To Horse Owners. DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSE DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivaled by any, in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprahns, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or haddle Galls, Scratches, Manage, &c., it will also care speedly. Spavin and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radica cure. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative case.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lanness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

THE TREATY WITH TURKEY.

Arrest of Rebel Sympathizers

Washington, Aug. 5, 1862. The treaty of commerce and navigation with Turkey is officially proclaimed. It is marked throughout with much liberality. Tobacco and salt, however, are not included in the list of articles our citizens are permitted to import into the Ottoman Territory, but as compen sation therefor no duty whatever, is in future to be levied upon them when imported from the Ottoman Empire by citizens of the United

Six prisoners were recently affected on the Rappahannock while engaged in shipping salt and other articles, in great demand in Richmond, across the river for the benefit of our enemies. The prisoners were sent to the old capitol prison.

Severe Guerrilla Fight-Our Forces Capitulate.

PALMYRA, Miss., Aug. 5, 1862.

A severe fight took place at Newark, Knox ounty, Friday evening last. One thousand guerrillas, under Porter, approached the town an hour before sunset, and were met by parts of two companies of the State militia, numbering 75 men, under Capt. Lain. The rebels charged on our troops and were repulsed, when they dismounted, and finally drove Capt. Lain into the town, where a severe struggle ensued, resulting in the capitulation of our forces, who were immediately paroled by the guerrillas. Our loss was four killed and four wounded. The ebels acknowledge 73 killed and a large number wounded. Porter's gang carried off the arms and camp equipage of our troops. On Sunday the State forces of Cols. Guitar and Meigs, Clupper and Caldwell passed through the town in pursuit of the guerrillas. On Saturday evening 150 guerrillas took possession of the town of Alexandria, Mo., seized all the arms and ammunition they could find, did considerable other plundering, and left. About 300 men went down Sunday from Keokuk and arrested some 30 rebel sympathizers and took them to Keokuk. Size of the Rebel Army.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6, 1862.

The New York Evening Post professes to have eliable information from Richmond that the en tire rebel army never exceeded 350,000 effec tives from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. The forces at Richmond reach at the highest 120,000 men, of whom only 90,000 were on the Peninsula during the memorable seven days, and of whom 60,000 only were used against our flanks and exposed points. The rebel loss was 28,000 wounded. Richmond has ever since been one vast hospital.

Important Naval Expedition. The Commercial states that an important se cret expedition consisting of one little steamer and a few picked men has left one of our naval depots and is to be heard of in a few days. Admiral Goldsborough and fleet, Captain Case, have asked to be relieved from their present commands. Rumor says Capt. Wilkes takes Goldborough's place, and Capt. Porter of the Mortar flotilla, is to flag-officer of the naval forces before Richmond.

From Gen. Pope's Department. Washington, August 6, 1862.

The Washington special to the N. Y. Evening Post, says that reports from Gen. Pope's headquarters state that the rebels are concentrating forces at Gordonsville with the evident intention of attacking Pope. Several Governors of the loyal states, including Gov. Buckingham of Conn., are here in consultation with the President in relation to the new orders for drafting.

Gen. Wadsworth, military governor of this listrict, left suddenly for Harrisburg on last vening's train, acompanied by one aid. His nission is not definitely known, but regarded as of great importance, as he went at the instance of the War Department.

Later From Newbern. NEW YORK, August 6, 1862.

The steamer Jersey Blue arrived from Newbern the 2d. The expedition under Colonel Heekman of the 9th New Jersey regiment, had Great Success proceeded to Young's cross roads at the head of White Oak river, where they had a skirmish with a party of rebels who were completely routed. Every test which has been made proves the Armor an absolute protection against sabre and bayonet thrusts, and pistol balls at any range, and from ride balls at the ordinary range. The Armor covers every vital part except the head, and is so adjusted to the person as to leave free use of all parts of the body. It is made in sections, easily detached, and packed in a brg or knapsack. The material is the best of steel, made expressly for Armor purposes.

The Nation Lives.

