NEWS RELEASE

A Connecticut Department of Correction program which last year drew support from the Kennedy Foundation and Harvard University has been given a further boost through a sizable grant from the National Institute of Corrections (NIC). Correction Commissioner John R. Manson received word of the grant today from NIC officials, who directed funding in the amount of $197,416 to the Department's Just Community Research and Training Center at Niantic Correctional Institution. The one-year grant will provide training for out-of-state correctional personnel in the Just Community process, thus enabling other correctional systems to replicate the Connecticut program.

The Just Community Research Center at Niantic was established a year ago when a $200,360 grant from the Kennedy Foundation through Harvard University enabled the Department of Corrections to implement the moral development theory pioneered by Dr. Lawrence Kohlberg of Harvard. At that time, the corrections agency had completed a three-year pilot program for women which showed encouraging results in the application of the Kohlberg theory. The Harvard alliance made possible the Department's enlarging the program to include male inmates from Cheshire Correctional Institution. The newly approved grant from NIC, the training/education arm of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA), will permit selected groups to receive training in the moral development approach to Corrections which is based on a group living experience calling for self-government and mutual concern by the participants.

Dr. Joseph Hickey, who functionalized the Kohlberg theory in Connecticut Corrections and serves as Program Director, described the Just Community program as "one which embodies responsibility for self-behavior." At the Moral Development Research Center, inmates learn to use their reasoning abilities and to make judgments in ways which have positive effects on themselves and their relationships to other people. Now in its fourth year, the program has enabled participants to live responsibly in a community setting, to work and study within the community and to govern themselves in group homes, Dr. Hickey noted.

Since its inception, the Just Community has gained national attention from professionals and the public. The NIC grant, endorsed by the Connecticut Planning Committee on Criminal Administration, will encourage the establishment of similar programs throughout the country. With the Industries program in Conn. Correctional system being considered for a $3 million federal grant, Dept. of Correction officials will have a chance to discuss its merits at a National Workshop for Vocational Education, in Ohio on Oct. 28th. The 3 day conference will bring together leaders from the fields of vocational education & criminal justice who will draw up a plan of action for improving vocational education in correctional institutions. National attention is currently focused on Connecticut as one of four states out of 50 where correctional industries are undergoing study for exemplary status. Recent evaluations by ECON, Inc., a Princeton-based study team, & the American Foundation, supported by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA), place Conn. favorably in the final selection process; if chosen for exemplary status, the Dept. of Correct. would receive the $3 million to replicate its correctional industries program in other states. The criteria for selection, "relevant & progressive" vocational training opportunities, apply to Conn. programs which offer voc. training in approximately 25 occupational fields, along with 17 apprenticeship programs for inmates. The Dept. of Corr. is one of the few where correctional industries is under the aegis of the Director of Education as part of the system's educational program. For further information...

Out in California, we call it the Grey... but, they are roads that keep me from ever Goose. That is our name for the drab bus riding that Grey Goose again. And that is filled with human suffering, that drives what counts.

up to this country's institutions. Time and time again, I have watched the faces of the people riding the Grey Goose...I should know what their faces and pain filled eyes look like, for I see the very same things reflected in my own mirror... I CAN.

You buy the ticket, take the ride, and... sometimes, you can never get off when you have had enough. I used to imagine that the fuel in the tanks are my life-blood and the spark-plugs were draining life-forces from within me. The Grey Goose and I are old, old friends....she carried me to my many hells and prison cells.

I had a dream once. A Nightmare where I was on the Grey Goose, heading into the terror-filled night, with dead people as my fellow riders. Screams tore from within me, sweat, alive with fears, poured in buckets from my trembling body. The heavy chains and cuffs weighing me down were alive with screaming pains, and no matter how much I shouted and screamed, there was no one to answer....begging, pleading, I tore myself free and stumbled up the long and lurching runway, past the mute fellow travellers heading for that shroud-cloaked figure driving the bus.... He was the one I had to kill, the cause of my misery. He was the one responsible for my trips into hells. I staggered up the aisle, tears blinding my eyes, all of my energies directed to destroying this nameless creature that was destroying me. With a scream of justified rage, I reached him and with all my strength, I lunged at him.....turning, to defend himself, the hood he wore fell back, and I found myself looking into my own face.....

