PEACE AND ORDER REIGN

BUT AFFAIRS AT HAZLETON ARE YET IN A CRITICAL STATE.

Strike in the District Spreading With Great Rapidity-10,000 Men Now Idie-Gen. Gobin Says That the State Troops Will Remain Until Every Danger is Passed-No Trouble at the Eckley Mines.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.-Despite alarming rumors the day passed off without serious disturbance in the strike region. Matters still wear such an uncertain aspect, however, that General Gobin declares that the removal of the troops or of any portion of them has not been contemplated.

The strike is spreading with great rapidity. Exact estimates of the number of men who have quite work are hard to obtain, but conservative figures place it at close to 10,000, with Indications that within a short time every colliery of importance in the region will be

Although some disposition has been shown by small bodies of strikers in the outlying districts to make demonstrations, they have been of a rather feeble character and the great majority of the men are docile.

These mines are now idle: Cox Bros. & Co., Eckley, Beaver Meadows, Lehigh and Wilkesbarrs Coal company's Lone Brook, and Audencid mines, Frank Pardee's Cranberry and Crystal Ridge, Lehigh Valley coal company, Hazie mines, Yorktown, Janesville and Audencid. The men at Cox's Stockton lines have expressed their intention of joining the strike. To-day was their pay day. The colleries still working e the Derringer, Tom Hicken, and Shepton of the Cox company, Weston, Dodson & Co.'s Beaver Brook mine and Wentz's Silver Brok mine.

The first City Troop of Philadelphia. which was dispatched at an early hour this morning to the scene of the reported outbreak at Eckley, found nothing for it to do when it reached that place about 1 o'clock this afternoon. Several hundred miners from Buck mountain marched on the Eckley mines last night and brought out the men there. A few of the men who showed a disposition to continue were roughly handled and the mine superintendent, fearing trouble, wired to General Gobin for troops. He also sent word to Grafton and seventy deputies from that place were sent over. They kept themselves under cover at Eckley, however, awaiting developments.

Nothing further happened, the men at Eckley joining the ranks of the strikers. Meanwhile the cavalry troop was sent by General Gobin and had a wearisome march over the mountains only to find everything at Eckley peaceful.

The day had scarcely opened before another annoying story came to brigade headquarters by telephone. It was to the effect that a gang of miners from Drifton had marched on colliery No. 5. at Jeddo, with the expressed intention of freezing the men out.

The various Lehigh and Wilkesbarre collieries on the South Side and at Beaver Creek did not resume work this morning, as was anticipated. Superintendent Lawall stated that the men would resume work to-morrow unless interfered with by the strikers of the Yorktown colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company. General Superintendent Lathrop of the Lehigh Valley Coal company went to Hazelton to arrange with the employes for an adjustment of their grievances.

The grievances are being considered by the company officials, who will meet the committee of strikers in a day or two and endeavor to make a speedy settlement. The officials will make some concessions to the men and hope to get them back to work the latter part of the week and thus add materially in quieting the troublesome mass-

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING. teport of Health Officer-Assistant Health Officer to be Appointed.

A regular meeting of the board of health was held yesterday afternoon. The report of the health officer for the month of August was submitted. The report states that there were during August 120 deaths in New Haven, while during the some month last year there were 205 deaths. An unusually small number of conagious diseases were reported, although the prevalence of typhoid fever in Westville was noted. No common cause for this has been found, but one milk dealer has been ordered to stop selling in the city as a member of his family is ill with typhoid fever and the milk he sells falls to meet the test. At yesterday's meeting eighty-two complaints of non-collection of garbage were reported from the east district, where Contractor Daly has charge, and sixty-six from the west district in which Contractor Lawrence collects. There were twenty-nine second complaints from the east district and seventeen from the west district. Five of these second complaints were of private collectors.

The corporation counsel's opinion on the offal ordinance proposed by the board of health was received. The ordinance as drawn up by the board of health contained three sections. Corporation Counsel Ely's opinion is that sections 1 and 2 are sufficient to cover the ground and that section 3 will therefore be eliminated. The proposed ordinance was ordered sent to the ordinance committee.

Complaints were received from residents of upper State street stating that a disagreable odor arose from the flats back of the Forsyth laundry and that the locality was made very unhealthy thereby. The flats are used as a public dumping ground. The board ordered that the flats be properly drained.

On recommendation of the committee plumber's license was granted to John Manzes of 106 Pitkin street. The committee announced that a license had been refused to Henry A. Barnes, engineer at Yale university. Mr. Barnes desired a plumber's license in order that he might do the plumbing at the university. He failed to pass the necessary examination and the committee reported that it had been ascertained that he had not served an apprenticeship and had no shop, as is required of those to whom licenses are issued. They therefore refused to recommend that he be given a license.

The committee on rules reported that the chief change was in regard to the bacteriolologist of the board. Hereafter an assistant health officer will be appointed to act as bacteriologist. The appointment was laid over until the next meeting.

Another change in the rules fixes upon regular hours for the employes of the department. The hours are from 8 to 12 o'clock and from 2 to 5 o'clock daily. The employes are also liable to duty at hours at the direction of the RESOLUTION TO BORROW MONEY AWAITS MAYOR'S SIGNATURE.

Passed Unanimously by Board of Aldermen Last Night-The Street Hardening Resolution Did Not Go Through So Easily-Claim That the Charter Has Been Violated.

The aldermen last evening passed the two resolutions which went through the board of councilmen Monday night, one resolution providing for the borrowing of $20,000 and the other cr-lering street hardening.

