Notice

The Christmas furlough period for inmates in Department facilities shall be from Wednesday, December 24, 1980, in the A.M. to Friday, December 26, 1980, in the P.M. Since larger than normal numbers of furlougees will be involved, staggered starting and returning times might be advantageous.

The New Year's furlough period for inmates in Department facilities shall be from Wednesday, December 31, 1980, in the A.M. to Friday, January 2, 1981, in the P.M.

Inmates living in Group Homes may be furloughed from Wednesday, December 24, 1980, in the P.M. to Friday, December 26, 1980, in the A.M. plus the regular weekend furlough. The New Year's furlough period will be from Wednesday, December 31, 1980, in the P.M. to Friday, January 2, 1981, in the A.M. plus the regular weekend furlough.

Dorin J. Polvani
Deputy Commissioner
Evaluation and Inspection

CHESS NEWS

For the last nine weeks there has been a Swiss Chess Tournament in the institution library. This was an eight-round tournament, with each inmate participating playing one game per week. A Swiss Chess Tournament pairs winners against winners in order to establish with precision how each player stacks up against each player in terms of playing strength.

The winners were:

FIRST PLACE	David Kolinsky	$15.00
SECOND PLACE	Henry McLain	$10.00
THIRD PLACE	Edward Thomas	$ 5.00
Fourth	Merton Dennis	a chess book
Fifth	Lonnie Edwards	a chess book
Sixth	William Shelton	a chess book
Seventh	Wendell Wright	a chess book

Anyone interested in future tournaments, see the librarians.

For You and Me,
Love Songs
by Paul Williams

ALL IN ALL

Love is the warmth
that I've felt deep inside you, sharing the silence of the dawn.
Love is the tenderness of lying here beside you, wondering where the night has gone.
All in all, I've had a taste of the good and the bad.
Times spent in love
were the best that I've had.

Love is the taste of your tears on my pillow.
Happiness always makes you cry.
And when your tiny back is bending like a willow, my dreams are chased across the sky.
All in all, we've had a taste
of the good and the bad.
Times spent in love
were the best that we've had.

You are the song
that the world should be singing.
Voices could rise and fill the air.
You are the happiness we all might end up bringing if we could only learn to share.
All in all, we've had a taste
of the good and the bad.
Times spent in love
were the best that we've had.....

Let's Ride

Let's ride aboard a windy day.
We can hide behind the clouds and disappear.
Sunshine can be so near.
It's a crime to throw your time away when the world is ours-and there's so much to see....

Would you like to run away where the grass is tall and summer's in the air?
Just let me take you there.
We can try to find a hideaway where the rain is warm-and happiness is free....

California Roses

You found a friend in the lonely night
when you took my hand and it felt just right.
Well, I knew even then you were just what I been lookin' for.
Oh, if you could learn to depend on me,
I would show you the strength of a great oak tree.
I'll be more than a friend and you won't be alone anymore.....

Voy cosechando azules en el azul escueto de la zona del trópico.
Los campos, invadidos por vegetales masas, denuncian el secreto de abril, el de los fuertes y lubricos sentidos.

Por tante azul, los aires se muestran exaltados; palpita, en expansiones gezasas, la arboleda; y revelanse lúcidos e hirvientes los poblados, de los que se desprende brillante polvareda.

Vibra el azul, nutrido de fuerzas
y alberozos, sobre la verde isla.
Refulgen escarlatas.
Esplenden amarillos y azules. Toques mezas tienen en los jardines las resurrectas matas.

Algunas flores, tumbidas y azules sus corolas, se inmargen en las luces magnéticas del día.
En las riberas cálidas su azul curvan las elas.
Dice el azul su aérea, compleja, sinfonía.

PATRIA

Mirarte hasta conocerte
abierta sobre las aguas, adivinarte el camino
de geza, de tronchada.

Desde la punta del Yunque hasta el mar que te socava, el estrage de mis ojos,
la anulación de mi calma.

Te busco per descubrirte:
Celen perdido en mi barca.
Del guayabal a los techos, del pez a la encrucijada.

Te tengo vista sin nombre;
te interroge madrugada, arrebo o encendimiento guitarra de pez o lanza.

Te quiere ver en tus hombres carne viva, revelada.
Te desconoce su asombro:
te tienen y no te alcanzan.

Hey te entreveo berrosa
y es tu destino ser clara.
Te oigo disuelta en veces que te empañan la alberada.

Dónde el que te sabe entera desnuda y descubijada, tecada de claridades sin el aire que te tapa?

Asirte como un hallazo
definitivo y sin tasa, ser indígena en tu sueño,
poblador de tu esperanza.

Mirarte hasta peseerte
iluminada en tu hazaña.
Un sele nombre te aguarde:
¡alendra resucitada!

