

BOERS ARE DRIVEN BACK

ROBERTS REPORTS THE CAPTURE OF LEEUW KOP.

Taken by Gen. Pole-Carew's Mounted Infantry—Burghers Hurdled Evacuate the Position Having Some Rifles and Ammunition—Flanking Movement of British Cavalry Checked and the Boers Escaped—Gen. Brabant Keeping Up a Running Fight—Wepener Practically Relieved.

London, April 23.—The war office late this evening issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23, 2.50 p. m.

"Yesterday I dispatched the eleventh division under General Pole-Carew and two brigades of cavalry under General French from this point to assist General Rundle. The force reached Karrieffontein without much opposition.

"General Pole-Carew's Mounted Infantry seized Leeuw Kop, a high hill of five miles north of their last night's position. The enemy evacuated hurriedly, leaving some rifles and ammunition.

"Casualties reported: Welsh regiment—Private killed, Captain Prothero mortally wounded, and seven men. Yorkshires—eight wounded; Eighth Hussars, one killed, one wounded; Fourteenth Hussars, one wounded; Royal Artillery, two wounded; Seventh Dragoons, Lieutenant Jenkins and ten men missing, Captain Rettem, Royal Artillery, broke an arm by a fall.

"General Rundle reports that twenty-five men of the First Worcesters are missing. Fifty-three were sent out with wood to an outpost after dark, and only eight returned. Their numbers and names will be reported to-day as well as four wounded yesterday. The war office has given no explanation of the apparent discrepancy in the figures as to the men of the Worcester regiment.

Karrieffontein, mentioned in Lord Roberts' message to the war office, is fifteen miles southeast of Bloemfontein. Leeuw Kop is two miles further south. Apparently the British captured Paarde Kraal Sunday night. The Boers evacuated Leeuw Kop during the night, removing the gun, and the British occupied the kop the next morning.

OPERATIONS AT LEEUW KOP.

Failure of the British Flanking Movement—Capture of the Position.

London, April 24.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Standard, describing the operations at Leeuw Kop, says: "At an early stage the cavalry came under a heavy fire from a position on a ridge adjoining Leeuw Kop. Unable to continue its march to the south General Dickson's brigade fell back to the north to await the infantry attack.

"The flanking movement having failed, General Pole-Carew, with General Stephenson's brigade, advanced in crescent form from the west and south with the object of enveloping the kopjes. The Welsh, Warwickshire and Yorkshires regiments advanced in extended lines covering the west, while the Guards brigade took up a position to the south with two field batteries and naval guns. Sheltered by the rocks, the enemy opened a heavy fire from rifles and a 'pom-pom.' Our men advanced over the open ground in splendid style by a few short rushes, falling prone while pouring in their volleys. The approach of darkness threatened to leave the Boers in possession, but just before sunset the Essex regiment gallantly pressed forward and drove the last of the enemy from Paarde Kraal, a bold spur of Leeuw Kop."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The resistance of the Boers at Leeuw Kop was contemptible, considering the strength of their position. They escaped in an easterly direction, the Guards falling to get quite around them."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times says: "The British cavalry were checked. Colonel Alderson worked partially around the flank of Leeuw Kop, but he was not supported. The move checked the enemy, but fear of nightfall precluded the possibility of cutting them off."

GEN. BRABANT'S ADVANCE.

Camped Last Night About Eight Miles from Wepener.

Maseru, Monday, April 23.—Fighting began early this morning at Boesman's Kop. The colonial division under General Brabant advanced cautiously, followed and supported by General Hart's brigade. It was found that the Boers had evacuated their position on Boesman's Kop during the night. A running fight has been proceeding throughout the day, the British gradually advancing and the Boers losing ground. General Brabant is moving in a north-easterly direction, keeping Basutians close on his right flank. Thousands of Basutos are watching the operations. Our casualties so far are twenty-five wounded.

The British are bivouacking to-night, according to the latest reports, eight miles from Wepener, and the Boers who are besieging Colonel Dalgaty appear to be preparing to retire. A stubborn fight is believed to have occurred in the direction of De Wet's Dorp, where the Boers are in strong force with a lot of guns and where also there is a relief column, apparently General Rundle's. Wepener, however, is already practically relieved by the withdrawal of a large portion of the besiegers.

British Cavalry Shelled.

Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23.—Colonel Alderson's corps of Mounted Infantry, consisting of the First battalions of the First and Second Canadian regiments and Strathcona's Horse, was engaged in the operations of General Pole-Carew and General French. Alderson had undertaken to drive the Boers from their line of defense south of the waterworks. The Canadians sustained a heavy fire. The Boers shelled Alderson, who made a marching movement around Leeuw Kop, on the extreme left of the Boer position. When the British battery opened fire, the Boers retreated the gun. Leeuw Kop was found evacuated this morning. General Dickson's cavalry brigade, which made a wide detour to the left, found its further progress barred by a strong Boer position.

LONDON VIEW OF SITUATION.

Boers Apparently in Larger Force Than Expected.

London, April 24.—The strong body of reinforcements which Lord Roberts sent to assist the relief of Wepener and to cut off the Boers from a retreat northward furnishes further evidence that the Boers are assembled in much larger force around Wepener than had hitherto been supposed and, as the Times in an editorial this morning remarks, whatever may be the difficulties of roads and rains the Boers always appear to have guns, and sometimes big ones, where they want them.

A Boer despatch dated Thaba N'Chu, April 20, says that a fresh supply of cannon and ammunition has reached General De Wet at Jammersburg drift. It also asserts that one of Colonel Dalgaty's guns has been smashed.

Although the Boers appear to be offering stout resistance to the British advance toward Wepener their position is dangerous. They can scarcely delay their retreat northward without incurring the risk of being cut off. Usually they have been well informed regarding the British plans, and they are not likely to run such a risk, especially as they have partially accomplished their object in drawing large forces from Bloemfontein on long marches and have thereby delayed the advance on Pretoria. The Morning Post commenting upon the difficulty Lord Roberts is experiencing asserts the wisdom of arranging for a steady flow of reinforcements. The report that a Boer commando was at Frankfort proved to be without foundation, but it is evident there is a large force opposing Lord Roberts.

The Louroux Marquez correspondent of the Times says: "The foreign ordinance experts in the Boer war department have succeeded in equipping a big gun foundry at Pretoria. The first gun has been sent to the Free State. Nothing is known here regarding its calibre."

The Daily Telegraph has the following from Boshof dated Monday, April 23: "The Boers are closing in on Boshof. Their nearest haunts are five miles distant. Communication with Kimberley is still open."

The Louroux Marquez correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphing Monday says: "Dr. McNamara of the Chicago ambulance corps has returned here from Pretoria with the banner of the Boers. He expresses himself as 'disgusted with the whole proceedings.'"

JUST BEGINNING TO FIGHT.

What Boer Messengers to British Camp Say.

Elandsfontein, April 23.—Boer messengers who arrived in camp this morning were identified as Reus, a solicitor from Bosburg, and Edwards, notorious for his anti-English speech after the Jameson raid. They brought a letter from the Boer general to the commanding officer here. They were much surprised at the ordinary appearance of the camp. Reus declared that they were only getting used to war now and that the soldiers were only beginning to fight. The messengers were finally escorted to the outpost.

Trial of Cape Rebels.

Cape Town, April 23.—The trial of sixty-nine rebels was begun here today in spite of an application for a postponement of the proceedings on the grounds that a fair trial was impossible at this place.

Three of the prisoners were sentenced to five years' imprisonment each. The sentences imposed upon the others varied from three years to six months, according to their ages.

For Relief of Mafeking.

London, April 23.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says that General Carrington's force is the only one going to the relief of Mafeking, and that no force of any kind is operating from the south.

Appears With Other Naval Men Before House Committee.

Washington, April 23.—Admiral Dewey, accompanied by his naval aide, Lieutenant Caldwell, and Rear Admiral Hichborn were heard by the house committee on naval affairs to-day relative to the resolution of Representative Cummings for the purchase of a number of submarine boats similar to the Holland. The admiral told of his recent observations of this boat during a trial exhibition and expressed approval of this type of craft, particularly for coast defense purposes and for the moral effect of a mysterious engine of warfare would exert. Lieutenant Caldwell detailed his experience under water on the craft, and Admiral Hichborn also spoke favorably of the craft. The committee took no final action.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK CANAL.

The Matter Laid Before the State Department.

Washington, April 23.—The investigation, so far as it has gone, into the attempt to wreck the Welland canal lock by the use of dynamite was laid before the state department to-day in a special telegraph report from United States Consular Agent Brush at Chicom, a town opposite Niagara Falls on the Canadian side of the boundary. The report completely exonerates the Buffalo grain handlers from all connection with the crime and strongly intimates that the attempt was the working out of a regularly organized conspiracy among certain persons in the United States believed to be affiliated with the Irish secret associations. It does not appear that the state department can do anything at this stage of the matter.

Ottawa, Ontario, April 23.—The government has no evidence of any conspiracy at Chicago or elsewhere in the United States for the purpose of attacking Canada because of the sending troops to South Africa. The opinion is expressed here that it is the work of the local authorities here who called out the militia to assist them in the Niagara district.

QUAY CASE HEARING AN END.

