THE DEATH OF A CHEVALIER Last Hour of Sir Philip Sidney.

The chivalric death of Sir Philip Sidney is related in the following sketch, from Motley's History of the Netherlands—a new work just published by Harper & Bro's, New York—with admirable power. The action was in intercepting a convoy of provisions sent by the Spanards to the relief of Zatphen which was beseiged by the Dutch and English. The affair on the part of the young English Knight was an anticipation of the courage and bravado of the famous charge of six handled at Palech the famous charge of six hundred at Balaclava.

It was five o'clock of a chill aut ing, October 1. 1588. It was time for day—break, but the fog was so thick that a man at the distance of five yards was quite invisible. The creaking of wagon wheels and the measured tramp of soldiers soon became faintly audible, however, to Sir John Norris and his five hundred as they sat there in the mist. Presently came galloping forward in hot haste those nobles and gentlemen, with the esquires, fifty men in all—Sidney Willoughby, and the rest—whom Leicester had no longer been able to restrain from taking part in the adventure. ng, October 1. 1588. It was time for day part in the adventure.

A force of military, the amount of ordered by the Earl to cross the bridge at a later moment. Sidney's cornet of herse was then in Deventer, to which place it had been sent in order to assist in quelling an anticipa-ted revolt, so that he came like most of his companions, as a private soldier and knighterrant.

The arrival of the expected convoy was atposts had been stationed to give notice of the enemy's movements. Suddenly the fog, which had shrouded the scene so closely, rolled away like a curtain, and in the full light of an October morning the Englishmen found themselves face to face with a compact body of three thousa d men. The Marquis del Vasto rode at the head of the force, surrounded by a band of arquebus men. The cavalry, under the famous Espirote chief George Crescia, Hannibal Gonzaga, Bentivoglio, Sesa, Conti, and other distinguished commanders, followed; the colmns of pikemen and musketeers lin umns of pikemen and musketeers lined he rows on both sides of the causeways; between them the long train of wagons slowly along under their protection, whole force had got in motion after he sent notice of their arrival to Verdugo, with one or two thousand men, was expet to sally forth immediately from the city. There was but brief time for delibera Notwithstanding the tramendous adds.

Notwithstanding the tremendous odds the was no thought of retreat. Black Norr called to Sir William Stanley, with whom a had been at variance so lately, at Doesbur "There hath been ill-blood between us, he said. "Let us be friends together the day, and die side by side, if need be, in her Majesty's cause."

Majesty's cause."

"If you see me not serve my Prince with faithful courage now," replied Stantey, "account me forever a coward, Living or dying, I will stand or lie by you in friendship."

As they were speaking these words, the young Earl of Essex, general of the horse, oried to his handful of troops: "Follow me, good fellows, for the honor of England and England's Queen." England's Queen.

As he spoke he dashed, lance in rest, upor the enemy's cavalry, overthrew the foren to splinters, and then, swinging his cartel-axe, rode merrily forward. His whole little troop, compact as an arrow head, flew with an irresistible shock against the opposing oblumns, pierced clean through the scattered them in all directions. At drove the Spanish and Albaman cavalry bupon the musketeers and pikemen. Whe ing with rapidity, they retired before a voof musket shot, by which many horses and few riders were killed, and then formed at to renew the attack. Sir Philip Sidney, coming to the field, having met Sir Will Pelham, the veteran Lord Marshal, high armed, had with objections extraored. armed, had with obivairous extravarant thrown off his own sushes, and now tode to the battle with no armor but his cuirass. A the second charge his horse was shot under him, but, mounting another, he was seen everywhere in the thick of the fight, behav-ing himself with a gallantry which exhorted admiration eyen from the enemy.

From the battle was a series of personal encounters, in which high officers were doing the work of private soldiers. Lord North who had been lying "bed rid" with a masket shot in the leg, had got himself put on horse-back, and "with one boot on and one boot off." bore himself "most lustily" through the whole affair. "I desire that her majesty may know," he said, "that I lite but to serve her. A better barony than I have could not hire the Lord North to live on meaner terms. Sir Wm. Russell laid about him with his ourtel axe to such purpose that the span-iards pronounced him a devil and not a man. "Wherever," said an eye witness. "he saw five or six of the enemy together, thither would he; and with his hard knocks soon separated their friendship."

