PREJUDICES. Every one is forward to complain of the prejudices that mislead other men, as if he were free and had none of his own. It is agreed that this is a great fault and a hinder-For this fault there is no other cure than that every one should let alone other's preudices and examine his own. He say to himself, if others will not deal fairly with their own merits, does that make my errors truth? He that is strongly of any opinion must suppose that his persuasion is built upon good grounds, and that his assent is no greater than what the evidence of the truth he holds forces him to, and that they are arguments and not fancy that make him so confident in his opinions. Now, after all his professions, if he cannot bear any opposition to his his opinion; if he can much as give a patient hearing, much less examine and weigh the argument on the other side, it is most plain that it is prejudice which governs him. In order to get rid of this undesirable quality, (namely, prejudice,) one must not, in the first place, wish any one must not, in the first place, wish any opinion to be true until he knows it to be so; in the second place, he must try whether his principles are true or not, and how far he may safely rel7 upon them. Then, if he ar-rives at a conclusion which is satisfactory to his conscience, he may safely say that he is not governed by prejudice.

We have great occasion for expressing our indebtedness to a generous public for that very extensive patronage which has been be-stowed upon us in our exhibitions for the past four years. vice of our friends.

By reference to our programme it will appear that our price for admission is the same as on previous occasions. We have always desired to reduce this at least one half, so as to place our entertainment within the reach of all—but our expenses are great, and when paid the sum left for other purposes is comparatively small. Last spring we had about $100, and this was expended in procuring a partial set of Philosophical apparatus. We think the payment of a small admission fee cannot be regarded as a serious objection. cannot be regarded as a serious objection, since whatever remains after paying expenses is invested for the benefit of the school, thus obviating the necessity of demands upor District Treasury for Library Books, A ratus, &c., and articles of school-room u have a fine mare, which, three-years ago, became very lame from a bone spavin on the inside of the left hind leg. After pretty hard driving for several days, she became so lame that she was unfit for use. The spavin was very tender, and she rested the foot constantly on the toe when ahe stood. I took her to the blacksmith and directed him to put on a shee without any toe cort and its on a shoe without any toe cork, and with blunt heel corks two inches long. She im-mediately travelled much better, and when she stood, rested the foot on the toe and heel corks, thus relieving the contracted cord heel corks, thus relieving the contract from the strain to which had been co subjected. In a short time the inflammatic and tenderness subsided. The swelling abated, and she travelled very well. Si wore off the inside cork faster than the outlide one when she became the country of the same than the outlide one when she became the same than the outlide one when she have the same than the outlide one when she have the same than the outlide one when she have the same than the outlide one when she have the same than the outliness than the same than the side one, when she began to be lame agr I then had the shoe reset and the corks m of the same length, and she soon became w After a few weeks I had the cork shortene little, and the next time she was shod, a little more, but I still have her wear heel corks an inch or more in length. There is a slight enlargement of the bone where the spavin is seated, but she performs hard service, and is not at all lame. Several of my neighbors have applied the service. my neighbors have applied the same remedy, with equally good results, and I think that a little thought and observation will satisfy any one that this is the appropriate remedy. The cords attached to the part where the enlargement is seated, became inflamed contractlargement is seated, became inflamed contracted, and raise up the heel from the ground. When the horse brings the heel to the ground the cords are strained, and become irritated and inflamed. The long corks keep the heel raised permanently, and thus prevent the cords from being strained, and allow the the cords from being strained, and allow the target well. Some apparament the cords from being strained, and above infiammation to get well. Some enlargement and a slight degree of stiffness may remain, but seldom enough to affect the gait. I consider the discovery of so much importance, that I wish the owners of horses to know it, as I believe that many horses that are now as I believe that many horses that are now considered of little value may by this simple means be restored to a serviceable condition. -Cor. I hope your friends in every town in both Fairfield and Litchfield counties will at once take this matter in hand, and not only uphold by substantial support the old Farmer in the right and fearless position it has taken, but also show the Republican Proscribing Committee of fifty that the old Bridgeport Farmer is not an institution that can be crushed out or forced to knuckle and lickspittle to Republicanism to get patronage enough to live upon.

NEWTOWN, April 23, 1861. MESSRS. POMEROY & MORSE:

GENTLEMEN :- I am informed that there i an effort being made by the Republican party of Bridgeport, to crush out the old Farmer by withdrawing their patronage from it, because it has taken a fearless position in the present crisis. The position you have was one of the original thirteen States, and taken is the right one, and I consider it the bounden duty of every true Democrat at cnce to show his colors and support you in it. This muzzling the press-this brow-beating freedom of speech-are things that the Democracy of Fairfield County should immediately set their face against, and rise in their might to put down.

