TUSKEGEE STUDENTS WARMLY WELCOMED IN THIS CITY.

Churches Open Their Doors to Receive Them-Needs of Booker T. Washington's School Strongly Stated-Negro Education a National Benefit-Interesting Services Yesterday.

The students of the Tuskegee institute met with a warm welcome from the various churches of the city yesterday. Several churches were opened for them to hold meetings in, and in all cases the audiences were large and contributions generous, testifying to the hearty approval which the people of New Haven feel for President Booker T. Washington's method of helping the colored people of the black belt by assisting them to help themselves.

The persons representing the institute are the assistant principal of the institute, Mr. Thomas J. Calloway, and his wife, and four students from the school -two young men and two young wo-

The students wore the neat blue uniform of the institute and created a very favorable impression at the meetings by the plain, simple statement of their stories and the beautiful rendering of the rich negro melodies.

HUMPHREY STREET CHURCH. Two meetings were held in the morning, both well attended and interesting, one at 10:30 at Davenport Congregational church and another at 11:15 at the Humphrey street Congregational

At the latter church the meeting was commenced by singing of "America" by the audience and "Ring Down His Name," rendered by the institute quin-

I was taken in, but as the painting department was full at that time I was kept at shoveling clay in the brickyard, and later I was employed around the sawmill, where I learned how to do the various kinds of work about the mill. Later I was taken into the painting department and there after two years I was enabled to earn enough to pay my own expenses in the school." The quintet sang "God Knows I Ain't Ashamed," after which Mr. Calloway gave the following brief summary of the work of the institute:

The institute founded by President Booker T. Washington, which we are here to represent, is situated in Alabama in what is known as the black belt. It is called the 'black belt' not because the soil there is darker than elsewhere, but because of the vast preponderance of the black over the white population whites three or four to one and sometimes as many as nine to one. It is possible for one to ride a whole day in ne places and not see a single white man, French, Cochran, McCutchen, which of course makes a white man feel rather lonesome.

"Several years ago a man partly black came into one of the communities of the 'black belt' and asked for a situation as butter maker. The white people were inclined to question his color rather than his ability to make butter, but finally decided to give him a

"The first butter sent by him to the New York market brought one cent a pound more than any butter ever before marketed from that community and immediately the butter-maker's skin began to grow white in the eyes of his employers, and when the second batch of butter brought two cents a pound more than any before marketed, he became almost a white man. "That colored man increased the productive power of that community to the extent of making their butter worth two cents a pound more than it had ever brought before. What his colored man did for that community is what the Tuskegee institute is trying to do for the 'black belt.'

"It is a training school where the colored people, but lately freed from slavery, may learn to help themselves. As far as I know there is no doubt in the minds of Christians as to what agree that they should be educated. There are two ways in which they can scholarships, and by helping them to help themselves. This is in accordance with the resolution passed last week by the court of common council, asking the legislature to allow the money to be used for this purpose. Several other matters of importance will be acted upon.

Acting Superintendent of Police Wrinn and the captains of the several precincts held a conference yesterday afternoon. The session was held behind closed doors. The talk was upon the condition of the department and how to raise the standard of efficiency among the men.

Superintendent Wrinn informed his subordinates that the commissioners expected of him and of them a good acount of the trust imposed upon them. This morning the various captains will instruct the patrolmen in accordance with the result of the conference.

THE BUSINESS CARNIVAL

HOW WESTERN MERCHANTS BUILD THEIR INTERESTS.

The Good Turn Mrs. O'Leary's Cow Did for Chicago-The Taikative Barber and the Poet Woman's Opinion of New

"You see that building going up over there?" said the talkative Chicago barber. "Well, that is to be twenty-seven stories high, finished and occupied by November first: just three months from the digging of the foundation. Now in New York it would take them a year to complete that job."

The barber continued to blow, but when I was free from the keen razor's edge, I got a word in edgewise by askng him wher he was born.

"New Haven Conn." said he "a dead slow town."

On my return from the fair an elderly lady who occupied a seat in front of me kept up a running fire about the greatness and go-ahead-ltiveness of the

"Pardon me, madam," said I as she stopped to catch her breath, "may I ask where you were born?"

