WAR TO EXTERMINATION

GREECE DETERMINED NOT TO EVACUATE CRETE.

Various Reports from Both Sides Indicate That the Greek Cause is Quite Hopeless -Affairs at Athens Reported in a Menacing State-Turks Are Being Skillfully Handled-Greeks Retreating.

Athens, May 7.-It is stated positively that if the powers insist on the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete as a condition of mediation, Greece will reply that she prefers war even to extermination.

ROYAL FAMILY IN PERIL.

Revolutionists Watching to Prevent Their Escape From Athens. London, May 7.-The Rome correspondent of the Dally Mail says:

"Private news from Athens, which has escaped censorship, shows the position of royalty there to be more perilous than ever. The members of the royal family rarely leave the palace, and their portraits have been withdrawn from public view. When the queen and princesses visit the hospitals they are openly insulted in the streets. The palace is watched by revolutionary agents, lest their majesties should at tempt to flee the country. "It is said that Turkey is really the hindrance to the powers proposing mediation as the porte claims the right to finish the war in the ordinary way."

STRATEGY OF THE TURKS. Great Skill Displayed by Them in Their

Operations Against the Greeks. London, May 8 .- The correspondent of the Times at Pharsalos says: "Great skill is displayed in the strategy of the Turks. Four divisions from Trikkala and Larissa are being simultaneously concentrated at Pharsalos. under Hakki Fasha stormed the first line of the intrenchments of the Greeks who abandoned the second line during the night. Hakki Pasha then occupied the position.

"The Greeks having retreated upon Volo, the whole length of railway connecting Trikkala, Velastino and Larissa is now in possession of the Turks. This second general flight of the Greek army shows plainly that they will refuse to fight pitched battles, but their method conducting a campaign is difficult to understand. The general idea is that the war is now over.'

TURKS IN PHARSALOS.

Greeks Have Completely Deserted the City-Turkish Loss Not Heavy. Headquarters of the Turkish Army in Thessaly, Pharsalos, May 6 (delayed in transmission). When the Turks entered Pharsalos this morning they found the place utterly deserted. The Turks are beginning to believe that the Greeks are not serious in their fighting, as Pharsalos was so strongly fortified that they believed its capture, if resolutely defended, would have been impossible The Greek artillery fire during the Turkish advance was wonderfully accurate Nevertheless the Turks advanced, singing and without heeding the shells.

During the attack on Vasili some of the Turks picked up stones, saying, These are good enough for the

The scene half an hour before darkness was most impressive. The Turks had determined at all costs to drive the Greeks out of the town. The constant flashes of the field pieces illuminated the faces of the gunners, who watched the effect of each discharge through the gathering darkness, while on the oppoeite side was a long, thin line of spluttering infantry fusilade. As night fell the firing gradually ceased, and by o'clock all was quiet. The Turks threw themselves on the ground and slept. Only thirty Turks were killed.

GARIBALDI TO THE FRONT. He Leaves Athens With 2,000 Italians News From Pharsalos.

Athens, May 7.-The Greek fleet at Volo has been instructed not to hinder the entrance of the Turks in order to save the town from destruction. General Smolenski's artillery, engineers and some cavalry have proceeded to Almy-

Peace. London, May 8 .- The Athens corre spondent of the Times says:

"The news of the retreat from Phar alos was at first received with con sternation, but the public has already ecepted the situation and now regards the retreat to Domokos as a strategle novement dictated by prudence. It is general felt that General Smolenski's defence of Velestino has vindicated the reputation of the Greek army and wiped out the disgrace of Mati and Laris-

The Bequests Include One to Yale for $150,000.

Leroy, N. Y., May 7 .- The Lampson will was presented for probate by Butler Ward, one of the executors, in the surrogate's court at Batavia to-day, arily tabled by Mr. Barnes of Norwich. In the fighting at Velestino the Turks and Judge North appointed June 28 as the day for probate. The estate is not known. The bequests include one to Yale university of $150,000 for the erection of a building for commencement and public exercises, to be called the Lampson Lyceum. If such a building is erected before the estate becomes available a like sum is to be used for the erection of any other buildings of which the college may be in need.

