The First Shot

An Incident Before the War of 1812.

On a bright, sunny day, in the su of 1806' three British, war vessels, the Leander, the frigate Cambria, and the gun brig Driver, lay in New York harbor .-Capt. Whithy, the commander of the Leander, having lost a number of men by deserions, determined to supply their places by the impressment of sailors found on board of merchant vessels coming into port. Thorougholy imbued with the vanity, arrogance and hatred of America, so common e Britsh naval officers of that period, and backed by the pretensions of the Lords of the admirality, he searched every American vessel that came in his way, impressed our seaman, and laughed at the remonstrances

On the day alluded to, a fine merchant brig, manned entirely by American seaman entered the port, and Captain Whitby de-termined to overhaul her. A signal was made to her to come to, but no reply was made to her from the brig, which kept on her course. With compressed lips and darkening brows, the sailors on board deliberated whether they would fight the vasily disproportionate force of the enemy, or within their own seaport to submit to the insult. This delay in oleying their commands greatly incensed the Brtions.

Bring the d—d yankee too, if you have to sink him, sung out the Capt. Whitby to the gunner.

'Aye, aye, sir,' was the response, and the next moment a gun, loaded with ball, was pointed and fired.

The shot hit the merchantman on the taffrail and quarter rail, and the splinters flew in all directions. One noble tar, named Pierce, was struck on the neck by a splinter, and had his neck near torn from his body. His death shriek was heard far around, as looking up to his country's flag, as if asking its protection, he fell back and expired.

The sudden commotion in the merchantman, caused by the murderous shot, was observed by Capt. Whitby, and tho' ignorant of the amount of mischief done, he permitted the brig to land without further molestation, at the Fly Market. The news of this atrocious attack spread like wild fire through the city. All classes became excited, and an immense crowd gathered on the wharf. A procession was formed, and the body of the murdered seaman was taken the old City Hall, where the Custom House now stands. On the following morning it was attended to the grave by a vast body of citizens, many of whom wore Trade and Sailor's rights." at was sent ashore to procure a supply of meat. Knowing the ill feeling entertained towards the British, the boat was manned by twenty picked men, under the charge of daring young lieutenant named Roberts. On reaching the shore a small party was left to take charge of the boat, while the others started up town for the beef. It was readily procured and borne rapidly towards the boat. As yet they had met no opposition, and they were sanguine of getting safely on board, when they were met a few blocks from the shore by an old Quaker, who addressed Robert with-

· Friend, the had better escape quickly, or it will be worse for thee.'

"Let the dogs meddle with us at their peril,' was the reply of Roberts, then ad-dressing his men, he bade them stand firmly together. On reaching the wharf, they found the boat surrounded by a large and excited crowd, who made no sign of making a passage for Roberts and his

Mitchell, a young fellow strong as Hercules, and fearless as a lion dashed into the melee. Sam. struck the sword from the grasp of the British officer, then seizing him by the body, dashed him to the earth— Sam's comrades were equally busy, and though the sallors fought well, they were soon dreadfully beaten. What report Lieut. Roberts made of his dventure is not known, but neither Capt. Whitby or his officers ever thought it prudent to come on shore in daylight, and the land, minus beef. What this testimony was, has never transpired, but it must have been good, since somebody wears a splendid gold watch therefor, which is still kept as an heirloom in the family.

Mind over Matter.

Mind is immaterial, and matter, material. Then as the immaterial is superior to the material, so is mind to matter. It does indeed. appear absurd in the extreme, that any intelligent person should for an instant conceive a contrary idea-but so it is. Man is a strange animal; ever seeking something new, on which to feast his fancy, however ridiculous it may be, if it only possesses the shadow of intricacy, and is calculated to "take," even with a gullible few. This, then, is the apparent cause why there are those found that advocate the superiority of matter over mind, and other equally nonsensical notions, which, even, in a less enlightened age would have been an index, of at least, a very ordinary intellect. It would, and I speak it with all reverence, be nearly as preposterous for one to say, that man, is superior to his Maker, as to descend a step lower, and say that

mind! - Antoine Artoise.