The borrowing resolution was passed without discussion, but the other was not adopted until a number of dilatory motions had been offered and other deaying tactics had been resorted to After the routinte business before the meeting had been disposed of a motion to adjourn was offered by Al derman Guernsey and seconded by Alderman Root. Alderman Chillingworth tumped up at this point and asked if come before the board. He asked why the street hardening resolution had not

He said that the resolution had been passed by the councilmen in violation of section 132 of the charter. He then read that paragraph of the section, which reads as follows: 'No vote, resolution or measure shall be put upon its passage except by unanimous consent, until it shall have been referred to and reported by a suitable committee after a hearing."

In support of his ruling president Lambert said that he did not think that the councilmen had referred the resolution to a proper committee or that a proper hearing had been held.

The motion to adjourn was then put Alderman Chillingworth appealed from the decision of the chair in regard | minutes to the street hardening resolution and the appeal was sustained by a vote of 17 to 2. The aldermen voting against sustaining the chair were Nicoll, Carrington, Guernsey, Clarke, Brennan, Corcoran, Coolohan, Rourke, Ryan Forsyth, Unger, Chillingworth, Pickett.

and fish of another.' Alderman Rourke asked that before a vote was taken on the appeal from the decision of the chair, the opposers of the ruling might be given an opportunity to be heard.

The request was granted and Alderman Chillingworth rose to explain his reasons for appealing. Mr. Chillingworth then read a letter from ex-City Engineer Hill, stating that in his opinion the hardening of five to seven inches in depth, on the streets mentioned in the resolution. would be sufficient. Mr. Hill also stated in the letter that the depth of the hardening needed depends upon the character of the underlying soil and that a four inch hardening on gravel was as

Mr. Chillingworth stated that he had talked with the Massachusetts state engineer and with the Connecticut state highway commissioner, and that these gentlemen coincided in the opinion given by Mr. Hill. The committee then toted to rise and recommend to the board the passage of the resolution.

TAYLOR WON THE MILE OPEN. tesults in the Races at the Springfield Tournament.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 14.—The preliminary heats of the Springfield Bicycle club's tournament were run off on Hampden park to-day. In the professional as well as the amateur races there were many surprises. E. C. Bald and other crack riders were shut out several times by men who were practically unheard of previously.

The day was a perfect one for rac-ing, there being hardly any wind at all in the morning and but a slight breeze in the afternoon. The track was in expected, but in this the people were disappointed, for the time in general

The first race was that of the mile Bald and Major Taylor made a pretty finish, Taylor beating out Balt by but a few inches. The next race, the one mile amateur

SPAIN'S MANY TROUBLES.

Gloomy Outlook as Seen By Senor Sagasta.

Madrid, Sept. 14.-Senor Sagasta, the beral leader, in an interview on the subject of the Cuban insurrection, says the uprising, instead of dying out, is spreading considerably. He says the situation in the Phillippine Islands is serious, and that the Carlist propaganda in Spain cannot be viewed with indifference. He expresses the belief that a reconciliation between the political parties in Spain is impossible so long as the conservatives are in power. In conclusion he says: "In my opinion the cortes will not meet, but if they do meet their existence is ephemeral." He refused to talk on Spain's rela-

THE LOSS OF THE NAVARCH.

Story of the Escape of the Captain and His Wife.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 14.—The captain of the whaler Navarch, which was lost in the Arctic, and his wife, came down on the steamer Humboldt, which arexpenditure of $40,000 for the improve- Captain Whitesides says that the Navarch left San Francisco on March 2 last, and entered the Arctic ocean in July. She was caught in the ice at a point 120 miles northeast of Point Barrow. At first the captain thought the ship could be extricated from its position, but on July 29 he realized that there was no hope of such an event. Signals of distress were holsted in the hope that the revenue cutter Bear or some of the whalers of the fleet would come to their assistance.

The fog came and obscured them for four days. They drifted rapidly northward with the icerbergs. Finally they decided to leave the ship. On August 14 the whole crew took to the small boats and started across the ice. ter dragging the boats for five miles they came to open water and embark-The current caught them at once, and before they had gone ten miles they were in another ice pack. They tifen had only five days' provisions, and they abandoned the boats and started across the ice on foot. They got back safely, and then commenced preparations for a second attempt to save themselves.

All but eight men decided to push across the ice fields on foot. The weather was not bitterly cold, but it was foggy and disagreeable, and rapid travel was impossible. A limited amount of food was carried, for they thought they would surely reach the Bear or one of the whalers within two or three days. The eight men left in the boat thought they were better off there than on the ice, and were left to

Away across the treacherous ice went the thirty-seven men and the woman After one day out the captain and his wife and seven of the others changed their minds about the likelihood of saving themselves by the method they had undertaken. They would come to open water now and then, which impeded their escape. Often it was necessary to go around the massive icebergs. Nine of the party went back to the ship, leaving twenty-nine on the ice. Nothing has been heard of the twentynine men since that day, August 12.

The party got back to the ship safely and on August 14 made another start with eight in the party-Captain Whitesides, his wife and six men. They took a small canvas boat, into which they put a week's provisions. got into clear water in a few hours, and, paddling through the fog and darkness, avoided as best they could the drifting ice. They pushed on for hours. Finally they could go no further, and they got out and walked over the ice.

