MY LAST STAKE.

THRILLING STORY OF EARLY LIFE IN CAL IFORNIA' Those were dark times for me in the la part of the year 1852. Recovering from a severe and nearly fatal illness. I was totally without means, or any steady employment. Educated as a gentleman, and having passed the greater part of my life among books, as a scholar. I had no friends among those who might have assisted me in obtaining work and might have assisted me in obtaining work and bread. Many more there were, doubtless, who, like myself, preferred the keen, biting pangs of hunger, to making a confession of poverty, or asking aid from the mocking lips of charity.

I had obtained work for a few days, and by this means put a few dollars in my pool but still it was only a temporary relief; and after the small sum was eked out to its utmost capacity for bread, then, as had hap-pened many times before, another period of suffering was to come. All this had, com-bined with past misfortunes, nearly broken my spirit, and hope was even departing from the horizon of my future.

I was weary of disappointment, almost weary ot life. In this unfortunate state of mind, reckless and indifferent. I was walking one evening along a street in San Fran which led by a long wharf to the water's edge. At that time gambling, in all its varieties, was the great feature of life in California, and its hells were to be seen on every hand, all over the city; but from some innate feeling of disgust, more than from reasoning. I had never gambled; for it seemed to me that a dollar obtained by intelligence of the mind and honest labor, was worth far more than many dollars gained by mere blind chance. Before reaching the end of the wharf, I was aroused from my reverie by the confused din of many voices and sounds of music, among which, above all others, arose the shrill screams of an ill-played clarionet. Turning round, I found I was in front of one of the vilest and most notorious hells in the lower part of the city, where rumor said many crimes were committed with impunity—for justice existed but in name in those days, and rogues did exactly what seemed good to their own eyes. As I gazed within the large crowded room, I remembered that an accrowded room, I remembered that quaintance was employed as a mus quaintance was employed as a musician in the orchestra on one side of the room, and governed by the impulse of the moment, I pushed my way through the mass of persons around the table to speak to him. After a few moments conversation with the musician, he turned to me and said in a quiet tone of

"Whenever you come in hers, never be tempted to risk a dollar on any game played, for no 'square game' is played here; and more than that, the worst thing a man can do

Saying this, he resumed his occupation. Not caring much for the information, I gase about me at the scene, with a still greate reckless depression of spirits. I walked care last you to a coulette table, and from the last of the moment table, and from the simples or frow more farting. I three down as stakes the three dollars in closes allow which I had in my pockets. It was a quiet by won by the gambler; and, indeed, its to wards met the very mechanic who made it table, and who explained to me its scene springs, by which other fools, like myselver robbed.

Passing along with the crowd, I found m self at the centre of excitement and attra tion—faro table—around which were son newly arrived and very suc ners, judging from the many thousand dol-lars they had on the table. Under the influence of bad whiskey, and the vici the game, they were apparently as reckless west pocket a ten dollar gold piece, which was all I had in the world, I threw it on a card at random—one on which the others were not betting—as my last stake. It doubled and doubled, again and again, many times, till at length the half drunken minera, who were playing for such heavy stakes, took an interest in my strange luck; and the mar-ble-faced dealer, whose attention hitherto had been entirely devoted to them, turned his eyes with a sinister look upon me. When my card won tor the ninth time, I took up my card won for the nine time, I took up-from the table, in coin and dust, over five thousand dollars with a stellid coolness, and putting it in a couple of bags given me by one of the miners, I thrust them into my pockets. As I stepped aside to leave the table, the dealer, turning to some one in the crowd, and giving him a peculiar look of intelligence, said, with a laugh: "That's a heavy pile to carry!" I soon found out the truth of his said, with a laugh: "That's a heavy pile to carry!" I soon found out the truth of his remark. Not wishing to elbow my way through the crowd directly to the door, I passed around behind the tables in the back rart of the house. Leading from the room were a number of badly lighted passages one or two were quite dark. As I went by one of the latter, before I had turned round toward the street door, a man standing in the oward the street door, a man star obscure light, nearly concealed behind the mysterious gesture. Without thinking, I stepped through the door a few feet to less what he wished, and when within a few yas of him, as I took another step, quicker to I can tell it, the floor passed from under the feet, and I was sirving rapidly under waters of the bay. With the instinct of an waters of the bay. With the instinct of self-preservation, I struggled for the life I had held so cheap. At length, after what seemed to me a long time, almost suffocated, and weighed down by the fatal gold, I rose to the surface; a light from a dark lantern flashed down from the mouth of what seemed to be a square well, built on the water of the bay, and constructed of smooth panel boards. I and constructed of smooth panel boards. I could see above me the pale looking faces of two ruffians gazing down. One grasped in his hand a long pole, armed with a sharp point, and directly opposite me, within a few feet of my face, was a bloated, livid face of a smaller account. swollen corpse, that had, unknown to ma, served to obstruct my rising to the surface. Jast then one of the men said to the other:

