THE EVACUATION OF FORT PILLOW

The Rebels Burn and Destroy Everything before Leaving.

St. Louis, Saturday, June 7, 1862. A dispatch to the Republican, dated Fort Pillow, June 5, 11 a.m., says the rebels really evacuated this fort on Tuesday night, leaving one mortar and two guns to answer on Wednes The work of destruction has been complete,

Barracks, hospital buildings, horse-sheds, forage-barns, and three large commisssry houses full of stores, were burned. Over a dozen heavy guns were left, part of them spiked, and the balance burst and the carriages burned. A reconnoissance to Fulton, two miles below loes not reval the enemy there. Combustibles are burning at several points, and it is feared that mines are underneath. The fortifications are unusually strong. Heavy guns were case mated by heavy woodwork thrown over then in the form of covers, on the river bank, all o which are destroyed. No small arms or camp equipage remain.

> Congress To-day. Washington, June 9, 1862.

SENATE. Mr. Sumner presented a memorial of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church and synod of Reformed Presbyterian Church in favor of emancipation. Also, resolution of Post Office Committee, to enquire into the expediency of providing for an air line railroad between Washington and New York; laid over.

Mr. Wilson of Mass., introduced bill to provide for increase of medical officers in the vol-

A joint resolution relating to penitentiary in the District of Columbia came up and Wilson moved to amend that the volunteer soldiers confined in the penitentiary under sentence imposed by court martial, be forthwith discharged and such imprisonment not to be hereafter allowed. Debate followed from which it appeared that 96 are confined, of whom only four are for offences considered criminal by civil code: the amendment was adopted and resolution passed. At 1 o'clock the Senate resolved itself into high court of impeachment on trial of Judge Humphreys.

The House representatives coming in, that body took seats on the floor of the Senate. The Secretary of the Senate read the return made by the Sergeant-at-Arms, that Humphreys could not be found.

On motion of Mr. Bingham, one of the House managers, proceeding were postponed till the 26th of June, and the House retired. HOUSE.

Mr. Bernhisle presented the Constitution of Utah, with a memorial, asking for admission into the Union on equal footing with the orignal States; referred to Com. on Territories. The tax bill, with sundry amendments, was eturned from the Senate; ordered printed and referred to Com, on Ways and Means. Mr. Wickliffe offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War to inform the House whether Gen. Hunter has organized and equipped a regiment of blacks in South Carolina; adopted.

Rebel Loss in the Late Battle. New York, June 9, 1862. The Richmond Dispatch of the 5th, states hat the rebel loss in the late battle as 8,000, including 5 Generals, 23 Colonels, 10 Majors and 57 captains.

The Dispatch complains that the Federals can at any time cut off the retreat of the Confederates by seizing the railroads at Petersburgh, and estimates that a retreat to Lynchburgh and the mountains was the only one left them.

New York, June 9, 1862. A Washington special to the Post states that ol. Polk, of Tenn., declares that the flower of Beauregard's army was at Richmond. Perilous.

The express train from Boston, due at New Ha yen at 2 1-2 o'clock, p. m., was delayed about an hour this afternoon by the breaking of an axle of the tender, when about half way between Hartford and Berlin. The accident occurred on a high enbankment, and the tender being thrown off the track was dragged along some rods, tearing up and breaking the ties and greatly endangering the whole train.

The engine and tender were detached and left on the track, and the passenger and baggage cars were taken back to Hartford by the freight train which went up at that hour. Another engine was then procured and the train proceeded without further delay.

The accident was almost a serious one, for had the train been thrown from the embankment, much oss of life must have been the consequence. For mately no one was injured.

Rev. Charles A. Goodrich, one of Hartford's venerable and well known citizens, and a brother of the late S. G. Goodrich, ("Peter Parly") died in Hartford, and was buried on Sat urday.

Connecticut has been his home through a long life with the exception of four years, during which he occupied the pulpit of the First Church in Worcester, Mass., where he was ordained and installed as pastor in 1816.

