Blitz ! The very name is synonymous with witchcraft and rogary. What a stream of jugglery there is in its very pronunciation: presto change—magical words in themselves are no more identified with miraculous deeds; than that of Blitz. He is the prince of conjurors; and adds to his wonderful dexterity at legerdemain, that most remarkable power of the human voice known as ventril. Juism. Blitz is an arrant joker, and loves to carry out a practicistic pice of fun. For some weeks past he has been frights, by causing the market men in Philadelphia, by causing their dead poultry and dressed pigs to talk all sorts of stuff, and to make formal couplaint at the untimely end to which they had been brought. One butcher, after throwing half a dozen turkeys into the street, because they would gobble, though they were as dead as a door had been tropped in the termendous grunt from a young pig that he was offering for sale, ail cleaned and dressed for the table. An Act in addition to an act concerning communities and thouse of Representatives and Act in addition to an act relating to Courts.

Be it enacted by the Sends and House of Representatives and House of records of said town, to make a memorandum on the same passe where said increased:

That it is state when recording on the records of said town, to make a memorandum on the same passe where said increased is recorded, and though it is very sad for more tastives in General Assembly conversed:

There are many who think that an act of duty, proceeding solely from affections which can only be comprehended in the heart of a husband and a father, is to be a fat tal to my professional, political and social standing. If this be so, then so be it. Political station, professional success, social recognition, are not the only pri zes of ambition; and I have seen enough of the world in which I have moved, and read enough of the lives of others, to teach me that, if one be patient and resolute, it is the man himself who indicates the place he will occupy; and so long as I do nothing worse than to reunite my family under the roof where they may find shelter from contumely and prosecution, I do not fear the noisy but fleeting voice of popular clamor. The multitude accept their first impressions from a few; but in the end men think for themselves, and if I know the human heart-and some times I think that in a career of mingled sunshine and storm I have sounded near ly all its depths—then I may reassure DENIMS, TICK, STRIPES, SUMMER STUFFS those who look with reluctant forebodings upon my future, to be of good cheer, for will not cease to vindicate a just claim to the respect of my fellows; while to those motley groups, here and there, who look upon my misfortunes only as wear pons to be employed for my destruction, to those I say, once for all, if a man make a good use of his enemies they will be as

In conclusion, let me ask only one favo of those who, from whatever motive, may deem it necessary or agreeable to com ment in public or private upon this sad history; and that is, to aim all their arrows at my breast, and for the sake of my innocent child to spare her yet youthful mother, while she seeks in sorrow and contrition the mercy and the pardon of Him to whom sooner or later, we must all appeal.
