An American army when it first takes the field, may be lit tle better than a rabble; but give it the experience of a year or two, and it becomes able hold its own against the best troops in the world. Parm Forgeries Wise aspyro I many A correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser with the Burnside expedition writes the following :

A flag of truce from Elizabeth City with mmunication from Gen. Wise in relation to e remains of his son, Captain O. Jennings Wise, arrived to day Feb. 10. The body had no reinforcements to aid the rebel crew on the been interred with those of several other dead rebels, and was disinterred by a number of the first battailion Fifth R. I. volunteers, directed by Captain Eddy, delivered to his friends and removed to Elizabeth City. An incident during the disinterment of the remains of Captain and rail) about forty-six miles; from New Orling the disinterment of the remains of Captain. Wise throws some light on the spy system of the rebels, and illustrates the character of this bold unscrippilous man.

As the body was disinterred and the soil brushed from the face, several of the Rhode Islanders exclaimed "See here, Captain, this is the old cuss that sold us paper and envelopes at Annapolis." Captain Eddy scrutinized the features of the dead Captain and acknowledged the identity of the performer in these two characters. The men stated that on the day of their departure from the naval school ground at Annapolis, an apparently old man, rather shabbily dressed. appeared within the grounds about the time they were busily engaged in striking their tents, selling letter paper and en-velopes bearing showy Union devices. They were amused by the peculiar appearance of the man and his inquisitiveness. He asked them where they were going, when they were going, and how many of them there were, which questions they were, of course, unable to answer. Major Wright came up soon after and urged that they were having a little fun with the "old chap, who was selling them paper.

That Captain Wise was in Annapolis and within the naval school grounds about the time f the departure of the Burnside expedition, I have not the slightest doubt, nor have the officers who recognized in his remains the old pasharbor, some of the shells falling within fifty per seller. It is such an adventure as a man of feet of vessels leaded with horses. his well known daring would be likely to underplated iron. Her smoke stack is to be of gutta take, the more especially as the destination of the expedition was pretty well known to Gen. Wise, who was in command of the Department of North Carolina. There was a double incentive for Gov. Wise's son to ascertain the force to be opposed to his father.

Several others among the captured prisoners vere recognized by our soldiers, who had purhased various articles from them. One in paricular, who had sold illustrations of the public ouildings of Baltimore folded in the form of a rose, was recognized among the prisoners, and was asked by our men if he had ses of Baltimore to sell." Lieut, Richter, of he 25th Massachusetts, recognized in Lieut. Seddon, who was killed inside the breastwork on the 8th, a man from whom he purchased a silver watch at Camp Hicks, near Annapolis Seddon represented himself to be a Baltimorean. and was engaged in selling various articles of ewelry. These are perhaps the most effective sources of information the rebels possess.

Second Lieut. Daffand and two privates o shby's cavalry, were captured on Tuesday Daffand admitted that he was carrying dis patches, but arrogantly refused to divulge the contents or tell who from. A late interrupted letter from a rebel line officer, speaks significantly of the anticipated open rebellion in Mary land, but this is regarded as one of the mear resorted to by secession leaders to dupe the folowers into continued resistance.

The expensive railroad bridge at Edenburg vas burned by Jackson on Tuesday. There is one locomotive at this end of the Manassa oad and no cars. Ashby's artillery was rein forced on Wednesday, by two or more heavy guns, with which he practised on us at a mile range. The firing of Tuesday shows the accuracy of our cannoniers; in one field where Ashby made a stand, 10 shell in a distance of 150 feet, at one and a half miles range were tound.

WASHINGTON, April 2, 1862. In the Senate yesterday, a resolution wa assed requesting the Secretary of War to inorm the Senate what drafts were made by one Wardell and accepted by ex-Secretary Floyd the nature of the transaction, and what amoun is outstanding. The House resolution to co operate with the States in aid of emancipation vas taken up, and passed by yeas 82, naye 10. The House took up the Senate reso hat whenever military operations require the presence of two or more officers of the same grade in the same field or department, the President may make such assignment without regard to seniority of rank. A motion to lay the resolution on the table was negatived, and it then passed by a vote of yeas 81, nays 40. The House went into Comnittee of the Whole on the tax bill.

The "stamp duties" clause was amended by exempting promissory notes and inlaid bills of exchange from the duty. Promissory notes oank checks, etc., over tifty dollars, are to be subject to a duty of two cents. The clause in regard to expresses was supplanted by a sub-stitute imposing a tax of two cents on every receipt issued by any express company for a ingle package, and for any number more than one, five cents. The clause as to goods, etc. entered at the custom-house, was also amended

FRIENDS OF THE UNION RALLY. A PUBLIC MEETING TO RATIFY THE UNION NOMINATIONS for Representatives, Justices and City Officers, will be held at BREWSTER'S HALL, ON FRIDAY EVEN-

ING. April 4th, at half-past seven o'clock. FRIENDS OF THE UNION! BE VIGILANT! GOOD SPEAKERS MAY

BE EXPECTED. Per order of Union Committees.

