THE WINDS ALTOGETHER TOO LIGHT AND SHIFTY.

Boats Four Miles from Home at End of Time Limit, Shamrock Leading by Quarter of a Mile-Challenger Leads Thrice and Columbia Twice-Close Together Most of the Time-Shamrock a Great Light Weather Boat.

New York, Oct. 3 .- As the sun set, a great ball of fire, behind the Navesink highlands and the sparkling stars came out into the flawless heavens, the biggest crowd of sightseers and yachtsmen who ever sailed down to Sandy Hook to witness the attempt of a foreign mug-hunter to wrest from America the yachting supremacy of the world, to-day returned to New York crestfallen and disappointed. The winds from the cave of old ocean had proved throughout the race. Though the too light and shifty and the first of the Shamrock was first across the line by too light and shifty and the first of the international series of 1899 between the two greatest racing machines ever produced by England and America degenerated into a drifting match, and had to be declared off because neither could reach the finish line in the time alloted by the rules.

Race Declared Off.

To avoid just such winds as occur-red to-day in which luck and not the crew and yachts win, the rules provide that if one of the gladiators does not finish within five and a half hours, the race is declared off. So at the end of twelve-story building, and that the frai the time this evening when the yachts hulls were bowling along under the pres-were still four miles from home with sure of 14,000 feet of canvas. the Shamrock leading by something more than a quarter of a mile the committee officially declared that there had been no race. The yachts were then taken in tow by their respective tugs and brought back to their anchorage inside Sandy Hook. The clean limber racers had sailed out this morning fresh for battle, but the sea had refused them a field of conflict. Under the rules, the first race is now postponed for two days or until Thursday.

The Ony Promised Well.

The day promised well at first, the sea was smirched with a few dirty clouds but it was clear enough so that the thousands of spectators who lined the Jersey shore could see almost every foot with whitcaps here and there and a the Jersey coast with the intention of fairly fresh breeze blew out of the getting the wind astern and running north-northeast, but after the American defender Columbia and the challenger Shamrock had crossed the line, wind turned fluky and variable and the race was a fizzle almost from the start. But the fluke to-day gave the yachting sharps and the spectators much to think about and some surthe prettier boat, with graceful lines and towering mast. The Irish boat and towering mast. with her broader beam and longer base line looking slower and heavier. Perhaps her green color makes her look clumsier, as if she were forced through the water, while the slim Columbia pierces it like a rapier.

Shamrock Thrice Ahead,

Though indecisive in every respect as to the abilities of the beautiful single stickers to-day's race indicates that the Irish boat with her English skipper and her Scotch crew, is the ablest sloop ever sent across the Atlantic in the hope of lifting the one hundred guinea cup, which the America brought back forty-eight years ago and which has since been successfully defended against the world. During the five and one-half hours' sail, the Shamrock was thrice ahead and twice the Yankes boat showed the way. For the first ten minutes the Shamrock five Columbia's graceful bow showed ahead of the green boat. For forty-five minutes following, the Shamrock led, then for three hours the Columbia and rock led the way. The breeze blew as high as twelve knots an hour and as low as three and shifted about through eight points of the compas.

Experts' Opinions. Each in turn beat the other running before the wind at the various stages of the race, so that many of the exday are disinclined to believe that there is a pin to choose between them. But when the race is closely analyzed, it is absolutely proven that the Columbia showed her superiority at every point of sailing, running, reaching and beating whenever the wind freshened, and that it was only in the lightest of airs that the Shamrock could make headway against her. Both had their shade of good and bad luck. The Columbia had the better of the shifting wind on the run down to the mark and beat the Shamrock two minutes and forty-four seconds, while on the beat home, after one time, the Shamrock overhauled the Yankee and was a quarter of a mile chead when the time allowance expir-

A Clear Field Kept.

The feature of the race which pleased everybody most was the perfectly clear field which was maintained. For the first time this year the government took a hand to prevent a repetition of the unfortunate occurrence which marred the race when the accompanying excursion boats, in their frenzied eagerness to let nothing of the beautiful spectacle escape, crowded down upon the racers until their back wash impeded the fender seem proud of the showing she yacht's progress through the water and made and confident that the cup is caused Lord Dunraven to file his fa- cafe.

mous protest. The government was determined this year that the course should be protected against unofficial trespassers. A flotilla of revenue cut-ters and swift torpedo boats, flying the red-barred white flags, guarded the course, keeping excursion steamers, yachts and tugs at a perfectly safe distance from the canvas-clouded racers.

Exentston Bonts Fenced Off. On the way down they maintained two parallel lines, a mile apart, two line fences, through which none of the pushing, crowding fleet of excursion vessels was permitted to poke her nose. The broad, expansive sea inside, with out wash or swell, was left clear and free for the manoeuvring of the yachts. On the way back the patrol vessels were were equally efficient. When the yachts were on the starboard tack the torpedo boats were in column on the same course the yachts, thus forming a right angle in the hollow of which the yachts sailed When the without embarrassment. altering the direction of the vessels and keeping the excursion boats fenced off. It was only toward the close, when the hope of finishing the race was given up. that the excursion boats crowded about them making straight for home.