"In New Haven, Conn., where I am on my way now, to visit some mossgrown reltaives."

That is the way these westerners talk about the people of the east, notwithstanding that Connecticut owned the whole state of Ohio at one time, and s now "teaching the young idea to shoot" with the money recieved for that goodly territory.

Yes, the people of the east settled the great Northwestern Reserve, which is the only place in this country that has nore divorces than England.

It is all very well to dub Chicago and their blowing has amounted to some-Chicago's motto, "I will," won for her the greatest fair the sun ever shone upon. At the inception of the great undertaking Chicago provided $10,000,-000. Thirty-two states voted $3,446,000 to assist the carrying out of the stupenlous work. Her business men realized 8 per cent, on the $5,000,000 subscribed by them.

On the evening of October 8, 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern in the little stable on De Koven street, Chicago, and started a fire which in six hours and a half traveled five miles, destroying $192,000,000 worth of property and rendering homeless 100,000 While the embers were still smouldering, business men who had never handled anything heavier in business than a pen were at work with their coats off wheeling barrow loads of debris away, making way for the rebuilding of a greater city.

That is the western pluck of to-day. Now the very same principle which rebuilt Chicago and carried through the mammoth fair is the principle which, if acted upon by the merchants of New Haven in carrying out the coming business carnival, will produce

The principle is enthusiastic energy and the spending of some money. The amount subscribed to date to carry on a three days' business carnival is less than $1,500.

The committee, it would seem, wants at least $3,000 to prove the Chicago barber and the talkative woman wrong. It does seem that the several millions of dollars worth of store property on Chapel and contiguous streets, the banks and the great manufacturing interests of the city are interested in this' Merchants' carnival sufficiently to sub scribe generously to the fund.

was that it be not altogether an occasion of gain-getting, but also a demonstration of New Haven as a great and profitable center for supplying the Easter Even. nceds of the vast population in and about it.

The merchants ought, by their energy on those three days to prove to that contingent local population which spend large sums in the New York stores, that whatever can be purchased here, all things equal, ought to be purcased right in New Haven.

Business carnivals are not experiments in the west. Almost every western city conducts them, not once a year, but several times a year. The people look forward to them with pleasure. Free trains, paid for by the ment of the people and the excursionists divide their time between shopping and pleasure seekers. Let the New Haven merchants sow liberally and they will reap liberally.

Let them at least be as alert for a big bargain as were their forefathers, who purchased Quinniplac and ye surrounding country from the Indians for "twelve coats of Elgish cloth, twelve Alleghany spoons, twelve hatchets, twelve hoes, twelve porringers, and an ssorted lot of knives and seissor. Grand Warden's Official Order for the Convocation of the Grand lodge at Hartford on Wednesday Next. Grand Warden Lucius P. Deming has called the annual session of the grand lodge of the New England Order of Protection at Hartford on Wednesday of this week. The meeting promises to be the best attended of any ever held in this state. Great interest is manifested in this gathering of the grand lodge members, as the present grand warden, who has held this position for the last six years, has signified his intention of not accepting the position for another term. It is altogether probable that Judge Deming will be elected to the position of supreme warden at the supreme lodge session in Boston next month.

The present grand vice warden, J. B. Weiant of New Britain, will not proba-bly be elected to fill the position of grand warden, while the position of grand vice warden will most probably be filled by Past Warden Jonathan W. Chaple of Charter Oak lodge of this

ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY EVEN-ING

Last Friday evening the Knights of Pythias hall in the Courier building was thronged with members and guests the occasion being an open meeting and entertainment given by Washington camp No. 1, Patriotic Order Sons of America. The entertainment was a most interesting and enjoyable one, music and literary exercises contributing to the pleasure of the evening. An address was made by the state president of the order, C. A. Johnson of New Britain, and also addresses by State Vice President Ben Bretzfelder of Camp No. 4, and State Secretary H. H. Hayden. Two recitations by Miss May Hayes of West Haven were most charmingly rendered and elicited hearty applause. Mr. William Hall gave some fine selections on the accordion. During the evening ice cream was served. The affair was a decided success and will be long remembered by those who were present.