Lord Willoughby encountered George Grescia, general of the famed Albanian cav-

"I yield me thy prisoner," called out the Espirote in French, "for thou art a preux cavalier"—while Willoughby, trusting to his capture's word, galloped onward and with him the rest of the little troop, until they seemed swallowed up by the superior numbers of the enemy. His horse was shot under him, his beases were torn from his legs, and he was nearly taken torn from his legs, and he was nearly taken a prisoner, but fought his way back with incredible strength and good fortune. Sir William Stanley's horse had seven bullets in him, but bore his rider unburt to the end of the battle. Leleester declared Sir William and old Reade" to be "worth their weight in

He then pledged his dying comrade in a draught, and was soon afterwards met by his uncle. "Oh, Phillip," cried Leicester, in spair, "I am truly grieved to see thee in is plight." But Sidney comforted him th manly words, and assured him that death sweet in the cause of queen and country. He describes the military preparations of the Confederacy as of great magnitude, and very skillfully made.

What Col. Lamon reports is nothing new. Since the experiment of the Star of the West, there has been no doubt entertained by any one that Sumpter could not be reenforced without serious collision-indeed without serious loss of life. But this made no difference, with the Republican editors, so long as Buchanan was President. "Cost what it may," said they, "the Fort must be sustained." "Duty, honor, every consideration, requires this at the hands of the government." Yet, scarcely had the Government been ten days in their hands befere they began to take the back track, and finally came to the conclusion it was best the Fort should be evacuated. Late advices from China intimate that as the Taeping or rebel forces in China were now, in all probability the dominant power in the Empire-since the defeat of the Im perialists at Pekin-policy might dictate a recognition by foreign powers, of a new dynasty. What view England might take of this proposition, became therefore, a subject of some interest. An opportunity occurred in the British Parliament, a few days ago. for an expression of views, when, one of the members said England could not afford to engage in war with a party that held six of the finest provinces in China, and had three armies of 100,000 men each. Lord John

Russell said, in reply: "With regard to our policy, the only course we can take, is that of perfect neutrality, at the same time not al lowing the towns where our merchants are congregated to be destroyed, simply because some persons in this country have a false notion that they are a national party, that they ought to support them."

He pronounced the Taeping party no better than idolaters ; their doctrine was really a blasphemous parody on Christianity. The language is explicit enough to settle the question for the present.

TENTH DISTRICT.

This Senate District, we think, has given a larger Democratic majority than any other in the State. There is a Democratic gain in every town in the District except Stratford. and that is the same as last year. The majority, this year, according to our figures. is nati, the entire Democratic Union Ticket 606; last year it was 399-being a gain

LITCHFIELD COUNTY.

We have the reported majorities in only seven towns of this county, viz : Litchfield. Morris, Winchester, Watertown, Torrington New Hartford, and Bridgewater. In five of these towns the vote shows a Democratic gain on the Governor vote of last year.

JUDGE OF PROBATE. We do not give the figures to-day on Judge of Probate in this District. Mr. Gould's majority in this town is 290. All the other towns in the District have given Democratic majorities. Probably his majority in the District will be not less than 375.

The Democrats in this old town elect a Representative this year, for the first time in twenty-four years. They have several times come within a few votes of a majority—but this year they made it a sure thing. We congratulate our Democratic friends in the town on their gratifying achievement.

