Western Correspondence.

OUR FLEET ON THE CUMBERLAND INCIDENTS. U. S. GUNBOAT (FLAG SHIP), COLUMBIA. FORT DONELSON, FEB. 15, 1862.

Messrs. Editors: This morning I came out of my hammock at daylight and learned that we were steaming up the Cumberland about 40 miles below this place.

Commodore Foote is still unable to move a step without the aid of both crutches; his ankle is very badly swollen, but he is in most excellent spirits, and says: "The Western boys are entitled to the credit of being brave and desperate fighting men."

When this bill was under consideration the other day, I had designed to offer a few remarks in reply to what was said by some gentleman upon the other side of the House in regard to the necessity of inserting the tender clause in the bill.

Now, in regard to the necessity of the measure, I desire to say a few words, and it is a point upon which I have heard very little said in this House. What is the financial condition of the country at present, and what are its bonds worth now in the market?

It is idle for us to say what we are going to do. They want acts, not words. When the Committee of Ways and Means report a proper tax bill, I shall most cheerfully vote for it; and I believe that the tax should be even more than has been suggested.

At 3 p. m., we reached "Linwood landing," about two miles below the city of Clarksville. As we rounded the point, we discovered a white flag flying on Fort Severe, located on top of the hill at the junction of the Red river with the Cumberland.

A force of marines were taken to the fort, the Stars and Stripes run up, and the place left in command of Sergeant Chas. Wright, while the boats proceeded to "Clarkeville landing."

The Clerk read as follows: "There is one fact connected with paper depreciation, though based on taxation, and backed by the strongest Governments, that I have not seen alluded to. I refer to the paper money issued by Russia during the Napoleon war."

The funeral of Master William W. Lincoln occurred on Monday, the 24th inst., at the White House, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

The frames of the mirrors, and the East and Green Rooms, were covered with black crepe. The funeral service was conducted by the pastor of the President, Dr. Gurley, in a very impressive manner.

"cautious and cool," evinces more of the determination of Paul Jones than any commander of the present day.

An elegant work costing $500, was presented by some friends to Commodore Stringham at his residence in the city of Brooklyn, on Thursday evening.

Mr. Starke, Senator from Oregon in place of Baker, was admitted to his seat, on Thursday a vote of 26 to 10.

Remarks of Representative English on the Treasury Note Bill. Our correspondent "Hasty," at Washington, has forwarded us the remarks of Mr. English, representative from this district, in the House, on the Treasury note bill, which has since been passed.

When this bill was under consideration the other day, I had designed to offer a few remarks in reply to what was said by some gentleman upon the other side of the House in regard to the necessity of inserting the tender clause in the bill.

A curious story is told by a letter writer of Vienna of one of the Rothschilds, who having become enamored of a fair damsel, has caused a silver coin to be struck in her honor, on which was portrayed, in exquisite workmanship, the features of the fair one.

A drunken character was put in the calaboose at Manchester, N. H., one night this week, and his old horse taken from the sleigh and put in a lively stable.

Col Mulligan, the hero of Lexington; is ordered at once to St. Louis with a portion of the Irish Brigade, now in camp near Chicago, recruits to follow him as fast as received.

The New London Star, a staunch democrat paper, but loyal to the core, refuses to support the Breckinridge ticket nominated at Middletown, and rebukes its old friends for trying to keep up party lines during the war with rebels and traitors.

We are glad says the Chicago Tribune, that our victory on the Cumberland has a name that will live. We are pleased that it is not Pig Foot or Bull neck or Goose Creek.

DESPERATION OF THE REBELS. Federal Prisoners Coming Up. UNITED STATES STEAMER BURNED. INTERESTING SOUTHERN NEWS. PULASKI CORNERED.

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 27, 1862. A flag of truce to-day took over fifty people to Craney Island. A meeting of cotton and tobacco planters was held at City Hall, Richmond, on Wednesday evening.

Speeches were made and a committee appointed to prepare business for an adjourned meeting this evening. The Richmond Despatch of to-day, says, one hundred Yankee prisoners, at Columbia, S. C., were expected to arrive Wednesday evening.

In the rebel Senate at Richmond, on Wednesday, Senator Sims of Kentucky, offered a resolution that the people of the Confederate states will, to the last extremity, maintain and defend their right to self-government; and, to this end, do pledge the last man and the last dollar for the prosecution of the war.

A resolution was offered providing for compensation by Government, for cotton and tobacco burned, to prevent falling into the hands of the United States.

