

The Republican. LITCHFIELD: THURSDAY, December 27, 1849.

The Message. Of President Taylor, has at length been received; but too late for publication in this number. It will be given in the next.

A Speaker Elected. The long agony in Congress is over at last, and Mr. Cobb has been elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. He is a Southern Democrat, and opposed to the Wilmot Proviso.

Anniversary of the Sons of Temperance. The Third Anniversary of Bantam Division, No. 25, S. of T., will be celebrated in this village, on Saturday evening next.

Great Fire in New York. On Saturday afternoon, at a quarter before one o'clock, a fire broke out in the large establishment of Woolsey & Co., used and occupied as a sugar refinery.

Fire in Wolcottville. We learn that a fire occurred in Wolcottville, on the night of Monday, the 24th inst., by which the Woolen Factory was destroyed.

DAILY DERBY JOURNAL.—We are amazed, we are astonished, we are altogether taken by surprise! Who would have thought it, that in the commencement of the year of our Lord, 1850, a daily paper would be started in the flourishing village of Birmingham.

The Ambassadors for Nicaragua, Senor Eduardo Carache, arrived at Washington, on Friday last, and took lodgings at the National Hotel.

The Carpet Factory of Messrs. Sanford, and the Last and Peg Factory of H. Marselis, were destroyed by fire, at Amsterdam, N. Y., on Friday night last.

A severe north-wester occurred in New York, on Saturday last, by which several vessels were wrecked, and many badly chafed and damaged.

Oliver Fuller, Esq., a wealthy ship master and ship owner, died in Charleston, S. C., on Wednesday of last week.

The Revolutionists of Cuba, have arrived at Washington, where they have opened an office.

To prove Gen. Taylor's ability as a writer, his partisans asserted, during the canvass, that the courts martial upon which he served always employed him to draw up their opinions.

The great National Monument at Washington has now reached a height of 50 feet, and begins to develop itself to the eye in all the beauty of its magnificent proportions.

The Speakership. The Democrats and Whigs had separate caucuses last Wednesday, and each appointed a Committee to confer with the other, and agree upon a Speaker. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Whig party propose to the members of the Democratic party, the appointment of a Committee of six gentlemen to meet a Committee of the same number on the part of the Whig party, to consult upon and report to their respective meetings a mode of definitive organization of the House of Representatives, upon just and fair principles; and that Messrs. White of New York, Conrad of Louisiana, Brock of Kentucky, Vinton of Ohio, Stanly of North Carolina, and Ashmun of Massachusetts, be the Committee on the part of the Whigs.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting appoint six members of the Democratic party to confer with the Committee appointed by the Whig meeting, and report the result of their conference to a meeting of the Democratic party, to be held in this Hall on tomorrow night.

Done Brown. The Tribune suggests that, as there are two Browns in the House of Representatives, they should be distinguished by calling one, Governor Brown, and the other, Done Brown.

The Parkman Murder.—The Cambridge correspondent of the Springfield Republican says: "Within a few days a new fact has been brought to light, which, while it is another proof of the liberality of Boston merchants, may perhaps also be of importance in the long chain of evidence against Dr. Webster."

The late New Haven Murder.—The N. Y. Commercial says in reference to the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, that an article in Toronto Colonist, states that an American agent of police had tracked McCaffery, the supposed murderer, to some port near the mouth of the Welland Canal, on Lake Erie, and thence to Port Robinson or Danville, soon after which he lost trace of him, and supposed he had come on to Hamilton and Toronto, where and about Kingston, McC. has friends.

A Singular Case.—On Saturday last, in the District Court of Philadelphia, a rule was asked for, to show cause why a sheriff's sale should not be set aside, on the ground that the purchaser was deaf, and misunderstood the auctioneer at the time of sale.

CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES.—In 1830 12,866,020; 1840, 17,063,353. In 1850 the population of the United States 24,000,000.