Perhaps you may be willing to publish very plain and practical article about dip theria, the disease now prevalent both in the eountry and in Boston. I shall not stop to give a literal definition of the word, nor to tell the history of the disease. Let me say at the outset, that it is epidemic and not con tagious; that is, it travels slowly in the air. and any person breathing the air of a neighborhood in which it has appeared, is liable to an attack, be he young or old, healthy or invalid; whether he lives on a gravel hill, or in a damp valley, provided he has a predispo-sition to take it. Whether he has this predisposition or not, time can alone determine. No one can predict of another that he will be attacked. We understand nothing of the laws of this epidemic. It undoubtedly has fixed and determined laws, and we may yet know what they are. It is not contagious. disease, the remaining members are not in United States Senator, Secretary, of State, more danger of taking it. If you watch Vice President and President. with your sick neighbor, you are scarcely in not to visit and help the sick in any way. In the country, I have known the owner of a horse refuse to allow the animal to go to the funeral of a neighbor, lest the beast should bring the disease home.

When diptheria attacks a neighborhood, it sometimes slays one or two persons, then stops, and every one says "it's gone;" but soon it returns and demands new victims. Ask a friend to step toward the light with you, and open his mouth widely. Toward the fleshy curtain that stretches to the teeth on both sides. The little dangling piece is the uvula, the thin curtain is the soft palate Just beyond the palate you see two rounded bodies of flesh, one on each side. These are the tonsils. Besides these, you see the back of the throat. Now, for a description of

First Case.—A person complains of being cold and shivering. Next his head aches violently; he vomits, is continually sick at the stomach; his throat is sore, hurts him a little to swallow, is hawking to get up some thick, stringy mucus that plagues him. Perhaps he was faint before he vomited. Look in his throat. You see the little dangling Morell, an Episcopal clergyman, who visited uvula is swollen, dark red in color, and long. The thin fleshy curtain is dark red, sprinkled with bright red spots. The tonsils are greatly swollen. They are dark red, almost purple, and upon them large dirty white spots. It is diptheria of a malignant kind, and the person will probably die very speedily.

Second Case.—A person mentions, accidentally, that his throat is sore; he has been a little cold; his head ached a little, but he is better now. Look in his throat. The avula is a little inflamed; the palate red. not purple; the tonsils not much, if at all swollen, but upon them a cap of dirty white, or a few scattered spots of the same. It is diptheria, and under good treatment the patient will probably get well, if a grown upperson of naturally good health. If a child, there is much danger that the white membrane will grow thicker and spread to the nostrils and windpipe, and stop the breath.

The prospect for a bountiful wheat crop was never better in Tennesse at the present season. We hear good accounts of the growing crop in every direction. In Kentucky the wheat crop is also prumising.

An inhuman wretch near Salem, Ind., deliberately plotted to burn his wife to death, employing his own son, a small boy, to assist . He set his fence on fire, and then sent the little boy to the house after his (the boy's) mother, to come and put the fire out, while he (the father) secreted himself in the woods near by, telling the boy before this, that while his mother was engaged in extinguishing the fire, he must approach her from behind and set her clothes on fire, which he did, and before she was aware, her garments were in blaze, burning them entirely off. and, of course, burning her to death.

New York, August 1, 1892.—This is to certify that I have been subject at times to severe headache; sometimes the pain would be as severe I could rest neither day or might. Hearing of Da. INTERESTING STATISTICS.—The first Bible printed in America was published in 1563. It was the famous Indian Bible of the apostle John Elliot. Printing the English version of the Scriptures was prohibited by law, there being a monopoly privilege in England. Although fifteen hundred copies and open his mouth widely. Toward the back of the mouth you see a little piece of flesh danging down from the middle of a thin flesh courts to that settle on the testle or the testle o tongue has become extinct.

The first book printed in the United States was the Bay Psalm Book, in 1640. It passed through many editions here, and was reprinted in England in eighteen editions, the last one being published in 1745. In Scotland it passed through twenty-two editions. The last one appeared in 1759. It thus appears that the first work printed in America enjoyed a lasting reputation, and had a wider cir-culation abroad, than any volume which has since appeared. We believe it passed through seventy in all.

The first poem written on these shores was in Latin hexemeter verse, by Rev. William Plymouth colony in 1723. The earliest poet in New England was Mrs. Bradstreet, the wife of Governor Bradstreet, and the daughter of Governor Cudley. She was called the "mirror of her age and glory of her sex."-She was known as a writer in 1632. Her father and sister also wrote respectable verse.

