ECLIPSES.

There were three last year.

1. An Annular Eclipse visible for nearly three hours at Hamilton Park and vicinity, June 1.
2. A partial Eclipse, visible for 50 cents, near Boston, June 8.
3. A total Eclipse at Springfield, July 23.

At the time of going to press the Eclipses for the coming year had not been selected.

N. B.—A large assortment of Eclipses kept constantly on hand, and for sale at wholesale and retail to our sister colleges, by the presidents of the base ball and boat clubs.

TABLEAUX VIVANT.

Freshman to fruiterer's clerk.—"How much are those oranges, sir?"

Fruiterer's clerk.—"Six cents apiece, or sixty cents a dozen."

Freshman, (after a moment's reflection.)—"Give me a twelfth of a dozen, if you please."

Boarding House Mistress (to Freshman boarder.)—"Mr. Spring-leaf, will you have apple or squash pie?"

Mr. Early Sringleaf, (who is VERY green.)—"Both, please."

A Sophomore has arrived before his room very early in the morning, and has already spent fifteen minutes in vainly trying to unlock the door, (loquitur solus.)—"Well, either thi's wrong key, or s'wrong key-hole, or, (hic), I'm wrong man." (Sits down to think it over.)

(A Junior who had arrived by three stages of discipline at Stamford, is now about to return to Alma Mater.)

Junior, to Village Maiden.—"Alas, we must now part."

Village Maiden.—"Alas!" (They part.)

Village Maiden, (after a small pause.)—"Parting is such sweet sorrow."

Junior, (suddenly brightening up.)—"True, let's part again!" (They re-grapple, while an aged parent is seen steadily advancing in the back-ground.)

Senior, (hypercritically.)—"Why, Mr. Hoadley, these apples feel very hard."

Hoadley, (apologetically, but firmly.)—"Yes, they are hard, but they are brittle."

(Senior is silenced and purchases one, which he d'stributes among his classmates.)

The fine for snow-balling is 50 cents and six marks.

At that rate one could buy a dismissal for $4.00.

In this way one could save $1.00 from the regular graduation fee of $5.00.

The Faculty have therefore extended the limit to 60 marks for Seniors, so that now the fees for graduation and dismissal are equal.

It is therefore no longer an object for them to throw snowballs, and the Faculty respectfully hope the practice will cease.

† Freshmen celebrate this happy event by getting beavers, bangers, and boozy. All other festivities than these are strictly forbidden by the Faculty. When in 1864, the Sophs. and Fresh. stayed away from morning recitation, to meditate on "the boy who never handed in a false excuse paper" they were promptly "disciplined" by the Powers; the Sophs. receiving 20 marks, and the Fresh. 10 marks for their misdemeanor.

A "SOCIETY BUM" OF YE OLDEN TIME.

—o—

The following extract from the records of Linonia illustrates College social life a century ago :

APRIL 15, 1772.

This honorable Fellowship club (a) met together to celebrate the anniversary as usual. The meeting was opened with Beaux Stratagem (b) the prologue was spoken by Alden, then followed the actors, whose names are as follows : Lyman, (c) Cooly, Billings, Williams, 2dus., Cobb, Woodhull, Williams, 1mus. Hays, Greenough, Hale, 1mus. (d) Robinson, (f) West, (g) Kimball, Hillhouse, (h) Mead. Then, as usual, officers were chosen. Hale, 2dus. (i) was chosen Secretary ; Lyman, Librarian ; Robinson, Samson, Williams 2dus. ; Swift and West were chosen committee. Then a vote passed, that if ever this honorable Fellowship club should be dissolved and entirely dispersed, the books which are or shall be given to said Library, shall be given to the Library of Yale College (j). The three orations were delivered, by Billings, Hale, 2dus. and Alden. Exercises were all very agreeably performed. Then we were very well entertained with a supper.

Test. DAVID TULLAR, Scribe.

(a) The name by which Linonia was first known.

(b) A Comedy in 5 acts by George Farquhar.

(c) Afterwards D. D.

(d) Nathan Hale, of Revolutionary fame.

