Forever that standard sheet! Where Freedom's banner streams o'er us!

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET. WILLIAM A. BUCKINGHAM, of New Britain, FOR GOVERNOR. ROGER AVERILL, of Danbury, FOR SECRETARY.

Loyalty of Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Press, of the 21st, says that the State of Pennsylvania having exceeded her quota of troops to the General Government, is now willing to place at its disposal, within the next ten days, a complete division of soldiers; in other words, to rendezvous at Philadelphia nine new regiments of infantry and one new regiment of cavalry.

The New London Star says, an Artillery company is to be formed there, to whom the Governor is to furnish two rifled brass six-pouner stiers.

THE BURIAL PLACE OF SOLDIERS.—The U. S. Commission has endeavored to obtain information by which the place of burial of the volunteers who have been killed in battle, or who have died in hospitals, may be established.

Correspondence of the Palladium. NEW YORK, JAN. 21, 1862. MESSRS. EDITORS: The army news from various quarters is highly exhilarating here to all classes, as I suppose it is to all true friends of self-government everywhere.

A Massachusetts Episode. An extraordinary "little scrimmage" on paper has been going on for some time between Gov. Andrew of Massachusetts and Gen. Butler, regarding their rights concerning the raising of troops.

On account of its being placed in the hands of the printer, there was no time to copy it in season for this evening's paper. Portions of it are quite spicy.

In one instance Butler returned a letter to Andrew because he thought it was not directed so as to specify Butler's rank as Commander of the N. E. Division.

Mexican Affairs. The Columbia from Havana, the 18th, brings Mexican news to the 11th. Vera Cruz is surrounded inlandward, and almost besieged by the Mexicans.

The English, French and Spanish flags wave over the castle, the French and English flags having arrived. Gen. Prim was also at Vera Cruz.

Life in a Tobacco Factory. Rev. J. F. Mines, chaplain of the Second Maine Regiment, who was taken prisoner at Bull Run, and for many months confined at Richmond, will deliver a lecture entitled "Life in a Tobacco Factory," before the Institute in this city, the Institute in New Haven, at Middletown and New Britain, and in any other towns where individuals or societies may wish to engage him.

The Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye tells of a lady in that vicinity who, by marriage, has got herself into "the following" distressing situation in regard to her own family. She is sister-in-law to her father, sister to her brothers, daughter to her grandfather, and great aunt to her own children.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

John B. Gough. To-night, at Music Hall, Mr. Gough, the great temperance lecturer, delivers his interesting address entitled, "Here and There in Britain." He will undoubtedly have a full house.

Accident. Mr. John H. Lee, of this city, slipped on the sidewalk in East Haven, yesterday afternoon, breaking his right arm in the fall. His left arm has been twice broken already, the last time only a few weeks since. He seems to be very unfortunate in that way.

Herrmann. Our readers must not forget that the great "Prestidigitateur" and most wonderful wizard, gives one last entertainment at Music Hall tomorrow evening, when he will introduce many new and astonishing tricks. Those who have seen him once will wish to go again, and those who have not seen him will be certain to be "on his ad."

Dr. Briggs. Wm. W. Bacon, Esq., well known by our citizens as perfectly reliable, and one who would not be deceived by any sort of "humbug," publishes the following card: Doct. Briggs, the celebrated "Surgeon Chiropractor" of New York, who is stopping for a brief period at the "New Haven Hotel," having successfully, expeditiously, and without pain, or disagreeable sensation, eradicated a number of corns from my feet, and, having also, operated for my family, I cheerfully give my testimony to numerous others in his possession, his skill in practically demonstrating what he professes.

Drafting. We were mistaken in our statement a few days since, regarding the fine to be paid by any person who may be drafted, but do not choose to go to render himself liable to active service. Below we give the section of the act applying to this subject:

Sec. 10. When at all necessary to make a draft for the purpose specified by the preceding section, or to fill up any military or naval unit, the commanding officer shall issue his order to the selectmen of any town, ward, or village, who shall thereupon proceed to designate by lot, from the names of the persons liable to be drafted, such persons as shall be necessary to fill up such unit, unless he shall within five days, prove to such selectmen that he has a sufficient number of volunteers to fill up such unit, in which case he shall be exempt from draft, as aforesaid, until the prescribed number is complete, and thereafter forthwith make report of their duty to the commanding officer.

