DEATH ON CHURCH STEPS.

WAS MADE A DUETING GROUND BY BROTHERS-IN-LAW.

George Montgomery and Archibald Riley, Each With Revolvers—When They Met Each Began Firing and Kept It Up Until One Was Dead and the Other Dying.

The murder was the culmination of a sensation that upset high society in the big brass section three years ago, when it was said Riley seduced Montgomery's sister and fled from the Mississippi. He was brought back at the point of a pistol and forced to marry the girl.

Both men attended church to-day. There was a large congregation present, the church having the most cultured and aristocratic membership in the state.

Scores of ladies fainted, and many were badly trampled. The thing was done so quickly that no one thought of interfering. Both men were astonishingly cool.

Riley was thirty years old. Montgomery was twenty-nine, and unmarried. It is claimed that Riley had threatened Montgomery's life, and both men had been carrying pistols for each other.

FIGHTING WAS SEVERE.

Five Members of the French Despatch Boat Were Killed.

Paris, May 26.—M. Chautemps, minister of the colonies, has received a cable dispatch from the governor of French Guiana reporting severe fighting. The dispatch narrates that some Brazilian adventurers captured and robbed a Frenchman named Trajane, a settler on the boundary.

Other Frenchmen had been similarly treated, and consequently the governor sent the dispatch vessel Bengallah and a number of marines to restore order. When the vessel reached Mapa, fifteen boat loads of marines went up the river fifteen miles.

The French lost five killed, including Captain Lunier, and twenty wounded. The dead and wounded were taken to the Bengallah, which then returned to Cayenne, where the dead were buried with military honors.

THE CONFERENCE SERMON.

DISCOURSE BY REV. DR. T. T. MUNGER YESTERDAY.

Sermon Preached Before the Conference of Charities and Corrections—A Prophet Hath Honor Save in His Own Country—The Principle of Altruism.

Rev. Dr. T. T. Munger preached the conference sermon before the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in the United Church yesterday morning before a very large congregation.

His discourse was one of deep interest and was most impressive to all who listened to it.

The preacher took the theme of his discourse from the account of Jesus' return to Nazareth, told in the 13th chapter of Matthew, verses 54-58.

"And when He was come into His own country, He taught them in their synagogues, inasmuch that they were astonished, and said, 'Whence hath this Man this wisdom and these mighty works?'" most welcome intrusion—is an indication that many more are trying to apply altruistic principles to society.

The Conference of Charities and Corrections was held at a meeting in United Church, at which the topic of discussion was: "Child Saving Work."

Before the regular meeting began the audience was entertained by the singing of a quartet of students from Hampton.

On the platform were Rev. Dr. Smith of St. Paul, Minn., who is president of the Pan-American Congress of Philanthropy and Education.

Mr. Percy Alden of London, Eng., who is connected with the Mansfield University settlement in East London.

Dr. Munger, Charles W. Birtwell, general secretary of the Boston Children's Aid society.

