

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA

Prince Ching Defending Legations in Peking Against the Boxers.

OUTLOOK IS MORE HOPEFUL

ALLIES AT TIEN TSIN, HOWEVER, HAVING A HARD TIME.

Empress Dowager Said to be Actively Striving to Prevent Factional Fighting—Prince Tuan Willing to Take Full Responsibility—Proposes to Take Tien Tsin and Taku—Fighting at Former Place.

London, July 30.—3:25 a. m.—With the foreigners in Peking probably safe amidst civil war, with Prince Ching on their side, with the powers united and their forces constantly increasing, the outlook in China is now rather more hopeful than it has been for a month past. It appears from the cautious statement given out by Tsoai Sheng, in Shanghai, that the reason the heavy guns bearing on the legations at Peking were not used is that Prince Ching, who is served by 10,000 troops, seized all the artillery ammunition. Sheng likewise intimates that Yung Lu, commander-in-chief of the northern army, is associated with Prince Ching in opposing Prince Tuan's furious designs and dictatorial ambitions. Sheng, who appears to be the sole Shanghai conduit of Peking news, cheers the foreign consuls by taking excessive precautions to prevent the Chinese from thinking him friendly to the foreigners.

The feeling of unrest in the southern and central provinces continues. The members of the official class in those provinces strive to remain neutral, with a leaning toward the foreigners, and they shall see whether the moderate or extreme factions will win in Peking. Prince Ching seems to be standing for the dynasty and the old order against Prince Tuan's inordinate ambition. From a foreign viewpoint the capture of Peking is the key to the situation as there is a fear, says the Daily Mail's Shanghai correspondent, that delay now means one hundred recruits for the Boxers for every soldier of the allies in the land.

Two couriers arrived at Tien Tsin on July 1 from Peking. One brought a letter from Sir Claude MacDonald, the British minister, to the same effect as that previously received from Sir Robert Hart. The couriers confirm the reports of the death of Baron von Ketteler. They say that Prince Ching is doing his utmost to protect the foreigners, but that the native feeling against the whites is strong. Two high officials opposed to the Boxers are reported by the couriers to have been assassinated. Sir Claude MacDonald's letter is dated four days earlier than that of Sir Robert Hart's.

A dispatch to a news agency here, dated Tien Tsin, July 2, says: "The empress dowager so far from being dead is actively striving to prevent the factions fighting. Prince Ching has informed her that he would rather lose his head than be constantly obliged to warn her of the consequences of the prolongation of the present anarchy. Prince Tuan is quite willing that Ching should be decapitated, but the dowager empress will not allow this. Prince Tuan has decided that he will take full responsibility. He proposes to retain Tien Tsin and Taku. Outside of Peking, except in the Pe Chi Li and Shan Tung country, the people are supremely indifferent."

However, all this may be the allies at Tien Tsin are having an exceedingly unpleasant time. The last engagement of which news has come through occurred on July 6. The Chinese artillery opened at dawn. Their fire was more accurate and their munition better, the shells exploding with precision and setting fire to several buildings. H. M. S. Terrible's guns again quieted the Chinese, who shifting their artillery, reopened the attack in the afternoon, but a thunder storm breaking, the Chinese suddenly quit. The allies immediately attacked and drove the Chinese from their works, but lost thirty killed or wounded in so doing. The non-combatants are leaving Tien Tsin and the opinion of a minority favors the military leaving also. Stories of colossal Chinese armies gathering continue to worry not only the rank and file, but the commanders, who admit the uncertainty of reconnoissances and the complete absence of an effective intelligence department. Chinese information is received with extreme distrust.

It is obvious, that though there are many thousands of Chinese camped behind the guns, nothing can be done at present except to wait the arrival of reinforcements. The rainy season has set in and this makes going into the interior more difficult. The country between Peking and Tien Tsin in other years has been frequently flooded. River transport is almost impossible and the railroad is practically non-existent and must be rebuilt.

Military opinion is unanimous in the belief that if the legations did not need relief it would be foolish to attempt to advance before September. The Daily Mail's Shanghai correspondent under date of July 9 says: "It is certain that if the powers make any movement elsewhere north of Taku they must be prepared to meet opposition. A Chinese official in high favor with Viceroy Liu Kunyi in the course of an interview says the southern viceroys are only bound to neutrality so long as they are not interfered with. They have more war materials than

KAISER'S WILL DETERMINED.