And down came the sharp spear, touch my arm, slightly injuring me. He then di it up to throw it again with more dea purpose. At that instant the report of pis-tols, shricks of pain, mingled with the varied sounds of deadly conflict, came to my ear; the desperado above in haste cast the spear, and then, with his companion, rushed to the scene of other murders, doubtless feeling so-cure of the victim left in the well. The lantern hung on a nail about six feet above antern hung on a nail a lantern hung on a nail about its rest about me, and a piece of rope had been careles y dropped from what appeared to be a vertical trap, epening outward on the tide state Bodies were found in the bay so frequent in these days.

I dropped myself down on the outside into the rippling waters, and passing as quickly as possible from pile to pile, under the street and houses. I scarcely stopped to breather until I found myself far from the spot. Once I thought I heard smothered voices and the sound of muffled oars; but, if so, they could not find me, and I made my way cautiously to land a long distance off, for I well knew they would use every means to stop a victim who had discovered their crimes. Exhausted and very weak from loss of blood from my wounded arm. I crept to my garret. Late the next more gowhen I awoke, I could not believe the ab. vents, except as a troubled dream, until, remeding out my hand, I felt the weight of the money in the pockets of my

After binding up my wounded arm as well as possible, I went out and took the first good meal I had taken for many weeks. I then purchased a suit of clothes, and geing rber, materially changed my personal appearance, and in company with an honest policeman—not common in those days—I visited the scene of my night's adventure. As we carelessly sauntered through the room, not a single face met mine that I could in the least degree recognize. They had evidently—those implicated as actors in crime—fled away until possible investigation should cease. The very dark passage from the back part of the house which 1 had such reason to ber, was so cunningly built up and al tered that it was difficult to suppose any such place ever existed .- Recollections of a Miner

"No man can be a true patriot without first be coming an abolitionist."—Greeley's Helper Republican Text Book, endorsed by Sixty-Eight Republican members of Congress, and 100,000 copies printed for gratuitous distribution.

The Senators from Pennsylvania said they were willing to make concessions. The Southern States had not asked concession in any form. The South had complaint to make against the Constitu-tion, but that the Constitution had been violated and her rights disregarded, but she never asked concessions. She only asked that the Constitution be carried out. She only asked that the Constitution be carried out. She would be humiliated if she asked anything else, and the North would be humiliated if it granted it. The South only asked for right.—Senator Mason.

GREEK AGAINST GREEK. The knock-down affair, which occurred at Washington on the evening of the 15th, between Kellogg, Republican member of Congress from Illinois, and Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, (Republican,) was an outbreak of the " irrepressible conflict" that is now going on in the ranks of the Republican party. Medill, it appears, was in Washington when Mr. Kellogg delivered his late speech in Congress, and wrote a scandalous and unfair letter to his paper concerning it. Kellogg, on the evening referred to, met Medill at the National Hotel, and addressed him on the subject. Some exasperating words ensued, and blows soon followed. In the melee, Medill was knocked down. Persons who were near then interfered, and separated the belliger ts. No serious damage was sustained by either. Medill is a Greeley Republican and Kellogg is Anti-Greeley .-Hence the abusive letter, and hence the

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent says a formidable combination has been formed in that city to operate on Mr. Lincoln, and force him to appoint to his Cabinet men who are antagonistic to Mr. Sew ard, in order to make it so uncomfortable to the Senator from New York, that he will not remain in the Cabinet. Greeley is probably at the bottom of the conspiracy—and he and his followers will spare no efforts to accomplish The mammoth colliery breaker of G. S. their end: but Seward and Weed have the Repplier, at mill creek, was damaged by fire "inside track," and will be able, it is thought, to thwart all their plans. "Possession is nine points of the law." If Seward remains in the Cabinet, the Greelevites will stand a poor chance for office, under Uncle Sam, in the State of New York. Possibly Seward might be induced to allow Horace the appointment of Minister to Hayti.