stances so crowded as to threaten to require extensive enlargements, may help overcome this difficulty. It seems to have been demonstrated, also, that apart from the plant, the weekly cost of such institution as the one all day, less than that of our jails and almshouses and workhouses, where the people for whom this reformatory is largely designed now spend a great part of their time. Pool selling, and its prohibition by our legislature, and the new law forbidding the admission to suffrage of persons of tainted moral character was spoken of, and regret was expressed at the non-passage of the proposed law for disfranchising for five years on three convictions for any jail offense within twelve consecutive months, and on repetition, permanent disfranchisement to follow. Under the present law men are disfranchised for petty thefts—as, in a recent instance, of a chicken—because that ranks as felony. But men who spend the greater part of their time in jail for drunkenness and licentiousness or abuse of wife and children, go on voting with even greater regularity than the average well behaved citizen. Not that they care for politics more, but because they find greater profit in it. The paper laws of the state are much in need of revision; and the tramp laws, largely through the withdrawal of the premium on arrests, are rarely enforced. A bill providing for an unpaid commission to inquire into pauperism and vagabondage, their causes and remedies, has been rejected on the unfavorable report of the judiciary committee. The county homes, or most of them, need improving. The number of ideal homes of the kind is few. The few charity organization societies in the state seem to be in a condition of fair vigor and are evidently doing an educational work of steady increasing magnitude and efficiency. So far as I know, only one new one has been organized within the past few years. The women's relief corps of the Grand Army of the Republic may perhaps merit mention as one of the more earnest and active of our organized charities. The school of sociology begun in Hartford under the care of the Society for Education Extension was commended. There is not lacking signs that public opinion in the state is becoming more and more intelligently concerned to what is the better part of the day, the occasion of the greater part of our crime, poverty and deterioration both physical and mental—I mean drunkenness. At 10 o'clock the subject, "State Boards of Charities," was taken up and the report of the standing committee on state boards of public charities was read by Dr. F. H. Wine of Illinois. The question "Is a State Board of Control With Full Executive Power Preferable to a State Supervisory Board With No Executive Power?" was discussed by Clarence S. Strain of Wisconsin and the Rev. Mr. Nutting of Rhode Island in the affirmative and by General Brinkerhoff of Ohio in the negative. The trend of the discussion seemed to be that state boards of control with full executive power were only practicable in small states. "The Problems of Child Saving in New York City" was the theme of the opening paper Saturday afternoon, discussed by C. Loring Bruce, secretary of the Children's Aid society, New York. He said: The sociological problems of New York are especially complex by reason of the ignorance and helplessness of the great numbers of immigrants from Europe who through into certain quarters of the city. Each ward presents different characteristics and different problems and as the numbers of these people increase the struggle of life becomes more intense. The breaking of the home ties with the mother country has a bad moral effect. They find the police less strict, the wealth about them far greater, and the boys are learning that it is possible to live by their wits. The public schools do not meet this problem. It is not grammar schools, with aristocratic courses of study, turning out boys and girls fitted for nothing but shop clerks, that we most need; it is the kindergarten and the primary school, with good playgrounds around them, that we must have at frequent intervals in the tenement districts, with bodies of intelligent trustees who are interested in the individual children. After this is done we should have trade schools for the older boys and girls. Mr. Bruce declared that tenement-house life under proper conditions is not in itself necessarily degrading. If the regulations of the board of health are energetically enforced, with sufficient schools where the children will receive painstaking attention, with reading rooms and libraries in school basements for the people in winter and parks for recreation in summer, with playgrounds at every school which the children may use the year round under proper supervision, and with the kindly influence of the churches and benevolent societies as at present, the people of the tenements will work out their own redemption. Drunkenness, debauchery and vice are diminishing. The people of the tenements, as a rule, are honest and virtuous, and all they need is a fair chance to train their children, a chance to rise. H. W. Lewis, agent of the board of children's guardians, Washington, read a paper on "Colored Children in the South," and "Preventive Legislation and Work in Ontario" was discussed by J. J. Kelso, superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children in Ontario. Mrs. S. E. Tenney of Brooklyn, N. Y., opened the charity organization section with an address on "Aids to Friendly Visitors." A general discussion followed, in which various exigencies in practical charitable visitations were mentioned. The following committee on resolutions was appointed: Judge Falet of Ohio, Clarence Snyder of Wisconsin and James Lyons of Virginia. "SOCIOLOGY IN INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING." "Sociology in Institutions of Learning" was the topic of the conference for Saturday evening. President Seth Low of Columbia college was to have been the first speaker of the evening, but he was unavoidably detained in New York and was compelled to cancel his engagement here. Professor Franklin H. Giddings of New York began the exercises, he reading a paper on the subject "Is the Term 'Social Classes' a Scientific Category." The paper was a scientific essay and drew forth applause from the audience. The paper on the "Edwards System," by Dr. C. R. Henderson of Chicago, was read by title only. Professor E. R. L. Gould of Baltimore spoke upon "The Statistical Study of Hereditary Criminality." In concluding he summed up in saying: "Personally I regret that the study of hereditary criminality is hedged about with extreme difficulties. Were we able to get clearer apprehensions of the real facts and views which now pass for scientific world, in all probability be labeled morbid and sentimental. There is great danger in emphasizing heredity and by contrast minimizing the influences of environment and individual responsibility. Consequences doubly unfortunate must ensue. Individual stamens will be weakened and society made to feel less keenly the duty of reforming environment. It is not a better to postulate the widest range of free choice than to preach the doctrine of a fettered will and so elevate criminality and a prophylactic sacrifice. SOCIOLOGICAL INSTRUCTION, ITS FEASIBILITY AND PROBABLE RESULTS. Following Professor Gould, Professor H. F. Powers of Northampton, Mass., read a paper on "Sociological Instruction in Schools and Colleges; Its Feasibility and Probable Results." In the course of his remarks he said: "It seems incredible that in a democracy, colleges should so generally think politics an unnecessary subject for instruction, and that schools supported by the states should not recognize the art of politics as a necessary part of the liberal education of their citizens. Dishonest and unjust political action is an enviable result. So important a social institution as the family is seldom mentioned even in colleges, apparently not because there is a general surfeit of intelligence or practical wisdom on the subject. And in all these matters so profoundly concerning human welfare, change is impending or in progress; the spell of tradition is broken. But all this means that there is perhaps absolute need of greater intelligence and social wisdom with the view to the conscious direction of society. However much we may believe in the control of social evolution by reason and human effort, a study of society cannot but convince us that changes must be slow to be either wholesome or permanent, and that effort spent on merely proximate causes is ineffectual. These conclusions are not agreeable to those who organize crusades. It is one of the painful incidents of science that the student is so often called upon to part company with the reformer. The fervid appeals and enthusiastic characterizations by which he seeks to enlist men into a grand reforming mob gear, harshly on the one hand, and with the other to batter society while the other sees only its desirability. After a few vain attempts to inoculate a little science into these reformers while they are charging at double quick, the student is apt to give up the attempt and to seem henceforth unfriendly to reform."