Debate Opened Yesterday—Vote to be Taken To-day.

Washington, April 23.—A two days' debate on the right of Hon. M. S. Quay to a seat as senator from Pennsylvania was begun almost immediately after the senate convened to-day. For months the case has been pending in the senate and from time to time senators have discussed it, but until to-day the debate has been desultory in character. To-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, under a special order, the case is to be disposed of. Under the special order all subsidiary motions will be in order at that time. A direct vote on the proposition to seat Mr. Quay may not be taken immediately after the close of the debate. Mr. Chandler has a motion pending which is, in effect, a motion to seat Mr. Quay, but it is held by the senate parliamentarians that every subsidiary motion will take precedence over Mr. Chandler's motion. These include motions to indefinitely postpone to a definite date; to commit to the committee and to amend. That one or more of these motions will be made is quite likely. How the senate will vote on any of them is a matter of speculation. In support of Mr. Quay's right to a seat speeches were delivered to-day by Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire, Mr. Kenney, dem. of Delaware, and Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania. Mr. Platt of Connecticut and Mr. Quarles, rep., of Wisconsin, delivered speeches in opposition to Mr. Quay.

MORE STEEL MILLS CLOSE.

Statement by Pres. Gary of the American Steel and Wire Company.

New York, April 23.—At the local office of the Federal Steel company here to-day despatches from Chicago telling of the closing of three of the company's mills were received in a statement made by President Gary, who attributes the shutting down of the mills to the relations with the American Steel & Wire company. President Gary said: "The Illinois Steel company, one of the constituent companies of the Federal Steel company, has a rod mill at Joliet which has a capacity of about 200,000 tons per year. The American Steel & Wire company leased and have been using in their wire mills at Joliet substantially the total output of these rods produced by the steel company. The wire company purchased 100,000 of the rods to be used during the first six months of 1900 and have taken about 60,000 tons of the same, but have asked a temporary cessation of deliveries as to the balance. For this reason the steel company has decided to temporarily close the rod mill at Joliet, having received positive assurances from the wire company that the delay will not be long continued and that all of the rods contracted for will be taken within a very short time."

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF THE GREAT MISSIONARY EVENT.

Every Country in the World Represented—Many Addresses by Prominent Workers—The Work in Turkey—Position Taken by American Missionaries Toward the Porte.

New York, April 23.—The opening of the Ecumenical missionary conference in this city to-day was more successful and more largely attended than expected by the most hopeful of the managers. Carnegie hall and the various churches where exercises were held during the day were packed. Every country in the world is believed to be represented.

George Washburn, president of Robert college, in Constantinople, said at one of the meetings: "Contrary to the general belief, missionaries in Turkey have no political purposes whatever. All they ask of the Turkish government is that they be given the rights guaranteed by the treaties existing between the two countries. Judge Townsend yesterday afternoon granted discharges in bankruptcy to the following: Robert W. Palmer of Manchester, Willis A. Lane of Hartford, Henry O. Dewey of Plymouth, Frederick K. Grailing of Bridgeport, Oliver G. Richman of Vernon, Frank E. Wetmore of Easton.

The April term of the United States circuit court will open in this city to-day for the trial of civil cases. A number of important cases, among which are the following, are on the docket:

Actions at law—United States vs. Charles Soby, Pickering Governor Co. vs. United States, Peter Ross vs. Holbrook, Cabot & Daly.

In equity—Emory F. Strong vs. United States; General Electric Co. vs. Winsted Gas Co.; A. H. Rowe vs. Blodgett & Clapp Co.; E. Ingraham Co. vs. E. N. Welch Mfg. Co.; Ruth L. Taber vs. R. Wallace & Sons Mfg. Co.; same vs. Meriden Britannia Co.; same vs. Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co.; An-

CHANGE IN COURT RULE.

An amendment to rule 12 of the rules of the supreme court has been made by the judges of that court, copies of which were sent to the court clerks yesterday. The amendment is as follows:

"Rule 12, lines 5 and 6, before the words 'such request,' the words 'the draft of a finding accompanying' are inserted."

The amended rule now reads as follows: "The materiality of a fact to the proper presentation of a question of law arising in the trial, in a matter of this court may review and the judge to whom a request for a finding is presented will mark either 'proven' or 'not proven,' followed by his initials, against the draft of a finding accompanying such request, unless the fact stated in the paragraphs is substantially included in the finding of the court."

HEIRS WANT A REPORT.

Attorney Fly, acting as counsel for the Wilsons, acting as will of the late Dr. Frederick H. Hoadley, made application to the probate court yesterday morning for an order to have the executors of the will file their report. He said he would like to have the estate speedily settled.

The executors are Judge William K. Townsend and Dr. Merriam of Washington, D. C. They are represented by ex-Judge Henry Stoddard, who stated that the executors were anxious to file a report, but had been delayed in the matter by having to investigate into some matters affecting the estate. There were some legal technicalities to be attended to and some clerical errors in the books of Dr. Hoadley to be straightened out. Judge Stoddard said he was willing, and so were the executors, to have a date set by the court for the filing of a report, and both attorneys agreed on two weeks from yesterday.

CREDITORS' MEETING. The first meeting of the creditors of Horace B. Hunter of Madison was held at the office of Referee Newton yesterday afternoon. Hunter was recently forced into involuntary bankruptcy on petition of George Woolley & Son, of Hartford, who claimed that Hunter had transferred an endowment policy on his life about to come due. Woolley & Son, through their attorney, contended that this constituted an act of bankruptcy, and Judge Townsend rendered a decision sustaining the claim. Hunter has been engaged in the undertaking business for several years.

The schedules in the case of F. E. Baldwin, the local house mover, who filed a petition in bankruptcy last week, were filed yesterday afternoon with Referee Newton. Baldwin's liabilities are $1,190 and he has no assets.

SUIT OVER DOG.

Constable Siebert has found a valuable bird dog for which he has been searching for a week. The animal was found in the parlor of William McHugh on Winchester avenue. The ownership of the dog is a question which Justice George R. Cooley will have to decide April 30, which the suit brought by Daniel A. McHugh against his son William is tried. Both father and son claim to own the dog, which is a finely bred canine. The son secured the dog some time ago and the father brought suit to recover it. Constable Siebert had quite a search, but finally succeeded in locating the setter, which had been concealed in anticipation of the suit.

CONSTABLE DROPS CASE.

Constable Brackett of North Haven has evidently changed his mind about prosecuting George Tucker on a charge of breach of the peace. The case was to have been tried this morning before Justice Austin in the North Haven town hall, but yesterday morning Dennis W. Tucker, father of the accused, received a note from the justice continuing the case indefinitely. The justice wrote that Constable Brackett will not prosecute George Tucker as present, but will let the complaint stand as it is till further notice.

It is believed no more will be heard from the case unless Attorney E. L. Linsley, who has been retained to defend young Tucker, insists that a trial will be held.

SUIT OVER BLANKET.

Justice Booth yesterday afternoon heard the suit of Hugh Plunkett against Antonio Cavallaro to decide the ownership of a horse blanket. The defendant in this action was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of stealing the blanket from Plunkett.

When the case was tried in the city court Judge Dow discharged Cavallaro, but vouchsafed the belief that the blanket belonged to Plunkett. Attorney Fitzgerald and Walsh then brought a replevin against the Italian.

BRYANT'S CASE NOLLED.

The case against William C. Bryant, the young colored man who was arrested charged with assault with intent to rape Mrs. Margaret Shea on Mansfield street a week ago last Saturday night, was nolle in the city court yesterday morning by City Attorney Webb. On Saturday Mr. Webb asked for a continuance of the case as he said that there was important evidence which, if it proved true might result in a dismissal of the case against Bryant. The evidence was investigated and Mr. Webb yesterday morning decided to dismiss the case.

CITY COURT CASES.

Alphus C. Wolcott of 101 Sylvan avenue, charged with a breach of the peace consisting of forcing a door in the house where he lives with his sister, was fined $5 and costs. The case did not come to trial. He paid $11.24.

Thomas F. Murley of 440 Congress avenue assaulted his wife Dealla while drunk on Saturday. Judge Dow fined him $25 and costs for his pastime and directed that a copy be issued for his wife for not appearing against him.

George W. Davis and Frank A. Wade, the two soldiers arrested at Cedar Hill, suspected of being deserters, had their cases continued.

Bernard McGarty, from Oak street, who has done nothing for his wife and family for seven years, was sent to jail for sixty days for failing to support his two children.

The theft case against Robert Crisnola, the down town Italian boy, charged with taking $40 from a step-father whom he alleges is brutal, was also continued until to-day.

William M. Thompson paid $11.46 for a breach of the peace at the Grand opera house on Saturday night.

Stephen Cahill, an old offender, who ornamented John H. Minchin's saloon with aged eggs on Saturday, pleaded, "I was drunk," and went to jail to work out a fine of $3 and costs for his Easter entertainment.

Stephen Lily, a colored man of 67 Eaton street, promised to pay his wife $2.50 per week toward the support of their family and was let go upon this condition until June 1.

The breach of the peace case against Stephen O'Brien was continued until to-day.

It weighed just ten pounds, I've been told. Tied in a napkin so 'twould hold; He is as precious as pure gold; His lungs are strong, this warrior bold; For baby rules at home.