The Hace. The course was laid fifteen miles dead before the wind and back again. The direction of the wind carried this course south-southwest from the Sandy Hook lightship almost straight down the Jersey coast to a point off Asbury Park, where the white float with a red ball was placed to mark the turning point The Columbia was admirably handled forty-three seconds, the Columbia's Deer Isle crew of Yanke's wearing their picturesque watch caps in Iselin's colors, were so much handler than their Scotch rivals that they had the Columbia's spinnaker and balloon jib set firs by three minutes. The spectators marveled at the cloud of canvas the big levithians carried. Straight up into the air the sky-scraping yards carried the point of the pyramids of canvas for 175 feet. It is hard to realize that this means the heighth of an ordinary Shamrock Forges Ahead. The twin balloons with their following wind lifted the Columbia along like great gull in the ten-knot breeze and carried her in ten minutes past the Shamrock. But when the wind died to six knots, as it did within a few minutes, the Shamrock forged steadily ahead until at the end of forty-five minutes she led by 200 yards. Then a sudden haul of the wind to the north-northwest reached the Columbia first. The big-bellied spinnaker was taken in, her mainsail was smartly gybed and she passed the Shamrock as if the latter had been moored to her wharf. Instead of a run the canting of the wind now made it a reach for the outer mark, but the of the course. The waves were crested Columbia gradually edged over toward straight before it. The manoeuvre was successfully accomplished after crossing the Shamrock's bow, but just as the spinnaker was set aboard the Columbia the wind canted back to the northnortheast and left her with her cloud of canvas shivering like a collapsed baloon. The Shamrock had started to follow the Columbia's tactics. Twice she lowered her spinnaker boom as if to break out the big sail, but as the wind held from the new quarter she gybed her main boom instead and reached straight for the mark. Columbia's Costly Manoeuvre Although th manoeuvre of the Colum bia had been successful, it was a costly one and she lost several minutes by holding on to her immense canvas in the vain hope that the wind would shift back again. But when she did change her sails, she made up for jost time by outfooting her antagonist. She seemed to skim over the watre, scarcely mak ing a ripple where she entered it and leaving a wake of foam behind her. The Shamrock made more fuss forward and dragged a wave aft. The Columbia was first to the mark and as she rounded the stake boat the excursion fleet gathered there to greet her. They unbottled their enthusiasm and gave her evation from a thousand whistles. The fleet saluted the Shamrock also as she swept around, two minutes and one second later. On the beat home against a head wind the Columbia showed her heels to the Irish boat unmistakably while the wind held. Time after time the Shamrock tried for the weather gauge, luffing, squeezing and pinching until her head sails trembled, but without avail. The Columbia not only held as high, but outfooted her tack after tack. The yachts made a beautiful spectacle as they beat to windward, heeling over to the breeze, the water sliding swiftly back from their shark-like bows. Whenever they got into an unusually high sea the spray went twenty feet into the air. The Flatsh. The Columbia had got a mile ahead and the yachts were away over under the Jersey shore, the breeze again half failed and the Shamrock drew gradually ahead. It was marvellous that in so light a breeze a boat could slip swiftly through the sea. After that the had nothing but bad luck. In addition to her faster footing power in the extremely light air, every puff of the capacrious wind seemed to strike the Shamrock and leave the Yankee boat practically becalmed. Edge as she would towards every streak of wind she seemed upable to find it. The Shamrock gained foot by foot until she overhauled the Yankee, crossed her bows. and when the time limit was up was fully a quarter of a mile ahead. Taken altogether there could not have been a more unsalsfactory race and yet as a result of it, the friends of the cup de-

GREAT SKIPPERS' BATTLE FROM BEGINNING TO END.

Captain Hogarth of Shamrock Tacked Constantly to Get the Better Position but Was Met With Counter Movements by the Columbia-A Great Luffing Match.

New York, Oct. 3.-The Shamrock, towed by the tug Lawrence, was the first of the yachts to leave Sandy Hook bay this morning. She arrived at the whistling buoy, off the east end and the revenue cutters abreast, behind of Gedney's channel at 9:45. The crew began at once to hoist the mainsail. They put two battens in the leach as it went up and at 10:05 a. m. the yacht yachts changed course each vessel of filed away on the starboard tack. On the patrol fleet changed with it, simply board the Shamrock, besides her captains, Hogarth and Wringe, there were Vice Commodore Sharman Crawford and Hugh McGilldowney of the Royal Ulster Yacht club, Sallmaker Ratsey, Navigator Hamilton and Henry F. the end of the patrol lines, many of Lippitt, the last named representing the

New York Yacht club. Columbia at Work. The Columbia, meanwhile, under jib and mainsail, on the port tack came reaching out for the lightship at a ten knot clin. She passed close under the stern of the Shamrock at and stood on to the eastward. On board the Columbia beside C. Oliver Iselin and Mrs. Iselin, there were Captain Nat Herreshoff, William Butler Duncan, jr., Captain Woodbury Kane, Herbert Leeds, Newbury Thorne and Hugh Kenney, secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht club, representing the club on board the Columbia. The wind at this time was northeast by north, blowing about twelve miles an hour. yachts set their club topsalls at 10:30, the Columbia's men handling their sail more smartly than the others. 10:45 the committee boat Walter Luckenbach, in charge of former Commodore S. Nicholson Kane, came to anchor a cable length east of Sandy Hook lightship and immediately hoisted the compass signal D. F. J., signifying that the course would be S. S. W. Two minutes later the Shamrock's crew rigged their spinnaker boom out to port all ready to set that sail. Preparatory Signal. Promptly at 11 o'clock the preparatory signal-a blue petrel-was set on board the committee boat and two red balls were hoisted on the triatic stay. At the same time a tug started to log off the course of fifteen miles to leeward. During the interval of fifteen between the preparatory and the starting signals, the skippers of both yachts manoeuvred to the northward of the starting line. Both stuck close to the lightship and five minutes before the starting signal the balloon jib topsail was sent up in stops on the Columbia's stay. The Shamrock sent up a No. 2 jib topsail about the same time. At one minute before the start the Shamrock was approaching the line from the eastward and the Columbia from the westward. When thirty sec onds were left, the Shamrock, had been coming for the line with boom to port, rounded the west end of the line and began easing sheets. Captain Hogarth, however, had his boat several lengths in the lead and just as the sig nal was given he gybed the Shamrock again, crossing the line thirty-seven sec onds after the signal. The official time of start was: Shamrock, 11:15:37; Columbia, 11:16:20.