(f) Afterwards tutor in Y. C.

(g) " President of the Med. Society of Conn.

(h) Hon. James Hillhouse L.L. D., Treas. Y. C., Sen. in Congress.

(i) Nathan Hale's brother.

(j) The Linonian Library was commenced in 1769 by a gift of books from Timothy Dwight, afterwards President of Yale College, Nathan Hale, the Revolutionary Martyr, and James Hillhouse, for fifty years Treasurer of Yale College, all at that time undergraduates and members of the Society.

† The best place to catch trout is in Maine, but if you can't spare time and change to go there, you will catch about as many anywhere around the boat-house, or (when the tide turns) the piers of Tomlinson bridge.

A good fly rod costs from $7 to $20. But it is not absolutely necessary to go to this expense, as we know many persons who can catch as many trout without a pole as with.

The best place to catch cold is Farnam College.

GENERAL TRUTHS.

—o—

Sorrow is like boarding-house steak. Beneficial, doubtless, but tough.

Yale has lately been making marvelous progress. Scarcely a year ago Dr. Bacon announced that Yale was 60 years behind Harvard. The returns for the current year, however, show us only 1 m. 16 sec. behind. "Enormous gains!" "Brace up!"

Economical suicides will not purchase laudanum at 20 cents an ounce, when they can buy three Welch rare-bits for less than half a dollar.

Students may be divided into two grand divisions: those who come to College because they want to, and those who come because their parents want to have them. The former division is apt to contain those who study hard, the latter, those who are hard students.

Young was a strictly cash dealer—he "took no note of time."

Adam was our first orphan.

"THE TOWNSENDS."

—o—

Some idea of the nature of these subjects can be gleaned from a specimen list, taken at random from the files of the Yale Courant of '71:

1. The importance of the Tower of Babel in promoting Philological Researches.
2. The Incomprehensible and the Infinite contrasted and compared.
3. The Origin, Growth, Present Condition and Future Prospects of Castes among the Hindoos.
4. The cause of the Want of Immutability in Human Affairs.
5. The Literary Taste of Webster and Worcester as shown in their Dictionaries.

A FISH STORY.

—o—

“It is said that the Greenland whale sometimes descends to the depth of a mile, but always comes up exhausted and blowing up blood. Showing that the pressure has so acted upon the vessels as to cause them to discharge a portion of their contents into the lungs.”—Olmstead's Natural Philosophy.

“There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in your philosophy.”—Hamlet.

A whale of great porosity
And small specific gravity,
Dived down with much velocity
Beneath the sea's concavity.

But soon the weight of water
Squeezed in his fat immensity,
Which varied—as it ought to—
Inversely as his density.

It would have moved to pity
An Ogre or a Hessian,
To see poor Spermaceti
Thus suffering compression.

The whale he lay a-roaring
In agonies gigantic,
The lamp oil out came pouring
And greased the wide Atlantic.

(Would we'd been in the navy,
And cruising there! Imagine us
All in a sea of gravy
With billow oleagenous!)

At length old million-pounder
Low on a bed of coral
Gave his last dying flounder,
Whereto I pen this moral.

MORAL.

O let this tale dramatic,
Anent this whale Norwegian
And pressures hydrostatic,
Warn you my young collegian,

That down-compelling forces
Increase as you get deeper;
The lower down your course is,
The upward path's the steeper.

"Some will go to Greece or Hartford ;
Some to Norwich or to Rome ;
Some to Greenland's icy mountains,
More perhaps will stay at home."

* The notorious abolition by the faculty of Fourth of July and Washington's birthday, together with their shameless propagation of Free Trade heresy, clearly points to the conclusion that the clerical members of the corporation have been "bought by British Gold."

† We will say nothing more about this theme, as we understand The Record will contain a continued story on the subject, running through most of first term. We will merely print a conundrum which was not proposed at the Jubilee, but ought to have been. What's the difference between Yale and Harvard? Four boats of course.

FRESHMAN LAWS.

