The Rebels to Make a Desperate Stand at Chattanooga, Tenn. The telegraph to-day reports the rebels under Hardee, falling back on Chattanooga, where it is expected the confederates will make a desperate stand.

Chattanooga is a young and flourishing city of 5,000 inhabitants, situated on the south bank of the Tennessee river, which stream is at this season navigable that far up.

Chattanooga is distant from Nashville by rail 100 miles, and from Memphis 300 miles. It is connected with Knoxville by the East Tennessee and Georgia Railroad, 110 miles long.

A STRANGE WAY TO A LEGACY. There is somebody coming—I must go. Bring the book with you to-morrow evening at seven, remember. I want send the carriage; it might attract attention; the footman will be waiting for you at the back gate.

CONCLUDED. I copied the passage from "Romeo and Juliet" in the ivory album. It was intended to indicate my private sentiments. I don't think I was actually in love, but Madame Rozeki, though some years older than myself, was a young, fair and wealthy widow; and what man at twenty-two would not have fallen into the snare?

I copied the passage, and I went to the party. The footman received me at the back gate, and showed me to the dressing-room. I got arrayed, rang the bell, was inspected by the countess, in another rich evening dress, was approved of, conducted to the drawing-room, presented to scores of more company, set to dance, playing cards, and hand ladies, and allowed to go home in my old clothes, and creep in at the conservatory window as before.

There were, I believe, two or three more invitations by notes brought me by a dirty boy from the tea shop; but my first evening at the palace serves so completely for all that followed that I have no additional particulars to record.

An inexperienced person would scarcely believe how rapidly the charms of the scene faded away, or rather became tiresome. The mere sight of grandeur and finery, which seemed so dazzling and fairy-like at first, on the second or third repetition lost its novelty.

There were, I believe, two or three more invitations by notes brought me by a dirty boy from the tea shop; but my first evening at the palace serves so completely for all that followed that I have no additional particulars to record.

CONCLUDED. I became somebody, even in the housekeeper's opinion, but had subsided into my old place in the counting-house, and my seat in the back parlor, when, with the last packet, which left just before the frost had closed the Baltic, who should arrive but Mr. Hardestad.

He had resigned his office under Skinderkin & Co., and was on his way to Yorkshire, where he intended to spend the rest of his days in genteel retirement, by help of his Russian savings; they had got two Scotchmen in lieu of both him and me; but some affairs which he was commissioned to wind up brought him to King William street; and I took the only opportunity now in my power to learn something of the Countess, by asking him, when we chanced to be left by ourselves, if Madame Rozeki had been calling at the counting-house of late.

"Oh, no," said he, "she sends her steward now; she wants no more silly young men to do her business."

"What business do you mean?" said I. "What you did for her; helping to get her nephew's estate in Archangel. The boy had died while he was yet a minor, in the monastery just behind her palace, where she had placed him to be educated, and out of the way. He was dumb, you see, and had been dead for two years, but nobody knew that. She got the rents and, and at last contrived a scheme—I suppose, because you looked a fit subject for it—to pass you off for her dead nephew with her company at the palace, and make you copy out all leaving the estate to her. I believe the monks and she got up a funeral when you were fairly out of St. Petersburg. Of course, she made Skinderkin & Co. send you."

"What did you get for helping in the business?" said I, feeling that every word he spoke was true. "Fools do the work, and wise folks get the profit," responded my excellent servant. "But I must tell you she is married to a Prince—son of the Romanoff family, they say; and I would advise you to keep well out of Russia; it would never do for people to know the strange way she took to get a legacy."

A detachment of the 1st Iowa Cavalry, on Saturday, were sent from Jefferson City, Mo., against a guerrilla party. They killed two, took 75 prisoners, 20 horses, 48 kegs of powder, and a quantity of arms.

Wm. M. Sexton, a marble cutter in Hartford, has executed a marble statuette of Christ on the Cross, which is attracting much attention in that city. The figure of the Saviour is said to exhibit the most anatomical study and skill of the artist.

On Thursday evening, the employees of Parker, Snow, Brooks & Co., at Meriden, give a ball in the Town Hall. Col's Band furnish the music.

In Congress yesterday, the bill for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia being up, Mr. Davis's amendment that the slaves should be colonized, there was a tie vote, when the Vice-President cast his vote in the negative.

Latest from North Carolina. The steamer George Peabody arrived from Newbern, 23d, via Hatters, Sunday.

She left at the Inlet the steamer Port Royal, from Port Royal, all well; and the steamer New Brunswick and Louisiana, with many of the wounded from the Burnside expedition.

The Spaulding left Sunday for Fortress Monroe with prisoners. The Peabody touched at Hampton Roads, where she saw a large fleet of transports at anchor.

