"Flag Day."

To-day-Saturday, June 14-is the 85th an niversary of the adoption of the glorious banner of the "Red, White and Blue," now more glorious than ever before and a thousand times endeared to every loyal heart.

New Haven is gay to-day with bunting that gracefully decks shipping and public and private edifices. State street especially blazes with the beautiful colors, and all over the city the banner drapes with its graceful folds the "outer walls" and the topmost places.

The people gladly accept "Flag Day" as an institution and it will not alter the case if the Legislature reject the resolution on that subject-as the House shows some intention of

The State Agricultural Society.

The Committee of the State Agricultural Society on Thursday voted to hold their fair in Hartford, fixing the time at the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th of October. Henry A. Dyer, for ten years Secretary of the Society, has tendered his resignation, and an abler man for the duties of there has been a growing feeling of town pride relative to farm products throughout the State, and more particularly in this County, which has led to town and district exhibitions on a very creditable scale.

The refusal to obtain Hamilton Park in this city as a place of exhibition will most likely result in damage to the society. These local organizations would most likely have concentrated their efforts had the exhibition been held here, and added largely to the receipts. Then it is obvious at sight, that the inducements offered by the grounds of Hamilton Park, the ly. The meetings this week under Geo. F. Kim buildings, water, and in fact all needful conveniences for a successful State_Exhidition are not to be found or obtained in the State for society for their use. The usual annual apppropriation has not passed the Legislature, and we very much fear the society, as a State institution, will soon cease.

Another Tragedy in State Prison.

We learn from the Hartford papers that on Friday evening as the prisoners were about being placed in the cells and the usual preliminary search being carried on, a convict named Jones rushed upon Mr. Joseph B. Buck, an overseer, and stabbed him twice with a shoeknife, inflicting, probably, a fatal injury. One of the wounds was inflicted in the abdomen, penetrating the stomach, and the other in the hand. The Courant says:

The convict a man of probably 35 years of age was sent from Norwalk two years and five months ago, for three years, for stealing. He says he had been told by the shop waiter, a convict named Holland that Buck intended to kill him, and though he would hurt him so that he could not do so. He is evidently trying to play the insane dodge, but is not likely to succeed. Jones has been confined in a solitary cell to await the result of the injuries o Mr. Buck. He is considered by the warden and deputies as a silly, weak-minded man, but shrewd, and has never had any cause to make him attempt and has never had any cause to make him attempt to take Mr. Buck's life. After committing the deed Jones ran out into the yard, where he was secured by some of the convicts.

The Connecticut Cavalry. We learn from our correspondent that the Conn. Cavalry were at Harrisonburg, June 7th. They had been on the march since the 25th of May. Heavy rain storms occurred almost every day, "one day hail stones fell the size of a quarter of a dollar, and when they struck the face or hands hurt considerably. At Mount Jackson on Tuesday the 3d, the rebels destroyed the bridge across the Shenandoah, and a pontoon bridge was brought up. The rain had swollen the river so much that after one regiment of cavalry and one or two regiments of infantry had crossed, the bridge had to be taken up. The river rose in one night some ten or twelve feet, and tore up trees by the roots, and sent them down the boiling current. It fell again as rapidly, and the army noved on in pursuit of Jackson. Hon. Thos. D'Arcy McGee, was recently manimously chosed a member of the Canadian Parliament, from Montreal, C. W. He came to this country friendless and penniless, and began life as a printer in the office of the Bos ton Pilot, afterward became editor of the paper eturned to his native land and became the editor of a paper called the Dublin Nation. Th disturbances of '48 caused him to flee to this country where, with John Mitchell, he started the American Celt, an organ of Irish feelings and sentiments. Abandoning this on account of financial difficulties, he went to Montreal, where he speedily attained a position of influence with the masses. SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.—In passing through the Hospital yesterday, we felt grateful that the soldiers were so well cared for. Physicians and nurses were busy in their respective du in their new quarters. One Pennsylvania soldier badly wounded, said to another one: "This spot Connecticut, is the spot for me. Don't the folks take good care of us, hey?" The fine grounds the good nurses, and skillful physicians, all make this spot a place dear to them. Eight clergymen of different denominations have been appointed to act as Chaplains, each spending a fixed time among the soldiers, and each in turn conducting religious exercises. Arrangements have been made to furnish from day to day good music, to those soldiers who were slightly wounded, and who occupy the tents, that the long weary hours may seem less tedious to them. All our citizens are doing much to make the soldiers comfortable.

