A BY-LAW PELATING TO THE CONNECTION OF

PRIVATE DRAINS WITH THE GEORGE STREET SEWER, &c.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the Court of Common Council of the City of New Haven:

That no private drain shall be connected with the George Street Sewer, or with the continuation of the branches of the same, unless a permit in writing, to make such connection, from the Mayor and Aldermen, under the hand of the Mayor, shall have been first obtained by the owner or owners of the property with which the proposed drain is to connect, or by their agent; and no such permit shall be issued until there shall have been paid into the City Treasury the sum heroinafter established as the price of said perm t.

Sec. 2. The price of said permit shall be, for drains from private dwelling houses and stores, $50, (fifty dollars,)—it being understood that when houses are built in blocks the price designated shall be paid by each tenement; for herbes and public houses, $150, (one hundred and fifty dollars;) and for all manufacturing establishments and other establishments not included in the above, $200, (two hundred dollars.)

SEC. 3. The laying of said drains shall be done under the direction, and to the acceptance of the Street Commissioner. It shall be the duty of the owner or owners of the premises to which said drains shall be attached, to employ skillful and careful workmen in making the necessary opening into the Sewer, and to conform to the directions of the Street Commissioner in regard to the manner in which said openings shall be made and said drains made and laid, and to keep said drains at all times in good repair. The Street Commissioner shall have power, and is shall be his duty, under the direction of the Common Council, to discoutinue, stop up, and prevent from discouncil, to discoutinue, stop up, and prevent from discouncil, to discoutinue, stop up, and prevent from discouncil to discoutinue the direction of the Common for t shall be his duty, under the direction of the Common Council, to discoutinue, stop up, and prevent from discherging in said Sewer, any private drain which is not laid or kept in repair to his reasonable satisfaction.

SEC. 4. Any person who shall make, or cause to be made, any opening into or connection with said Sewer, or the continuation or branches of the sa.ne, without having first obtained a written permit as aforesaid, or shall open, or cause to be opened, any drain which shall have been stopped up or discontinued as aforesaid, until the same shall have been approved by the Strut Commissioner, shall forfeit and pay a penalty of One Hundred Liolians for the use of said City, to be recovered in any proper form of action.

Gen. Wool Marching Down. FORTRESS MONROE, May 14, 1862. Hon. Edward M. Stanton:

Our troops under Major Dodge, took Suffolk last evening. All is quiet there now.

Gen. McClellan's troops are at Cumberland. JOHN E. WOOL. (Signed,) Major General. Particulars of the Gunboat attack at Fort Wright.

CAIRO, May 13, 1872. The Cincinnati was seriously damaged by frequent buttings from the rebel rams and compelled to run into shoal water on the Tennessse shore, where she grounded and had four feet of water on her gun deck. The Government derrick has gone to raise her. She is supposed to be affoat to day. The Mound City did excellent service. She was struck in a similar manner to the Cincinnati, but not so badly damaged. She was run into shoal water and settled to bottom. She has been pumped out and arrived here for repairs. During the heat of the engagement one of the rebel gunboats got a hold of one of the federal bomb-ketches and was towing it away when the Benton bore down upon her and after brief skirmish compelled the rebel to release her prize. No arrivals from Pittsburg since Sunday, Inaccurate Statement of Losses at Williamsburgh by Reporters.

WILLIAMSBURGH, May 14, 1862. Reports of killed and wounded in battle here are very incorrect. Lieut. Col. Wells, Provost Marshal here, says the casualties in his regiment are very incorrect. The reported loss of the Excelsior brigade is incorrect, particularly that of the 1st regiment. Col. Dwight was not killed, but is badly wounded and now on the way to New York. The list of captured is also wrong. Capts. Henry, Brooks, O'Rielly, were killed. Those other Capts. named with him as killed, viz: Brun, Bugbee, and Price, are miss ing; reported as prisoners at Richmond. Capt. Mahan was wounded and Lieut. Haynor killed [CONGRESS CONTINUED.] Mr. Eliot, from the Select Committee on Con fiscation, reported two bills on that subject. He said there was not now time for its consideration, and suggested that it be postponed, and made the special order for Monday next.

Mr. Cox inquired whether the gentleman proposed to permit full discussion on these bills. Mr. Eliot did not know what the gentleman neant by this. He was disposed to allow reaonable time for debate.

