The Trent Affair.

The English papers, that were so furious for war with America, appear of late to have become very much toned down. They are beginning to hope that President Lincoln will yield, or at the most that he will consent to an arbitration of the case.

The noisy brawlers, both in lace and rags, who are represented by the London Times, have learned that there is a large body of thinking, reasoning people in England, who are not disposed to rush that country into a war without a just cause. They fear also, that the French Emperor may take advantage of such a war, not merely to push forward his scheme of enlarging the influence of France in Europe, but of striking at the vitals of England herself when her weaker side shall be most exposed. The blusterers further find that, distracted as the United States may be, it is still in their power to inflict incalculable injury upon British in the Fall. They try the experiment again

This characteristic selfishness of the British aristocracy is doubtless the sole cause of the recent change of tone in their organs. But as yielded to the British demand, they will again become as insolent as ever. They will never become civil again until we have subdued the rebels, and once more presented a united front to them and the rest of mankind. May this be not long hence, is the ardent prayer of every

New Tricks of the "Peace" Democracy. Mr. LL. D. Russell writes to the London nes that the American Union is not only d vided, but that the North is also rent in twain by two parties, namely, the abolitionists and Hartford Press of the 10th says those who are not. This statement all intelligent men know to be false. Nevertheless, the course of the Democratic press is well calculated to give this impression to such men as Russell, and to Europeans generally, Now, every intelligent American knows that there are no such divisions at the North as have been repremented. There are unquestionably differences of opinion on all questions of public policy, as well as upon questions of theology and agriculture-but no such differences as these Democratic organs would have Europe believe to be

Mr. Russell should understand that it is only the old cat in the meal that he sees-the same old PEACE cat that was so scared with the sight of Fort Lafayette. It is now crying "abolition-abolition-abolition!"-and a stranger, who did not understand the trick, would suppose that the North was all at variance on the he operated. He has, also, a large number of question of slavery!

WEIGHT OF A MILLION DOLLARS IN GOLD. To the question "what is the weight of a mil-lion dollars in gold?' an officer of the mint answers as follows: The weight of one million dollars United States currency in gold, is 53,-750 troy ounces. This makes 4,479 pounds 2 or nearly two tons and a quarter, reckoning 2,000 pounds to each ton. As weighty as it is, no doubt if the amount were offered to any body who could lift it, enough persons would be found ready to break their necks in the vain attempt.

The Republican Convention.

The Republican State Convention, to which loval men of all parties have been invited, will meet in Hartford to-morrow, for the purpose of

State officers. The late Union Convention, having, with de cided liberality, nominated three out of five of interest to be determined by the Republican Convention, is that of adopting or rejecting the two Union candidates. It is a delicate matter in some respects. The present Lieutenant Gov. ernor and Treasurer, are men of high character, loval and true to the country, and have been but one year in office. In that period they have discharged their public duties with fidelity to the State and nation. There is, therefore no more reason for changing them, than for changing any other portion of the ticket. This is one view of the case. The other is, that party ties are generally giving away throughou the country to national bonds-that this principle of concession to the patriots of all parties is acknowledged in the Republican call itself, which invites all the loyal people to assemble and appoint delegates, &c., thereby implying, in some degree, a new ticket in whole or i part, or something else than a strict Republican ticket. So much, then, in regard to the design of the call of the State Committee. Now as to the effect of remodeling our State ticket, we think it would have been desirable to put at least two Democrats upon it, even if there had been no Union Convention to indicate a prefer ence of names. But as there has been such a Convention, this fact alone should settle the whole question, painful as may be the sacrifice of the personal feelings of our candidates and their be an act of patriotism to omit them, it ought find one from Connecticut. to be inferred that the same feelings will make them not only ready but willing to be sacrificed. Indeed, it has been reported that one of our cancandidates, whose name was omitted from the

The prophets of an advance of the army are very numerous. The general sentiment is that we are upon the eve of important events. Mr. Lincoln does not hesitate to tell his friends that he expected those events to occur a month ago. It takes much longer to prepare a coast expedition than people who do not understand such matters suppose. To concentrate 25,000 men at Annapolis or Fortress Monroe for such an expedition occupies weeks, if not months. The preparation for an advance by a column of 80 or 100,000 men takes many weeks. Such has been the case in Kentucky, where an advance ments which could not easily be overcome.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that the chang e in the Cabinet is due entirely to the Pres dent, and that no one was more surprised that a Secretary Cameron himself, on hearing of the change It is said in political circles that other changes will follow, and Secretary Well' is is particularly lumbia, South Carolina. spoken of, but the country narry be assured that no clamor stimulated by the present event will do anything toward the e complishment of fur-

At a meeting of the Republican Electors of Milford, held at to neir hall on Monday evening the 13th inst., Ho n. Asa M. Train was chosen Chairman, and H. C. Platt delegates to the Senatorial Convention.

Great expectations are entertained of the Union army in Kentucky, under command of Gen Buell. He has 114,000 men, of whom 11,000 are cavalry and 3,000 artillery with over 100 cannon. About 75,000 are fit for the field, and the remainder is kept for guarding railroads, bridges, &c. We have long been expecting to hear of lively times in Kentucky.

E. S. Cleveland has received a letter from John L. Swift, Esq., of Boston, one of the ablest public speakers in New England, stating that he intends to spend Thursday in Hartford, and we trust the Convention to be held on that day will be favored by his presence.