NEW YORK—Nashville isn't the only place that celebrated country music month in October. The Port Authority here staged a three-day series of concerts spotlighting country performers in its main concourse of the new extension building.

The shows were held Oct. 22-24 from 4-6 p.m. daily, with artists Elwood Bunn and his Down Yonder group, Rockytop from Manhattan, and Rhonda Mattern with the City Squares, who performed a square dance exhibition. All shows were free to the public.

Bonneville Will Tape Special Country Events

NEW YORK—It seems everyone is getting into country radio these days. Bonneville Broadcast Consultants, which is best known for its syndication of beautiful music, is introducing special event country music shows.

During Country Music week in Nashville (Oct. 13 to 18) the Tenafly, N.J.-based company introduced "An American Country Holiday," two four-hour country specials, one for Christmas and one for New Year's Day.

The American Country Christmas will include holiday music and interviews with such country stars as Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings, Barbara Mandrell, Eddy Arnold, Tom T. Hall, Oak Ridge Boys, Jerry Clower and the Statler Bros.

Bonneville is mailing demo records and promotional material to more than 2,000 stations. The show is hosted by Kris Kane and is produced by Bonneville's Cross Country Communications with consultation by Dick Broderick, former Country Music Assn. chairman, and Brad McCuen, former president of the Country Music Foundation.

Guccione Starts Penthouse Records

LOS ANGELES—Penthouse Records Ltd. is the newly formed addition to editor/publisher Bob Guccione's empire of Penthouse, Omni and Forum magazines.

Heading up the new Penthouse label is Barney Ales, former president of Motown Records and more recently Elton John's Rocket Records.

His top priorities include marketing and setting up independent domestic and foreign distribution.

Penthouse Records' first release will be the soundtrack from the $17.5 million film "Caligula," written by Toni Biggs. The two-record set features the single "We are One" and the "Caligula" love theme in ballad and dance versions performed by a vocalist named Lydia.

Guccione says, "The new label is in response to inquiries from people who want to buy the soundtrack of 'Caligula'."

According to Ales, "We already have orders for 100,000 records."

"Caligula," a controversial film, has played New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, Portland and Chicago.

Produced by Guccione, the movie has also been successful in France, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and Japan.

The effects of computers on the world are almost limitless. They help researchers to analyze data more rapidly than ever before. They speed business transactions, banking, world trade, navigation, learning, airplane reservations, car rentals and paychecks. They are used more recently for weather forecasting, curing diseases, diagnosing illnesses, controlling traffic signals (in some places), automating factories and assembly lines, analyzing substances, and thousands of other jobs requiring long calculations and fast decision making.

Space program developments for checking the physical conditions of the astronauts led to many medical inventions, including automatic equipment to monitor patients at hospitals. Some of the rocks from the moon contained substances unknown to us. Careful experimentation on those rocks led to important discoveries in medicine, chemistry, physics, metallurgy, alloy smelting and refining, and crystals. Observations made from telescopes in orbit have made clearer shapes, sizes, and distances to other galaxies, as well as speeds of motion of these collections of stars. Equipment left on the moon sends us signals about the changing shapes and sizes of our continents, also helping to eventually predict earthquakes.

What about energy? Solar cells were developed for extracting the sun's energy for NASA. Now, they may turn out to help solve some of our energy needs. Fuel cells were also a NASA invention and generate energy and pure water at the same time. Insulation technology took some giant steps when NASA began work on heat-shields for returning spacecraft. Bearing technology developed by NASA is now used to make car transmissions operate more efficiently.

And, of course, NASA's strive for better nutrition made us all more aware of our eating habits and brought us TANG. What else did all of these discoveries do? They increased our standard of living and made jobs. That helped our economy, trade, and national strength.

Now, NASA's budget is one-quarter what it was in the 60's. Half as many people work for NASA, and, since they aren't spending as much money for equipment, less people are employed at the companies that built that equipment. For example, United Technologies has one-third of the people working on space equipment now, than it had in 1969. Where are those other people? Helping to crowd the unemployment lines, and taking jobs away from still other people.

Space exploration can help solve many of the problems facing the United States. In the short-run, it can create jobs. In the long-run, space platforms can be built to beam energy to Earth and help solve the energy shortage. Asteroids, the moon and other Planets can be mined for valuable metals and other materials. Atomic waste can be transported into space and shot into the Sun, where it will be consumed. Complex and difficult chemical reactions can be carried out faster in the weightlessness of space and aid in development of cures for many diseases, including cancer.

The possibilities are endless, just as they were in 1961 when John Kennedy announced goals for the space program. Who would have imagined that someday watches would display the time digitally, or that ovens would cook food with microwaves, or that a hand-held device with many buttons could be purchased for under $100. to solve math problems or balance checkbooks...

Who knows what future "spinoffs" will come from future investments into NASA? Just imagine !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW YOUR BIBLE ?