Shamrock Gets Better of Start. So the Shamrock had the better of the start by forty-three seconds. the Columbia crossed the line she broke out her staysall and balloon jib topsail The Shamrock broke out her No. 2 jib topsail. At 11:17 the Columbia's spinnaker blessomed out to port and she began at once to overhaul the Shamrock. For some reason Captain Hogarth did not see fit to set the Shamrock's spinnaker until four minutes after Columbia had her's set, but as soon as it was set the Emerald-hued boat began to hold her own with the Columbia, the yachts being then not more than three lengths apart beam and beam. At 11:35 the Columbia's bowsprit was just overlapping the Shamrock's starboard bow, the latter having the off shore berth, but she was unable to hold that position long Shamrock in the Lead, In eight minutes the Shamrock, which semed to hold the wind better, had pulled out fully five lengths ahead of the every minute. Both yachts were heading considerably to the westward of their courses and at 12 o'clock the Shamrock, which had been steadily gaining, was quite an eighth of a mile ahead of the Bristol boat.

Columbia Leads At 12:15 the wind canted to the northwest. The Columbia being inshore caught it first. The crew took in the spinnaker smartly, Captain Barr gybed per to port, trimmed down staysail and balloon jibtopsail sheets and in jus five minutes the Columbia had walked past the Shamrock and was the leading boat. Captain Hogarth gybed the Shamrock, after taking in the spinnaker at 12:16. They set her spinnaker to gtarboard at 12:30 but only for five minutes. Captain Hogarth finding h was losing time, took the sail in smartly and luffed the green sloop across the Columbia's wake, taking a position in

TIME SERVICE GRADING.

Again Adopted by the Board of Police Commissioners At the meeting of the board of police commissioners last night it was voted to re-establish in the department the system of time service grading followed up to the time of the regrading of the members of the force a little more than a year ago. At the time of the regrading, a man after having served in the department for three years and faithfully performed his duty was advanced through a series of time service promotion to the highest grade, A, at the end of the three years. When the regrading was put into effect a year ago last August, a number of men were dropped from grade A to lower grades and the plan of promotion for especially meritorious service only was adopt-Last night two resolutions, each providing for the re-establishment the old time service grading, were in-troduced, one by Commissioner Landers and the other by Commissioner Ullman. The old system will go into effect on January 1, 1900, and at that time all men who have been reduced in grade except for misconduct will be reinstated and time grading will date from that time.

A. N. Farnham and A. T. Graham of Westville appeared before the police board last night and asked that a police signal box be placed in Westville. As the taxpayers of the Westville do not pay city taxes the request could not be granted, but the matter was taken under advisement. It has been suggested that a police signal box could be placed near the city line to accommodate the Westville people, but the police board took no action last night. The finance committee reported to the board the estimates of the money needed for the department for next year, but as the reverting to the old system of grading will increase somewhat the salary account of the department, the estimates were referred back to the committee to revise and report at a special meeting to be held October 10 at The superintendent in monthly report highly commended Patrolmen Curren and Philip Smith and Detectives McGrath and Daly for especially meritorious work during the past month. The report was referred to the committee on efficiency which will probably recommend honorable mention for the men named above. All the commissioners were present at last night's meeting except President Mix.

OVERCOME BY HIS EMOTIONS IN WASHINGTON.

Voice Falls Him as He Turns to Reply to the President During the Presentation of the Sword-A Trying and Triumphal Day-Great Ovation to Ad-

Washington, Oct. 3 .- The culmination of Admiral Dewey's triumphal homeoming was reached to-day in the shadew of the dome of the national capitol. Here he received from the hands of the president the magnificent jeweled sword voted him by congress in commemoration of the victory at Manila bay. This was the official provocation for the ceremony. But mere official sanction could never have thrown into the demonstration the fervor of enthusiasm that was the state reform school, pleaded guilty meted out to the admiral as he appeared and was sentenced to two years and six before the vast audience composed not only of all the highest officials in the land, but also of spectators drawn from every quarter of the United States.