SCIENCE AND SENTIMENT IN ECONOMIC POLICY. Professor Arthur T. Hadley of New Haven was the next speaker, his subject being, "Science and Sentiment in Economic Policy." In the course of his address he said: "Take the case of tax laws. Practical experience has shown the absolute necessity of taxing the man rather than persons if we wish to make fiscal systems effective the principle of 'stoppage at source,' as it is called. Tax the corporation rather than the stockholders in the corporation and the honest and dishonest will pay alike. Tax mortgaged real estate at its full value and thus reach the lender individually, instead of trying to make him declare directly the amount of mortgaged instruments which he owns. "The economic laws by which taxes are paid indirectly these men can not or will not see. In the direct pursuit of justice by a short cut they defeat their own ends. They pass a law compelling every man to declare his personal property and pay taxes upon it. The personal property of widows and orphans and of a few exceptionally honest men is declared, and pays double and triple taxes, while the rest escape. Of all the economic evils under which honest men suffer, few are more burdensome than those which arise from unintelligent attempts to secure equity in taxation. "Or take the case of currency legislation—men who are moved with sympathy for the debtors in the present crisis, think that a cheaper dollar would be an advantage. They see that a man who has a debt to pay could do it easier if the new dollar were in the country; they therefore advocate inflation in the interest of the debtor classes. This is all right for a man who has borrowed money and a debt to pay. But how about the man who wants to borrow money for the future. The advocates of cheap money think that there will be more dollars to borrow. But by the same paper every borrower will want more dollars to do a given work. The borrowers want capital, not money. If there is 50 per cent. more money in the country prices will go up 50 per cent. to the borrower, who before wanted $1,000, now wants $1,500. He has thus received no gain from the increased supply of money. In fact he is actually losing, for the lender's money is secured by a high interest charge. The policy of paying with paper a generation ago and consequently with silver to-day, is responsible for perhaps 2 per cent. per annum on the interest rate—a dead weight on debtors, a source of profit to speculators only. The following is the program for today's meetings: MONDAY, MAY 27, AT SEMINARY BUILDING. 9:30 a. m.—Reports from states (alphabetically) from Florida to Maine. 10 a. m.—Home for soldiers and sailors. SCIENCE AND SIMPLE SIMON.

Some Science has been sadly needed to show that the odor of the drinking water of New Haven is the odor of respectability, and, as is usual in such emergencies, the Science is forthcoming. It will please the people of this community to know that they have been drinking the Dinobryon. The Dinobryon is a fine being, well fitted to move in the very midst of New Haven Society, where it does move. It is biflagellate, with one long and one short flagellum, attached by a posterior contractile filament within the individual cells or loriceae of a compound branching polythecum built up by successive terminal gemmation of zooids.

So much for Science. Now for Simple Simon. These are the days when great changes are taking place in the opinions of men and women concerning many famous historical characters. Nero was not such a bad fellow as he has been thought to be. There was no William Tell. Napoleon wouldn't have amounted to much had it not been for Barras, and Josephine didn't amount to much anyway.

For the races, country calls, coaching and the thousand semi-formal yet not elaborate functions that fashionable women attend, the bodice-and-skirt combination will prevail. It is a fashion that commends itself highly to less modish women and this will do well to take it up.

Simple Simon went a-fishing. For to catch a whale. And all the water that he had was in his mother's pail. This has always been taken to mean that Simple Simon was a chump who had not the making of a college professor in him, or even of a heretical preacher.

Science is all right, and Simple Simon will be when we read our paper on him before the Historical Society.

A BIG CHICAGO SCHEME.