NEW HAVEN COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION .-- O Thursday of next week, at 11 o'clock a. m., a Sun day School Convention is to be held at Milford, in Rev. Dr. Brace's Church. The people have mad Rev. Dr. Brace's Church. The people have made provisions for all who desire to attend. If Super-intendents will notify A. A. Baldwin, Milford, at an early date, the number of teachers or delegates who are intending to be present, they will all be cared for. The Convention is to be continued during the day and in the evening. Interesting addresses may be expected.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION. The Convention of the Prost. Epis. Church in th Diocese of Connecticut was held at Bridgeport. Tuesday and Wednesday, 10th and 11th insts. The attendance of both elergymen and laymen was large and nearly every parish was represented.

The Convention sermon was preached by the Rev Mr. Harwood of this city from Col. I c. 18 v. I was an elaborate and well written discourse, having for its subject "order in belief," and occupied ar hour in its delivery. After the sermon and after the Holy Communion, Bishop Williams called the convention to order and the roll of clerical mem bers having been made and a Committee appointed to receive and examine the credentials of lay dele rates a recess was taken until 3 o'clock p. m.

Upon re-assembling the committee reported th ist of delegates entitled to seats, and the Rev. J. M Willey was re-elected Secretary with great unanim ity. Bishop Willians read his annual address from which it appeared that during the past year he had peen "in labors more abundant." He has preached on 180 occasions, delivered 74 confirmation and other addresses, and administered the Apostolic rite of Confirmation to 794 candidates. He has or dained 8 persons Deacons and advanced six to the priesthood. Two Rectors have been instituted into their parishes; one church has been consecrated and four are waiting consecrrtion. Among the proceedings of the convention was the appointment of a board of Directors for the Christain Knowledge Society as follows: Rev. E. Harwood, Rev. C. G Acley, Rev. D. T. Sanford, Rev. F. T. Russell, and Messrs. Wm. T. Lee, J. C. Hollister, and C. A. Lewis. The new parishes were admitted int Union with the Convention, the Church of the Redeemer in Southington, and Cavalry Church, Round Hill, in the town of Greenwich. The Rev. Drs Mead, Hallam, J. D. Clark, Goodwin, and Bearsl were elected the Standing Committee.

Tuesday evening a very large congregation tended the services in behalf of the Christian Know ledge Society. The Rev. Mr. Williams, of Bridge port, preached the sermon from 2 Cor. XI c, 23d and most earnestly and faithfully presented th ause of Diocesian Missions.

Much of the morning of the second day was to ken up in chosing delegates to the General Conventhird Sabbath evening. Its Mission is held in tion which meets next October in New York. The DEPUTIES .- Rev. Dr. Mead, Hallam, J. L. Clark

> SUPPLIMENTARY DEPUTIES .- Rev. Dr. Beard ey and Lewis, and Messrs, Russell and Olmstead. The laymen chosen are:

Elton, J. M. Goodwin, and E. D. Gower. The report of the Directors of the Christic Knowledge Society for the last year showed a very satisfactory condition of affairs, and urged if poss ble, the employment of more than our itineran nissionary. Rev. Samuel Hall, the present itine ant, made an interesting statement of the results of his examination of openings for the introduction o the Church, and after the transaction of some rot tine business and the passage of sundry compl mentary resolutions, the Convention adjourne sine die about 5 o'clock p. m.