The first bill provides that all estates, property and money of persons holding or hereafter holding office under the so-called Confederate Statee, shall be forfeited to the United States. Proceedings to be brought in rem. The Presilent is required to issue a proclamation giving sixty days notice.

A planter named Alfred Bernard, rode into Fredericksburgh Va. on Tuesday, to obtain a fugitive chattel, who was in the service of a Union captain. He obtained from Gen. Patrick the information that he was not just now a In all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in Deputy Marshal, and moreover had more imgitive slaves.

The Upper Mississippi Flest. Fleet Captain A. W. Pennock telegraphs from Cairo, May 13, to Secretary Welles that in the engagement at Fort Wright, the Mound City was injured on the starboard bow by ram, and is on her way to Cairo for repairs. The Cincinnati was also injured and sunk in 12 of water, but will be raised. Fourth master Reynolds, of the Cincinnati, was mortally wounded, and two of her crew were slightly

Norfolk.

The capture of Norfolk is one of the most gratifying events of the war-almost equal in importance to the capture of Richmond or Charleston-and more so in some respects. Norfolk is a pestiferous place-one of the hottest of the hotbeds of secession. And yet the people of that place have always had more intercourse with Northern people than those of either of the other cities named, and know how Morris repaired on board that ship to report his shamefully we have been slandered by their demagogues. When Norfolk was desolated by the pestilence, Northern men and women went to their assistance by hundreds, and great numbers of them found their graves there. In that time of trouble the citizens of Norfolk were willing to acknowledge that there was some virtue in the Northern people. But their ingratitude has been equal to their treason. They have been among the most fiery of the fireeaters-the most venomous, impudent and boastful of all the Southern cities; and it is the Summer Term of their Seminary for Boarding and truly gratifying to find them succumbing to the demands of a Northern army. It is stated that the braggarts expressed full confidence that Norfolk would be repossessed and "the Yankees driven out in twenty days." The more desperate the fortunes of the desperadoes the more boastful they become. Every defeat to them is a victory, if we are to believe their statements; and now that their rebellion has "gone under," they talk as if their independence had been fully secured! It will doubtless be many months before they will admit that the Confederacy has gone into bankruptcy.

New Orleans. The New Orleans newspapers are still very saucy notwithstanding their subjugated condition. The Mayor set them the example. It is that such "freedom of the press" as they prac- ing for the same. We broke camp at Moorposition was impregnable. Their forts were fantry. At Petersburgh we encamped, and the Fire Department has responded to the invitation or communicated with the Dest enmere garden arbors. His course was right on- iment and 5th Virginia. At Petersburgh, they they; but it seems almost impossible for them afternoon, they raised a flag-staff in front of

The Destructionists. TRUNKS, BAGS, VALISES AND RUBBER That they should attempt to destroy our arernment is not surprising; but that they should the flag at that time, but that resolved to die burn their own villages and destroy their own rather than see it trampled in the dust. The dry docks, is very surprising—for in all of that first that ever rang through that little town. they are crippling themselves, and doing com- Friday, the 2d, we received orders to prepare paratively little harm to the Government. There to march, together with all the troops, except are navy yards in the North which will answer two companies of infantry, who remained to a very good purpose if the South do not want any in their midst hereafter. Their conduct in river is high, and the bottom of the river is these respects is like that of the boy who threatened his mother, that if she did not grant his for the teams to carry the infantry; they got request, he would go and catch the measles. The rebels would profess to feel very bad if the Northern army should burn their towns and navy vards. If they are bent upon weakening their own position, we know not that the loyal States should complain. A few years of poverty may do the rebels good.

President Lincoln in the Field.

President Lincoln in person appears to have directed the advance upon Norfolk, and, like every movement of his, it has been attended with success. This Norfolk has long been an eyesore, and its possession by the rebels, a great impediment to the success of the Union cause. The Merrimac, that powerful aid of the rebels, is among the things that were-the rebels in their despair have destroyed it with their own hands. These events of the past few days are of great significance and importance in their bearings on the future of the rebellion

It can hardly be estimated when and how the entiment of these people (the New Orleans rebels) can be subdued. To whip their armies is an easy matter compared to the task of forcibly turning the current of their opinions.

Hartford Times.

The Times seems to be a good deal worried about what will be the disposition of the rebels after they have been thrasted out, and scems afraid that they will not come into the hearty ing upon us and will soon restore peace within support of the Union and the Constitution.

