TO
Thou bid'st me sing a lay of love, all gushing pure and free,
E'en floating on our being's tide, to Death's dark,
rolling sea,
Lighting our swiftly gliding barque across that solemn main,
And merging into Love's clear fount on Heaven's celestial plain.
There is a love on time's rough shore, which feels no blight nor frost,
Which ne'er amid the murky clouds of selfishness
is lost,
But, 'mid estrangement's coldest mien, and sin's
black, hideous form,
Is gleaming with unsoftened front—a rainbow in the storm!
And there is holy happy love, entwining kindred hearts,
Whose ray, undimmed by care or age, a heavenly glow imparts,
Which scatters incense, freshness, flowers, on everything around,
And makes of earth's most humble spots, dew, consecrated ground.
Oh! to each soul the zephyr's breath brings high and tender thought,
And visions of the "better land" with tones of sweetness fraught,
And hues of hope and peace inwove, are bending
fondly there,
As incense from each spirit's wing is floating up in prayer.
There is the love which breaks the chain from captives bound in sin,
And pours the stream of heavenly joy to fertilize within,
Which opens the dungeon bars of gloom and shows the shining road
Which leadeth up to endless day, to liberty, to God.
There is the love which kindly saves from passion's sinful maze,
And in the guilty, care-worn heart, lights up region's rays,
Which taketh gently by the hand that being lost
and love,
And calleth him "my brother," in affection's gentle tone.
Yes, there is love upon this earth, though hatred
too, is here,
And there are many glowing smiles for each fast-
flowing tear;
But in the clime of endless Love, no hatred e'er
can dwell,
No death or separation there—no solemn, sad,
farewell!

MARIA LOUISE BELMONT.
Prospect Hill, Conn.,
Mr. Editor.—In your paper of the 11th, I noticed a piece headed, "News-mongers in Villages." After reading it I was inclined to moralize a little on some portions of it, and in a brief manner I will give you the result of my cogitations, which you are at liberty to publish or not as you think proper.
The writer of the article in common with the opinion of mankind generally, thinks that human nature is the same in every place, although developed in different degrees, and that country villages are more prone to fall into the evil named, than are cities. This is undoubtedly the case in small communities surrounded with a scattered population. I would ask where and with whom is the fault, for certain it is, a fault lies somewhere. The human mind was formed to be progressive, and its tendency to be upward, its power of thought and its quickness to act, attest the fact.
In this age of progress with so many facilities for improving the intellect, and the heart, who of us can afford to spend our precious time and talents in retailing not to say in helping to manufacture petty news to the injury (very often) of the fairest reputation. It is not so in cities, or to such an extent, and this is one reason why intelligent persons prefer a city residence—they are not subject to those petty annoyances common to a country home. They find enough to occupy their attention without overseeing their neighbors business, they have continually various subjects of interest presented to the mind which are elevating, and ennobling, and on which it feeds and thrives so that they have no inclination to descend to that which is so mean and unprofitable as village gossip. But the question is, how shall the evil be remedied? Is it not the obvious duty of every intelligent person in every community to do all in their power to bring about a reform touching the matter? It is wrong even to give ear to a tale bearer, for usually he "stirreth up mischief," and his heart desireth evil, but if we are obliged to listen, we should lift a reproving voice. I recollect in my youthful days, of relating an accident which occurred in the village, which detracted from the character of more than one individual. A near friend and relative, reproved me by saying that he did not wish to hear such things; if we could not report what was commendable in our neighbors we had better be silent. It was a word in season. For the sake of the young then, especially, every village should have a good library and reading-room, and during the winter months a good Lyceum, and when not able to procure speakers from abroad, let the young men bestir themselves and have some interesting subject for discussion, which will draw out their thinking powers, and sharpen up their reflective faculties. It would, I think, be of immense benefit to them ever afterward, and the ladies too should be invited to wield their pen on the subject. In this all the family would be interested. Thus, tea-table talk would be furnished, both interesting and profitable. Similar associations have existed in some places for more than a quarter of a century, and the good effects are manifested to this day, and will not cease with the next generation. One thing more and I have done for the present. Your correspondent says that "the ladies have as much to do with the circulation of the news as those of the other sex." He is very ungenerous. I should have expected that he would have accorded to them the largest share of the business. Finally, would it not be well for every gentleman to give a word of reproof to his better half, and his interesting daughters, instead of listening with pleasure, and hastening to his business place, there to repeat the gossip, to every village lounge. I think it would be appropriate to moralize a little on "Sewing Societies" but shall reserve it for the future.

B.
FUN AT HOME.—Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people! Don't shut up your houses lest the sun should fade the carpet; and your hearts, lest a hearty laugh should shake down some of the dusty old cobwebs there! If you want to ruin your souls, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold without, when they come home at night. When once a home is regarded as only a place to eat, drink, and sleep in, the work is begun, that ends in gambling houses and reckless degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere; if they do not find it at their own hearthstones, it will be found in other, and perhaps in less profitable places. Therefore let the fire burn brightly at night, and make the home nest delightful with all those little arts that parents so perfectly understand. Don't repress the buoyant spirits of your children; half an hour of merriment round the lamp and firelight of home blots out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safeguard they can take with them into the world is the unseen influence of a bright little domestic sanctum.
POTENTIAL PUZZLE FOR NEW YEARS.
Come now my youthful reader,
Who do work my puzzles out,
Who now will be the leader
To bring this one about.
This year begins on Sunday;
How many will there be,
That will come in on that same day,
In the present century?
And if any of you now,
Can tell which they will be,
Pray take a pen and write it well,
That all of us might see.
(Answer in two weeks.) C. H. G.
P. S. Work the above puzzle from the present time; not from the beginning of the present century.

