What spell has o'er the populous city passed?
The wonted current of its life is stayed:
Its sports, its gainful shrines are earthward cast,
As though their vileness were at once displayed:
The roar of trade has ceased, and on the air
Come holy songs, and solemn sounds of prayer. Far spreads the charm; from every hamlet spire
A note of rest and heavenward thought is pealed;
By his calm hearth reclines the peasant sire;
The toil-worn steed basks in the breezy field.
Within, without, through farm and cottage blest,
Tis one bright day of gladness and of rest.

Down from their mountain dwellings, whilst the dew Shines on the heath bells, and the fern is bending In the fresh breeze, in festive garbs I view Childhood and age, and buoyant youth descending. God I who hast piled thy wonders round their home, 'Tis in their love they to thy temple come.

A stately ship speeds o'er the mighty main— Ol many a league from our own happy land! Yet from its heart ascends the choral strain; For there its little isolated band, Amid the ocean desert's awful roar, Praise him whose love links shore to distant sho

O'er palmy woods where summer radiance falls, In the glad islands of the Indian main, What thronging crowds the missionary calls
To raise to heaven the Christian's glorious strain t
Lo! where engirt by children of the sun,
Stands the white man, and counts his victories won

In the fierce deserts of a distant zone
'Mid savage nations, terrible and stern,
A lonely atom severed from his own,
The traveller wends, death or renown to ears.
Parch'd fasting, wearied, verging to despair,
He kneels, he prays; hope kindles in his prayer.

O'er the wide world, bleat day, thine influence flies;
Rest o'er the sufferer spreads her balmly wings;
Love wakes, joy dawns, praise fills the listening skies.
The expanding heart from earth's excitement spring
Heaven for one day, withdrawn its ancient ban,
Unbars its gates and dwells once more with man.

THE CONFEDERATE STATES. Report of the Committee on Foreign At-fairs on President Davis' Message, relat-ing to the affairs between the Confederate and the United States.

[CONCLUDED.]

The power to coerce a State into obedience to the Federal authority was distinctly proposed in the Convention which framed the Constitution of the United States, to be a part of the Constitu and it was as distinctly rejected. Such a power was totally inconsistent with the whole theory of was totally inconsistent with the whole theory of the Constitution, which was, that the Constitution was a compact between the States. Give to the agent—the General Government—the power of construing the Constitution, and of enforcing its constructions upon the parties to the constitutional compact, and the parties to the compact would be superseded. The framers of the Constitution, when they rejected it, could not have misunderstood the purport of the proposition to confer on the when they rejected it could not have misunderstood the purport of the proposition to confer on the General Government the power to coerce a State. Yet, in the clear light of the principles involved, and the distinct refusal to grant this power, the Government of the United States claims that it exists, and calls out troops to enforce it. If their blinded avarice and lust for power had left them their usual discretion, they would have seen the absurdity of attempting to subdue the seceding States to their authority. They would have hastened to propose terms of friendly accommodation; and, if they had failed to save a union with us, they would have obtained such arrangement us, they would have obtained such arrang as might have made the South as valuable to as might have made the South as valuable to them as the United States proved to be to Great Britain after their separation. But they are as reckless of their own liberties as they are of ours, and support Executive in a usurpation of powers for which, in the purer days of their political existence, they would have executed him. For what crime can be greater than that of unconstitutionally and their contractions are constitutionally and their contractions. be greater than that of unconstitutionally producing war? Instead of rebuking the usurper, however, the people of the North seem to recognize in the President a correct exponent of themselves. If the Confederate States ever had any doubt as the necessity of a separation from the people of the North, that doubt would be removed by the recklessness with which they allow their own liberties to be trampled on. They appear to have no idea of free government. Those necessi-restraints on power—those nicely adjusted balances by which justice and liberty are secured in a free restraints on power—those nicely adjusted base by which justice and liberty are secured in a government—are not understood.