Chicago may throw the world out of its orbit yet with her big head, her big buildings and her other bigness. She is already disarranging things in the neighborhood of the great lakes. In order that some of the sewer nuisances of the great city might be abated the sanitary district of Chicago was formed under a law passed by the State legislature in 1889. The district is a public corporation, managed by elective trustees, having the right to levy a tax and to issue bonds.

Another gown that follows only the newest styles, yet is of one material for both bodice and skirt because planned for more dressy use, is shown in the accompanying illustration. Its skirt is the perfection of the godet shape, and will be a trial to any but skillful makers, because of its unusually deep folds striving for, as anyone can see. It is here made of almond green satin-finished cloth and is fitted about the hips, where it is trimmed with sequin ornaments.

Rochester Bier is the product of a Brewery—not a Beer Factory.

A Brewery with a reputation behind it, markets its product only when properly made and aged. A Beer Factory concocts of the lowest priced materials a drink that is rushed to the consumer before it has had time to mature or ripen.

There is a difference. Rochester Bier costs (including bottles) $1.00 per dozen, and is guaranteed to keep until used.

MEMORIAL DAY. The Day in Branford—Ladies in the Lead—A Brilliant Spectacle at the Opera House—Captain D. S. Thomas and His Experience as an Amateur Balloonist. This year the surrounding towns are taking a renewed interest in carrying out the spirit of Memorial day. In Branford in the evening the exercises take the form of a monster benefit at the Gaylord opera house to start a fund for the erection of a Grand Army hall.

No town in Connecticut of its size furnished more men or contributed more means for carrying on the war than did Branford, and there is no community in the state that more sincerely honors the veteran soldiers than do the residents of this quiet but very aristocratic old town.

The work is being pushed forward by the Woman's Relief corps, of which Mrs. W. E. Beach is president. The ladies propose to change the program somewhat from the ordinary run of Memorial day exercises. In the evening, in place of the usual mournful eulogies, Captain D. S. Thomas reads his bright and entertaining paper on ballooning, entitled "Reminiscences of an Amateur in Thirty-four Voyages." Most of the young ladies of the town, with scores of the little children, form a beautiful "Tabular of the States," and it is the desire of the ladies to make the affair as instructive as it is interesting. The mandate has gone forth that all natives of Branford who have moved away return for this occasion and join in the festivities. Ex-Mayor George F. Holcomb will lead the delegation of native-born Branford people who have taken up their residence in the city.

THE ARRESTING OF BICYCLISTS. The Notable Crusade of a New York Gentleman of Wealth, Himself an Expert Bicyclist. Speaking of the arresting of bicyclists for riding on the sidewalks, which has happened in New Haven in the last few days, the following from the New York Commercial Advertiser will be of interest hereabouts:

Wealthy Thomas DeWitt of New York has abandoned his crusade against reckless bicycle riders. Mr. DeWitt's crusade has made him famous and accomplished wonders for the bicyclists and all others who use the Boulevard. The first and only statement for the press which Mr. DeWitt permitted on the bicycle subject he not courting publicity, he authorized in his behalf through his counsel, Mr. James M. Townsend, Jr., (formerly of New Haven). Mr. Townsend said on the subject that so many misrepresentations of Mr. DeWitt's action in the case had been floating about that in justice to him the true facts should be given.

"Mr. DeWitt," said Mr. Townsend, "is not engaged in any crusade against bicyclists. He is a rider himself, and has regretted for some time the injury to a good sport by the reckless and illegal riding on the Boulevard and the danger and discomfort to the bicyclists themselves, to other vehicles and to pedestrians. Whatever he has done has been done in the interest of all sensible bicyclists and other good citizens."

"My impression is he is now content to leave the matter in the hands of the police authorities, satisfied that now the way has been shown them, they will do their full duty in the matter. He has received the heartiest support and cooperation of Acting Captain Gallagher of the West Sixty-eighth street police station."

"Mr. DeWitt did not cause the arrest of Miss Raisbeck, concerning which so much halibutage has been raised. He chanced to meet an officer taking her to the station house. He at once turned back, entered the station house and requested the discharge of Miss Raisbeck, which was refused. He persisted and insisted that she should not be put in a cell, and was finally allowed to give bail for her, Mr. DeWitt himself executing the bond to expedite her release. His sole object was to save her for annoyance and trouble. These are the true facts in the case," said Mr. Townsend, "and reflect honor upon Mr. DeWitt," and that this was the correct version was substantiated later by Mr. T. A. Hand, who was present at the station when Mr. DeWitt bailed the young lady out. Mr. Hand verified Mr. DeWitt's statement in every respect.