When teething came a martyr I; Would walk the floor and hush-a-bye, And try right hard to still that cry; He pulled my hair and punched my eye, But baby ruled at home.

No more cards at the club or cigar; For that would cause a family jar; He's grown so very fond of pa; While some one slept it was his ma, Yes, baby rules at home.

And when 'twas time to wean the kid, My wife under the blankets slid; And said, Bring baby's bottle, Sid; You'll find the milk—of course I did. Why? Baby ruled at home.

And then she sweetly, softly slept, While the thermometer, to zero crept, And I my lonely vigil kept, O single men, my work accept, Your babe will rule your home. "KISMET."

HAS ACCEPTED THE CALL.

Rev. Hugh MacCallum to Go to First Congregational Church, Derby.

Rev. Hugh MacCallum, who is studying in Yale Divinity school, this city, has accepted the call to fill the pulpit at the First Congregational church, Derby.

Rev. Mr. MacCallum received the call two weeks ago after a meeting of the church, and he has had the proposition under consideration since that time. His acceptance of the pastorate of the church has been made positive by a letter just received from him by N. J. Bailey.

Rev. Mr. MacCallum has preached in the pulpit he is to occupy several times and he has proven satisfactory to the members of the church. His pastorate there does not commence until June 1 on account of his desire to remain at his studies until May.

MASTER FRYER'S RECITAL TONIGHT.

The programme for the piano recital to be given this evening at Harmonie hall by Master Nathan Fryer, the boy pianist and pupil of E. A. Parsons of this city, is its over-testimony of the youngster's remarkable talent. The young musician will be assisted by Joseph Phillips of New York, the possessor of a mellow baritone voice, which he uses in a most pleasing style. He is a pupil of Tom Karl, the well known tenor of the original Bostonians. Miss Helen Gauntlett Williams will be the accompanist of the evening.

WILL BE MARRIED TOMORROW.

C. E. Beebe and Mrs. Twitchell at the Church of the Ascension.

Mr. Beebe is a traveling salesman for the firm of Case, Lockwood & Brainard of Hartford.

WILL BE COSTLY.

The Bradley court-martial, made necessary by the action of the adjutant-general and the brigadier-general, or rather their inaction at a critical period when Bradley's resignation was in their hands, is costing the state over $86 per day, and allowing that it will continue thirty-five sitting days, and the present indications are that it will last much longer, the total cost to the state will be over $3,000.

WIFE OF BISHOP PARET.

Marriage of Adopted Daughter of the Late H. Sidney Hayden.

Mrs. Sarah Hayden Haskell of Baltimore, widow of Henry Tudor Haskell and adopted daughter of the late H. Sidney Hayden of Windsor, was married Saturday to Bishop William Paret of the Episcopal diocese of Maryland. The marriage occurred in St. Peter's church, Baltimore, the Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, bishop of Washington, performing the ceremony. William H. Hayden of Newark, a relative of the bride, gave her away and the best man was the Rev. Dr. J. Houston Eccleston, rector of Emmanuel church of Baltimore. There were no bridesmaids, no decorations in the church and no invitations, the wedding being as private as possible. After the ceremony at the church a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride.

Before her first marriage the bride was Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hayden. She was left a widow seven years ago and has been living in Baltimore for about three years. The bishop and his bride have been acquainted for several years, and although the wedding was a surprise to the parish, the members of the family have known for some time that it would occur. The marriage license was secured just before the wedding by William H. Paret of Kansas City, son of the bishop. Bishop Paret is seventy-three years old and his bride is forty-eight.

CHANGE OPPOSED BY SOME. A remonstrance is being circulated in the new St. Joseph's parish against the change of the parish lines. Several remonstrances were being circulated for signatures Sunday and many signed. There is dislike among many parishioners to the change of control from the Dominican order, it being claimed that St. Mary's parish was placed under the control of the order, when they had a parish debt of $150,000, which has since been nearly wiped out.

DEATH OF THE WIDOW OF PHILANDER B. BEEBE.

Passed Away Yesterday at South Woodstock—Rested With Her Daughter, Mrs. Bamberg—Funeral of Wells J. Bray—Other Notes.

News was received here yesterday of the death at South Woodstock of Sarah T., widow of the late Philander B. Beebe of this place. Mrs. Beebe died at 6:15 Sunday morning. She had been confined to her bed only a week, but had been in poor health for nine years. Two and a half years ago she left Fair Haven to make her home with her daughter, the wife of Rev. L. J. Bamberg, at South Woodstock. For several months after leaving here she was somewhat improved in health, but afterwards her health failed rapidly. During her last illness she suffered great pain from a complication of diseases, but bore her sufferings with great patience and fortitude. For the last three days of her life she was partially conscious a portion of the time. Mrs. Beebe was born in Middletown, January 11, 1823, and her age was seventy-seven years and three months. She removed to New Haven when a young lady and worked as a dressmaker until her marriage fifty-five years ago. Her husband, Philander B. Beebe, who died November 10, 1892, was a prominent merchant in Fair Haven for many years and served two terms as alderman and three terms as councilman. He was in his early life head clerk for the late Abijah Bradley, who for many years was a prosperous grocer on East street, corner of Wooster street. Soon after coming to New Haven Mrs. Beebe joined the First Baptist church and transferred her membership to the Grand avenue Baptist church soon after its formation and later to the South Woodstock church. She was a devoted Christian and did a great deal of church work as long as her health permitted. She was a woman of fine traits of heart and mind, made many friends and a large circle of acquaintances will learn of her death with deep regret. Her family will have much sincere sympathy in their deep bereavement. She leaves two sons—Dr. William B. Beebe of Bridgeport and Nelson A. Beebe of Fair Haven; also a daughter, Mrs. Fannie L. wife of Rev. L. J. Bamberg of South Woodstock. Two sons, Joseph and Theodore Francis, died several years ago. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. E. S. Munson of this city. Services will be held in South Woodstock this morning at 9 o'clock and from the Grand avenue Baptist church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It is expected that Rev. E. W. Stone will officiate. The interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

The funeral of Wells J. Bray was largely attended from the Second Congregational church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Alexander E. Irvine officiating. The honorary bearers were Orton A. Rose, A. L. Chamberlain, Henry R. Smith and Harry K. Rowe; and the active bearers were relatives of the deceased—Lester P. Mallory, C. E. Bray, E. T. Bray, Clifford R. Bray, Carl Iverson and Albert Gray. There were a number of beautiful floral offerings, including one from the North Haven grange of which the deceased was a member, and bearing the word "Brother" and a large wreath from A. L. Chamberlain. Several selections were sung by a male quartette. The members of Rev. Mr. Irvine's Bible class, of which the deceased was also a member, walked from the church to the Fair Haven cemetery and each dropped a small bouquet into the open grave.

A few evenings ago a children's party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Scott, 194 Clinton avenue, as a surprise to their daughter, Miss Lizzie Scott, on her eleventh birth anniversary. The party was from 5 to 9 p. m. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion during her absence and upon her return the young hostess found many dainty little gifts awaiting her, including flowers, jewelry, vases and many fancy articles, which her friends had brought in honor of the day. The evening passed delightfully, the children enjoying music, games and a dainty supper. Those present included Mary Barnard, Kittle McCabe, Marcella Quinn, Annie Sullivan, Minnie Dixon, Daisy Parker, Ruth Latta, Marion Nettleton, Katie Compton, Emma Compton, Josie Delehanty, May Scott, Frances Scott, Edward Keegan, John Keegan, Aloysius De Lacy, Leon Mayrand, Timothy Harrigan, Robert Gillen, Russell Gallagher,

George Wohlmaier, George Mooney and James Scott. The W. C. T. U. will meet in their hall at 3 p. m. to-day. There is important business and a large attendance is desired.

A trolley ride, with dance at the East Haven town hall, will be given Wednesday evening. Cars leave the green at 8 p. m. and the corner of Ferry and Grand at 8:20. A few tickets are left and may be procured for seventy-five cents of the committee, Messrs. Hotchkiss, Hubbard, Bradley and Ludington.

LECTURE BY M. DUMAS.

Delivered in Osborn Hall Yesterday Afternoon Before Law School Students. M. Jacques Dumas delivered the opening lecture in the Storrs course before the students of the Yale Law school yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Osborn hall. The lecture began at 5 o'clock and there were about 200 in attendance, including a number of outsiders who were eager to see Mr. Dumas and were interested in the subject, "The Security of Land Titles, Considered Historically." The lecturer was introduced by President Hadley, who said he was one of the foremost theoretical and practical of jurists of France. President Hadley said that the students should consider themselves very fortunate in having Mr. Dumas speak before them and that they would be greatly benefited by the lectures, which will be held every afternoon this week at the same time and place as yesterday's.

The development of the registration system throughout the different countries was reviewed. During the different days of the week Mr. Dumas will deal with the development of the system in the different countries. Last evening Judge Simeon E. Baldwin gave a reception to Mr. Dumas at his home on Wall street. About seventy-five members and friends of the Yale faculty were present and enjoyed a delightful evening.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

Hartford, April 23.—Mrs. Charles T. Deming of South Windsor was stricken with apoplexy in the office of Lawyer H. A. Huntington about 8:20 this morning. This afternoon she was still unconscious.