For sixty hours they kept on, first walking and now taking to the small boat. At last land was sighted. land proved to be Copper Island, a bardesolate island, from which position they were rescued the following day by the Bear. Captain Whiteside thinks the twenty-nine men left on th ice are surely lost.

CONDUCTORS

THEIR EXCURSION FROM SPRING. FIELD TO MOUNT WASHINGTON.

"Among the Clouds" of September 13 of a very pleasant excursion of the Independent Order of Railway Conduc-

The excursion of the Independent Order of Railway Conductors, which left Springfield, Mass., at 12:37 Saturday afternoon on the New York express for Fabyan's, had over one hundred in the party, and they had a splendid trip, reaching Fabyan's at 7:30 p. m. They came under the management of Mr. A. G. Bennett, a veteran conductor on the give an "at home" to-morrow from 4 Athol branch of the Boston and Albany until 6 o'clock. Their marriage took railroad, who has been the conductor of the morning train on that road since the day of opening. The party were met at Sugar Hill station by Mr. George F. Miller, the White Mountain agent of the Boston and Maine railroad, who accompanied them to the Fabyan house, where they are to remain until this morning.

At 8:45 yesterday morning they left Fabyan's for the summit of Mount J. N. Dick of East Haven. Time, 2:4 Washington, Mr. Miller accompanying This was a scratch race, open to all. the party and giving them much interesting information on the way up. Superintendent Horne of the Mount Washington railway came to the summit with them and showed them much attention and made the trip exceedingthe thanks of that institution for the ly pleasant. It took three trains on the co-operation of the citizens and the Mount Washington railway to take the Mount Washington railway to take the party up the mountain.

At the summit they had a magnificent view, it being one of the very best days of the season. In fact, there have not been more than two days all summer equally as good for distant views. There was a faint glimmer of the ocean on the eastern horizon, which two hours before their arrival was in plain view. To the south, west and north there was the grandest view of the season. Killington Peak near Rut-Mountains; Jay Peak, on the northern borders of Vermont, stood forth in all their grandeur. Way beyond Camel's Hump in the Adirondacks, 135 miles distant, there was a faint outline of Whiteface. In the southern part of New Hampshire, 104 miles distant, Monadnock was rather indistinctly seen. Every mountain summit within this radius was never seen to better advantage. In short, with the bright sunlight, mild temperature, which had risen from 30 degrees at midnight to 46 when the party arrived, and the clear atmosphere, it was an ideal day on Mount Washington. The visiting party were made familiar with the many points of interest, both near and distant, by the editor of "Among the Clouds," who will soon close his twen-

Leaving the summit, after having had most delightful time, they went back to the Fabyan house for dinner. At 2 clock they took a special train through the Crawford Notch and returned in time to take another for the Profile house, where they had a glimpse of the wonders of that famous place and of our "Grand Old Man of the Mountains." On coming back to Fabyan's for the night they were indeed well satisfied with their day of sightseeing in the White Mountains, an occasion long to be remembered.

A HAPPY ENDING.

It is announced that President Andrews of Brown university has withdrawn his resignation. This announcement will be very pleasing to many who have hoped that the affair would end in peace with honor. It has so ended. Free thought is all right, and free speech is all right, when not too free and frequent. President Andrews' feelings have been dealt with in the kindest and most considerate It has been made plain that money is not more valuable to an institution of learning than untrammelled thought and unobstructed speech. And if there was anybody who didn't act wisely in the beginning of the trouble everybody has acted wisely at the end Wisdom is now justified of her children and all is screne and promising.

Every member of the Village Improvement Society of New Haven should "do his darnedest" in these days pulling at every stitch, you have the to think up something that will help redress of braiding all the seams the village. ## A WINGLESS ANGEL.

Any man who is in love can testify that there is at least one angel without wings, but such testimony would not count in a controversy which is now going on in New York. John E. Mc-Intosh ordered a window for St. Mark's church, Syracuse, from Miss Mary E. Tillinghast, artist in stained glass, and agreed to pay for said window the sum of $500. Miss Tillinghast constructed the window in accordance, as she alleges, with plans and specifications approved by Mr. McIntosh. Mr. McIntosh paid $150 on account of the price of the payment of a large part of this tax by window, but refuses to pay the balance assigning his property during life to his of Miss Tillinghast's claim on the ticular: The plans and specifications call for three angels (one floating in The experiment of carrying bicycles the air, two standing on the ground) in on trolley cars in San Francisco has the right hand panel of the window. proved highly successful. To the Editor of the Journal and Courier: An article in a London paper (The Mail, August 14), which commenced words, "The Parthenon is newspapers and produced a painful impression. The worst of it is that the article had truth in it, but it is not entirely true. When in Athens in 1895 I saw the scaffolding of the great beams erected to enable the architect to replace some marble blocks of the architrave that were broken by an earthquake and took note of the sad fractures that appealed even to the eye of a spectator from below. Splinters of stone newly split off lay around. But the building did not appear at all like tumbling down. From the sturdy naitself together by the perfect character

A succeeding shock of earthquake in 1896 did damage these fine sculptures that remain on the Parthenon. Sometimes the whole head of a horseman is gone and the white of the broken place shows amid the old black carving. Yet the alarm note raised by the writer in the Mail in regard to the rottenness of the juside and interior stones of the architrave is somewhat overdone, of the building is sensationally over stated, as will appear from a following letter by one who is the first authority on this subject, and who has nade a life-long examination of the Parthenon in all its architectural hearings, lines and aspects; and this letter ought to go wherever the other article of the Mail has been published, in order to do away with unnecessary apprehension, and, at the same time, to draw attention to the reasonable need of doing something of a permanent nature to secure the welfare of this, the most interesting and beautiful structure on earth. Of course a tremendous earthquake or bombardment of the ruthless Turk might topple it downwhich heaven forfend.