Again Says He Will Not Rest Until China is Subdued.

Kiel, July 9.—Addressing the First Naval division prior to its departure for China to-day, Emperor William said: "You are the first division of armored ships which I sent abroad. Remember, you will have to fight a cunning foe, provided with modern weapons, to avenge the German blood which has flowed. But spare the women and children. I shall not rest till China is subdued and all the bloody deeds are avenged. You will fight together with the troops of various nationalities. See that you maintain good comradeship with them."

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE.

Does Not Wish Japan to Get a Privileged Position on the Continent.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Authoritative information just obtained confirms the report that Russia has consented to and is even desirous that Japan should actively co-operate in the pacification of China. Russia places no limit on the number of Japanese troops to be employed and only stipulates that this agreement is not to constitute a mandate whereby Japan will obtain a privileged position. Japan, it is added, must co-operate in the work of pacification on the same conditions as the other powers.

Times is Doubtful.

London, July 30.—The Times this morning says: "Some Chinese officials are evidently desirous to have it believed in Europe that the legations in Peking are still under the protection of one section of the Chinese army. But that only makes it more remarkable that they should not employ the only convincing argument by allowing direct communication between the ministers and the outer world. We do not wish to insist too strongly upon this aspect, but these circumstantial rumors lack the confirmation so easily supplied if they are true."

Bell Presented by Actor Byrne.

Norwich, July 9.—The bell presented to St. Patrick's church by John F. Byrne, the well known actor, was dedicated to-night by Bishop Tierney, assisted by a number of clergymen. The sermon was preached by Rev. John Neale of Terryville. The bell weighs 3,600 pounds and cost upwards of $500. It was given by Mr. Byrne as a memorial to his mother.

ST. LOUIS STRIKE ON AGAIN

CHARGES THAT COMPANY HAS NOT KEPT AGREEMENT.

Boycott Ordered Renewed at 5 O'Clock This Morning—Company Denies Intentionally Violating Terms Agreed Upon—Willing to Submit the Matter to Men's Counsel and Abide by His Decision.

St. Louis, July 9.—The strike against the St. Louis Transit company, by its former employees, which was declared off on July 2, was ordered renewed to-day at a meeting of the Street Railway Men's union, at the West End Coliseum. To-morrow morning at 5 o'clock was the time fixed for the renewal of the boycott on all the company's lines. When the strike was settled on July 2 there was discontent among the men over the terms of settlement and since that time the dissatisfaction has grown daily. Charges were made that the company had failed to keep the agreement of July 2, and a dozen or more instances were cited tending to prove that there had been a breach of faith. Several meetings were held during the week and committees were appointed to procure proof of infidelity on the part of the company. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Railway Men's union held on Saturday, a batch of affidavits were presented to the effect that men had been employed by the company since July 2, in violation of the terms of the agreement of that date. The executive committee called a mass meeting of the street railway men to-day and reported recommending that the strike be declared on again. The representatives of the companies met through President Whitaker addressed a letter to the men denying that the company had intentionally violated the agreement on July 2 and declaring its intention to live up to every condition of the agreement both in letter and spirit.

Fred W. Lehmann, attorney of the company, offered to submit the question as to whether the company had broken faith to Joseph Folker, counsel for the men, and honor the company to abide by Mr. Folker's judgment in the premises. The proposition was ignored and by a unanimous vote the strike was renewed. A member of the executive committee said to-day that this was the second time the company had broken faith with employees. "There will be no lawlessness or demonstration of violence this time," said the committee man. "The whole trouble seems to hang upon a question of facts, the men insisting that the company had violated its agreement, while the company, on the other hand, emphatically denies that such is the case. The men claimed yesterday that a verbal agreement was entered into concurrently with the written agreement, and under the verbal agreement the company had agreed to re-employ all the men in sixty days, seniority in the service determining the priority of re-employment."

A CONFERENCE AT LINCOLN

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS OUTLINE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN FOR 1900.