Dewey it was a trying as well as a triumphal day. It has given to few officers in the naval history of the country to sit before a crowd of thousands while the chief of the naval establishment dilated upon their exploints and then to stand before the same crowd to receive at the hands of the people. The strain upon Admiral Dewey reached almost to the breaking point. None by those nearest to him could tell his feelings during the address of Secretary Long, but when he hands of the president no one could mistake the flash of the white gloved hand as it rose to dash away the tears before the admiral came to the rigid attitude of attention before his chief. When it became Dewey's turn to reply his voice falled him and he made the effort twice before his lips would respond. When he did speak his tones were clear and steady, but so low that only those nearest him could hear. As the admiral closed and took his seat he turned to the president and in a tone of quizzical appeal inquired: "Now, really, don't you think I did pretty weil When Secretary for an amateur?" supervisory system in the city schools held another meeting last night and McGraw, the alleged heard Harry W. Asher of the board of education committee on schools and Superintendent Kendall in explanation of the system of supervisors. Mr. Asher was first heard, and in answer to questions by members of the committee said that he thought supervisors were necessary for the welfare of the schools. He did not think that the public schools could be as well served as now in the supervision of musical instruction for less money than it now costs. He thought that a cheaper man could be secured for supervisor, but he did not think that a man with the experience first running of the $20,000 Matron of Professor Jepson could be secured for less money. He thought it beneficial to the children of the city to be infalon and Gulden were scratched, but structed in drawing. He said that under the present system of teaching penof the best two-year-olds in training manship only one copy-book a year was used instead of two, as formerly, and said that the saving of one copy-book for each pupil made saving enough to pay for a supervisor of penmanship. Alderman Brennan of the committee "Does Mr. Kendall have power to discharge teachers without first reporting to the committee on schools? Mr. Asher-"No. sir." Alderman Hogan, who attended the meeting as an interested citizen, at this point asked the chairman of the committee if he would please ask Mr. Asher if the superintendent had discharged any teachers prior to reporting to the committee on schools. Mr. Moran and Mr. Asher objected to this question being asked the superintendent. Mr. Moran stated that Mr. Kendall was responsible to the board of education and that the board would be responsible for his actions Mr. Asher said that the members of the school committee stood ready to answer any questions any one desired to ask. The question was not put to Mr Kendall, and ex-Alderman J. D. Dewell, ir., asked if he was to understand that citizens would not be allowed to question members of the board of education and school officers who appeared before the committee. Mr. Moran again said that questions should not be put to Mr. Kendall by citizens, but to members of the board of education. He said that they would be responsible for the superintendent.

Mr. Dewell asked: "Is not the superintendent, under the charter, relieved of all responsibility to the board of education? Is he not practically under his own control?" Mr. Moran-"We have power to re-control."

The question proposed by Alderman Hogan was not asked, and Mr. Kendall proceeded to tell the committee why supervisors were needed. STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

Important Subjects to be Discussed at Mystic To-Day.

The tenth annual meeting of the Consectiont state board of trade will convene at Mystic at 10:30 o'clock "this morning. After the usual routine business, including the election of officers, several subjects will be considered and discussed. "The Disposal of Sewage and the Pollution of Streams," continued from the last meeting, will be the first. The report of the committee is expected, which consists of Frederick W. Holden, Arthur L. tension on the part of such operators as attribute so great an influence on the prosperity of our home country depending upon the unpleasantness which almost seems certain and the effect of which has in a great measure been discounted for the last three or four weeks between England and the Transvanl, the market after first declines and upon heavy buying brokers usually representing very large interests. very steady and during the day kept on gaining in value of almost all the good stocks, although call money advanced up to 40 per cent. We do not wish to flatter ourselves, but the observations which in our daily communications we have spread before our read ers are carrying us out in the market movements as expressed therein and we believe that once the question assumes a more rational basis which also cannot be very far distant, the sentiment generally will and the good classes of securities will sell on a higher plane of values than ruling now. London again was a selle: in this market, but private cables report a better curb after the regular close and also intimate a more pacific political tone. Developments at home continue of a most favorable nature. Eastbound shipments from Chicago for the week amount to 132,597 tons against 39,718 tons for the same week last year. Exports of manufactured goods during August exceed any pre-vious record and amounted to $34,158,ing to heavy offerings of export bills, actual 4.81 3-8 and 4.85 1-4. Money ranged between 7 and 45 per cent. with most loans at 12 per cent. Wheat is acting easier, there is no export de mand at present prices and the war probability seems to have temporarily spent its force. Cotton has been varia-ble in price, but the undertone is a confident one. The stock market during the last hour in spite of the high rate for money maintained a very steady tone and closes at about the best price of the day. Total sales, 388,909.

Yesterday in conference endeav ored to present communication from insurgent government, which was de Then presented paper signed by ten of the soldiers in which soldiers gave parole; this received and held in abeyance. Insurgent officers then said Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Nelson of structor in that university, has been ensend civil commission for conference, and were informed that it would not be received. They will be sent beyond lines to-morrow.

The whole affair believed to be a ruse to obtain some acknowledgment by United States authorities. All soldiers returned were stragglers from within our lines, captured by robbers. They lad so badly injured Saturday by fall- say they were obliged to sign paroles to secure release, though two refused to sign. The whole affair of no significance; viewed as attempt at masquerading.

FALL PROVED FATAL.

Elderly Colored Woman Died at the Hospital Last Evening.

Mary Glover, a colored woman about fifty years of age, who lived with her brother at 138 Ward street, died at the New Haven hospital last evening from injuries received in a fall about two weeks ago. Monday having grown much worse she was taken to Springside by order of Superintendent Spier of the department of charities and correction. At the Springside hospital Dr. Flynn found symptoms of an injury to the head and saw that she was in a seri-Charles L. Bradley, one of the lead- ous condition. Rare merchandise, culled from every corner of the world, on exhibition and for sale.

The "New Street" never was so broadened beneath a weight of rich Autumn goods---it bubbles over with delightful novelties. Every corner is worthy of long consideration, and every little space is a temptation to spend money. The months we have consumed in preparation for this event have been fully repaid, the store of Ewen McIntyre & Co. has been transformed into a glittering fairy land.

The public are invited to examine our stocks.

