BIG BOOM FOR GOV. MORTON

THERE WAS GREAT EXCITEMENT IN THE CONVENTION IN NEW YORK,

Morton Banners Appeared in All Parts of the Hall and Nothing Could Stop the Wave of Enthusiasm-The Platform De-Morton is Presented for President.

New York, March 24 .- At noon, the time fixed for the opening of the republlcan convention, about 100 delegates were in the Palace hall. A few minutes later Fred Gibbs and Cornelius Van Cott, accompanied by a crowd of their henchmen, came in. Prominent among them was Clarence Meade. Gibbs and Van Cott had photographs of Governor Morton pinned on their coats.

The first prominent politician that appeared afternoon was Speaker Fish. As his tall figured loomed up in the aisle somebody shouted "What's the matter with Ham Fish?" A few delegates responded feebly, "He's all right," and the band played "Rally Round the

At 12:15 o'clock Secretary Kenyon of the state committee and Clerk Fox appeared on the platform and began to prepare for the roll call.

At 12:20 Warner Miller appeared and the band struck up "Hall to the Chief." Two minutes later Thomas C. Platt entered the hall preceded by Inspector Cortright, and walked down the middle aisle to the fourth row from the front, shaking hands with delegates as he

After the prayer Secretary Kenyon began the roll call. While he was calling the delegates who were expected to make trouble for the Morton boom entered.

At 12:25 p. m. Chairman Hackett introduced Senator Cornelius R. Parsons, as temporary chairman.

After the list of committees had been read. Mr. Parsons announced that the convention would take a recess until

The hall was packed when, at 7:45 p. m., the chairman called the convention to order. The report of the committee on credentials was presented and adopted. There were contests in six districts in this city. The delegates seated were Platt men except those from two districts, who belonged to the Brookfield faction. The committee on permanent organization presented a report naming Congressman N. Southwick for permanent chairman, and also naming the other ermanent officers. The nomination of Mr. Southwick was greeted with great applause by the Albany contingent. This was nothing to the outburst that followed a minute later when ex-Senator Platt came down the aisle to take his seat with the delegation. The reading of the report of the committee was suspended while the band played "Hail to the Chief." Mr. Lauterbach came in next and there was more cheering.

Finally the secretary was allowed to finish reading the report, and it was then adopted.

Mr. Southwick was escorted to the platform and received an ovation. Mr. Southwick spoke forty minutes. but when he concluded the crowd begged him to go on. The band played "America," after which Chairman Aldridge of the committee on nominations, presented the names of General Tracy and E. H. Butler for electors-at-large; Messrs, Platt, Miller, Depew, and Lauterbach for delegates-at-large, and Messrs. Babcock, Witherbee and Mc-Millan for alternates-at-large. Before Mr. Aldridge had finished reading the report he was interrupted by ex-Supervisor Thomas Fitchie of Brooklyn, who refused to agree to the election of committee in the afternoon, but the chairman refused to yield. As soon as he resumed his seat Mr. Fitchie again ward the platform and said he had a minority report to make. The chairman said there could be no minority report in this instance. During the excitement and tumult following the introduction of the amendment some one in the orchestra balcony swung a small banner over the railing on which was inscribed-"McKinley, Prosperity's Advance

Then a Morton banner was thrown out alongside. In all parts of the upand tremendous cheering followed. The McKinleyites were completely drowned shouted and handkerchiefs and hats were tossed in the air.

For five minutes the applause conbreak out afresh. The chairman retention was paid to him. Morton banners were passed up to the platform and the crowd cheered again. It seemed impossible to get the convention in order. Finally the confusion subsided the committee's report was begun. The roll was called by assembly districts until Erie county was reached. These delegates demanded an individual roll and each man was allowed to respond to his own name. The same course was pursued with Jefferson and Kings. The next break was in New York county, where the first district voted for the amendment and was followed by several others. When Abraham Grueber announced the vote of his district he shouted "We stand by Tom Platt and Ed. Lauterbach." When Ontario was called Senator Raines said:

"Ontario resents the insult to her governor and casts seven votes against pipe and twelve inches in length. It is which he found himself. He said that

Mr. Platt was not present to cast Tioga's vote, having left at the conof Chairman Southwick's

HAS GIVEN UP MATINEE

The People's concerts have become the People's concert. The matinee has been given up. Madame Zeisler has written the management that she is suffering from a lame arm and cannot possibly play. It is too late to arrange for another artist in her place, so the afternoon concert has been withdrawn. This is disappointing news, because this pianist's appearance here was to have been one of the events of the season.

A more delightful program than has been arranged for Thursday evening it would be hard to imagine. Plunket Greene's list contains all his favorite and most beloved songs, from the beautiful "Ein Ton" to the inimitable "Father O'Flynn." Sauret and Szumowska are to play Grieg's great F major So nata, and their solo numbers are well selected.

Three Boys Killed by a Train. Athens, Tex., March 24 .- The northbound passenger train on the Cotton Belt yesterday picked up about three miles west of Brownsboro the bodies of three boys who had been killed by the northbound Cannon Ball on Sunday night. There were aged fourteen, twelve and ten years, sons of William Smith, F. A. Shiflet and Charles Mc-Lain, respectively, all citizens of this county. The boys started for Corsicana on Sunday, but were seen not far from Athens in the evening, going toward home.

THE PUBLIC AND THE PARKS. Mr. C. G. Merriman Has a Few Words on

To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER; Being myself very much in favor of the electric cars going to the summits of East and West Rocks I was led to talk upon the subject to some of my lady friends, one said she was opposed to it on account of the litter and rubbish that would be left there by picnicking parties. I said rules and regulations would easily obviate that. Another male friend differing with me said it would interfere with him account of his desire to ramble. I said the foot paths are always there and of foot paths! I think this is a subject the public should be fully awake about and all that can be said about it on both sides should be publicly said and if it be not too much to print I send you this as a contribution in its favor: I'd like to say some words in a pleasant kind of way. That would make the park commissioners from their prejudice give way.