The Two Homes.
A STORY FOR MOTHERS.
"Mother" said a girl of ten years, "I have done all the work you gave me—now may Willie and I go to Mr. Grays?"
"I do wish you would keep out of the way, and stop teasing," replied the mother, as she gave her daughter a push which sent her daughter reeling against a chair.
"Why, mamma," said Willie—a bright sturdy little fellow of five years—who had been busily engaged for the past hour trying to make a wooden knife for his sister—"why, mamma, you promised we might go to-day, and if you don't let us, it will be telling a wrong story."
"Well, do go 'long—stay an hour, and I hope I shall have some peace while you are gone."
"Hurrah!" said Willie, jumping up—"Where's my cap, cap? Mamma, I can't reach it."
"I'll warrant it—always something to hinder me; here, take your cap and go; and with the same impatient step and frowning brow which had been seen all that day, she passed again to her work.
But let us follow the children as they leave the house. Sarah walks along with a sad and tearful face—her's is a peculiarly sensitive nature, and the harsh reproof so often given, is sure to cast a shadow on her heart—and as Willie glances up into her face, rebellious thoughts arise, and his eyes flash indignantly as he says, in a comforting tone, "I wouldn't feel bad if mamma does scold. I shall be a big man pretty soon, and then I'll talk right back to her, just as she does to us; and when I get rich enough, I'm going to buy a horse and carriage, and you and papa may ride with me, but mamma shan't, because she ain't good, maybe she'll grow old sometime, and come to live with me, just as grandmamma does to our house, and then if she talks so to us, I'll just shut her up in the dark, wouldn't you?"
Little does that mother think she is sowing seeds in the young hearts which shall spring up and yield a "hundred fold of bitterness and sorrow."
Ten years have fled—let us again visit that dwelling. Where is now the gentle Sarah, whom every one thought so sweet tempered? She is there, but how changed. In former years the angry reproof would only cause a flood of tears, but as day after day, year after year, the harsh words fell upon her ear, angry feelings began to surge up, until her very nature became changed, and she had learned at last to throw back the bitter retort. Sady darkened must be the soul of that mother, who thus wounds and crushes the heart of the sensitive, until hatred takes the place of love, and the Evil Genius presides where once the heavenly angels loved to linger.
But we miss the brave little Willie. Where can our pet have flown? "In days of yore" his laughing eyes and sunny smile were always the first to greet us; now we list in vain for his coming footstep. He is a wanderer—exiled by his mother's frowns and irritableness from an otherwise pleasant home.
Oh, mother! how great an influence thy words, thy tones of voice possess! Are they harsh and vituperative? Are those tender blossoms entrusted to your care made to feel they are only a trouble and a burden? Then murmur not, if, when the frosts of age have whitened your locks—when your steps are slow and feeble; and all the helplessness of a second childhood is upon you,—you are treated in like manner. Unloved—unhonored it may be—you will go down in sorrow to your grave.
But let us turn, kind reader to a pleasanter scene. Go with me to the house of Mr. C—. The mother, a pleasant looking woman, is busily engaged with her morning duties. Hardly have we entered ere the sound of little feet is heard, and Charley rushes in. "Mamma," said he, "George Lane has just the prettiest new sled that I ever saw—it is painted all over, and his name is in large letters on the side, and he wants me to go home with him, and ride on it—may I go?"
"Yes, my son," is the pleasant reply, "if you will be back in half an hour—I shall want you then to do an errand for me. Here let me tie your scarf around your neck—be a good boy and play pleasantly with George," and imparting a kiss upon his rosy lips, she turns again to her work.
But where is little Allie—the pet of the household? The mother remembers that she has not seen her for a time. "The little rogue is in some mischief, I presume, else she would not be so quiet; I must find her." After looking in various places, she softly opens the parlor door, and there sits her "little one," with pussy by her side, and in her lap a beautiful steel engraving which she had torn from one of the books, which adorned the centre table. We watch with interest to note the effect upon the mother. Shall we see her face flush with anger?—Will she pass along with hasty steps—seize the engraving—box the ears of the child (unconscious of the wrong, though it be) saying she never did see such a "young one," always doing something she ought not to do?