J. M. HOPPIN. To the Editor of the Mail:

Sir: In your edition of the 14th inst. a correspondent from Athens gave a very alarmist account of the Parthenon. That the Parthenon urgently requires some considerable re-pairs I quite agree. The examination of the temple with a view to these repairs was the object of an express journey which it was my duty to make, having been invited by the Greek government, in concert with two other architects-a Frenchman and a Germanfor the purpose of advising them or this very point, and in the spring of last year I was engaged at Athens for about a month on that duty. If, as I trust, the Greek Archaeological society notwithstanding the recent, and, I fear I must add, the still continuing calam ities of the country-are able to com-plete the repairs which they had undertaken to carry out. I believe the conservation of the building may confi dently be left to a future generation There is a tolerably full account of the state in which I found the building in a paper read to the Royal In stitute of British Architects last May It was reported at some length in the Times of May 18, and fully published in the Builder of May 22 last,

Your obedient servant, P. O. PENROSE, Architect, Colebyfield, Wimbledon, Aug. 19.

GOLD NUGGETS OF CALIFORNIA

The largest nugget found in California appears to have been at Carson Calaveras county, in November 1854. It was a lump some fifteen inches long by six wide and four thick, weighing about one hundred and ninety-five pounds troy, and worth over forty-three thousand dollars. It was, perhaps, the third richest gold nugget ever found. the largest being from and said to have weighed over four hundred pounds troy, and the second from Ballarat, Australia, found in 1859, and weighing two hundred and twenty-four pounds troy. The next largest in California was taken in 1860 from the Monumental Quartz mine at the Sierra Buttes, in Sierra county, and weighed one hundred and thirty-three ounds troy. A nugget containing sev enty-five pounds of gold was said to have been found by William Guinac at (just after a century run)—'I tell you 1848. In 1855 a nugget was found worth what, if I had to give up either I'd ten thousand dollars at French Ravine, in Sierra county, where another had been found in 1851 worth eight thousand dollars, and still another in 1850 worth nearly five thousand dollars. In 1858 a nugget weighing over fifty pounds, and containing over eighty-five hundred dollars worth of gold, was found by a Mr. Strain about half a mile east of Columbia, in Tuolumne county, on a trail leading up the slope of a hill, where it had been repeatedly passed by others. In the same year a nugget of about the same size found by a Mr. Willard on Feather river. In 1867 a boulder of gold quartz was picked up at Pilot Hill, El Dorado county, worth eight thousand dollars. In 1851 a Mr. Wheaton found a nugget worth nearly five thousand dollars at Holden's Garden in Sonora, Tuolumne county, and in 1859 a Mr. Virgin found one worth about seven thousand dolars at Gold Hill, near Columbia. In 1851 a resident of Sonora, in taking an early Sunday morning walk among the hills surrounding the town, struck his foot against a large stone. He ought, perhaps, like the melancholy that was very far removed from that of a sermon, when, suddenly observing that it was a great nugget with much more gold than quartz in it, he affect tionately picked it up and carried it ome with a considerably lighter step than he had gone out. It is said of another resident of Sonora that one morning, after a very heavy rain, while leading his mule attached to a cart up he principal street of the town, struck a large stone, and, upon stooping down to remove it out of the way found it to be a solid nugget of gold of about thirty-five pounds weight. Hundreds of people had been traveling over it daily. The discovery created s great an excitement that in less than an hour the whole of that part of the town, including the street, was staked off in mining claims. There were a considerable number of other large fit places not anticipated by general nuggets found in different parts of the state, among which was one at Dutch Flat, in Placer county, worth over fify-seven hundred dollars; one near Kelsey's, in El Dorado county, worth forty-seven hundred dollars, and one near Michigan Bluffs, in Placer county, worth forty-two hundred dollars, while of smaller ones the list increased as the sizes diminished. The first piece of gold picked up by

Marshall in the Colma mill-race is said to have been a small piece worth only fifty cents, and the second is said to have been worth five dollars. It is not known what became of either of them for the gold made into a ring by Sutter and by him called the first gold, con sisted of pieces subsequently picked up The first large nugget was discovere in the summer of 1848 by a soldler Stevenson's regiment who, while ridin along the Mokelumne river, stopped t drink at a little stream where he found tumbling down. From the sturdy na-ture of the Doric architecture holding and twenty-five pounds. He hastened with his prize to San Francisco and of its construction, no one could ap- placed it for safe keeping in the hands

e, that is, in the ordinary course of sent it east, and it helped confirm the at Spring Gulch, near Columbia, in Tuolumne county, and became so excited over the discovery that he was pronounced insane and sent to Stockton. The nugget, or its proceeds, were afterwards forwarded by the French consu in California to the family of the unfortunate man in France. But the most remarkable story about a nugget vas told of another and probably on of the largest pieces found. It appears to have been discovered by three of four men who were not disposed to place much confidence in anybody, o even in one another. In bringing them prize to San Francisco, where it was exhibited, they guarded it night and day It was afterwards carried to the east ern states and exhibited; but there the owners quarrelled and got into a law suit, in the course of which the magnif. icent specimen was eaten up in the way of costs and expenses,-Hittell's Histo ry of California.