Good Seciety. It should be the aim of young men to go into good society. We do not mean the rich, the proud and fashionable, but the society of the wise, the intelligent and good. Where you find men that know nore than you do, and from whose conversation one can gain information, it is always safe to be found. It has broken down many a man by associating with the low and vulgar—where the ribald song was inculcated-and the indecent story, to excite laughter, and influence the bad passions .-Lord Clarendon has attributed his success and happiness in life, to associating with persons more learned and virtuous than himself. If you wish to be wise and respected-if you desire happiness and not misery, we advise you to associate with the intelligent and the good. Strive for menmourning badages, with the motto "Free tal excellence and strict integrity, and you never will be found in the sinks of pollu-About two weeks after this, the English tion, and on the benches of the retailers and gamblers. Once habituate yourself to good society, and no punishment would be greater than by accident to be obliged for half a day to associate with the low and vulgar.

Roses .- The rose, in all countries and in il times, has been held as the queen of flowers. The name, as it comes to us, is from the Greek rodon; it has relation to the color, red. The Greeks took their impression of the rose, and all matters of taste in the vegetable kingdom, from the Egyp-tians, Persians, and other nations of Asia. Everywhere it is the type of beauty and love. The Greeks had more taste than imagination, and they found in their beautiful fables the luxuriant growth of Oriental fancy. They have this tradition. The God of Love made a present to Harbocrates the God of Silence, of a beautiful rose, the first that had been known, to engage him not to discover any of the secrets of his mother, Venus; and hence it has become a custom to have a rose placed in their rooms of mirth and entertainment, that under the assurance thereof they might lay aside all restraint, and speak what they pleased. Thus did the rose become a symbol of silence, and sub rosa, under the rose denote as much as to be out of danger of any disclosure, In India, and other portions of the East, the rose was commingled with sentiment and song. Its beauty had it for the sweetest of nature's music, and hence the Nightingale was married to the Rose Flowers are delightful to all. The tasteful Athenians, who had a market for the sale of them, were obliged to pass sumptuary laws to restrain the extravagance of purchasers. Such was the passion over every mind in the East for flowers, that from them has been made a universal language of friendship, affection and love. It is one of no difficult acquirement, and fragments have been diffused far and wide. Roses are orornaments of the altar of Hymen, while vases of lilies are placed up on the grave of threw it on shore, and trampled it under vases of lilies are placed up on the grave of foot. A JOURNAMMAN PRINTER in Boston

Mrs. Swisshelm on Marriage.

Marriage in our opinion, is a uni which would every hour be renewed by the free will of both parties, provided the state every hour annulled it. Whenever, two are really weary of each other, they are no longer married; and no body can marry them-no combinations of men can reward of $500 offered by Mr. Jefferson, marry them. It is a base prostitution of for the capture of Captain Whitby induthe name and object of marriage to bine marry them. It is a base prostitution of ced him in a few weeks to return to Eng- two to live together contrary to the will of each. Nor can we see how society can demand of the President, by a naval court possibly be benefitted by an arrangement martial for his conduct, but the testimony which compels the semblance of marriage,

> Many are of the opinion that if it were not for the stringency of the civil law, nearciety go into choos. We have no such no tion. If a proclamation were made to-day declaring every marriage in the Union null and void, and leaving it once more to the choice of parties whether the relations be renewed, business would be suspended. newspapers would stop, stores, factories and workshops would close. The printers would all be at home, getting their "works" re-bound; merchants, operators and me-chanics would be each awaiting their turn to have the nuptial knot re-tied. Cross fretful and sickly wives that had been almost felt a burden before, would grow very dear once more, from the thought of separation. Domineering, harsh husbands would be forgiven; and in all cases where a spark of conjugal love remained, it would be blown to a flame-where nothing but dead embers are the ashes would be taken up, made into soap, and society cleansed therefrom.

How often do circumstances of adversi ty throw around the spirit a withering influence! How often do they draw from us reproaches, and not having a submissive will, discontent plants itself in the breast, excluding every good which might flow from their mission and object l Many are the shadows that flit across the herizon of earthly happiness. There does shine a star-there does speak a still, small voice, to light the gloom, and minister comfort.