You some-times hear men telling with foolish conceit of how hard they overwork and that they neglect their health in the pursuit of mon-ey. There are thousands of men who admit better things men who admit these things with a sort of pride, and slap themselves on the chest and laugh at the idea they will some-day regret their recklessness and neglect. They laugh at Death, but in a short while, a very short while, the laugh is on the other side. Death waits while they laugh. He who laughs last, laughs best, and in due time Death dances on the prostrate body of the laugher. There are many funny things in this world but death is not one of them. Neither is illhealth for it is one of Death's weapons and the most effective.

death is not one of them. Neither is ill-health for it is one of Death's weapons and the most effective.

When a hard-working man feels out of sorts, and has a poor appetite, and doesn't sleep well, and goes to work in the morning tired-out and heavy headed, he should take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best health-bringer and health-keeper known. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, restores the appetite and keeps it hearty and keen. It drives impurities from the blood and disease-germs from the body. It builds healthy flesh, firm muscles, steady nerves and active brain cells. It brings restful sleep and restores ambition. It cures nervous irritation, nervous exhaustion and nervous prostration. It cures 68 per cent, of all cases of consumption. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now and for thirty years past, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. V.

DR.PIERCE'S is largely a matter of health, and good health is largely a matter of health, activity of the bowels. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Cottages Being Prepared for the Summer Residents-Sanford's New Hotel -Electric Cars Soon Begin Making Hour Trips-Some Cottagers Already at the Popular Resort.

The recent warm weather has caused the owners of cottages at the various shore resorts in this vicinity to begin to think of getting in readiness their cottages for the summer sojourn. Woodmont, one of the pleasantest nooks on the sound, there are evidences of unusual activity this spring in preparing for the summer visitors, and the indications are that the season will open considerably earlier than it did a year ago. Many of the cottages are receiving touches of paint, and are being otherwise put into shape for the Cleveland S. Thompson, the insurance

Ex-Police Superintendent Treadwell Smith has already gone to his Woodmont home, and says that now that he is free from the cares and responsibilities of office he will give renewed attention to clamming and fishing.

Mr. Louis Geiger of Foster street, a member of the firm of Kissinger & Gelger, has been at Woodmont for a week with his family, during the short vacation of the schools. He will go down for the summer soon.

Mr. Sanford, who conducted the Merwin Point house last season, has erected a new hotel of modest proportions about midway between his old place and the Pembroke. The new hotel is about 200 feet from the shore, and is being finely fitted up for the summer sea-

The Pembroke will be conducted this season by the proprietors of the Westmoreland hotel in this city, who expect to make many improvements.

Now that the new chemical engine is assured, the Inhabitants of Woodmont feel more secure against fire than they have in previous years, and other permarent improvements of a like character are proposed. Some of the permanent residents are beginning to talk of having some of the streets asphalted. ge they are so dusty in summer as to actremely unpleasant.

Woodmont is growing in popularity every year, and the indications are that it will have a growing future. It has become known throughout Connecticut as a quiet residential resort. The electric cars will soon begin making trips every hour. They now run every two ours, and later in the summer, as soon as the season justifies it, they will begin running every fifteen minutes. Several of Woodmont's permanent residents are having great success in troit, on Tuesday, April 29, at high lounder-fishing just now, some five and six-pounders having been caught. Four men caught four hundred pounds of the fish in one day, not long ago, off is being entertained by Mrs. Dean Ly-

SECRETARY SALLMON TO LEAVE. W. H. Sallmon, secretary of the Yale Y. M. C. A., ended his work as teacher of the adult Bible class of the United church yesterday noon.

Mr. Sallmon has conducted the class for some time and his services have been much appreciated by the members of the class, numbered among whom are some of our prominent business

He has been delivering a course of lectures to the class recently on "St. Paul as a Missionary," which have proved very instructive and helpful. He leaves this city, where he has been pursuing post graduate work in the university, as well as performing the duties of Y. M. C. A. secretary.

WILL BE ALLOWED TO VOTE.

There is No Desire to Force the Con solidation Act Upon the People.