IN THE COURTS YESTERDAY

A DECISION RENDERED IN A BRAN-FORD WILL CASE.

The Block vs. Peck Case-Trial of Three Men Charged With an Outrageous Assault-Donnelly Discharged on an Alibi-Various Other Cases Before the Courts,

In the superior court, civil side, before Judge Shumway yesterday, a decision was given upon the construction of the will of William Russell, late of Branford, who died in 1883. The only two points involved was whether a bequest of $300 should be given to a niece and whether George Lewis Russell, the administrator, should take in possession the entire real estate remaining. He finds that the will intended that the niece should receive $300 and that the administrator should take the fee in the real estate. The estate aggregates $5,000. OTHER JUDGMENTS. The demurrer to the substituted complaint in the suit of Clifford H. Baldwin and wife againts the Fair Haven and Westville Railroad company was sustained and in the sensational suit of Miss Kittle T. Garvin against Contractor J. H. Griffin the motion to strike out certain allegations was denied. GOES ON AGAIN TO-DAY.

The arguments in the case of Block vs. Peck occupied most of the day and will be continued this morning. CHARGED WITH A HEINOUS OF-FENSE.

In the city court yesterday before Judge Cable, Matthew Leonard, Patrick Egan, James Donnelly and Simon Conors were arraigned for assaulting with attempt to outrage the person of Mrs. Thomas McCarthy on the night of March 17. The alleged crime took place on Adeline street in a vacant lot.

Mrs. McCarthy testified that she had stopped in the saloon at the corner of State and Whiting streets on the night of the 17th and there met Connors and Cornellus McFarland. They had several drinks together and that she gave McFarland her ring. They went out together and went to the lot, where Connors took her pocketbook containing $1.20,

It was brought out in the cross ex-amination that the woman knew both Connors and McFarland and that she had been out with them frequently.

James Cunningham of 92 Orchard street tesitfied that he was cleaning a vault near by the lot in question and heard screams of a woman. When he reached the place where the cries seemed to come from he found all the young men around the woman, who was lying on the ground. He ordered them out of the lot. They picked Mrs. McCarthy up and carried her away with them.

Judge Cable discharged Donnelly on an alibi. The cases against Leonard and Egan were continued until April 27. Connors was bound over to answe in the supreme court under $500 bonds, and went to fall in default. $100 BONDS.

Andrew F. Fogelberg was held under $109 bonds for being drunk and making a disturbance, until March 28. CASES CONTINUED.

The case of Brayo Piccivillo for assault on Michale-Crisnala was continued until March 27, as was that of Phillip Alston for the theft of a gold watch from Mrs. Deibel, the Chapel street caterer. OTHER CASES.

Trial of the continued cases against Felix Samarizowky and his wife Apolonza, charged with theft from the person, resisting an officer, breach of the peace and drunkenness, occupied over an hour. The couple are charged with taking a watch and $4 from Leon Chrowsky, a Pole living in Milford, on last Thursday. The state put in the evidence on Saturday and the defense was heard to-day. Apolonza said that Leon got drunk and offered her some whiskey, but she refused it. She never touches liquor of any description, she said. Leon got quite drunk and called her into a closet and gave her the watch as a token of appreciation of the entertainment. Felix heard his wife's story and told the same tale when he was called. A half a dozen witnesses testified to the breach of the peace and resistance. Policeman Cook found the woman lying on the floor at the foot of the stairs when he got there and placed the man under arrest. The resistance story was not rehearsed. Judge Cable found Felix guilty on three counts, and fined him $5 for breach of the peace, $3 for resistance and $5 for theft from the The costs were $12,77. wife was fined $5 for theft and $3 for resistance; costs $12.77. Judgment was suspended on the drunk charge. Henry W. Thomas of Mill River street was arrested for breach of the peace Monday night on complaint of his wife. He got out of jail a week ago, and made a scene when his daugh- woman until I ter-in-law reproved him for being had under-drunk. He was given thirty days. Patrick Henchy, who was arrested for alleged assault on one Lawrence operation, O'Brien, was fined $10 and costs. He and even took an appeal. The witnesses testi-fied that O'Brien was drunk and sick in Henchy's saloon Saturday night and trouble; that the womb was too weak latter was trying to lead him out. Henchy struck O'Brien while lying on his back. John Conboy of 88 Hill street furnished the appeal bond. The cases against John W. Barnes of Webster street and Patrick Henchy of Davenport avenue, two saloon keepers, who were incriminated by the testimony in breach of the peace trials Monday, for selling to and allowing minors to loiter around their saloons, was continued. Barnes' until to-day and Henchy's for one month.

BEFORE JUDGE TOWNSEND. Judge W. K. Townsend in the United States court Monday heard the case of Clafflin & Kimball of Massachusetts against the Mather Electric company of Manchester on a motion for a more definite answer.

The complainants were sales agents for the defendant corporation and they sue to recover damages amounting to about $12,000. The complainants allege that the defendants in filling orders obtained by them delivered machines and apparatus that was mechanically and electrically imperfect.

Mitchell, Hungerford & Bartlett of

New York are attorneys for the complainant and Attorney Perkins of Hartford and ex-Judge Henry Stoddard of this city are counsel for defendants. After hearing the arguments Judge Pownsend took the matter under advisement.

EDWARD WILTON SUED.