Among the passengers in the Peabody were Lieut.-Col. Potter, of the 51st regiment, seriously injured. Among the remains of the killed aboard are Chaplain Barton, Capt. Johnson, and Lieut. Allen, of the 51st N. Y., and Lieut. Walker, of the 9th N. J.

The Rattle at Winchester. We have little further details as yet of the battle fought near Winchester on Sunday.

A dispatch from Winchester Monday evening, says the rebels have been driven back to Strasburg. There was very little fighting on Monday. In the skirmishing we have lost about ten killed and wounded. Mr. Luce, assistant to Capt. Albert, of the topographical engineers, was taken prisoner by the rebels. Our forces have captured more than one thousand small arms.

A LATER DISPATCH. A dispatch from Washington, dated at 11 o'clock Monday evening, says, in consequence of the forward move of our forces the reports of the killed, wounded and missing, could not be ascertained, but our loss is from 80 to 100 killed, among whom were one Colonel and 14 captains and lieutenants; 200 wounded, among whom are 10 officers. The enemy had nearly 500 killed and wounded, and lost 500 prisoners.

A dispatch received at Washington last night says our forces pursued the rebels with extraordinary vigor and courage towards Strasburg, driving them before them like frightened sheep.

The War Power and the Press. The New York Times of to-day contains the following: The Secretary of War having determined to enforce his order against the publication of war news calculated to give information to the rebels, the Boston Journal and the New York Journal of Commerce and Sunday Mercury, being papers which persisted in the publication of dangerous intelligence, are suppressed, and the editors and proprietors have, our Washington correspondent informs us, been arrested and ordered to Washington, to be tried by Court-martial for violating the Fifty-seventh Article of War.

Parson Brownlow is said to have arrived at Nashville with a pass through the rebel lines from Jeff. Davis.

Three hundred privates and 48 Commissioners were brought to St. Louis on Sunday night, being the first installment of prisoners taken at Pea Ridge, Ark.

Wendell Phillips, in attempting to lecture at the Opera House, in Cincinnati, on Monday night, was hissed and was pelted with eggs and stones. The provocation is said to have been that he avowed himself an Abolitionist and disunionist. After a third attempt to be heard he was taken from the stage by his friends. While within the hall considerable of a fight ensued, though no one was seriously hurt.

Important to Relatives of Deceased Soldiers. We call attention to an advertisement of Marshal Carr, in to-day's issue, which is of importance to the relatives of deceased soldiers. It must be borne in mind that the utmost accuracy of detail and proof must be furnished by the parties interested, to enable him to proceed successfully.

We think that the Monitor has a fair claim to the title so long and so proudly worn by the frigate Constitution—"Old Ironsides."

The Terre Haute, Alton and St. Louis railroad was sold on Monday, 24th, to Robert Bayard, T. J. Tilden and others, for the benefit of the bondholders for $800,000.

Through the politeness of a friend, we have New Orleans papers via Ship Island, to Feb. 4. As an example of the lying reports Southern editors publish, we copy the following, verbatim: (Telegraphed to the True Delta.)

SAVANNAH, Jan. 31.—The Republican says: "Information received from the telegraph operator at Nashville states that Gen. Price has captured St. Louis. No particulars are given."

Here are some sample advertisements from the True Delta: RAN AWAY—My slave girl ELIZABETH, fine looking, quiet, copper color, one of her front teeth missing, about 25 years of age. Ran away on the 20th of November last, and is supposed to be with her mother, in the city of New Orleans.

Wanted to purchase, GOLD and SILVER, in large and small sums, for which the highest price will be paid. JAMES ANDREWS, Note and Exchange Broker, No. 8 St. Charles street, near Canal, up stairs, in Photograph Gallery.

Later from New Mexico. The commanding officer at Fort Craig writes to the Government that he has no doubt of being able to hold that post.

Building gunboats at New Orleans. A gentleman from New Orleans has arrived at Chicago, and says the rebels are building thirteen gunboats at that place, to be completed soon.

BY TELEGRAPH. The New-Haven Daily Palladium. Arrival from the Isthmus. New York, March 25, 1862.

The steamer Champion arrived this morning from Aspinwall, with $486,000 in treasure. LATER NEWS FROM SOUTH AMERICA. Part of the revolutionary party has been arrested in Bolivia and others have fled the country. The army has been reduced to a peace footing. The attempted revolt at Arequipa, Peru, has been suppressed. The ill feeling at Lima against the Spaniards is said to be dying out. Jamaica advices to the 10th are unimportant.

H. M. Chase, telegraph operator at Aspinwall, died on the 12th.

Latest from North Carolina. The steamer George Peabody arrived from Newbern, 23d, via Hatters, Sunday.