Very many mothers would have pursued such a course, but not so with Mrs. C. She stops at the door to listen, while Allie talks on, all unconscious of another; "Kitty, ain't you glad we came in the parlor this morning, 'cause Allie's found a nice picture for you to look at? Now, if you keep still, I'll tell you all about it.—There's a little girl just like me, only she ain't quite so big, and her name is Allie, too. So there's two Allie's here. You don't know, Kitty, what the little girl is holding, but I do, 'cause papa told me, it's a rabbit; but I'd rather have a kitty than a rabbit; shouldn't you Kitty?"
"Why, Allie," said her mother, advancing and speaking in a kindly tone, didn't you know it was very naughty to tear papa's books? How sorry he will be to hear what his little girl has been doing." "Allie won't do so no more—not a bit," replied the child with a quivering lip. "Well, we will go out and see if we cannot find something better for Allie to do, than tear papa's book. Can you bring some wood for mamma?" "Yes," is the quick reply, and away she bounds, her eyes sparkling at the thought of really doing something to help her mamma.
How it cheers the heart to enter a household where love reigns and kind words only are spoken. Children under such influences will grow up good and noble, for the heart will expand and its nobler qualities develop under the genial influence of kind actions and kind words. Mother! the echoes of your kind voice may linger long years in the hearts of your children. Shall they be soft, sweet echoes, seeming like angel music, winging them to the love of God and heaven? If so, then you will be rewarded with a golden harvest. And should the kind father—when "many years" have wrought many changes, and the eye grows dim with watching the advent of a glorious hereafter—allow you to gaze upon the household of your children on earth, they will surely call you "blessed."
THE HOME OF TASTE.—How easy it is to be neat—to be clean! How easy to arrange the rooms with the most graceful propriety. How easy it is to invest our homes with the truest elegance. Elegance resides not with the upholsterers or the draper; it is not in the mosaics, the carpets, the rosewood, the mahogany, the candelabra, or the marble ornaments; it exists in the spirit presiding over the chambers of the dwelling. Contentment must always be most graceful; it sheds serenity over the scene of its abode; it transforms a waste into a garden. The home lighted by these intimations of a nobler and brighter life may be wanting in much which the discontented desire; but to its inhabitants it will be a place, far outwitting the oriental in brilliancy and glory.
A sophist wishing to puzzle Thales, the Milesian, one of the wise men of Greece, proposed the following difficult questions: the philosopher replied to them all without the least hesitation, and with how much propriety and precision our readers can judge for themselves:
"What is the oldest of all things?"
"God, because he always existed."
"What is the most beautiful?"
"The world, because it is the work of God."
"What is the greatest of all things?"
"Peace, because it contains all that is created."
"What is the quickest of all things?"
"Thought, because in a moment it can fly through the universe."
"What is the strongest?"
"Necessity, because it makes men face all the dangers of life."
"What is the most difficult?"
"To know yourself."
"What is the most constant of all things?"
"Hope, because it still remains with man after he has lost everything else."

East Haddam Journal.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7.

Some one has said "there is a time and place for all things." We have on our books quite an amount due us from subscriptions, advertising and job-work; and we are not only vain enough to believe that the present is the time to settle, but also that a mill hint of this sort will be the best collecting agent we can engage. We appeal to the common sense and pockets of those interested if this is not a polite, genteel and delicate—DUN.

SPOON MAKERS BALL.—We had the pleasure of attending the Spoon Makers Second Annual Ball which came off as per previous announcement at the Gelston House on Thursday evening last, and to merely say that it was a pleasant and creditable affair would not be doing ample justice to the Spoon Makers and the numerous company present on that occasion. The Spoon Makers were out in full force with their "partners" (some for a life time and some for an evening,) and we were pleased to see good delegations of friends, or rather delegations of good friends from Middletown, Chester, Essex, &c., and a general congregation of ladies and gentlemen of our own vicinity. We think it was one of the finest parties we ever attended, and believe this to be the prevailing opinion with all those present. The ball was finely and appropriately decorated, which seemed to awaken a patriotic feeling with the numerous guests. The music was good, of course, pleasing all who have any idea of time and tune. The management throughout was perfect, and although the hall was densely thronged, the best of order was preserved, and we hear of no serious collisions. Mr. Boardman, the well known manufacturer, who by the way, is never "backward in coming forward" on any festive occasion, was present, and entered into the real merits of the entertainment with a good will. Supper was served from 10 p. m. till 3 a. m., and was partaken of by over two hundred. The tables were overflowing with everything delicious to the taste and pleasant to the eye; the waiters, both experts and novices, done up their duties in the bravest manner. Our worthy host and hostess can safely congratulate themselves on the success which attended their efforts in this important feature of the evening's entertainment. Merry feet were dancing to the strains of lively music until the early grey of morning warned them of approaching day. The evening of January 5th, 1860, will long be remembered by all present, and we wish Mr. Boardman and the Spoon Makers a prosperous year, and trust that the mutual good feeling existing between employer and workmen may long continue.

THE CASE OF ANDRUS.—We learn that the petition for a new trial in the case of Andrus, the Haddam-Neck fire-cater, has been denied, and that his prospects are good for ten years in the State House at Wethersfield.

DECIDEDLY IMPUDENT.—Twelve families, respectable in everything but their politics, residing in Madison County, Kentucky, have been ordered to leave the State in double-quick time, for entertaining anti-slavery sentiments.

WANTS TO FIGHT.—Mr. Branch, M. C. from North Carolina, challenged Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania, also an M. C. to fight a duel, one day last week. Mr. Grow did not acknowledge the southern code of honor, but informed Mr. Branch, that he believed in self-defence—meaning that he was ready for an assault, and should defend himself to the best of his ability.

