INTERESTING CORRESP

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Boston, April 25, 1861. GENERAL—I have received the detai ling the proceedings at the time of your arrival of that port ur hour when Major Ames left you to re Philadelphia. I wish to repeat the action satisfaction with the action rightly junderstand the terographs. I think that your action in Gov. Hicks the assistance of our Mar setts troops to suppress a thi yland, was un modify my opinion concerning that per instance; but in general I think the matter of service insurrection as oint of view, and is to be co in which such outbreaks are to be es abould depend entirely upon the dialoyalty of the community in w occur, and in the vicinity, of Annap

DEPARTMENT OF ARRAPS HEAD QUARTERS, Annapolia, May 9, 1861. To his Excellency, John A. Andrew, Govern

and Commander in-Chief: SIR—I have delayed replying to Excellency's dispatch of April the S my other dispatches, because as it is only disapprobation of an act done, o interest of the country couthe delay; and increase seent moment, has prevented my consideration to the topic. Tempers, which forbids bodily activity, now a moment's pause.

The telegraph, with more accuracy, had rightly informed lency that I had offered the cor Massachusetts troops under my aid the authorities of Maryland in a threatened slave ins as your Excellency does in your that I was carrying on military open an enemy's country, when a war Pow was to be waged, my act might be a of discussion. And in that view, act the light of the Baltimore murders apparently hostile position of Mary Excellency might, without mature tion expressed in your dispetch. But facts, especially as now aided by their result will justify my act, and reinstate me in your Excellency's good opinion. zoellency's good opinion.

True, I landed on the soil of Maryle

True, I landed on the soil of Marylas against the formal protest of its Governor, as of the corporate authorities of Annapolis, by without any armed opposition on their passes assembled in riotous contempt of the laws this State. Before, by letter, and at time of landing, by personal interview, I informed Gov. Hicks that seldiers of the Union under my command, were armed only again the insurgents and disturbers of the peace Maryland and the United States. I receive from Gov. Hicks assurances of the leyal of the State to the Union, assurances whe subsequent events have fully justified. Ma or of Annapolis also informed as the city authorities would in no wise opposing, but that I was in great danger from the excited and riotous moba of Beltimore pouring excited and riotous mobs of Baltimore pour down upon me, and in numbers beyond control of his police. I assured both Governor and the Mayor that I had no for a Baltimore or other mob, and that a ported by the authorities of the State city, I should repress all hostile demonst tions against the laws of Maryland and i United States, and that I would protect be myself and the city of Amaspoles from a United States, and that I would protect be myself and the city of Anaspolis from a disorderly persons whatsever.

On the morning following my landing was informed that the city of Amapolis environs were in danger from an insention of the alave population, in defence environs were in danger from an inserted tion of the slave population, in defence the laws of the State. What was I to do I had promised to put down a white meb at to preserve and enferce the laws again hat. Ought I to allow a black can a preference in a breach of the laws I I was ermed against all infections of the laws, whether by whate or that and upon that understanding I acted, certainly with promptaces and efficiency.

Your Excellency's shadow of disapproxition, arising from a minumerstanding of the facts has caused all the regret I have had fathat action. The question seemed to me to be neither inilitary or political, and was not be neither inilitary or political, and was not be neither inilitary or political, and was not be neither inflictary or political, and was not one of good faith and honesty of purpose. The good but tink le coppe of Annay olis who had fled from their houses at our approach, immediately returned; business resumed its account on their houses at our approach, immediately returned; order prevailed in the city; confident the place of distrust, friendship of a brotherly kindness of sectional bate.

or a displacement of the second secon

But I am to act hereafter, it may be in an enemy's country, among a servile population when the question may arise as it has not erisen, as well in a moral and Christian, as in a political and military point of view. What shall I then do? Will your Excellency bear with me a moment while this question is dis-

I appreciate fully your Excellency's sugges ion as to the inherent weakness of the rebels, arising from the preponderance of their servile population. The question, then, is in what manner shall we take advantage of that

Would your Excellency advise the troops under my command to make war in person upon the defenceless women and children of the Union, accompanied with the brutalities too horrible to be named? You will say, "God forbid!" If we may not do so in person, shall we arm others so to do, over whom can have no restraint, exercise no control; and who, when once they have tasted blood, may turn the very arms we put in their hands against ourselves, as a part of the oppressing white race? The reading of history so familiar to your Excellency will tell you the bitterest cause of complaint which our fathers had against Great Britain in the war of the Revolution, was the arming by the British Ministry of the red man with the tomahawk and the scalping knife against the women and children of the colonies, so that the phrase "May we not use all the means which God and nature have put in our power to subjugate the colonies? passed into a legend of infamy against the leader of that Ministry who used it in Parliament. Shall history teach us in vain? Could we justify ourselves to ourselves ? Although with arms in our hands amid the savage wildness of camp and field, we may have plunted many of the finer moral sensibilities, in letting loose four millions of worse than savages upon the homes and hearths of the South, can we be justified to the Christian unity of Massachusetts? Would such a course be consonant with the teachings of our holy religion? I have a very decided opinion upon the subject, and if any one desires, as I know your Excellency does not, this manner, some instrument other than myself must be found to carry it on. I may ot discuss the political bearing of this topic. When I went from under the shadow of my roof I left politics behind me, to be resumed to the flag, and the potency of the Government through the ballot box is established.