We think it hardly necessary to forbode evil on that account. If they have not suffered enough already, there is yet time for them to indulge in the luxury of being miserable a while longer. In short, if they have not made up their minds to behave themselves, they must up their minds to behave themselves, they must now we are in the secession part of the State. go to some more hospitable shore, and better The most that there is to trouble us is the guercitizens will take their places. One of the hap- rilla bands that infest the mountains and lay py results of the war will be that hereafter there will be a large admixture of Northern blood, brains and industry, in the Southern States.

Munitions of War Taken at and Near Norfolk. Major General John E. Wool, under date of May 12, gives his official report of the taking of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Gosport, the particulars of which are already before the public

In conclusion he says: As far as I have been able to ascertain,

Letter from Charlie. United States Gunboat Port Royal, Hampton Roads, May 7, 1862.

MESSRS. EDITORS: We arrived here yester day after a very pleasant passage from Gotham this vessel, however, drawing so little water causes her to roll some. We anchored at 19 meridian near the Minnesota, and Commander arrival. At 1 p. m. he was on board again, and we up anchor and stood up in a line with the Monitor, Galena and Naugatuck.

We have fine, gentlemenly and brave officers, who have been tried, and a crew that in my mind will do their duty. Time will tell. These Roads are full of men-of-war and transports. The Vanderbilt looks gay.

I trust that all my New Haven friends are in good order. They must not worry, especially the ladies, who have sons or brothers in this unnatural war. All will come out right after

Great improvements have been made since I left here two months ago. Yankees are not slow in throwing up sand and stones. The Union and Lincoln guns look up stream with a sort of frown. I have not struck the beach yet, but shall I presume before long. The Yankee "cheese box" looks comical crawling about. Excuse the hurry of this, and with respects to all friends, I remain yours,

But at this place we have to ford the river, and it is very bad fording as the rough, so that we found it a tedious process tangled and one or two of them went down the iver-two horses were drowned. After working hard they did not get two regiments over so we were ordered to unpack and remain for the night. Saturday, we crossed the river and marched about six miles when we halted for the rest of the train. We marched in two divisions-Co. B. and C. under command of Lieut. Howell Atwater, composed the advance guard of the first division, followed by the 55th Thio and 5th Virginia; also three guns of the battery. Co. D. advance guard to the second We marched about twelve miles per day and the advance guard arrived at Franklin had for our quarters the use of a large log barn, with a plenty of hay to sleep on. There is no house within sight, so that the neighbors do not trouble us. For the last three days we have had splendid weather. It has been cool, or not excessive warm, so that the infantry rathe could march very comfortably. The infantry boys all envy us our horses when they see us riding along, and we hear many a one say as we pass, I wish that I belonged to the cavalry -how I wish that I had a horse, &c. But when they see us carrying the forage and grooming our horses, they see that there is no reat loss but what there is some small gain The grass and grain begin to grow fast, and

On Wednesday, Gen. Milroy was confronted by a rebel force said to be those of Jackson. Johnson and Ewell. After a sharp skirmish with a portion of Jackson's army, Gen. Schenck about noon, Monday. We are encamped about came up, having made a forced march of 34 one mile and a quarter from the village and miles in one day. The enemy then approached in three directions.

Milroy detached four regiments, which, in attempting to prevent the placing of a rebel battery, brought on an engagement. Our loss was 5 killed and 70 wounded. The rebels lost severely, and did not succeed in placing their Gen. Schenck, by orders from headquarters, then withdrew his whole force back upon the reinforcements which Gen. Fremon is bringing forward. An organized guerrilla force of four hundred have taken two towns. Arnoldsburg and Spencer, near Parkersburg, threatening the Grafton railroad, which connects the Ohio river with Cumberland and the East. Gen. Kelley has been ordered up in person with reinforcements.

THE PRINCESS ROYAL LEVER SKIRT.

In recommending to the public this greatly needed des sideratum, we do it with confi lence as to its utility, firm! believing that its general adaptation must be not only matter of FASHION but one of NECESSITY.