TRIAL OF STEPHENS.—Geo Sennott, who was counsel for John Brown, has received notice that Aaron D. Stephens (formerly of Norwich) will be tried by the Virginia authorities, this winter—perhaps in January—and not by the U. S. District Court, as at first proposed. The change is probably made in consequence of the appointment of the senatorial investigating committee, which will summon Northern men enough.

The Norwich Daily Arora, has made its appearance—a neat little paper about the size of—ours.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Martha of Moodus—We are much pleased with your lines, though they treat of a topic which has been pretty thoroughly discussed in the JOURNAL, but we cannot give them a publication unless you furnish us with your true name, which you neglected to forward with the poetry. For ought we know there may be a good many hidden daggers in your lines, and we must know their author.

Knot Hole, Haddam Neck.—We remember the letter which we published for you in No. 14, July 9th, and we also remember what was said therein relative to finding a certain envelope in the "old fish house." We have no doubt but that your statement is correct and that the person whom you name was engaged on that occasion as you say he was, but until you leave the envelope with us, we shall decline publishing the superscription, for we have already incurred the serious ill-will of that individual.

Joshua of Millington.—You perceive we have consented to let your poem appear in another column, but there was no need of your writing to us the second time about the matter. You say "there are plenty of editors who would be glad to secure your services." We think that is quite likely, but we suspect they would want you to sweep out the office and build fires rather than spend your time in writing poetry. However, we must say your piece is much improved since you revised it the second time. If you continue to improve we will perhaps give you another hearing sometime, but we shall not give you the "year's subscription" which you have had the face to beg again.

Abalom of East Haddam.—We shall not give the names of the authors of the "Hearse" controversy, but we will say they are two of our most prominent and influential citizens. Very likely you may be correct about the "honey thief," but that was an item of local intelligence of which we knew but little except by rumor, and we shall not use our columns for personalities even if the law did fail in its object.

Aramantha.—You ask us why we do not follow the example of the New York Ledger and devote one or two columns exclusively to answering correspondents. This we should be glad to do, but we have neither the time or space thus to notice half the letters we receive.

Josephine.—You are mistaken. The piece entitled "I at Thinking" in No. 26, was not written by Mr. Selden, though inasmuch as that was an excellent piece we do not wonder that you suspected mine host. He has as yet written but little for our paper, but we have seen in different prints several of his productions, and in our opinion they compare favorably with those which emanate from the pens of our best authors.

Ennias of Chester.—Your lines on "The Woodchuck's Soliloquy" are received and accepted: they will appear in due time. We cannot oblige our other contributors to gratify you. Your lines on the "Muskrat's Dream" are very respectfully declined, as well as "The Codfish's Serenade." Why in the name of common sense don't you write on some better topics? We believe you have considerable talent if you would only exercise it on suitable subjects.

REED THE ADULTERER.—Edwin W. Reed the adulterer, still remains in jail at Boston, no one having confidence enough in him to give the required bail of $1,500. The church at West Springfield has suspended, but not ex-communicated him. Notwithstanding Reed's assertions of innocence, the very respectable families with whom Miss Kendall lived in Boston, will testify to his repeated visits as her husband, and to the delusion as to the relations he sustained to her. Reed also paid her expenses, and provided her with rooms. She always manifested the most loyal affection for him. Several of his hypocritical letters are in the hands of the prosecution.

THE ROBBERY AND MURDER AT PUTNAM.—Mr. Collins who was shot and robbed by an unknown highwayman, at Putnam, last Saturday morning, died on Sunday night. Mr. Collins was about thirty-five years of age, and had been lately married. He was a quiet inoffensive citizen. From the time he was shot until he died, he was able to converse, and gave a clear account of the affair, saying that he had no suspicion of any one or cause for such an attack, that it was so dark when the affair took place, that he could not recognize his murderer. The deed could not have been perpetrated on account of Mr. Collins' money, as his appearance would not have tempted to such an outrage. The whole transaction is involved in a profound mystery. The town has offered a reward for the apprehension of the murderer, and the country is being scoured in every direction for his arrest. It is hoped that the mystery may be solved and the villain brought to justice. On a post mortem examination of the body, the ball was found lodged in the left side, having passed through his liver. A man named Larned, from Oxford, Mass. was arrested on Saturday at 9 a. m. A man named Nelson Wilson was also arrested on Thursday, 29th, who was believed to be the person, both of whom, however, have been discharged for want of evidence.

DEATH OF PROF. JOHN FROST.—Prof John Frost died at his residence in Philadelphia, on the evening of Dec 28th. His age was 59. Prof Frost was well known as the author of "Pictorial History of the world," and several historical epitomes, and of a veritable library of school-books for some years past, he had been engaged exclusively in teaching, having relinquished his literary labors.

Rev. Charles M. Seymour was installed pastor of the Congregational Church in Brooklyn, Conn., on Wednesday.

CONGRESSIONAL.—No speaker up to Thursday, and the House as yet remains unorganized.