Bryan, Stevenson, Towne and Jones Present—The Amount of Stumping to be Done by the Candidates—Bryan Will Not Tour the Country as in 1896—Towne's Plans.

Lincoln, Neb., July 9.—Plans for the national democratic campaign of 1900 were outlined and practically agreed upon to-day at a protracted conference between the leaders of the party. Those present at the conference were W. J. Bryan, Adlai E. Stevenson, Charles A. Towne, Senator J. K. Jones, chairman of the national committee, and National Committee-men Stone of Missouri, Campaign of Michigan and Johnson of Kansas. The plan includes the appointment of a campaign committee as agreed upon between representatives of the democratic, silver republican and populist parties at Kansas City. This committee will include members of all three parties and perhaps also democrats not members of the national committee, but prominent in the councils of the party. This committee will, it is said, have charge, in a measure, of the practical working of the campaign and will work for fusion on state and congressional tickets whenever possible. The press and executive committee, it is expected, will, with one or two exceptions, be the same as last year. The personnel of all the committees was left in the hands of Chairman Jones. The question of national headquarters was also left in his hands. It was stated that Chicago would probably be selected. Mr. Bryan said to-day that he had made no plans as to the part he would take in the campaign and would not do so until he had conferred further with the party leaders. The subject was discussed at the meeting as well as the amount of campaign work to be done by Mr. Stevenson, but this feature will not be fully decided upon until after the formal meeting. His nomination has been given to Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson, which will not be for several weeks. Committee-man Johnson of Kansas, however, stated after the meeting that an understanding exists that Mr. Bryan will not tour the country as he did during the campaign of 1896, but will make trips from time to time to the larger centers of population, remaining in Lincoln a great part of the time. Mr. Towne may not announce his decision in regard to the vice presidency for several days, although several populist leaders in the city stated to-day that he might announce his withdrawal to the populist executive committee to-morrow. Democratic leaders, however, state that the whole question has been postponed until after the middle-of-the-road state populist convention to be held at Grand Island, Neb., July 29. The attitude taken by that wing of the populists and the strength developed by them will, it is said, be closely observed as a criterion in other populist states, and should no serious defections from the regular populists on account of Mr. Towne's defeat in the democratic convention be noticed, a conference with the populist leaders will then be held, at which time it is expected Mr. Towne's withdrawal will be announced.

A number of changes are expected in the ways and means committee. True Mr. Towne may not announce his decision, take the place of Alexander H. Mack on the press, and Norman E. Mack the place of Frank Campbell on the executive committee.

RETURN OF TROOPS FROM CUBA.

General Ludington Arranges for Their Transportation.

Washington, July 9.—Quartermaster General Ludington has practically completed arrangements to bring home the troops in Cuba destined for service in this country. The transports Rawlin, which left New York to-day, will unload freight at Havana and then go to Matanzas, whence she will take a battalion of the Tenth Infantry to Santiago unloading that battalion there and loading a battalion of the Fifth Infantry, which she will bring to New York. The transport Sedgwick will leave New York to-morrow for Matanzas, whence she will transfer the battalion of the Tenth Infantry to Cienfuegos and load two battalions of the Second Infantry for New York. The Crook and McClellan also at New York will leave to-morrow and Wednesday respectively with freight for Havana, and will bring back two battalions of the Eighth Infantry, which battalions will be forwarded to Fort Snelling, Minn. When the transport McPherson concludes her present duty of taking Cuban teachers to Boston, she will proceed to Santiago for the remaining battery of the Fifth Infantry, which will be landed at New York.

Short Telegraphic Items.

Washington, July 9.—The secretary of state has issued a warrant for the surrender to the British authorities of Thomas Quinn, Ireland, who is charged with the burglary of $200,000 in gold, which he is held at New York. He is consigned to return to Ireland for trial. New York, July 9.—The first started in the city of Columbus, Ga., when the warehouse company's big building at 60-62 West 83rd street, this afternoon. It burned rapidly, but was subdued after it had destroyed the rear portions of the fourth and fifth floors, and all of the sixth floor and the roof. The damage is estimated at $40,000. Chicago, July 9.—The Chicago Democrat, formerly the Dispatch, an afternoon newspaper, founded in 1892, suspended publication of its daily edition to-day. It will be continued as a weekly. Nathan Eisenbach, the publisher of the paper, states that the discontinuance was because of lack of patronage. Manchester, N. H., July 9.—The funeral of Charles J. Verblond over the death of his wife, which took place two years ago, it is believed, led the man to commit suicide by shooting to-day, at Pine Grove cemetery, the burial place of his wife.