THE ADVANTAGES ARE-

The lower hoops being round and turned in front, for a Lever, keeping the skirt in perfect form ; thereby not allowing it to hitch up or get entangled in any way whatever. The open space in front, forming a circle, obviates all obstruction to the feet while walking or getting in and out of carriages. Owing to its peculiar construction the tendency while sitting is to fall in a very graceful position

4 O'Clock, p. m. BUTLER'S PROCLAMATION CONCLUDED

Thrice before has the city of New Orlean been rescued from the hands of a foreign government, and still more calamitous domestic insurrection by the money and arms of the United States. It has of late been under military control of rebel forces, and at each time in the judgment of commanders of military forces holding it, has been found necessary to preserve order and maintain quiet by an administration of martial law. Even during the interim from its evacuation by the rebel soldiers, and its actual possession by the soldiers of the United States, the civil authorities found it necessary to call for the intervention of an avowed body known as the European Legion to preserve pub lic tranquility. The Commanding General, therefore, will cause the city to be governed until its restoration to U. S. authority, and his further orders by martial law. All persons in arms against the United State are required to surrender themselves, with their arms, equipments, and munitions of war The body known as the "European Legion," not being understood to be in arms against th United States, but organized to protect the lives and property of citizens, are invited to still co-operate with the forces of the United States, and so acting will not be included in the terms of this order, but will report to these neadquarters.

All ensigns, flags and devices leading to upold any authority, save the flags of the United States and foreign Consulates, must not be exhibited but suppressed.

The American ensign, the Emblem of the United States, must be treated with the utmost respect by all persons under pain of severe pun

All persons well disposed to the governmen of the United States who shall renew their oath of allegiance will receive the safe-guard of pro tection in their persons and property of the armies of the United States, the violation of which s punishable by death.

All persons still holding allegiance to the confederate states will be deemed rebels against the Government of the United States, and so regarded and treated as enemies thereof. All foreigners not naturalized and claiming allegiance to their respective governments, and not having made an oath of allegiance to the government of the confederate states, will be protected in their persons and property as heretofore, under the laws of the United States.

All persons who may heretofore have given dherence to the supposed government of the confederate states, or been in their service, who shall lay down and deliver up their arms and return to their peaceful occupations, and preserve quiet and order, holding no further correspondence, nor giving aid and comfort to enemies of the United States, will not be disturbed in person or property except so far, under the orders of the commanding General, as the exigencies of the public service may render neces-

Keepers of all public property, whether State, National or Confederate, such as collections of art, libraries, museums, as well as all public buildings, munitions of war, and armed vessels, will at once make full report thereof to these headquarters.

disorders and disturbances of the peace arising in their respective places. Sufficient force will be kept in the city to pre erve order and maintain the laws. The killing of American soldiers by any dis orderly persons or mob is simply assasination and murder and not war and shall be so regard ed and nunished. The owner of any house in which such mur der shall be committed shall be held responsible therefor and the house will be liable to be destroyed by the military. All disorders and disturbances of the peace nd crimes of an aggrevated nature interfering with the forces or laws of the United States will be referred to a military court for trial and punishment, and other misdemeanors will be subject to municipal authority if it choose to act and civil causes between party and party are to be referred to the ordinary tribunals.

Levy and collection of taxes, save those im posed by the laws of the United States, are sup pressed, except those for keeping in repairs and lighting the streets and for sanitary purposes; these are to be collected in the usual manne The circulation of Confederate bends, as evidences of debt, (except notes in similitude of bank notes,) issued by the Confederate States or scrip, or any trade in the same, is forbidden. It has been represented to the Commanding General, by the civil authorities, that these Confederate notes, in the form of bank notes in a great measure, are the only substitute fo money which the people have been allowed to have, and that great distress would ensue among the poorer classes if the circulation of such notes is suppressed; such circulation will be permitted as long as any one shall be incon-

CAPTURE OF PRIZES ON THE PIANKATANK.

Five Hundred Rebels lay Down their Arms and take the Oath of Allegiance.

Washington, May 13, 1862. The Wyandank has arrived from the Rappa annock. The Freeborn and Island Belle went up the Piankatank, and on Saturday, cut out two rebel schooners-one with a valuable cargo of whisky and other stores. The Belle proceeded up the river some distance and discovered a body of five hundred rebel deserters from Gloucester Point batteries, who stated that when the order was given to evacuate, they being disgusted with the service, determined to march to the Federal lines and surrender. They belonged to a Virginia regiment. They offered to lay down their arms and take the oath of allegiance which Capt. Harris of the Belle administered to them all.

AFFAIRS AT NORFOLK.

