THE MINISTER OF FINANCE reports an increase in the monthly revenue, and says that if the government should require a loan he will offer the tobacco monopoly and the Almaden quick-silver mines as guarantee, both of these securities becoming renewable within three years.

THE MINISTER OF MARINE and war are making active preparations in their respective departments. Paris, March 3.—The Figaro, in its comments upon the situation as between Spain and the United States, says that, although President Cleveland is not the man to recoil from a conflict with Spain should his electoral interests require such a step, he will, nevertheless, resist the excitement which congress has stirred up.

VIENNA, March 3.—The Neue Freie Presse says that it regards Spain as being in an almost desperate condition. Her only hope, it adds, centers in decisive military success in Cuba.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The Cubans of the United States gave vent last night to their joy at the passage by congress of the belligerency resolutions by a crowded mass meeting in Warner hall.

THE TYPANNY and oppression of Spain were pictured with all the glowing fervor at the command of the speakers, and the Spanish flag was held up for execration and indignation. Nearly every prominent Cuban in the United States was present, and lent either his voice or his support by his presence at the meeting.

Several honorary American consuls have resigned as a protest against the action of the senate. The government has secured in Germany all the Mauser rifles that will be manufactured within the next few months.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—A good statement of the motives controlling the majority on its action in the house yesterday on the Cuban resolutions, is made by one of the number, Representative Hill, rep., of Connecticut, who said this morning: "The resolutions adopted will let the Cuban patriots know they have our sympathy, and that at the proper time, if they are not treated as human beings struggling for freedom should be, they will have our active support."

THE ATTITUDE of the Massachusetts delegation on the Cuban question has attracted wide attention. Every member of the delegation present and voting was recorded against the precipitate action of the house, and of the absence only one of the members would have voted with the majority.

TELEGRAMS OF CONGRATULATION and approval are pouring in upon the Massachusetts men from their neighbors at the moment, and the unique position of the old state's representation on the floor has caused a great many members from other states to come to the Massachusetts men and express their entire concurrence in belief and their regret that they had been themselves so situated politically as to be unable to vote their own judgment.

GENERAL MANDESON says he is in the field. Nebraska to the Front-He is Not a Stalking Horse for a Delivery Waiver-Omah, Neb., March 3.—General Manderson has written announcing his candidacy for the presidential nomination at the St. Louis convention, as follows: "Washington, D. C., Feb. 28, 1896."

"MY DEAR SIR—I thank you very heartily for kind favor of 25th inst., which has just reached me here. Your frank letter presents a matter of supreme importance, involving, as it does, my honor and integrity, and I would meet it with all candor and with frankness equal to your own. You say: 'It is freely charged that your candidacy is in the interest of another, and that this is only a part of a gigantic plan to defeat the nomination of Mr. McKinley.'"

"I denounce this charge and every other akin to it as cruelly and basely false. I know it to be false as to myself, and did I believe it to be true as to the friends throughout the state and nation who have solicited me to permit the use of my name I would spurn them and stamp the proffered honor indignantly under my feet. I am not to be used as a stalking horse or delivery wagon for any candidate. The gentlemen who are named prominently for the place are all my personal friends, and the chief among them I have known intimately and closely since youth. I honor and esteem them all, and will follow gladly in the ranks under the captaincy of any one of them. I demand fair play for them. I expect it for myself."

"Before I left Omaha to come here in the latter part of January I said to my friends that I would neither seek nor decline, but would permit them without protest from me to proceed with their effort, which they believe is to be crowned with success. I have no personal claim upon Nebraska. Our young commonwealth has honored me so greatly that if I were to continue devoted to her interests I will not step out the score. If she shall at St. Louis pay me the highest compliment with her power to bestow it would be an act of hypocrisy for me not to say that no prouder distinction could come to me. 'If the voice of the republicans of the state shall be for some other, no man will give more hearty and cheerful acquiescence to the verdict than myself.'"

"THE UNSOLICITED tributes that have come to me from the very numerous Nebraska republicans volunteering their support has touched me most deeply. There shall come from me no act or thought that shall disappoint their expectations. "CHARLES F. MANDESON."

miner, and so intense is the feeling that the prudent foreman keeps out of the public gaze as much as possible.

Onions and sugar don't go together any better than oysters and sugar do, and this mention of them here with an "and" between them has nothing to do with any attempt to get them together in the eating line.