F. G. Buckingham has not removed his residence to Hartford, as has been reported, but has a son-in-law there with whom he carries on his business.

The New London Star says, an Artillery company is to be formed there, to whom the Governor is to furnish two rifled brass six-pouner stiers.

The Draft of Militia Service.

Drafting is of such unusual occurrence in this country that very few persons are informed as to the real obligations imposed by such a measure. The Norwich Bulletin, which is good authority, says:

The movement to fill up the ranks of the active militia, as provided for by the last Legislature, has created considerable stir in the community, and given rise to not a few unfounded rumors. An impression seems to prevail among a portion of the people that the men thus drafted are to be sent off at once to the war, or to be filled up the regiments now preparing to take the field.

"Dear Sister Cowles, as I was in New Haven a few weeks ago, to my surprise Mr. Carr the Marshal, spoke to me concerning a letter that he had received from you. He thought that I could understand it, as I was about as deranged as she?" (me) David I now plead with you sincerely and earnestly to point out anything in the letters that appears like the writings of a Deranged person, you know enough about the Holy (writing) Bible to know that Eighteen Hundred Year's ago a person called Satan came to please with Sinners to turn from their evil (wicked) ways, and man called that person a Blasphemer the same as you call me a Deranged person, I can see plainly that you are not deranged, but you are blinded through the Devises of Satan And it is not a derang'd person that now informs you that Satan and all his work's must be destroy'd, And a Government that is as Cruel as this Government, it is Truly one of Satan's Dominion's and must be destroyed.

Those who have been drafted will bear in mind that they are allowed five days in which to show cause to the Selectmen why they should not be called into service.

Meriden Militia. Capt. Brannan who had command at Key West at the commencement of the rebellion, and saved his Fort from the traitor's hands on his own hook, has been made General and appointed to the command of the newly created Southern Military Department which includes all the keys or islands, as well as the mainland, between Cape Canaveral on the Atlantic coast and Florida (near Lat. 29.) around by and including Key West and Tortugas and all the other keys along the southerly and westerly coast of that State as far as Apalachicola, on the Gulf of Mexico.

Messrs. Editors: The Selectmen of Meriden were in session at their room in the Town House this afternoon, for the purpose of drafting for the "Active Militia," of the State of Connecticut. They drafted an assortment, including deacons, lawyers, merchants, Manufacturers, &c. &c. Their names are as follows:

General Order in Respect to the Battle of Mill Spring. "WAR DEPARTMENT, January 22. "The president, commander-in-chief of the army and navy, has received information of a brilliant victory achieved by the United States forces over a large body of armed traitors and rebels at Mill Spring, state of Kentucky. He returns thanks to the gallant officers and soldiers who won that victory, and when the official report shall be received, the military skill and personal valor displayed in battle will be acknowledged and rewarded in a fitting manner. The courage that encountered and vanquished the greatly superior numbers of the rebel force, pursued and scattered them in their retreat, and caused the capture of the enemy was completely routed, merits and receives commendation. The purpose of this war is to pursue and destroy a rebellious enemy and to deliver the country from danger. Menaced by traitors, alacrity, daring, courageous spirit and patriotic zeal, on all occasions, and under every circumstance, are expected from the army of the United States. In the prompt and spirited movements and valor at the battle of Mill Spring, the nation will prize the names of the people of the United States will rejoice to honor every soldier and officer who proves his courage by charging with the bayonet and storming entrenchments, or in the blaze of the enemy's fire. By order of the president, EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

It is now said that Gen. Sherman simply obeyed orders in not advancing immediately into the interior after landing at Port Royal. It was the purpose of Government to make a permanent and impregnable base of operations about Beaufort.