The future historian of the times in which live may be astonished at the long forbearance and patience of the people of the South, under the continual aggressions of the people of the North:

Looking aggressions of the people of the North: for on any principle creditable to their intelligence or patriotism. But a people are not always governed by motives of interests. There are traditionary opinions and attachments, which are often stronger in their influence that mere interest. An attachment to the Union of the Union State a sentiment, a passion with the people of the South, transmitted to them by their ancestors. The great hero and patriot of the Revolution of 76 was a Southerner. The Constitution of the United States was mainly the work of Southern Statesmen. All the Presidents of the United States, excepting All the Presidents of the United States, excepting five, were Southerners. In the cabinet and in the field the Union was the great theatre on which the genius of the South for command was displayed. It is not surprising, therefore, that the people of the South-should be slow to surrender a Union and Government rendered illustrious by their public men, and reflecting its glories on themselves. They loved the Union and could, with difficulty, realize that it bound them to their hitterest. realize that it bound them to their bitterest enemies. Aggressing on the North in no way—asking only the observance of the Constitution their fathers made with ours—conscious that the operation of the Government of the United States was to the advantage of the North—all the motives which usually actuate men would seem to render it most reasonable that the North would cease its senseless aggressions. Such was the reasonable hope and expectation of the people of the South after each successive contest, whilst their love for the Union dictated the sacrifices they made to preserve it. But delusions cannot prevail forever against facts. Slowly but surely the great fact was developed, that the North designed to use the Union to overthrow their liberties, and to make developed, that the North designed to use the Union to overthrow their liberties, and to make them tributaries. Their generous patience, their heroic love for the Union, was construed into fear; and presuming on their own imbecility, it is attempted to subject them by the sword. This attempt at subjection cannot succeed, and the Union between the North and the South is forever dissolved. Conscious of the justice of their cause, the Confederate States can fearlessly face the arbitratment of the sword. They accept the stern trial imposed upon them for the preservation of their liberties and institutions; and relying on Him who, alone, governs the destinies of nations, enter upon the high duties their condition involves.

The issuing of letters of marque and reprisal to privateershas been the usual practice of all nations at war with each other. An effort was made a few years since, by the chief European nations, to abolish this practice, by the consent of the civilized nations of the world. It was defeated by the government of the United States. They refused to surrender the right to employ the "militia of the seas" in any future conflict with other nations. They preserved it for themselves, and we presume for the rest of the world. They, at least, cannot object to privateers being employed against them in any war in which they may be engaged. Our late associates in the government of the United States have seized the whole of the United States navy, one-half of which belongs to us, and design using it against us. We have but one resource to meet the advantage they possess by this unjust seizure. We must meet them on the high seas by our privateers. This is our right, and it will be our duty to exercise it, so long as they wage war against us. If they observe the usages of civilized warfare, the Conso long as they wage war agains observe the usages of civilized wa federate States will not disregard their usages.

Your committee beg leave to report a bill recognizing the existence of war between the United States and the Confederate States, and concerning etters of marque, prizes and prize goods.

It is written in the Constitution of the United States that five slaves shall count equal to three freemen as a basis of representation; and it is written also, in VIOLA-TION OF DIVINE LAW, that we shall surrender the fugitive slave who takes refuge at our freede from his relentless pursuer. DR. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE

Fails.

New York, September 15, 1832.

This is to certify that my child, three years old, was troubled with worms some six months. I had tried several kinds of medicine but some of them done any good; and it was motuntil i tried Dr. Milne's cellengared versifiers, propared by Flemine Baos, that she found any relie! I gave her the contents of one bottle, which brought from her a very large quantity of worms, but they were so completely cut to pieces it was impossible to count them. My daughter is now doing well; indeed, she is completely restored to health. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to parents. I would say, by all means keep a supply of this valuable medicine constantly in your houses. I have shown many children to die suddenly from the effects of worms. It also not unfrequently happens that children are treated for aroup, when the choking and coupling is caused altogether, by the irritation of worms. Therefore, I say again, keep it always in the house; it costs but little, and may be the means of saving life; and at any rate it will save physician's bills.

