SENATE. Mr. Nesmith offered a resolution that the Secretary of War be requested to report the resent condition of the Military Asylum, and amount of funds received, and annual expense of supporting the inmates; adopted.

Mr. Grimes introduced a bill to limit the appointment of Major-Generals and Brigadiers in the army and volunteers, the former to twenty and the latter to 200; referred.

Mr. Wilson of Mass. from Military Committee reported back the bill to facilitate the discharge of enlisted men for physical debility.

Mr. Hale offered a resolution that the Naval Committee inquire into the expediency of providing for the appointment to the marine corps he same as to the naval academy; adopted. Mr. Sumner gave notice of a bill to abolish the coast-wise traffic in slaves, to prevent transportation of slaves through the United States. The Homestead bill came up, and amendments were adopted, excluding any person in arms against the United States, or giving aid and comfort to the enemies, from benefits of the

On motion of Mr. Pomeroy, the bill was post-proceed with large and the large and and and the large and the large and and and the large and the large and and and the large poned until Monday.

Mr. Washburne of Committee on Commerce, reported a bill granting power to the Secretary of the Treasury, additional to those conferred by the bill 13th of July last, for collection of duties on imports. He read a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, urging the immedia ate passage of the bill, it being important in view of our occupation of New Orleans. The bill passed. It provides that if any vessel or other vehicle shall be refused clearance or permit by the Secretary of the Treasury, or by his order, and shall proceed to any foreign or domestic port, it shall be forfeited to the United States.

When permits or clearances shall be granted bonds may be required in a penalty equal to the value of the vessel and cargo for an adher ance to the condition annexed. The cargo is to be delivered at the port of destination; and no part thereof is to be used to give aid and comfort to any part of the country in insurrection against the United States. The Secretary s further empowered to prohibit the importation of goods, wares and merchandize into any part of the United States, over any railroad or turnpike, whenever there is a satisfactory reason to believe the goods are for the use of the nsurgents, or may fall into their possession. The Secretary is authorized to make such general or special regulation as may be proper to carry iuto effect the purposes of this act. If these rules should be violated or an attempt be made to do so, the goods shall be forfeited to the United States.

The penalties may be mitigated in accordance with the 8th and 9th sections of the Act of July last, to which this bill is supplemen-All penalties and forfeitures are to be dis aosed of as required by the act of March, 1790,

In Alabama,

Gen. Mitchll performed another gallant exploit on Wednesday, 30th ult., at Bridgeport, Ala. The enemy having attacked one of his origades, he moved on Bridgeport, effecting a surprise. He reports to the Secretary of War from Huntsville Ala., May 1, I deemed it my duty to head in person the expedition against Bridgeport. I started by a train of cars in the morning, followed by two additional regiments of infantry and two companies of cavalry.

I found that our pickets had engaged the nemy's pickets four miles from Bridgeport, and after a sharp engagement in which we lost one man killed, drove them across a stream whose railway bridge I had burned. With four regiments of infantry, two pieces of artillery dragged by hand, and two companies of cavalry, at 3 p. m. we advanced to the burnt bridge and opened our fire upon the enemy' pickets on the other side, thus producing the mpression that our advance would be by the railway. This accomplished, the entire force was thrown across the country about a mile and put on the road leading from Stevenson to Bridgeport. The middle column now advanced at a very rapid pace, our scouts attacked those of the enemy and forced them from the Bridge-port road. We thus succeeded in making a complete surprise. Immediately forming our ine of battle on the crest of a wooded hill, within five hundred yards of the works constructed to defend the bridge. At our first fire the rebels broke and ran, attempting to blow up the main bridge, but failed. They then attempted to fire the further ex tremity, but the volunteers at my call pushed forward in the face of their fire and saved the bridge from the island to the main shore. We could not save all of it. It is of small moment, its length being but about 450 feet. Prisoners taken report 5 regiments of infantry and 1,800 avaly stationed at the bridge. This campaign is ended, and I now occupy

Huntsville in perfect security, while in all of Alabama north of the Tennessee river, floats no flag but that of the Union.

