The Scroll, the inmate newspaper, is published weekly and distributed to all living areas within the center. It serves as a form of communication for literary and general interest items. Any inmate wishing to contribute articles, art work, poems, stories, etc., is encouraged to do so. Contributions should be marked, 'SCROLL', signed, and placed in the counselor's box.

This publication also serves as a means for the center's administration to keep the inmate population informed of any updated rules, regulations, activities, schedules, programs, or services, which are either planned or projected. Each inmate is expected to familiarize himself with these announcements when and if they appear. We hope you enjoy this publication, by and for you...

The Junky and His Magic

Take a trip my man, Said the junky to a child
Who has smoked a little reefer, and was feeling kind of wild.

Sure you huffed a joint or two and now your doing fine,
But COKE is where thr action is, why dont you snort a dime?

The powder hit the mirror, and he sucked it through his head,
Now dont that feel much better, his junky friend had said.

The boy was doing cartwheels, but his feet were standing still,
His heart was beating faster, and his thoughts began to spill.

The road, like a zipper that was bustin at the seams,
And his world was ripped wide open, still he wandered through his dream.

ILL tell you what Im gonna do, his friend the junky said,
I got a bag of something here, that sure to knock you dead.

The black ones here are beauties, they make you wanna go,
And the blue ones are downers, that make you go real s-l-o-w.

Two of these should do it, Aguaranteed good time,
But all ILL give you is half a dozen, And it wont cost you a dime.

Now what you gonna say to that, his friend the junky said.
Take'em with my blessings, their like magic for your HEAD.

The pills went down like peanuts, but the hours past like years,
As hallucinations happen, and his childhood disappears.

A small boy died in harlem, and the junky ducked the cops,
But he found another taker, and the torture never STOPS!!!!

You long for peace, and a better life.

Something eternal, Perhaps a wife.

You try hard daily, to hide the pain.

Trying to keep from going insane.

You believe that tomorrow,
will be a better day.

With freedom and laughter,

But you can't really say.

You want fame and fortune.

all for yourself.

But you got to give up your old ways,

Put them all on a shelf.

You got to be transformed,

By renewing your mind.

. Then a stronger force will lead you,

The superior kind.

Faith without works,

It's totally dead.

So if you thinking of a short cut,

You can get it out of your head.

You got to act on what you believe,

With all of your heart.

And the joy you'll be granted,

Will never depart.

I'm talking about joy,

That christ gives out.

It will make you strong,

It will make you shout.

You don't have to believe,

A word that I say.

But you will Believe

On judgment day.

You can't go North,

On your way south.

So accept these words,

Comming out of my mouth.

I can't write all day,

Then write all night.

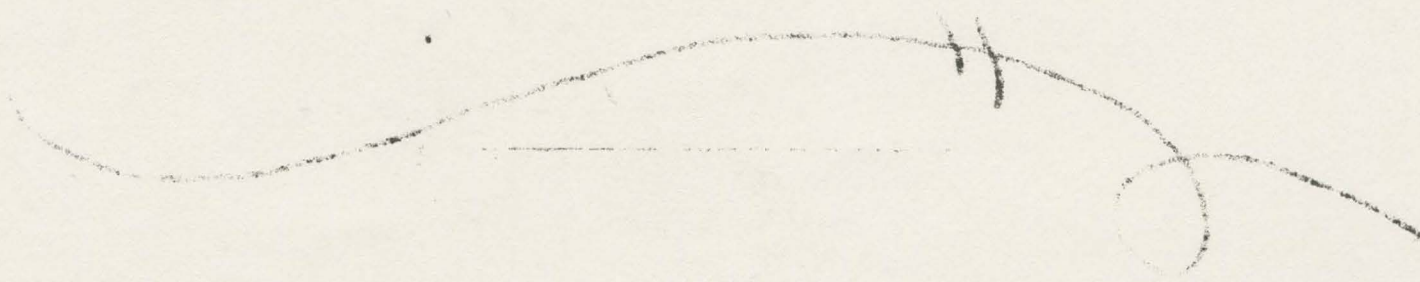

For it is GOD,

That makes the words right.