STATE LEAGUE.

Singging Match at Torrington. Torrington, Sept. 14 .- Pitcher Kennedy, who started in to pitch the second game for Derby, this afternoon, made a record of the season, as in the first inning with nobody out the Torrington team made fourteen runs, However, as Manager Denny was not playing for darkness because he did not want to stay in town over night, he substituted Lawson and only twelve runs were made in the rest of the game. Houle made three home runs in first inning and the only thing that prevented him from making others was that he did not have a chance to bat, The two games were very poorly attended. The score:

Great Joy at Willimantic.

Willimantic, Sept. 14.-The baseball 'fans" who have been very much in evidence here this season gave full vent to their enthusiasm to-night, when the Willimantic team returned bearing the laurels of victory won from the Athletics of New London. The game was the third of the series in which each nine had one game won to its credit, and was to decide the amateur championship of the state. It resulted 3 to 0 favor of Willimantic.

When the news of the victory was received here preparations were at once made to give the boys a royal reception and upwards of 2,000 people gathered about the railroad station awaiting the arrival of the train. When the team arrived a procession was formed headed by a brass band and a continuous blaze of red fire they were escorted to the hotel where the spread was awaiting them.

It is understood considerable money changed hands on the result of the game.

What we said last week we wish to repeat and emphasize:

A manufacturing business, protected by United States patent, and trademark. Established over 20 years, and showing a net profit of over $100,000. Only $5,000 capital required.

There is a good stock of goods on hand, with a demand from the best jobbling trade all over the United States, Satisfactory reason given for selling. Money to Loan in sums to suit. On our entire stock of Carpets, Linoleums, Oil Cloths, etc., we propose to give our patrons the benefit of our early selections on the old tariff basis, and NOT raise the price.

There are two ways to be economical, --- one is by spending little money, the other is by getting the best goods for your money.

When you buy here you practice both economies.

Clara Barton, President of the Red Cross Society Indorses Dr. Greene's Nervura.

The Indorsement by the Red Cross Society of Ur. Greene's Nervura Means Everything to those Who Need Medicine, for the Whole Aim and Object of the Society Is to Relieve Suffering.

Clara Barton, Head of the Most Benevolent Order on Earth, and Best It Begins To-Day and Will Continue Known Woman in the Whole World, Thus Gives the Encouragement of Her Own Word to Every Sufferer that Dr. Greene's Nervura will Give Back Lost Health and Strength. One Has Only to Use It to be Well and Strong.

Why will people continue to suffer and drag out an unhappy and miserable existence of sickness, pain, weakness and debility when there is a remedy sure to cure? Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is pronounced on every hand and by all classes of people to be the most wonderful cure of ordiscase, br. PICTURED THE KLONDIKE. "Klondike and Alaska" was the in teresting theme of F. C. Southard's stereopticon lecture at the Hyperion last evening. Mr. Southard treated his subject in a manner at once instructive and interesting to those who had as sembled for the purpose of hearing something of this distant gold field The pictures shown by Mr. Southard were excellent, being carefully chosen for the purpose of exhibiting the salient features of the country. In the course of his lecture Mr. Southard gave many facts about the country and the difficulty and cost of reaching the Klondike

He was broad-minded, manny, and noises. He was liberal in spirit and generous to a fault. He was as loyal to the state in civil affairs as he was true to his country in its time of trial, and he was ever rendy to draw his sword in defense of the weak and down-trodden and for the support of the right.

He was an eminent jurist; a loyal and loveable associate; a true comrade; a kind and loving husband and father. In this Brief tribute but little can be expressed; much must be left unsaid. But to those who knew him as we knew him, no record is needed to keep green in memory the remembrance of this rare man, soldier, and jurist, one of nature's noblemen, grand and irreproachable. Dr. W. # Brandreth's Pills

The difference between these pills and all other medicines is told in the following statement of facts:

1st. They have been in active demand in the markets of the world since 1770. or for nearly one hundred and thirty years.

2d. They are purely vegetable, and are made of the purest and highest class drugs obtainable.

3d. They are kept for two years in our storehouses after being made, and no pills are sold until they are Two YEARS old. This allows them to become thoroughly mellowed and makes of them the very best and safest cathartic medicine that it is possible to procure.

4th. They never become inured to the system; that is, the same dose will always produce the same effect. This cannot truthfully be said of any other medicine. There are others who claim it, but demonstrations show it to be true only of BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

5th. They never produce griping or pain unless the stomach is in a very acid condition, and then only if the dose is a large one. In doses of one or two pills they never cause pain or other inconvenience.

6th. One pill taken after a heavy meal will relieve distress immediately.

7th. Brandreth's Pills are composed one-third of the best extract of sarsaparilla that can be made. It is highly concentrated and it makes of these pills the best blood purifiers that you can get, one 25-cent box containing more of the active blood-purifying principle of sarsaparilla than a dollar's worth of any liquid preparation in the market.

5th. One or two, taken every night, will cure rheumatism in almost every

9th. They are a positive and effective remedy for constipation and for all the long list of ills that follow in its wake-such as dyspepsia, dizziness, drowsiness, coated tongue, foul breath, headache, pain in the stomach, etc. Take one or two pills every night-one is usually enough-and be certain that a cure will follow.

10th, They are the best complexion pills. After you have taken them for a few nights, your skin will assume a wholesome, healthful color, your eye a brilliant lustre, and sallowness and pimples will disappear.