APPEALS FROM ASSESSMENTS.

The appeals yesterday number up to 2,300 o'clock, 14, making his total number before the board of assessors $1,918. Charles P. Clark of the Consolidated road was among those to appeal yesterday on an assessment of $60,840. He said that he bought the property for $20,000 and would sell at that price. Some of the large appeals were as follows: Selig Goldreyer, 554 Elm street, $16,000; Charlotte M. Monson, $20,000; Ida Koon, 433 State street, $23,785; Charles P. Clark, 44 Orange street, $69,840; and $10,800; Kingsley Trust company, College street, $22,800; 132 College street, $8,295; 99 Wall street, $13,650; Allan T. Hubbard, 559 Whitney avenue, $10,750; Edith M. Van Buren, 297 George street, $10,530; George St. John Sheffield, 42 Elm street, $14,775; 44 Elm street, $14,775; 259-71 State street, $12,662; 971-975 Chapel street, $11,050; 807 Chapel street, $28,200; 803 Chapel street, $28,560; Josephine S. #### NEW ENGLAND STREET RAILWAY MEETING.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the New England Street Railway company held in New York yesterday, the offer of J. A. Kelsey made for the stock in the Winchester avenue road, held by the Boston company, was turned down by a large majority. There were about 32,000 shares of the stock represented at the meeting, of which number 23,171 voted against the sale of the company's holdings and about 7,000 for the Kelsey offer.

As the matter now stands, the offer made by Mr. Kelsey is disposed of for good, unless it comes up in some other form. In this way the Young street cut, which has taken hold of Connecticut street railway of late, loses the Winchester avenue road, at least through Mr. Kelsey's offer. Next week Monday a second meeting will be held here, at which time the offer of George A. Permaid of Boston for the Winchester avenue stock will be voted upon, and as matters look now will go through.

TRANSFERS OF FIREMEN.

Several transfers in the fire department were put into effect by Superintendent Fancher yesterday morning affecting officers as well as the men in the ranks. The usual explanation of "for the benefit of the service" was made. W. A. Miller, a hoseman, was sent from Engine 1 to No. 7, and Lieutenant Redmond from the same company was sent to No. 4's, Lieutenant James was transferred from 4 to 1 and Hoseman Adolphus Cahn was sent from Truck 1 to Engine company No. 1. Charles Jackson was shifted from 5 to Engine 1. Three substitutes have been appointed to assist in manning Truck 1 on Artizan street. In view of the difficulty in settling the question of the firemen's pay the matter of making permanent appointments has been deferred.

SMASHED FURNITURE.

Michael Duffy Was Demolishing His Father's House. Michael Duffy, a man about thirty years of age, who has caused considerable trouble for the downtown police, was arrested again yesterday for making a disturbance at the home of his father, Patrick Duffy, on Summer Place. He was intoxicated and going to his father's house he proceeded to smash furniture and raise high jinks. His father, coming home, ascertained what was going on and called in Patrolman Landigan and Henry, who arrested the disturber. He is about thirty years of age and has a bad record. He is charged with drunk, breach of peace and idleness.

A GAIN FOR HARTFORD.

The acquisition of the New Haven Steamboat company by the Consolidated road will be welcomed by Hartford people. Incidentally the change will give the railroad company much needed dock accommodation in New York and that will convenience all shippers; but, aside from this, the steamboat train and the water route from New Haven at night will be brought into use and travelers will be able to take the evening train from here and go right to the dock and find their boat there and wake up in New York—Hartford Courier.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

Call Issued by Chairman Macdonald. Town Chairman Theodore Macdonald of the republican town committee issued the general call yesterday for caucuses to nominate delegates for the coming republican state convention, which will be held in Hartford, May 3. The call instructs the ward chairmen to hold their caucuses on or before April 30, which is one week from last night. As the ward chairmen have to give the voters four days' notice all of the caucuses will be held on Friday, Saturday and Monday evenings.

INDEPENDENT PARISH.

Roman Catholic Churches at Terryville Announced. Terryville, April 22.—The Roman Catholic parish of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, which for nearly twenty years has been a mission station under the oversight of the pastor of St. Thomas' church, Thomaston, has been set off as an independent parish and Bishop Tierney has appointed the Rev. John P. Neale of Norwich as resident pastor. The Rev. Michael J. Daly, who has looked after the spiritual needs of the parish for the past ten years, has been transferred to St. Joseph's church, New Haven. Father Daly's Protestant friends in Terryville will rejoice with his people that his talents have earned the promotion to a city church. Under his management of the parish the church has undergone a number of improvements and has been within a short time newly decorated, and during the past year the buildings were tastefully painted. Father Neale will find an exceedingly pretty church with an active membership of about 500 souls. The church edifice was erected in 1882 under the direction of the late Rev. Eugene Gaffney. The lot was bought by John McNamara, and citizens of the place, irrespective of denominational lines, contributed generously to the building fund. The Rev. J. W. Fones succeeded Father Gaffney and was followed by the Rev. M. J. McGivney, both of whom are dead.

The Superintendent of Parks in Glasgow is going to try the experiment of renting window boxes of flowers to householders for the season for one shilling each, this sum to be refunded when the boxes are returned in the fall. This is the outcome of a belief that a good effect on health and spirits will be brought about in the congested districts by the interest in the flowers and by the presence of color. Five hundred boxes will be distributed.

There is something in a name. If you don't believe it try to pronounce the following names attached to an application for a charter for a benevolent society at Kansas City, Kansas: Zanka Krem, Barbara Bartolac, Ana Delhich, Ana Samovojaska, Ana Dragievich, Milka Tomaseh, Ana Stepanovich, Margarita Tomaseh, Ana Bunjevich, Margarita Trazubj, Barbara Sopsich, Mary Cernich, Ana Novak, Mary Medved, Ljuba Gunja, Jelena Macan, Tereza Despot, Agnes Dukich.

Congressman Fitzpatrick of Kentucky told a good pension story the other day. He received a letter from a woman in his district, who asked that he become interested in her application for a pension. She said that when the war broke out she was engaged to a young farmer boy who went to the front. Before he left he gave her a medal to wear. He was killed, and since that time she has been married twice and has raised two families. But she never could forget the blue-eyed farmer boy, and has always worn his medal. She thinks this entitles her to a pension, and asked Mr. Fitzpatrick to carry the matter to the attention of H. Clay Evans, commissioner.

A Russian engineer, W. Olschewsky, has recently invented a rapid process of brick-making, which is now being worked at Coswig in Germany. The bricks are composed of a mixture of slaked lime and sand, which is moulded in a press, the proportions of lime and sand varying with the kind of brick which is to be produced. The bricks are then placed in a closed chamber and exposed to the action of steam at a pressure of about 100 pounds to the square inch for twelve hours. The bricks have a specific gravity of 1.88 and a crushing strength of 220 tons to the square foot. They are also porous and absorb 13 per cent. of their volume of water on immersion. The amount of lime used in their manufacture varies from 4 per cent. to 10 per cent. of the total.

There is a young man in Boston who doesn't quite know whether it has paid him to be good. When this young man was about to enter college his father gave him some good parental advice as to how he ought to conduct himself during his college career, and in order to encourage him to avoid the vices that best college undergraduates, the father promised his son that if he would neither smoke nor drink during his four years at Cambridge he would make him a present of $5,000 on the day of his graduation. The young man lived up to the lofty standard set for him by his father, and along with his degree of bachelor of arts he received $5,000 in Globe bank stock, then quoted at par. The assessment of $5,000 on the stock is now due.

One of the interesting exhibits at the Paris exposition will be that indicating the progress of the negro in Georgia. The exhibit consists of five parts. One is an electric clock in a carved frame, showing at successive intervals of time the number of acres of land owned by the negroes of Georgia since 1870. The clock was carved by an illiterate, unskilled workman, and on the frame are bars of relief of cotton, corn and tobacco. Thirty-one charts, done by hand in colors, show the growth and distribution of the negro population in Georgia and throughout the world; the age, classification and conjugal condition of the negroes of Georgia as compared with the whites, the proportion of mulattoes, the amount of property owned and the income and expenditure of negro families. Statistics of 150 negro families in Atlanta and some 2,000 families in country districts in south Georgia have been used as a basis for this compilation. Five maps of Atlanta, Savannah, Albany and McIntosh county are in the exhibit. On these maps the distribution of the negro population is given, this being indicated by different colors, and each color standing for different social classes. With each goes a book of statistics of the property and occupations of the negroes in the place. Nine large quarto volumes, bound in leather, contain a collection of all the laws passed in Georgia in regard to the negroes from 1822 to 1839. Three other volumes give pictures of 200 typical negro faces. The other two volumes show pictures of street scenes in negro life.

AN INTERESTING MISSION.
That is an interesting mission which has been undertaken by Mayor Taggart and Editor Morse of Indianapolis. These gentlemen have gone to see Mr. Bryan. They have gone as representatives of the Indiana Democrats, and they will say to Mr. Bryan that it is the unanimous opinion of his friends in Indiana that the national platform should not be burdened with any reference to the free coinage of silver, but should be confined exclusively to other and more vital issues. They are bearing letters of the same import to Mr. Bryan from a large number of Democrats who were pronounced free silver men in 1896, and who would be for that issue now were they not convinced that more important events have eliminated it from the issues this year and that it will burden rather than help the party. It is practically agreed by all Democrats in Indiana that the question of free silver ought not to be forced into the campaign.