> To prove that I mean what I say in res of your paper, both daily and weekfacturing, mercantile, hotel, or professional business of any kind, will at once send you an advertisement for your columns—if they have not one there already. This proscription for opinion's sake ought not to be tole rated one minute, and I hope it will not be. also wish you would publish in your columns, as soon as convenient, a list of the names of the Bridgeport Republican Proscribing Committee, and a list also of the merchants who have withdrawn their patronage from you. Latest accounts from Washington repor that on Sunday there was in the neighborhood of the city a Southern Confederacy army of six thousand men. Great excitement prevailed, all sorts of rumors were afloat, and wonen and children were being sent away from the city. A mail from Washington, which left there on Monday, came through to Philadelphia on Tuesday, by way of Baltimore. The Government had been strengthening and throwing up defences around the Capitol and all the public buildings, and every precautionary measure possible was being taken. Nothing positive was known as to the Southern Confederacy forces supposed to be in the neighborhood, but an early attack on the capital was apprehended.

The last arrivals from Baltimore report that martial law has been proclaimed in that city. All the places of amusement, the saloons, &c., were closed. Scouts had been sent out in every direction to guard the approaches to the city, and, to give warning in ase of the advance of any Northern troops. Terror seems to reign supreme. The roads eading from the city northward are described as being crowed with carriages and wagons filled with those who are hastening to escape. A mail was sent north from Baltimore on Monday, being conveyed to the the guilty party. Susquehanna river on wagons.

A letter from Washington dated April 20 states that all Virginia is in arms, and hostile movements against public preperty within the State have been commenced. North Carolina will be soon revolutionized by the spontaneous action of the people. The submission of the Virginia ordinance of secession to the people of that State will be a mere matter of form. It will be accepted by acclamation, even with more taxes and privations. Maryland cannot long be restrained from following the lead of Virginia. Kentucky and Tennessee, the chief military State of the South, will heartily sustain Vir ginia and Maryland. We shall have in all those States, as we already have in some of them, acts of wild disorder and anarchy .-Either mob law or military law must soon prevail in this region of country.

A number of revolutionists left Cynthiana, Ky., April 22, to join the Southern Confederacy army. When the train arrived at Frankfort, Ky., they were ordered to show their flag, which they did by displaying a secession flag from the window of the cars. Several stones were thrown at it. when the Lieutenant of the company fired ously. They finally got off with but little by insurance. onal injury. Great excitement prevailed during the remainder of the day, and threats were made to tear up the railroad track. DR. B. BRANDRETH—DEAR Siz—in the spring of 1823 I had the misfortune to break my thigh, in consequence of which my constitution became greatly debilitated, and I suffered with great costiveness, attended with dizziness and severe pain in the head and aide and oppression of the heart. I was attended by several physicians of this city for three years without obtaining relief, and had despared of a cure till fanally i was induced to try your Fills, which almost instantly relieved me, and in a short time completely restored my health. I consider them the best medicine in the world. Yours truly,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—About two years ago, a spot made its appearance upon my nose, which, though at first I hough tittle of it, soon proved to be that dreaded disease, called Cancer. Dreading to have it cur out, and a two having little confidence in the knife treatment, it had been growing from ore ANDA HALF to two years, when see up the advertisement of DR. N. BARCCK, of this city, and n so hearing him spoken of as being skillfull in the removal of G. ocrs by means of plasters, and that, too, without pain, i, it myself under his care, and in a few days learned by expelence the entire truth of what had been said of him. The Celecter came out, and the wound quickly healed over without disquring my face. I am free to say, that the operation was entirely satisfactory, and that I feel myself entirely cured. In most cheerfully certify to the knowledge and skill of Dr. Bascock, in the treatment of my ancers, and do recommend him to all such as may be afflicted with this dreadful disease.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR is a genuine medicine of real merit, pleasant to the taste, and invigorating to the system. While it purifies the blood and soothes the nervous irritation, it aids the organs of digestion to perform their functions, and resist the assault of disease. It is a chemical commond and

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL.—It is recorded in the classics that Psyche was once sent to a climate warmer than the West Indies to procure a sample of the beauty of Froserpine in a box. After some delay the measuring froserpine in a box. After some delay the measuring froserpine in a box. After some delay the measuring the sent of the box was removed, out flew all the life that flesh is heir to. Fotunately, hope was found in the bottom of the box. PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL revives the recollection of the story, for it invigorates the blood, aids the organs of digestion, imparts strength to the nervous system, and fortifies the citadel of health, so as to bid defiance to the assaults of disease. It is a healthy tonic, composed entirely of vegetable productions, and while it is exhilarating as pure wine, no injurious results can possibly follow its use. It is a decided in the medical world, and those who are afflicted with Loss of Appetite, Dysopeais. Consumption, Fainness, Gliddiness, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, &c., &c., will here find an infallible panacea.—St. Lowis Daily Express.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR, for the cure of General Debility or Weakness, arising from any cause; slae, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Night Sweats, Incipient Consumption, Liver Compisints, Billousness, Loss of Appetite, Formale Weakness in all its stages; also to prevent the contraction of disease, is certainly the best and most agreeable cordial tonic and renovator ever offered to the afficted, and so chemically combined as to be the most powerful tonic ever known to medical science. Reader, ty i. It will do you good. We have no hesitation in recommending it, since we know it to befa safe, pleasant, and sure remedy for the diseases enumerated.