Laachiel calling herself an Indian Doctress, has resided in that city for some years, and has been generally suspected of being an abortion-ist. Some 18 months since she was arrested on the charge of causing the death of a young girl, but escaped conviction. On Thursday night last a corpse was taken from the house in a mysterious manner, and information having been given of the fact to the police, inquiries were made which resulted in the discovery of the place where it had been interred. The body was exhumed, and an examination proved that death had been eaused by violence attending the procurement of an abortion. The house of the Doctress was immediately entered and searched, when a horrible scene presented itself to the officers. On the second floor, in a small, unventilated room, lay a young woman about 20 years of age, whose life seemed to be ebbing away as fast as possible. She was fearfully 20 years of age, whose life seemed to be ebbing away as fast as possible. She was fearfully emaciated. Her eyes protruded from their sockets, her limbs were shrunken to skeletonic proportions, while her face presented a ghastly appearance. She had barely energy sufficient to give her name and a partial history of her sufferings. Her name is Jenny Johnson, and she says she has a sister residing at Niagara Falls, married to a man named McDonald. 20 years of age, whose life seemed to be ebbing Falls, married to a man named McDonald. The upper floor was then examined, and another and more horrible sight presented itself to view. Here was found a young woman in the throes of death, alternating between intense agony and wild delirium. She spoke incoher ently about her babe, requesting pleadingly that it be removed from her presence, and then, becoming rational, talked as reasonably about her condition as her terrible pains would admit. She gave her name as Mary Louisa Byer. Her brother, Robert Byer, was sent for. in company with another sister, appeared at the bed-side of the dying girl. Both failed to recognize her till her dress was shown to the sister, when she fainted. We will not attempt to portray the scene which followed this discovery. Crazily and lovingly the brother and sister hung around her couch in that dingy garret till 20 minutes past four o'clock, when she reathed her last.

Both of these girls were victims of the se ducer's art, both respectably connected. So much of the tale as the Buffalo Courier tells is sickening in the extreme, and all is not told. The girl whose burial led to the discovery of the "slaughter house" was Mary Hamilton, and she died of violence. The woman Laachiel was arrested, also a ne gro named John Craig, and a young man named Robert Harod, an assumed physician. An investigation of the case is looked for with anxiety, as further revelations are expected.

Startling disclosures are expected to grow out of this arrest which may involve those holding respectable positions in society. Yesterday while the officers were in possession of the "slaughter house" not less than twenty females, married and single, called and enquired for the proprietress.

Madame Laachiel has practiced as an abortionist for several years in Buffalo. Her house is fitted up for carrying on her disgraceful proession on a most extensive scale, and there is every evidence of its having been little else than a monster slaughter house of unfortunate wo-

What Battle Phrases Mean.

Think only of the common hackneyed exressions which pass so lightly between the ips when speaking of a great battle. We talk exultingly, and with a certain fire, of a "magnificent charge," of "a splendid charge;" very few will think of the hideous particulars these two airy words stand for. The "splendid charge" is a headlong rush of men on strong horses, urged to their fullest speed, riding down and overwhelming an opposing mass of men on foot. The reader's mind goes no further, being content with the information that the enemy ine was "broken" and "gave way."

To do so effectually, we must first think of an ordinary individual run down in the public sion. We may strengthen the tones of the picture by setting this horseman at full gallop, and joining to him a company of other horsemen. How will it be then with the unhappy bedestrian? So, when that "splendid charge?"

We may strengthen the tones of the picture by setting this horseman at full gallop, and joining to him a company of other horseas done its work and passed by there will be found a scene very much like a railroad accident. There will be found the full compliment of backs broken in two, of arms twisted wholly off, of men impaled upon their own bayonets, of legs smashed up like fire-wood, of heads sliced open like apples, other heads crunched into soft jelly by iron hoofs of horses, of faces trampled out of all likeness to anything human. This is what skulks behind a "splendid charge." This is what follows, as a matter of course, when "our fellows rode at them in style," and cut them up famously,"