There is no desire on the part of any of the gentlemen interested in the passage of the amendments of the city charter to have the consolidation act adopted without the provision giving the citizens of the outlying wards having the privilege of voting on the question. That matter has been determined and no friend of either the consolidation act or the proposed amended charter will attempt to change it." These were the words of one of the most enthusiastic members of the committee of thirty yesterday morning, when asked if there was any truth in the report published in a Sunday paper to the effect that there was a plan being con-summated whereby the provision was to be stricken from the act. The charter will probably be reported some time this week. There has been some delay because of the inability of Corporation Counsel Ely and Attorney Henry C. Robinson for the Consolidated railroad, to agree upon a provision regulating the building of bridges over the Consolidated road's tracks.

DEATH OF AN UNKNOWN.

The Man Sent to the Hospital From Madison.

The "unknown" who was sent to the New Haven hospital by the selectmen of Madison on March 29, suffering from hemipligia, died yesterday morning at o'clock. The man was found along the tracks of the Shore Line road, and as there was nothing on his person to identify him he was taken to the hospital. All efforts to prove the patient's identity since he became an inmate of the hospital have proved futile. He was unable to communicate with any one by reason of his affliction. The news of the "unknown's" death was sent to the Madison selectmen yesterday morning. Unless relatives come forward and claim the remains they will be buried this afternoon in Poter's field at the expense of the town of Madison.

Poll's Wonderland Theater. Miss Pauline Hall, the beautiful queen of comic opera, will head the bill at Poli's theater this afternoon and during the week. It is her first appearance as a vaudeville star in New Haven, and her first anywhere for the Wonderland's popular prices. Our readers, most of whom have seen Miss Hall when she was the associate prima donna with Lillian Russell at the New is, with the possible exception of Rob Hilliard and Maurice Barrymore, the highest salaried star on the vaudeville stage. Her voice, always of the highest order, is as rich and full as ever, and she is handsomer in face and figure than when she played in comic opera. She has a magnificent collection of costumes, and it is said that she will wear a different dress at every performance through the week. This will be a pleasing announcement to the ladies, who are admitted to all parts of the Wonderland in the afternoon for 10 cents, the prices for men at all times being 10 and 20 cents. A girl at Portland, Maine, who had been saving up her money for years on the chance of needing it when she should get married sometime, finally met the man of her choice and made every arrangement to be married, but when it came to drawing out her money and spending it for a wedding outfit she backed out and declared the engagement off for good. Then she went back to work and putting away her savings again. She had found out what she wanted.

A new feature of South Carolina's dispensary law has been made public by a case recently tried by the State Supreme court. The law is that no citizen may keep liquor in his house or his place of business for a lawful purpose, such as personal use, unless the vessel in which he keeps it has a certificate upon it from the State liquor commissioner. The court was evenly divided, two deciding that it was not a criminal offence to have liquor without the commissioner's certificate, the other two holding the opposite view. As there was no agreement in the higher court, the decree of the lower was, under the law, sustained, and the man who appealed must therefore do three months' work in the chain gang. There will be a fresh demand for certificates in consequence, with an increased revenue in the form of fees.

The distinction which the law makes between Sunday labor and Sunday trade was clearly brought out by a recent prosecution in London against a person of the Jewish faith for having his workshop "open for traffic" on Sunday. The defendant was a buttonhole maker, who religious worship. On Sunday he kept his shop open merely to allow his regu-Jar customers to leave garments there or take them away. He made no new from casual customers, received no pay and settled no accounts. The Queen's Bench division held that he was improperly convicted. Mr. Justice Cave on Sunday, pursuant to arrangements made upon other days, did not show that the place was open for traffic. "The legislature intended to put Jews in the same condition as Christians," said Mr. Justice Graham, "and for that purpose had practically interchanged Saturday and Sunday. But it was intended to prevent a Jew from taking advantage of that by carrying on his trade generally on Sunday."

It is announced that the Fairmount Park commission in Philadelphia has aid in a Sunday contest with a ferodecided to make good use of some of clous bull. Of course some mistakes which ought have been made in the new tariff bill. One of them is the duty imposed on natural mineral waters. They will not oppose a change by the Senate committee, which will, it is said, restore the equivalent of the McKinley rate of 30 per cent. This, it is believed, will constitute a better revenue duty than a higher rate, which would seriously reduce consumption.