Serious Railroad Accidents.—The morning train upon the Troy and Saratoga Railroad, Tuesday was proceeding at a high speed, when the "journal" of one of the cars broke, making that car turn a somersault, and throwing it with others off the track.

The Circuit Court of the District of Columbia are engaged with a case involving the right of succession to the estate of Kosciusko, which has been in litigation for many years.

Extraordinary.—On Monday afternoon, Mr. J. A. Creighton's valuable trotting horse Rabbit, got loose from his stall in the Servance stables, and fell out of a door immediately over the bluff—a distance of nearly one hundred feet perpendicular—and strange to say, is entirely unharmed from the fall; and was able to walk round to the stable immediately.

Philadelphia, Thursday, Dec. 20. This morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock, the Philadelphia Engine was taken from its house by some persons unknown, dragged to an open common near the city limits, and burned.

Great Newspaper Sale.—We learn that over 80,000 copies of the mammoth PICTORIAL BROTHER JONATHAN for Christmas and New Years were sold during the month of November, by Messrs. Wilson & Co. of New York.

Gov. Ujhazy and his Hungarian compatriots, visited Governor's Island, on Saturday morning; and were received with distinguished honors by the military. They also attended the New-England Celebration, with which they appear to be highly pleased.

Christmas. Nearly eighteen hundred and fifty years have rolled away, since the herald angel proclaimed to the humble shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem in Judea, the birth of the Messiah. He came not in his celestial effulgence to the gorgeous palace of a proud and haughty king, to announce the "glad tidings of great joy."

It becomes us, then, on this joyous occasion, to rejoice in the light of His countenance, with "great joy," which is our common privilege; for "the glad tidings of great joy, shall be to all people."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR JANUARY, 1850.—As the Editor very justly observes, we think that in this number he has reached the "summit." And that self-complacency, which is always the accompaniment and reward of good and laudable exertions, so far from savoring of vanity, is highly becoming the benevolent and accomplished Editor of the Lady's Book.

The Engravings are beyond all praise—the most splendidly beautiful of which are—the "Introduction of Christianity into Britain, A. D. 177—The Flight of Time," by Tucker—and the "Juvenile Fancy Dress Party"—highly colored.

"Our Lord Blessing Little Children"—"Our Lord Feeding the Multitude"—and the "Death Bed of the Rev. John Wesley"—are the most impressive specimens of DIACRYC Engraving on wood, (if we may be allowed to use the expression,) that we have ever seen.

It is worthy of observation, that even the graphic art, so richly developed in Godey, is capable in itself of teaching excellent lessons in Poetry, Religion, Morality, and the Arts and Sciences.

PATH-FINDER RAIL WAY GUIDE FOR DECEMBER.—We have received a copy of this useful and elegantly printed little work. It contains a fine map of New England, with all the Rail Road Routes, and a list of all the cities and towns through which they pass, together with a mass of statistical information, highly valuable to men of business and to travellers.

A Paper for Odd Fellows.—We have received from the publishers the "Gazette of the Union and Golden Rule," an old established Odd-Fellow paper, printed in New York. It contains in addition to the usual matter of a first class literary paper, all the proceedings of this wide-spread and powerful Order, and seems to us to be indispensable to every Odd-Fellow who would be well informed.

Washington's Head Quarters.—On the bluff just South of Newburg above West Point stands the old stone house occupied by Washington when in command, during the Revolution, on Hudson River.

Bank Robbery.—The Phoenix Bank in Westbury, R. I., was entered on Saturday or Sunday night last, and robbed of $15,600 in bills of the bank, of the denominations of $20s, 10s, 5s, 2s, and 1s.

William Hazard, the New Britain stage driver, who escaped with some five hundred dollars, entrusted to him to the banks in this city, has been arrested in Boston, and is now in confinement in this City. About four hundred dollars of the money have been recovered.—Courant.

We have been informed that this young man has two wives in Boston; and that he was engaged to be married to another near Boston last Tuesday, and another still in Connecticut the present week. If these statements are correct, he is a driver.