Again, how often does the commander, writng home through official dispatches, dwell paricularly on the gallant conduct of Captain Smith, who, finding the enemy were "annoying our right a little," got his gun into position and "held them in check." ions are fair in drawing room phrases, to be mentioned cheerfully by ladies' lips. It is, as t were, a few flies buzzing about "our" men. And yet, properly translated, it signifies this: That stray men of the right wing are now and then leaping into the air with a convulsive start their hearts; that stray men, suddenly are rolling on the ground; that a man here and there is dropping down quite suddenly with a shriek, his fire-lock tumbling from his handin short, that there is a series of violent death-

FIRE IN NORWICH .- We learn from the Bulletin that about 12 o'clock Friday night a fire was discovered in the Merchants Hotel building, Norwich, the upper portion of which was soon destroyed. The building was occupied, in adas a Minie bullet flies with sharp sting into dition to the hotel, of which Seth Cruttenden is proprietor, by the Post-Office, the Chelsea Savings Bank, by Judge Holbrook, as the Probate office, Wm. L. Brewer, as County Clerk's office, and a club-room in the third story. One of the rooms over the Post-Office was occupied as a sleeping-room by the clerks.

All the moveables in the Post-Office, Probate and County Clerk's office, were taken out in safety. Nothing was moved from the Chelsea Bank, and it was impossible, on account of the progress of the fire, to move anything of consequence from the hotel or the club room. The Post-Office room is damaged only by water and it is possible may be occupied, temporarily, until another office is obtained. The amount of damage and insurance is not known.

naval stations along the coast, the New London Chronicle says: "As we regard it, the people of New London have an especial interest in this matter. For if the Secretary's recommendation is followed, we should have something to say when the matter of locating these new coast naval stations comes up for consideration. We should be able to present cogent and convincing evidence that our harbor is the place where one of the new yards should be established. We should be able, when we ask the Connecticut man at the head of the Navy Department to consider the claims of a port in his own State, to show that New london possesses, to the fullest and most comolete extent, all the natural advantages essential to an available site for a naval depot. Some forty years ago, while on a visit to Hartford, Col. W. W. Seaton obtained some acorns from the famous Charter Oak, for the purpose of transplanting them. He did so, but as they had not fully matured, did not come up. Some years afterwards, Judge Robbins sent him and the planting of them was so successful that four of them have now atained the height of four and six feet, and are ourishing in his garden. It is the Colonel's ntention, a correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says, to place these patriotic mementoes at the disposal of the members of Congress from Connecticut. Hartford Times. The Senate has adopted an amendment o the Naval Appropriation bill, abolishing the spirit ration on board our ships of war on and

NORFOLK MATTERS. NORFOLK, June 12, 1862. An expedition was made to Deep Creek, yesterday, by Maj. Dodge, who found there a rebel post-office, which has been a link of communication between Norfolk and Richmond. The establishment was broken up. Deep Creek is 15 miles south of Norfolk. Cordiality of feeling is increasing satisfactorily. Gen. Viele has been offered and has accepted the use of five houses free of rent. Trade is reviving; a dozen schoeners are loading and discharging. The Union demonstration, yesterday, was not so satisfactory as was anticipated, owing to the absence of Gov. Piepont, Senator Carlisle and others. A very large procession however, marched from the Pock to Ashland Thomas of Iowa. Great enthusiasm was manifested. Capt. Johannes Watson of Portsmouth, has received authority to raise a regiment for

He was shot and bayoneted as he lay, and left unburied.

It is believed no rebel troops of any conse quence are this side the Blackwater. There is a very general feeling of gloom here on account of uncertainty as to the fate of relatives in the rebel army. FORTRESS MONROE, June 13, 1862.

Intense heat prevails here and two privates have been sunstruck; both, however, have recovered. Hygeia Hospital is nearly empty of patients, who go to New York in the Fulton,

Affairs at Memphis. Memphis submits to the presence of Federal soldiers as gracefully as the smallest hamlet in the State. The raging crew, who thirsted for Yankee blood, appears to have followed Beauregard for protection. A dispatch thence June 10th, says: Memphis is as quiet as New York. The people treat our soldiers courteously and cordially. Even rebel sympathizers welcome a just and stable government. The ready submission of the inhabitants to the federal rule is not only surprising but gratifying. The civil authorities continue to exercise their functions as here-tofore. The provost marshal's office is thronged with applicants for permits to proceed north All persons are requested to take the oath of allegiance before permission is granted. The stores are opening, and merchants are starting north to buy goods.