The following patents were granted to citizens of this State for the week ending Dec. 27th: Norman Allen, Unionville, improved vise and saw set; George Cook and Hanibal J. Kimball, New Haven, improvement in top props for carriages, Dennis C. Gately, Newtown, improvement in manufacture of rubber belting; Joseph Gruler and Augustus Rebeta, Norwich, assignors to the Manhattan Fire Arms Co., improvement in revolving firearms.

An individual has been fined $1.00 and costs in Norwich, for stealing an umbrella. His fate should be a warning to individuals in this vicinity. Justice, like death, is slow but sure.

Last year over 4,500,000 copies of Harper's Weekly were sold, giving an average of over 85,000 per week.

Four papers have given up the ghost in this State during the past year—the Norwich Reveille, Norwich Morning Courier, Meriden Chronicle, and Waterbury Journal.

Philip Lynch, the man who murdered Caulton, at Bndentown, N. J. about three months ago, has been tried and found guilty, and was, on Wednesday sentenced to be hanged on the 23d of March next.

About a million of letters annually find their way into the dead letter office at Washington. The reason of their miscarriage is, in nine tenths of the cases, an illegible or imperfect superscription. In these letters were found $45,718; all but about 4,500 of which has found owners.

A memorial is now in circulation in the city of New York to guarantee Southerners the right to reside in that State for nine months, with their slaves. It is circulating for names; and will be presented to the next Legislature.

Rembrandt Peale, the distinguished artist, now eighty years of age, is lying ill at Stongton, where he stopped on his way home from Boston. He is, we are glad to hear, in a fair way of recovery.

DEATH OF A REVOLUTIONARY CHARACTER.—John Hewson, an old Revolutionary soldier, died in Philadelphia at the advanced age of 93. Mr. Hewson was a native of England, and was born in London, Oct. 1767. He came to this country at an early age, and was the first calico printer in America. During the Revolutionary war he took an active part; and was taken prisoner by the British at the battle of Monmouth. Several years ago he issued a work on the history of this country, which excited some attention at the time.

The Belle of Millington.
BY JOSHUA.
Most every one who reads these lines,
Unless they're awful green,
Will guess at once the author's name,
And know what girl I mean.
'Tis seldom that by poetry
I try to gain renown,
But some one ought to write about
The loveliest girl in town.
Let Moodus boast of handsome folks,
And Goodspeed's Landing crew,
In neither can be found so fare
As Millington can show.
Let Hadlyme brag what she can do,
And Leesville do the same,
I know they both will fall behind
What Millington can claim.
Of all the ladies in our town,
Our Hattie is the best,
And were she mine I would not give
A fig for all the rest.
A happy day when first I came
To keeping school out here,
For now the maid who holds my heart
Is living very near.
I love to gaze upon her cheek
And hear each word she utters,
For every time I hear her speak,
My fond heart wildly flutters.
Her form is strait and very tall,
Her eyes they both are blue,
The girls who are so sweet as her,
I think are mighty few.
Her hair is neither black nor white,
But of a sandy hue,
And every man of taste would say
'Twas fair as ever grew.
Her voice is sweeter than the bird
That sits upon the tree,
And I am happy as a rat
Whenever she speaks to me.
I know she laughs and talks much less
Than many folks around her,
But not a girl in this whole town
Is any more profounder.
Some women have delightful eyes,
But her's are hard to beat,
Her lips when wreathed in lovely smiles
Look good enough to eat.

Administrator's Sale.
At a Court of Probate holden at East Haddam, within and for the district of East Haddam, on the 26th day of December, 1859.
Present, JULIUS ATTWOOD, Judge.
The administratrix on the estate of Richard V. Brooks, late of East Haddam in said district, deceased, having exhibited her account of administration on said estate, by which it appears that the debts and charges amount to the sum of one thousand dollars and twenty-one cents, and the personal property inventoried to the sum of four hundred, fifty-six dollars and fifty-nine cents, making an excess of debts and charges over the personal estate, the sum of five hundred forty-three dollars and sixty-two cents, which account is allowed, now move for an order to sell the real estate. Whereupon this court doth authorize and direct said Administratrix to sell, either at public sale or at private sale at not less than inventory price, and in such a manner as will least injure the heirs, such assets of said estate as has not been sold already, and so much of the real property of said estate, as will raise the sum of $543 62—first giving at least four weeks notice of the time and place of the proposed sale, by advertising in a newspaper published in East Haddam, and by posting on the public sign post nearest the estate to be sold, and within the same town, and make return to this Court, to whom sold, and for how much, with the expenses of sale.
Certified from Record.
JULIUS ATTWOOD, Judge.

In pursuance of the foregoing order the property therein mentioned, consisting of one-fourth part of a note against Socrates Denison and Joseph G. Kirtland, secured by mortgage on land in the town of Chester, foreclosed and judgement obtained, amounting to the sum of eight hundred and fifteen dollars and fifty-eight cents, with time of redemption expiring on the third Monday of March, A. D. 1860.
Also the following piece of land lying in the Society of Hadlyme, viz: one piece on the Chapman River Meadow of about two acres; one piece of pasture of about twenty acres, lying next north of Wm. Bartman's; one piece of about an acre (in high state of cultivation, and a small dwelling house thereon) lying opposite where the deceased last dwelt, the remainder being the home lot with a good sized dwelling-house and barn (almost new) thereon standing. Will be sold at public auction, (if not previously disposed of at private sale,) the 8th day of February, A. D. 1860, or so much as will raise the sum required in the aforesaid order, near the late residence of the deceased Richard V. Brooks, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.
Hadlyme, Dec. 30, 1859.