The remaining portion of the estate outside of bequests, is to be held by Yale in trust forever to establish the Lampson fund, the income to be devoted to the endowment of professorships of Latin and Greek and English literature, each professorship to have $4,000. If the income is more than sufficient for such professorships this shall be disposed of as the Yale trustees may deem advisable.

FUGITIVE FOR SIX YEARS.

Thomas H. Stout, the New York Forger, Surrenders to the Authorities.

New York, May 7.-Tired of being a fugitive, Thomas H. Stout, forger, after six years of exile, surrendered himself District Attorney Olcott to-day. An hour later the grand jury had returned five indictments against him for forgery in the second degree. In 1891 Stout was the confidential man of Kennett, Hopkins & Co., brokers on Wall street. While he was ill at home for a few days it was found that there was something grong with his accounts with the Holland Trust company. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he fled. The amount of his shortage was estimated at $20,000, and the theft was the cause of civil suits between the trust company and the firm in which the trust company lost. Stout had forged he firm's endorsement to paper which the trust company had cashed.

His case has been before the state department at Washington. Hundreds of letters have passed between authorities in this country and others all over the world where Stout had located at various times during the past six years.

To-day Stout reached New York from Boston over the Fall River line. He had come from England via St. John, and by rail from there to Boston. He was met at the station by his lawyer and his son, the Rev. James A. Stout, who has a pastorate in a city on the Hudson. The three then went to the district attorney's office, where Stout made himself known. All five indictments charged forgery in the second de-

PROTECTION OF SEALS,

Plan Proposed to Effect a Treaty With Japan and Russla to That End.

Washington, May 7.-Hon, John W. Foster, special ambassador on the part of the United States to conduct negotiations for the protection of the fur seals, was in conference with the senate hours to-day, during which time he went over the situation quite thoroughly, putting the committee in possession of all the information in his possession and advising it of his plans.

Details of the conference were made public, but it is known that the conference was based upon Great Britain's refusal to enter into any agree ment for the further protection of the seals, and that Mr. Foster indicated his purpose to enter into negotiations with Russia and Japan looking to the accomplishment of this purpose. He will leave the country soon in pursuance of his mission, and will go to London. The committee took no formal action but there was a general expression of approval of the plan to deal with Russia and Japan.

OLD NASSAU'S MEN ARGUED TOO STRONGLY FOR THE BLUE.

Hon, E. J. Phelps Presided and Hon, Josiah Quincy, Col. Waring and Hon. Carroll D. Wright Were the Judges-Banquet Held at the New Haven House at the Close of the Debate,

The debate held at College street hall last evening, between representatives of Yale and Princeton was won by Princeton. The judges after only five minutes consultation returned to the hall and their decision was announced by Hon, Johlah Quincy, mayor of Boston. The judges were three in number, Mr. Quincy, Hon, George E. Waring, street commissioner of New York city, and Hon. Carroll D. Wright, United States mmissioner of labor.

The attendance at the debate was rather small, much smaller than was that at the Yale-Harvard debate held in College street hall a years ago. When shortly after 8 o'clock Hon. E. J. Phelps, who presided at the debate, and the debaters took seats on the platform, they were given an ovation.

Prof. Phelps introduced the first speaker, Mr. Hume of Yale, without any remarks.

As each debater rose to speak he was loudly applauded. Each speaker was allowed twelve minutes and the expiration of his time was announced by Mr. Garvin, Yale '97.

After the twelve minutes speeches each speaker was allowed five minutes for rebuttal. At the close of the debate and after the decision had been announced a large party of Yale students assembled in front of the hall and gave three long Yale cheers with 'Princeton" at the end.