Does that ride ever end? Is there a way a person can turn in his ticket and get off at his stop, to try other roads? To me, and to many others the answer is yes. Once we make a self-determination to Be, to grow inside, to take control of our own destinies, and build their own inner house into a good place for them to dwell. I do not dream that dream anymore, because I am too busy building a better vehicle to take me down better roads. They may not be the roads that other's would want me to travel, nor what others would travel themselves,

STATE OF MARYLAND v Roland Douglas BARNES No 33. Court of Appeals of Maryland
 November 26. 1974

Defendant was convicted in Criminal Court of Baltimore, Marshall A Lewin, J., of murder in the first degree and defendant appealed. The Court of Special Appeals, 20 Md.App. 262, 315 A2d 117, reversed and State petitioned for certiorari. The Court of Appeals, O'Donnell, J., held that where defendant, after being notified of detainer, sent letter by certified mail to State's attorney requesting final disposition of murder indictment, and documents were manually transmitted to criminal assignment office of the Supreme bench and upon return of notice from assignment office personnel of States attorney made no inquiry concerning appearance of counsel for defendant, sent no certificate of readiness for trial, did not move in "open court" for a continuance and did not undertake to conduct pre-trial conference until more than six months later, technical nonconformity on part of personnel at house of correction in failing to cause delivery to the appropriate court, by certified mail did not cause forfeiture of defendant's rights under statute mandating dismissal of the indictment. Affirmed.

1. CRIMINAL LAW: 576 (8) The statute providing that prisoner against whom detainer has been filed may file request for final disposition of indictment failed to provide that the statute shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purpose, as provided in the interstate agreement on detainers did not require strict construction of the statute. Code 1957, art.27 & 616A-616S
2. STATUTES 236: Statutes which are remedial in nature, designed to correct existing law, to redress existing grievances and to introduce regulations conducive to the public good are to be liberally construed in order to advance the remedy and obviate the mischief.
3. STATUTES 223.2(8) Statutes pertaining to interstate and intrastate detainers are in pari materia and should be construed together so that they will harmonize with each other and be consistent with their general object and scope Code 1957 art. 27, 616S.
4. COURTS 477: The liberal construction prescribed by statute pertaining to interstate detainers should be applied to statute pertaining to intrastate detainers Code 1957 art. 27, 616S
5. CRIMINAL LAW 576(8) Purpose of notice requirements of statute providing that prisoner against whom detainer has been filed shall file request for final disposition of indictment is to bring the attention of the operative state officials to the prisoner's request that such authorities take the necessary steps, within the time provided, to set in motion the machinery necessary to bring the pending case to trial Code: 1957, art.27: 616S (a)
6. Notice 2: While failure to comply with statutory requirements of notice may sometimes be fatal, the requirement of notification proposed to inform may be satisfied by proof of actual notice, and this is especially true when knowledge has been acted upon without reliance upon the defects in the notice.

And an astronomer said, Master, what of Time?
And he answered:
You would measure time the measureless and immeasurable.
You would adjust your conduct and even direct the course of your spirit according to hours and seasons.

Of time you would make a stream upon whose bank you would sit and watch its flowing.
Yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness.
And knows that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream.

And that that which sings and contemplates in you is still dwelling within the bounds of that first moment which scattered the stars into space.

Who among you does not feel that his power to love is boundless?

And yet who does not feel that very love, though boundless encompassed within the centre of his being, and moving not from love thought to love thought, not from love deeds to other love deeds?

And is not time even as love is, undivided and spaceless?

But if in your thought you must measure time into seasons, let each season encircle all the other seasons,

And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.

THOUGHTS

I am young and strong and quick,
I can draw you pictures of the sun,
the moon, the flowers,
I am my mind....