CONDITIONS IN INDIA.

Some Rain Falls—Appalling Mortality in Bombay—6,013,000 Receiving Aid.

London, July 9.—The secretary of state for India, Lord George Hamilton, has received the following from the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston: "The rainfall has been fairly general this week in Bombay, Deccan, Borar, Khandeish, the central provinces and the Gangaic plain and Punjab, but has been much below the average for these tracts except in southern Deccan. Little or no rain has fallen in Rajpootana, Guzerat and central India. The cholera mortality continues high in Bombay. The May mortality there was appalling. The number of persons receiving relief is 6,013,000. The governor of Bombay telegraphs to the foreign office as follows: "There were 10,239 deaths from cholera and 6,692 fatalities in the famine district during the last week in June, the total deaths among the numbers on the relief works in the British district were 5,324. The number on the relief works is increasing rapidly in consequence of the drought. The number on gratuitous relief is increasing throughout the affected districts."

Mrs. THOMAS R. TROWBRIDGE

Mrs. Thomas R. Trowbridge, widow of the late Thomas R. Trowbridge, is critically ill at her home, 59 Elm street, and slight hopes of her recovery are entertained. Mrs. Trowbridge sustained a severe shock from the fall of an elevator in her residence a short time ago and her illness was much aggravated by the discharge of fireworks on the central green late Saturday night. She is attended by Dr. Foster.

THE BOARD OF COUNCILMEN

BRIDGE MATTERS CAUSED MUCH DISCUSSION LAST NIGHT.

A Resolution for Opening of Chapel Street Bridge for Traffic Failed to Pass—Concurrent Action on the Kimberly Avenue Bridge Contract Matter—Petitions for Street Paving.

The regular meeting of the board of councilmen adjourned early last night as the best way, in the opinion of a majority of the members, to dispose of a proposed plan to have the Chapel street drawbridge at once opened for traffic. Councilman Rauch presented a resolution providing that the director of public works be instructed to place the bridge immediately in a condition for public travel. Unanimous consent for the passage of the resolution was asked for, and several members desired to speak upon the resolution, but President Stoddard said that it could not be debated. Unanimous consent was refused, and a motion to refer to the committee on railroads and bridges was lost. Later in the meeting the resolution was reconsidered on motion of Councilman Harkins. Councilman Harkins moved again to refer to the committee on railroads and bridges. Mr. Harkins amended to go into committee of the whole to consider a proposed plan to have the railroads and bridge committee was lost and then Mr. Harkins, who wanted a committee of the whole so badly, renewed his motion, which the chair declared out of order. Mr. Harkins appealed from the decision of the chair and on an aye and nay vote President Stoddard was sustained by a vote of 15 to 14. Councilman Wheeler proposed that the resolution be referred to a special committee, but other members thought that such action would be an insult to the standing committee on railroads and bridges. About this time a motion to adjourn was offered by some one and was carried before the bridge matter had been settled. Soon after the meeting was called to order a remonstrance, signed by George Phelps and thirty-one others, was read protesting against the laying of an asphalt pavement on Crown street, between Temple and Howe. The remonstrance was referred to the street committee, as were also a petition presented by Councilman Hewitt asking for a crushed stone pavement on Prospect street and a petition signed by T. A. Bassett and others for a crushed stone pavement on Lawrence street. Councilman Skinner presented a petition asking that Westville approaches to the Whalley avenue bridge on the Westville side be repaired by the city and that a new bridge be built there. In the preamble of the petition it was stated that in 1897 the city agreed to keep the approaches to the bridge in repair. It was charged that the city had not done so, and it was asked that the Westville approach to the bridge be repaired. The matter was referred to the committee.

AFRIKANDER WOMEN MEET.

Addressed by Olive Schreiner Who Denounces the British Policy.

