to about 8,000 people. He said he was not vain enough to believe that this vast assemblage was to see him as an individual but because for the time being he was a representative of the American people. He then excused himself from making any speech owing to his fatigue. He was received with great enthusiasm .-At Clyde he was welcomed by crowds, a salute and cheers for which he thanked the people but had no speech to make or time to make it in. At Syraouse 10,000 people recoived him. A platform was erected draped with the American flag.

He declined addressing the crowd, saying they must not draw him from his refusal in regard to any other platform than that with which his name was associated.

I prepared this Liniment originally for the use of my own children, and with such success that I recommended it to my neighbors. They have been so much benefited by it, and are so much convinced of its importance as a remedy for the trr at dileanse which has proved tail in so many instances, that they have advised me to present it to the public. Annexed i give a certificate signed by some of them. Many other names might be added. The Liniment requires only a tair trial to make it a safeguard in every house.

Hope on, oh. weary and desponding mortals!
I tell you that the world is not all gloom—
That there is sunshine for each day that riseth
Upon our lives, from birth-morn to the tomb.
If you have burdens, bear them, oh! I pray you.
And with them to the earth be never bowed;
Remember ever there's a silver lining
And golden fringes to each gloomy cloud.
If't were notior the night no stars we'd see,

INSTRUCTIONS,

INSTRUCTIONS.

Containing conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the department may deem proper.

1. Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails; but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail bags.

2. On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of convavance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also nost office blanks, mail bags, locks, and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3. On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the department, also the British and Canada mails, when offered, and the avenus accompanying them, are to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use, while travelling with the mails, a commodious car, or apartment in the centre of a car, properly lighted, warmed, and furnished, and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the department.

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from an deliver it into the poet offices at the commencement and end of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted for the performance of all other side service—that is, for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing. Receipts will be required for mail bags conveyed in charge service—that is, for offices over eignly rods from a samon or landing.

Receipts will be required for mail bags conveyed in charge of rersons employed by railroad companies. There will also be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or tother agents of the department, to accompany the mails, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On the principal stage routes, likewise, receipts will be required and way bills forwarded; the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mail bags.

postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mali bags.

4. No psy will be made for trips not performed; and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break of mexicon with depending malis, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Deduction will also be ordered for a grade of performance inferior to that specified in the contract. For repeated delinquencies or the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the mature thereof and the importance of the mali, may be made.

5. For leaving behind or throwing off the malis, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being intelligence in advance of the mali, a quarter's pay may be deducted.

6. Floss will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of post masters or the siniary is of other credible persons, for faiting to arrive in contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from or deliver it into a post office; for suffering it to be week injured, destroyed, robbed or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running a coach, car, or steamboat on a route.

demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running a coach, car, or steamboat on a route.

7. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract; for violating the Post Office laws, or disobeying the instructions of the department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the department to do so; for running an express as aforesaid; or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail.

8. The Postmaster General may order an increase on the contract pay. He may change schedules of departures and arrivals in all cases, and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads, without increase of pay, provided the running time be not abridged. He may also order an increase of speed, allowing, within the restrictions of the law, *pro rata increase of psy for the additional stock or carriers it any. The contractor may, however, in the case of increase of speed, relinquish the contract, by giving prompt notice to the department that he prefers doing so to carryin; the rder into effect. The Postmaster General may also curtail or discontinue the service, in whole or in part, at pro rata decrease of pay, allowing one month's extra compensation on the amount dispensed with, whenever, in his opinion, the public interests require the change, or in case he desires to supersede it by a different grade of transportation.

9. Payments will be made by collections from or drafts

10. The distances are given according to the best information; but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than adv riteed, if the bounts to be supplied be correctly stated. Bidders must inform themselves on this point and also in reference to the weight of the mail, the condition of roads. hills, streams, &c., and all tollbridges, ferries, or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred. No claim for additional pay, based on such ground, can be considered; or for alleged mistakes or misapprehension as to the degree of service; nor for bridges destroyed, fe ries discopituued, or other obstructions increasing distance, occurring during the contract term. ATIONAL POLICE GAZETTE.—
The first and only reliable criminal journal published in the world. The proprietors having been for nearly twenty years connected with, and the larger part of the time at the head of the Folice Department of the city of New York, they became possessed of valuable criminal information, and obtained a knowledge of Folice affairs not surpassed by any other in this country. The editorials inculcate a high standard of morals, are ably written, and should be universally ead. It also contains each week accurate likenesses of the most noted criminals in the United States, so that they may be known and avoided by honest men. This journal should be in the possession of every citizen—Subscriptions. $2, per Annum; $1, for Six Months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly,) to GEO.W. RESTORATIVE CORDIAL BLOOD RENOVATOR.

is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilitarating, and attengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weak-lay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhibitarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been fest to be a desideratum in the medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of science, and also by all who have sanered true declining; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor hums liy is constantly liable. Such, for example, as toe following:—Consumption. Bronchitis. Indigestion. Dyspepsia, the most dangerous to which poor hums ity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as toe following:

Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypocondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unastended to in time, called Fessale Weaknesses and Erregularities.—Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or incontence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and believe the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emscistion, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Minamatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the billiary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in stat, all the excretions and accretions of the system, it will infailibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all allose not accustomed to much out door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those lils which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again, the Cordial is as perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all we cluss for it. Mothers, try it. And to you we appeal to detect the illness or declime not only of your daughte

DYSPEPSIA.—What is it? how cured? This question is fully answered in the pamphiet issued by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, and to be obtained of his authorized agents. It is a plain, straightforward, incontrovertible essay, in itself, of his, health, and disease? DR. O. PHELPS BROWN also prepares a remedy which is unexampled in its efficacy, the AGAGIAN BALSAM. In cases of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and Nervous Debillity where death seems the manifest destroy of the sufferer, the world can show no parallel to the effects produced by the AGAGIAN BALSAM. Each organ of the body feels its beneficial influence. From pain and feebleness, the patient springs up to a cheerful enjoyment of Hife, and a powerful sense of sold restoration. The AGACIAN BALSAM is seld int $2 per large bottle, by THAYER & STEVENS, No. 28 State street, sole Agents, who has also a small number of trial bottles, price 25 cents each, as the proprietor wishes to introduce this remarkable remedy in such a manner as to preclude all do-bts of its being a genuine article.