There is a balm for every pain, an haven where the sorrowing may find relief.— Though our lot be cast where the glimmer of prosperity may never reach us, yet may we find the pure sunshine of an approving conscience, with not a cloud to intercept. and where the pathway of our pilgrimage than 2,000,000 of inhabitants. Nothing is Lost. The drop that mingles with the floor the sand dropped on the seashors—the word you have spoken, will not be lost.— Each will have its influence and be felt, till time shall be no more. Have you ever thought of the effect that might be produced by a single word? Drop it pleasantly among a groupe, and it will make a dozen happy, to return to their homes and produce the same effect on a hundred, perduce the same effect on a hundred, perhaps. A bad word may arouse the indignation of a whole neighborhood; it may spread like wild-fire, to produce disastrous effects. As no word is lost—be careful how how you speak—speak right—speak kindly. The influence you may exert by a life of kindness—by words dropped in season, among the young and the old—is incalculable. It will not case when your incalculable. It will not cease when you bodies lie in the grave; but will be felt, wider and still wider, as year after year passes away. Who then will not exert himself for the welfare of millions?

Love of Children.

Tell me not of the trim, precisely aranged homes where there are no children; where," as the good German has it, "the fly traps always hang straight on the wall," tell me not of the never disturbed nights and days, of the tranquil, unanxious hearts, where children are not! I care not for these things. God sends us children for where children for these things. God sends us children for these things. God sends us children for another purpose than merely to keep up the race—to enlarge our hearts, to make us unselfish, and full of kindly sympathies and affections; to give our soule higher aims, and to call out all our faculties; to extend enterprise and exertion; to bring round our fireside bright faces and happy smiles, and loving, tender hearts. My soul blesses the on shore, and strike up Yankee Doodle. From the Model Ameritan Courier. Easy Stages to Fortune. A young English lad arrived in Philadelphia with only a few steel pens for his stock in trade, found it no easy matter to make a living from the sale of them in this city alone. Accordingly he visited New-York, Boston, and other neighboring cities, where he in time, accumulated sufficient to stock a small store. On being asked how he managed to prosper so, he rephied, "By stock a small store. On being asked how he managed to prosper so, he replied, "By simply minding my own business. For instance, in ordinary cases, the travelling expenses between those places would have been very heavy, but with me they were quite light. The plan I adopted was this; I considered it my business to get into the cars; presently the conductor came round to collect the tickets or fare, the both of which I was minus. Consequently his buwhich I was minus. It is doubtful whether the vacancy in the 4th district of Massachusetts will be filled at all. Already there have been several trials without suc cess. Total number of members when the House is full, 231. In the last Congress, 231. Wisconsin then sent only two members, whereas now it sends three. Leaving that district out of the account, there is nominally a Democratic majority of two. in the House.

Could I be mistaken? Ho came he here? Has he escaped hanging? I knew him well, at Waterville—and if this is not him, then I never saw the man! Funeral of the Heroes.

The New York Herald of Nov. 16, says, one of the grandest funeral pageants ever exhibited on the stage of this world, passed through our city yesterday. It was in honor of all that remains of Gen. Worth, Col. Dunean, and Maj Gates, brave heroes of the Mexican war.

When Col. Webb receives his outfit to Vienna he can pay a small per centage on the $52,000 loan he obtained from the late U. S. Bank. Some of the" poor widows and orphans" who owned stock in that institution would like a few coppers from the "great plenipotentiary."

The office of the Camden Bank, in Phile delphia, was robbed on Saturday of $5,208 in notes of that institution.

Thanksgiving.

Gratitude is one of the most delightful emo-tions of the soul. And it is more especially sowhen exercised towards the bountiful Giver of every "good and perfect gift." Hence the peculiar propriety of setting apart one day in the year for the express purpose of rendering praise and thanksgiving to God. What a blessed employment it is, to contemplate His merciful dealings, and to recount His innumerable favors for the year that is past! And if we would humbly hope for their continuance, let us be imbued with a spirit of heaven-born charity, and as far as in us lies, minister to the wants and necessities of our fellow-creatures.

The Next Congress.

Some of the members of the next Congress have already arrived at Washington. Congress will soon assemble at the Capital; and we have reason to anticipate an important and interesting session. One thing is certain, that the Democrats will have the ascendancy in both Houses; and no Whig measure can be carried, unless the dominant party choose to vote for it. Whether any compromise will be made, remains yet to be seen. The President will of course recommend to Congress, in his Message, what steps to take; but if he should urge in too strong terms, the claims of his party, for the carrying out of their principles, ne will be sure to bring down upon himself the 2 strong opposition of the Democratic members of Congress. And it may not seem altogether right to tie his hands. We rather think, he will endeavor to steer between two extremes ; and neither recommend measures that are strictly Democratic, nor exclusively Whig-

Monday next, the 3d of December, is the time appointed for the meeting of Congress .-The Free Soilers will have the balance of power in the House. Yet, we think, there are as many Free Soil Democrats as Whigs, in that body; and still insist upon it, that Congress is Democratic to the very letter.