Boot and Shoe Emporium

110 STATE ST., HARTFORD. Never were such Bargains offered as we offer TO-DAY

And shall continue to offer from this day forth. At this time of the year it is highly important that the feet should be kept dry, and ENSIGN has everything in the way of Rubber Boots and Shoes That can be called for; and the prices will certainly be found satisfactory.

REMEMBER It is Ensign Himself!!

The man who undersells them all, who makes this statement.

Our Poem to-day is entitled "SPORTING NEWS." Our friends will observe that no pains or expense has been spared in bringing the most distant counties before them

SPORTING NEWS. The Chinese Ambassador, so the tale goes, Has just had a great boxing bout;

At Peking, the Chinese have boxed him up tight, To prevent him from pekin about.

To punish these rascally "Sons of the Moon," We suggest to Buchanan this measure— As hanging's too good for them—bring them all here.

And Ensign will boot them with pleasure.

Yes, we are booting all creation, at a small expense, and shoeing up the multitude BY THOUSANDS.

From England we learn that Tom Sayers has been out, With Brattles to have a few rounds;

Although Sayers was the victor, the papers all say, He received at least two hundred pounds;

They speak of the champion's "terrible right," And the spikes that were in Brattle's shoe;

But we fear not "the right," and care naught for the spike, For Ensign has rights and lefts too.

Yes, rights and lefts of every variety, splendid high heel rights and lefts, rights and lefts without heels, all

SELLING OFF CHEAP. The Canadians grumble, and justly complain Of the visits of States "men of might,"

Who not only favor the use of free soil, But also enjoy a free fight.

Messrs. Kelly and Price have just made them a call, The result we presume you all know;

While in Boston the Price stock is now looking up, At Ensign's the prices are low.

Yes—15 or 20 per cent, lower than any other establishment. We sell everything low at Ensigns Boot & Shoe Emporium. Between shoe-dealers lately a "conflict" has waged— "Irrepressible," Seward would say— But Ensign has gallantly fought the good fight.

And stands at the head of this day. Boots, Gaiters and Shoes, and Rubbers, all kinds, Will be sold very cheap for "the gelt";

The public are hereby invited to call And examine the champion's belt.

Our next Poem will be entitled "Occupations of the Poets." It would have appeared to-day, but for the exciting news from China and elsewhere, which we hasten to make known.

Respectfully, the public's old favorite, S. A. ENSIGN.

THE FERRY, AT GOODSPEED'S LANDING.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he having just purchased an interest in the above named property, and furnished it with new and much improved Boats, is determined to make it the most desirable and popular ferry on the river. Please call and try us.

THE FARMERS' & MECHANICS' SAVINGS BANK, OF MIDDLETOWN.

is now ready to receive Deposits at the Office of their treasurer, ARTHUR B. CALLEF, Esq., opposite the Town Clerk's office in the Court House. Permanent Banking rooms will soon be provided by the Bank.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 A. M., and from 2 to 5 P. M.

The Securities of this Bank are double the amount of its deposits, and two thirds of its loans are secured on real estate.

SAMUEL H. PARSONS, President. BENJ. DOUGLAS, Vice President. ARTHUR B. CALLEF, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES. William B. Casey, Benjamin Douglas, Edwin F. Johnson, J. K. B. Mansfield, Ellsworth Burr, Charles C. Tyler, Patrick Fagan, Elisha S. Hubbard, William Plumb, Jonathan Kilbourn, Daniel H. Chase, James O. Smith, Cornelius Hall, Alford Hubbard. Middletown, Aug. 20, 1859. 6m20

COFFINS. A large assortment of BLACK WALNUT and STAINED COFFINS, which will be trimmed to order in as good manner, and from 10 to 20 per cent less than city prices.

SHROUDS, CAPS, COLLARS &c., constantly on hand, and for sale cheap, by SAMUEL COOK.

NEW STORE, AND NEW GOODS A. R. PARSHLEY.

has removed to the spacious store one door south of the City Hotel. The store has been refitted, and is considered to be the most commodious

Hat, Cap and Shoe Store, in the city. Our stock has been largely replenished and is one of the best and cheapest in the country. Please call and examine for yourselves. A. R. PARSHLEY, Union Block. Middletown, Conn. 6

FURNITURE!!

THE subscriber would respectfully announce that he is receiving FURNITURE almost every week from one of the largest wholesale establishments in New York that deals wholly in Wood, Mahogany and Black Walnut Furniture. They say in their price-list that their Catalogue of Goods is made up and Prices carried out with a view of doing wholly a cash business and to small advance from cost that they cannot afford to credit any one, and knowing as I do that some of the closest cash buyers in the State purchase of the same house and from the same price list, I do not hesitate to say that I can sell as good Tete a Tete, Sofas, Chairs, Tables, &c., for as little money as any other man in the State. Those who are in want of a PARLOR SUITE, or any part thereof, are respectfully invited to call and examine my assortment as I am sure they cannot possibly do better than to purchase of me.