Mr. Bryan is a sturdy young Roman, and his heart is ever true to 16 to 1. But perhaps he can be persuaded not to tell his love too vociferously this year. He may be enabled to see that a little judicious concealment of his grand passion is expedient.

THE DUTY OF THE SENATE.
The report of the Senate committee on privileges and elections in the case of Senator Clark of Montana was submitted to the Senate yesterday, and it is as strong and definite as the earlier reports said it would be. It points out that the Senate should, as a duty to itself and to the country, demonstrate by its action in this case that seats in the United States Senate procured as Senator Clark's has been procured cannot be retained, by the deliberate judgment of the Senate. The Senate also owes a duty to the people of Montana, who, conscious of the bad repute into which the State has fallen by reason of vast expenditures of money in connection with its elections, manifested such a public sentiment that the legislature of 1896 passed a statute which, if obeyed, would have redeemed the State from its bad name. For the direct and gross violations of that statute and the consequent discredit which continues to rest upon the State, Montana has a right to expect a prompt and decisive remedy from the action of the Senate.

THE BICYCLE AS A CARRIAGE.
An English court has just dealt very thoroughly with the question, is a bicycle a carriage? The suit was that of Cannon vs. the Earl of Abingdon. Under an act allowing him to collect toll in the sum of twopence for "any carriage whatsoever" with less than four wheels passing over a bridge across the Thames, the Earl believed he could tax bicycles as being less than four-wheeled carriages. To settle their mutual rights the bicyclist made the following test: On the first occasion he rode a bicycle without any luggage, or luggage carrier; on the second occasion he rode a bicycle with a valise attached carrying luggage; on the third occasion he rode a tricycle without any luggage carrier; on the fourth he rode a tradesman's tricycle having a box fitted to its frame for carrying goods; and on the fifth occasion he rode a tricycle known as a "bath-chair" tricycle having a wicker chair fitted to its frame in which another person was seated. On each occasion the bicyclist paid, under protest, the twopence toll. The court held that both the bicycles and the tricycles were subject as carriages to the twopence toll. When it came to defining a carriage Mr. Justice Phillimore declared it to be "any mechanical contrivance which carries a person or weights over the ground, raising the weights or taking the person off his feet so that the feet of the person do not support him or the burden which he is bearing," even if he himself propels the contrivance.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE TURK.
Many men of many minds, says the copy-book, and it is therefore not surprising to read that General Lew Wallace, who was minister to Constantinople under the Garfield administration, does not approve of the extreme measures the State department is said to be contemplating if the Sultan of Turkey doesn't pay the missionary claims. To me, says Mr. Wallace, the idea of the great and powerful United States engaging in a controversy with Turkey over a despicable $100,000 is ridiculous. "Mr. Straus states that the Sultan promised to pay the claim, and the Turkish minister declares that no such promise was made. Of course, I do not profess to know which one of these gentlemen is correct, but this I do know, that the present Sultan of Turkey is an honest man. I never knew him to tell a lie, and I never knew him to break a promise, and I think I am better acquainted with him than possibly any other American. Without doubt gross atrocities were committed and much property destroyed by the Kurds; but it is a fact that while these acts were perpetrated upon the Armenians, no American suffered the loss of a hair from his head. Abdul Hamid is no more to be blamed for these crimes than William McKinley would be if the Apache Indians should go upon the war path and slay the white settlers, as they have done in times past."

This is plausible, but the general opinion in this country is that it is more ridiculous for the Sultan to refuse to pay the claims, after they have been scaled down, and payment has been agreed upon, than it is to ask him to pay them.

FASHION NOTES.
Safe Uses for Squares.
Though handkerchief waists have been overdone, some of the very large squares may still be put to use. Beautiful square parasols are covered with taffeta handkerchief squares. Some round parasols have squares draped over them. Squares are also used for shoulder finish on some of the very pretty new cloaks. Here their prettiest employment has a corner hanging over each shoulder, one in the back, the front on split where the cloak fastens. Some of them are used cleverly for waistcoat fronts; a point knotted at the down dipped waist line, the upper point turned down to show a yoke above the waistcoat, the two side corners tucked back under the jacket edges to reappear and lie over the jacket revers. Squares are used on sailor hats and when disposed carefully are stylish, though by July you likely will wish you had chosen some other less popular trimming.

Still another use for these squares is in ties like that on the left hand dress in this picture, or in belts with sash ends, one square going about the waist, another hanging from it. A cashmere square was used in this tie, and made a very tasteful accessory to a gown of tan cheviot. Narrow dark red sashes outlined the scalloping of this skirt and followed the hem. The bodice was laid in deep tucks, blousing slightly. A more complicated gown appears as a companion to this in the picture. Its material was a blue pastel cloth. Folds of cloth and burnt wool buttons trimmed it. Blue and white figured foulard gave yoke and underskirt, black velvet strapping with silver buckles finishing the former. The sleeve tops matched the yoke. This is one of several permissible methods of widening one's shoulders. It is a better way than adding sleeve caps or epaulettes whose purpose is evident, and that are not closely related to the general scheme of the bodice. But the best way of all is to have over the sleeve top some pretty and ingenious continuance of the ornamentation of the bodice proper. To accomplish that is not a very easy order, but it is worth striving for. Some of the ornamental and highly fanciful boleros bring it about very prettily.

GAMBLING IN THE SIX NATIONS.
The Indians of the Six Nations will not play cards, for these were brought to this country by the white man, and would have evil for the Indian. They also look upon the violin as an instrument that has led white young people to harm and will not permit its music to be heard among them.

The gambling game played at these religious festivals is the peach-stone game. I have brought back several of them. The Indians lose all their stolidism when indulging in this game, and the scene within the Longhouse can only be compared to a morning on the Board of Trade. Men and women both engage in the game. Some of the most valuable articles of wearing apparel and other possessions have been collected as prizes.

Two men, one from each side of the Longhouse, are appointed to call out the male players, and two women to serve a like purpose for the women. A blanket is spread on the floor of the Longhouse, and in the middle is a wooden bowl containing six peach-stones. These stones have been worn and polished until they have almost a piano finish. They are blackened on one side. At the south edge of the blanket is a vessel containing 100 beans, from which each of the callers takes seven. The players are exhorted to keep their tempers, as it may please the Great Master to make the losers win next time if they behave well.

Two players are called at a time, and each in turn shakes the bowl and strikes the bottom. This throws the peach stones up and they fall back. The winning throws are six black or six unpaired surfaces, the count being five in either case, and all but one of either color counting two. A woman representing the winner takes the beans he wins by his throws, and the game goes on until the beans are gone. Each article contributed has had another of about equal value attached to it, which is wagered against it, and when the game is over the winner gets back his own article and also the one attached to it.

One of the most impressive things about this game is the manner in which the opposing sides gather about and urge the plays, much as dice-throwers on a Louisiana dock would do. Pointing their two forefingers at the peach-stones those who are for the player say contemptuously: "O-han-dah, o-han-dah"—all black—or "Hun-je, hun-je"—all white. The opponents even more fiercely shout "Scha-a-ah, scha-a-ah" and "Tek-ne-ta-weh, tek-ne-ta-weh"—two of a kind. This game may last for twenty-four hours, but the excitement never flags.—S. C. Simms in Chicago Tribune.

CHINESE CONSERVATISM.
The difficulties in the way of success for the engineer and foreign capitalist in China are very considerable. In the place, it may be safely asserted that the authorities actually in power do not want foreigners. The statement one so often sees in articles on the subject that the Japanese war has opened the eyes of the Chinese and shown them that if they wish to keep up with other nations, they must adopt a more enlightened policy, is incorrect, or, at all events, misleading, because whatever nation there is in power upon the fact that the statement is merely to the effect that the enlightened policy is necessary to enable the country to progress on the same lines as the rest of the world, and it is misleading because it suggests that, in the opinion of the ruling classes, such progress is a thing to be desired. No such feeling exists in the minds of the majority; but it is the members of this minority who are most likely to meet visitors to China, and who are more likely to be appointed to foreign missions, and whose views, consequently, are most readily impressed on the European public, and are naturally taken as representative of the views of the majority.

Nothing would please the bulk of the mandarin class better than that foreign nations should go away and leave China alone. She has done without railways, and steam cotton mills, and mines where 1,000 tons of coal a day are raised by steam instead of 20 tons, dragged out by coolies, and she can do without them now.

The Chinese have, no doubt, begun to realize the fact that foreigners are determined to exploit their country, and also that they are weak successfully to resist this action, and they are, therefore, reduced to putting obstructions in everybody's way. In doing this, most of them are honestly convinced that they are doing their country a service, and if they cannot keep out foreign civilization, they should at least delay its entry as long as possible.—Cassier's Magazine.

THE MAN WITH THE HOE.

It's not the man of the poem and painting we refer to. The man who buys a hoe of us isn't a "slave of labor" but a "worthy tiller of the soil" and moreover a man of discriminating tastes in the matter of hoes. That's why he buys one here.

We have three of the best garden hoes made—the finest quality throughout—costing 40 and 45 cents each. Then we have other garden tools.