An equal and normal circulation of the blood is health an abnormal, that is to say, an excessive or deficient circulation or stagnation of the blood. Is disease. To illustrate-torplity of the Liver is caused by stagnation of the blood in that organ; diseases of the Kidneya, Infammation of the Lungs, Disease of the Heart, &c., by the same cause, vis:—Improper Circulation; and from the same cause spring all minor forms of disease. To discover a certain cure then, for these diseases, the first great enquiry necessary is, what causes the blood to circulate? For centuries it has been a matter of much study among scientific and medical ment; and while many experiments have been made and much labor expended upon the enquiry, it has been left to this century among its other wonderful increase in knowledge, to make this grand discovery, also. Acknowledging that life is the gift of in Creator, and that "in Him we live and move and lave ou being," we still venture the remark, that as the planets move in their spherea, and all vegetable life is governed by certain absolute laws, so animal life is traceable to a fixed cause, which remove or destroy, and death, the certain effect, follows.

Analysis of the red corpuscies of the blood show them to be compounds of fron, sulphur and phosphorous.

DISTINGUISHED ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN WRITES

Warren Springs, Perry Co., Penn., June 7, 1860.

PROF. Wood—Dear Sir.:—I was induced more than a year ago to try your valuable HAIR RESTORATIVE, for the purpose of cleansing my head of danduff. I had suffered withit upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it, although I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gloss & Kunkle's Grug store, and bought a bottle, and now am prepared to recommend it to universal use, for it has completely remoyed all dandruf from my head, and an application once in wo weeks keeps it free from any litching or other unpleasan heas. I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and, by the use of your preparation, has been restored to its original color. I am now 50 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain, in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of less trouble to me, in keeping it clean, &c., than at any time since I was a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and, although I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duy to say so. You can use this or any part of it in any shape you think proper, if it is worth anything to you.

Yours, &c., H. H. ETTER.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We are not in the habit of puffing every new discovery, for in nine cases of ten they are quack nostrums, but we take great pleasure in recommending Professor Wood's article to all whose hair is falling off or turning gray. Our well-known contributor, Finley Johnson, Esq., has experienced the benefit of its application, and joins with us in speaking of its virtues. Let all try it and bald heads will be as rare as snow in summer — Bultimore Patriot.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Unlike most specifics, this is proved, by unimpeachable evidence, to possess great efficacy as a restorer of the hair to its prestine vigor. Where the head had became of sickness, the use of this article has produced a beautiful growth of thick, glossy hair. It is therefore a valuable preparation for all classes. Its Ingredients are such as to effectually eradicate dandruff and other impurities which operate so injuriously to the hair. It also has curative properties of another description. In many cases pimples and other disfigurements of the skin disappear wherever it is used. There is no hazard attaching to the trial of this remedy, and its effects can only be beneficial, as the compound, if it does not cause a manifest improvement, is incapable of doing harm, as its component elements are perfectly innocuous.— Boston Transcript, April 2, 1859.

A Genuine Boon.—In our capacity as conductor of a public journal, we are called upon to advertise the curealls of the day, each of which claims to be unadulterated in its composition and infallible in its curative effects, with what justice we leave our readers to determine. In one instance, however,—Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative—we are so well assured of the notable qualities of the article, that we give i our endorsement as all that its inventor and vender claims it obe. Its effect upon a falling head of harr is universally known to be magical. Like time or guano on exhausted land, it brings the crop wherever applied. Our own thatch is fortunately healthy, but we advise our friends with sparsely-growing hair to try the Restorative.— Columbia Spy

ANCER CURED WITHOUT PAIN

AND WITHOUT THE USE OF THE KNIFE.—
I have devoted many years of time and close investigation to the cure of Cancers, and have at last an unmistakable remedy for this most distressing and dangerous form of Scrofula. So successful have I been in my mode of treatment, and so certain am I of my ability to do what I promise, that in all cases where I undertake a cure, I do not hesitate to warrant that it shall be effected.