In the court of common pleas court, lvil side, J. and M. Haffen of New York were given judgment by default for $309.90 against Winnifred Matthews of Waterbury. The suit was on a note. CLARK FOUND GUILTY. Henry B. Clark, proprietor of the Derby house, Derby, was found guilty yesterday for selling liquor on Sunday, December 22, and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Studley. In the Derby court he was fined $25 and costs, but atpealed. Patrick Charters of Ansonia was put on trial yesterday upon the charge of selling beer to a minor child on February 1, 1896. The evidence in the case was given by a reporter of the Ansonia Sentinel named Quick, and the state was assisted in the prosecution by Secretary S. P. Thrasher of the Law and Order league.

Factory Temporarily. Joseph Porter, of the firm of Sperry & Barnes, was appointed by the superior court, Judge Shumway, yesterday a co-receiver for Peck Bros. & Co. The appointment was made on the application of John M. Peck and C. H. Downs, receivers for the concern, and it was made in order that all the stock-holders might be perfectly satisfied.

The court also appointed C. S. Mersick of the Merchants' bank and Robert A. Brown of the New Haven Savings bank appraisers on the stock of the company. The receivers were authorized to pay claims of the employes of the shop for a week ago Friday and Sat-urday. The concern has paid the help on Saturday but the payment was for work done up to Thursday night. On the Saturday when the receivers were appointed the wages for the remaining two days of the week were not paid. The amount is about $1,500. The shop was shut down for several days last week and the stock and fixtures are now in readiness for in-work at once, but it will be at least a month, the officers say, before they can make any statement, either to the court or to the creditors. The factory is now running again temporarily.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW STORE.

The fitting up and equipping of the new jewelry store of C. J. Monson, jr., & Co. in the remodelled and wonderfully improved Exchange building, No. 861 Chapel street, are now complete and the new firm, which will no doubt be highly popular, will open its doors for business to-morrow. It is a handsome store in all respects, as a glance inside instantly reveals. The equipment is of the most modern style and elegant, and a splendid stock of goods awaits inspection. The new firm is composed of C. J. Monson, jr., whose father was for forty years a prominent New Haven jewelry merchant and is one of our highly esteemed citizens. The son was bls partner for years, and previous to that was for years with the father in the business, as the New Haven public aware. His partner is Mr. John C. Insull, for twenty-two years most favorably known as a popular salesman with S. H. Kirby. The new firm starts off under most gratifying auspices. Their store furnishings are elegant, of The wall cases on either side are massive and with large French plate glass fronts which are movable, being raised or lowered by a touch of the hand. These splendid cases are a great feature of attraction. The lights of glass are very large, 58x78 inches, and beautiful. The counter show cases are also very elegant. There is a very rich array of solid silverware goods of the finest and latest designs. The cut glass display is very beautiful and includes Colonial styles, Princess, Persian, etc. The jewelry display is admirable and extensive, befitting a first-class store. At the left as you enter is a stylish room for the watch repairing. Jutting out from the center of the store is the diamond room, where the diamonds can be seen to the greatest advantage. In the rear is a large work room with all the partition work comparing in elegance with the other equipment of the The firm will be happy to see all their friends and the public in general

ASHES TO ASHES, Ghosts and Cremation.

(From The Urn.) Superstition holds an all powerful sway over a large part of the human race, and ghosts, uncanny apparitions, are regarded as realities, especially by children and those who never die-the fools. The country people take especially good care that the belief in ghosts shall not vanish. They tell of the appearance of the dead, and even the most courageous are frightened at the moon. Although we may laugh at this

The bright and cheerful columbarium, with its urns open to view, is materially opposed to the churchyard. There is nothing to mystify us in the columbarium, nothing dark, nothing sinister. Those poor ashes, do, indeed, speak to us of the shortness of life, but not accompanied with those horrors which are associated with decomposition in the grave. We may imagine hundreds of thousands of urns around us, containing the last unchanged and unchangeable vestige of our departed friends; these artistic vessels can no be made to force horrid apparitions upon our imagination. Even the most ignorant understands that fire is most purifying, and it will not be difficult to create the belief that everything wicked has been destroyed by the cleansing Superstitious persons are able to imagine an apparition of a horrid skeleton half clothed in flesh, shrouded in a tattered, molding cloth, because this corresponds with the actual state and appearance of the body in the But it is impossible to conjure up such an apparition from the little heap of ashes caused by fire.-Brooklyn Eagle, from Flamme.

Two Small Fires.

Two sheds in the rear of 40 Dow street were destroyed by fire yesterday They were filled with rags owned by Harry Rosenstein and in one was kept a horse, some hay and grain. The horse was saved. The entire loss is said to be about $700 and there was $400 insurance on it.

The alarm which was sent in from box 45 at 11:33 was due to a fire in a pile of rubbish in the rear of 154 St. John street. The property on which the fire was belongs to John Dorman and there was no damage.

C. J. METZGER'S WILL.

The will of the late C. J. Metzger was admitted to probate yesterday morning by Judge Cleaveland, and ex-Alderman M. Sonnenberg was appointed executor. When the will was proven it was testified that it was executed in 1890 an hour previous to the performance of an operation known as laparotomy. At the operation Mr. Metzger took no aumahogany and rosewood throughout, esthetics to relieve the pain. This point was brought out to indicate his strength of mind. The property is disposed of among the members of the National economy.

There's room for a little more of it. Too many women are wasting time and strength over a wash-board; rubbing their clothes to pieces; wasting their money. You'd be astonished if you could figure up the actual money saving in a year by the use of Pearline. Millions THE of women are using it now, but just suppose that all women were equally careful and thrifty, and that every one used Pearline! It's too much to hope for-but the whole country would be the richer for it.

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as it Back Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

PEERLESS REJANE.

Queen of Tragedy and Captivator of Hearts. As Madam Sans Gene, Her Work Was a Revelation,

The Americans Saw Her in Her Latest Play.