He married in 1818 the daughter of Rev. Dr. Upson, of Berlin, which was also the residence of his father, Rev. Samuel Goodrich.

He entered Yale College in 1807, and was graduated in 1812. In his Freshman year he professed the faith of Jesus and, after leaving ollege, studied Theology with Dr. Yates, then of East Hartford, afterward of Schenectadyhaving for a short intervening period been pri vate tutor in the family of Gen. Van Rensselaer of Albany.

Some of his works are still standard works —"The Lives of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence," "Great Events of American History," "Universal Traveller," "Family Encyclopædia," "Outlines of Geogra phy."

Lord Lyons embarks for England in the Persia and is to be absent ninety days.

Rev. Dr. Trumbull, of Hartford, sails for Europe on board the Africa, on the 28th inst, and will be absent eight or ten weeks. He goes to Scotland, his native place, to visit the old homestead, and to once more look upon the face of his venerable father.

The men in the Federal army number, according to the latest official advices, 75 cavalry regments, containing 71,536 men, 17 artillery regiments, 19,477 men; 604 infantry regiments, 508,745 men. We also have bat teries and some other companies amounting to 168 companies of 17,896 men, which aggregates together 617,654 men.

The English Press.

The British Press generally since the fall New Orleans, appears to think that the North ern people and their government possess a goo many of the qualities that make up a great and gallant people. The Saturday Review con fesses that "the United States Government ha shown skill, energy and other good qualities in its conduct of the war," and admits that "the rebels have been fairly beaten."

The London Daily News, of the 30th has splendid article on the Amrrican rebellion, e pecially on the financial affairs of the Govern ment and loyal people. It says:

"Every dollar which the Government of Was ington required to borrow has been raised within the Union, promptly and at moderate rates of inter-est, and, as we know, every dollar has been expended nearly as fast as raised. Government securities repayable at variously deferred periods, have bee given for the vast sums so borrowed, and these securities have been made by law a legal tender. But instead of dropping to a ruin-ons discount s certain reactionary prophets amongst would have had the world anticipate, Treas notes are actually at 3 per cent premium, United States stock is in demand at 99 in compared with this for grandeur in the annal aropean mance. In the midst of a terrific strug e in which every energy and resource of the antry is needed, with an army of seven hundred housand men to raise, pay, feed, discipline and quip at the excessive cost which, proverbially, at aboats and iron clad vessels of war to constru and arm, excise duties reaching every comfort or luxury have been imposed murmur of discontent, and public credit continues to be unfalteringly sustained at a figure—which the exchequers of monarchy seldom hope to attain.

The London Star of May 17th congratulate the liberal people of England on the success of the American Government in putting down the rebellion thus far, and expresses even contempt for the rebels who have erected fortifications only to abandon them. It says they would be entitled to compassion if there were even a decent pretext for commencing the war. The Star adds:

"We have plenty of companions now in our con "We have plenty of companions now in our constant faith that the North ought to triumph, and will. The other day the Times discovered that the South was "frantic and febrile"—hysterically rebellious against her rightful, resolute and vigorous The Observer, feebly imitating the Osci tions of its daily contemporary, swings back from the slavery confederateism to the extreme of about ionist federalism. Here is a splendid acknowl-gement that nothing succeeds like success.

Stanley and the President. Washington correspondent of the New York Post, states that a large number of prom inent Republicans, upon hearing of the act of Governor Stanley, went at once to the President and his Secretary of War to learn whether it was to be the policy of the government henceforth to court the favor of traitors rather than of loyal citizens. The President was as much astonished by the acts of Mr. Stanley as any

Whether Stanley will be recalled or not i not certain. Hunter was not, but was over ruled as it is said Stanley will be, whose friends say that if his doings are not approved by the Government, he will resign. It is said that Mr. Helper will be allowed to return to Newman in the country, and most heartily disaproves of them.