REMEMBER THAT YOUR CANCERS CAN BE CURED, AND THAT I CAN CURE YOU.

DEAR SIR:—I hereby send you a statement that I think you are entitled to the benefit of. I am a resident of Bloomington, and have been for over thirty years. I am now over 5¢ years of age. For about twenty years past my hair has been turning considerably gray, and was almost entirely white, and very stiff and unpliant. I have seen a number of certification of the very wonderful effect or your HAIR RESTORATIVE, but supposed there was more fection than truth in them; but entertaining a strong desire to have my hair, if possible, restored to its original color and faneness, as it was in my younger days a beautiful black, I concluded I would have the experiment commencing in a small way. I purchased one of your small bottles, at one dollar, and commenced using, following directions as nearly as I could. I soon discovered the dandruf removed, and my hair, that ened, and a radical change taking place in the color. I have and just beaun on the fourth. I have now as pretty a he and of dark brown, or light black hair as any man, or as I had is my youthful days, when a boy in the hills of western Virginia. My head is entirely clear of dandruff, and the hair cessed entirely falling off and is as soft and fine, and feel a rolly, as though it was just from the hands of a French champooer. Many of my acquaintances frequently say to me "Butler, where did you get that fine wig?" I tell them is only in the way in the hills of western Virginia. My head is entirely clear of dandruff, and the hair cessed entirely falling off and is as soft and fine, and feel a rolly, as though it was just from the hands of a French champoor. Many of my acquaintances frequently say to me "Butler, where did you get that fine wig?" I tell them is only in the more than the same old gray head. Yours truly, FRED. T. I seeding to have it cur out, and also having little confidence in the knife treatment, it had been growing from ONE AND A HALF to two years, when seeing the advertisement of Dr. N. BARCOCK, of this city, and a so hearing him spoken of as being skillful in the removal of Gracers by means of plasters, and that, too, without pain, I; it myself under this care, and in a few days learned by experience the entire truth of what had been said of him. The Caters is the state of the care ence the entire truth of what had been said of him. The Cater came out, and the wound quickly healed over without difiguring my face. I am free to say, that the operation was entrely satisfactory, and that I feel myself entirely cured. I most cheerfully certify to the knowledge and skill of Dr. Bater cock, in the treatment of my (ancers, and do recommend him to all such as may be afflicted with this dreadful disease. ST. LOUIS, July 10th, 1860.

O. J. WOOD, Esq:—Dear Sir:—Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your Halfs RESTORATIVE, after a trial of 5 years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time I have not been without a bottle on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time. third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued health, soft and glossy, and my scalp perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the facts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to you, or even faster your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known already, and even more wonderful ones throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in traveling the greater part of the time the past three year, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my own case. In several instances I have met with people that have pronounced it a humbug; saying they had used it and without effect. In every instance, however, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not used your article at all, but had used some new article, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles myself advertised as above, which I have no doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

GREAT CURE! DR. LELAND'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC BAND, IS THE ONLY KNOWN REMEDY FOR BREUMATISM. GOUT & NEURALGIA, AND A SURE CURE FOR

AII. MERCURIAL DISEASES.

It is a conveniently arranged Band, containing a medicated compound, to be worn around the waist, without injury to the most delicate persons: no change in habits of living is required, and it entirely removes the disease from the system, without producing the injurious effects arising from the use of powerful internal medicines which weaken and destroy the constitution, and give temporary relief only. By this treatment, the medicinal properties contained in the Band, come in contact with the blood and reaches the disease, threigh the pores of the skin, effecting in every instance a perfect cure, and restores the parts afficed to a healthy condition. This Band is all of a most powerful and Mercurial agent, and will entirely relieve the system from pernicious effects of Mercury. Moderate cases are carred in a few days, and we are constantly receiving testimonials of its efficacy in aggravated cases of long standing.