At last, flashing along the wires from Wash ington, comes the welcome news that this nation is not to be suffered to die without a struggle. Three hundred thousand militia are to b drafted for nine months' service, and unless the three hundred thousand previously called for as volunteers shall be ready by the fifteenth of August, the number is to be filled up by a draft. For the brief space of ten days, men are at liberty to volunteer and avail themselves of bounties, state national, town and individual. At the expiration of that time, unless the regiments are already filled, the draft will do what bounties cannot. The nation now proposes to assert its right to the service of each one of its citizens. It has a right to call upon each one to fight for its preservation. And the hour has come when such a call is necessary.

With the mustering into service of these six hundred thousand men, a new state of affairs will be inaugurated. Hitherto the cry has been "The Union must be preserved," Henceforth, it will be, "The Union will be preserved." Necessity is exchanged for prophecy.

For three weeks past this nation has been i peril. Cur enemies have outnumbered us at every point. Instead of advancing with a victorious army and entering Richmond in tri umph, McClellan has been driven back and forced to seek that protection from the gunboats which the numbers and bravery of his army were unable to give. Instead of taking Vicksburg and completing our possession of the Mississippi, our fleet has withdrawn, and the enemy still hold the river. Instead of sweeping through the cotton fields of Alabama or Mississippi our Western army slumbers for the summer in some unknown place, with its ranks materially thinned by unknown causes, while the bands of rebel guerrillas ravage and plunder the call our troops from North Carolina and South Carolina. Possessions dearly bought are relinguished in a moment, and all our available force is sent to strengthen McClellan. And at such a time, when every thing is in peril, when foreign nations are looking on and preparing to interfere, when the destiny of our country de pends upon earnest and immediate action, the call for volunteers has been responded to with little or no alacrity, so that a stranger to our people, witnessing the danger, and observing the apparent indifference that prevails, might suppose that patriotism with us was dead. Why this has been so, we do not now care to inquire. Enough for us, that no such sickening future lies before this country as the last three weeks. To be drafted every day in the year could not be so awful as the leaden weight of anxiety and fear which these three weeks have brought. Enough for us that this most causeless and wicked rebellion will be suppressed, and the dear old flag once more planted upon Sumter and upon every fort from which Southern perfidy and treason have hauled it down. Enough for us that condign punishment awaits the authors of this rebellion, and that as the grand army of the Union marches onward, these traitors shall see nought but the waters of the Southern Gulf before them and the gleaming bayonets of enraged patriots behind them. We have been playing with our enemy. It is time for us to exert our power. And if the six hundred thousand men are not enough to suppress this rebellion, to utterly rout the enemy, and drive them from every stronghold and fortified city, to tear away from their vile banner the thin mask of nationality, and reveal it to the world in all the hideousness of slavery-begotten treason, then let twice six hundred thousand be drafted, and let this Northern people, Americans who were born here and love their native land, and Europeans who have come here to find a home, rise, as Europe rese under the inspiration of the Hermit's wild eloquence to rescue the sacred tomb, rise, to rescue not a tomb, but the dearest of earthly blessingscountry, a government, and liberty. And here on this Western continent, let the question be settled, whether men can fight as well for freedom as for slavery, for "God and our country" as for the father of Rebels and Jeff, Davis. We have talked a vigorous prosecution of the war for a year. Now let us have the genuine article. Shake out the old banner of Freedom, Let the people of Europe know that we are fighting for freedom. Let the poor African of the South know that we are fighting for freedom. Let us dare to do right. And the God of battles shall cause victory to rest once more upon our banners and Peace shall at last revisit our distracted country.

We call especial attention to the very interesting letter of General Hunter, which will be found in another column. The postscript is and friends to know where we are, and in safe not the least important part of it. Let those who are troubled about negro labor interfering with free labor at the North, read it carefully.

Col. J. R. Hawley having returned home for the purpose of recruiting for the 7th regiment, ssues in the Press of last evening, a call for olunteers, from which we extract the following: It seems to me of the highest importance that maximum. Connecticut regiments bear a high s to return next week to Hilton Head. I romise you a brother's welcome from the boys a camp. Much was said about the unhealthy climate before we went south. It is not one quarter as dangerous as we feared. We are able to keep close by the shore, and have always been where we could bathe daily in salt water. With proper care and regular habits, that is really one of the healthiest departments. The regiment is now for the first time since it went south enjoying leisure for rest and drill, and unless omething unforeseen occurs will so continue for some time.