Advices from Mexico show that the French at the gates of Puebla, Mexico, met, on the 5th of May, a most disastrous defeat at the hands of the Mexican soldiers, the latter charging upon them repeatedly with the bayonet and leaving hundreds dead upon the field. Gen. Berriozabal, in concluding his official report,

"The haughty French soldier has been humbled on this anniversary of the death of Napo-leon the First, and for the first time, according to the prisoners, have they found themselves compelled to fly before their enemies, bearing their flag without the glory which they had conquered in a thousand battles. "I congratulate you on the brilliant result we have obtained, for it will ever do honor to Mexico, whatever subsequent events may be.'

To Horse Owners.

DR. SWFET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivaled by any, in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or raddle Galls, Scratches, Manage, &c., it will also care speedily. Spavin and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kind, however, as of desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative case.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lamess will effectually prevent those formidabe diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

Rebel Accounts of the late Battles Мемриіз, June 12, 1862.

Monday's Mobile papers contain Richmond lispatches claiming a glorious victory for Jack son over Fremont on Sunday. They also state that Jackson captured two pieces of artillery from Gen. Shields on Monday. Rebel accounts of the affair at Chattanooga state that the enemy opened their batteries with shot and shell without giving the slightest notice, creating a panie among women and children who fled in every direction. Some of the rebels were wounded, but none killed, and but one build-

National Debts. According to the London Economist, the debts of the principal nations of Europe in 1861 footed up, in round numbers, as follows: England. $4.937,000,000
Funded debt of France 1,944,000,000
Austria, 1860. 1,460,000,000
Italy. 411,000,000
Russia 400,000,000

The national debt of England is less than a sixth part of the value of her taxable property, which is rated in round numbers, at about $26,000,000,000. This debt is not so burdenabroad—that the national debt usually becomes

The debt of the United States is due to its own people and not to foreign nations.

And this fact should be a sufficient answer to those who are now croaking of the tremendous expenditures we are making and "the ruthis war upon the South;" especially, as the war is waged to preserve our national life.

If years ago this nation had become holden to its own subjects by the creation of a national currency and national loans, the very same debt would have become, in a great measure, the obligation in which the people would have bound themselves to preserve our national integrity; and there would have arisen in every portion of our land, where the national bonds might have been holden, a grand pecuniary interest in the preservation of the Government.

While it might not be consistently or properly argued that a national debt is in itself a national good, or a desirable acquisition under ordinary circumstances; we ought to be willing to accept whatever burdens this war may impose upon us because it is waged to preserve our national existence; and we may be sure that whatever the immediate evils of the war, one of its most benign and happy effects will be to ballast the Ship of State in such a way that she will ride triumphantly through all political storms for ages to come.

Our block ading squadron will probably catch the greater portion of these smugglers, but the fact that the English Government winks at this outrage upon neutrality laws will not tend to increase the respect felt for that power.

McClellan's Department.

Advices from Gen. McClellan's army dated Saturday, speak of large bodies of men seen moving down from the neighborhood of Mechanisville bridge and Richmond toward the late battle-field. Soldiers' Money.

The families of members of Companies A and B. 10th Regiment, C. So far as yet appears, the long some as might at first thought appear, since it delay in sending the money is chargeable to the is due English subjects; and the country, negligence of the Paymaster, who held the money therefore, owes nothing. It is when a country two months before remitting it. The Soldiers in the City.

The soldiers at the Hospital appear to be general ly getting on well. Those who are only slightly wounded stroll about the grounds, recline under the trees and smoke their pipes, or chat with the crowds that throng about the enclosure.