WIZARDS OF THE AIR.

Veritable Living Meteors With Ringling Bros' Great Circus. There is probably no single feature of a circus programme that claims so much breathless attention and that thrills an audience to a greater degree than an intrepid performance upon the flying trapeze.

The performance given by this notable family of aerialists is not only unique, but also superior to anything of the kind ever seen in this country. They actually fly through space, turning single and double somersaults in mid-air, and never failing to catch each other at the critical moment of descent.

Equally remarkable are the thrilling aerial exploits of the marvelous DaComas. Swinging under the immense dome, forty feet apart, Louis and Rose toss their sister Fanon across the intervening space, catching her with outstretched hands, and repeating the thrilling maneuver until the audience is fairly electrified by the daring dexterity of the performance.

In addition to the Fishers and the DaComas Ringling Brothers offer many other high class aerial novelties. M'le Turnour, the aerial equilibrist, is an unrivaled artist in her line. As masters of the aerial bars, Alvo, Boise and Pickard are without peers in the arenic world.

DAUGHTERS OF ERIN DANCE.

J. Hogan, Police Commissioner and Mrs. Lander, Patrolman and Mrs. J. J. Flynn, Sergeant and Mrs. M. J. Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. E. Keavin of Branford, Mr. and Mrs. Bretzfelder, Councilman P. J. Conlin, Councilman Maroney, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Barry, Mrs. J. J. McAvoy, Mrs. Miller, Miss Katie Cunningham, Miss Rose Wrinn, Mrs. Alexander Troup, Miss Carroll, Miss Ella Molloy, Miss Mary Curtis, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Miss Margaret Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Reichert, Mrs. Dooley, Miss Nellie Prawley, Mrs. Ernest Miley, Miss Margaret Doley, Miss Lizzie O'Connor, Mrs. M. O'Connor.

A large number of delegates were present from the societies in Wallingford and Meriden.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

Annual Celebration Took Place Last Night in Warner Hall. The Sons of St. George held their annual celebration last night in Warner hall. The affair was in charge of Red Cross lodge No. 12 and William E. Gladstone lodge No. 374.

A COMING WEDDING.

And a Farewell Bachelor Party Last Evening. Carl Beck, for some years a well known clerk for Adam Ridiger, the St. John street meat and provision dealer, gave a farewell bachelor party to his many friends last evening at No. 362 Blatchley avenue.

Mr. Beck is to be united in marriage to-morrow evening to Miss Lizzie Smith, a popular young woman of Fair Haven and daughter of John Smith, an employe of the Consolidated road for the last forty years.

The evening was passed pleasantly with music and song, and all left wishing the host many years of happy married life.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Grand Opera House.

That powerful "Sex against Sex" drama "Sowing the Wind," by Sidney Grundy, was presented by a superb cast at the Grand Opera house last night. There was only a fair sized audience present, but the piece is indeed deserving of crowded houses, with which it was greeted on the occasion of its former appearance at the Hyperion.

The company is precisely the same as at that time and the production was given in the same splendid manner and with all the excellent accompaniments. "Sowing the Wind" is a drama which depicts a story decidedly true to life, where woman is called upon to defend her sex against the ralleries and bitter treatment of the opposite sex.

Poll's Wonderland Theater.

As expected there was a packed house at Poll's last night to greet Maggie Cline, the special favorite of New Haven, where years ago she began her career as a singer. She gave them a return for their greeting, which was hearty and spontaneous, and sang until even her rugged physique and sonorous voice were taxed to nearly exhaustion.

She has a great voice, a delicious brogue and an art all her own in telling, set to rollicking airs, the story of various Irish characters including the celebrated McCloskey. All her songs are rollicking and the singing was capped when she sang "McCloskey" with the full stage band accompaniment. "Way Up East," the burlesque upon the celebrated play, "Way Down East," developed another big hit. The Baker, Begley and Thrum comedy company is playing it, and it is a capital take off on the original, even to the great snow storm which is utilized as a novel fun maker.

The Caroleville troupe of dancers is a feature in themselves. They give dances of six nations, and are particularly worth seeing in the Scottish and Irish dances given in national costume. The Scottish sword dance is given the best ever seen here. The sisters Christie in musical numbers, Kelly and Violette, Ric and Alma, a great comedy bar act, McFoyden and Royal Sheridan and Pagan and the Leslies complete the bill. Prices, matinee, 10 and 20 cents; evening, 10, 20 and 30 cents; ladies at matinee, 10 cents.

Nothing so elaborate, nothing that could compare with it in length, brilliancy or gorgeousness of costuming and decoration, has ever been seen in this city.

A COMING WEDDING.

The evening was passed pleasantly with music and song, and all left wishing the host many years of happy married life.

Augustus Miller, together with his bride of a few days, and cousin of Mr. Beck, from Brooklyn, N. Y., was present last evening and will remain until after the wedding. They are making their headquarters with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Norton of No. 25 Warren place, Cedar Hill.

COUNCILMAN KEANE VERY ILL.

Councilman William Keane, who is ill with congestion of the brain, was reported last night to be in a most critical condition and slight hopes of his recovery were entertained.

Mother and Doctor Too. Until the doctor comes, and for minor ills and accidents, the mother must doctor her family. Tens of thousands of mothers have relied upon JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, and have found it always reliable. It is used both externally and internally and it is the remedy for inflammation from any cause.

BERNSTEIN BEATS CONROY. A Clever Bout and a Queer Decision—The Others. The faithful were on hand in force last night for the Bernstein-Conroy bout at the polo rink. The entertainment opened with a few preliminaries that were the worst ever seen, barring none, but the star attraction made amends for all shortcomings and the crowd left satisfied with everything but the decision in the last bout, of which more anon.

The first bout was between two new boys of assorted sizes. They donned bright, new gloves—thirty-eight cents, marked down from forty-four. The gloves lasted for nearly three rounds, when the excelsior flew out of three, and as the only glove intact belonged to the smaller man, the referee declared the bout a draw.

Young Brady of this city and "Kid" Lewis of New York were scheduled for six rounds. They went almost one, when Louis was disqualified for fouling. Paddy Rich of Paterson and Danny Duane of New York went on for fifteen rounds. Rich wore in ill-doing early in the third. He collapsed ostentatiously without just cause or provocation and was meekly counted out. He received from his swoon long enough to walk to his seat and then formally went out again, apparently in accordance with the schedule in his studious following. As a fighter he was not a startling success. As an actor, Nat Goodwin is far and away to the bad in his class.

Duane won all the money all the way, by request. The brothers Maroney then did the first meritorious boxing of the evening. It was friendly but fast and scientific, lasted four rounds and pleased by contrast in not being premeditated.

"Kid" Conroy and Joe Bernstein shook hands for the main bout at 10:30. A wrangle over the rules ensued. Queensbury rules were agreed upon, as Bernstein's manager wished. Conroy was good enough to hold his own for the first round. Bernstein got a straight hard left to the body twice and pounded Conroy's kidneys in the clinch. Conroy's face, too, suffered from an upper cut from the left in one clinch. The kid got a hard right to the jaw early in the third, and Joe began to show superiority in the clinches.

Bernstein's left went to the body again as the fourth opened and he sent it later to the face. There was some roughing on the ropes, and both men seemed a little tired. The kid put a hard left to the plexus and a right to the jaw in the fifth, but stopped a hard right with his jaw in a breakaway. Both men fouled in the break in the sixth, and Conroy's mouth bled profusely as a result of a terrific punch delivered there. A left to the same spot did not help him, but he kept coming and rose for the seventh in good condition. He put a hard right over the heart and ducked out of danger cleverly at times. Bernstein showed no damage at this stage. Joe stepped back out of the reach of several straight left leads in the eighth, and continued to rap the sore mouth of his antagonist. Conroy kept up his attack on the body. He got a good right to Joe's heart early in the ninth, but a hard left to the mouth met him, and he swung wild for a time. An upper cut in a clinch jarred his head back in the tenth and a hard right swung to the ear later disturbed him a little. He continued to lead pluckily, however, and seemed more willing during all the eleven, but failed to mark Bernstein. The twelfth was Bernstein's.

Paderewski and the Pianola.

Aboard private car "Riva," en route to San Francisco. To the Aeolian Company, New York.

Gentlemen:—As an admirer of the Aeolian, the wonderful merits of which I have attested to in a former letter to you, I have now the pleasure in adding my tribute to your latest invention, the "Pianola," which I consider still more ingenious.

It is astonishing to see this little device at work executing the masterpieces of Pianoforte literature with a dexterity, clearness and velocity which no player, however great, can approach.

Every one who wishes to hear absolutely faultless, free of any kind of nervousness, piano playing should buy a Pianola. It is perfection.

Wishing you well deserved success,
I am, Yours Very Truly,

Hallaway of the Yale Divinity school gave an interesting talk at the Congregational church, Rock Hill, Sunday morning upon the work of the American Missionary association among the freedmen of the south. Mr. Hallaway is a negro and took a four years' course at Talladega (Ala.) college, then two years in the theological school and is now completing the senior year at Yale Divinity school.