The first newspaper in North America was the News Letter, commenced April 24th, 1704 by John Campbell, Esq. It was published regularly for seventy-two years, and discontinued in 1776. The second American news-

OAT STRAW FOR Horses. - Perhaps some of our rural friends have observed that sick horses will eat out straw in preference to any kind of fodder; as a matter of course re are some exceptions. The reason is that oat atraw contains a large proportion of nutrimental matter and some phosphates, and when converted into a sort of bran by neans of mill-stones, is very nourishing diet. This sort of ailment is useful when combined with ground oats, for animals whose systems lack the requisite amount of phosphates.

NANCER CURED WITHOUT PAIN AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE.—
have devoted many years of time and close investigs ion to the cure of Cancers, and have at last an unmistakable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scroflas. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and to certain am I of my ability to do what I promise, that in all asses where I undertake a cure, I do not nesitate to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANCERS CAN BE GURED.

AND THAT I CAN CURE YOU.

Plenty of references to those of the new company each order, or no notice will be taken of it. White Swelings, Hip Diseases, Birth Marks, Scrofulous and Malignant Ulcers, Diseases of the Mouth and Throat, Ulceration of the Bones, Tetter, Scald Head, and all Diseases of the Skin, PERMANENTLY CURED.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—About two years ago, a spot made its appearance upon my nose, which, though at first I though title of it, soon proved to be that dreaded disease, called Cancer. Dreading to have it cur out, and also having little confidence in the knife treatment, it had been growing from one and a Half to two years, when soeing the advertisement of DR. N. BAECOCK, of this city, and a so hearing him spoken of as being skillful in the removal of Gaucers by means of plasters, and that, too, without pain, I] at myself under his care, and in a few days learned by expeinence the entire truth of what had been said of him. The Caucer came out, and the wound quickly healed over without difficuring my face. I am free to say, that the operation was entirely satisfactory, and that I feel myself entirely cured. I most cheerfully certify to the knowledge and skill of Dr. Bascock, in the treatment of my cancers, and for ecommend him to all such as may be afflicted with this dreadful disease.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE ..

OTHERS SAY OF IT. DISTINGUISHED ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN WRITES

ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN WRITES:

ST. LOUIS, July 10th, 1860.

O. J. WOOD, Esq::-Dear Sir.-Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your HAIR RESTORATIVE, after a trial of 5 years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time I have not been without a bottle on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued healthy, soft and glossy, and my scalp perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the facts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to you, or even flatter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known already, and even more wonderful ones throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in traveling the greater part of the time the past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my own case. In several instances have met with people that have pronounced it a humbug; saying they had used it and without effect. In every instance, however, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not used your sarticle at all, but had used some new article, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles myself advertised as above, which I have no doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputstion, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours, word for word in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have, within the past five years, seen and talked with mere than two thousand person scala nead, canarur, and every disease the scalp and nead are subject to.

I called to see you personally, at your original place of business here, but learned you were now living in New York. You are at liberty to publish this or to refer parties to me. Any communication addressed to me, care box No. 1,22, will be promptly answered. Yours truly JAS, WAITE, M. D.

WARREN SPRINGS, Perry Co., Penn., June 7, 1860.
PROF. WOOD—DEAR SIR:—I was induced more than a year ago to try your vaunable HAIR RESTORATIVE, for the purpose of cleansing my head of dandruf. I had suffered with it upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it, although I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gloss & Kunkle's drug store, and bought a bottle, and now am prepared to recommend it to universal use, for it has completely removed all dandruf from my head, and an application once in two weeks keeps it free from any itching or other tinpleasaniness. I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and, by the use of your praation, has been restored to its original color. I am now 50 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain, in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of less trouble to me, in keeping it clean, &c., than at any time since I was a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and, although I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duty to say so. You can use this or any part off it in any shape you think proper, if it is worth anything to you.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.. July 30, 1859.