On Sunday afternoon a large crowd thronged th streets near the hospital, but few were admitted to the grounds, as the tramp of many feet about the buildings disturbed greatly the quiet that is needed by those who are badly wounded. These have every care that can be extended by careful and a tentive nurses. One death occurred vesterday private, John N. Foster, Co. B, 5th Michigan reg ment, of typhoid fever.

A benevolent friend suggests that the soldiers the hospital are in need of light straw hats to re place the tight cloth caps they now wear. Philar thropic persons will please take notice, and act a cordingly. We hope the recruits at the barracks i Olive street, will not be forgotten. They need oarse towels, cotton socks, and many articles o clothing which the State has no authority to issue until they are mustered into the service of the United States. Let us not forget these men. They go to fight our battles and to bare their breasts to the storm of war for our sakes.

It is said that another large building will be in mediately erected on the Hospital grounds for the ecommodation of the sick and wounded soldiers Runaway Accidents.

John Mourne, a young gentleman who labor luring the week for Mr. Geo. Whitney, took it in his head on Sunday afternoon that it would be courteous, gentlemanly and eminently entertaining to take his two friends, John Tracy and John Ma lin, to view the natural and other beauties of Nev Haven-including Mr. Noyes' water works. The hing was immediately determined upon, and taking the accustomed post-prandial smokes and drinks, and Mr. Whitney's horse, they departed, and for all we know the original programme was earried out. Finally the trio turned their Pegasus up Church street when getting the advantage of his driver he set into a dashing pace and rounding the corner into Court street, Messrs, Mourne and Ma lin were deposited in the street, receiving, however but little injury. The horse uncontrolled by any rein continued his career and took to the sidewall in front of Moore's stable taking down two heavy stone posts, demolishing the carriage and pitching Mr. Tracy some 20 feet ahead, landing him agains the next post and cutting his head and face badly He was taken into the Tremont House and attend ed to by Dr. Townsend. The horse continued his rayels nearly knocking down a little girl who just managed to get into the door of the Tremont House, n time to save herself from injury. The animal vas secured in Orange street after a smart run, and hat's the way they saw the city.

A smash-up occurred in Chapel street on Satur day by which a carriage was essentially used up. On State street another occurred but no one was

But though sharp and shrill the voice of escaping steam, hough sublime the sight, there was a second sigh grander than all others—the explosion of her magazine! It came. A-mighty pillar of fire sprang from the burning hulk—lifted itself four hundred feet—spread out into an umbrella like form of rolling, sulphuric clouds, folding in and in, rolling over and over in thick, heavy, creamy masses, filled with timbers, plank, bars of iron, fragments of charred timber and coals of fire, cannon, shot and shell—all commingled—all raining down upon forest, field and river, as if an avalanche of meteors of est, field and river, as if an avalanche of meteors of etical, if not legal or social, justice. It is such as i wast proportions had fallen from heaven through a awarded oftener by the writers of fiction than b loudless sky to earth. Then came a shock which hook all the windows of Memphis and took away the breath of men not far distant from the place Following the explosion were lesser ones, in the air above and all around—a grand fusilade of burstpents, mines and swarms of bees, filling the air with ragments of iron. The Benton was abreast of the Thompson, the Cairo above and the St. Louis below, but all at a respectful distance, and no damage was done by the explosion."

MACAULEY AND RUSSELL .- A page of Macau-

lay is something physically different to look at from a page of a bad writer. There are no small capitals, no italics, no inverted commas, except, of course, when the narrative happens to record a dialogue. A foreign word, a fragment of a foreign sentence, is a thing utterly unknown. Compare such a page of pure English with a page of one of our modern smart writers. Here is a bit in inverted commas, a tag from Shakspeare or a tag from Horace; here is a word or two of Latin; here is a word or two of French. These last are generally mere excuses of idleness. It is partly because the writer thinks that Latin and French scraps show off his scholarship, but it is still more, because it is often easier to use them in this way than to translate them into pure English. The writings of the great special correspondent exhibit the lowest depth which language can reach in this way. It is hard to find two sentences together which are wholly Mr. Russell's own making. Here is a bit of a Latin poet. there is a bit of an English one; here an easy bit of French, there an easy bit of Spanish. After this kind of rubbish, the mere physical look of a page of Macaulay is a hardly less reothers too far. You can't keep in the world's tion to the understanding.