After the debate a banquet was held ers were laid, among those present being the judges of the debate, Prof. A. T. Hadley, H. F. Covington Princeton, Prof. G. B. Adams, Prof. E. Phelps, Prof. A. M. ### BAYARD'S PARTING WORDS TENDERED A BANQUETON THE EVE OF HIS DEPARTURE.

Ambassador Hay Was Among the Guests Who Numbered Many Distinguished Persons-The Retiring Ambassador's Tribute to Ex-President Cleveland-Ambassador Hay Heartlly Received. London, May 7 .- The farewell banquet given this evening by the American society in London to Mr. Bayard, former ambassador of the United States, was attended by 270 guests. The company included Ambassador Hay, Mrs. Hay, and all the members of the American embassy, the lord bishop of London, Baron Russell of Killowen, the lord chief justice, Sir Francis and Lady Jeune, Sir Edwin Arnold, Sir Henry Thompson, Lady Randolph Churchill, Lady Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vivian Ward.

There was a notable absence of the best known Americans resident in London. Mr. Bayard had a cordial reception. He brought with him the log of the Mayflower, which he deposited in ts glass case in the reception room, where it instantly became the center of attraction. He took Mrs. Hay into dinner. The dining room was prettily dec-orated with flowers and banners, the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack being entwined about the arms of the state of Delaware above Mr. Bayard. The lord bishop of London in a felicitious speech proposed the health of the president of the United States. Newton Vrane toasted the guest of the evening, Ambassador Hay cordially applauding all his eulogies of Mr. Bayard. During the presentation of the loving cup, which is in the form of a pumpkin surmounted by a bust of Mr. Bayard, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard were visibly affected. Mr. Bayard on rising to respond to Mr. Crane's sentiments, was greeted an hour, slowly and impressively. He said in part: "There is nothing we desire to conceal except a strange shamefacedness that tempts us to restrain the love each feels for the other; but there never should be a trace of doubt as to that countries. No man feels this more than my illustrious successor. If I was ever worth a button, you have here a better button to put in my place. I rejoice in my successor; for he will be as fair as have always sought to be.' Mr. Bayard insisted eloquently that there was no cause of quarrel between the two nations, and, after a few words of graceful and touching farewell, concluded with a happy reference to the log of the Mayflower. Baron Russell, in proposing the health of Ambassador Hay, said: "The United States have sent us their best man to represent them, and we have no doubt that the chain will be continued unbroken. To Ambassador, Hay we will give the heartiest of welcomes, for we believe that he is the harbinger of peace and good will to all." Colonel Hay, responding, said: "When your chairman kindly invited me to be present to-night, and when Mr. Bayard About 6,000 persons witnessed the added the sanction of his only friendly request, I could not but avail myself of the opportunity to pass so delightful an evening in your company. I stipulated. however, that I was to come not in any official capacity, but simply as an American temporarily resident in England and desirous to add my tribute of regard to your distinguished guest. "I have always been, and fancy I am. now, cordially opposed to Mr. Bayard on almost every matter of public concern upon which men of good will may differ; but I have always been happy and proud of his personal friendship, I have shared the pleasure all his friends have taken in observing the unexampled affection and popularity which he has conquered in England. They are successes so complete that they can provoke neither envy nor emu-

"Certainly no Immediate successor of Mr. Bayard would be so injudicious as to attempt to rival his brilliant career or to replace him in the regard of the British people. Nothing but disaster could follow such an attempt. None but Ulysses could bend the bow of Ulysses. Mr. Bayard will always be remembered as our first ambassador and all the more because he has gained the affectionate esteem not only of the government and the governing classes but islands.

"Since the great revolution in France, which brought the people forward as the principal factor of sovereignty there, it has been the fashion of the kings and emperors to call themselves emperors and kings, not of France but of the French. In like manner it would be inappropriate to call Mr. Bayard not so much ambassador to England as ambassador to the English. I join you in wishing him and his family God

SEVERAL DIVORCES GRANTED YES-

Route of Milford Street Railway Co.-Judgment of Foreclosure Secured by Trustees of Old Almshouse Farm-Credit Supply Company's Liabilities.