To-day, as ever, the pulse of the American people beats warm and fast at the approach of genius, whether it be native or foreign born. Nowhere, perhaps, is this fact more particularly in evidence than with regard to the stage. Year after year we see it exemplified, sometimes in the case of our own, as for example, the renowned comedian, Joseph Jefferson, or Denman Thompson, or Fanny Davenport, but more often, it would seem, in the case of the foreign, or European stars. Last year came Rejane, the queen of tragedy, fresh from her dramatic triumphs in Paris, in London and on the continent. It was her first visit to America, in search of American honors and American dollars, and her stay, though short, proved a rare and delightful treat for the American public. Unfortunately for her, our American climate dealt harshly by the prima donna, and the wear and tear of her professional duties, added to the climatic change, made Madam Rejane a rather easy subject for the grip.

Like many another sufferer from this same disease, the great French actress tried various remedies, and submitted to all sorts of advice, until finally, when nearly exhausted, she was induced to try the genuine JOHANN HOPF'S MALT EXTRACT. The result was a complete and almost immediate cure. Now she writes regarding it as follows: "The genuine JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT has restored me wonderfully from the effects of the grip. It is an admirable tonic and appetizer when used with the meals.

I have used it constantly in Paris. Ask for and be sure you get the JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT. Avoid all imitations.

Tolstol's hands are large and rough, like those of a laborer, and do not look as if they were ever used for writing. A recent visitor from Vienna found him living and working in a room provided with only the most necessary furniture, and without anything to adorn the walls. He was revising the proofs of a new book, and expressed his pleasure that the censor had at last allowed the performance of his play, "The Power of Darkness." He is living at present at Moscow, but expressed his conviction that country life was better for both body and soul than city life.

A scientist has lately been amusing himself with the result that he has obtained thirty photographs of a drop of mercury during its fall of three inches to a glass plate. When the drop strikes the plate minute rays are shot out from it in regularity in all directions. From the ends of these rays drops of liquid split off. The liquid subsides in the center, forming a hollow, the surrounding ring dividing so as to join the rays in pairs. Then the whole contracts, the which breaks and falls. The greater the height from which the liquid is dropped the more beautiful is the final dome or column.

In spite of enormous expanditures every year for new ships, Great Britain is steadily and even rapidly paying off its public debt. In 1817, at the close of the French war, the total debt was $4,433,360,185, and since that date various wars have caused additional indebtedness amounting to $1,834,933,765, making a grand total of $6,267,393,950. At pressent, however, the debt is only $3,273,-948,519, showing a reduction since 1817 of $2,993,445,440, or nearly $38,000,000 a year. Before the great increase of naval expenditures was decided upon it was reckoned that this year would see the debt diminished by about $65 --600,000, and in any event it will be diminished by at least $25,000,000.

In the researches he made while gathering facts for his book on colonial furniture the late Dr. Lyon came across a curious legend about the introduction of mahogany into England. It seems that a Dr. Gibbon, who was a London physician early in the seventeenth century, had some mahogany planks imported from the West Indies with the idea of grinding them up for use as a substitute for Peruvian bark, which was just gaining vogue as a medicine, Finding the wood unserviceable as medicine, he had a cabinet-maker construct a box of one of the planks, and the beautiful grain of the wood pleased him so that he had a bureau made of the same material. All London flocked to see it, and the wood came into immediate use among furniture-makers.

A Chinese Young Men's Christian as sociation will soon be formed in Pittsburg, through the labors of Amen Jung Kin Chun, an intelligent Christian Chinaman. > Mining prospectors say that while a enowledge of mineralogy is a first necesuity for a man starting out to hunt for the precious ores, yet the richest finds are often made by the rankest tenderfoot. It is well illustrated in a recent rich find near Salt Lake City, Utah, Willard Welhe, a violin soloist in the Tabernacle, was walking in City Creek Canon, on the outskirts of the city, when he kicked aside some rock that struck him as being unusual in appearance. Out of pure curlosity he carried a piece of the rock back to town and had it assayed. It showed $500 in gold and $40 in silver to the ton. Weihe was so much surprised he almost fainted. Then when he recovered he hurried back to where he found the rock, without mentioning the matter to any one, and staked out a large number of claims for himself and friends. Now a considerable camp has sprung up, and Welhe's chance strike.

Mr. | Another successor to the pouch front Brown has said some careless things is the boxshape. The new box front is for a preacher who was supposed to be an orthodox Congregationalist. If he said the things he was said to have said he went farther in some respects than even Judge Baldwin did in his astonishing address. Against the evidence that he did say them there were statements by some who were present when he was said to have said them that they did not hear them. And there was no evidence that they were "asleep some denials.

The council will meet to-day to decide, or try to decide, Mr. Brown's fate. They have a curious and a complicated task before them. We do not think it probable that an order will be made that Mr. Brown be burned at the stake on New Haven Green, and it even looks of heresy enough to disqualify him from being a Congregational preacher any more. It may be that he will come out of the trial with just enough heresy sticking to him to make him popular and secure for him a call to a wider field of usefulness and a larger salary.

SOME SOUND DOCTRINE.

Captain John J. Esch, chairman of the Wisconsin State Republican convention, has a foreign name, but he evfollows: We favor the use of both the shoulder and fits about the chest. gridiron, four hundred and sixty feet will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals. We onfree coinage by the United States alone at the ratio of 16 to 1 amounts to repudiation; that the parity now existing between the metals would be destroyed and our people would be compelled to receive 50-cent dollars for their labor and produce and be asked to "Trust in God" for the balance. In behalf of our vast foreign-born population, which has brought over with it sound ideas of honest money, in behalf of all classes of our state and nation, in behalf of our present and future prosperity, let us ask of the delegates we shall this day select that they give us an honest money candidate upon an honest money

That was good talk. It is our earnest hope that when the Connecticut Republican convention comes together its chairman will have something like that to say and that the whole convention will back him up.