Conversational Tones.

A correct adaptation of the voice to distance is what we need to prove agreeable and musical talkers. The pitch of the voice, and the volume of tone, should be such as to render the person speaking easily audible, without any undoes stration—and nothing more than this. An excess of conversational tone and a voice too high-pitched, are excessively disagreeable, particularly in society. It draws embarrassingly the attention of surfounding persons; the agreeable privacy of conversation ceases, and you become a declaimer to a small audience. The first effect of this form. er to a small audience. The first effect of this tone, with clear articulation, than a boisterous tone with a thick and blurred articulation. The predominating tone of speech, then, should be calm, quiet, low. The low tones of most voices are the richest. We have heard women occasionally converse in deep, mellow, contralto tones, the effect of which was exceedingly rich and musical. The voices of our American women are apt to be far too high-pitched and screamy. As the voice always has a tendency to rise in conversation, we should at least begin New Corn Wbu .. low. It is, moreover, a grateful relief to the ear, and a pleasant shade to the light of conconversation, to drop the voice occasionally from a high and animated pitch, and regain the cool, quiet key-note originally struck. *

* * In point of sentiment the clear tone expresses gayety and light-heartedness. We hear it in merry children at play. In its excess this tone becomes disagreeable_acrid and pointed. The voices of termagants and scolds illustrate this. On the other hand, the shaded or somber tone expresses quiet, repose, calm. In its deeper shades, sadness and melancholy. dispensable tone of high tragedy. Now the conversational voice is only heard in perfection when both these shades of tone are brought into play. Persons who habitually use but one, command but half the resources of the speak ing voice. Such is the case with most Ameripiercing quality of tone-we talk with contracted rather than expanded throats. This contraction is not that moderate one which produces the agreeably-clear tone described, a certain acridity and pointedness. Americans intensity in their voices, we suppose. But for all pleasant, conversational purposes we should would our American women gain greatly in attractiveness, if they would drop this sharp, Xantippe, quality of tone so often heard, and allow that quiet, reposeful music to steal out, Some years since, as varnum Lockwood was allow that queen, digging limestone at Cavendish Falls, Vt., near which to every ear is so captivating. ANCIENT AND MODERN MEDICAL PRACTICE .-The rapid progress towards perfection evinced in every branch of art and science is seldom witnessed in that anomalous body, the medical profession, which clings with the iron tenacity of superstition to its effete and exploded traditions. This immobility of action and opinion is self-evident from the fact that few, if any, physicians are conversant with the affinity existing between disease and its remedy. they may be familiar with the diagnosis of a particular malady and prescribe for it from the formula of their "Manual," but in what manformula of their "Manual," but in what manner this medicine or combination of medicines exercises a specific influence on the disease is a mystery to them—consequently from first to last it is a little better than a game of speculation. We have been led to these remarks by the perusal of a short article from a late issue the mystery of the medicines of the medicine of the medicines of the medic of the "London Lancet" on the nature and treatment of disease-it instances the strong sound common sense which pervades the system established by Dr. Holloway about the dawn of the present century. Says the "Lancet," Dr. Holloway classifies disease under two heads—the stomach and the blood, and no mat-"It has been wisely said that of making books there is no end; and there certainly should be no office of postmaster by prominent citizens of here—the root of the disorder is straightway attacked and incontinently exterminated. In There is as yet but one national flag flying digestion is frequently accompanied by head-ache, biliousness, loss of appetite and general debility; indigestion is merely a disorder of the stomach, and to reach any of the above com-plaints we must rectify the derangements of the digestive organs-in like manner Scrofulous rency of the Cenfederate States as a circulating affections, such as King's Evil, Sait kneum, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, &c., are traced to vitiated humors of the blood with which Dr. Holloway's Pills combine, and by neutralizing these humors restore the natural healthy properties of the blood and secretions.