We solemnly ask our thoughtful readers if they can have any confidence in a political party that fixes things so that a barrel of onions will buy only seventeen pounds of sugar.

During the last few weeks there has been a great deal of talk about "impending changes" in the police force of New Haven.

The decision of the commissioners who made the decision is right. There is no such need of the retirement and the pensioning of the present useful head of the force as some of the interested ones have made out.

It is to be hoped that there will now be peace among the police, their rulers and their payers. And it is to be hoped that those commissioners who have been squirming around in a vain effort to carry out unnecessary and costly schemes will join hands with the other commissioners in effort which shall not be vain to improve the spirit and the discipline of the force.

During the last few years there has been a widespread tendency among the people of this country to "join" something. And some have joined so many things that they find it hard work to earn enough to pay the dues and the assessments which are the penalties of "joining."

The wonderful growth of the fraternal orders is attributed to three causes: First, to the increasing popularity of life insurance associations and to the principle of life insurance when applied to sick benefits; second, to the fact that these organizations are essentially and exclusively social in character; and third, that they eschew and more strongly each year, any identification with politics or with the political ambitions of members—a rock upon which many otherwise promising social organizations have split and gone to pieces.

DANBURY'S $100,000 FIRE

A FURIOUS BLAZE DOES OVER $100,000 DAMAGE.

Thirty Families Hured Out—Two Firemen Injured—One Taken to the Hospital—Many Stores Burned Out—$9,000 Insurance.

Danbury, March 3.—The most disastrous fire that has visited this city in years broke out in 7:15 o'clock this morning in Edward B. Parks' small hat factory, located at Maiden Lane and Maple avenue, two small highways just back of White street, the principal business thoroughfares of the place. The fire spread furiously to the various adjoining wooden buildings and despite all the efforts of the firemen all of the frame structures extending to White street were gutted.

At Maple avenue and White street the fire communicated to a four-story brick building occupied on the ground floor by stores and above by tenements.

This was the first substantial building the flames had reached. It was soon destroyed and the fire was still unchecked.

Another row of two-story wooden buildings were next attacked by the flames and in half an hour they were razed to the ground. These wooden buildings extended from Sherman street to the White street brick building.

When the last of these buildings was destroyed the flames crossed the street to the brick block owned by Oscar H. Meeker, a flour, grain and feed dealer. A saloon occupied part of the ground floor while the upper floors were occupied as a boarding house and by tenements.

The firemen tried to check the flames at this point, but they did not succeed.

The three-story wooden building located in the rear of Meeker's block and occupied by Bartley & Clancy, wholesale liquor dealers, caught fire and was burned to the ground.

After the destruction of Bartley & Clancy's building the firemen succeeded in getting the flames under control. Fifteen buildings have been destroyed and thirty families turned out into the streets.

The loss is estimated at about $100,000.

FIREMAN INJURED. Frank E. Eastwood, aged forty, a fireman, was caught under the rear wall of the Meeker building when it fell. He was removed to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

Captain Fred Hoyt of Hose company No. 2 was also injured, but recovered. He was caught by falling debris of the same building and received a number of ugly cuts. He was taken to his home.

Captain Hoyt was standing near Eastwood at the time the wall fell with a crash and his escape is considered miraculous.

Mrs. Sadie Carpenter, a colored woman about forty-five years of age, became frightened when the flames began to approach the house in which she lived on Maple avenue and jumped from a second-story window.

She broke both legs below the knee, and fractured one thigh.

FIVE HORSES PERISH. Five horses in Weed's livery stable, one of the wooden structures destroyed, were burned to death together with a number of wagons.

SECOND DISPATCH—THE SUMMARY. Danbury, March 3.—At 6 o'clock tonight the firemen were still playing on the ruins of the disastrous fire which broke out at 7:15 o'clock this morning in Edward Park's hat factory.

The Key to Success

in washing and cleaning is Pearl-ine. By doing away with the rubbing, it opens the way to easy work; with Pearl-ine, a weekly wash can be done by a weakly woman. It shuts out possible harm and danger; all things washed with Pearl-ine last longer than if washed with soap. Everything is done better with it. These form but a small part of the of packages of Pearl-ine every year. Let Pearl-ine do its best and there is no fear of "dirt doing its worst."