A FINE LIGHT. A notable and very beautiful system of electric illumination has been installed in a London bank. This system is the first application of the reflection of the light of the incandescent lamps from the ceiling, and the effect of the light so used is of a chastened radiancy that must be seen to be realized. This system was introduced as a compromise. Some of the bank officials objected to the brightness of the ordinary are lamps, and found even the usual somewhat disturbing to their quiet and conservative tastes. The architect of lamp is used in this country in many new factories-viz., by throwing the ed ceiling, and so filling the apartment with diffused light. The novel application has proved most successful. The complete. the clerks in the bank is lightened by this method of illumination is extraordinary. The fittings, which have been specially designed, are pendent dishes of bronze. They are classic in design, and correspond with the architecture of the bank. The inside of the dishes, which is made reflecting by a coating of tin, contains three twenty-five candle power lamps. These dish-fittings are suspended by two square bronze tubes six feet in length. The dish is fitted on pins, so that it can be tilted over and kept in order from the floor of the bank. The attendant has a long light rod, with hooked end, and by simply pulling the dish down on one side he can dust the lamps and the inside of the dish with a feather brush. In the bank no lamps are visible, and the effect on entering, of an atmosphere of light, gives a sense of repose and comfort.

The Moors called it the Maiden would come to an end. The belief was justified by the event, for Kal-al-Hamrah, the Red Castle, was the last Moorish stronghold to surrender to the Spankards, it being given up the year before the discovery of America, and the eight centuries of constant war between the Moors and the Spaniards were brought to a close. The dainty tress was the work of Ibn-el-Ahmar, and was inspired by his love for his wife. Teleika was her name, some say baye aux Femmes, now the Church of appellations, so she have had more in history as the burial place of the names than one, but, no matter what was her name, she found life in the great fortress rather dull, and, to please her, Ibn-el-Ahmar began the elegant palace as a home for her and a business and the fatigues of war. Philip II., when that redoubtable monarch stood with his army in front of the French array at St. Quentin, on August 10, 1857, the French force was so imposing that the majesty of Spain felt the necessity of a little assistance. On consulting his confessor, he found that the day was the feast of St. Lawrence, and at once registered a vow that if victory perched on the Spanish banners he would build in honor of St. Lawrence the most splendid monastery in the world. What assistance was rendered by St. Lawrence the records do not state, but the Spaniards won the day, and Philip at once began preparations to fulfill his vow. NEW HAVEN BASEBALLTEAM

OPENS ITS SOUTHERN TRIP PRO-GRAM TO-DAY.

A Game With the Norfolk, Va., Team-They Are Booked for Fourteen Exhibition Games Before Their Return-Will Play Strong Teams-To Return Home April 13.

The New Haven baseball team opens the southern trip to-day with a game at Norfolk, Va., with the team of that city. Before returning home the 'Steers" will have played some fourteen or fifteen exhibition games, which should be considerable towards putting the men in first class condition.

All the games in the south are played with the strongest representatives of the Southern, Pennsylvania and National leagues and their results will be watched with great interest in this city. Many of the southern teams have had several weeks' practice and if the "Steers" should meet with defeat at their hands it should not be judged as a criterion of the work they will do in the championship games. Arrangements are being made to give the "Steers" a rousing reception when they arrive home on April 12. The reported interview in yesteolay's New York Journal with President Freedman of the New York club, wheren he is quoted as says "that if the Atlantic league falls to agree to allow the Jersey City club to play its championship games at the Polo grounds he will put two teams in New Haven and Hartford and charge only ten cents admission to the games," should be put down as either an incorrectly reported statement or a mere bluff on the part of the New York magnate. In the first place the New Haven club is under national protection, and such action on Mr. Freedman's part would oust him from the National league. In In this preparation are the second place he could not find public to patronize the game even at In either way Mr. Freedman would be

A DECISION NOT REACHED Brown.

(Continued from First Page.) the charges or that those on which no evidence was given be withdrawn in justice to the one against whom the charges were made. This was, how-ever, overfuled, and the third charge was allowed to stand with no evidence being given to substantlate it. Mr. Brown then presented his case and his argument, reading from a manuserlot and occupied two hours in presenting his defense. He stated that a sermon was a unity and should be judged as such, not by a few discon-nected sentences. He read accordingly copious extracts from his old sermons showing that many of the alleged heretical sayings which had been attributed to him by witnesses for the opposition had been misinterpreted.

At the conclusion of the reading of Mr. Brown's paper Dr. Smyth asked that evidence be submitted bearing on the effect of the ministry of Mr. Brown on the people of Madison. In order to do this the case of the minority was reopened and Pat k Scranton was called to the stand again. He said that when Mr. Brown first came to Madison he was pleased with him, but after Mr. Brown had been there about three months his impression was that the preaching was "pulling down, and not building up" and that he knew of other young people who had been impressed in the same way. Here Mr. Brown asked for the names of some of the young people who were disaffected. Mr. Scranton gave his own name and those of Samuel Day and Walter Wilcox, and was about to give more when Dr. Scranton suddenly jumped up and said. "I don't want my son to mention names. It will get him into trouble with his friends."

Mr. Brown said he doubted the testimony, but very magnanimously waived the point of insisting on names being given although he was sustained by the Young Mr. Scranton continuing said that he had studied the writings of D. S. Moody, Spurgeon and other accepted orthodox writers, and the result of Mr. Brown's preaching had been "to make me throw over the whole thing and disbelieve what I have been always taught to believe."