And you....
You can confine my body,
You can take me from my home:
You can inflict pain upon my physical being, but I have my mind.

My mind....
Can take my soul from your confined place
My mind can bring me home,
My mind can make me unaware of pain
For I am young and strong.

And you.... You think you're strong,
You take my home and goods
But I have memories of golden sun,
Silvery rivers and emerald pastures,
My mind is younger and stronger.

For to overpower me you must kill me
So you do so and walk away in triumph,
But now I laugh as darkness sweeps over me
For my blood flows in another
A lover, or a child
And they are younger and stronger
They are part of my mind.

JUST FUNNIN

Just funnin, when I stab you in the back,
Just funnin, when I try to keep track,
Just funnin, when I spit on the ground
Just funnin, when I look at you with a frown
Just funnin, when we walk in your house Just funnin, when I try to carry everything out.... Just funnin, baby!

SONG ABOUT AN EVICTION

The rent is due:
you have to move away;
ay, but the problem is serious,
very serious,
because there is nothing to pay with.

If you find an empty room,
you have to move away,
if by chance you don't find it,
you have to move away.
If the owner says: "I regret it",
you have to move away;
but if he says nothing,
you have to move away.

In anyway, in anyway
you have to move away;
with money; without money,
you have to move away;
any moment, any time,
you have to move away,
you have to move away,
you have to move away,
you have to move away!

HEART TO HEART

I am so happy with you.
I can discuss all my thoughts , or
I don't have to say anything
You'll always understand.

I am so relaxed with you
I don't need to pretend
I don't need to look good
You accept me for what I am.

I am so strong with you
I depend on you for love
But I live my own life
You give me confidence to succeed.
Your heart is my heart
Your truth is my truth
Your feeling is my feeling
But the real straight of our love
Is that we share rather than control
Each other's lives.

LA VIDA ES SUEÑO

Es verdad; pues reprimamos
 esta fiera condición, esta furia, esta ambición,
 por si alguna vez soñamos;
 y sí haremos, pues estamos en mundo tan singular, que el vivir sólo es soñar;
 y la experiencia me enseña que el hombre que vive, sueña lo que es, hasta despertar.
 Sueña el rey que es rey, y vive con este engaño mandando, disponiendo y gobernando;
 y este aplauso, que recibe prestado, en el viento escribe;
 y en cenizas le convierte
 la muerte (¡desdicha fuerte!); ¿que hay quien intente reinar, viendo que ha de despertar en el sueño de la muerte?
 Sueña el rico en su riqueza,
 que más cuidados le ofrece;
 sueña el pobre que padece
 su miseria y su pobreza;
 sueña el que a medrar empieza,
 sueña el que afana y pretende,
 sueña el que agravia y ofende,
 y en el mundo, en conclusión,
 todos sueñan lo que son,
 aunque ninguno lo entiende.
 Yo sueño que estoy aquí
 de estas prisiones cargado, y soñé que en otro estado más lisonjero me vi.
 ¿Qué es la vida? Un frenesí.
 ¿Qué es la vida? Una ilusión, una sombra, una ficción,
 y el mayor bien es pequeño;
 que toda la vida es sueño,
 y los sueños, sueño son.

LLAMA DE AMOR VIVA

¡Oh llama de amor viva,
 Que tiernamente hieres
 De mi alma en el más profundo centro!
 Pues ya no eres esquiva,
 Acaba ya si quieres,
 Rompe la tela deste dulce encuentro.

¡Oh cauterio suave!
 ¡Oh regalada llaga!
 ¡Oh mano blanda! ¡Oh toque delicado,
 Que a vida eterna sabe,
 Y a toda deuda paga!
 Matando, muerte en vida la has trocado.