For the benefit of indigent Freshmen who cannot afford to buy a copy of the College Laws, we give the following extracts from one of the "oldest and best" issues of this periodical.

Every Freshman, after his admission into Yale College, is required to conform to the following regulations, established by authority for the preservation of decency and good order.

I. It being the duty of the Seniors to teach Freshmen the Laws, Usages and Customs of the College, to this end they are empowered to order the whole Freshman class or any particular member of it, to appear, in order to be instructed or reprov'd, at such time or place as they shall appoint; when and where every Freshman shall attend, answer all proper questions, and behave decently. The Seniors, however, are not to detain a Freshman more than five minutes after study-bell, without special order from the Professor or Tutor.

II. The Freshmen are to show all proper respect to the officers of college, the residentiary graduates and undergraduate classes superior in standing to themselves.

III. The Freshmen as well as all other undergraduates, are to be uncovered, and are forbidden to wear their hats (unless in stormy weather) in the front doorway of the President's or Professor's house, or within ten rods of the person of the President, eight rods of the Professor, and five rods of a Tutor.

V. No Freshman shall wear a gown, or walk with a cane, or appear out of his room without being completely dressed, and with his hat; and whenever a Freshman either speaks to a superior, or is spoken to by one, he shall keep his hat off, until he is bidden to put it on. A Freshman shall not play with any member of an upper class, without being asked; nor is he permitted to use any acts of familiarity with them, even in study time.

VI. In case of personal insult a Junior may call up a Freshman and reprehend him. A Sophomore in like case must obtain leave from a Senior, and then he may discipline a Freshman, not detaining him more than five minutes, after which the Freshman may retire, even without being dismissed, but must retire in a respectful manner.

XI. When a Freshman is near a gate or door, belonging to College or College-yard, he shall look around, and observe whether any of his superiors are coming to the same; and if any are coming within three rods, he shall not enter without a signal to proceed. In passing up or down stairs, or through an entry or any other narrow passage, if a Freshman meets a superior, he shall stop and give way, leaving the most convenient side—if on the stairs the bannister side. Freshmen shall not run in College-yard, or up and down stairs, or call to any one through a college window. When going into the chamber of a superior, they shall not speak until spoken to; they shall reply modestly to all questions, and perform their messages decently and respectfully. They shall not tarry in a superior's room, after they are dismissed, unless asked to sit. They shall always rise, whenever a superior enters or leaves the room, where they are, and not sit in his presence until permitted.

If sufficient encouragement is held out, we think of publishing a work which will be simply invaluable to the student world. It will be entitled

THE INVALID'S FRIEND, and will be of a convenient form for framing or hanging up where it will be handy for reference. It will contain a full and accurate list of standard and rare excuses, collated with extreme care and guaranteed to wear for the entire five years of the course. Some of the excuses, as for instance, "I was too deeply absorbed in study to observe the flight of time," "I failed to hear the summons of the bell by reason of high and contrary winds," and, "I was bathing in Divinity Hall and could not return in time," are confidently recommended as infallible.

The voting will be carried on at the store of C. C. Chatfield & Co., 460 Chapel street, where ballots can be secured six days in advance.

ADVICE TO '77.

—o—

You have, with the advice of friends, resolved to enter Yale College. Harken then, children, that ye may learn wisdom :

Attend the annual Rush. If friends invite elsewhere, excuse yourself on account of "a pressing engagement" at the Park.

Avoid Welch rare-bits. They are the "stuff that dreams are made of." Like Jonah's gourd they come up in the night. So, though you may find a more 'arty welcome from Moriarty than from most be not thereby entrapped.

Shun the "Yale Boarding Club." Be not

"Like to the empty ass, to shake his ears
And graze in Commons."

You will probably take an active part in Freshman Initiations. These are now tamè. Formerly

"Their peal the merry horns rung out
An hundred voices joined the shout,"

and the Freshman "heard doleful noises and rushings to and fro so that sometimes he thought he should be torn in pieces or trodden down like mire in the streets." As he was yanked through the jarring doors he recalled the familiar line—

"Lasciate ogni speranza voi, che 'ntrate."