Professor Brastow said, "Specify some of the points on which Mr. Brown differe from Mr. Moody and Mr. Spur-"Moody and Spurgeon regard the Bible as true and Mr. Brown regards it as unsound. Rev. Mr. Countryman asked, "Is there any one in the community whose faith has been undermined by Mr. Brown's teachings." ·No. Mr. Moore was agrain called up and said that in almost every sermon by Mr. Brown he had heard something uttered which affected him so that instead of carrying away some great truth he went away disturbed in mind. He also said that he knew of fifty persons who had been dissatisfied with Mr. Brown's preaching.

Judge Baldwin asked, "Has your theological faith been shaken?" No, sir; it is too strongly grounded."

Where did you receive your theological education?" . 'At Andover." Mr. Wilcox was next called and said that he had never come so near being shaken in his faith as he had under Mr. Brown's teaching. In every sermon he heard something to disturb him. Mr. Marsh said that the impression which Mr. Brown's teaching produced on him was one of aggravation; that his preaching was negative, each negative implying a positive. Miss Buell said that she was sure that if she had not already become a Christian before Mr. Brown came to Madison she was sure that she would not have done so afterwards.

Dr. Smyth asked, "Has your faith ever been shaken by magazine articles books on theology?"
"No. I never have read any."

It was also stated by a witness for the minority that when Mr. Brown came to the church there were about a dozen members opposed to him, and after he was settled he began to preach something obnexious every Sunday, so that the dozen grew to sixty.

Professor Brastow asked, "Are those

Bixty persons attending church now?" "No; they refused to take pews this

"Are any of them attending Sunday school?"

"A very small proportion."
At this point Mr. Blake said: "There is even honor among thieves, and I hope the young friends of Mr. Scranton will not be angry with him for mentioning names as requested by the coun-

Witnesses for the defense were then called, the first one being Deacon Frederick L. Coe, who said he spoke as a representative of the majority in the church and said he could hardly express the kindness, sympathy and feeling of the church and community for Mr. Brown. The church had not for years been so united as it is at present. Continuing, Mr. Coe said: "All but six months of my life has been spent in Madison, and lately I have called at ninety homes of different members of this church, at none of which do I find any real good cause for this feel-

Several say, not what Mr. Brown has said, but what others have told that he has said. All the trouble has been caused by quotations from the sermon with a different meaning from what the author meant." Mr. Coe then produced a statement signed by 157 members of the church, one by 43 members of the ecclesiastical society, and one by 128 members of the parish and congregation, each paper expressing sympathy with Mr. Brown's teachings and the good will of the signers to-wards him. Continuing, he said: "The attendance at the meeting of the church during the last year has been larger than in any preceding year. During in the past year it has increased fully one-fourth. The church has given more for foreign missions during the last year than during any other year in the last twenty years. There seems to be a deeper spiritual interest than in many years. I believe that Christ and the Bible are more now to the people than ever before. I never knew much about Christ until Mr. Brown came here. Fifteen persons will unite with the church on the first Sunday of April, and all come with a full surrender to Christ. very evident that Mr. Brown's preaching has hit someone. It has hit me, and showed me what it is to be a member of the church and a follower member of the church and a follower its expression in Jesus Christ. I believe of Jesus Christ. The impression Mr. Jesus Christ came to establish a reign a message from God." The council then adjourned for dinner after Mr. James had announced that Professor Brastow, Rev. Mr. Diba committee to consider documentary evidence.

sage from God and because some refuse

The council was called to order again at 2:15 p. m. and evidence as to the effect of Mr. Brown's preaching on the church was continued.

S. R. Crampton, a former Sunday school superintendent, was called up and said that he was the oldest regular member of the school living. He said that he believed, since the first sermon Mr. Brown preached, the church society and the community have been strengthened month by month. He did not believe that the church ever stood more firmly than it does at present, more willing or more able to back up the pastor, who is a talented, fearless, outspoken minister, whom the parishioners prized very highly. He then quoted statistics to show that the church is growing in prosperity rapidly, and said that the young men of the town never realized what a Sunday school was until Mr. Brown came. The congregation has been increased by a class of people very desirable to get. Twenty-six men with familles are among the number of new members.

Dr. Scranton said that the church did not pay expenses last year and that there is a deficit this year.

Nathan Bushnell, secretary of the so clety's committee, said in this connection that he has charge of the finances and could state positively that the expenses were paid last year and that there is no deficit this year.

Various witnesses were called for the defense, and each one stated that they had heard Mr. Brown atter none of the heretical utterances ascribed to

In conclusion Mr. Brown said that no conference with him had either been asked or suggested by a committee of the minority. The first he knew about It was that the committee had waited on one of his deacons to see if the church would unite with the minority in calling a meeting of the council. Mi Brown said, however, that he had sought a conference with the disaffected ones to settle all differences. Blake here asked Mr. Brown if he accepted the fifth article of the creed of 1883 to which Mr. Brown answered, "Yes, as I interpret it. I don't allow e else to interpret it to me." Blake said in conclusion that more than the church of Madison was on trial. It went further than the church of Madison, and so far as his conduct was concerned he had endeavored to have perfeet fairnes on each side.

The moderator then asked if there was any more evidence to introduce. Rev. Mr. Blake said that he had none to put forth, and at the request of the moderator everybody in the church who was not a member of the council with-This was about $:45. The church people filled the spacious entry and the approaches to the building. The Brownites and anti-Brownites collected in distinct groups and continued to discuss the matter while awaiting the expected announcement of the council's findings. Rev. Mr. Brown himself moved about amid the people smilingly and evidently did not fear for the resurt. He received many kind words of encouragement from his supporters. The temperature was growing colder rapidly, and many of the women folk remained in the entry shivering until they had been thoroughly chilled. Frequent remarks were heard that it would be lucky if nobody was taken down with pneumo nia as a result of the exposure. About one-third of the whole number who issued fro mthe church at the initiation of the secret session of the council remained to the end. It was generally conceded that the council would not be more than a quarter of an hour in arriving at some decision.