Dr. Timothy F. Cohane of 224 Congress avenue sailed Wednesday morning, April 18, on the White Star line steamship Oceanic for Dublin, Ireland. He intends taking up special work at the Dublin Lying-in hospital and is to be gone about eight months. Dr. Cohane has been practicing in New Haven for the past two years, previous to which he was on the staff of St. Joseph's hospital, New York.

NORTH HAVEN.
April 23.—New Haven people, old and young, would do well to take a little trip into the country at this time—get a whiff of fresh air, then drop into Memorial hall on Thursday evening, April 25, and see the play "Just for Fun," given by the "Cap and Bells" club of Wallingford, which, it is said, will make your spirits rise 'way up and you feel that it is good to be alive.

Rev. Mr. Jackson of Montevue interested the North Haven Congregational church-goers last Sunday morning in exchange with their pastor, Rev. Mr. Lathrop. Mr. Jackson preaches without notes and seemed wide-awake. He also attended the Sunday school session and expressed much interest in the school's method.

Clayton Thorpe, Herbert Bassett and others in the employ of F. L. Stiles have gone to Taunton, Mass., where Mr. Stiles has recently purchased extensive brick works.

The many friends of Mrs. F. L. Smith rejoice that it is so near the time for her to be with them again and that her health has been better during her absence than it has been many times when she is away.

Whitney Blakeslee, who has been away for his health, returned to his father's house, where his family is, last week. It is hoped that he will be able to remain at home.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Temperance union was held in the pleasant parlors of Mrs. A. N. Vibbert at the Center last Wednesday.

Miss Hattie Jacobs and Miss Susan Jacobs entertained company from the Center last week.

Do you know that three-quarters of all the world's headaches are the result of using tea and coffee?

So physicians say. Quit them and the headaches quit.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Enough Buyers to Steady It.
New York, April 23.—Saturday's break in prices of stocks brought large selling orders into the market to-day but there were also buying orders on a large scale. Part of the orders to buy were apparently from friends of different stocks for the purpose of supporting them and the shorts were also large buyers. The market was quite general that prices would open with something like a crash in values. But, as is not unusual in Wall street, over-optimism defeated itself and there were enough buyers waiting to take advantage of the expected crash to steady the market almost immediately. The pressure of liquidation continued heavily during the first hour and a second drive was made by the bears at end of that time, but the steady absorption of offerings brought a very cautious mood amongst the professionals and a decidedly quieter tone ensued. Some of the bull pools which had been active recently, notably that in Missouri Pacific, showed a disposition to resume operations. The undertone of the market was firm during the latter part of the day. The closing was strong and rather active, with the steel industrials at the best level of the day, and at considerable net gains, amounting to 2% in the case of Federal Steel and 2% in Steel and Wire. Wall street still keeps an anxious eye on the situation in the Iron and Steel trade, but is inclined to go back of official utterances in forming its opinions. The alarm first created over the cut in prices is mitigated by the well filled ranks of the consumers who are known to be waiting to place contracts at a lower level of prices. Last year's high prices are known to have been made by heated bids, but not by any price to fill contracts and the decline at the high level were for only a small part of the total produce.

The possibility of gold exports is viewed without alarm, as the money market is easy. The feature of the day was the quick rise to 85% of the Western New York and Pennsylvania general mortgage three-fours on the arrangement perfected with the Pennsylvania railroad of other prices. The market is in sympathy with stocks. Total sales par value, $2,580,000.

Miss Laura Marlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marlow of Cottage street, East Hartford, and Louis Haggarty of this city, will be married at St. Mary's church, East Hartford, Monday morning, April 30. Mr. Haggarty is connected with the fire department of New Haven.

Grand Regent Carlston E. Hoadley of this city is expected to be present at the meeting of the East Hartford council, Royal Arcanum, to-morrow evening, and preparations are under way to properly celebrate the event. Several candidates will be initiated. This lodge has been awarded for the third time in ten years first prize for the largest number of candidates taken in during the year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barker of Bishop street will remove next week to Stamford, where Mr. Barker has accepted a good position in the silver plating business. Mr. Barker is a brother of the late Mr. Barker, the silver plater, who had a factory on Artizan street, and who died a few weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Barker's New Haven friends will part with them with regret.

President John M. Hall of the New Haven road said yesterday regarding the sale of 10,000 shares of treasury stock made by the company in New York: "The treasury stock sold in New York was sold two months ago to take up a floating indebtedness of the company, and to pay for pending improvements. It had no connection whatever with the purchase of the New Haven Steamboat company."

CONGREGATIONAL CLUB.

Monthly Meeting in United Church Last Evening. At the regular meeting of the Congregational club held in United church last evening a resolution was introduced by the Rev. Alexander F. Irvine in favor of public bath houses. The resolution was adopted unanimously, and on a motion that a commission of five be appointed by the chair to co-operate in the work of other committees towards the same object. Judge Cleveland appointed the following: Rev. Dr. Munger, General E. S. Greeley, Dennis A. Blakelee, Charles A. Ferry and Harrison Hewitt. The meeting opened at 8:30 in the United church chapel with the usual social and supper, after which the business of the session was taken up in the church proper. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Luther Kenmiston of Shelton. The ballot for new members resulted in the election of the following: Harrison Hewitt, Norman S. Platt, Edmund Woodward.

The special committee appointed at the last meeting to make inquiries as to the attitude of the churches toward reformatory work, reported and submitted a resolution dealing with the matter. It was voted to table the resolution that it might be printed along with other resolutions, after which it will be taken up for consideration.

During the session several pleasing selections were rendered by Charles H. Mann, director of the United church choir. The next meeting of the club will be the annual meeting on June 11, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. McKenzie of Cambridge, who delivered a most interesting and witty discourse on the "Law of Fair Play."

SELECTMEN AT THE CAPITOL. Hartford, April 23.—The towns of Cheshire, Cromwell, Westbrook, Huntington and Bloomfield were represented at the capitol this morning by their selectmen who were in consultation with Highway Commissioner Macdonald over the matter of good roads. The very few towns which have not already taken advantage of the allowance of state funds for assistance in the matter of building state roads are now applying for their allotment.

RESERVED SEAT SALE.

COMMITTEE OF MAY FESTIVAL MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT.

An Innovation Made at Request of Ticket Holders—Enthusiastic Rehearsal Last Night of Coleridge Taylor's Work by the Gounod Society.

It is announced to-day by the committee of Connecticut Music Teachers' association that the sale of reserved seats for the May festival on the 7th, 8th and 9th, will start on Monday, April 23, at 9 o'clock. As usual the sale will be conducted at the Hyperion.

There will be an innovation this year regarding this reserved seat sale. This innovation will effect the afternoon concerts only, and is made at the suggestion of hundreds of ticket holders. According to the new arrangement it will be possible to secure reserved places for the two afternoon concerts for twenty-five cents. Complaints regarding the hurry, occasioned at noon by the necessity of rushing back so early in the afternoon to obtain fairly good seats led to the adoption of this plan.

By this arrangement a reserved seat holder can leave the theater before the first concert is over with the knowledge that his seat will be kept for him. This check is, of course, transferable just as an ordinary coupon.

Of course those who prefer not to buy seats for any of the events, either afternoon or evening, are assured of a seat. To every holder of a season ticket a seat is guaranteed, those seats not having been reserved in advance in any part of the house, being open to the general audience, that is to those not holding reserved seat checks.

The Gounod society held a characteristic rehearsal last night at Republican hall. The two works of Coleridge-Taylor, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," "The Death of Minnehaha," which are to close the festival, were gone over almost in their entirety. One could gain an insight last night of the true beauties of both these works. There is little doubt that both these rare compositions will create a genuine sensation.

The musical sensation of the London season is Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha," writes a London correspondent in the Boston Advertiser.

"At the concert in which 'Hiawatha' was given for the first time in its entirety at Albert hall the composer conducted and received a most enthusiastic reception," continues the writer.

Mr. Coleridge-Taylor, an Afro-Englishman, is a young man to attain such distinction in the musical world. He is only twenty-five and was born in London. He began the study of music at the age of ten, and at twenty-three achieved his first notable success in an orchestral ballad which he wrote for the Gloucester festival in September, 1898. Shortly after this he began work on these scenes from "Hiawatha," as told by the poet Longfellow.

The first, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," was heard under festival conditions at Norwich last fall; the 2d, "The Death of Minnehaha," was produced at the North Staffordshire festival a little later. The third, "Hiawatha's Departure," was given its premier hearing at Albert hall Thursday evening.

As to Mr. Agramonte's interpretation of these unique, interesting works, it is sufficient to say that the conductor is enthusiastic over the genuine charm of both compositions and that the superb chorus has never been in better form.

Mr. Agramonte is getting magnificent effects from the score so that it is absolutely safe to predict that Mr. Taylor's works will be produced as they have never been before.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Death of Mrs. Sybil Wheeler of West Haven. Mrs. Sybil Wheeler, the wife of Daniel B. Wheeler, who died at his home, at the corner of Elm street and Washington avenue, West Haven, a short time ago, died at her residence about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. She had been ill with pneumonia for several weeks, and at the time of her husband's death was slowly recovering. Afterwards she had a relapse and she gradually failed until her death. She was attended by Dr. Durell Shepard of West Haven. She leaves no children.