Ferry, the congo member of Congress from this district, wants to have the Constitution amended by inserting a clause forbid ding the secession of any State from the Union without a twe-thirds vote of permission in each of the two Houses of Congress, the approval of the President, and the consent of all the States. Up to this time the leading Republicans have declared, over and over again, since the Southern propositions for an alteration were broached in Congress, that the Constitution framed by our fathers was "right, as it is," and that they were content to abide by it." But when there is any chance of success for a plan for altering the fundamental law to suit the Republicans, then they are all res to alter and amend!

If we understand the tariff amendments agreed to by our Republican Congress on Monday, four cents per pound is to be added on tea and half a cent per pound on coffee .-These alterations must tell oppressively upon every poor man, and every poor man's family in the land. It would seem that while the Republican party are ready to turn the country upside down for the sake of the "negro," the white man's interests, and the white man's comfort are things wholly lost sight of .-"Irrepressible conflicts" over and about that negro," however, cannot be carried on well without money—the sinews of war—and hence while Sambo dances, white man must the duty on sugar and places a duty of four

The inevitable, unavoidable, omnipotent and eternal "negro" turns up now in the $21,000,000 to $10,000,000. The Senate United States Supreme Court, between Ken- agreed to the report of the Committee of Contucky and Ohio. A Kentucky negro comnitted crime and fled. Gov. Magoffin demands his surrender. Gov. Dennison refuses. The Supreme Court has to decide a principle like that in the case of Anderson, before the Canada Judges -" Can a negro commit crimes with impunity that a white man pannot?" We shall see. The question has of the Union. An act amounting to a forcebeen dodged in Canada.

The Abolitionist of the Standard thinks if the radical Republicans agree to admit the Territory of New Mexico as a Slave State it is a great concession on their part. There would be just about as much concession in the matter as there would be for a body of men who are determined to do a wrong act, to do a right act simply because they were forced to do so.

The rules of the House, and an amendment was passed making the same to confirm to the bills pending in the Senate organising Nevada and Dakota. The bill then passed. At the evening session, promisouous debate went on, Mr. Wm. W. Ripley, of South Windser, reduced the last season from an acre and a to do a right act simply because they were forced to do so.

Jefferson Davis, the President of the Southern confederacy, was duly inaugurated at Montgomery, Alabama, Monday. The spectacle is described as the grandest ever witnessed at the South.

The Peace Convention at Washington had a long session yesterday. Several amendments to the Guthrie proposition, and a sub stitute therefor, were offered, but they were all rejected. The debate yesterday was mainly upon the Territorial question. Gov. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, made a strong anti-compromise speech. It is thought that the Convention may come to a vote to mor-

Senator Seward declares that has no longer fears of slavery any where; that the slavery question has ceased to be a practical issue—the admission of Kausas ending it. He declares that the question now is, country or no country? True enough. But the radicals of the Republican party oppose a settlement; and the only way to save the country-and Mr. Seward says this is the only practical question now-is to remove the obstacle. Let the people turn out the impracticable men. who stand in the way of a settlement, as fast as they can get at them.

The story got up by the New York Times' Washington correspondent, of Southern Congressmen stealing and carrying away books from the Congressional Library, was all for sensation purposes. The correspondent himself, according to Washington dispatches, when called before the Committee of Investigation, knew little or nothing about it. It is evidently a Republican lie. " mede out of whole cloth"-and compares very favorably with most of the reckless assertions of their unprincipled presses.

The Standard man allows that he votes the same ticket as Francis Gillette. By so doing he advocates the same principles .-Gillette is a bitter disunion Abolitionist-one of the rankest sectionalists that can be found anywhere. The course pursued by the Standard man, the leaders he follows, and the principles he advocates, proves that he is nothing but a black-hearted Gillette Abolitionist of the darkest hue. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

Facts have come to light, indicating that direct, gross bribery and corruption was resorted to by Greeley's managers at Albany to effect his nomination as Seward's successor. The details are published in some of the New York papers. Fortunately for the good of the country, Greeley was defeated. The Greeley party, it will be remembered, is the party that claims to be all purity &c.