The Legislative Committee on State Prison visited Wethersfield yesterday, on a mission of enquiry. Toole was seen, but only adhered to what he has already publicly stated. In the investigations at the prison, nothing showing any cruelty to prisoners, in their punishment, was demonstrated. Mr. Willard, the present Warden, is a deservedly popular man; well qualified for the arduous duties of his position. From what we can learn, Toole can hope for no com mutation of his sentence. Nothing extenuating his crime was shown vesterday.

Roberts, who is in the prison for being accessory to the safe robbery of the Adams Express Co., presented various facts to the Committee and it is altogether likely that he may be dis charged. Certainly there seems to be many circustances in his favor. Kellogg, who was in some manner connected with the same affair, has recently been released for his aid in interfering with Toole in his murderous assault on Mr. Webster, the Warden of the prison.

Railroad Train Run into a River. The 10:15 p. m. train on Wednesday night from New York on the Hudson River Railroad, when near Rhinebeck, encountered a large tree which had fallen from the bank, above across the track. The engine struck the tree with LEHIGH of the best quality, SCRANTON, COUNCIL great force, and continued with the cars at-RIDGE, PLINY FISK, WILKESBARRE, LACKAWA tached, about twenty rods further, tearing up and throwing the rails and ties in all directions, when it finally went over the embankment into the river, where it now lies bottom upward. The tender and eight cars followed, pitching over both sides, the trucks of the tender remaining upon the track. The passengers in the sleeping car were suddenly awakened by the shock, but none were injured.

Laughing Gas.

It will be seen by the advertisement elsewhere, that Dr. Colton, whose entertainments with the Nitrous Oxide or Laughing Gas, have excited so much attention in New York, drawing night after night, the most fashionable audiences of ladies and gentlemen to the Cooper Institute, will give one exhibition in this city at Music Hall on Wednesday

The New York Times says: "No more intellient audiences of ladies and gentlemen could be athered in our city, than have attended these novel entertainments by Dr. Colton."

It was at one of Dr. Colton's exhibitions, in Hart ford, in 1844, at which Dr. Wells made the discove ry of anesthesia or chloroform, by which all pain could be destroyed in surgical operations. Such is the testimony as gathered by Ex-Senator Truman

In addition to the above, Dr. C. has engaged the Tremaine Brothers from Brooklyn, who will give one of their brilliant Vocal and Instrumental Concerts, to commence the entertainment. The Cor cert is expected to occupy about forty-five minutes The New York papers speak in the highest terms of this musical performance. See Advertisement.

Mr. Welch could not understand why a different course should be pursued than with the Litchfield county societies, among which the appropriations were.

Mr. Byington said that it was not necessary to make these appropriations except in the infancy of the societies.

Mr. Barber said that he had not a very great opinion of those appropriations; he believed that they done more hurt than good, and were tunece sary.

Mr. Ph! Typs said the Woodstock society was a flourishing one, and he could see no reason why it should not receive its proper share.

Mr. Platt favored the resolution to divide.

Mr. Wright would sustain the report of the Committee only if there were special reasons for a different course. They had doubtless investigated the subject. He understood the old society, withdrew opposition to the charter of the Woodstock society, on the understanding that they should not claim any of this appropriation.

Mr. Phili ps said the Wodstock society included nearly half of the county. He knew nothing of any agreement not to claim an appropriation. He knew of no reason why the new society should not receive an equitable share.

Mr. Chloun could see no difference between this one and that of Litchfield county.

Mr. Platt said if the two societies could not agree they ought not have anything; and he moved to table the resolution—carried.

To Horse Owners. DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivaled by any, in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or taddle Galis, Scratches, Manage, &c., it will also cure speedily. Sprain and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kind, however, is so dasperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative case.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lamness will effectually prevent those forminable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

A French Journal on the War. The Journal des Debats, a leading French Journal, compliments the Government of the United States for its consistency in its severe trial. It says those who would accuse the North of ambition and severity would have overwhelmed the North with their contempt if it had resigned itself to the ruin of that vast empire without a struggle; they would have said, See how democracies are unable to defend themselves and what cowardice was concealed by the proud language of those traders of New York and Boston! It says those who were charged by a regular election with the heavy responsibility of the Federal Government during this terrible crisis, have not, thank Heaven! incurred such reproaches; they have not hesitated a moment in their duty, which was to perish arms in hands rather than consent to the destruction of their country; they have not for a moment admitted the possibility of dismemberment of the republic. And dur ing the darkest days of this civil war openly enouraged abroad, when their revenues were the severest, with the enemy at the gates of the capital, and treason within their walls, they did not act (severely) against a single suspected person, nor put to death a single guilty one.