NORFOLK, May 13, 1862. The city is very quiet; most of the stores are closed, but it is expected they will open in a day or two, except where the occupants left with the army.

There is some excitement, but it is supposed in a few days, when communication is fully ppened with Northern ports, confidence will be ompletely restored.

Prices are high; candles miserable, sixty ents per pound; brown wrapping paper envelopes, fifty cents a package; brown sugar 29 ents per pound.

A number of stores will be opened in a few days by parties from Old Point and Baltimore with supplies and articles much needed. The Post Office and Custom House will doubt ess be reopened shortly. Very little Union sentiment is openly ex ressed. Our soldiers go all over the city, and as they freely talk with the citizens, it must produce a good effect.

All the fortifications are occupied by Union All public property is in possession of the dederal authorities.

The policy of the rebel government appears to be to concentrate their troops at Richmond. Some say that all the Gulf States will be abanloned before Virginia, and that Richmond will be held to the very last. All insist that a desperate resistance will be made there, if no

To Hon. E. M. Stanton: Commander Rogers writes me to-day that h vent with the gunboats yesterday past Little Branoon. Everything was quiet and there were no signs of troops crossing the river. He found two batteries of 10 or 12 guns each on the south side of James river; one opposite the mouth of the Warwick, the other about southwest from Mulberry Point. The upper battery on Harding's or Mother ince's Bluff, has heavy rifled pieces. Between the batteries lay the Jamestown and Yorktown Com. Rogers offered battle, but as the gunboat moved off, he silenced one battery and run past

G. B. McCLELLAN, Major General Commanding. Washington, May 13, 1862.

The President has issued a proclamation de claring that the blockade of the ports of Beau fort, Port Royal and New Orleans, shall so far cease as is determined from and after the first of June, and that commercial intercourse with these ports, except intelligence and things contraband of war, may from that time be subject to the laws of the United States, and to the limitations pursuance of the regulations pre sented by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Harvey Brown was yesterday confirmed as a Brigadier General in the United States army. The Post-Office Department has dispatched an agent to Portsmouth and Norfolk to investigate the affairs of the Post-Offices there and re-establish postal communication.

The Day Book will be continued as an afternoon paper, on condition that it will be respect ful. To-day's number has only extracts from Northern journals, and an editorial statement of the facts of the occupation of the city.

Senator Dixon's Eulogy.

We have before alluded to the eloquent eulogy of Senator Dixon upon the death of the patriot and hero Senator Baker. We have recently received from the publisher the pamphlet heart. containing the carefully revised speeches in the Senate, on that sad occasion, of Senators Nesmith of Oregon, Browning of Illinois, Cowan of Pennsylvania, Dixon of Connecticut, Sumner of Massachusetts, and Latham of California; and in the House of Sheil of Oregon, Phelps of California, Colfax of Indiana, Richardson of Illinois, Sargent of California, Kelley of Pennsylvania, and Riddle of Ohio.

Among them all, there is not one that in beauty of language, delicacy of sentiment, pure, moral and religious spirit, and genuine patriotism, that exceeds that of our own Senator, Mr. Dixon. We have not room for it all at this time, but extract from it its closing passages, as fol-

"Although I became somewhat familiarly acquainted with Colonel Baker nearly sixteen years ago, I know little of his early mental habits, or of his course of discipline and study. to 6 months in the County jail and $50 fine. Yet it was impossible to listen to his ordinary conversation, or to his elaborate efforts in the Senate, or, more especially, to those unsurpassed specimens of eloquence which, without a mo- ing been dismissed. ment's preparation, he threw off, burning and sparkling, in the heat and glow of extemporaleous depate, yet profusely illustrated by allusions to all the varied fields of literature and science, without being assured that his intellect, naturally of a high order, had been cultivated, strengthened, and enlarged, by close and careful study, and enriched and adorned by an intimate acquaintance with the choicest literature of our language. As an orator, he was remarkable for an assured self-pessession, which gave him, at all times and under all circumstances, the complete control of his mental powers. To The best assortment and the best made Clothing for this he added a command of the English language so full and complete, as perhaps to tempt him sometimes to indulge in an affluence of dic tion too ornate and copious to satisfy the strictest canons of criticism. Yet who that listened to him in popular assemblies—who that heard or read his speeches in the Senate, or his occasional addresses-especially that memorable oration uttered on the shores of the Pacific, over the dead body of his friend, the brave, the still > pressive, perhaps redundant words, had been "The brilliant talents of Senator BAKERhis unsurpassed powers as an orator, his selfpoised reliance upon his own capacities, his courage and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism—would not have been sufficient in themselves, without the higher large and his patriotism without the higher large and his patriotism. win for him that large share of the admiration of his countrymen which he enjoyed. He was, have reason to believe, not only a great, but a good man. He acknowledged his accountathe light of that law of God which irradiates the path of every man who seeks to know and to perform his duty. Of the peculiar tenets of is religious faith, I am uninformed; but his life, judging from its outward manifestation here, was that of a Christian statesman. What glories illustrated its close a grateful country will not soon forget. It needed only to have been breathed out in the arms of victory to have been the end which he would have chosen. But though that might have added to the joy with which he welcomed death, nothing in his end was wanting to its glory. What nobler epitaph could he have desired-what nobler epitaph could any of those patriots desire who now, in unnumbered hosts, emulous of his fame, are ready to share his fate on the field of battle