The Campaign.

The most terrible and important results of the war are now daily looked for. The battles of Corinth and Yorktown will long be remem bered as among the most bloody in the annals of modern times. The rebels know that if they fail in them, their cause will be beyond all hope of resuscitation. Hence they will fight with the courage which despair gives to men who know that defeat is utter ruin to them and even death by the hangman to many of their

The great mass of the people, north and outh are represented in both armies by some of the dearest members of their household, and they will read the accounts of the terrible encounters with fearful interest, while every true friend of the Union will feel that upon the issue may depend the question whether he has a country, or whether all he holds dear is to be given up to anarchy, to be succeeded by a hateful military despotism.

We cannot doubt for a moment the results of the conflicts. The battle of Yorktown will be a splendid victory. There the rebels are doomed to a terrible defeat from which there can be no escape, and to a slaughter which will carry lamentation through the Southern States.

We have confidence of a sweeping victory at the West : yet not the same confidence we have in our triumph at Yorktown-for at the West. the southern troops are very numerous, and many of them well disciplined, and they are led by a General of undoubted ability, who will make almost superhuman efforts for success Our troops there are in an unfriendly country, and will be misled and deceived to their ruin if that be possible. Let they have been tried and to Halifax to dig writes home as follows: Gold burned its camp. Six cotton loaded vessels, found to be as brave as any men ever marshaled is being discovered here in every direction, and trying to run the blockade at Mobile were they have strengthened their works in every possible way. Yet we believe they will fall, and that in a few weeks, we shall inscribe upon our victorious banner, next to New Orleans, the triumph of our arms at Corinth and at Yorktown. "So mote it be."

Keeping up their Courage,

The New York Evening Post very cleverly squibs the rebel braggarts in the newspaper line, rail. They have renovated and refurnished the for their marvelous stories of their equally marvelous successes in the West. Three days after the retal-had surrendered Island No. 10 the New Orleans Delta fed its readers on such nectar as, that General Grant had applied to General Beauregard for an armistice of three days, and had been refused; that the Confed-recently conveying his insane wife to the asycrates had captured eighty pieces of our artillery lum at Canandaigua, she jumped off the cars and thirty thousand military equipments; General Sherman had been killed by the guerilla Morgan's soldiers; and that Island No. 10 had not been and would not be surrendered. This is pretty good for one paragraph. The writer might, however, have added that Commodore Foote had cut his throat in despair; that Mrs Davis had received company at the White House in Washington, in accordance with her promise made last year; that General Halleck had taken the overland route to California, with only two sandwiches and a hatbox; and that Confederate Treasury notes were in demand at a premium in New York.

Cleraships. The Norwalk Gazette gives the following list of candidates for clerks of the House. The number appears to be unusually large. We doubt whether the list includes all. It is of the utmost importance to the House that prompt and energetic men should be elected. None other should apply. There have been in times past applicants for those places who had ficiency. The election of such men would be a great hindrance to the public business, and a disgrace to the candidates. We do not know all the men named below; yet we do know that two or three of them are fully competent for first-class clerks. The Gazette gives the following names; Cooke Lounsbury and Nathan Willey, of Hartford; D. B. Booth, Danbury; W. T. Elmer, Middletown; H. B. Brown, Chatham ; G. B. Hilliard, Jr., Clinton ; John R. Buck, Hartford; H. Lynde Harrison, Branford; V. R. C. Giddings, Winsted; Brad-New York. Sold everywhere, and applied by all Hair ley D. Lee, Hitchcockville; F. D. Tyler, Torrington.

HIRAM CAMP, President. NEW HAVEN, May 1, 1862.

A Juvenile Drummer.