Washington's Head Quarters.—On the bluff just South of Newburg above West Point stands the old stone house occupied by Washington when in command, during the Revolution, on Hudson River.

Gen. Paex, the late Venezuelan leader, is a prisoner in the Castle of San Antonio at Cumana. The Government instructions respecting him require that he shall be kept in a close dungeon, shall be visited by one person at a time, and such person not to repeat the visit; every article taken to him shall be examined and a sentinel is always to remain in sight of him.

Middleton Rail Road.—The Contractors are closing up this work like a book. Cars will be running soon. Much credit is due the officers of the company for their spirit and efficiency.

A Pibald Negro.—There is a colored man belonging to Wilmington county, Delaware, now trading, we believe, on board of a shallop between that city and Philadelphia, who is colored both white and black. He is covered over with white spots, (as white as the fairest white man,) of the size of a dollar to several inches, and even feet, in length and breadth.

Hungarian Refugees in N. York. Ladislav Ujhazy, Civil Governor of Comorn, his wife, two daughters, and two sons, (the latter captains in the Hungarian service,) arrived at N. York, by the Hermaun, on Friday last.

A quadrangular tower, surmounted by a spire, composed of confection materials, was placed before her. At the base of the tower, cannon, muskets, balls, swords, and other military weapons were intermingled, in front of which was a striking group.

When her emotion had somewhat abated, she called for Mr. Howard, (who was close by,) and taking him by both hands, she said in her native language, "A thousand, thousand thanks for my country and unutterable gratitude for myself, to you, Mr. Howard, for this unexpected token of sympathy for the struggles of my liberty-loving but down-trodden people."

During the fête, the Heroic Military Polka coat and other martial costume, was exhibited, exciting general admiration, particularly that of the Ladies. A grand Military Parade is to come off in honor of the distinguished strangers.

Search for Sir John Franklin.—We learn that a letter has been received in this city from Lady Jane Franklin, in which she asks advice and information from the party to whom it is addressed, as to the expediency of her coming over, with a view to the arrangement of an expedition, at her own expense, for the renewal, next Spring, of the search for her lost husband.

Taxes.—According to the Connecticut Register so n. to be issued from the press, the following are the rates of taxation in the several cities of this State:

Bridgeport, 14 per cent. New Haven, 11 per cent. Hartford, 10 per cent. Norwich, 8 per cent. New London, 7 per cent. Middletown, 2 1/2 per cent.

When the infantile mind first expands, and becomes susceptible of thought, enjoyment is its predominant desire; it grows with its growth, and "strengthens with its strength. It is a second nature, implanted as it were, in man's disposition, actuating him to piety, and impelling him onward, and still onward, in a suitable preparation for eternity, and eternity's delights.

Happiness is sought through diverse means. Some endeavor to gain it by racking their brains with midnight lucubrations, exhausting their vitality in contributing to the augmentation of their immortal minds, having their eyes immovably fixed upon the sublime height of the Hill of Science, seeking its apex by traversing its obstacle-bound pathway; and if perchance, that summit is attained, happiness is as far distant, as when in infancy, they pondered over the then to the infantile mind, hopeless enterprise. Yes, education and talent are powerless to obtain happiness.

Others strive for it in the gay routine of pleasure, pursuing and practicing its deception and frivolity. But happiness attends not this course. The nearest approach to happiness which man is allowed to enjoy here upon earth, is to be derived from the contemplation of his Divine Author—from striving to imitate His virtues, and to diffuse the knowledge of His goodness, His mercy, His redeeming grace, throughout the confines of this world. And it appears, that the more effectually to exhibit the wisdom of our Omnipotent Creator, man was endowed with this faculty, (a desire for happiness,) and He has permitted us to enjoy obscure conceptions of it here; that we might with greater assiduity, labor to prepare ourselves—so to render our depraved natures conformable to His perfection, that when the pulse shall cease to beat, our souls may partake bountifully of that unalloyed happiness, envioning His beatific Throne. E.