ELECTION ON MONDAY!

Every true friend of his country-every ma who has a son or brother or other relative in the army-every tax payer who wants the war brought to a speedy and honorable close-every business man who desires a revival of trade and commerce-will bear in mind that his vote on Monday next will have a great influence on these concerns. If he votes the true Union ticket, and the result of the election is as auspicious as we hope it to be, the news will inspire the hearts of those upon whom the responsibili ty of the war rests-will satisfy our brave troops that there is no reaction in the homes "they left behind them"-that their faithful friend, Governor Buckingham, is justly and generous ly sustained-and that no false friends to the war are to have control of the government of this State. There never was a more important election than will be that of next Monday. Life, property and business depend on the issue.

The Legislature to be chosen on Monday will elect a United States Senator. Shall this Sen ator be one of the Eaton and Loomis stripe, whose votes may do more harm in closing un the war than an army of rebels?

Remember that the Democratic candidate for Governor thinks secessionism not "unreasona ble"-that Mr. Eaton was opposed to the marching of Massachusetts troops through Connecticut to invade the rebel territories-and that of the twenty or thirty members of the Middletown Democratic State Convention, who had the glorious news of Burnside's victory at Roanoke, not one of them made it known to the Convention, and when its President was asked to read it, he declined!

These are the men and this is the spirit that the people of this State are asked to install in power next Monday, over Governor Buckingham and his Administration!-and they are Kentucky. He succeeded in securing the loan working industriously for this object. And I fain would hear the south wind
Bring one e more the sound to me,
Of the wavelets softly breaking
On the shores of Tennossee.

"Mournful though the ripples murmur,
As they still the story tell,
Hoy no vessels float the banner
That I've loved so long and well;
I shall listen to their music,
Dreaming that again I see
Stars and Stripes on slapp and shallop
Stalling up the Tennes ee.

'And, Pompey, while old Massa's waiting For death's last despatch to come,
If that exiled starry canner
Should come proudly sailing home,
You shall great it, slave no longer—
Voice and hand shall both be free
That shout and point to Union colors
On the waves of Tennessee."

" Massa's bery kind to Pompey. "Massa's bery kind to romps, But ole darkey's hatop here, Where he's tended corn and cotton For dese many a long gone year. Over yonder M ssis' sleeping— No one tends her grave like me; Makhe she would miss the flowers

There has been somewhat of a novel sui argued before the Court of Appeals, Albanythe argument closed on Monday-in which the enormous sum of fourteen cents is involved. It is a case of a stockholder in the Chittenango putation for an ungovernable temper. Bank against the officers. A few years ago a dividend was declared by the directors of the bank. This gentleman, in taking up their dividends, took specie and exchange on New York, and when the stockholder referred to above called for his dividend, which amounted to fifty-six dollars, they handed him New York State currency, which was then at one-fourth per cent discount. This the stockholder refused to accept, and said that he would either take specie or the bills of their own bank, on which he could get the specie if he desired. rectors refused to do either, and the stockholder at once commenced a suit against him. The case has been carried through all the courts. and is now before the Court of Appeals, the last resort under State jurisdiction. The currency in which they offered to pay him was one-fourth as large as those of March, 1861. -his dividend-is just fourteen cents. Having had it argued in several courts, it must have cost him several hundred dollars by this time, probably as much as the whole amount of his bank stock. The bank is also in the mire just as deep as their stockholder is in the mud. By refusing to pay their own bank bills they have run up a nice bill of cost over an item of fourteen cents, which will, to a more or less extent, affect the profits of the institution. Verily it takes all sorts of people to make a world as well as banks; but this fourteen cent tribe is a race that we had not heard of. Under that kind of management the bank must be a profitable concern for lawyers and a poor thing New York Herald. for stockholders.

More Damage by the Storm. A Cairo special to the Chicago Tribune says, the storm on Wednesday morning, 2d inst., was very severe at Point Pleasant. Lieut. Moore and one private of the 7th Ill. cavalry was killed and Capt. Assault Upon a school Teacher. Daniel M. Holmes, Robbins R. Carrier and Albert E. Jones, each about 16 years of age and of rapid proclivities, recently assaulted a school teacher in East Haddam, while he was in the discharge of his duties, and beat and kicked him about the head and face, badly injuring him. The trio were arrested and tried before a justice: Holmes was fined $7 and costs-in all about $25, with thirty days imprisonment; Carrier and Jones were bound over $500 each to appear before the Superior Court sitting in Haddam on the second Tuesday of April, to answer for the offence. Jones obtained bonds but Carrier, in default, was sent to jail to await trial. Hartford Press.

From Washington.

All recruiting officers have been ordered to heir regiments and the governors of States notified that no new enlistments will be received. The force now in the field is amply sufficient for the suppression of the rebellion and the speedy termination of the war. The capture of Union City and that of the enemy's batteries by the expedition under Col. Roberts are regard by the War Department as very gallant