Passing the moral and Christian view, let us examine the subject as a military question. Is not that State already subjugated which requires the bayonets of those armed in op-position to its rulers, to preserve it from the orrors of a servile war? As the least experienced of military men, I would have no doubt of the entire subjugation of a State brought to that condition. When, therefore ss I am better advised—any community in the United States who have met us in orable warfare, or even in the prosecution of a rebellious war in an honorable manner, shall call upon me for protection against the nameless horrors of a servile insurrection they shall have it, and from the moment that call is obeyed, I have no doubt we shall be friends and not enemies.

The possibilities that dishonorable means of be are to be taken by the rebels against the Government, I do not contemplate. If, as has been done in a single instance, my men are to be attacked by poison, or as in another, stricken down by the assassin's knife, and thus murdered, the community using such means may be required to be taught that it holds within its own border a more potent means for deadly purposes and indiscriminate slaughter then any district nate slaughter than any which it can administer to us.

Trusting that these views may meet your Excellency's approval, I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, BENJ. F. BUTLER.

WHAT ARE THEY?

"Here, where a love of order reigns, such sentiments as are to be daily found in the Farmer, are tolerated, but treated with the silent contempt they deserve. People who read them, consider where they come from, and pity or despise the writer."—Standard.

The Standard is quite careful not to particularize the sentiments published by the Farmer, that are so offensive to its delicate nose; but which, from a love of order, it treats with silent contempt. Being thus left inquire, What are the sentiments to which it refers? Were they those expressed in the extracts we copied from Messrs. Calhoun and Clay, predicting that the Union would be destroyed if the Abolitionists ever succeeded (as we know they did succeed in 1860, under the name of Republicans) in uniting the inhabitants of the Free States in a crusade against the Slave States? Or, Were they those expressed in the extract we copied from the Tribune Tract, saying that a dissolution of the Union would be as certain to result from the success of political Abolitionism, as any effect from a moral cause that can be reckoned on? Or, Were they those expressed in the extract we copied from the Standard, saying that it would be a NATIONAL MISthis unhappy contest to be prosecuted in FORTUNE if a man entertaining such sentiments as Francis Gillette, (then a Garrison fanatic; now the leader of Connecticut Republicanism;) could, by any possibility, obtain the office of Governor (not to say only when every part of the Union is loyal United States Senator,) in this State? Saving, also, that the effect at the South, in strengthening the hands of the secessionists and in discouraging the friends of Union,

WOULD BE MOST DISASTROUS? If the offensive sentiments were expressed in neither of these extracts, are they to be found in the following, which we copied from that chief of Republican organs, the New York Tribune, and re-publish again for the purpose of bringing them to the special notice of the Standard, and of those Republican gentlemen who make it their special business to "mark traitors." Read :

If the Cotton States consider the value of the Union debatable, we maintain their perfect right to discuss it. Nay, we hold with Jefferson to the inalienable right of communities to alter or abolish forms of government that have become oppressive or injurious; and if the Cotton States shall become satisfied that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to seede may be a revolutionary one, but it exists nevertheless; and we do not see how one party can have a right to do what another party has a right to prevent. We must ever resist the asserted right of any State to remain in the Union and nullify or defy the laws thereof; to withdraw from the Union is quite another matter. And whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in. We hope never to live in a republic whereof one section is planed to the residue by bayonets.—New York Tribune, Nov. 9. If the Cotton States consider the value of the Union de

NO. 2. If the Cotton States unitedly and earnestly wish to withdraw peacefally from the Union, we think they should and would be allowed to do so. Any attempt to compel them by force to remain, would be contrary to the principles enunciated in the immortal Declaration of Independence—contrary to the fundamental ideas on which Human Liberty is based.—Tribune, Nov. 26.

NO. 3. What we have affirmed, and still maintain, is to a PEOPLE to frame and modify their political tions in accordance with their own convictions of duty and policy, as affirmed in the immortal Declaration of American Independence. If our correspondent has anything to say in confutation of that doctrine, we shall appy to hear him .- Tribune, Dec: 10.