IT WAS A STILL HUNT.

ess in some parts of this country that lack-rabbit. In that State Woman has the governor vetoes a bill which has serve in the militia. There are those who will hope that he will not veto it and that in the course of time the lower limbs of a crack company of Colorado's female militia may be seen in marching and comparable tuxtaposition to the glorious legs of our own Foot Guards. But that is neither here nor there, yet, so we can turn our attention to a feat in politics which has just been done by the wide-awake women of Denver. The Denver women made up their minds that Reform, Good Government, and Civil Service demanded that they get hold of the reins So they got together and nominated a ticket. Then they showed their wonderful fitness to have their rights by starting and carrying on a still-hunt campaign .In every precinct they are ranged to vote their entire households They did this so quietly that leaders of rival factions were misled, for even their house to house canvass failed to reveal the truth. Indeed, many women gave other party canvassers reason to think that they intended to vote the old party ticket. The politicians who were against them spent more money than usual for rum and cigars and went into the battle of the ballots with serene confidence that they had a "lead-nine cinch." But they got in stead a lead-pipe "slug in the neck, and an equally severe blow over the heart and they are now very sore. The women captured every office in the city They are going to have a Reform administration and if things are not all right in Denver now it will be because human nature isn't woman nature or And the most remarkable thing about the glorious achievement was that it was a still hunt.

That something is a Mexican bull, which in a fight with a bicycle left it as bruised and battered as it has left its countless victims. It happened in this way. Manuel Garcia, a celebrated bull-fighter, had reached a point where he felt obliged to try to restore a waning popularity and try to redil a waned pocketbook. So he bethought himself of calling the bicycle to his that he would appear in the bloody similar to the playgrounds in Prospect arena on a bicycle was greeted with fathus be used, and it is proposed to es- ed, eager to see him ride right over Mr. tablish at once fifty or more baseball Bull. It curved and wheeled around in great shape and kept Mr. Bull busy in trying to get on to its curving and wheeling. He finally succeeded in getting his shining and efficient horns just where he wanted them and he hoisted that bicycle and that toreador in such a way that they both came down in the front to be and probably will be remedied row of spectators. FASHION NOTES.

Fur Gives Way to Ruchings.

The trick of building up dresses and wraps high about the throat that prevailed all winter long is to be continued into summer. Of course there is a change in the materials, but collars will touch ears just as they did in midwinter. To-day's pictured dress illustrates this point, yet it was intended for wear in weather that necessitates little protection for the most sensitive throat. Its material was shot Nile green silk, and the skirt was banded with narrow black chantilly insertion that met in points in front. The fitted bodice was trimmed with lace bands and fastened invisibly at the left side. Its sleeves and stock collar were green silk covered with lace, but the puffs were from the plain material. Nile ing when are selected. A man should

CAREFULNESS ABOUT FOOD.

It was not very kind of Prof. Max Muller to tell his little story of Tennyson's rather rough criticism on the dinner Mrs. Max Muller had provided for him. Tennyson, like all very truthful men, like Dr. Johnson, for instance, sometimes said bearish things, but a host owes as much reticence to a guest as the guest owes to his host. That however, is the Professor's affair bu there is something of general interest in the way in which the story is quoted, as if it were somehow to Tennyson's discredit to have cared about his food. Why should he not care, to a reasonable degree? And that he was not unreason able in his care is the testiminy of all who knew him. A man is not necessarily a gourmand, and still less a glutton, be cause he cares that what he eats should be appetizing, and should, therefore, be the food the eating of which burdens him least, and least distracts his thoughts from higher things.