It is a remarkable and very instructive fact that many of the most important operations of nature are carried on in unbroken silence. There is no rushing sound when the broad tide of sunlight breaks on a dark world and floods it with glory, as one bright wave after another falls from the fountain of millions of miles away. There is no cracking, rattling, axles or groaning of cumbrous machinery, as the solid earth wheels on its way, and every planet and system performs its revolutions. The great trees bring forth their boughs and shadow the earth beneath them—the plants cover themselves with buds, and the buds burst into flowers; but the whole transaction is unheard. The change from snow and winter winds to the blossoms and fruits, and sunshine of summer, is seen in its slow development, but there is scarcely a sound to tell of the mighty transformation. The solemn chant of the ocean as it raises its unchanging and unceasing voice, the roar of the hurricane, and the soft notes of the breeze, the rushing of the mountain river, and the thunder of black-brown storm; all this is the music of nature—a great and swelling anthem of praise, breaking in on the universal calm. There is a lesson for us here. The night-walker in our Universe is the most unobtrusive.

Mr. Cowell of New Jersey ought not to lay claim to being a modest man. The New Jersey Senate was told by speaker Mr. Cowell, independent Democrat and Union, "held the balance of power." Finding the controversy likely to be a protracted one, he cut it short by voting for himself, and thus securing his own election?

The Conduct of the Pennsylvania Soldiers in the War is thus alluded to by a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press:—"I know the boys who fought at Drainsville and fished their madden swords under Gen. Ord, and I well knew when they met the foe somebody would die. I must give you an incident or two of that fight: Charley Yahn, a young man from this vicinity, was shot through the face, shattering the jaw and knocking out teeth, making a very ugly and painful wound. Spitting the blood from his mouth, he handed a cartridge to his next neighbor, saying, "I can fight yet, if I can't bite." And thus he fought it out, getting his comrade to fire off the cartridges; and he is now recovering under the hands of the surgeon. Another was struck over the eye by a spent ball, cutting the skin, but not entering the skull. He coolly picked up the bullet, remarking, "There is the secession lead that struck me," and put the little memento into his pocket. This is the sort of men Pennsylvania has in the national army."

There is quite a diversity of opinion in Canada as to the policy of suspending specie payment by the banks. A suspension is strongly urged by a portion of the press, while another portion—and that the more influential—strongly opposes such a course. As to the banks themselves, it is understood that all the larger ones are opposed to a suspension, the managers saying that should they yield to the desire of those in favor of suspension, it will be from motives of public policy, and not from any necessity.

Recent letters from British Statesmen confirm the statement that long before the occurrence of the Trent affair, the French minister had endeavored to persuade that of Great Britain to unite with France in breaking the blockade of the Southern ports of the United States. It is stated positively that M. Thoreval distinctly made such a proposition to Lord John Russell, which was politely declined, not because England was not anxious for the opening of the Southern ports, but because the British Government was unwilling to take an active part in provoking hostilities with this Government, although it addressed to France taking the task in hand and throwing open the ports for their common benefit.

The Hawaiian minister of finance has requested King Kamehameha to revoke the exequatur of the newly appointed American consul at Honolulu, Alfred Caldwell, because he permitted a vessel to leave before receiving the custom house clearance.

Among the stories told of Gen. Nelson, one of the best of the Federal commanders in Kentucky, is the following: "While visiting the guard of a neighboring regiment, a few days since, he noticed the absence of the officer in command, and demanded his presence, whereupon a very unilitary-like figure, enveloped in a shawl, appeared. "General Nelson—Beg your pardon, sir, I want the officer of the guard."

"Officer—I am officer of the guard, sir. "General Nelson—Get off that shawl, sir. (The mysterious stranger divests himself of the shawl.) Now, sir, where is your sword?" "Officer—I in my tent. "General Nelson—Put it on sir. Stand up now. Take the position of a soldier, and salute your superior officer. Very well done, quite correct. Now deliver your sword to my Adjutant-General, and report yourself under arrest, sir."