While waiting to hear the result the senior decaon of the church, who is among the opponents of Mr. Brown, but is not as fervent as some others, said that he believed that the church will recover from the effects of the rupture. If Mr. Brown is retained many of those who have appeared against him will withdraw entirely from the church and on the other hand if he is dismissed the pastor's supporters will seek some redress and probably withdraw. A member of the council said after the late adjournment that tomorrow resolutions would be intro-duced for the action of the council. These will be drawn up by Rev. Newman Smyth, Professor Brastow and

Rev. S. W. Banks. The defense of Mr. Brown was a mas-terpiece in the line of legal documents. He said: "The members of the council, as I begin the defense I think a few introductory words are necessary in explanation of my teachings. one can feel more keen than I, the re-sponsibilities of a Christian teacher, and if the prosecution shall show that I have violated that trust I shall abide by their decision, but if on the contrary it seems just that I shall not be convicted of the charges preferred against me, it should be understood that the matter is equally serious for those who preferred them. They have heralded me far and near as an agnostic, and a teacher of modern heathanism. The burden of this case rests with the prosecution, as a pastor admitted by this some council, I am entitled to its consideration. I take noth-had but one thing to preach and that is Christ. I never ask men to accept the person and not the theory. I assume that the author of being is su preme. He is the eternal word, and there is no other. I hold that the gospel of Jesus is the only key and one criterion. One quotation from my sermon was copied. A few of them are taken only in part, and other are gross ly inaccurate. I said that I believed the redemption is God's initiative. I believe that the love of God has found of truth and love. I believe that Jesus sage from God and because some refuse Christ is as ever in the world." Here to accept it it is no sign that it is not Mr. Brown was questioned by the counsel, and said he had distinctly repudi-ated some of the sayings credited to him, and read a long list of propositions which he said there was no time bit and Rev. Mr. Bank would compose to unfold. He said the sacrifice of Jesus was God's self-sacrifice. He said these words were used by Dr. Harris to me not less than a month ago. I reject any theory that Christ and God are not different, but I insist that they are one I insist that the mind of Christ is the mind of God. Mr. Brown then denied the statement credited to him that Christ did not die for our sins. Later on Mr. Brown said in answer to a question whether he meant that to accept Christ a man must accept His teachings "No, sir, a man who accepts Christ does not accept Him as his teacher and I mean something vastly more, mean the assimulation of Christ and the soul. Referring to his sermon of December 14, in which he treated o the atonement, he said he took for his text Matthew 10, 24 and 25, and objected to the fragmentary evidence Treating the pardon of sins, he said: 'Forgiveness means to my mind, the forgiveness of sin as a disease is healed." Later "Christ is only an interpretation of the Old Testament." refutation of the evidence introduced that on the Sunday before Christmas, 1895, he had stated that the birth of Christ was not miraculous he made total denial. He said a professor in eminary believes that the coming o the Holy Ghost of Christ at His birth was the fulfillment of the incarnation. I have never heard any Evangelica church, Congregational or otherwisthat has solved the mystery of incar nation. I have preached nothing but the incarnation from this pulpit; even the diety of Christ.

At 6:10 o'clock last night Rev. W. G Lathrop of Stony Creek, a member o the council which is trying Rev. Wil liam T. Brown for heresy, came into the entry of the church, where a large crowd was anxiously awaiting the decision of the council, and informed those waiting that no decision would be reached last night. The tribunal adjourned at 6:45, so that the member: could catch the 6:52 train out of Madi

To-day the council will meet again a noon, will dine, and it is expected that by 2 o'clock a decision in the case will be reached.

The afternoon session lasted four full hours. It was much longer than any of the council had expected, and many the divines turned their eyes in despair from the clock on the rear of the church when it became evident to them that they could not take the 4:08 train east Moderator Rev. D. M. James closed the time for hearing testimony at 3:10, and many thought that the council would be but a short time in reaching a decision. The hope, however, vanished when at the urgent request of the opposition Mr. Brown consented to allow the case to be reopened for the introduction of testimony which had been prepared by his "critics," but had not been brought forward earlier in the day, as the moderator and counsel for the defense thought it had no bearing on the questions which were before the council in the earlier part of the day. The final closing of all testimony took place at 3:45. The members of the council were becoming restless and it was evident on the face all all that they were anx ious to have the matter over with.

During the afternoon the anti-Brownites, as they were styled by witnesses for the defense, made their case some what stronger, but at times their statements caused a wave of laughter from one end of the church to the other, but especially in the galleries, where the young people of the congregation had taken places. These outbursts on the part of the audience were sternly rebuked by the moderator, and upon their repetition Rev. Mr. Blake arose and exclaimed that such outbursts of approval or disapproval must cease. He said he wanted justice for both sides and would see that his people got it. The remonstrance had the desired of

During the remainder of the day the people present at the trial contained themselves, although at times some had difficulty in crowding down the smile ocasioned by the testimony introduced

Station Master S. N. Edmonds has been connected with the Consolidated Railroad company as agent at this station for forty years, and has asked of the company that he be relieved of all esponsibility of the office. Superintendent Davidson was in town vesterday morning and stated that Mr. Edmonds request had been granted, but that he would still remain in the employ of the company. Superintendent Davidson's letter states

"In granting your request to be relieved from active duty as agent, the officers of the company recognize and appreciate the long, faithful and stricty honest service that you have rendered. Personally, I look upon the change as a record for meritorious service." Mr. Davidson gave to Mr. Edmonds the following card:

"W. L. Parr, now chief clerk, will receive the appointment of agent. He is familiar with the business of the station, and it is safe to state that the appointment will meet with the approval of the patrons of the road." Services at St. Paul's church at ten

BACK FROM THE SOUTH.