In addition to the great gathering of goods in the regular departments, we have secured special and extraordinary features. These will be briefly described below.

A New Furniture Department.

The public of New Haven have long complained of the exorbitant figures demanded on furniture. It was to satisfy the desire for fair and honest prices that we began to handle in a small way the ordinary articles in this line. Our success was phenomenal at once, and limited space alone kept us from enlarging this department. Now, with the whole top floor of our Church Street Store at our disposal, we are prepared to furnish homes at the lowest prices, stock, being low, contains nothing but the latest and most desirable styles.

FOUR ELEVENS START.

Yale Team Ready for To-Day's Game With Trinity. The much talked of plan of running four elevens was put into practice at Yale field yesterday afternoon. Only two elevens were in play at a time, but the members of each were given but ten minutes' practice before they were replaced by other candidates. In this way every candidate got into the play. "Pa" Corbin, Yale's old center on the '88 team, was present and gave the candidates for that position some much desired coaching, in snapping the ball, using the legs, etc. Cunha was present and took part in this as did also McConnell, Wade and Tomlinson, the other candidates.

Yale will play the Trinity college elev-en at the field this afternoon. The lineup will be much the same as in the Amherst game, with the exception of Shattuck and Kiefer, who will play the halves, Neither McBride nor Sharpe are likely to play.

Those of us who had the good fortune to be in New York on last Saturday, will be long in forgetting the many exciting events that occurred that day in The floating banners, the thousands of marching men in uniform, the strains of martial music, the vast throng of people counting up into the millions of September a day long to be rememand people on Dewey day. The people even during the nineteenth century. When the convention opened this Had our hero lost the battle of Manila Connecticut, pointed than the boys from Connectiif the Admiral was any more pleased to reach New York than the Connecticut boys when the damage was finally repaired and the boat at last reached the city. When the accident first occurred, we were told that the damage would be repaired in ten minutes. But ten minutes came and went, and then the minutes went by groups of tens by this time in a state of feverish anxiety. Many crowded about the man who was at work repairing and alternately cheered and cursed him, perhaps to hurry him along, or, possibly because they desired some tangible object upon which to express their feelings. The call to breakfast afforded us temporary relief. Then two or three men lost their hats overboard, while a few others were so accommodating as to quarrel. But as time went on and the boat did not, we gave up in despair and refused to be comforted by such trifling occurrences. A few who tried to drown their disappointment in sleep were stepped upon and walked upon. who tried to be cheerful were sat upon and declared out of order. Finally we were told that it was too late to reach New York in time for the parade and that it was probable we would go at all. All of a sudden not we felt a jar that shook the ship from stem to stern. It thrilled every heart and sent the blood leaping through every vein and a mighty cheer burst from a thousand throats. The paddle was repaired, the steamer swung round to her course, a long line of foam streamed out behind us and once more we were on our way to the parade. We reached New York at about 1:30 p. m., which made us over two hours and a Baptist church, Linus H. Hill and Miss half late, but we did not despair, and Ethel A. Lucas will be joined in wed-lock. Miss Emeline Lane will act as in line and went dashing up the street maid of honor. The braidesmaids will at double quick time, off on a wild Carrie Hill of this place. Frederick were a long time in finding Dewey, but Darrow of New Haven will be best not so very long in finding the parade, man. The ushers chosen are W. Next to them was another large mass of school children singing national air and as the naval battalion swung around the corner it caught the closing words in a mighty burst of chorus, "The Army and Navy Forever, Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," Often during the march we were compelled for a short

It was late in the day when down through the long open street we saw in the distance the white outline of the triumphal arch against a field of amber sky. The sun was very low and shining through a great volume of smoke, which arose from a chimney some distance back in the city. The effect was striking, the upper part of the arch being bathed in bright yellow flickering light. Before entering the archway we caught just a glimpse of Dewey, who saluted each section as it pased him. I think he impressed us He has a fine strong face and a commanding presence. Soon after we passed through the arch, the line began to break and as we turned alone down the street which led to the ship it seemed almost like a dream and as though the great multitude had meltd away into the darkness. Well, it had been an eventful day and we had seen many things to re-, but what impressed me most of all were the people themselves. There was something awe inspiring about that vast multitude and in the roar of voices that went up from that great sea of humanity. It seemed like being in the presence of the very nation itself and listening to its mighty voice, a nation of which Dewey however great, was but a single unit. The army and navy but a fragment, a nation who in the space of a single cen-"lays considerably more than a mil- tury has given birth to great minds by the score, to heroes by the hundred, for the codfish that she doesn't have yes, by the thousand and which will to cackle over every egg," said the live long after the last great triumph student who came from the country."- of the nineteenth century has become a mere record on the pages of history, long after Dewey has passed away and the greeting his countrymen gave has passed from the memory of man. E. PALMER.

COLONEL DANIEL W. BURKE. A Distinguished Officer of the U. S.

Regular Army. Colonel Daniel W. Burke of the Unitd States regular army in which he has served for forty-one years with much nonor to himself and Connecticut, his native state, and who was recently in command of the district of Ponce, in Porto Rico, where the terrible tornado occurred lately, was in town yesterday. He and his family, which consists of his wife and daughter, are in New York city, where they will stay for the present. Colonel Burke is a native of New Haven and attended school at the Jonathan Dudley school, which was on Wallace street, and is also an old Lan-casterian school boy. Many in this city will be glad to greet Colonel Burke, who has won by highly meritorious services the high honor of a colonelcy in the regular army.