There is no reason in the world why men, whether average men or men o genius, should despise the cooking of their food. They never show, or are re quired to show, the same contempt towards any other art, and on no other is their mental calm more completely dependent. An ill-fitting coat is a worry but not such a worry as dinners pre petually ill-dressed. To many men, and especially to men whose work is seden tary, or whose brains are fully taxed food which is at once light and nourishing is an absolute necessity if they are to exert their highest powers; and food of that kind is obtainable only by care in selecting meats, and good cookgreen velvet gave the wide girdle and not think to much of his dinner, or devote too much time to preparation for ing for the throat is entirely new. The selection for a string quintet, with solo for clarinet, was one of the best numbers on the program. The program included a number of popular

FUNERAL OF MRS. A. E. HARMS-WORTH.

The funeral of Mrs. Arthur E. Harmsworth was held yesterday afternoon from the late residence, 65 Lyon street. Rev. Dr. Phillips of the Church of the Redeemer officiated, reading from the Scriptures and making brief remarks appropriate to the peculiarly sad occasion. The funeral was largely attended by the many friends of the deceased lady and of the bereaved family, and the floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in the Grove street cemetery, adjoining the resting place of her late husband, Arthur E. Harmsworth, who died of appendicitis a few weeks ago. He was, before his death, bookkeeper for the N. T. Bushnell company.

The festivities of Mi-Careme begin by the procession at noon, but early in the morning the streets begin to fill with people getting places along the line of march. There is nothing to equal the patience of a French crowd. People will stand for hours on the edge of a sidewalk jammed together a solid mass of hu-manity, waiting to see a procession. and nobody loses his temper. All kinds of jokes are permitted during the carnival, and the policemen and cabmen are the chief victims of these pleasantries. The small boy has a chance to get even with the "cop," and the tyranhat and bow to right and left under penalty of having his cab promptly upset by the mob. The sellers of confettl do a good business on that day, for everybody from the peasant of the provinces in white cap and wooden shoes to the dignified old gentleman with silk hat and red ribbon of the Legion of Honor is armed with a bag of confetti, and pelt each other with handfuls of the stuff, which is neither the sugar nor plaster kind used in Italy, but little New Yorks. SATURDAY'S BALL GAMES,

MARY F. CAREW.

Yale Freshmen Lost to Edgewoods and the 'Varsity Nine Succumbed to the Giants-Games on Other Diamonds.

Yale's freshman baseball team lost to the Edgewoods at the Yale field, Saturday by a score of 15 to 8. The Freshies were unable to hit Hinman, who pitched for the Edgewoods, and this as much as anything, perhaps, accounted for their defeat, as they played a much nical cabman is forced to take off his better fielding game than the Edge-hat and bow to right and left under woods. Dunn and Dunlievy, the Freshman pitchers, were wild and together gave ten bases on balls. Nearly the entire freshman class was in attendance and did some vigorous rooting for their team.

MANY NEWS ITEMS FROM THIS FLOURISHING TOWN,

Lively Basket Ball Contest-The Yonkers Team Ahead-Death of Michael Powers -Death of James Dunphy-The Late George Botsford of This City-C. V. Young's Narrow Escape from Death.

There was a large attendance at the last basket ball game of the season in the armory Saturday evening between Co. K's team and the Fourth Separate company, N. G. S. N. Y., of Yonkers. The game was a lively one from start to finish, and from the start it was plain to see that the New York team was too heavy for Co. K's boys. The visitors started in with a rush and scored four from the floor and one on a foul in the first half, while Co. K got in one goal on a fine throw of Bolton's from the side. In the last half Co. K scored two goals from the floor and one on a foul, while the Yonkers team scored two more goals and won the game by a tary of the New Haven clearing house score of 13 to 7. O'Brien of the local by days, as follows: team did some fine work and scored two goals, one of which was a well judged throw over his head, which was | April 7.. 211,652.34 greeted with merited applause. The April 8., 263,949.21 game was at times very rough and as the New York team was far the heavier when the collisions came, Co. K's lightweights were generally, worsted. There were several fouls called but only one goal was scored by each team. In the first half R. J. Lane of Co. K was referee and Penne of Yonkers umpire; in the last half the two exchanged positions. The New York team returned home on the 10:53 train to New Haven, and from there by boat to New York.

The attraction booked by Manager Wilkinson for the opera house to-morrow evening. Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keyes," is one of the most laughable productions ever put on the stage here. The play represents fun in a hotel and from the beginning to the end is full of ludicrous situations, intermingled with dances and wittleisms. The show will be a rare treat and should bring out a crowded house.