There seems to be a couspiracy among the news agents and telegraph operators to destroy Mr. Lincoln's reputation as a public speaker.—Hartford Press. The reports of Mr. Lincoln's speeches, given by the telegraph operators, are said to be correct. The Republican press and the Republican party have good reason to be Republican party have good reason to be ashamed of their President. A ten year old school boy, who has had but ordinary advanschool boy, who has had but ordinary advantages, ought to acquit himself better.

The statements of the New York city banks for the week ending Feb. 16, foot up as follows :- Loans and discounts $119.880, 371; specie $37,119,000; circulation $8,-273,840; net deposits $91,547,158. These figures show a decrease of $487,679 in loans: $87.465 in circulation, and an increase of $2,463,355 in specie, and $2,558,527 in net

It is stated that at Dunkirk Mr. Lincoln "grasped the folds of the American flag." What a wonderful display of statesmanship. The act is supposed to be a part of the programme he has been studying upon since last November.

THE OLD SPIRIT OF THE TIMES has entered upon its thirty-first volume, inaugu rating this evidence of its long life by an en tire new dress of type and four additional pages to its heretofore large and attractive form. No paper in the country has, throughout its management, maintained a more thoroughly consistent course than this journal. Notwithstanding the vicissitudes of polities and panies, it has pursued the even tenor of its way, turning neither to the right nor the left, and the consequence is that it maintains its popularity in every section of the Union, and this new evidence of its success we have already noticed is its just re-

CONGRESS,

On Monday, the Senate agreed to the re-port of the Committee of Conference on the Deficiency bill. The booksellers of the United States presented a petition asking a modification of the Tariff bill in regard to books. The usual large number of memorials was presented. The oredentials of Mr. Nesmith, Senator from Oregon, were presented. The Tariff bill was taken up, and the amendment to reduce the duty on books was lost; a large number of amendments were adopted. The amendment which decreases cents per pound on tea and half a cent on coffee was accepted. The amount appropriated in the Loan bill was cut down from ference on the Executive and Legislative Appropriation bill. In the House a bill was passed appropriating $50,000 for surveys of Northern water courses and islands of the Pacific Ocean and Behring's Straits in view of telegraphic communication from the mouth of the Amoor in Asia to some point on the confines of the Russian Possessions. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State law was introduced by Mr. Stanton, and voted down after some debate. MR. W. A. CROFFUT:—In response to your request I would say: I am a carriage-blacksmith by trade. In the fall of 1833 I went to Kinston, Lenoir county, N.C., to be employed by Messrs. Bibble & Bro., to oversee a gang of slaves in the manufacture of carriages. In 1855 I returned to the North. Last April I again emigrated to "the old North State" and resumed my occupation with my former employers—this time taking with me my wite and infant daughter. While in Connecticut my politics had been Americanism and Democracy, my last vote previous to leaving having been east for Thomas H. Seymour for Governor. On going South, I expected to conform wholly to their cu-toms, and while my instincts revolted, as unperverted instincts always must, against the idea of property in man and woman, yet I was resolved to "do as the Kommans did," and should have scorned the thought of meddling in any way with the institution of slavery. All went on well enough until Monday, the 3d of the present month, when I was informed by a passer-by that "my case was making quite an excitement over at the Court. Haven." present month, when I was informed by a passer-by that "my case was making quite an excitement over at the Court House," when I learned that I had been charged with being an Abolitionist, and promoting dissatisfaction among the slaves; and that I was being tried by the omnipotent Mob Law, in my absence and without my knowledge! I was soon waited on, at my house, by a committee who read the charges sgainst me. They were (1) that I had, on my return, been seen to shake hands with a negro (an old good-natured uncle, whom I had known belore.) True: everybody did it. (2) I had read leiters to slaves. True: they were letters to the negroes in my charge from other negroes, written by their masters—it was my duty to read them. (3) One of the chivalry swore he saw me talking, in the evening, with some one on the sidewalk, and when he pussed, the man dodged behind a tree out of sight, which led informant to suppose that dodger was a negro, and that I was "stirring him up to rebeilion!" (4) Mrs. Dr. Woodley swore that she overheard me talking to a negro one night in an