Cape Town, July 9.—At a meeting of Afrikaner women here, to-day, called to protest against the annexation of the republics to the British empire and the punishment of the rebels, Mrs. Olive Schreiner, Crownright, denounced the British policy. She said she was ashamed of her English descent and added: "If the republics are annexed, peace is impossible. Every trench of Boer dead is a grave of England's honor. Every bullet making a wound also finds a bullet in the hearts of the empire."

THE ASHANTI TROUBLE.

3,000 Natives Awaiting Approach of British on Kumassi.

London, July 9.—The colonial office has received the following dispatch from Colonel Willocks, dated from Fumasi, Ashanti: "Three companies of troops joined Colonel Burroughs' regiment at Dempong at the exact hour appointed, thus upsetting the plans of the enemy, who offered no resistance. Burroughs attacked Kokofu July 3, but failed to take the town. Lieutenant Brown-Leo of the West Indian regiment and five soldiers were killed and eighty-two were wounded, including several officers slightly wounded. Proceed to Bekwai Ashanti are awaiting our approach at Kumassi."

Later the colonial office issued the text of a telegram from the governor of the Gold Coast, Sir Frederic Mitchell Hodgson, dated Akwabah, July 1, which said he crossed the Ofin river with the force that left Kumassi, accompanied by Lady Hodgson and other Europeans. A special service officer and assistant inspector died of wounds and hardships. The journey, he adds, was very severe.

New York, July 9.—On the Anchor liner Astoria, which arrived here to-day from Glasgow, came three Lilliputians as cabin passengers. They were Captain Hugh, Misses Lavinia Magri and Baron Magri. The house of the trio is at Middlebury, Mass.

BOER OFFICIALS SURRENDER

FREE STATE SECRETARY AND STATE ATTORNEY AMONG THEM.

Gave Themselves Up to the British Commandant at Helbron—Button Attacked by a Large Force of Burgers—He Easily Cuts Them Off—Boers Reported Defeated in the Transvaal.

London, July 9.—Lord Roberts telegraphs to the war office from Pretoria under date of July 9, as follows: "The officer commanding at Helbron reports that State Secretary Bignault, State Attorney Dickson and members of the council—Vandenberg and Kuppervergen—came in yesterday and surrendered. "Button was attacked yesterday in a position he was holding by a large number of Boers. He cut them off without much difficulty. The five-inch guns with him were found most useful. Our only casualty was Lieutenant Young of the First Canadian Mounted troop—slight scalp wound. The enemy left several wounded on the ground and sent a flag of truce with a request that they might be recovered in our field hospital. "I regret to say that Captain Currie and Lieutenant Kirk of the Imperial Light Horse, who were reported wounded in my telegram of yesterday, were both killed. One squadron of this distinguished corps passed a very severe force of the enemy in a gallant attempt to carry off a wounded comrade, to which they attributed the heavy loss sustained. In addition to the officer, a farther sergeant and three troopers were killed and the sergeant-major, three sergeants and seven troopers wounded."

Lord Roberts' dispatches reveal the Boers as unusually active both in the Orange colony and the so-called pacified western Transvaal, but without producing any serious impression upon the British arms. The bond leaders at the Cape are extending their boycott of British firms, and Dutch companies with £200,000 capital have been formed. Passengers arriving at Lorenzo Marques, on July 9, from Middleburg, say there has been severe fighting between the latter place and Machadodorp in which the Boers were defeated and demoralized. The Lorenzo Marques correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says under date of July 9: "I understand that Mr. Hollis, the American consul here, has been recalled. He is a well known pro-British man."

The Cape Town correspondent of the Standard says under date of July 9: "The postoffice authorities have issued a notice that civil mails have been suspended for Johannesburg. This, with the fact that telegrams from Pretoria are refused caused uneasiness."

KRUGER'S RETENTION OF GOLD.

Causes Discontent Among Mercenaries, Officers and Men.

Cape Town, July 9.—It is reported here that President Kruger's retention of large amounts of gold at Machadodorp has created the utmost discontent among the mercenaries, officers and men. They expected substantial rewards for championing the Boer interests, but have received nothing. It is added that visiting foreigners who have subsequently advocated intervention are believed to have received substantial sums. Proofs, it is further asserted, have been discovered in Pretoria which promise startling developments.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.