She left at the Inlet the steamer Port Royal, from Port Royal, all well; and the steamer New Brunswick and Louisiana, with many of the wounded from the Burnside expedition.

The Spaulding left Sunday for Fortress Monroe with prisoners. The Peabody touched at Hampton Roads, where she saw a large fleet of transports at anchor.

The expedition to Washington consisted of several gun-boats and the Mass. 24th regiment. The expedition to Beaufort had not reported back except the capture of the Nashville by our blockading fleet as she left the place on the approach of our troops.

The Peabody returns immediately with stores. The Wounded at Newbern. NEW YORK, March 25, 1862. Col. Howe has received intelligence that 15 officers and 85 privates, wounded at Newbern, left Baltimore at 8 o'clock, this morning, and will be here to-night, en route for their homes. They are mostly Massachusetts men, but some are from Rhode Island and Connecticut.

NEWS FROM RICHMOND. JEFF. DAVIS'S CABINET. REPORTED FEDERAL REPULSE. Fortress Mexico, March 24, 1862.

A flag of truce went to Norfolk to-day. Assistant Secretary Scott leaves this evening for Washington. The wind is west with signs of rain. The following is from the Norfolk Day Book to-day: Richmond, March 23.—The House of Representatives have adopted a resolution to apply a portion of the moneys of the contingent fund to the aid and relief of the captured troops now in the hands of the enemy.

We learn that fourteen steamers at Old Point on Sunday, loaded with troops, passed for Burnside's expedition. Richmond, March 23.—President Davis's Cabinet has been confirmed: Secretary of State J. P. Benjamin; of War, Geo. W. Randolph; of Navy, S. R. Mallory; of Treasury, C. G. Memminger; Attorney General, Thomas H. Watts; Post Master, Gen. Reagan.

New troops are pouring in. Six or seven of New York regiments arrived in this neighborhood on Sunday via Raleigh. President Davis has declared martial law over the counties of Elizabeth City, York, Warwick, Gloucester and Matthews.

Accounts are given in the Day Book of an engagement near Warrington Station on the Orange and Alexandria railroad on Saturday the 23rd. Three hundred rebel availed under General Stuart were attacked by 500 Yankee cavalry. Forty of the latter are reported killed and 100 taken prisoners. The rebels are said to have lost six killed and 180 wounded. The above is from Lynchburg, Va.

Seventy-seven citizens of Loudoun county were sent to Richmond, Thursday night, and committed to one military prison. The report about the capture of Nashville is probably incorrect.

Strasburgh to be Taken To-Day. WASHINGTON, March 25, 1862. A dispatch received late last night from Winchester, says that Banks was then at Cedar creek, two miles from Strasburgh, which he intended to take to-day.

FOREIGN NEWS. ARRIVAL OF THE NOVA SCOTIAN. PORTLAND, March 25, 1862.

The steamer Nova Scotian from Liverpool 13th, Londonderry 14th, arrived at 4 o'clock this morning. The Kangaroo and Teutonia arrived out on the 13th. Politics are unimportant. The Times has another article on a favorable opportunity for negotiation between the North and South, under the recent successes of the former.

Cotton declined half a penny; the sales for the week were 32,000 bales; the sales on Friday were 7,000 bales. Flour still declining on Friday; wheat heavy, and on Tuesday a decline of 1/2c. Consols 93 3/4.

THIRTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS. HOUSE, MONDAY—(CONTINUED.) Mr. Rice of Mass., submitted a resolution, authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to expend a sum, not exceeding $50,000, for the purpose of testing plans for rendering ship and floating batteries invulnerable; referred.

Mr. Ancona offered a resolution, requesting the Secretary of War to inform the House of the cause, if any, of the protracted delay in the release of Col. Corcoran, and that the Secretary be directed to stop all exchange of prisoners until Corcoran is released.

A debate arising the resolution was laid over. Mr. Wickliffe introduced a bill to provide funds in part, to pay interest; and principal on the public debt. Mr. Roscoe Conkling offered a Joint Resolution of thanks of Congress to Lieut. Morris for gallant services on board the Cumberland, in her conflict with the rebel frigate Merrimac.

Mr. Arnold offered a bill to render freedom national and slavery sectional. Mr. Cox offered a resolution of thanks of Congress to Gen. Burnside and Commander Rowan and officers and men under them for the skill with which they carried out the minute instructions of the General commanding the army, resulting in decisive victory; all the above were referred to appropriate committees.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24, 1862. The relatives of Capt. Buchanan have received positive information of his death at Norfolk, from wounds. Loss of the Ship Charter Oak. NEW YORK, March 24, 1862.