In Union street, not far north of Chapel, is a German Beer Saloon, the property of Mr. John Rattelsdorfer. Mr. R. at the breaking out of and creeping over him, and when the three years' men enlisted, finding so many of his countrymen and friends here going, concluded to pass the "shop" over to the care of his wife, while he shouldered his trusty rifle and went to fight for his adopted country. He enlisted in the 6th regiment under Col. Chatfield, but before going bought for his son, a little fellow of four summers, a drum. The little boy was much pleased, and used his drumsticks well last fall, after his father left for the South, but the winter kept him in; yet this spring he is out again, and on pleasant days can be seen proudly marching back and forth on the street near his father's place, plying his little drum-sticks vigorously upon the well beaten drum head. He does not assemble a crowd of boys around him, but "goes it alone," seeming perfectly happy with his own thoughts and the music of the drum left him by his father, when he went down to the front of the battle lines. The bumps of music and time must phrenologically hold a nigh position in that little fellow's head.

The Danbury Times says of the Election Parade next week :

All our available material is on duty in front of Yorktown, and with Burnside, or we would send a detachment. At all events they may have our Lieut. Governor a little while.

I have no faith in the thing myself; but if one half the anticipations of some are realized, Nova Scotia will shortly be a great country. Time will reveal."

The New London Star gives thanks to Messrs. Hotchkiss and Calhoun of the N. H. & N. L. R.R., saying they are entitled to the thanks of our citizens, as well as travelers who have Correspondence of the Palladia occasion to visit us, or pass through our city by Depot building, at the foot of the Parade, in a ereditable and attractive manner. The Ladies' Room has, in addition to its renovations, been arneted, and a lady will be in attendance.

As illustrating the destructive spirit of var, a correspondent of the (Me.) Mr. English, member of Congress from this district voted for the bill emancipating the slaves in the District of Columbia. His vote will, without doubt, surprise the ultra democ racy of this section, who have regarded Mr. English as one of themselves, and as having no ympathy with the abolition tendencies of the times. But our representative has done a no-ble act, and has fully carried out the views and April 25, 1862. Messes Editors: Since I wrote you, on th 17th, we have had very unpleasant weather. believe it has rained every day but with one ex eption, and as a matter of course the traveling about our camp is very muddy. The river is also very high so that we cannot ford it.

Last Thursday, Capt. Smith, of Co. B. 5th Va infantry, with 40 of his men, went on a and was instantly killed. Mr. Grant is said scouting expedition up Mill Creek. They were mounted on our horses, and ten of our men ac companied them for the purpose of bringing back the horses. At night the Adjutant with about twenty men was sent out to meet them on the other side of the river and help them lead over the horses. It is about lifteen miles from here. We crossed the river to Moorefield about half past eight. The road follows what is called the south fork. We went on for about ten or fifteen miles, and in going that distance we had to ford the river eight times. After Ossian Dodge and company amused the going that distance we learned that the party undience at Brewster Hall Tuesday night by had passed that point about half past 3, o'clock, all safe. Two of us were sent back to camp to report; the others were to go on for two miles where they could feed their horses, and stay for along almost anywhere. They sung last night the rest of the night. It was then about I o'clock. A refugee from Memphis reports that Humoolt is occupied by a small rebel force, who are engaged in throwing up defensive works. brings Memphis papers of the 26th. They of interest, further than a contain little matter confirmation of the fall of New Orleans. The Avalanche grumbles that the rebel authorities suppress the details in regard to affairs, and says that nothing but the bare fact of the surrender is known. The same papers say that the southern people are fast losing all confidence in their river defences, and it is generally admitted that the federal army can be no longer successfully resisted, and also intimates a lack of confidence in the stability of the remedy for those hitherto incurable complaints. See ad southern confederacy, by advising its patrons to invest whatever money they have in real estate, while purchases can be made with the money now in circulation, which is principally rebel treasury notes. The conscription law is rigidly enforced, and Union men are secreting themselves, or flying to avoid its operations. This refugee says that merchants of avowed secession proclivities are removing their goods to places of concealment and security, and that large numbers of families are moving away daily. The idea of burning the town is abandoned in consequence of the determined opposition of property holders. It is currently reported at Memphis that Beauregard has over 80,000 men at Corinth. and no hope is left of his successfully resisting Gen. Halleck, who is believed to have 200,000 men. As our informant left Memphis, it was reported that the rebel gunboat fleet from New Orleans was in sight and were bound up the river to join Hollin's fleet. A SUCCESSFUL SKIRMISH NEAR CORINTH.