Judge Robinson vesterday assigned the following cases for trial in the superior court: Tuesday, May 11, Schweder et al, vs. Tomlinson, Glynn vs. the City of New Haven, Baldwin et ux., vs. Fair Haven and Westville Rallroad company; Wednesday, De Rosa vs. C. W. Blakeslee & Sons, Tuckey vs. the City of New Haven, Bishop vs. Bishop; hursday, Franklin vs. Southern New England Telephone company, Furey vs. Western Union Telegraph company, Rowling vs. Gallagher, Rellly & Co., James vs. the Town of New Haven. SEVERAL DIVORCES GRANTED.

Mrs. Catherine E. Dodds was granted a divorce yesterday from John E. Dodds by Judge Robinson. Dodds was a fancy roller skater here several years ago and skated in many prize contests at Savin Rock and elsewhere in the state. He married Miss Quigley on February 18, 1890, and left her within about a year. He is now at Morristown, N. J. The decree was granted on the ground of adultery. Mrs. Katherine R. Royce secured a decree of divorce from Edward F. M. Royce, a clerk on State street. The ground upon which the decree granted was that of intolerable cruelty Mrs. Royce told the court a story of ill treatment, as did also her sister and their former boarding house mistress. Mrs. Royce testified to having been hoked and struck several times by Mr. Royce. Mrs. Royce's name was changed to Fiaherty. They were married or September 16, 1885.

T. Moritz Tilfessen was divorced from Minnie Tilfessen on the ground of desertion.

Louis B. Kautz was granted a divorce from his wife, Emma A. He said that she could not agree with him or his people because she is not German. APPLICATION WILL PROBABLY

BE GRANTED. Judge Robinson heard yesterday the application for the approval of the proposed route of the Milford Street Railway company from Washington Bridge at Stratford to the Woodmont depot. S. Harrison Wagner represented the road. Ex-Judge Lynde Harrison, represent ing the Consolidated road, came into court and announced that he would not oppose the approval of the route. Several citizens of Milford, who are nterested in the road financially patriotically, attended court to testify. All declared that the road will not only a public convenience, but a public cessity. Among the citizens who teslified were: Theodore Thompson, Postmaster Brotherton, Dr. Willis S. Put-ney, Mr. Beardsley, E. B. Hallowell, and Mr. Barnes, a druggist.

After they had all testified in favor of the road, the judge asked Mr. Wagner to present a formal decree in writ-

Sunday Schools of All Denominations Will Participate-Local G. A. R. Posts Will be the Escort-Circular Issued by the General Committee.

At a meeting of the New Haven Sunday School Superintendents' union held recently it was determined, after mature and earnest consideration, to hold in this city on Memorial day a gathering of Sunday school scholars and ed for May Walsh in her suit against teachers, similar to the gatherings held the city of Ansonia. He asked for a rein Brooklyn, Jersey City, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Toledo, and many other large cities, and which was also in vogue in New Haven some twenty-five years ago. In compliance with this vote the following committees have been appointed: General committee-W. R. Wowns, United church, chairman;

Blogg, St. Paul's Episcopal; E. S. Swift, Trinity M. E.; J. H. Owens, Presbyterian; H. H. Taylor Calvary Baptist, sec retary; General Edward E. Bradley, chief marshal; committee on speakers, Cullen B. Foote, Charles L. Baldwin, Burton Mansfield; committee on finance, Judge L. W. Cleaveland, F. A. Betts, E. Swift, Charles Kleiner; committee on music, Benjamin Jepson,

The rally promises now to assume proportions not anticipated earlier by its promoters. Scholars from all the Sunday schools in the city, regardless of denomination, will participate. The Boys' Brigade, which had arranged to hold a field day on Memorial day, has abandoned that project and will take part in the rally. The plan of the rally is greatly favored by Grand Army men who consider it most fitting and approinued in the probate court yesterday priate that the children should so observe the day. The G. A. R. posts of the city will be the guard of honor on the occasion.