the minority shall rule. And the minority decreed that I

We are 'home again," and though without work, are very glad to be here. Thousands will follow us to their native North within three months, I think, or suffer the pensity of their delay. No man can comprehend the weakness of Southern society, the baseness of its lower stamps on the community, till they have seen it. I shall not go South again: no man is safe to go till he goes with a rifle on his shoulder, and as a member of a Northern army.

In this document it will be seen that Mr Rockwell has seen fit to offer himself to the citizens of this place—and was likewise heralded forth to the world by the New York Tribune and other papers of the same family—as a martyr to the shrine of Abolitionism and another victim of Southern vengeance.

of Southern vengeance.

But as Mr. Rockwell's antecedents were so well-know here, it was thought proper by a number of the citizens of this place to address a letter of inquiry to North Carolina, with Mr. R.'s communication inclosed, for the purpose of hearing the "other side" of the story.

At the suggestion of several of our most respectable citizens, I addressed a letter with the same communication inclosed, the next week, to Mr. J. A. Washington, of Kinston—and it will be seen that he was one of the singers Kinston—and it will be seen that he was one of the signers of Mr. R.'s certificate, and therefore we are bound to be lieve him—relative to said matter, and from the repulsive by which I have received, it would seem that Mr. R. has no been so much abused after all—the Jeffersonian and Trib one to the contrary notwithstending—and being a good and loyal citizen, believing in equal and exact justice t all men, we deem it no more than an act of justice to ou Southern brethren—whose rights we believe have been trampled upon—that both sides of the story should be told, and accordingly we give Mr. Washington's letter:

KINSTON, N. C., Bec. 31, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—Your layor of the 21st, concerning Rockwell's communication, was received some days since, and would, but for pressing engagements, have been replied to at snearlier date. Rockwell, as he states, did come to this place, remain a year or two, and then return North. I resided a short distance from the town; seldom saw him, and barely knew him when I met him; but recollect that he was spoken of as unsound on the subject of slavery, and many were pleased at his leaving. His return was regretted; and the suspicions in regard to him when here before, caused his deportment to be more closely scrutinized; and the very general impression was, and is, that he was corrupting our slaves, and unfit therefore to remain among us; and but for the declaration, when waited on by a portion of the Committee, that he intended to leave, he would have been requested to do so. The report he makes of the composition of the meeting is basely false. It was composed of a large number of the most respectable citizens of the town; and the base slander he has uttered against the members of that meeting, has caused us to believe him a worse man than we had supposed him to be. A man who will knowingly, wilfully, and deliberately utter a falsehood must have a black heart, and is a daggerous person in any community; his best friends are ple-sed that he left.

There is a large number of Northern men—Yankees—now here, excellent citizens; who intend remaining, and feel as safe as they would in any section of the country. They are as well-informed, I presume, as Rockwell, of the state of the country; did not believe there would be a general insurrection about Christmas; or if did believe it, did not think "they would be strangled like so many dogs;" nor have they thought, as he states, that such a "fearful power reigned over the South, no Northern man was safe, for a charge would be invented at any time by the unscrupulous mobites, or the word of a frightened negro would give a man a haltar.' If they had bel KINSTON, N. C., Dec. 31, 1860.

We are pleased to know that we have so many friends
t the North—hope we shall not have to call them to our
id. The unjust are always cowards, and we feel fully ble to meet any number of such secondrels that can be marched against us. Yours respectfully,
J. A. Washington.

It will be seen by this that Mr. R. has lost nothing by a residence in the "Sunny South," but has, in fact, added to the laurels which decked his brow previous to leaving our place. He returned, perhaps, a sadder, if not a wiser man, poured his tale of dreadful wrongs into the willing ear of the "quill editorial from the west bank of the father of waters," and found himself created a saint, to be worshiper at the altar of Abolitionism.