The ship Rattler reports that February 19, she fell in with the ship Charter Oak of Richmond, Me., Capt. Witham of Philadelphia, for Liverpool, with flour and grain, sinking. There was a strong gale. The Rattler's second officer with a boat succeeded in saving five of the crew, viz: E. D. Jamson, 1st officer; William Whitney, 2d officer; William Dryden, seaman; Levi L. Whitney and Francis Reedybrod. The night being very dark and the gale increased to a hurricane, they were unable to save any more of the crew of the ship. She doubtless went down as her lights disappeared at 9:30; and there were no signs of her on the morning.

From Island No. 10. Latest advices from Island No. 10, represent that the river is rising there and every thing is overflowed. The rebels are drowned out of some of their batteries, and well directed fire from our mortars prevented the erection of new ones. The batteries are many of them mysteriously silent, leading to the impression that an evacuation by the rebels is going on.

The Baptist church in Essex is enjoying a season of religious interest under the labors of Rev. Halsey Knapp, of New York. Meetings are held daily and are very largely attended.

It is suggested that our citizens while numbering their houses, in accordance with the city ordinance, retain for the present the old numbers to avoid confusion on the part of those seeking their residences.

THE LATEST NEWS. 3 O'CLOCK P. M. NEWS FROM THE GULF. AFFAIRS AT PENSACOLA.

New York, March 25, 1862. The brig Yankee arrived to-day, from Fort Pickens 14th, Key West 17th. The steam frigate Mississippi had left Pickens for Ship Island. The gunboat New London arrived at Pickens on the 9th, with mails. The sloop-of-war Vincennes had also arrived.

The impression was that Gen. Bragg had left Pensacola and parties with glasses say the rebel guns are turned inland, probably in expectation of a visit from Gen. Butler. Four contrabands who escaped say that but three thousand troops are at Pensacola and they are poorly armed.

The steamer R. B. Cuyler arrived at Key West on the 17th, with mails from New York to the 4th of March. The Niagara, Cuyler, G. L. Gray Feather, and six or eight gunboats were in port. A transport screw steamer filled with troops passed Key West on the 17th, bound west.

Further by the Nova Scotian. Jules Farrer in the Corps Legislatif denounced the Mexican Expedition. Liverpool, March 14.—The Sumter still remained at Gibraltar on the 7th inst.

GREAT BRITAIN, March 14.—The London Times publishes an article against any revision of the Maritime Law. It argues that if England gives up the right to capture merchant ships she will surrender the only arm which has gained her all she has, and deprive her of all that she has gained.

FRANCE.—The ordinary expenses of the year are estimated by the government at 727,000,000 francs, and the receipts are estimated at nearly 16,000,000 in excess of this. The London Times thinks the victories recently gained by the Federals will lead to a separation and peace between the Northern and Southern States.

ITALY.—A majority of the Chamber of Deputies have resolved to support the new ministry. The details of the first sitting of the General Provedimento Assembly, at Genoa, had been published. Garibaldi was most enthusiastically received. In his speech he applauded the holy idea of a Central Committee of the Provedimento. He said that he hoped Italians would also hold out their hand to all the enslaved nations of the earth.

The Government had warned the Provedimento Committee of Genoa to assume a certain tone, otherwise that they would be compelled to dissolve the Association. GREECE.—All ports on the coast of Greece, in the Gulf of Angolia, have been placed under a strict blockade, in consequence of the insurrection at Nauplia.

Prussia.—The King of Prussia declined to accept the resignation of the Minister, and dissolve the Chamber of Deputies. LONDON, March 14.—The Paris Patriet asserts that a member of the English Cabinet recently declared to a deputation from the Manufacturing Districts, that according to information from Washington, an amicable separation between the South and North will take place about June, and that the basis of the treaty will be as follows: Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee are to belong to the Union. The two Republics are to have no custom's line; search for slaves is to be prohibited in all the states.

Slavery must disappear within thirty years. PARIS, March 14.—Mr. Thonvenay has sent a note to Mr. Rattazzi denouncing the dangers created by Italian providements association. The specie in the Bank of France has increased during the month 61,000,000 francs.

Congress To-Day. WASHINGTON, March 25, 1862. HOUSE. The House to-day passed the Senate bill providing for the settlement of the accounts of the officers and crews of the frigates Congress and Cumberland, their books having been lost or destroyed in the recent naval engagement at Hampton Roads.

On motion of Mr. Campbell, in view of the tax bill, the Pacific Railroad bill was postponed, and made the special order for Tuesday next. The House then in Committee of the Whole resumed the consideration of the tax bill.

SENATE. Mr. Sumner from Committee on Foreign Relations, reported back the bill in relation to administering the oath of allegiance to American citizens in foreign countries.