Opening of the Mississippi.

The destruction of the rebel fleet on the Mi issippi, and the occupation of Memphis by the Federal troops, cannot but extinguish the last hopes of the rebels in the success of their wicked rebellion. All future fighting must be the random blows of despairing men. The masses we doubt not, are satisfied that the grand proif it be agreeable to him.—Address, prepaid,
Mr. Modest, Fetter-lane. N. B.—No objection ject which they supposed would be so easily accomplished, is an utter failure. They would gladly disperse, if allowed to do so by their leaders. They must fight, for they have no chance for life but in flight. They will hold their deluded victims up to their bloody work as long as it is possible to make them fight-but this cannot be much longer. The revolution is pronounced a failure by the whole world, and so admitted by many of the rebels.

The grand final and crushing blow is yet, nowever, to fall. Richmond is waiting to receive it. When her head rolls into the basket, as it certainly will in a few days, the victors may safely return their swords to their sheaths, leaving the cotton States to play "guerrilla" until they have played that sort of thing out. " Hail Columbia " spatch from Mobile informs them that the Unio fleet had attacked Fort Morgan, having passed the lower batteries. So it is reasonable to sup pose that ere this Mobile is in our possession If so, the retreat of Beauregard from Corinth on that city, as stated by telegraph, will not prove very successful for the Confederate arms. His rear will be threatened seriously, and if Halleck pushes on in force, the rebel army is to be cut up and rendered useless.

Resolved, That we invite a cordial and patriotic union of the people of Maine on the simple basis of a generous support of the policy and principles that characterize the Administration of Abraham Lincoln.

Resolved, That the infamous rebelion in the Southern States against the authority of the Union and the Constitution, now happily waning in its proportions and its strength, must be put down at any cost of blood and treasure, and that to this end the people of Maine pledge their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

Resolved. To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War . The rebel gunboats made a stand early this norning, opposite Memphis, and opened a vigorous fire upon our gunboats, which returned it with equal spirit. I ordered the Queen, my flag ship, to pass between the gunboats and run down ahead of them, upon the two rams of the enemy, which just boldly stood their ground. Colonel Ellett in the Monarch, of which Captain Doyden is first master, followed gallantly. The rebel rams endeavored to back down stream, and then to turn and run, but the movement was fatal to them. The Queen struck one of them fairly, and for a few minutes was fast to the wreck; after separating the rebel steamer thurst at the same spring; owr old mares both sunk. My steamer, the Queen, was then disabled, but though damaged can be saved. A pistol shot wound in the leg, deprived me the power to witness the remainder of the fight nabers used to obsury, "how thick the Wards and Peasley's air?" FALL OF MEMPHIS. SURRENDER OF THE CITY. After the return of our gupboats from the pursuit, Com. Davis sent the following note to

"From City Point I learn that our war vessels in the James river, above City Point, have run the batteries at Drury's Bluff, and it is rumored that the Monitor has passed through the obstructions, sinking the rebel gunboats about Richmond. If this be true, the Monitor by this time is at the Rocketts. A number of powerful gunboats have been sent up the river during the past two or three days, and our fleet before Richmond is now quite formidable, consisting of at least twenty vessels, armed with the very best of naval ordance.

On Saturday afternoon the rebels opened with artillery on the pickets of Gen. Sumne who had advanced to a new position. No harm was done. Three deserters from Richmond on Saturday say there was great excitement in the gunboats have possession of Stono, near that city for fear the James river would rise quence of information received from Robert sufficiently to allow our gunboats to pass the obstructions.