It is well known by almost every one that the Furniture business has undergone a great change within a few years in regard to the mode of manufacturing. Instead of each retail dealer manufacturing his work, as formerly, New York and Boston furnish Connecticut with almost all her parlor furniture from the best Rosewood suites down to the cheapest article that can possibly be got up. Different parts of Massachusetts are noted for their Bedstead and Chair factories from which Connecticut is supplied, and from which the proprietor of the Furniture Warerooms at Goodspeed's Landing will endeavor to keep well supplied, and in addition to Furniture of all sorts, sizes, and descriptions, can be found at all times a good assortment of Looking Glasses, Clocks, Wood and Willow Ware, Window Shades and Trimmings, Spring Beds, Feathers, Mattresses, &c., &c., which the subscriber offers for sale lower than the same quality of goods can be bought at any other establishment in the State. One Price—Terms Cash—and no grumbling. SAMUEL COOK. Goodspeed's Landing, East Haddam.

ENSIGN, THE GREATEST LIVING HUMBBUG, AND PARKER & WARD, THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITES.

ARE altogether two different names. Ensign is noted for his loud pretensions. While PARKER & WARD are known by their really low prices on Boots and Shoes, we defy Ensign or his tribe to compete with us in prices. It is startling "but nevertheless true that we do sell Ladies Kid Slips at 25 cts. a pair, and Women's Cloth Congress Gaiters at 58 cts. a pair.

ENSIGN HAS HAD HIS DAY, PARKER & WARD, NOW TAKE THE LEAD, and will continue to do so.

We have just received a large and magnificent stock of Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, and we will sell them at prices which will astonish you.

CITIZENS OF EAST HADDAM, ATTENTION, YOUR LITTLE COUNTRY SHOE STORES ARE NOWHERE!!!

And why? Simply because we sell more goods in one day than the small concerns sell in a month. They sell as cheap as they can but cannot compete with us in prices.

Give us a call, you shall be well treated and we guarantee that you can more than pay your expenses to Middletown by buying your Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes here.

Remember the place, PARKER & WARD, 398 Main Street, Middletown, Conn.

HUBBARD BROTHERS, MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF LUMBER.

We have now on hand the best stock of SEASONED LUMBER ever offered in this county and as good as can be found in the State, comprising all kinds of

FRAMING TIMBER, BOARDS, LATH, SHINGLES, NAILS, LIME, CEMENT, PLASTER, ING HAIR, PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, BRUSHES, HAMDEN GREEN, &c.,

In point of fact, we aim to keep nearly every article of Building Materials necessary to construct a chicken coop or palace, from foundation to weather-cock.

OUR STEAM MILL, furnishes every description of Fine, Spruce and Southern Yellow Flooring, Planed and Jointed Clapboards, of superior quality.

Worked Railing, Pickets, Newel Post, Balusters, Horse and Awning Posts, Fence Balusters and Caps, Turned Ornaments, Mouldings all kinds, Panel Work, Scroll Work, Fancy Wood Boxes, Sewing Machine Tables, &c. &c.

Sashes, Doors, and Blinds, JOB SAWING, PLANING and TURNING. Our machinery runs every working day. Our Motto.—Good Work, a fair Profit and promptness.

We also expect prompt pay in three months. T. HUBBARD, S. C. HUBBARD, C. C. HUBBARD. Middletown, April 8, 1859. 14f

JAMES C. FERREE, GEORGE F. STAERNS.

ATTWOOD, FIRED off a Pop-Gun, No. 3, last week the discharge did not hurt any one, the powder being of poor quality, he advises the people of Middletown to come down to East Haddam and buy School Books of him, just as though they would. When Sissons of Moodus can supply the million, Attwood won't stand the ghost of a chance. Attwood says the Middletown people need School Books, perhaps they do, they know where to get them too. PUTNAM of Middletown has supplied them this ten years and intends to do so for ten years to come, and he also intends to sell lots of Books of all kinds to the East Haddam citizens, including Attwood himself. Now if our friend wants to sell cheap, let him send his orders to Putnam, who will fill them promptly, and at prices that will keep the East Haddam patronage at home. Try it Attwood before you load Pop Gun No. 4.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY, EVERY description can be had of PUTNAM the Middletown Bookseller, cheap for cash or approved credit. Ain't it so? Ask everybody. Middletown, May 13, 1859. 6

MUSIC! MUSIC!! SEND your orders to PUTNAM for Music. He has the latest and best. Middletown, May 10th, 1859. 6

Middletown Gallery of Fine Arts.

THE subscriber has removed his Gallery of Paintings, Engravings, Looking Glasses, and other materials of the Fine Arts, from his late place of business to the store under the Universalist Church, and which he has fitted up in a manner he believes acceptable to his patrons. He has just replenished his Gallery and workshop with an abundance of Engravings and Materials, which will enable him to supply all demands at such prices as cannot be surpassed in the State.