A melancholy, but robust bachelor in Waldo, Oregon, has sent his photograph and a letter to the New Bedford ladies, and requests them to communicate with him on the subject of matrimony. He says—"I am 29 years old, I am six feet 1 inch high and ways near 200. I am well able to take care of a wife."

The British gunboat Racer arrived this morning from Bermuda, and states that the Rinaldo arrived on the 11th, and sailed for St. Thomas with the traitors Mason and Slidell on board.

The steamer Atlantic has arrived from Port Royal on the afternoon of the 20th. She has 1,625 bales unbound and 63 bales of ginned cotton on board, and a large number of passengers. David L. Sanborn, Co. H, 4th N. H., died on the passage of consumption. Over 60 vessels were at Port Royal.

When the Atlantic left Port Royal military affairs were in status quo.

A fire broke out this morning in M. M. Tur's stove room which, with the stock, was entirely consumed, together with Thornton's Block and most of its contents. The Saco House, adjoining the block, was somewhat damaged by heat and water. Loss about $7,000; insured for $2,600.

The steamer Matanzas sailed for Port Royal this morning with a cargo of provisions, and 300 troops.

Fortress Monroe. PORTSMOUTH MONROE, Jan. 22, 1862. No arrival from Burnside's expedition. The Norfolk Day Book of Wednesday, has a dispatch dated, Goldsborough 21st, four o'clock, afternoon, announcing one hundred vessels of Burnside inside, in Pamlico Sound, and twenty large steamers outside. No attack has been made, but the women and children were leaving Newbern where a fight was expected.

Telegraphic Summary. THURSDAY, JAN. 23. FROM WASHINGTON. A reconnaissance made on Tuesday night by Captain Mott of the Battery, attached to Gen. Smith's Division, as far as Fairfax Court House, revealed the fact that the rebel picket lines have been withdrawn considerably.

FROM MISSOURI. A report by Adjutant-General Harding to Gov. Gamble, shows that 33,862 Missouri troops have entered the Federal service for three years or the war, of which 25,000 are infantry, 3000 artillery, and 6000 cavalry. The number of men organized under the Governor's call for six months' term is upwards of 6000.

The 13th Missouri infantry, Col. Morency, arrived at Leavenworth on the 15th, to form a part of Gen. Lane's column. Other regiments are expected.

Ophthololo, chief of the Union Indians at Leavenworth, to confer with Gen. Hunter, Col. Jennison's regiment of cavalry is ordered to the Indian country.

THE BATTLE IN KENTUCKY—OFFICIAL REPORT. The following was received at headquarters Wednesday night: LOUISVILLE, Jan. 22.—To Major-General McClellan, commanding U. S. A. The following has just been received from General Thomas: The rout of the enemy was complete. After succeeding in getting two pieces of artillery across the river, and upwards of fifty wagons, they were abandoned, with all the ammunition in the depot in Mill Spring. They threw away their arms and equipment through the mountains and byways in the direction of Monticello, but are so completely demoralized that I do not believe they will make a stand short of Tennessee. The property captured on this side of the river is of great value, amounting to eight six-pounders and two Parrott guns, with caissons filled with ammunition, about 100 four horse wagons, and upwards of 1200 horses and mules. Several boxes of arms which had never been opened, and from 500 to 1000 muskets, mostly with flint locks, but in good order. Subsistence stores enough to serve the entire command for three days, also a large amount of hospital stores. As soon as I receive the report of the brigade commanders, I will furnish a detailed report of the battle. Our loss was 39 killed and 127 wounded. Among the wounded were Col. McCook of the 9th Ohio regiment, commanding a brigade, and his aid, Lieut. Bart of the 18th United States Infantry. The loss of the rebels was Zollicoffer and 114 others killed and buried, 116 wounded, and 45 prisoners not wounded, five of whom are surgeons, escape from the Potomac undamaged. A person asserts that he saw with a spy glass, after she passed the batteries, a hole in her bow as large as a hoghead. A personal inspection of the Pensacola at Fortress Monroe, discovers the fact that the only holes in the bow of the Pensacola are those essentially necessary to the right development of the powers of her forward pivot guns.