Colonel Burke called yesterday on Mr. Robinson, the Orange street crockmerchant, whose wife, nee Miss Neille Crowley, is a cousin of Colonel Burke. Mrs. Crowley's brother. Daniel Crowley, of this city, is an ex-lieutenant of the Governor's Foot Guard. Colonel Burke had the honor of conducting the last fight of our war with Spain. An outline of Colonel Burke's military service follows:: Born in New Haven, Connecticut. Enlisted in the U. S. Army June 10, 1858. Appointed 2d Lieut., 2d U. S. Infantry, July 18th, 1862. Wounded in the battles of Wilson's Creek, Missouri, August 10, 1861; Gaines Mills, Virginia, June 26, 1862; and Gettysburgh, Pennsylvania, July 2, 1863. Commanded a ompany of the 2d Infantry at Fredercksburg, Chancellorsville and Gettysburgh, Brevetted Captain, Major and meritorious services during the War of Rebellion. Awarded a medal of honor

Heavy Frost on Other Side of the River -Peach Dealers Lose Money by It-During the Winter Grace Church will Give an Excellent Program of Musica; Entertainments-Return of Justin B

Great interest was manifested in the Columbia-Shamrock race yesterday afternoon and throngs of people assembled to get news from the contestants. Formerly during these races, bulletins were posted, but there were none yesterday. Inquiries were made by telephone and persons alighting from street cars were importuned for the latest regarding the first race of the series.

Justin B. Rowe of Los Angeles, Col., will return about October 15. He has visited here and in Berlin, where his son is located. Mr. Rowe is in the jewelry business, which he also conducted here for a number of years. He says business is quite good in Los Angeles and the climate is delightful, but if it was not for business he would prefer living in Fair Hayen. His home is in the great fruit raising zone.

At the conclusion of the server at Grace church, Sunday evenes, much praise, and many kind things were said of the choir boys for their wonderful rendition of De Koven's beautiful anthem, "Lest We Forget," and also the singing of "Jerusalem the Golden," by Le Jeune: but the honors were somewhat spoiled for the lads because of the evident feeling among the listeners in a great measure for the beauty the soprano quality. In justice to the boys, Mr. Edgar, the leader, wishes to emphasize the fact that the female portion of the choir furnishes the alto parts alone, all credit other than those parts to the boys and in view of their painstaking efforts and faithful study, should be afforded them. The obligato in "Jerusalem the Golden" was sung by Master Bert Rompf. During the winter the Sunday evening service at the church will be of special musical character each week. The forthcoming selections from comic opera arranged as an "Evening of Fun." will be sung entirely by the members of the choir. The date of the affair will be decided and announced in the dally papers soon, The returns from the entertainment are for the benefit of the choir fund.

Poll's Theater

Poli's bill is drawing tremendous and enthusiastic audiences this week. John Kernell heads his bill with a costly irish monologue. Cushman, Halcourt and Curtis give a fine feature in the act, "The New Teacher," a funny school scene introducing some timeful singing. Hugh Stanton and Florence Modena play the new satire, "For Reform," with capital effect. The Dewey pictures are vivid and interesting and in a day or two more will be added as fast as they are completed. The operators are working night and day on the films. O. K. Sato, the juggler; Blanche King, with song parodies; Barr and Evans in comedy sketch; the Vernons in a ventriloquil act, and Odetta and Delvara complete the bill. Prices, 10 and 20 cents: ladles at matinees, 10 cents.

Well Known Talent Heard at Church | On the New York Stock Exchange, reported by Prince & White's Exchange, reported of the Messiah.

The first of the season's notable must cales was held last evening in the Church of the Messiah. Those who attended, and the number was not small, were well repaid for so doing, for the programme was excellent, some of the best known soloists of the city taking

Miss Elizabeth C. Gaffney sang, and, being her first appearance in New Haven in some time, she was accorded a flattering reception. In her solo, "Just for To-day," in which she was accom-panied on the organ by Mr. Read, so beautifully did she render it that she was compelled to acknowledge the ap-plause with which it was greeted several times. Miss Gaffney took part in the duett "Rose Maiden" with Thomas H. Williams, and in this also her spiendid voice was heard to advantage. Williams' clear tenor voice was heard to advantage in the solo "Whisper and I Shall Hear" and in the singing of the Temple quartette, which rendered several selections and was encored repeatedly. Composing it, besides Mr. Willams, are Frank H. Maurer, Harry Hunie and Charles Wren. Miss Fanny Fern Falk, the well known elocutionist, was heard with pleasure in several selections. Miss Falk seems to abandon herself entirely o her art when on the platform, and the result is most pleasing. Last evening she was presented with a handsome pouquet in recognition of her efforts, H. J. Read's work as accompanist was also worthy of mention. His offertoire, Loretz, was well rendered.

The Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 3.-The disturbed ondition of the foreign markets for securities and the upward tendency of foreign discounts caused a break in change here. The selling movement of stocks were made in that time. day in obscure quarters of the stock list. But prices generally were better latter part of the day the small volume of offerings invited the bidding up of prices. The level of many stocks was carried above that of last night both in the railroads and industrials. No large offerings were brought out by the advance and even the violent upward leap in the money rate to 40 per cent, after 2 o'clock caused only a slight setback in prices. They hardened again and the closing was very firm in an almost stagnant market and only slightly below the best of the day. There is a very fair admixture of net gains throughout the list. The stock G market was strikingly indifferent to the There was considerable gyration. calling of loans in the early hours by national banks whose reserves are be-low the legal limit. But the money rate did not get above 20 per cent. dur-ing this period and at the opening loaned at 6 per cent. Before the afternoon flurry it had fallen back again L to 6 per cent. It was after 2 o'clock when the rate spurted to 40 per cent. Mand then dropped back again before M the close. The ungent need for money seems confined to the stock exchange, and the small disturbances created by to-day's high rate indicates narrow limits of need there. Time loans, though they do not respond to the high rates for call loans, are not offered in large volume. Call ion rates at neighboring financial centers showed somdisposition to advance to-day. But the severe stringency seems confined to New York and to a narrow speculative circle in the stock market.