I cannot promise my aid in getting many, iflaces. But changes are constantly occurring. The Sixth Regiment is at Beaufort, an honor to the State. It has also sent home recruiting Pardee.

officers, Adjutant Duryea is one, but I have not neard the names of the others,

I have no loud-sounding words for you, young men of Connecticut. This is your work as well as mine. You might live a thousand years and not have another such opportunity to do service for God and your country as every day now af-fords. All these new regiments ought to be filled as fast as they can be clothed and armed. Joseph R. Hawley, Col. 7th Conn. Vols.

MESSES. EDITORS: The 11th C. V., to which am attached, left this place some weeks since for the James River, but owing to sickness l was obliged to remain behind, and even now I am unable to join my regiment. We have had ome exciting times here since our Regiment de parted. The Rebels became so bold that they attacked our pickets daily, and our guards hav peen shot at almost every night From a block of buildings in the city, our guards have been fired upon several times, seriously wounding several of them. On the 26th of July, Genera Foster ordered this block of buildings to b pulled down, and the 23d Mass. boys were assigned for the duty. They did not leave one stick upon another; the fences, corn, and trees were also torn down and pulled up, leaving the place more in appearance as if a tornado and that were offered him.

whirlwind had passed over it. While the soldiers were demolishing this block of buildings, a she devil living in the vicinity commen ed sneering at the men, and several shots were fired from her house upon the soldiers, whereupon one of the officers turning to the boys, says, "down with this house too, and in four minutes down it was. DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSE

DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSE'S is unrivated by any, in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magacal and certain. Harness or Laddle Galls, Scratches, Manage &c., it will also cure speedily. Spavin and Ringbone must be rasily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kina, however, as so desperate on hopel-se but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and it faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative ease.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lamness will effect ally prevent those forminable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

The Fall Sestion will begin September, 18th.

It has never been the intention of the Principal, nor is it now, to make the institution a military school. The great object is mental and moral culture, in a preparation for college or for business. Unless, under extraordinary circumstances, only a part of the play-time is devoted to military training and other physical exercises; and it is only by this use of hours, commonly worse than wasted, that the school has acquired any reputation as a military institution.

On the contrary his decision is based solely on the ground that by admitting negroes bility is his lot he will be exempt certainly, and into our army as soldiers he should drive fifty thousand loval Kentuckians from our ranks over to the rebels. We are not disposed at this time to find fault with the decision. We only ask people to look at the reason assigned for it. only a day to destroy it. We are always pain-How strong, we ask, must be the devotion to the ed to see any of our old elms, which are the Union of these fifty thousand loyal Kentuckians who, because a few negroes were doing their utmost to help save that Union, would transfer their allegiance to the Rebel Government? If the reason assigned by the President is a valid one, then Kentucky Unionism is the spare that tree." flimsiest sham imaginable, and differs little from what in other countries is familiarly styled treason. If his reason is not a valid one, it is greatly to be regretted that the policy of this country should be continually controlled by ap prehensions about the Border States. We think it is about time that the views of unconditiona Union men were consulted, and that less counsel were taken with men who are "for the Union provided and only provided that slavery is not

But we do not believe that the President does justice to Kentucky and the other Border State in thus doubting their devotion to the Union. We know Kentuckians who are to-day in the army, and would stay there and fight though all the negroes of the North were in arms to the Union army are equally loyal is our firm belief. The Wickliffs no more represent Kentucky than the Vallandighams do Ohio.

Negro Labor.

There exists in the minds of a portion of our people an apprehension lest the negroes of the South, if released from slavery, shall all come to the North, and thus render it impossible for white laborers to obtain work. The argument in the mind of the white laborer is that, if the negro has always been accustomed to work for nothing, he would still be willing to work for a trifle, and thus drive out the white laborer, whose habits and wants render a higher rate of compensation necessary. This apprehension is undoubtedly honestly entertained by many, but is altogether unnecessary. In the first place the negro is adapted to a warm climate and not to a cold. Other things being equal, the necro will choose a warm climate as his abode. It is there that the race multiplies. while in cold climates it decreases rather than increases. Take for example the following statistics of the city of New Haven:

White population in 1845	.16,618 . 1,056
Total White population in 1855 Colored	.17,674 .30,489 . 1,060
Total Increase of Whites in ten years,	.31,549

Here then, during ten years, while the white have increased nearly 14,000, the colored race has increased just four, in other words the whites increase more than three thousand times as fast as the negro. This increase of whites is owing, in part, to immigration. But the blacks your country. have not removed from New Haven in any considerable numbers, so that the race does not increase here. In fact the number of negroes in almost every part of Connecticut has diminishe in the last fifteen years. This climate is not as well adapted to them as a warmer one.