A few more words and we have done; we have cherished fondly the hope that this glorious Government, which our fathers fought and bled for, would go down to remotest posterity as they bequeathed it to us; but alsa! in these degenerate days, when men should be pouring "oil on the troubled waters" of our country, we find men—such as the editors of the Tribune, Jeffersonian, and many others—belching forth their noterious lies—of these beware, it is "Ephraim joined to his idols."

While penning these few remarks, I received the following letter from a gentleman of the same place, as will be seen by the date thereof:

Kinston, N. C., Jan. 7, 1861.

DEAR SIE:—Although your very kind letter has been replied to by one of our Committee, yet in compliance with the wishes of a number of my fellow-citizens, I have determined to reply especially to one of the charges which Rockwell makes against the South. He says: "Northern men stand no chance at the South unless they become the tools of slaveholders, &c.," or something to that effect. Now

" Mark how plain a tale shall put him down."

mained here until 1837. He did a large business, accumulated a kandsome fortune, had as many warm friends as any man in the county, competed successfully with the oldest and wealthiest houses in the place, and left here with the confidence and esteem of our whole community. And never, during his entire residence here, was he subjected to any suspicion or treated with any disrespect. Why? Because his conduct was above suspicion; he associated with gentlemen, conducted himself as a gentleman, and as one who loved his country both North and South. He resides now at Simsbury, Connecticut, in the possession of a handsome fortune,—the reward of integrity and business capacity,—esteemed there, as here, by Next was Dr. Reuben Knox, of Blandford, Mass., who came here without fortune, read medicine with our most eminent physician—a North Carolinian—and succeeded him in practice. After here having accumulated a fortune and married into one of our best families, he removed to St. Louis, and subsequently to California, where he was drowned. He established a very high reputation here as a physician and surgeon, was universally respected in life, and sincerely lamented in death.

Next came Dr. William Holland from Massachusetts. He read medicine with Dr. K., married the sister of Dr. K.'s lady, succeeded him in practice, and was also engaged in mercantile operations. He was "A man of genius and of letters too."

I knew him intimately, and a more genial and chivalroos spirit never lived. Of him it might be truly said—None knew him but to love.

Peace to his ashes!

Next came Dr. Royal R. Cantield, a native of Ohioprobably his family originally was from New England. He first located in Greene county, where he resided one or two years. He then came to this place, practised his profession here for some years, made many warm friends, was of a generous and impulsive nature, made no seemy during his residence here. He was a man, not simply by cutward ceremory, but in his heart; and having been called from labor to refreshment by the Supreme Grand Master of the Universe, has, we trust, entered into rest.

And we have yet in our midst many worthy sons of New England, who, by pursuing "the even tenor of their way," attending closely to their own business and leaving whers to do the same, have shown themselves good citi-lover of our country.

It is proper to add that all these gentlemen were, and are, opposed to the Democracy—and some of them are very warm politicans; and yet, notwithstanding this is a most decidedly Democratic country, no one has ever at tempted to interfere with their freedom of speech of pinion; never have "dared to molest them or hem afraid." them afraid."

In conclusion, permit me to tender to you, and through you to the galiant Democrats of Connecticut who have battled so nobly for the Constitutiona rights of the South, through good as well as through evidence, our warmest and most grateful acknowledgments. Nor are we less unmindful of the patriotic efforts of the friends of Bell and Everett in the free States. We gree them as britten as nativity all! Had your wise coun-and yet now that we propose to separate peaceably, taking the sin and odium upon ourselves—they are ready to "cry havoc; and let slip the dogs of war" to coerce us back into the Union. "Consistency, thou art a jewel." In the name of God, let there be no strife between us; and it may be, that upon a returning sense of justice on the part of the North, the sober second thought may do its work at the South, and the Union may be reconstructed, our of ficulties, honorably adjusted, and the glorious Union of the Constitution continue to our children's chil-

I ask no more for the South than I would concede; aye demand for the North. Whenever the entire people of Connecticut shall, under a sense of injuries, either real or imaginary, honestly believe that their honor and safety require them to withdraw from the Confederacy, I would say to them, "Go in peace." As an American citizen, I would shed no drop of the blood of my countrymen—nethers of Connecticut page of South Carolina. And withered ther of Connecticut nor of South Carolina. CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH! WHAT IS IT ! HOW CURED!