-than this: He died for his Country!" A Happy Time.

It will be seen by the following from the Hartford Times that the "Abolitionists" have come out all right. So we shall hear no more from that quarter of "abolitionism on the one hand and secessionism on the other." We congratulate the Times in at last escaping from the 'dismal swamp' in which it has been so long mmured. The Times having made "abolition on the one hand" all right, we hope it will be as successful in making "secessionism on the other" equally right:

"The Abolitionists, in and out of Congress, are beginning to haul in their horns.' Even the wildest of the fanatics have modified their tone and few of them now demand the passage of sweeping measure of confiscation, abolition, and the reduction of States to the condition of conquered and dependent Territories. The Tribune of New York, seems to talk less furiously in favor of over riding the Constitution; and of course this change will be followed by such cchoes of that paper as the Jartford Press and other disunion-abolition organs Bingham, and Lovejoy, and Wade, and Sumner. are inclined to make less noise, and Hale of New Hampshire now even goes so far as to insist that the Constitution must be strictly adhered to. One of the most significant of the proofs now accumu ting that the Abolitionists are "taking the back ' is afforded in their change of front concern track "is allorded in their change of from concern-ing Gen. McClellan. They no longer plot against the General; and in Congress, as well as in the War Department, there is a disposition to cease to "kick against the pricks." Nay, even Lovejoy himself has offered resolutions of praise and thanks to Gen. McClellan! and the House has passed

We had supposed that the Times deeped the abolitionists to be incorrigable; but it seems not. They are right, "glorious fellers." Now, if the Times can cure the fanaticism of Vallandigham and the others of his tribe, we shall esteem it a patriot entitled to float down the stream of time on something more imposing than a chip.

J. W. Newcomb, Jr., formerly of the cutting the tents, &c. Palladium, returned from Butler's expedition on Saturday. He reports Butler having about the ground, immediately arrested Terrence Norfolk, Portsmouth and the Navy Yard were 8,000 troops in New Orleans, among them the 9th and 12th Connecticut Regiments. Strange to relate, the little children coolly kept their seats in the melee, and escaped injury.

We beg the authorities to look to this subject. The safety of the public demands it.

Rowdyish.

A large crowd of boys and young men congregated near the Circus at the corner of Grand and Franklin streets, last evening, and amused themselves by a performance on their own hook. They fastened upon the wagons belonging to the company, and hauled them away, and finally grappled the ticket wagon which contained the specie and took it some distance into devils, and doing all the mischief possible by

THE SENATORSHIP .- The Winsted Herald says, what follows, and so far as we know, with truth, about the Senatorship to be filled at the present session:

"There seems to be little disposition in the Leg islature to change our United States Senator at the present session. Ex-Governor Minor of Stamford, leads a 'forlorn hope' in favor of Judge E. K. Governor Letcher of Virginia in his message to the Legislature of that State, at Richmond May 6, pronounces the conscription act of the rebel Congress unconstitutional, but for the sake of harmony and unity of action, he acquiesced in its operation. In the same message he proposes an aggressive policy, and thinks the invasion of the Northern States would prove a palliative for the reverses the rebel army have of late met within the borders of Virginia: while it would remove the war to the Northern States. Letcher will soon learn the vast difference between saying the war should be removed north and the ability of doing it.