In the next place, the negroes at the South when they get within our lines and are free show very little inclination to come North. If permitted to stay at the South, nineteen twentieths would choose to do so. Beside that, let it once be safe for all negroes to go where they please in this country, and a large portion of those at the North would seek a home in the sunny South; and finally, if the slaves of the South were free, and the Southern States brought under the control of free labor, the resources of that section would soon be developed much more than at present. Northern men would settle there, and the demand for labor would be largely increased. So that a full supply of labor would be provided for the negroes who remained in the country, and for the Northern men who choose to go there.

We have spoken of this not for the purpos of entering into or provoking controversy, but simply to state what it appears to us, would be the result if the war should set a large body of negroes free. The day has not yet come to this young nation, when the honest working man need suffer for something to do, and until our resources are developed much more perfectly than at present, that day will not come.

STATE NEWS.

Truman Colbert while having on the farm of Mr. J. B. Morgan, Waterford, and engaged in making the load on Friday afternoon fell, and at the same time his pitchfork slipped from his hand striking upon the ground handle downhe following came directly upon the sharp points. One of the prongs penetrated his left side inflicting a frightful wound. His liver was torn away and his left lung pierced and mangled. He lived about eighteen hours after the accident occurred. Enlistments progress with considerable vigo in Middletown and Portland. In the former place about 40 volunteered on Tuesday and Wednesday, and Lieut. Gibbons has now about 90 men enrolled in his company. In Portland 20 men enlisted on Monday.

Mr. Chas. Buckland, of Middletown, can near losing his life on Saturday the 2d inst. In company with a friend he went to examine the water wheel of his factory which was out of repair. To remove some obstructions Mr. B. went inside the wheel, and his friend above, not thinking of Mr. B's situation, started the water gate. By much presence of mind and a judicious use of the double-quick movement, he fortunately escaped without injury.

Capt. J. H. King of the steamer Granite State desires us to state that he was not in command of the propeller Dudley Buck, on the 31st ult. when the accident occurred which resulted in the death of the son of E. H. Phelps, of Hartof the rebellion. But a short time now remains for ford, and in the injury of several other excursionists on board. We were misled by a Hartford paper.

Miss Sarah E. Henry, daughter of Mr. William Henry, of New London, put an end to her life on Monday night by drowning. Her body was found the next morning, with no other apparel than her night dress, in the water hogshead in the back yard of her father's residence. 7th Regiment. > Henry H. Starkweather, Esq., has been appointed City Recorder of Norwich, by a unanmous vote of the Common Council. At the Huntington town meeting, the other day, a motion was made to pay to volunteers from that town $25. An amendment was immediately moved to make the sum $100, and it was carried by a vote almost unanimous The Hartford Post says:

Dr. Ellsworth was besieged yesterday with the decrepid and infirm. Some consumptive fellows, mere shadders of their former selves, educed to skeletons of 200 pounds each, paid heir quarters and went their way rejoicing. It is pitiful to see how sickly men can be, and take delight in the infirmity. Several are now planting corns, while others are cultivating hip liseases with the expectation of making a profitable thing of the same. We saw one man yesterday negotiating for a bowel complaint, but without effecting a trade.

Westport.

A large war meeting was held in the Congre gational Church last evening. A farious thunder shower came up just at the hour for assembling, notwithstanding which the church was filled. E. M. Lees, Esq., was chosen Pres ident. The Westport Brass Band discoursed excellent music during the evening. Speeches disembowelment of Taeping prisoners: vere made by Cyrus Northrop, Hon. James C. Loomis of Bridgeport, and S. L. Woodford, Esq., of New York.

Westport is trying to raise a full company under the late call and has already about thirtyfive men enlisted.