"What are Mr. DeWitt's views, so far as you know them, about bicycling?" "He believes in and enjoys the sport and deprecates its abuse. He thinks that at night, and in the crowded streets of the city, all bicyclists should carry lighted lamps, and should ride at a speed not dangerous to them, to vehicles nor to pedestrians. He believes that the present limit, which is seven miles an hour, is too slow, and that they should be allowed to ride faster, and that there are requiring all vehicles to keep to the right side of the road should be strictly enforced. I know he feels that bicyclists are imposed upon by heavier vehicles, and that the rights of everyone, whether driving a vehicle, riding a bicycle or walking, should be strictly preserved under the law."

Mr. Townsend was asked: "It has been stated that for a week past Mr. DeWitt has gone to and from his business daily in a carriage for fear of assault by bicyclists who attribute their arrest to him. Is this true?" "Of course, that is nonsense. He often goes to his business in his carriage."

"The absurdity of statements which have been made along these lines is best shown by the statement that Mr. DeWitt is an athlete, more than six feet in height, and weighing about 230 pounds. "Do you think it likely that Mr. DeWitt will now endeavor to see that the drivers are more careful of the rights of bicyclists?" "Somebody ought to do this, but I should not think that Mr. DeWitt, in view of the abuse that has been heaped upon him by the press and people for the meritorious work that he has accomplished, will care to engage in it. His has been the experience of almost every man who has tried to do anything from worthy motives for the public good."

"Captain F. E. Ames of the Colonial Club Cyclers said that all sensible riders will be thankful to Mr. DeWitt for what he had accomplished, and he hoped that the police would keep up the Dean's Rheumatic Pills absolutely cure rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc., and give relief to all suffering from these ailments.

YALE BEATEN BY ORANGE.

A Lucky Seventh for the Orange Team Won the Game. Orange, N. Y., May 26.—The spectators at the Orange Oval yesterday afternoon, numbering fully 3,000, went wild with excitement when they saw the Orange Athletic club baseball nine defeat the Yale university players fairly and squarely in a game which was close and exciting from the start.

Trudeau was in the box for Yale, and did well, although he struck but one man out, and White, the reserve pitcher for the Orange team, who pitched his first game for this season, proved to be a good one; but he only struck out two men.

In the ending of the fourth inning Carter made a remarkable catch of a fly to deep center field, putting Arbutnot, the third man out. Then he went to the bat and pounded out a home run over the left field fence.

Orange won the game by dunting hits in the seventh inning. Arbutnot hit a single to right, White struck out, Thomas made a two-base hit, and Arbutnot felled. Beall made a hit and stole second, and then he and Thomas talked on Place's single to right field.

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

NO SECRET IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known. (SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says: "My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, headache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness."

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the discharge was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

will not cure Consumption. It will help; but the disease must have systematic treatment. The germs which produce it must be destroyed. The havoc wrought in the lungs must be repaired; their injured surfaces healed. Change of climate will not do this. It will simply increase the supply of oxygen, and leave nature to struggle on for years with the disease.

does better than this. It cures quickly and permanently. It is made of Ozone, Cod Liver Oil and Guaiacol. The Ozone supplies the needed oxygen, and with the Guaiacol destroys the poisonous germs which cause the disease. The Cod Liver Oil is for the purpose of nutrition only. It doesn't kill germs. It doesn't make appetite—in fact, it makes it. It is simply a flesh-maker, a tissue-builder. That's the truth—my physician will tell you so.

Financial.

The Market was Generally Strong With Trading Speculative and Irregular. New York, May 26.—The movement of the stock market to-day was again governed by the local professional speculators. To all appearances their object was to link the security and produce markets. During the early break in wheat prices the stranger stocks and the market generally advanced; Burlington in particular gaining 1/2.

When, in the second hour, the wheat market suddenly turned and retraced all its early gains, the lower prices, the traders sold down stocks. The result was a very irregular market, closing in the main at slightly better prices. The stocks protected by speculative "pools" were again noticeably strong. To the story of a dividend reduction by the Northwestern comparatively little attention was paid; not because such action is impossible, but because Wall street has had some lessons, even before the May advance in prices, on the real results of conservative dividend reductions.

The bank statement served chiefly as reflection of the remarkably heavy flow of interior currency to New York. With such additions to the local circulating medium, the 1 per cent. money rate will hardly cause surprise. Indeed, it is possible that the $4,785,000 loan, which reflects the plethora of idle funds even more fully than it does increasing speculation.