Among the Sunday school children who will participate are those of Mishkan Israel. It is expected that the children of the various Roman Catholic Sunday schools of the city will take part.

The music for the occasion will be under the direction of Prof. Benjamin Jepson, who is now drilling the school children in the songs to be sung. The general committee in charge of e rally has issued a circular, of which the following is a part:

The object is to make this rally both religious and patriotic, and to impress

TARIFF COMMISSION

Favored By Senator Cullom of Illinois

-What He Says on the Subject. Washington, May 7 .-- In reply to inuiries as to his views on a permanent tariff commission, Senator Cullom has written a letter to the Tariff Commission League, Newark, N. J., in which he says:

"I have for many years thought that there ought to be some means devised by which we could avoid these constant and extreme changes in tariff legislation-first, going far in the direction of a high tariff and, on the occasion of a change of politics, going as far the other way. I believe that through the judicious agency of a permanent tariff commission, composed of experts, statisticians and business men, such changes could be made from year to year by congress as might be indicated and clearly shown to be wise. This would save the necessity of requiring a change of the whole tariff system by whatever party came into power.

"Certainly we cannot continue indefinitely as we have been doing with reference to that subject, because the business of the country will not tolerate it. I hope sincerely that this congress may provide for some kind of a com-mission which will aid in changing the situation, and I should be glad if amendment of the kind indicated were to be incorporated in the bill now be fore the senate known as the Dingley bill.

Merwin; vice president, F. H. Hart; treasurer, John C. Hollister; chaplain, E. S. Lines; historian and necrologist, S E. Barney; members of the executive committee for three years, Wilson H, Lee. It was voted to decorate the graves of Revolutionary patriots in Grove street cemetery on Bunker Hill day, June 17. After the business meeting, Colonel N.

For if he is to gain his party's ends by use of his moderator's powers it must be at the expense of debate over which those powers are exercised. As a result the chief feature of our present manner of legislating is haste. The Dingley bill is an example. This haste results in work as bad as it is excessive. Non-partisan measures are often left in imperfect form, and majorcommittees and subjected to no criticism, are almost never anything but collections of concessions to private interests.

Other evils are a low grade of representatives resulting from the substitution of wire pulling for persuasion; the accentuation of sectional feeling by the undue suppression of the minority; the loss of the educational and informing effect of debate

The various powers have been granted to the speaker as the necessity for them was seen to exist. The debater asked, what does the country owe to the speaker? There have been numerous bills brought before congress which were manifestly for the public interest and which could never have been carried through but for the power of the speaker. Taking the silver purchase repeal act, for example. It was argued that the speaker's power was essential at every stage of the progress of that bill in its course through the various formalities of the house. Whatever unity we have in our legislation we also owe to the speaker. The speaker chooses the more important bills for the majority because he knows them to desire action upon them. It is a natural growth, for the majority early found out that to have its party leaders a moderator's chair would relieve it of much unkind criticism. It is a natural growth, but only as an instrument of party tyranny. But there has been another natural growth along this same line-the development of party leader thip upon the floor of the house, as shown in the formation of a junta of the leading committees' chairmen and the speaker. But the speaker's party

WILL STOP OUTSIDE RELIEF.

Order of Town Authorities Curtailing Outside Pensions to Poor.

Clerk Rowe, at the town agent's office vesterday, informed several old women who have been accustomed to receive aid from the office that they must go to the poorhouse if they would continue to receive town aid.

This notice was given in accordance with an order passed by the outside poor committee at its last weekly meeting that town pensioners who were without kin or friends should either go to the almshouse or else have the aid cut off.