If the people of seven or eight contiguous States shall pretty unanimously resolve to secede and set up for themselves, we think they would do so, and that it would be most unwise to undertake to resist such secession by Federal force. Why is it that those who want to confute this doctrine, always make their attack on something else?—Tribune, Dec. 10.

NO. 5. NO. 5.

NO. 5.

We have repeatedly asked those who dissent from our view of this matter, to tell us frankly whether they do or do not assent to Mr. Jetterson's statement in the Declaration of Independence, that governments "Accelerations of the control o ndependence, that governments "derive their ers from THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERN just powers from THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERN-ED"; and that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, IT IS THE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE TO ALTER OR ABOLISH IT, and to institute a new government, &c., &c. We DO heartily accept this doctrine, believing it intrinsically sound, beneficent, and one that, universally accepted, is calculated to prevent the shedding of seas of human blood. And, if it justified the secession from the British Empire of Three Millions he shedding of seas of numer should be secession from the British Empire of Three Millions of colonists in 1776, we do not see why it would not ustify the secession of Five Millions of Southrons from the Federal Union in 1861. If we are mistaken on this point, why does not some one attempt to show wherein and why? For our own part, while we deny the right of slaveholders to hold slaves against the will of the latter, we cannot see how Twenty Millions of people can rightfully hold Ten or even Five Millions in a detested Union with them by military torce.—Tribune, Dec. 17.

NO. 6.

There is hardly a great principle which may not be thus "run in the ground." But if seven or eight contiguous States shall present themselves authentically at Washington, saying, "We hate the Federal Union; we have withdrawn from it; we give you the choice between acquicacing in our secession and arranging amicably all incidental questions on the one hand, and attempting to subdue us on the other"—we could not stand up for co-crcion, for subjugation, for we do not think it would be just. We hold the right of Self-Government sacred, even when invoked in behalf of those who deny it to others.—

Tribune, Bec. 17.

If over "seven or eight States" send agents to Washington to say, "We want to get out of the Union," we shall feel constrained by our devotion to Human Liberty, to say, Let them go! And we do not see how we could take the other side without coming in direct conflict with those Rights of Man which we hold paramount to all political arrangements, however convenient and

Finally.-If the offensive sentiments are not expressed in any of these extracts, may they not be found in the following :they not be found in the following:

Any people anywhere, being inclined and having the power, have a most rise up and shake off the existing government, and form a new one that suits them better. This is a most valuable, a most sacred right—a right which, we hope and believe, is to liberate the world. Nor is this right confined to cases where the whole people of an existing government may choose to exercise it. Any portion of such people that can, may revolutionize, and make their own of so much of the territory as they inhabit. More than this, a majority of any such people may revolutionize, putting down a minority, intermingled with, or near about them, who may oppose their movements. It is a quality of revolution not to go by old lines or old laws; but to break up both, and make new once.—Abraham Lincoln, Jan. 12, 1848.

Lastly — If the offensive sentiments are

Lastly.-If the offensive sentiments are not expressed in this extract from "Honest Old Abe" how about the following :-

"I have NOT HESITATED to SAY, and I REPEAT "I have NOT HESITATED to SAY, and I REPEAT, that if the Northern States refuse, wilfully and deliberately, to carry into effect that part of the Constitution which respects the restoration of fugitive slaves, and Congress provide no remedy, the South would no longer be bound to observe the compact. A bargain cannot be broken on one side, and still be binding on the other side.—Daniel Webster.

NEW YORK, September 15, 1852.

This is to certify that my child, three years old, was troubled with worms some six months. I had tried several kinds of medicine but none of them done any good; and it was not until I tried Dz. M'LLNE'S CELERATED VERMIFUES, prepared by 'FLEMING BROS., that she found any relief. I gave her the contents of one bottle, which brought from her a very large quantity of worms, but they were so completely restored to health. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to parents. I would say, by all means keep a supply of this valuable medicine constantly in your houses. I have known many children to die suddenly from the effects of worms. It also not unfrequently happens that children are treated for croup, when the choking and coughing is caused altogether, by the irritation of worms. Therefore, I say again, keep it always in the house; it costs but little, and may be the means of saving life; and at any rate it will save physicians' bills.

CONSUMPTIVES.