Mississippi Election.

The Democratic gain in this State is almost without a parallel. Since the late Presidential Election, it has augmented, in round numbers, to nearly 9,000!

Another important particular will be noticed by our friends, as a cause of sincere gratulation; and that is—the Legislature is strictly Democratic. Consequently, this will give us an additional Senator in Congress.

BROTHER JONATHAN CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS PICTORIAL We have recived from Wilson & Co, New York, an early copy of their double-mammeth PICTORIAL BROTHER JONATHAN for the Holidays. We may safely say that it is the richest and best pictorial paper ever issued from their press. It is indeed a rare effort of genius, and nobody will be disappointed who sends for a copy. The grand feature of the paper is an Engraving of enormous size which will astonish every body, entitled The Pleasures, Follies and Miseries of Christmas in New York." This engraving is near four feet long by 35 inches wide, and is beautifully executed. A spirited group of Portraits of " General Taylor and his Cabinet" occupies the principal part of the first page of the paper and a grand tableau of Dr. Frankin's Maxims fills the last page. Obituary. HON, JOHN C. LEWIS.

This upright and distinguished fellow-citi-zen died at New Haven, on Tuesday evening the 20th of November inst.

For a long time, he had suffered from a pain ful and dangerous tumer in his thigh, which induced him to submit to a surgical operation The Surgeons of New Haven, who have ac quired a high reputation for skill in their profession, removed the tumor, and the pain was greatly relieved, so that strong hopes were en tertained of his recovery. Indeed, he had made preparations to return to his home in Plymouth, deeming that it would be perfectly safe and prudent for him to do so; when he was unfortunately taken with bleeding, and died of the hemorrage, (which could not be stopped,) in a short time.

Mr. Lewis was Speaker of the late House of Representatives of this State, in which responsible station, he acquitted himself with great ability, and to the perfect satisfaction of members of both parties. In politics, he was not a violent partizan, but a man of sound judgment and unblemished integrity of character. He exhibited great patience under affliction and an energy and perseverance which few men in his situation, would be capable of exer-

Curious Developments of Crime.

The evidence produced, upon the pursuit and arrest of the Drurya, father and son, a man of large wealth and seeming respectability, a private banker, withal, shows how crime can be pursued systematically as a business, with what degree of impunity, but at what ultimate risks. A nearly similar case has occurred in White Plains, Westchester Co. For the last twelve or fifteen years a man has resided there by the name of Nelson Putney. He was originally a schoolmaster; but getting a little money together he built a large house and had lately kept a number of boarders.— The was religious outwardly, punctual in money matters, and apparently rich.

On Wednesday last however, he was detected in the night in stealing grain from a neighbor's barn;

A large share of the property was identified by the several owners—the remainder Putney has since separated and parcelled out to those from whom he stole them.

The Post Ofice Department.—It is stated in a Washington letter published in the Philadelphia Pannsylvania, that the department was never before in so favorable a condition, financially. There remains now undrawn, appropriations in the treasury to nearly haif a million of dollars, applicable to the wants of the department granted on account of the Congressional free matter, and for foreign mail service; and at the end of the fiscal year, 30th June 1850, there will be upwards of $665,000 for the same service. Not a dollar has been drawn from the Treasury the present year on this or any other account, nor will there be a cent; and on the 80th of June next, the surplus on hand, it is estimated, with the amount in the Treasury, will seach nearly a million of dollars. The lamented Col. Duncan, of the U. States Army, had drilled his men to such per fection in light artillery exercise, and to such celerity of movement, that, it is stated on good authority, on one occasion when his guns were under their sheds, the horses of the light battery in their stalls, and the harnesses hanging up, he accomplished the feat of harnessing moving his guns 200 yards, forming in battery, and firing a round, in one minute and a half from the bugle call, " to horse !" such was the exact division of labor, and activity, in his troop. And "ugly customers" they were, on the battle-fields of Mexico. -[N. H. Register.