Test for Silver Plating. THERE are few things of which most per sons are more incapable of forming correct opinion than in reference to silver piated articles. One test is the back of the articles plated. If that is silvery white, it in citates that but httle silver is used; for, when a good coating is designed, the back is waxed to prevent the silver adhering, or the silver is put on the face in leaf called close plating.

ver adnering, or the short is part of the city law requires close plating.

Some have been informed that the city law requires buildings to be number of by the first of May. This is a mittake; it may be done any time before the first of July. It is desirable, however, that every householder should know his number when the canvasser for the new Directory passes round. Mr. Furter is marking the numbers of or near the doors as fast as practicable, and exchanging the numbers.

Down on their Own.

The London Daily Telegraph, a penny pap of great circulation and considerable talent, recently commenced its principal leader with the following very frank confession: "Not long ago, in a complacent article about the maritime power of England, we congratulated our countrymen upon possessing a navy of one thousand ships of war. To-day we are to warn them that the Queen of the Seas has only four ships afloat to maintain her proud and necessary supremacy. The balance has neither disappeared under the waves nor succumbed to an nemy-they have been simply 'snuffed out' by the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac. We repeat, and we urge it upon the country, that, for the purposes of war, the Warrior, Black Prince, Resistance, and Defence, are all the vessels of England." This will show what the feeling is here.

The Garrisoning of Southern Forts.

The day of humiliation as well as of defeat, it would appear, must soon come upon the rebellious people of the South. It is interesting to observe that natural causes sometimes lead to the paths that diplomats and politicians cautiously avoid. The recapture of the Southern cities and forts renders it necessary to garrison and hold them, and the subject of enrolling blacks for the purpose is being earnestly liscussed. The Times says:

Summer sickness will very seriously affect the to Saturday evening. usefulness of our unacclimated soldiery in the South. On the Atlantic, as on the Gulf shores, billious diseases will make sad havoc among rank and file; and if the yellow fever appear, as it is likely to, such places as New Orleans the enemy from a piece of woods. and Mobile will be wholly untenable. It will Indies; and we can safely reckon not only on terwards. their fidelity, but on their immunity from climatic diseases.'

iect. savs:

"Several officers of Port Royal, among them the Colonel of a Pennsylvania regiment, write in hearty approval of the suggestion made by The best assertment and the best made Clothing for Senator Grimes, that the forts ought to be garrisoned by loyal blacks. The Colonel says that would like to raise a regiment of blacks in Philadelphia, with which to garrison Southern! forts. He promises to do it in ten days after he is empowered."

Fire in Pleasant Valley.

The large brick tavern in Barkhamsted known as the Belden hotel took fire Wednesday night in the attic, and was all burned down. It had lately been purchased by Corrill Manchester, of Middletown, whose goods, stored in the upper room, were destroyed. The building was occupied by Mrs. Mary Belden, whose goods were saved. The tavern was lately owned by Allen Hawley of Colebrook. So says the Hartford Times.

The House of Representatives by a vote of 79 against 45 adopted a resolution censuring the conduct of Simon Cameron while Secretary of War, and rejected by a vote of 45 to 72 a censure of Secretary Welles of the Navy Department.

Possible Loss of a New Haven Bark. Fears are entertained for the safety of oark Grapeshot, Capt. Frisbie of this port.

The Grapeshot sailed from New York on the 25th of Feb. bound for Barbados, and had not arrived on the 12th of April. She undoubtedly suffered in the heavy gales prevalent from the 27th of February to the first of March, which proved fatal to so many vessels.

At the Committee Meeting last evening Washington Webb, Esq., was appointed Chief Marshal for the Election Parade, with power to appoint his assistants, and arrange the details of the procession.