An Italian Charged With Having Contracted a Dual Marriage.

Antonio Cirulino, an employee of the New Haven Rolling Mill, was arrested last night by Detective Ward on the charge of bigamy. It is alleged that thirteen years ago he married a girl in Italy and then came to this country. Two children were born, a son and a daughter, and about four years ago the couple separated, the husband taking the son and going to Italy. The wife heard that he was there and followed him with the daughter. Cirulino heard that she was in New Haven and returned to America, bringing the boy with him. In Newark, N. J., he married another woman and a few weeks ago he came to New Haven with the Newark wife and his son. Mrs. Cirulino No. 1 heard that he was in New Haven and procured his arrest. She was in the Grand avenue station house when he was brought in there last night. The son accompanied him and when wife No. 1 saw her son whom she had not seen for a number of years the sight was touching. She embraced the boy and tearing off some jewelry which she wore she gave it to the child. Cirulino will be in the city court this morning.

Ward and Davis, the national champions, won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4. THROUGH NIAGARA RAPIDS

NISSON SUCCESSFULLY MAKES THE PERILOUS TRIP.

His Craft, the "Pool Killer" Survive the Whirlpools and Other Dangers—Ten Thousand People Witness the Performance—The Trip Begins at 3:57 and Ends at 6 O'Clock—The Navigator's First Word. Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 9.—Peter Nisson, of Chicago, or Bowser, as he styles himself, went through the whirlpool rapids of the Niagara river this afternoon in the presence of about 10,000 persons, in his craft, the Pool Killer. The boat was towed to a rock about one mile above the rapids. At 3:57 the start down stream was actually commenced. The flickle eddies, however, kept the Pool Killer drifting about until 4:50 when she got into the whirlpool current and started for the final plunge. The crowd then saw the craft rise on the crest of a smooth wave and then dive like a fish hawk into the leaping spray and disappear. She soon shot up again, rolling and plunging until she passed a bend in the river. The buoyant craft kept on the crest of the wave until submerged again on the verge of the whirlpool. Shooting into the whirlpool, the Pool Killer swung around and went down like a fishing bob, but rose again quickly. Shortly before 6 o'clock the Pool Killer was carried out to the edge of the rapids and a line was thrown by Bowser to men on shore, who hauled him in. His first words were: "How is that for Bowser?"

NATIONAL EDUCATIONALISTS.

Members of Association Arriving in Charleston—Convention Opens To-day.

Charleston, S. C., July 9.—Although the general convention of the National Educational association will not be called to order until to-morrow afternoon large numbers of delegates have already arrived. The delegates spent the day in visiting the many points of interest in the city. The national council of education, the department of Indian education and the national conference of religion held brief sessions. He favored the creation of a commission of practical men to further the work of spreading education among the inhabitants of our new possessions carry on this work.

A paper on "Educational Progress During the Year" was read at the night session by Dr. B. A. Hinsdale of the University of Michigan. The national conference of religious education held three sessions during the date at the Citadel Baptist church and adjourned. A lively contest is already in full swing for next year's convention. Five cities have entered their claims, Cincinnati, Detroit, Duluth, Boston and Buffalo. A preliminary meeting for the completion of the formation of the national grade teachers' federation, which was inaugurated by Chicago teachers, was started this evening.

Arrested for Theft.

George H. Young, for many years a trusted employe at the Sargent factory, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Ward of the Grand avenue precinct on the charge of theft of hardware manufactured at the shop at which he was employed. Young was employed as a joiner at Sargent's and it came to the attention of Ward not long ago that goods had been missed at the factory lately. The circumstances which Ward heard led him to believe that Young was the guilty man. Ward began his investigation a few days ago and soon found where Young had disposed of goods of the kind manufactured at Sargent's. Yesterday Ward went to the factory and placed Young under arrest. The latter, after being questioned, confessed to the thefts and was locked up. A large quantity of the stolen goods was found, some where Young had sold them, some in his house and more in his tool chest at the factory. The thefts are believed to have been going on since last October and the amount of goods stolen is believed to be large. Young lives at No. 9 Forbes avenue and has a family. He is about forty-five years of age.