National Self-Winding Clock Company CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000.

$50,000 of which is preferred, 6 per cent. participating stock.

The NATIONAL SELF-WINDING CLOCK COMPANY has been organized for the matufacture of self-winding clocks, the success of which has been demonstrated for the past three years, and is to be located in New Haven.

The enterprise has been thoroughly investigated by a Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and several prominent gentlemen of New Haven, the results of which investigation have proven very satisfactory, and it is believed that the business can be made very profitable.

The Officers of the Company are: ROLAND S. WOODRUFF, of C. S. Mersick & Co., President. SIMEON J. FOX, Pres. of the Nat'l Pipe Bending Co., Vice President. PERCIVAL L. CLARK, Secretary and Treasurer.

Under the organization the preferred stock is made preferred not only as to dividends, but as to assets, creating the first lien upon the property ahead of the common stock, and is not only to receive 6 per cent, dividends before the common can receive any, but is also to participate equally with the common stock in any additional dividends made.

A very careful and conservative estimate of the amount of business which the Company can do, based upon the experience of the past three years, shows that the net searnings will be sufficient to give the preferred Stockholders from 8 per cent. to 14 per cent.

200 shares of the Preferred have already been subscribed and the balance of 300 shares is now offered for subscription by H. C. WsARREN & CO., 108 Orange St., where copies of the articles of incorporation, prospectus and subscription blanks can be obtained.

Subscription books open on Monday, September 25th, and close on October 10th, 1899.

25 Per Cent, payable at the time of subscription; the balance when stock is issued.

tured by that well-known firm is a preparation from the very best cocca beans, and contains all the valuable nutritive and stimulating properties natural to cocoa. The cocoa-bean contains an alkaloid called "Theobromine," which is the principle of the "cup that cheers, but does not enebriate."

The great point of difference between the stimulating properties of alcohol, and that of theobromine is, that the use of the former causes a subsequent depres-sion, which is proportional to the amount of stimutation it has previously brought about; the use of the latter (theobromine) is unattended by such un-pleasant aftereffects. Of course, only a first-class cocoa, such as Van Houten's will work in the aforesaid manner, That goesa has been described as "A triumph of science!" It is quite pure, extremely soluble, and easy of assimilation and digestion by the weakest stomach. It costs but a triffe, being less than one cent per cup; and it is the simplest drink to make ready, of the whole catalogue of possible beverages. It smells so good, and tastes so delicious, that when you try it you will certainly exclaim: "Ah! indeed, it is a triumph of science!" HAVE YOU TRIED VAN HOUTEN'S EATING CHOCOLATE?

CITIZENS MAY ASK QUESTIONS

Aldermain Staub said the committee has decided to hear one side of the case and then let the public state their side. Alderman Hogan-"I ask the gentleman to qualify that. What does he mean by 'One side of the case?' '' Councilman Chase of the committee said that there were not two sides of the case, that the members of the board of education had been invited to appear and that citizens could express their opinions when the time came and that the committee would weigh those opinions for what they were worth and question the citizens who so appeared in the same way that members of the board of education were questioned.

Alderman Chillingworth of the committee took occasion to say that he had formed no opinion, that his mind was a blank so far as the matter in hand was concerned. Alderman Brennan of the committee thought that there were two sides of the case, but not as far as the committee was concerned. The creation of the committee came about because of the running censure of the public on spending so much money for supervisors, and if a citizen wanted to ask questions of the school officers and members of the board of education concerning the matter he thought that such questions should be allowed.

Alderman Hogan said that it apparent from the remarks of the members of the committee that no action against allowing citizens to ask questions had been taken; also it had been stated by a member of the committee that no questions would be allowed from citizens to the superintendent of schools or members of the board of education until a later date. He said: "If the committee has arrived at such a decision, we, as citizens do most certainly object to it. The publie is imbued with impressions concern ing this system of supervisors, imprescions that may be false. Now why not give the public an opportunity to clear away this mist and the public will then feel satisfied when this investigation is concluded that there is nothing wrong in the board of education." Alderman Dewell remarked-"I want no one to think that I think that any member of the committee has already decided the question before it as might be inferred from the remarks of som members of the committee."

Councilan Conlin of the committee then moved that taxpayers be allowed to ask any questions of the superintendent of schools and members of the board of education relevant to what is covered by the resolutions before the committee. This motion was carried.

Mr. Moran then proposed that committee allow Mr. Kendall to finish his statement at the next meeting and then allow Mr. Moran and Mr. Asher to be asked questions. No action was taken on this suggestion.

DECISION OF THE ARBITRATION COMMISSION READ.

Considered a Compromise Although Great Britain Gets 500,000 2quare czuela.