The Raleigh Register, of the 26th, says, two men were brought as prisoners here Monday, on charge of having piloted the Yankees to Roanoke Island. They were arrested aboard a schooner near Plymouth, and were committed to jail.

The same paper, editorially, says, it is idle to deny that the present is the most gloomy period the South has witnessed since the commencement of the war, and in a most earnest manner calls on the people to stand by their colors, and fight to the last.

cotton and woolen factory, near Augusta, was burned on Tuesday night—a heavy loss. The cotton factories at Columbus and Augusta have suspended temporarily consequent upon material injury to their dams and canals by recent freshets.

AGUSTA, Feb. 26.—The Savannah Republican, of this morning, says communication with Fort Pulaski has been effectually closed by the Federals, who erected there three batteries for heavy guns, at commanding points.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 24.—The latest advices from Nashville states that the Federal troops have not yet occupied the city. The scouts of Buell's army have appeared on the north side of the Cumberland River, and it is supposed their appearance is preparatory of an early advance of the main column.

It is reported that nine Federal gunboats and fifteen transports, were seen Sunday at Maysville; no immediate action is expected.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 25.—The town of Fayetteville, Arkansas, has been burnt to the ground by order of Gen. McCulloch; the military stores were first burnt.

The Confederate army on Boston mountain is preparing for battle. Late advices from Knoxville state that the Confederates at Cumberland Gap expect an early engagement. The Federals were frequently in sight.

LYNCHBURGH, Feb. 25.—A portion of the bridge which connected the Island, on which the South Side Road depot is situated, with the North Virginia and Tennessee Road, was burned yesterday, by coals falling from a locomotive.

ARRIVAL OF A PRIZE STEAMER. Particulars of her Capture and Cargo. NEW YORK, Feb. 28, 1862.

The prize steamer Labuan, British, captured on the 1st inst., off Breca Chico, a small village near the Rio Grande, by the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, has arrived in charge of the officers of that vessel.

The Labuan is an iron vessel, 243 feet long, and built in 1856. She cost $33,000, and has been employed in the Baltic trade; she was chartered in November, by the De Jersey's, of Manchester, for six months, to run between Havana and the lower part of the Southern coast.

Her outward cargo consisted of various articles, including a large quantity of blankets. It is estimated that the charterers cleared forty thousand pounds on this cargo. When captured, a steamer loaded with cotton was inside the bar waiting an opportunity to come out to her; but as soon as the Portsmouth anchored she moved up the river.

The Labuan was sent to Ship Island, and thence ordered here by Commodore McKean. She has on board a crew of the schooner Wave, of New Orleans, captured an hour previous, en route from New Orleans to Matamoros, with a cargo of cotton. The Labuan belongs in Hull, Eng.

Released Massachusetts Officers on their Return. NEW YORK, Feb. 28, 1862. Col. Lee, Major Revere, Capt. Bowman and Rockwood arrived here this morning from Washington and left on the eight o'clock train for Boston.

Governmental Postal Facilities. WASHINGTON, Feb. 28, 1862. First Assistant Post Master General, Kasson, is engaged issuing instructions and making arrangements for re-establishing Post Offices and Post Routes as our armies advance into the so called confederacy.

A. H. Martland is following our forces into Tennessee, and J. J. Miller, also an agent of the department, is, in connection, operating in the southern part of Kentucky. The Post Office at Nashville, and those in the eastern part of North Carolina, will soon be re-opened.

Rebel Operations in Tennessee and Kentucky. ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28, 1862. Memphis papers, of the 19th, say that Gen. Polk issued orders yesterday, that the track of the Memphis and Ohio railroad should be torn up, and the bridges destroyed, preparatory to the evacuation of Columbus, and the demolition of the fortifications.

Congress To-Day. WEDNESDAY FEB. 28, 1862. In the House to-day, Mr. Moorhead, from special committee on establishment of the National army, reported the following: Resolved, by the House of Representatives, &c., that there shall be established within the U. States one National foundry east of the Alleghany Mountains, and also one national armory and one manufacturing arsenal west of the Alleghany Mountains, and in the valley of the Ohio and Mississippi, and that to that and a commission of five citizens be appointed by the President to locate said foundries, armory and arsenal, who shall, within sixty days from their appointment, report to the Secretary of War, and that the Secretary of War, upon the receiving of the report of said Commissioners, shall estimate the cost of such establishments, and that there be appropriated the sum of $5,000 for the expense of the Commissioners. Referred to the Committee of the Whole, on the state of the Union.