11th, BRANDRETH'S PILLS NEVER injure-you are always in better health after taking a dose-they are the safest medicine to give children and women in delicate health. One pill is usually sufficient.

12th. No medicine is made with such infinite care as BRANDRETH'S PILLS -no medicine but BRANDRETH'S PILLS is kept for Two YEARS before they are boxed to be sold.

13th. Except in sudden and acute sickness, when the dose should be from four to eight pills, the best results are obtained by taking one or two pills every night for a week or two. They act on the liver and leave that organ in a perfectly healthy state, and when your liver is right your blood is pure, and you are well. Don't bully your liver with powerful medicine, but coax it with BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

14th. BRANDRETH'S PILLS are sold throughout the world, with and without sugar coating. They never fail to do their work.

Mr. Parsons died about 5 o'clock yesterday (Monday) afternoon at his old home in Windham Center, where he performance of "The Paris Doll" at had been living since his return to Con-Hartford last night 'phoned that Vernecticut on August 9. His death resulted from cancer of the stomach, with which he was quite seriously ill when he came back. His age was sixty-one years.

He was a son of Peter O. Parsons and was born in Buffalo, N. Y. In his early boyhood his parents came to majority he became a clerk in the Windham bank, of which the late Samuel Bingham was cashier. In 1853, while young Parsons was holding this position, and sleeping in the bank, it was entered one stormy night by four burglars. Young Parsons was gagged and bound. The burglars secured $30,-000 and fled in the darkness. Parsons succeeded in freeling himself after a short time and gave the alarm. The burglars were captured the following day in Norwich, and all of the money was recovered except about $3,000.

A few years later Mr. Parsons removed to Hartford to take his position of teller in the Aetna bank, organized as a state bank in 1857, and as a na tional bank in 1865. He left the bank to go to Boston in the insurance business, and remained there until about 1873, when he came to Hartford as president (succeeding Samuel E. Elmore) of the Continental Life (organized in 1864), whose control had passed to a considerable extent into the hands of Windham county men and personal friends of Mr. Parsons. The wreck of the company in 1887 was followed by the flight of Mr. Parsons. Only a few intimate friends knew where he went. It has been stated that in recent years had been engaged in the lumber business in Canada.

Mr. Parsons leaves a widow, who was Miss Hannah Gray, daughter of Squire Gray of Windham. He also leaves a son, Walter S. of Inglewood, N. J., and two daughters, Katherine, wife of the Rev. William Kelsey (formerly of Windham and now of Boston), and Charlotte, who is unmarried.

About a month after this interview I received a letter from him telling me to come to Lawrenceburg on a certain miles, and I would arrive at a house with a well on the side of the road that had a long sweep over it. After passing this about one hundred yards I was to take a path leading up a hollow to the right, follow this path about a mile until I came to a cross-hollow, turn up the right-hand hollow, and blow my whistle and he would meet me. We hired horses at the livery stable, and after supper sallied forth. We had but little difficulty in finding the rendezvous and our guide, though the latter black and sheepskin whiskers as to be unrecognizable, to me at least, My first interrogatory was: "Who is run-ning the still?" He declared that he did not know; that he had come upon it ascertain. He carried us through the woods, along what I took to be a hog trail, over an extended ridge, down into a ravine, where we found a small branch a couple of feet wide and as many inches in depth. Turning up this and following it for several hundred yards, we approached a deep cove, the adjacent hills arising probably one hundred feet. Stopping us in front of a heavy undergrowth springing from the swamp formed by the branch spreading out over the bottom, he told us that it was about one hundred vards beyond on the opposite side, the guide and myself going up to the right. See to Your Digestion.

Not one person in a thousand knows that the cause of billousness is the clogging of the liver by the plosons of indigestion. Nor that the only proper cure for it is a tonic to aid the stom-But modern medicine declares the truth of it. And the Shakers have proved it by the wonderful success of their Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Undigested food ferments and putrefles the stomach, and the poisons of putrefaction clog and paralyze the liver, after which they find their way into the blood.

Here is the true explanation of all the distressing disorders and complications caused by indigestion.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is the only tonic cordial which aids the stomach in a natural way to digest its food. By this means it cures indigestion, restores the liver, and frees the body from polson and disease, Headache, dizziness, neuralgia, men-

Another Substantial Advance in Stocks Took Piace Yesterday.

New York, Sept. 14 .- To-day's operaions have resulted in another substantial advance in the level of prices on the stock exchange. There was some talk during the morning of the existence of a powerful bear pool which was prepared for extensive operations for decline. The supposed prestige of this combination coupled with the fact that London prices came lower this morning, apparently because of doubts raised by yesterday's reaction here, led to the early success of the bear contingent.

The arguments they used were the same as those of yesterday, the likelihood of entanglement over the Cuban question, the danger of yellow fever and in addition the damage done by storm in the Gulf of Mexico. The latter showed its special effect on Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf. St. Paul and Burlington were driven below par and all the grangers declined an average of about 16, while Louisville, Southern preferred and Kansas and Texas preferred were off nearly a point, the latter on profit-taking which continued all day

The whole list receded a fraction Later came denials from Washington on authority quite as weighty as the first assertion that no warlike measures were projected on the Cuban question. The first reports of heavy damage by the gulf storm were also denied. At the same time the marked weakness in the exchange market came into notice, actual rates for both long and short sterling and for cables receding % to % cent. London was also buying quite freely of favorite stocks.