None of the papers made any reference to the Kentucky fight, or defeat and death of Zollicoffer.

The funeral of John Tyler took place on the 21st, attended by Jeff. Davis, his Cabinet, and members of the Rebel Congress.

Foreign News. ENGLAND APPREHENDED OF THE SURRENDER OF SLIDELL AND MASON—THE PIRATE SUMTER AND HER PRISONERS. ST. JOHNS, N. F., Jan. 23, 1862. The steamship City of New York from Liverpool, Wednesday, 8th, via Queenstown the 9th inst., passed Cape Race at 10 this morning. The steamship Europa, from Boston, arrived at Liverpool on the 6th.

There was considerable disappointment expressed in England at the non-reception of definite advices from America relative to the Mason and Slidell imbroglio, and the greatest anxiety felt for the news by the next arrival.

The pirate Sumter had arrived at Cadiz, where she landed 43 prisoners, taken from three Federal merchant vessels she had destroyed. The sales of cotton for two days were 200,000 bales; the market was unsettled, but quotations unchanged. Breadstuffs had a downward tendency except for corn, which was firm and upward.

The steamship City of Washington, from New York, arrived on the 8th. The steamship Jura, from Portland, also arrived on the 8th. They took out the announcement of the adjustment of the Trent affair which was received with the greatest satisfaction. Consols immediately advanced from 1 to 1/4 per cent.

The United States gunboat Tuscarora, had arrived at Southampton to watch the Nashville which was there, ready for sea. The vessels destroyed by the Sumter were, the ship Vigilant, the bark Eben Dodge, and the schooner Arcade.

The sales of cotton, on Wednesday were over 20,000 bales at considerable advance. Consols advanced to 93 1/2 for money.

The Traitors Heard From. NEW YORK, Jan. 23, 1862. The British gunboat Racer arrived this morning from Bermuda, and states that the Rinaldo arrived on the 11th, and sailed for St. Thomas with the traitors Mason and Slidell on board.

and Lieut. Col. Carter of the 17th Tennessee regiment. Signed Gen. Thomas by D. C. Buell, Brigadier-General commanding.

PARTICULARS OF THE FIGHT. The entire Federal loss at the battle near Mill Springs, on Sunday, was 39 killed and a hundred and fifty wounded. Gen. Thomas' forces took four hundred cannon and fourteen hundred mules and horses. Gen. Thomas is across the river in pursuit. A steamboat and eight barges used by the rebels were burned, and the Federals are using the remaining barges.

A private dispatch received at Cincinnati from Somerset says Col. McCook of the 9th Ohio Regiment was wounded in the recent battle. Three balls struck his horse, the fourth passed through his overcoat, and the fifth hit his head. The wound is painful but not dangerous.

The prisoners say that Geo. B. Crittenden was first in command, and Gen. Zollicoffer second. Gen. Crittenden fled to the woods, taking the wrong road. It is supposed he will be captured. The Federal forces actively engaged, were the 10th Indiana, 4th Kentucky, 3d Minnesota, and 9th Ohio Regiments, which suffered respectively as named. They were reinforced after the first severe engagement, by the 10th and 12th Kentucky, 1st and 2d Tennessee, 14th, 31st, 35th and 36th Ohio Regiments, and Standard's, Whitman's and Kinney's batteries.

The rebel forces were estimated at 10,000. Col. S. S. Fry, of the 4th Kentucky regiment, had his horse shot from under him by one of Zollicoffer's Aids, when he turned and shot Gen. Zollicoffer through the left breast. The first breaking of the rebel ranks was effected by Col. R. S. McCook, of the 9th Ohio, acting Brigadier-General, ordering his regiment to charge bayonet. This caused the rebels to immediately flight. The last order issued, found in the rebel encampment, was signed by Col. Cummins, senior in command, directing the rebels to disperse and save themselves the best way they could. The Somerville Journal says that Gen. Thomas with a large force crossed the Cumberland and is hunting the flying rebels through Wayne county.