DEAR SIR:—I hereby send you a statement that I think you are entitled to the benefit of. I am a resident of Bloomington, and have been for over thirty years. I am now over 50 years of age. For about twenty years past my hair has been turning considerably gray, and was almost entirely white, and very stiff and unpliant. I have seen a number of certificates of the very wonderfuleffect of your HAIR RESTORATIVE, but supposed there was more fiction than truth in them; but entertaining a strong desire to have my hair, if possibe, restored to its original color and fineness, as it was in my lyounger days a beautiful black, I concluded I would make the experiment commencing in a small way. I purchased one of your small bottles, at one dollar, and commenced using, following directions as nearly as I could. It soon discovered the dandruff removed, and my hair, that menced using. following directions as nearly as I could. I soon discovered the dandruff removed, and my hair, that was failing off in large quantities, was considerably tightened, and a radical change taking place in the color. I have continued to use it till I have used three of your small bottle and just begun on the fourth. I have now as pretty a head of dark brown, or light black hair as any man, or as I had in my youthful days, when a boy in the hills of western Vigims. My head is entirely clear of dandruff, and the ha s ceased entirely falling off and is as soft and fine, and feels arcelled and the sum of the soft of the sort of the soft of a french champooer. Many of my acquaintances frequently say to me, "Butler, where did you get that fine wig?" I tell them it was the effects of your Restorative. It is almost impossible to convince them that it is the original hair of the same old WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We are not in the habit of puffing every new discovery, for in nine cases of ten they are quack noatrums, but we take great pleasure in recommending Professor Wood's stricle to all whose hat is falling off or turning gray. Our well-known contributor, finley Johnson, Esq., has experienced the benefit of its application, and joins with us in speaking of ita-virtues. Let all try it and bald heads will be as rare as snow in summer — Ballismore Patriot.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. - Unlike most spe WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. Unlike most specific this is proved, by unimpeachable evidence, to possess greefficacy as a restorer of the hair to its prestine vigor. When the head has become almost bald because of sickness tuse of this article has produced a beautiful growth of the glosav hair. It is therefore a valuable preparation for a classes. Its ingredients are such as to effectually eradical dandruff and other impurities which operate so faintfous to the hair. It also has curative properties of another disfigurement of the skin disappear wherever it is used. There is no ha ard attaching to the trial of this remedy, and its effects couly be beneficial, as the compound, if it does not cause manifest improvement, is incapable of doing harm, as is component elements are perfectly innocuous.—Bozton Trascript, April 22, 1859.

A GENUINE BOON.—In our capacity as conductor of a public journal, we are called upon to advertise the curealls of the day, each of which claims to be unadulterated in its composition and infallible in its curative effects, with what justice we leave our readers to determine. In one instance, however,—Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative—we are so well assured of the notable qualities of the article, that we give it our endorsement as all that its inventor and vender claims it to be. Its effect upon a falling head of har is universally known to be magical. Like lime or guano on exhausted land, it brings the crop wherever applied. Our own thatch is fortunately healthy, but we advise our friends with sparsely-growing hair to try the Restorative.— Columbia Spy

ALL HAIR DYES ABANDONED—WOOD'S GREAT ARTICLE
HAS TAKEN THE FIELD.—Professor Wood stands on an eminence no chemist, whose attention has been turned to inventing a hair tonk has ever before reached. His fame is sudden but world-wide, and thousands who have worn wigs or been bald for years, are now, through the use of this preparation, wearing their own natural and luxuriant head covering. So much for chemistry, the chemistry of human life, and the laws which apply to the functions of the system.

Prof. Wood studied out the human hair, its character, its properties, its diseases, and how to restore the decaying vitality of that ornament; he saw, as in his own case, that gray hair is unnatural unless the age of the individual had reached four score, and he believed that the hair could be naturally revitalized. He tried his own case—almost bald and quite gray at the age of thirty-saven, he restored his own hair in color, strength and luxuriance, and the article he did it with he gave to the world. DRAFTS ON THE BANK OF HEALTH.—" All our excesses," says a great writer,
" are so many drafts on the bank of health, accepted and made payable some ten, fineen or twenty years after date." So with our impredences, our cuipable neglect of nature's laws, all have to be paid in after years of sufferings.