¡Oh lámparas de fuego,
 En cuyos resplandores
 Las profundas cavernas del sentido,
 Que estaba obscuro y ciego,
 Con extraños primores
 Calor y luz dan junto a su querido!
 ¡Cuán manso y amoroso
 Recuerdas en mi seno,
 Donde secretamente solo moras:
 Y en tu aspirar sabroso
 De bien y gloria lleno ¡Cuán delicadamente me enamoras!

My Predicted Order of Finish:

LA CONSTANCIA

Mis arreos son las armas,
 mi descanso es pelear,
 mi cama las duras peñas,
 mi dormir siempre velar.
 Las manidas son oscuras,
 los caminos por usar,
 el cielo con sus mudanzas
 ha por bien de me dañar, andando de sierra en sierra por orillas de la mar, por probar si mi ventura
 hay lugar donde avadar.
 Pero por vos, mi señora,
 todo se ha de comportar.

N.B.A. ROUNDUP 75-76

Don't count on the Golden State Warriors winning the National Basketball Association title again this season. Tradition definitely is against them. In the last five seasons, five different teams have won the Championship, including Milwaukee, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Golden State. The Warriors climaxed their run to the title in spectacular fashion last season sweeping the Washington Bullets in four straight games in the final series. Golden State admittedly did not have the best talent in the league last season, and it is unlikely they can perform another "miracle" with virtually the same team, despite the coaching genius of Al Ahkes. While..... Washington probably will completely outclass the Central Division, Boston appears too strong for the Atlantic Division and should capture the title again, although Buffalo might threaten for the crown. The L.A. Lakers, strengthened by the acquisition of superstar center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar from Milwaukee, could rise from the depths of last place in the Pacific Division and overtake Golden State for the title. The Midwest Division, in the past often the strongest and most balanced Division in the League, doesn't appear to have a clear-cut favorite for the title.... Kansas City gets the nod on the process of the elimination, because Chicago and Detroit are wracked by dissension and Milwaukee no longer has Abdul-Jabbar.

SANTOS, JOINER, DANIELS....LEADS TEAM 3 TO SECOND WIN.....TEAM 2 RIDDLED WITH INJURY....LACKS OFFENSE FOR SECOND WEEK.....BOTH DEFENSES PREVAIL.....

A Chico Santos pass to John Daniels, proved to be the winning score; as Team 3 took sole possession of Second Place. And a victory this coming Sunday will put them in First Place, by one-half game over Team One...(If they Win) Team 3 blew six scoring chances, mostly all being blown on mistakes, and penalties..... Not taking nothing away from Team 2 defense, who played hurt most of the game... and they were very tough, as expected...Joiners spurt running, and Santos scrambling, on the outside, left the Blue Team awe-struck most of the game. It was a good mix-up in plays by Team 3 that gave them good field positions all through the game. They were within the 20 yard line 4 times, within the 10 twice, so the game wasn't as close as the score represents. Anos Poiner having a good day on the field, ran the ball 6 times for 52 yards, which got him the game ball on the offense. John Johnson for Team 2 playing with a slight concussion most of the day, won his three defensive game ball, as he put pressure on Santos and his runners all day. If Team 3 plays this well next week, it should prove interesting. Gates and Willis, also contributed heavy, as Willis recovered a fumble and played well all day. Santos contributed with 4 carries for 34 yards, and 3-9 for 34 yards in the air, with a scoring strike of 22 yards to Daniels for the winning score.... Hon. Mention..Andros interception, played on an injury...Swain, Jones, Brundri, Rey Kaunekis, Joiner, Hadki.....

TEAM 2.....

Again the defense played well, but you can't win on Defense alone....Honorable Mention....Lamont Lewis (who played a good game on an injured leg) Adams, who interception 2, and played well. Hicks, Middleton, Monroe, Furrle, Wilbourne, Ilington, Hicks, Merrill, Williams, and Brennan.

The first successful manned and motored flight was made in 1903 by Orville and Wilbur Wright at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. Two other aviation firsts were Lindbergh's solo Atlantic crossing in 1927 and Byrd's flight over the South Pole in 1929. These pioneers and others in the list below helped the world wing its way into the Air Age.