The order affects about forty men and women, all over seventy years of age and several over ninety. Among he reasons for the change is the desire to treat those who are in the almshouse and those outside alike. It is also said and Congress of Rough Riders of the World will be here. It will, without not always been properly spent. The pensioners affected by the order natually do not approve of the change

About eighty persons will still continue to receive outside aid. The men who are alone have received $4 a FINANCIALLY EMBARRASSED. Among the sufferers from agricultural depression and the reduction in the rate of interest have been institutions of learning. The financial condition of Cambridge university is a case in point. The situation is said to be serious. When the great bulk of the older college endowments were bestowed there was practically no other method of investment than in agricultural land. For many years the British farmer, struggling against increasing foreign competition in food-stuffs and increasing growing poorer and poorer. From the consequent fall in rents the Cambridge though not all in an equal degree. And so as the annual "Flesta" comes around again all the good people of the good city of Angels proceed to enjoy themselves to the utmost, decorate the town with streamers and lanterns of many colors, till the display becomes a weariness' to the eye, and allow business to have a rest, glad of an excuse to cast cankering care to the winds.

One of the few remaining mission Indians who with his fellows has been here to help illuminate the parade, and who had never before seen any city shows, or even the ocean, albeit he is more than a hundred years old, says that now he has seen a plenty and is ready to die.

Most likely he will soon get over this otion, for even a man of his age may wish to add a few years or a few score of years to his record, but seeing so many things at once, he was so much dazed that the painted ornaments appeared likely to peel off his back.

For he was shown newspaper offices with all their apparatus and machineskirt shown here, and change your ry; he was taken to the theater, where mind. Of course, all skirts are not so he was especially charmed with the bal-elaborate as this pictured one, nor are let; he was carried in swift elevators to plain skirts tabooed, but it indicates the present tendency, and nowadays a trim-med skirt is certainly preferable to a Pacific ocean; he was talked to through This gown combined blue the telephone, and himself answered t moire silk and black satin muslin. But it was not the Indians alone who Women's fondness for elaboration is were new to the show and to other things; such a lot of curious people came from nobody knows where, and some of them were so extremely unsophisticated that it was wonderful to see them just escape from total destruction, and to wonder what they would or could do next, or whether they might dred feet. He also ascended higher, bolero, and skirt and bolero are lined Chinese dragon, which was far more fearful of aspect than usual, and much longer than ever before that the city authorities felt obliged to annex some neighboring territory on which to rest its dreadful tail. The show began late at night with a masquerade ball, and the tickets for this ball were sold at a bank, of all places, and at a bank, too, where, in or-dinary time, it is difficult to get waited on, because there is always such an uncents a barrel." "That's all right; we assorted crowd of customers who block the space and passageways, and who are of every nation under the sun, Mexicans, Indians, South Sea Islanders Greeks, Turks, Japanese, Chinese, Par sees, Hindoos, Jews from Jerusalem, every kind of foreigners, together with so-called natives, who are not natives and never were.

Surely this was a good place to sell ball tickets, but they were sold just the same, and the ball was worth the mon-

Here the queen was successfully seated on her throne, with blare of trumpets, genufication of courteim proclamations, delivery of city keys, and such like mummery.

And while this amusement was in progress the fifty mission Indians were engaged in their "fire dance." There are but few left of these Indians, and traditions and the methods of the old-time religious rites, and these old Indians gathered together from afar and rated-we can hardly say dressedin the ancient way, headed and led on by old Chief "Pop-a-chunk," solemnly danced around and through a fire of logs till they were scorched, blackened and exhausted, every spark of fire extinguished, and every feather that remained on ancient "Pop-a-chunk" stood out like the "quills upon the fretful porcupine." All this was pretty well, but next night came the floral parade, and those who saw this will never allow that any previous show surpassed it, or that any following one can ever equal it. For if there is anything that Southern California produces in profusion it is flowers; they are with us all the year around, but at this time they are at the best, and the beautiful and unique floats that passed in magnificent procession before the queen and her attendant ladies, and afterwards through the brightly lighted streets, were worth a journey from a far country just see. They were types of history, tradition and story, and the embodiment of magination and fancy, and to have missed this part of the pageant was to have lost the best of all.