As this has now, however, degenerated into a fraud, escape it altogether by a judicious "treat." You may have doubts as to the propriety of this custom, but it is "the thing" and ὁ πᾶσι δοκεῖ, τοῦτο εἶναι φαιερ. You will at the same time be laying the foundation of future success. The Sophomore will say as did Dr. Johnson—"Ramsey gave us a splendid supper ; I like Ramsey."

Soon will come

but be not down-cast nor utterly homesick. Remember

"the worst is not
So long as we can say, 'this is the worst.'"

Take it easy. Remember that "to spend too much time in study is sloth," and that "some books may also be read by deputy."

So brace up Freshie ! Pope once wished himself hung to get rid of Homer, and you may occasionally feel as though you would rather knot than not. But persevere : Be steady and industrious. In short : be busy as a bee and in good time you will become A. B.

Let us have peace.

The standard tariff for private instruction is $2.00 per hour, but where two persons recite together, each is charged only $1.50 per hour extra.

Juniors, preserve a becoming reverence for your instructors. David Brainerd was expelled from Yale in 1742 while a Junior, for speaking disrespectfully of a tutor.

The greatest suspension bridge in the world—the pons asinorum.

Freshmen will notice that those of their number who are impelled by a shrinking modesty to take the rear seat in recitations, often recite fully as well as, if not better than, those on the front seats.

Sophomores will let Freshmen alone, unless they want to get homesick by request.

Among the omissions in the Preliminary catalogue, we notice that of Prof. Patsy Sheppard, M.A. (Manly Artist.)

THE CHRISTMAS ANTHEM.

—o—

This venerable and renowned glee having been supplanted by the tumultuous "Halleluiah Chorus," a description of this latter piece of music taken from the Yale Tomahawk of '49, is highly appropriate :

SOLO.

Go it, go it, boots ! settle, settle
Their h-a-a-a-a-ash !

SEMI-CHORUS.

Settle, settle, their hash, their hash,
Their hash. Amen !

FULL CHORUS.

Their hash, settle ! Go it boots.
Their hash, their boots, hash boots,
It makes us joyful, hash, hash their boots,
Their boots, their bo-oo-oo-oo-ts ! Amen.
Jerusalem, their boots. Amen !
Hallelujah, A-a-a-a-m-e-e-e-n !

A Sophomore has conscientious scruples about shaving his pretty moustache, though he knows such treatment will make it stouter and bigger. He says we ought not to do evil that good may come.

There is a good prospect of Yale soon having a suitable ball ground near the colleges. (Ha! ha! ha! Best joke of the issue.—Ed.)

A few advertisements remain to be inserted in our next.

We cannot undertake to return unused jokes.

In conclusion, we will not quote from "Tiny Tim;" nor will we indulge "in a closing word" several minutes long. We congratulate you on having at last finished the Almanac for 1873. We hope to be with you once again, and till then, good bye and good luck, says

The Author.

HUMORS OF ALUMNI HALL.

—o—

A Student who knew little of English literature, eluded the ingenuity of the English professor by writing on his annual paper as follows: "Richard Steele was born in the commencement of the 18th century—but why pursue this sad theme further?"

Another who had selected Calculus "to run up a stand on," was fain at the Annual Examination to express the sum total of his knowledge in these simple words: "What I know about Calculus," and presented the sheet, unmarked by any other characters, to the professor.

Another, however, possessed the true soul of wit. He simply wrote on the blank page: "Professor ——— Please send my condition to ——— ——— New Jersey."

We have had a large experience in the Badge Line, our facilities are complete and our trade extensive. We make Badges solely, and aim to supply our customers with first-class productions, giving equal attention to low and high priced.

We work only solid Gold of 14 and 18 carats. In Badge settings we use Garnet, Jet, Turquoise, Pearl, Amethyst, Ruby, Opal, Emerald, Sapphire, Diamond, in both close and crown settings.

Aware that Collegians generally prefer symmetrical, substantial, stylish Badges, we solicit their orders, confident that in a comparison of our goods with others we cannot be the losers.