The official reports of wheat's shortage in France and Italy added to the assurance of continued heavy exports of grain to be paid for. The advance in cotton at Liverpool tended to the same end. These indications of a prosperous increase in the balance of trade in our favor led to expressions by foreign bankers that a heavy gold import movement was certain to result and was likely soon to commence

The evidence of the exchange market on this point was strengthened by the hardening tendency of the money market, call loans commanding as high as 3 per cent, and only a few fractional loans being made below 2 per cent. Money continued also to move very freely to the interior. As the general news bearing on the business outlook all continues favorable the prospect of gold imports proved an available means to turn the tide in favor of the bulls. At the same time it was reported from Washington that the differences between the government and the syndlcate organized to purchase the Union Pacific had been arranged and that approval would be given at the cabinet meeting in the afternoon.

It was on this account that Union Pacific became so prominent in the afternoon rise. Its extreme advance was 3% and its net gain 2%. Northwest and Omaha were also notably strong and led to a buying movement as on former occasions, in all the Vanderbilt stocks. St. Paul also recovered from the early depression, advancing 1%. Pacific preferred rose 2 points.

The market reacted to some extent before the close and this, coupled with the early decline, makes the net gains considerably smaller than the extreme advances. Amongst the industrials General Electric, Sugar and the local gas stocks were all notably strong. Net gains over 4 points were shown by Consolidated Gas, Edison Electric of New York and Erie Telephone. Omaha's net advance was 2 and Sugar the same, Chicago and East Illinois preferred showing an equal gain. Cotton Oil, Sugar preferred, Brooklyn Union Gas, Canada Southern, Chicago Great Western preferred, Delaware and Hudson, Erie first preferred, General Electric, Laclede Gas, Lake Shore, Metro politan Traction, New York Central, New York, Chicago and St. Louis secand preferred, Northern Pacific preferred, Northwestern, Pennsylvania Pullman, St. Paul and St. Joe, and Grand Island first preferred showed net gains of a point or over.

The price of bonds fell off at the opening but the market became strong lat-Following are the closing prices re-

Woman's Christian Temperance unions -New Haven union No. 1, Fair Haven union No. 2, and Lucy Webb Hayes union No. 3-was held in the rooms of union No. 2, Grand avenue and Front street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Dr. Mary Moody presided, and Miss Landfear was the secretary. There was a large attendance, and the proceedings were enthusiastic and of an interesting character.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Hutchinson, and singing. "Narcotics" was discussed at considerable length, Mrs. Storer leading in the remarks. It was practically decided to hold a series of three lectures on this subject in different parts of this city, the first to be held in the Grand avenue Congregational church, probably in October.

A committee on scientific temperance work was appointed consisting of Mrs. H. G. Newton and Mrs. Storer. Visits responses were unexpectedly numerous will be made to ascertain if this sort of teaching is being done in the local schools.

It is expected that Mrs. Rice, the national superintendent of Junior work, will address one of the meetings, at which the subject of cigarette smoking will be discussed. This subject was remarked upon by Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Storrer and Mrs. Morrill, and a committee to try and get the law better enforced, consisting of Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Storer, was appointed. It was stated that copies of the law had been posted in stores of Twenty-seventh street. It has a basetobacconists. The New York Yale club is now an established fact, and it is expected that on or about October 1 the clubhouse at No. 17 East Twenty-sixth street will be thrown open, and the organization will enter upon a career as successful as that of the Harvard club, which the Yale men have taken as the model of their own. Last evening's New York Post says of this pleasant new develop-That this result was never attained before is regarded as surprising. in view of the fact that Yale has living in this city and vicinity probably a larger body of alumni that any other university, and in consideration also of the circumstance that the reputation of Yale for sociability among its sons exceeds that of any other institution, being notably greater than that of Harwhich has had a club here for the last ten years. At last, however, the Yale men hereabouts have thrown off the reproach of this lethargy, and have since the 1st of April created the club. That this was a work of some magnitude will be readily understood all who have undertaken a similar task. It involved many meetings, much correspondence, a great deal of planning, and not a little business ability The history of the inception and carry-ing out of the enterprise is as follows:

The idea may be said to have been the product of the younger men. The interest of the older men was not hard to enlist, for it was palpable to them that the Yale Alumni association, the only organization of Yale men in the vicinity, could not with its four meetings yearly meet the wants of graduates whose desire was to see each other often, and work constantly together for the mutual interest of themselves and alma mater. The notion of the club received a great impetus when, upon inquiry, it was found that in the city and vicinity were living not less than 1,500 and perhaps as many as 1,800 graduates. It was recognized also that not all Yale men were rich enough to afford membership in the University club while others had not been long enough out of college to render them eligible there—even supposing that the University club could take the place of an exclusive Yale club. It was seen that a Yale club on the economical basis Insurance & Loans, Chas. Wilson&Co. the advantages of club-life many who

So, with little loss of time, a number of the younger graduates went around with subscription papers, and in a few days had obtained about 200 signatures. Encouraged by this beginhunting and fishing. He is a son of the ning, they then prepared and sent out to a selected number of graduates in Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mautte of this the city and vicinity a circular in which They report having the usual features and restrictions.

There was some opposition on the part of a few who did not quite comprehend what was intended, and were prepossessed with the idea that the proposed club might prove hostile to the interests of the associa. However, a large majority of Small sections of iron for the Grand | those present were heartily in favor of passed approving its formation, and directing the executive carry out the plan. It was not, however, so much to gain the approval of the association as a body that the subager Hubbard installed a new corn beef ascertain thus conveniently the sentiments of the individual members. Co-operation, not competition, was the idea of the initiators of the club, but it was foreseen that in time the effect of its successful operation might be to render the association superfluous.