Sketches of the Rise, Progress, and Decline of Secession: By W. G. Brownlow. This work is one of those stirring recitals of wrongs suffered by loyal men in East Tenness for the past few months, that will be read with interest by every Union man. An actor in the scene which he portrays with such vividness and in which he so nobly stands forth as a true man, Mr. Brownlow has been permitted to show to Americans and the civilized world, facts that we should deem degrading to savage life. His experiences are but part and parcel of those which have befallen many of our countrymen, at the hands of Secessi The incidents which he narrates will stir the blood of the patriot and the humane man, and lead him to closer thought upon the great struggle now pending between liberty and its foes. The Guardians of Civilization. The N. Y. Evening Post says: -Our readers re aware of the outcry made by English statesen at the order of Gen. Butler at New Orleans, to prevent the vulgar insults of the women of that city heaped on our brave and onorable soldiers. Choosing to misunderstand its meaning, they pronounced him a monster and a brute. But who are they who so loudly ality; that we ought to stay our hands and le champion the cause of humanity? Let us see. In China there has been for years a large portion of its population called the Taepings, who have successfully opposed the Imperial Governnent, and now have undisputed sway over a territory of 100,000 square miles. the British Government, anxious to possess and control the trade of what are called the treaty ports, have interfered, as they would like to do here. For the rebel Taepings? For a people anxious to throw off the yoke? For the sacred cause of liberty and independence? By no means. In China they have interfered for the benefit and stability of the long established government, and their troops are actually engaged in fighting with the Chinese troops. But vorse than this, they handed over the Taeping orisoners taken in battle to be foully butchered by their Imperial allies. We extract from the

"The following account of the brutalities committed on the Taepings by the Imperialists, is from the pen of an Englishman, who was present, in company with both English and French officers and soldiers, at the execution by "'I went with the crowd to see the execution of the Taeping prisoners that had been given up for execution into the hands of the nandarins by the English and French authorities; or, what is the same thing, they took no neasures to prevent the ruthless butchery of those they lent their aid to capture, when, horror of horrors, how am I to describe the dreadful scene, or will it ever leave my memory Among those wretches were young and old, of both sexes, and of all ages and sizes, from the nfant recently born to the man of eighty, tottering on his staff; from the enciente woman o the young maiden from ten to eighteen. The latter were pushed out by the guards among the crowd of ruffians assembled, and were taken into sheds and by-places and debauched, and again dragged back by the hair of the head to the Chinese guards, to await their turn for exeution. Some of them had fainted, and were oulled along the ground to the executioners, who threw them on their backs, tore off their clothes, and ripped them from the lower part of the abdomen to their breasts, which were cut off and dashed with a curse in their faces. The bowels, as a matter of course, gushed out; but the cut was made in such a way, and so skilfuly and with such expertness, that the intestines vere seldom injured. After a little time, in his state of excessive torture, the executioner thrust his hand into the chest and tore out th eeking heart, his victim looking him in the fac all the while. A young female, apparently about eight months pregnant, who never uttered a groan or sigh at all the previous cruelties she ad endured from the surrounding mob, had her infant cut out of her womb, and held up in her sight by one of its little hands, bleeding and nuivering; when at the sight she gave one heart-rending, piercing screech that would have awakened pity in a tiger, and after it had been in that state dashed on her breast, she, with a last superhuman effort, released her arms from those holding her down, and clasped her infant to her bleeding heart and died, holding it there with such force that they could not be separated. and were thus thrown together on the pile of other carcasses. Another young woman among the prisoners awaited her turn to be disembow elled, with a fine boy of ten months old. crowing and jumping in her arms, had him snatched suddenly away from her and flung to the executioner, who plunged the ruthless knife into his ender breast before his mother's eyes. Infants out recently born were torn from their mothers' reasts and disembowelled before their faces. Young strong men were disembowelled, mutiated, and the parts cut off thrust into their own mouths, or flung among the admiring and laughing crowd of Chinamen. But no more, I can write no more of these scenes; I can only now regret forever that I looked on the dreadful I am no longer fit to be a soldier. I have been in many battles during the last tweny years, and in the thickest of the fight in most of them, where a rage and thirst for carnage dreadful to reflect on afterwards, but nothing heretofore that I have seen or heard of, or even ead of, could be compared to the dreadful cruelty of this disembowelling execution. May God forgive England for the part she is taking in this war, and may the sin of the enormitie she has assisted in perpetrating on the defense less woman and innocent and helpless child, be removed from her door! and after the treatment English women and children met with from the hands of the blacks in the Sepoy mu-