ENEMIES-Have you enemies? Go straight on and mind them not. If they block up your path, walk round them, and do your duty regardless of their spite. A man who has got no enemies is seldom good for anything—he is made of that kind of material which is so easily worked, that every one has his hand in it. A sterling character, one who thinks for himself, and speaks what he thinks, is always sure to have enemies. They are necessary to him as fresh air ; they keep him alive and active. A celebrated character who was surrounded by enemies used to remark : " They are sparks which if you do not below, will go out of themselves." Let this be your feeling while endeavoring to live down the scandal o those who are bitter against you; do but as they desire, and open the way for more abuse .-Let the poor fellows talk-there will be a reactien, if you preform your duty, and hundreds who were once alienated from you, will flock to you and acknowledge their error.

Ever known: it not only purifies the whole system, and strengthens the person, but it creates new, pure and rich blood: a power possessed by no other mediotics. And in this line the grand secret of its wonderful success: 4 has performed within the last two years, more than 100,000 cures of swere cases of disease; at least 15,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 10,000 children during the two past scasous.

Dr. Tow cond's Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system assumently. To those who have lost their muscular energy by the effects of medicine or indiscretion committed in youth, or the excessive indulgance of the passions, and brought on a general physical prostration of the nervous system, lassitude, want of ambition, fainting sensations, premature decay and decline, hasten as towards that fatal discuse, Consumption, can be enurely restored by this pleasant remedy. EPITTING BLOOD.

Dr. Townsend—I verily believe that your Sarsaparille has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad Cough. It became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantises of blood, had night Sweats, and was greatly debilitated and reduced, and did not expect to live. I have only used your Sarsaparille a short time, and there has a wonderful change been wrought in me. I am now able to walk all over the city. I raise no blood, and my cough has left me. You can well imagine that I am sankful for these results.

Your obsciicut servant.

Female Medicine.

Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy care for Incipient Coust seption, Barrenness, Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb, Costiveness, Piles, Leucorrhea, or Whites, obstructed or difficult Monstructon. Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the systemno matter whether the result of inherent cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Parsons all weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once become, robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the aervolessness of the female frame, which is the great cause of Barranness. It will not be expected of us, in cass of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed but we can assure the afflicted, and or using a few bottles of this invaluable medicine, have been blessed with fine, healthy offspring.

To Mothers and Married Ladies.

This Extract of Sarsaparilla his been expressly prepared in reference to female complaints. No female who has reason to suppose she is approaching that revical period. "The turn of tipe." should neglect to te it, as it is a certain preventive for any of the merous and horrible diseases to which females are bloct at this time of life. This period may be denged for accord years by using this medicine. Nor it less valuable for those who are approaching wo-sanbood, as it is calculated to assist nature, by quickening the blood and invigorating the system. Indeed, this medicine is invaluable for all the delicate diseases to which women are subject.

It braces the whole system, renews permanently the natural energies, by removing the impurities of the body, not so far stimulating as to produce subsequent relaxation, which is the case of most medicines taken for relaxation, which is the case of most medicines taken female weakness and discuse. By using a few bottles this medicine, many severs and painful aurgical opertions may be prevented.

Great Blessing to Mothers and Children, It is the safest and most effectual medicine for purify-ing the system, and relieving the sufferings attendant upon child-birth ever discovered. It strengthens both upon child-birth ever discovered. It strengthens both he mother and child, prevents pain and discase, increases and enriches the food, those who have used it think it is indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents diseases attendant upon childbirth—in Costiveness, Piles, Cramps, Swelling of the Feet. Despondency, Heartbun, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, False Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation it has no equal. The great beauty of this medicine is, it is always asfe, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require any other medicine, in some a little Castor Oil, or Magnesia, is useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always ensure a safe and easy confinement.

useful. Exercise in the open air, and light food with this medicine, will always ensure a sufe and casy confinement.

Beauty and Health.

Cosmetics, Chalk, and a variety of preparations generally in use, when applied to the face, very soon spoil it of its beauty. They close the pores of the skin, and check the chreulation, which, when nature is not thwarfed by disease or powder, or the skin inflamed by the silkalies used in soaps, beautifies its own production in the "human face Divine," as well as in the garden of rich and delicately tinted and arricgated flowers. A free, active and healthy circulation of the fluids, or the coursing of the pure, rich blood to the extremities, is that which paints the countenance in the most exquisite beauty. It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flashes of loveliness that all admire, but mose can describe. This beauty is the offipring of nature—not of powder or seed. If there is not a free and healthy circulation, there is no beauty. If the lady is fair as driven mow, if she paint, and use cosmetic, and the blood is thick, coid and impure, she is not beautiful. If she be brown or yellow, and there is pure and active blood, it gives a rich bloom to the checks, and a drillinery to their eyes that is fascinating.