Michael Powers of Washington street died Saturday afternoon after a long illness with consumption, aged fortytwo years. The body will be taken to New Bedford for burial on the 7:29

Governor Cooke and his staff will go to New York the day previous, leaving New Haven by train at about 2 p. m. Headquarters in New York will be at the Hotel Plaza, Fifty-ninth street. The New Haven organizations will go by boat on the day of the dedication, and the New London company by boat the night before. The Hartford Foot Guard may go by boat or take it at Saybrook.

Governor Cooke and staff have acepted an invitation to attend the reception to President McKinley and Vice President Hobart, at the Union League lub on the evening of April 27.

The adjutant general has already ordered the Governor's Guard to parade one day in May under the law, but it is probable they will be ordered to New York instead and draw pay for that service, which can be done by the governor at his discretion for a parade within the state.

The transportation arrangements of the Second company, Governor's Foot Guard, and the New Haven Grays were definitely settled upon by the commit tees of the two organizations Saturday morning for the proposed trip to New York, April 27, when they will take part in the Grant parade.

The committee of Gravs consisted of Captain McCabe, Lieut. Dann and Lieut, Smith and the Foot Guard committee was made up of Lieuts, McIn-Stoddard.

STRENGTH FROM FOOD.

But the Food Must Be Digested. There is no way to get strong without food. Food is the strength maker. Just enough food, properly digested, makes the strong and healthy man or woman. Too much, too little, or even the right quantity, not digested, will make anybody weak.

The beginning of all sickness is weakness. The beginning of all weakness is indigestion. So to keep strong, look after your digestion. That is the most important point of all.

When your food ferments in your stomach and forms gas, causes dizziness, nausea, bad taste, sick headache, full feeling, nervousness, irritability, etc., you have indigestion. You are losing a part of your life. Every hour you are sick causes a loss of strength. The way to cure it is to take Shaker Digestive Cordial. A few doses will relieve. If you take it long enough you will regain the strength you have lost. Shaker Digestive Cordial is made from herbs and plants by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon. It contains very strong digestive tonic properties. It creates strength. It makes your food make you strong and bright and healthy. It clears your complexion and strengthens your body against disease. If you want to get strong and well, try a bottle. Sold by all druggists at 10, 25, 50 cts and $1.00 a bottle.

TURN VEREIN LEAGUE.

Waterbury, April 11.—The quarterly meeting of the Connecticut Turn Verein league was held here to-day, twenty delegates being in attendance from Bridgeport, New Haven, Hartford, Meriden, Bristol, Holyoke, Mass., and elsewhere. After the reading of the reports of various officers, which indicated general prosperity, it was voted to hold the annual Turnfest in Holyoke, Mass., June 18 to 21 inclusive.

THE BOTSFORD TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Booth, Who Was Shot by Two Tramps and Badly Wounded, May Possibly Recover-The Trace of the

Newtown, April 11 .- Dr. J. W. Gordon of this town to-night returned from Botsford, where he had been in attendance upon Caroline Booth, the aged woman who was shot by one of two tramps Saturday. He found a slight improvement in the condition of the victim and stated that if inflammation did not set in she had a chance for recovery. She is still in a precari-

So far the two tramps have not been captured and clues are meagre. Sheriff Rogers and the town constables have been at work on the case all day, and, In the main, unsuccessfully. This evening two officers took a train for Norwalk to run down, if possible, some sort

The story of the assault is as follows: About 11 a. m. Saturday two shabbily dressed men, evidently tramps, stopped at the Booth home, which consists of a small shanty, north of the Botsford railroad station. Mrs. Booth, whose husband was absent, was engaged in collecting eggs from her chicken house, Emerging from the coop, she was accosted by the tramps, who demanded the eggs. Just what followed then is not yet known, but the woman received two bullets from a revolver in the hands of one of the tramps.

One of the balls took effect in the head, the other in the neck, and she fell to the ground unconscious, where she was later found.

Dr. Smith of this place was speedily summoned and drove to Botsford and attended the injured woman.