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of amoyance from Catarrh. Mostpeople know what its inconvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation, and often collargement of follicles, and consequent thickening of the mucus membrane, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and the collections. nd taste.

The o'd school remedies have never been able to do an hing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as paintu thing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they generally are worthless. Yet HUM-PHREYS' CATAREN FRECIFIC, a simple SUGAR FILL, taken two or three times per day, promptly cares the milder cases; cures at once all colds in the read, and radically cares, by persevering use, the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

HUMPHREYS REMEDIES FOR THE PROPLE

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct pervision and inspection of Frot. HUMPIREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely remedies for all the more common and simple alimenta of life. A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases frem which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight distribute, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at fair easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, fever, a dangerous dysentery. Group or other disease, while all the powers of medicine fail to arrest. Herein these remedies supply a great public want: Being on hand, simple, you know at once what to take-pleasant, so as to cause it repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, an at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed. Experence has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable. Thos sands are and have been using them for some five years pass in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and smong our hundreds of agonts the uniform terminous properties of the simplicity and certainty, and smong our hundreds of agonts the uniform terminous properties. The only thing that was done, however, was to appoint a committee to consider the matter, dnathe white dinn is not more es del Though perhaps this want of action may be partly accounted for by the fact that this was in the midst of the imbroglio concerning the purchase of the school-lot. Since that time, teps have been taken in the matter at all. Of course, the principal objection against this will be the off-repeated,—and which should by no means be disregarded—one, of the increase of taxes, which, it is contended, are already too heavy. In reply to this, we would say that our heaviest taxes are by no means for those things which bring us the most desirable returns, and we should not at once reject a preject, however beneficial and advantageous in itself, simply because it causes an increase of expense. Moreover, who will deny but that the establishment of a High School here would, in itself, promote the prosperity of the city. Do the citizens of Norwich, at the present time, regret the erection of that noble Free Academy, of creased prosperity of the city?

At the present time, it is true that many or the studies and exercises of the Senior Department of the State-street School are such as properly belong to a High School, and, as the system seems in a great measure to have met with success and favor, it is to be hoped that it may be changed to a High School in the true sense of the word.

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE.—
I have devoted many years of time and close investigation to the cure of Cancers, and have at last an unmistable remedy for his most distressing and dangerous form of Scrofula. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and so certain am! of my ability to do what I promise, that in all cases where I undertake a cure, I do not hesitate to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANCERS CAN BE CURED.

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SEE WHAT

OTHERS SAY OF IT.

O. J. Wood, Esq:—Dear Sir.—Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your HAIR RESTORATIVE, after a trial of 5 years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time! have not been without a bottle on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued healthy, soft and glossy, and my scalp perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the facts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to you, or even fatter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known already, and even more wonderful ones throughout the Union. Have occupied my time in traveling the greator part of the time the past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my own case. In several in stances I have met with people that have pronounced it a humbag; saying they had used it and without effect. In every instance, bowever, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not used your article at all, but had used some owardicle, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three stricles myself advertised as above, which I have as doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours, word for word in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have, within the past five years, seen and talked with mere than two thousand persons that have used your preparation with perfect success—some for baldness, gray hair, scald head, dandruff, and every disease the scalp and head are subject to.

I called to see you personally, at your original place of business here, but learned you were now living in New York.

You are at liberty to publish this or to refer parties to me. Any communication addressed to me, care box No. 1,22; will be promptly answered. Yours truly JAN, WAITE M. D.

Warren Springs, Perry Co., Penn., June 7, 1860.

Prof. Wood—Drar Sir.—I was induced more than a year ago to try your vausable HAIR RESTORATIVE, for the purpose of cleansing my head of dandruff. I had suffered with it upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it, although I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gloss & Kunkle's drug store, and bought a bottle, and now am prepared to recommend it to universal use, for it has completely removed all dandruff from my head, and an application once in two weeks keeps it free from any tiching or other unpleasantness. I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and, by the use of your preparation, has been restored to its original color. I am now 50 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain, in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of less trouble to me, in keeping it clean, kc., than at any time since I was a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and, aithough I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duy to say so. You can use this or any part of it in any shape you think proper, if it is worth anything to you.

Yours, &c., H. H. ETTER.