But now the show is over, the crowds have dispersed, the committees have already begun to make arrangements for another year, the queen has retired to private life, and a good subject of the Queen of England, who thinks all this buffoonery shows a lack of respect to really and truly queens and kings, has written to the "Times" to protest against so much aping of royalty.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Dance at Anderson Gymnasium-Coming Festivities-Merry Milkmaids at Warner Hall

Social events present and prospective footed up promises a none too-rapid social mid-season and present indications are the now waning dancing season will die as it lived-fairly gay.

A retrospective view taken shows the season one of less brilliancy than many that has preceded. However, there is much of importance to be considered. Last night Mrs. George B. Farnam and Mrs. Eli Whitney gave a large and very charming dance, for about seventy-five guests at the Anderson gymnasium. The event brought out all the younger set, with many of the matrons in evidence; also a large contingent of the men folk, including many '97 men. For the occasion the Gym. was effectively decorated with palms and potted plants. The dance was far and away one of the handsomest of the season. Francis served and Robinson's orchestra sent for alluring music. Also in the tide of yesterday's galeties was a whist party at the home of Mrs. W. P. Tuttle, for her guest, Miss Fitch of Brooklyn, who was rated one of the prettiest girls in attendance at the reent Naval Reserves' ball

The day was also given over to sev eral small luncheons, teas and whist meets of an informal nature, though none the less enjoyable.

Festivities appointed are dances at the Lawn club to-night and Monday by Mrs. Timothy Bishop, for her daughter, Miss May Bishop, Mrs. John Alling also announces a dance at the Lawn club for her daughter, Miss Agatha Alling

In Warner hall last night the operetta "Merry Milkmaids and Haymakers." under the auspices of Davenport C. E. society, was given an excellent rendition and was well received by the audience. To this company of amateur performers is due much praise, for their efforts are above the average and most creditable. The chorus of milkmaids and farmer girls was effectively gowned in peasantry costume and looked very pretty. Miss Neva E. Squires as Dorothy was exceptionally good as was also Miss Bessle Hollis, the little flower maid, who quite captivated the auty" sang charmingly. Mrs. L. B. Hollis, manager and director, also palyed the role of "Zingara, Gypsy Fortune Tell-er." Mr. Frank Edgar was clever as "Dude" and "Judge." and Master Roy Evans, chore boy, was capital. Miss Smith was the accompanist.

The Palmer House, Chicago, needs no jedy men and women who keep them introduction to readers in America or selves reasonably well informed in the Europe. It is one of the largest hotels in the world, and is one of the great institutions of Chicago.

Mr. Willis Howe, the well known superintendent of the Palmer House.

writes the following letter: Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington. Vt.—Gentlemen: It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that I write you this letter. I was seriously sick with fever and after passing the dangerous stage began taking Paine's celery compound. At this writing I am in excellent health, and in fact never felt better. I attribute this to the use of Paine's celery compound. Hoping others will find that Paine's celery compound will make them as well as it did me, I am most gratefully yours,

THE CENTURY DICTIONARY AND CYCLOPEDIA

a work of reference conceived on such basis, and prepared by such schol arly minds that it could scarcely fail to be thorough to the last degree. This nuality is as manifest in the placing of an accent as in the survey of a great clence or the history of a revolution. The following instances will show this horoughness more satisfactorily than my words of eulogy:

Five Hundred Thousand Definitions, neluding not only those commonly found in general dictionaries of the language, but also those of all technical words in the various sciences, professions, arts, and trades.

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand clopedic Articles, covering the entire field of human knowledge and hisory, not in long, dry articles to be skimmed over in search of the desired piece of information, but in articles that go straight to the point. All these ar-ticles are arranged alphabetically, so that the work is a ready question-an wer, and has won for itself the striking epithet of "The rapid-firing knowledge

Three Hundred Thousand Quotations make The Century Dictionary and Cylopedia the greatest reference book for quotations, familiar and unfamiliar all literature.