NEW FRAMES FOR PAINTINGS, Daguerreotypes, Photographs and Engravings, or re-gilding Old Frames will be promptly attended to. Frames for Photographs will be furnished at any moment upon order, cheaper and of better quality than ever before offered in Middletown.

Looking Glass Plates of the very best quality, and of all sizes, reset in any frames. Call into the store and look around, whether you purchase or not, as the Gallery is freely open to the public. The Old Stock, comprising many interesting pictures, will be sold off at a low price to make room for new supplies. EDWIN BREWER. Middletown, April 9, 1859. 1

Grover & Baker's CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

NEW STYLES—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125. EXTRA CHARGE OF $5 FOR HEMMERS.

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no re-winding of thread; they Hem, Fell, Gather and Stitch in a superior style, finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand-needle, as is required by other machine. They will do better and cheaper sewing than a seamstress can, even if she works for one cent an hour, and are, unquestionably, the best Machines in the market for family sewing, on account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing—executing either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

As evidence of the unquestioned superiority of their Machines, the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY beg leave to respectfully refer to the following TESTIMONIALS. "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and a half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed—Family Sewing."—Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent.

"I confess myself delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."—Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate.

"After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."—Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of Brooklyn Star.

"I have used a GROVER & BAKER Sewing Machine for two years, and have found it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broad-cloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch. The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."—Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, N. Y.

"Your Sewing Machine has been in use in my family the past two years, and the ladies request me to give you their testimonials to its perfect adaptability, as well as labour-saving qualities in the performance of family and household sewing."—Robert Boorman, New York.

"For several months we have used Grover & Baker's Sewing Machine, and have come to the conclusion that every lady who desires her sewing beautifully and quickly done, would be most fortunate in possessing one of these reliable and indispensable 'iron needle-women,' whose combined qualities of beauty, strength and simplicity are invaluable."—J. W. Morris, daughter of Gen. Geo. P. Morris, of the Home Journal.

Extract of a letter from Thos. R. Leavitt, Esq., an American gentleman, now resident in Sydney, New South Wales, dated Jan. 12, 1858: "I had a tent made in Melbourne in 1853, in which there were over three thousand yards of sewing done with one of Grover and Baker's Machines, and a single seam of that has outstood all the double seams sewed by sailors with a needle and twine."

"If Homer could be called up from his murky hades, he would sing the advent of Grover & Baker as a more benignant miracle of art than was ever Vulcan's smithy. He would denounce midnight shirt-making as 'the direful spring of woes unnumbered.'"—Prof. North.

"I take pleasure in saying that the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines have more than sustained my expectation. After trying and returning others, I have three of them in operation in my different places, and, after four years' trial, have no fault to find."—J. H. Hammond, Senator of South Carolina.

"My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public."—J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.

"It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good humor. Were I a Catholic, I should insist upon Saints Grover & Baker having an eternal holiday in commemoration of their good deeds for humanity."—Cassius M. Clag.

"I think it by far the best patent in use. This machine can be adapted from the finest cambric to the heaviest cassimere. It sews faster, stronger, and more beautifully than any one can imagine. If mine could not be replaced, money could not buy it."—Mrs. J. G. Brown, Nashville, Tenn.

"It is speedy, very neat, and durable in its work; is easily understood and kept in repair. I earnestly recommend this machine to all my acquaintances and others."—Mrs. M. A. Forrest, Memphis, Tenn.

"We find this machine to work to our satisfaction, and with pleasure recommend it to the public, as we believe the Grover & Baker to be the best machine in use."—Deary Brothers, Allenton, Tenn.

"If used exclusively for family purposes, with ordinary care, I will wager they will last one three score years and ten, and not get out of fix."—John Brakine, Nashville, Tenn.

"I have had your machine for several weeks, and am perfectly satisfied that the work it does is the best and most beautiful made."—Maggie Anson, Nashville, Tenn.

"I use my machine upon coats, dress-making, and fine linen stitching, and the work is admirable—far better than the best hand-sewing, or any other machine I have seen."—Lucy B. Thompson, Nashville, Tenn.

"I find the work the strongest and most beautiful I have ever seen, made either by hand or machine, and regard the Grover & Baker Machine is one of the greatest blessings to our sex."—Mrs. Taylor, Nashville, Tenn.

DR. C. D. WRIGHT, OF LEESVILLE, CONN. Member of the Analytical School of Medicine continues to apply

Dr. J. Clawson Kelley's Medicines, in the treatment of all Chronic and Acute Diseases, of Men, Women and Children.

The Analytical System, uncompromisingly opposes all mineral medicines, the deleterious practice of bleeding, and other fallacious resources of the old school or regular practice; it has asserted its superiority in the success with which it has been attended, and relies on Vegetable Remedies alone for the accomplishment of satisfactory results in the treatment of disease. In the fulfillment of its mission, the levelled dart of death for a while is turned aside, the sharp pang soothed, the fever's fire allayed, the nerves braced once more: the heart cheered again, and balmy days and soft nights imparted.

A practical proof of its efficient action, will be presented to all, who will call upon Dr. Wright.—Advice free. 8

Dental Notice. DR. S. E. SWIFT, of Colchester, at the urgent solicitation of his friends, has opened an office over J. L.