Some time ago she and her husband made wills willing the property of which they were public enemies to each other. Therefore Mrs. Wheeler was the recipient of the property of her husband, which amounted to about $30,000. Now the property of which Mrs. Wheeler died seized goes to her next of kin, one of whom is Miss Mary E. Scranton of 1156 Chapel street, this city. She also leaves a sister in Ansonia. The deceased was also a sister of H. J. Smith of Ansonia, president of the Ansonia Lumber company, who in his youth learned the business of an architect with the late Harry Austin.

The funeral services of Mrs. Wheeler will take place at her late home, corner of Washington avenue and Elm street, to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Gammack, rector of Christ church, will officiate. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Wheeler was seventy-two years of age. Her husband was at one time quite prominent in the town and was once tax collector of the town of Orange.

FUNERAL OF MISS KUSS. The funeral services of Miss Kuss took place yesterday afternoon at her late home, 32 East street. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends. Rev. Mr. Timm of the German Lutheran church on George street officiated. There were beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in Mapledale cemetery. W. H. Stahl was the funeral director.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY MAGG. The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Magg took place yesterday at her late residence, 107 Shelton avenue. Many friends were present to pay the last tribute of esteem. Rev. Mr. Timm officiated. The interment was in Evergreen cemetery. W. H. Stahl was the funeral director. The deceased was a widow and leaves four children, two sons and two daughters, all of this city.

DEATH OF MRS. BRAY, WIFE OF REV. S. H. BRAY. The many friends of New Haven of

Rev. Spencer H. Bray and of his wife, Martha Rachel Bray (now deceased), will regret to hear of Mrs. Bray's death, which occurred in New York on the evening of April 21. Mrs. Bray had been an invalid for four years past. All that the most devoted care and best medical skill could do to restore her health were unavailing. There was no recurrence of the illness which she had when in New Haven and for which a surgical operation was performed successfully, but she was attacked by Bright's disease and by a form of paralysis which rendered her helpless as nearly three years ago. Rev. Mr. Bray has given his whole time to caring for her night and day as far as possible. On account of her illness Mr. Bray has preached but seven Sundays during the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. Bray had lived and labored together for forty years. Mrs. Bray's death will be much mourned, as she had a great many warm friends in every church in which Mr. Bray has served as pastor. Mr. Bray was pastor of the old St. John street Methodist church in New Haven years ago and later was pastor for a number of years of the Humphrey street Congregational church, this city, going from there to serve as pastor in the mission work connected with the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, of which the late and famous Rev. William M. Taylor was pastor.

The funeral of Mrs. Bray will take place to-morrow (Wednesday) morning at 10:30 o'clock from her late residence, No. 59 West Ninety-ninth street, New York city. The remains will be brought to this city on the arrival here of the train which leaves New York at 1 p. m., and the interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. Rev. Mr. Luekey of the Humphrey street church will officiate at the grave.

YOUNG MAN MADE DEFENDANT.

In a Suit Brought by a Bridgeport Livestock Dealer.

Bridgeport, April 23.—Papers were brought to-day in an action brought by Henry Burlington against John Brennan, Jr., an advertising solicitor, to recover $400 damages. About four weeks ago the defendant hired a horse and carriage of the plaintiff to go to Milford. He drove over to New Haven in company with Jacob Mann instead. The young man, so it is alleged, urged the horse along at a terrific clip. It is said that the animal made the eighteen miles in an hour and ten minutes.

After remaining in New Haven for a short time the young man started back. It is charged that they again drove the horse for all it was worth. When near Milford the poor animal fell down with fatigue and was unable to go further. The horse was left in Milford over night, and the next morning was brought back to this city. Mr. Burlington did not see it again, however, for three days. He finally recovered the animal from Peck & Lines stable, where it had been left. It was so much used up that it could hardly walk.

Mr. Burlington claims that the horse was worth $150 and that it was ruined. It is also alleged that the carriage was injured. Sheriff Doolan served the papers to-day and arrested young Brennan on a body writ. The young man's father, John Brennan, sr., put up a bond of $400 and secured his release. The papers are returnable to the civil court to-morrow.

A CHILD'S MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Conductor May's Little One Fell From a Two Story Window.

A two-year-old child of Thomas H. May, of 274 Ferry street, a conductor on the Fair Haven and Westville road, fell from a second story window Sunday, but apparently suffered no serious injury. The child's escape is considered miraculous by Dr. McGuire of Ferry street, who made a thorough examination of the body after the fall, but could find no bones broken, nor any outward sign of serious injury. There was a possibility that some internal injury might show itself, but there was not the slightest indication of it yesterday, and the youngster appeared as well as ever. Just before the fall the child was playing near the window. While Mrs. May was absent from the room a short time it climbed up and fell out.

MILL GIRLS STRIKE IN DERBY.

Derby, April 23.—Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning about 100 girls and four men left their work in the stocking department of the woolen mills of A. H. and C. B. Alling out of sympathy for their foreman, John Shaffer, who had resigned his position. Shaffer had made certain requests in regard to his work, which were not granted. Having another position in view he left the company's employ. The girls on seeing the new foreman take his place thought Shaffer had been discharged, and refused to work without him. He is now trying to persuade them to go back.

TOO MUCH COMPETITION.

Yesterday's Bridgeport Standard says: "Youman & Dill, who have been conducting a 'brokerage commission office in the Sanford building for some time, closed up their affairs Saturday night as far as this city is concerned, and quit business. The office was a branch of the firm's New Haven house and occupied handsomely furnished quarters. Too much competition in the stock speculating business in this city is given as the reason for the New Haven firm's retirement from the field."

FOOD AND ITS VALUE

It is not of so much importance how much food we eat as it is how much is assimilated. Unless your food is properly assimilated it can do you no good—in fact, it is harmful. It over-burdens the stomach and impairs the digestive organs. Food is easily and rapidly assimilated when

JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT is taken with meals. Johann Hoff's Malt Extract improves the appetite, perfects digestion, and is a certain remedy for dyspepsia. Beware of worthless substitutes sold in bottles under the name of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract.

FUNERAL OF COMMODORE PECK.

Held Yesterday Afternoon from St. Paul's Church. The funeral services of the late Commodore Richard Peck were held yesterday from St. Paul's church at 2:30 and were largely attended. Many prominent business men of New Haven, who had been associated with Commodore Peck, attended the funeral to pay their last respects to the family of the deceased.

Among the representatives of the New Haven line who attended were Chester W. Chapin of New York, president of the Old Line; Charles H. Northam of Hartford, J. H. Rumliffe of Springfield, Superintendent Geraty and E. F. De Suis, general passenger agent of the line.

The services at the church and later at the grave were very impressive and were conducted by Rev. Dr. Lines, rector of St. Paul's. The many floral pieces were extremely beautiful and bore a mute testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held. There were many handsome wreaths and bouquets, but the most striking piece was a miniature of the steamer United States, which was built in 1821 and which was the first side-wheeler to ply on Long Island sound. It was about six feet long, the hull being made of cane flowers and the rest of white roses set off by carnations. The railings were of violets. The water was very effectively represented by Easter lilies, and on the side of the boat was the name "United States." The piece was the gift of the officials of the company. From Stephen Whitney was a large standing anchor composed of bride roses and violets.

The music was by a quartette composed of Mrs. H. H. H. Hull, Wallace S. Moyle and Frederick S. Weld. The choir sang "Rock of Ages," "Lead Kindly Light" and "Thy Will be Done." As the casket was borne from the church the choir chanted the Lord's prayer.

The honorary bearers were ex-Governor Charles M. Ingersoll, ex-Mayor George Holcomb, ex-Judge John C. Holcomb, Theodore A. Tuttle, Captain John Bradley, Charles S. Leete, Colin M. Ingersoll and Thomas F. Rowland of New York city. The interment, which followed immediately after the services at the church, was in Evergreen cemetery. A number of friends of Commodore Peck viewed the remains at the home of his son, Captain Richard, 363 Elm street, yesterday morning.

M. H. Walsh of Naugatuck came to this city yesterday, having accepted a position in the Troy steam laundry. Another Naugatuck man, Carlton Smith, came to this city yesterday, having found employment here.

THE SALE OF THE OLD LINE.

It is ascertained that two causes led to the New Haven Steamboat sale to the New Haven Railroad company. Some weeks ago the railroad company gave formal notice to the boat company that unless it desisted from competition its cut rates would be met. On the other hand, the boat company had taken steps for fresh competition by stopping its boats at Saunderson, R. I., thence connecting by trolley with Narragansett Pier and by ferry with Newport. The acuteness of the situation thus created brought both parties together into negotiations.

An important part of the property transferred is the new wharf built but not yet used by the boat company here, of an estimated value of $100,000. President Hall says that one of the most important results of the transfer is the relief of the Harlem terminal from congestion and delay in the delivery of local freight at New York city, hereafter to be shipped to the boat line. President Clark some months ago made an attempt to avoid that trouble by specializing New York rail freight, but was unsuccessful.

Morehouse of New Haven, counsel for the Meriden Bronze company, will apply to Judge Thayer of the superior court at New Haven to-morrow for the appointment of a receiver for the company.

The petition will in all probability be brought in the name of the City bank of New Haven. A creditor of the company to the extent of $5,000 and H. Wales Lines of this city, one of the directors of the company, will, it is understood, be named in the petition for temporary receiver.