Having ascertained that opposition was limited to an insignificant number and having in the meanwhile swelled the list of signers to 620, about twenty of the principal promoters got together in the latter part of May and appointed committees of organization. During the rest of May, and up to the 10th of June, the members of the committees worked hard, drafted a constitution. had the club incorporated, chose a provisional council, and elected officers to serve until the first annual meeting of the fully organized club, which was adjourned from June 10 until autumn. On the 8th of July such progress had been made that another circular was sent out to all those who had signified an intention of joining, informing them of the successful organization of the club and of their status as duly qualified to be members. At about the same time a circular was sent to about 400 others, who had not yet signified any intention of joining. Both of these communications were dispatched at an unfavora-ble time, many of the persons to whom they were addressed being out of the city-some where they were not likely to receive mail for weeks-while the demand for money made in each case militated against prompt and proper answers. But notwithstanding all this, and the further fact that the club had no real existence except on paper, the and gratifying.

Thus, by the middle of July, the pre liminary committees and officers felt justified in leasing a house. The house committee had been busy in the meantime, and had found a place of settlement which seemed, under all the circumstances, almost real. This was the large and handsome private residence situated at No. 17 East Twenty-sixth street, facing Madison Square on the side. It is twenty-six feet in width and is an unusually deep house, extending to within a short distance of ment and four stories. It was found to be so adapted to the purposes of the ed remarkably well and that there was club that very little alteration would be necessary, while nothing in the nature of repairs was needed. The house will provide a sufficiently large dining room, two sitting rooms, a billiard room, a library, a writing room, sever-There is a great call for books and old al sleeping rooms on the upper floors, and servants' quarters. It is intended to maintain a restaurant in which will be served a table d'hote dinner at a very reasonable price, and also a breakfast of a light order-following the example of the more conomical college clubs, the special object being to furnish a place where the younger graduates can be comfortably taken care of at a small cost, and at the same time have the company of the older men. The living rooms will be rented out, and a preference will be given to the tenancy of the same younger set. An idea of the founders is to have a large non-resident membership, thinking that the club will form a convenient and appreciated headquarters for the great number of Yale graduates in other parts of the country who come here periodically to witness athletic games or on business or for pleasure. But as yet no effort has been made to get these members, the aim being to reach first those immediately around the city. Afterwards an endeavor will be made to get in as many non-residents as possible, and the most sanguine hopes are en tertained of the benefit to the whole body of alumni and to the university to be derived from the club as a center of Among the adjuncts hoped for in time are a good library and works of art of real merit. Reliance for these are placed upon the generous expressions contained in letters from rich alumni. As this announcement was made, Alderman Pickett rose and said: resolution has not been passed. The last paragraph of section 46 of the charter reads as follows: 'No amount appropriated for any one purpose, whether general or special, shall be used or appropriated for any other purpose except the same be recommended by the board of finance and approved by a five sixths vote of each branch of the cour of common council.' "Last fall the court of common coun-cil appropriated $500 to pay for the hardening of Arch street. Of this amount $97.50 has been spent. This resolution provides that $402.50 or more' shall be spent on Arch street. This is in excess of the appropriation and as this excess has not been recommended by the board of finance, your honor is in error in declaring that the resolutio has passed."

President Lambert stated that the point of order was well taken and that the resolution had not passed.

Alderman Chillingworth: "The gen tleman would be right if he had quoted the charter right. The resolution and order adopted by this board do not appropriate one dollar. They simply provide for the use of money already appropriated. They do not provide for the use of more money than was appro

President Lambert "Does the gentleman from the Tenth appeal from the ruling of the chair?"

Alderman Chillingworth-"I do."

Alderman Brennan seconded the ap-peal and in doing so said: "Why all this dilly dallying? What is back it, is it spite, pig-headedness or what is it? There is surely something back of it all. When the senior member from the Tenth raised his point of order what was back of that? I believe there is a nigger in the woodpile of the city of New Haven and the sooner we get him out and hang him the better."

A vote was then taken on the appeal from the ruling of the chair and the appeal was sustained. The chair then declared that the resolution had passed by a vote of 13-4.

Another matter which roused considerable discussion was the communica tion from the mayor announcing that a government officer would hold on Oc tober 6 a hearing on the proposal to build a drawbridge across West river on Kimberly avenue. The councilmer Monday evening voted to instruct the corporation counsel to appear at the hearing and oppose the building of the drawbridge.

Alderman Pickett moved that the aldermen concur with the councilmen in the matter.

Alderman Rourke thought that this action should not be taken until it was known whether or not such action was desired by the people of New Haven. He thought that a hearing should be held and said that there was plenty of time to hold a hearing before October 6 Alderman Pickett said that the matter had already been fully discussed. He said that a drawbridge over West river was not needed; that such a bridge would only benefit two or three pri vate parties and if they wanted a draw built let them pay for it.

Alderman Chillingworth said that every dollar spent by the public to in-crease the navigation on West river would be for the interest of private in dividuals. If a drawbridge is built it will establish a place for one or two men to tend it, besides the expense of repairs, an additional yearly expense to New Haven, which the city is not now in a position to favor. It was finally voted to concur with the councilmen in directing the corporation counsel to appear at the hearing and oppose the building of a draw-