Paris, Oct. 3 .- At the assembling at noon to-day of the Anglo-Venezuelan Boundary Arbitration commission, M. F. de Martens, the umpire, who has presided over the deliberations of the tribunat, read his decision. The decision established the boundary lines and is considered in the nature of a compromise rather than as favoring Venezuela. Great Britain loses some of her claims in the interior and on the coast. The award of the tribunal, briefly summarized, means that, of the 600,000 equare miles claimed by Venezuela, the latter obtains only 100, formed partly of the march-land near the river Barima and a portion of the interior; while Great Britain retains all the forest country.

When asked his opinion regarding the award Sir Richard Webster of the British counsel, said he was satisfied. Mr. Harrison, replying to the same question, said: "It might be worse, Subsequently Mr. Harrison and Mr. Mallet-Provost, who were interviewed jointly, pointed out that Great Britain up to the time of the intervention of the United States, distinctly refused to arbitrate any portion of the territory east of the Schomburgk line, alleging that its title was unassailable, This territory included the Atacuri and Point Barima, which is of the greatest value strategically and com-"The award," continued the counsel for Venezuela, "gives Point Barima with a strip of land fifty mlles long to Venezuela, which thereby obtains entire control of the River Orin-Three thousand square miles in the interior are also awarded to Venethe British arbitrators concurred, the position taken up by Great Britain in 1895 is shown to be unfounded. Venezuela had gained much, but was entitled to more, and, in the judgment of the joint counsel their failure to agree would have confirmed Great Britain in the possession of even more territory.

One of the counsel for Great Britain made the following statement to The Associated Press: "The award practically endorses the judgment of Robert Schomburgk, whose line it follows except in a few particulars. Great Britain acquires the whole of the River Cuyuni, including a site which Vene-zuela alleged to be a fork at the junction of Curumu and the Cuyuni. The Barima district has been awarded to Venezuela, possibly on the principle of national security, but with three months ago, condition that the Orinocco shall be a free water way to all nations. M. DeMartens was then interviewed The president of the tribunal repeated what he had said in his address to the court adding: "I am of opinion that this tribunal of arbitration is of excepimportance inasmuch as it is the first tribunal after the peace conference at The Hague. It is also important because it is the first tribunal of the kind in which the rules of procedure have been laid down and communicated to counsel as obligatory, which have been adhered to throughout. These rules are the same as were proposed by the Ruesian government for the conference at The Hague and approved there in July, As they had been laid down by the arbitration tribunal in January, they were applied long before the convention at The Hague took them into considera-

At 1:23 in came the spinnaker again on the Columbia, the wind having hauled back to the northward, her boom was flung to starboard and balloon jibtopsail trimmed. The Shamrock had gybed five minutes before but she was not gaining any up to this time. Approaching the outer mark the Columbia's crew housed the balloon fibtopsail smartly, and as they roundd the mark a float bearing a red ball left on the starboard hand, the bla main boom swung over to port, all sheets were trimmed flat on the star-board tack and the Columbia thus began her fifteen miles of windward

The time taken at the outer mark ar each yacht luffed around it was: Columbia, 1:17:52; Shamrock, So it will be seen by the official figures that in the run of fifteen miles from the start to the outer mark the Columbia outsailed the Shamrock two minutes, forty-four seconds. Her elapsed time to this point was 2 hours 21 minutes, 37 seconds: the Shamrock's hours, 24 minutes, 21 seconds. Captain Barr kept the Columbia on the inshore tack for two minutes forty-five seconds, after rounding the mark when he let her come about to the port tack, setting the baby jibtopsail as she filled away. In twenty seconds he swung her about again. The Shamrock meanwhile stood off on the starboard tack , two minutes twenty-one seconds, when Skipper Hogarth put her about and began his windward work in earnest with the Bristol boat. The wind was now northeast by north, and on the port tack both yachts were heading with sheets trimmed down flat within four points of the wind, which had now increased to about ten miles. It was not steady, however, and its flukiness became apparent at 1:55 when it began heading off the Columbia.

Yachts Quick on Their Heels.

The Shamrock tacked to starboard at 1:56, spinning around on her keel in the astonishment of thousands who witnessed the Columbia's next tack, fifteen seconds later, she swung around in the almost incredibly short space of ten seconds, timed by a stop watch. Captain Hogarth apparently feeling confident that by a series of short tacks he could get the windward of the Columbia, put the Shamrock about four times in three minutes and forty seconds. Captain Barr followed suit and his nimble crew trimmed sheets just as fast as those on the Shamrock and when they both settled down to steady work again at 2:14:50 the Columbia was still well in the lead and

During the next thirty minutes a dozen short tacks were made, the wind continuing fluky all the time un-til a few minutes before 3 o'clock when the wind left the Columbia for fully five minutes. She had the inshore berth, the Shamrock offshore held a breeze from the northeast.

Shamrock Takes the Lead

When the Shamrock at 3:11 went about on the Columbia's lee bow was well ahead, that is to say, if she had gone about she could have crossed the Columbia's bow. Between 3:15 and 3:29 the Columbia, with a few fresh puffs from the northeast, began walkng up on the Shamrock, which was then nearly a quarter of a mile to windward of her, but before she could overhaul the Shamrock the wind died out again. The Shamrock continued to hold breeze and by 3:35 she was nearly half a mile to windward of the Bristol boat. There was a strong tide setting to the southwest, which seemed to affect the Columbia more than it did the cording to the rules, to finish the race before 4:45 o'clock, it soon became evident that the boats at 4 o'clock were some five miles to leeward of the finish, that the race would have to be declared off. This was done at the time named, while the boats were still four