Eight Thousand Illustrations, more and better engravings than are found any other reference book in the world. They are not only accurate, but are xquisite specimens of the engraver's art. Illustrations of animals, plants, nusical instruments, machinery, antique vases and statues, buildings and monuments are distributed throughout the work, each in its proper place with the articles which it helps to describe. Taken altogether, these pictures would fill more than 500 pages.

New Haven's Special Opportunity.

Through the courtesy of The Century Co. and of The New York Press, who have undertaken the formation of a club for the introduction of the completed vork, a few sets are to be placed in New Haven, the home of its illustrious ditor-in-chief, at a great reduction from the regular subscription price. OBITUARY NOTES

Mr. Louis N. Effing died at his residence on Baldwin place yesterday. His health had been declining for over a orchestra and the attractive chorus, it year past and for the last few months he had been confined to the house. He was a very estimable man, honored and esteemed for his uprightness, integrity and excellent character. His death will be mourned by many friends. He was an employe of the Marlin gun shops for a number of years and was a resident of Edwards street until a few months ago, when he removed to Baldwin place. His last place of business was with the New Haven Car Register Co. His native place was Utica, N. Y., and he leaves a wife who was formerly Miss Duncan, daughter of the late J. A. Duncan, who was a well known skilled engraver, and much esteemed citizen. He leaves also two daughters, aged about thirteen and fifteen, respectively; also a brother who lives in Rochester, N. Y., and one sister, a resident of Peckskill, N. Y. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 3 p. m., at the late residence. Rev. Mr. Lynch of the United church will officiate. The interment will be in Mapledale cemetery.

FUNERAL OF WM. CUMMINGS.
The funeral of William Cummings. aged seventy-three years, who died last Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock, was held at the house, 105 Congress avenue, at 8:30 and at St. John's church at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Yesterday's Stock Market Was Extremely Narrow.

New York, May 7 .- To-day's market for stocks continued extremely narrow and to the last degree professional, with nothing in it that reflected any genera! condition or influence on values. The dealings were even in smaller volume that yesterday.

The general list moved over only small fractional range, and many stocks remained to tally in active during the day, the large majority of the transac tions being distributed among a fev stocks. A tone of some strength was imparted to the market at times and most notably, strange to say, immediately after the announcement of an engagement of $1,000,000 in gold for shipment to Europe to-morrow.

The strength was most notable in the grangers, with the exception of Omaha which was one of the notably weak spots in the market. The price of the group generally was thus carried up to a price equal to or above last night's close. Reports of the good progress be ing made in spring seeding in the northwest was the favoring influence on these stocks, and some small net gains were shown in this group.

The general railway list, on the contrary, was off an average fraction as the result of the day's trading, the Vanderbilt's especially showing a reactionary tendency. Omaha sagged from the opening, yielding 21%, but recovering partially the loss. The decline was due to selling of holdings acquired on the supposition that another dividend might be declared this year.

The coalers also showed a cessation of yesterday's strength on largely diminished dealings. Other movements were almost wholly due to special causes. The Gould shares showed themselves much firmer against bear attacks than yesterday, although the novement of Western Union was decidedly erratic. It lost 1%, railied 1%, and finally again reacted 1%. Manhattan also moved irregularly over a range of a point while Missouri Pacific was Chicago Gas reflected the effects of comparatively steady. ealizing and impatience over the delay in legislation for consolidation. The stock lost a point on the way. Local gas stocks, on the contrary, showed continued strength. Tobacco jumped 2 per cent, to 7114 on manipulation. American Spirits preferred gained 1% on the day as a result of the favorable ettlement of some old claims. Sugar moved in an erratic manner on conflicting rumors and closed with a small net change.

The bond market was irregular. Governments were slightly easier on profit taking. The sales were $17,000. Following are the closing prices re-ported by Prince & Whitely, bankers and brokers, 16 Broadway, New York,