Where, O where, does Happiness, the constant pursuit of man—the "pearl of great price"—the inciter to all noble endeavors—the object for which mankind exist, and unceasingly ply their utmost capabilities—reside? Does it inhabit the palace of that lordly one, around whom wealth lavishes its exuberance—who sways the sceptre of nations—at whose bidding mankind stand in awe, and whose slightest wish is anticipated and gratified? Behold him emaciated and care-worn; time furrowing his brow, and cursing his countenance with its indelible impressions; and his very aspect demonstrates the contrary. Affluence and authority allure not happiness, nor encompass it with their potent bands. Does it frequent the obscurity of poverty, where destitution holds sway, and stamps its impress when the morrow waits but one melancholy view of sadness and grief? Here, too, happiness is unknown. Does it environ the resorts of the profligate and dissipated? Does it dwell amid the purity and holiness of the virtuous and devout? Is it a resident of Earth? The answer is wafted from the confines of Eden—No.

When our first progenitors were prostrated in sin, it winged its flight, and abandoned earth desolate. When the infantile mind first expands, and becomes susceptible of thought, enjoyment is its predominant desire; it grows with its growth, and "strengthens with its strength. It is a second nature, implanted as it were, in man's disposition, actuating him to piety, and impelling him onward, and still onward, in a suitable preparation for eternity, and eternity's delights.

Happiness is sought through diverse means. Some endeavor to gain it by racking their brains with midnight lucubrations, exhausting their vitality in contributing to the augmentation of their immortal minds, having their eyes immovably fixed upon the sublime height of the Hill of Science, seeking its apex by traversing its obstacle-bound pathway; and if perchance, that summit is attained, happiness is as far distant, as when in infancy, they pondered over the then to the infantile mind, hopeless enterprise. West Cornwall, Dec., 1849.

Bartholomew Willard (called "Barty," for short) was a queer customer; once very well known in the north of Vermont, for his careless vagabond habits, ready wit, and remarkable facility at extempore rhyming. Sitting one day in a village store, among a crowd of idlers who always gathered about him on his arrival, the merchant asked Barty "why he always wore that shocking bad hat?" Barty replied that it was simply because he was unable to purchase a new one.

"Come," said the merchant, "make me a good rhyme on the old hat, immediately—without stopping to think—and I'll give you the bestor in the store." Whereupon Barty threw his old hat on the floor, and began:

"There lies my old hat, And pray what of that? 'Tis as good as the rest of my raiment! If I buy me a better You'll make me you debtor, And send me to jail for the payment!"

The new hat was adjudged, "by the unanimous vote of the house," to belong to Barty—who wore it off in great triumph, saying, it was but a poor head that couldn't take care of itself!

Only Half Through.—Couldn't help laughing the other day at an anecdote of a man accustomed to make long prayers, who had over persuaded a guest, greatly against his inclination, to stay to breakfast. He prayed and prayed, till his impatient guest began to think of edging away quietly and walking off, but in attempting it waked up the old man's son who was asleep in his chair.

"How soon will your father be through?" whispered the guest. "Has he got to the Jews yet?" asked the boy in reply. "No," said the other. "Well, then, he ain't half through!" answered the boy, and composed himself again to his nap.—Whereupon the guest bolted at once.

Extreme Modesty.—The Pittsburg Saturday Visitor tells a story of two trim ladies who entered a complaint against a neighbor for bathing in a stream five hundred yards from their door, and when asked how they could recognize him as that distance, replied, "Oh, we used a spy glass!" A great deal of what passes for modesty in this "great country" is of the quality of that exhibited by those trim ladies.

The N. Haven Journal states, that a distinguished officer of the H. & N. H. Railroad, who arrived here in the cars from New York, was generally offered a FREE CARRIAGE FOR THE CANAL ROAD to the Hudson's Lot—but he didn't accept.