This is why the southern, and especially the Spanish ladies, are a much admired. Ladies in the north was take but little exercise, or are confined in close boms, or lave spoiled their complexion by the application of deleterious mixtures, if they wish to regain elasticity of step, buoyant spirits, sparkling eyes and beautiful complexions, they should use Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, have havaisally called their stuff age. Townsend says I have sold the use of my mane for 37 a week. I will give him $500 if he will produce one single solitary proof of this. His statements of Thompson, Stillman & Co., are nothing but a tissue of falsehoods simply made to deceive the public, and keep the truth down in regard to his souring, fermanting compound. This is to caution the public to purchase none but Old Dr. JACOH Townsend's Sayaparilla, having on it the Old Dector's likeness, his family Coat of Arms, and his signature across the Coat of Arms.

THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERER OF THE GENUIDE TOWNSEND SATSAPATHIA.
Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of see, and has long been known as the AUTHOR and DISCOVERER of the G BN UINE ORIGINAL "TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA." Being poor, he was compelled to limit its manufacture, by which means it has been kept out of market, and the sales circumscribed to those only who had proved its worth, and known its value. It had scached the ears of many, nevertheics, as those persons who had been healed of sore diseases, and saved from death, pruclaimed its weatherful manufactured out the largues scene and the substantial of the inner grant out the length and headth of the land, especially as it is found incapable of destruction or deterioration.

Unlike young S. P. Tewnsond's, it improves with age, and never changes but for the better: because it is perpared on actentific principles by a scientific num. The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latest discoveries of the art, have all been brought into requisition in the manufacture of the Old Dr's Sarsaparilla. The Sarsaparilla roof, it is well known to medical men, contains many medicin properties, and some properties which are inert or useless, and others, which if retained in preparing it for use, produce fermentation and acid, which is injurious to the systen. Some of the properties of Sarsaparilla are so volatile that they entirely evaporate and are lost in the preparation, if they are not preserved by a scientific process, known only to those experienced in its manufacture. Moreover,
then volatile principles, which it all its value.

Any person can boil or siew the root till they gat a dark colored liquid, which is more from the coloriug matter in the root than from anything else; they can then strain tha insipid or vapid liquid, sweaten with sour molasses, and then call it "SARSAPARILLA EXTRACT or SYRUP"

This is so prepared that all the inett properties of the Sarsaparilla root are first remeved, everything capable of becoming acid or fermentation is extracted and rejected;
then every particle of medical virtue is secured in a pursend concentrated form; and thus it is rendered incapable of losing any of its valuable and healing properties. Frepared in this way, it is made the most powerful agent in the Curre of Immunerable Discasses.

Hence the reason why we hear commendations on every side in its favor by med, women, and children. We find it doing wonders in the curr of

But can any of these things be said of S. P. Townsend's inferior article ? This young man's liquid is not to be COMPARED WITH THE OLD DR'S, because of one GRAND FACT, that the one is INCAPA. BLE of DETERIORATION, and while the other DOES: souring, forme and blussing the bottlee containing it into fragments, the sour, asid liquid axploding, and damaging other goods! Must not the horrible compound be poisonous to the system 1—1162! put acid into a system aready diseased with acid? What causes Dyspepsia but acid? and yet he would fain have it understood that Old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Genusic Original Surseparilla, is an IM-ITATION of his inferior preparation!!

Heaven forbid that we should deal in an article which would bear the most distant resemblance to S. P. Townsend's gratical!

Harton of his more than the should deal in an art would bear the most distant resemblance, to S. send's article!

We wish it understood, because it is the about that S. P. Townsend's article and old Dr. Jacob T Sansparilla are heaven wide apart, and infinite day; that they are unlike in every particular, one single thing in common.

As S. P. Townsend is no dector, and never chemist, no pharmacculist—known no more of a disease than any other common, unaclessifie, unpman, what guadrantee san the public he we than a caiving a genuine acientific medicine, containing times of the articles used in preparing it, and we capable of changes which might render them the O Bissonse instead of health?

But what else should be expected from one worthing comparatively of medicine or disease? a person of some experience to cook and serve