An equal and normal circulation of the blood is health an abnormal, that is to say, an excessive or deficient circulation or stagnation of the blood, is disease. To illustrate-torpidity of the Liver is caused by stagnation of the blood in that organ; diseases of the Kidneys, inflammation of the Lungs, Disease, of the Heart, &c., by the same cause, vis:—improper Circulation; and from the same cause spring all imnor forms of diseases. To discover a certain cure them, for these diseases, the first great enquiry necessary is, What causes the blood to circulate? For centuries it has been a matter of much study among scientific and medical men; and while many experiments have been made and much labor expended upon the enquiry, it has been left to this century among its other wonderful increase in knowledge, to make this grand discovery, also. Acknowledging that life is the gift of in Creator, and that "in Him we live and move as a leave ou being," we still vecture the remark, that as the Oxygen brought in contact with a metal, evolves or emits electricity. Silver in contact with a muscular fiber, causes it to contract.

These facts being indisputable, we have now the solution as to the motor or motive power of the heart. The oxygen in the air we breathe coming in contact with the from in the red corpuscles of the blood endis electricity, which coming in contact with the heart causes it to contract, and houses the power which expels the blood and sends it tingling through the remotest arteries. What then, are the causes of GON SUMPTION, DROPSY, PALSY, FARALYSIS, ST. VITUI DANCE, DISPERSIA, EFILERSY, FEVER, AND AGUI DANCE, DISPERSIA, EFILERSY, FEVER, AND AGUI Co. It is precisely what its name indicates; for, while pleasant to the teate, it is revivifying, exhilirating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates, and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all.

So chemically and skilifully combinined as to be the most powerful tone, and yet so perfectly adapted so as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. Read what the Press say after thoroughly testing the matr, and no one can have a doubt:

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR is a genuine medicine of real merit, pleasant to the taste, and invigorating to the system. While it purifies the blood and soothes the nervous irritation, it aids the organs of digestion to perform their functions, and resist the assault of disease. It is a chemical compound so skillfully combined that while it exhilarates, it does not provoke the lassitude which usually follows excitement. A tonic composed exclusively of vegetable matter, it is absolutely beneficial, and no ill effects can possibly accompany its use. It is an infallible and speedy remedy for Loss of Appetite. Faintness, Nersvou Debility, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Falling of the Womb, and other delicate diseases to which woman is subject. For Sickness of the Stomach, Billous Attack, Liver Complaints, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Consumption, and Nost of evils fiesh is heir to, it is a certain cure.—St. Loui: Morning Herald.

Pitof. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL.—It is recorded in the classics that Payche was once sent to a climate warmer than the West Indies to procure a sample of the beauty of Proserpine in a box. After some delay the messenger returned, and as soon as the lid of the box was removed, out flew all the lils that flesh is heir to. For innately, hope was found in the bottom of the box. PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL revives the recollection of the story, for it invigorates the blood, alds the organs of digestion, imparts strength to the nervous system, and fortifies the citadelo in health, so as to bid defance to the assaults of disease. It is a healthy tonic, composed entirely of vegetable productions, and while it is exhibitating as pure wine, no injurious results can possibly follow its use. It is a desideratum in the medical world, and those who are afflicted with Loss of Appetite, Dysapepsis, Consumption, Faintness, Giddiness, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, &c., &c., will here find an infallible panacea.—St. Louis Daily Express.

A PURE HEALTHY TONIC, and one free from the deleterious and injurious effects sure to follow those in ordinary use, has long been felt to be a deaderatum in the medical world. Such a tonic, and one so shiffully combined from the vogetable kingdom as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of a sture, and thus soothe the weakest somuch, and at the same time allay nervous and other irritations, and tone up sli the organs of which the human body is composed, is offered in PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR. Hence it is perfectly adapted to old and young. Reader, try it. Thousands have aiready done so and the resilmony is universal in its favor.—New York Athis.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR, for the cure of General Debility or Weakness, arising from any cause; also, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Night Sweats, Incipient Consumption, Liver Complaints, Billousness, Loss of Appetite, Female Weakness in all its stages; also to prevent the contraction of disease, is certainly the best and most agreeable cordial tonic and renovator ever offered to the silicted, and so chemically combined as to be the most powerful tonic ever known to medical science. Reader, try it. It will do you good. We have no hesitation in recommending it, since we know it to bela safe, pleasant, and sure remedy for the diseases enumers'ed.

LOOK TO YOURSELF IN TIME.—How many in consequence of a false delicacy suffer from suppressed, painful, or obstracted menstruation, and think because they are young that bye-and-bye nature will work itself clear from obstractions, and all come right in the end, little dreaming that the seeds of death are already germinating in the system because the vital energies are impaired, and the entire animal economy deranged, debilitated; and yet, careless of themselves as they are, if a remedy were set beofre them which would restore all the functions of the system and re-invigorate the body, they would take it, and thus been in time to save their lives. Parents, think of this, and at once give them a bottle of FROF, WOOD'S RESTORAT IVECORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR.—The New York Courier.