" Study To Shew Thyself Unto God, A Work Man That Needeth Not Be Ashamed Rightly Dividing The Word Of Truth "

The following are the answers to last weeks questions.

- (1) False (2) True (3) True (4) False (5) True (6) Yes (7) Yes (8) Yes (9) No
(10) No

For this week we will read Romans 4:9-25

Note: When the scriptures refer to the "Circumcision" it means The Jews, the "Uncircumcision" are the Gentiles, the right of circumcision was given to Abraham after he was "Justified by Faith" as a sign or seal of his right standing by God. Read about this in Gen. 17:4-14. This occurred 14 years after the first promise in Gen. 15.

(1) Was the blessing of justification reckoned to Abraham for righteousness before he had been circumcised? ___ Rom. 4:10

(2) Is Abraham the father of all believers whether circumcised or not? Rom. 4:12

Note: In making application to our day we must note that our position as believers in Christ is neither obtained or made more secure by observing any ordinance or religious rite.

Read Romans 4:13-25 justification apart from the law.

God promised Abraham that from his seed (Decendants) would come forth a great nation (Isreal) and that all the people of the earth would be blessed through it.

(3) Did the promise of God come to Abraham through the law or Faith? ___ V.13'
(The law of Moses came 430 years after God's Covenant (promise) with Abraham.)

(4) The law worketh ___ V.15 (Punishment not promise) It cannot save. It can only condemn. The Promise is linked with "Grace and Faith" not "Law and Works". Law and Grace can never be mixed, for one cancels the other.

(5) Why was God's promise to Abraham such a staggering thing? ___ V. 19

(6) Did Abraham take God at his word? V.20-21 _____

(7) Did God fullfillHis promise? read Gen. 21:1-3 _____

Because of the lack of response from this Bible study, the study will be discontinued after this week. The Following are the answers to this weeks questions- (1) Yes (2) Yes (3) Faith (4) Wrath (5) Because his own body was dead, being 100 yr. old-and Sarah's womb was also dead. (6) Yes (7) Yes

Any description, image or likeness which may be attributed to the essence and nature of God can only be described as mans imagination. For how can the infinite be comprehended by and remain within a finite mind? Get away from that nonsense of looking for God to come out of the sky, on a cloud in the form of flesh and blood, if you want to see God then see him with the spiritual eye, the minds eyes. God has already come. He came through his all embracing revelation and truth revealed unto the prophets, messengers and chosen ones. (Holy Quran 4:23-24, and bible amos 3:V-7 also St. John 4:V-80. In Al-Quran there are many references to the day when man will attain to the prescence of God. This can only be interpreted as attaining to the prescence of manifestation of God. Attainment to such prescence is possible only in the day of ressurection, which is the day of the rise of God himself through his all embracing revelation. To know the prophets is to know God and to obey them is to obey God. This is the day when we shall recieve God as he is. So I say to those who do not believe in God (the unseen Allah) or that which they say they cannot see, open up your eyes to spiritual realities and knowledge, and understanding and you will change that concept.....

Being Watched: Why Weep?
 It's when you think Are we to weep, your not being watched When something of that which we love That you're seen the most, is taken away, When it is He,
 Observed behind the shadow of darkness, Our true love,
 By a diabolical host. Who has the final say.

Our Conduct today determines our tomorrows: He who is boastful and proud:
 Your conduct today Those that walk humble and silent,
 Will determine Allah speaks to their very souls,
 What your tomorrows, Those that step boastfully and proud,
 Will be. Never hear a whisper,
 Most of us, Of Allah's enlightening word..
 Will die,
 From living foolishly...

The same old day, The same old way: The things we take in:
 Do you know why? Do you remember?
 you feel it's the same old day, What you hear,
 It's because you repeat things, More than what you read.
 Repetitiously in the same old way.. Be careful of your intake,
 It's a mind,
 You do feed...

Life sometimes Is: Those that see:
 Life is sometimes All are lost,
 A lovely picture, Except those that see Turned upside down, and remember me God...
 Or a beautiful smile
 Which has become a frown.. All Sub. By Michael Sistrunk.

Sergeant Lee Marvin kills a German soldier on a World War I battlefield in France. Back in the trenches he learns that the war has ended, and killing the German soldier was not an act of war, but murder.

Nearly 25 years later Marvin is the sergeant of an infantry squad in the U.S. Army's First Division—"the Big Red One." As Marvin leads the young "wetnoses" through battles at Sicily, Normandy, Kasserine Pass, Belgium and Czechoslovakia, only four survive—Robert Carradine, a pulp novelist; Bobby Di Cicco, a streetwise ex-saxophone player; Kelly Ward, a pig farmer; and Mark Hamill, a sensitive artist who repeatedly finds himself frozen when faced with battle.