Mr. Edward Malley Returns from a Pleasaut Tour Through South Carolina-Some

Mr. Edward Malley, who has been south since the forepart of January, returned home last Sunday and has had another most enjoyable trip to the southland. He left New York in company with Mr. Buckingham Lockwood of South Norwalk on the 13th of January and stopped at Lowrysville, S. C., where Mr. Lockwood had permission to shoot on the private grounds of Mr. J. H. Wilson, one of the largest planters of that part of the United States and a great sportsman.

They remained there about a week, their best day's shooting being thirty-eight quail. During their stay they were very hospitably entertained by

Mr. Wilson. Mr. Malley left Mr. Lockwood there and went on to McConnellsville, about six miles from Lowrysville, where he was most cordially welcomed and entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brat-

From there he went to the Catawba stock farm, owned by Mr. A. B. Ferguson, and was Mr. Ferguson's guest for a little over a month. It was his fifth visit to the farm, and and interesting spot.

The farm covers fully 1,000 acres, the principle productions being cotton, corn, oats and wheat. The host and Mr. Malley bagged thirty quall on one of their hunting excursions. Mr. Malley also shot several wild geese. Mr. Ferguson was a guest of Mr. Malley's here last November, and was much pleased with New Haven and its vicinity. From the farm Mr. Malley went to Georgetown, S. C., and had some ex-cellent snipe and duck shooting. He stopped at the Winyah Inn, kept by Mr. J. B. Butler, and was also a guest of Mr. W. O. Burke, a prominent wholesale grocer of that place. He also met several of his friends whom he had met on former visits. A big canal is in progress of construction at Georgetown, which will connect Georgetown with Camden. It is fully fifty miles through the swamps. Mr. Reld Whiteford, United States assistant engineer, whom Mr. Malley has known for several years and who is superintending the work on the canal, made Mr. Malley's stay very pleasant, and Mr. Malley had many pleasant sails on the government launch while going about shooting.

From Georgetown he went up to Annuldale, about twelve miles from Georgetown, on the launch and was the guest of Captain Miles Hazzard, who has a fine residence there. Mr. Malley had two days of fine snipe shooting there, bagging fifty in a few hours. Mr. Alden James, an assistant to Mr. Whitford, accompanied him.

Last February it was nothing for four guns to bag from two to three hundred ducks in a day in the grounds of Captain Hazzard. There was an abundance of wild turkey and wood-

From Annuldale Mr. Malley went to Georgetown, where through the ourtesy of Mr. Whitford he was invited to General A. P. Alexander's shooting lodge. The general gained a good deal of distinction in the Confederate army Mr. Malley was royally entertained there and had some fine opportunities to show his skill in duck shooting.

It was near there on Annuldale grounds that President Cleveland had his duck shooting in the winter of '95. President Cleveland was invited to come to the general's last February, but did not get there owing to official business. The general had had a shooting blind built especially for the president, and Mr. Malley occupied this and bagged about twenty-one ducks in three hours. Mr lames was assigned to another blind. and he also enjoyed the sport, while the general was off snipe shooting.

The general's land about the house looked like fairy land with the palms and tropleal plants growing wild in great profusion. He owns both North and South islands, which cover fully 20,000 acres, comprising rice lands and shooting grounds. The last shot Mr. Malley had was at the 3,000 acre plantation of Messrs. Ford and Ward at Bear hill, about fifteen miles from George Mr. James accompanied him. SPRING DISPLAY.

Features of Malley, Neely & Co.'s Grand The annual spring opening of Malley, Neely & Co. began yesterday and will continue to-day. The store was filled all day yesterday and last evening Souvenir bargains are found in all departments. The principal attractions are in the dress good and the millinery departments. They are showing most beautiful lines of spring hats and bonnets. The styles displayed include all the latest artistic designs. Two of the most beautiful in designs and trim-mings are named Louis the Fifteenth and Marlborough. Satin straws are also shown in beautiful designs. Here also is to be found a full line of turbans, toques, sailors' and large hats. They have a full and complete line of tailor-made suits which are to be the rage this season. The separate silk waists are also shown in great variety. In the dress goods department they are showing a full line of mohair suitings and many French effects. English check suitings, in which black and white were the dominant colors, attract much attention. The silk department also has many novelties. Chiffor with red applique lace, serpentine, acordion chiffon, the last being a new thing in this city.

In the carpet department many new pring goods are displayed. They show a full line of Wiltons in olive bronze and gold. One superb specimen has a rich deep olive ground with delicate bronze leaf figures and single chrysanthemums wide open.

A full line of mattings is also shown The opening will continue to-day.

NEWS JOTTINGS.

A Washington dispatch yesterday says: William H. Webster of Connecticut, chief examiner of the civil service commission, died suddenly at his home in this city last evening of heart disease. He was born at Burlington. Conn., in 1839. He served in the Fifth Connecticut Volunteers during the war until compelled by disabilities to with-draw from active duties in the field. He subsequently rendered efficient services as provost marshal in Louisiana, and resigned with the rank of captain and brevet major. He leaves a wife and daughter. The latter, Mrs. Georgia Mowry, resides in Charleston, S. C. Edward and George McNally, aged wenty-three and seventeen respectively, living at Washington Depot, were owned in the freshet at Sawmill brook last Thursday night. One of the bodies was found yesterday afternoon. Homa senate, K. A. E. O., will hold

44th Anniversary

Yes it's just 44 years since our first "opening," and each year we've celebrated the event by a series of Souvenir bargains.

Time has sanctioned the custom and popular response has proven its wisdom.

Forty-four years of merchandizing in one city means something.

It wouldn't mean so much to you if the stock wasn't nearly 44 times as large as when the store was started.

That it has thus grown, and thriven, and expanded, has been owing to your patronage, which in turn was due to the values given and superior capacity for supply-