The BERTHA MELLISH Case. Positive Statement by Mary Shepard Hedden. New London, July 8.—Mary Shepard Hedden, now to be known as Mrs. Mary Shepard Hedden, is here and has made the following statement to a "Courant" reporter, which disposes for good and all of a story that has long had many believers it at any time may have had. She says:

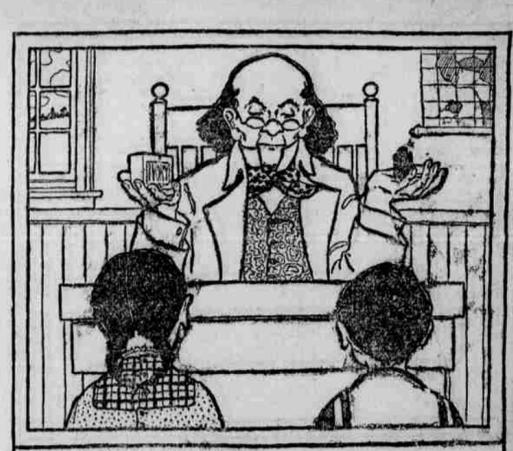

"The charge that I am the Mellish girl under another name, or that I have been in a conspiracy with her father to conceal my own identity, is so supremely ridiculous that I am surprised that anyone with the facts before them should have believed a word of it. I am not Bertha Mellish; that I never saw her in my life; never was in the town in which she lived, and, in fact, never heard of her until the matter of her disappearance became a newspaper incident.

"The story of H. S. Robinson that I came to the Hedden farm from Mount Holyoke, the day after Miss Mellish left that place is equally untrue. I came directly from Kingsville, O., where I have lived nearly all my life, and I reached Mr. Hedden's place October 17, 1887, nearly a month before Bertha Mellish is said to have disappeared. The object of my visit to the Heddens then, and in 1891, was to see their son, whom I first met in 1893 and afterwards married.

For certain reasons, chiefly on account of his subsequent mental condition, it was thought best that we should live apart for a time, and that our relation should be concealed. Whether that course was wise or not, I feel that the time has come when it should be known that I am the lawful wife of Benjamin F. Hedden, and entitled to bear his name. In this view his people fully concur.

"I expect for the future to live in the east, to be near my husband and assist in his care. But I do not desire notoriety, and only made this statement in justice to myself, to my husband's people and the Rev. Mr. Mellish. I trust the press will respect my wishes and not add to the trouble I already have."

"Pa, who was the prehistoric man?" "He was a joyous being who didn't have to buy three or four pairs of children's shoes every Saturday night."—Washington Star.

It is easy to find a cheap soap; but to find purity and low price in a single soap is not easy. They combine in Ivory Soap. You can afford to use it in the laundry; you can not afford not to use it elsewhere. It is vegetable-oil soap, in the cheapest form in which it can be produced. You pay nothing for a fancy box, wrapper or perfume. It is all in the soap! It floats.

The Boston Globe very properly remarks that "these extreme openwork shirt waists may not be absolutely proper, but they are certainly cool in hot weather, and men do not object to them—unless their wives or their daughters or their sweethearts or their sisters wear them."

An interesting legal point was raised the other day in a North Missouri county. A young woman of seventeen wanted to be married, but her mother declined to give her consent and insisted that a license should not be issued. It was discovered by the recorder, however, that the applicant had been married before, at the age of thirteen, and with the consent of both of her parents. He was on the point of issuing the desired document anyway, regardless of the opposition, having concluded, upon counsel's advice, that the parents had released all control over the girl when they signified their willingness that she should marry the first time. But just then the mother relented, and parental approval of the second union was given.

Professor Raoul Pictet, of Geneva, who visited America last year and who lectured before several learned societies and universities, has proposed a commercial scheme for the mechanical dissociation of air. The air at the pressure of the atmosphere is to be admitted to an apparatus similar to a condenser and cooled by liquid air. On account of the low temperature thus produced, the oxygen and nitrogen composing the air separate, and as they have different specific gravities, the oxygen sinks to the bottom and the nitrogen rises to the top of the cylinder, each being drawn off as desired. The carbonic acid liquefies and can be removed by tubes into receiving vessels. With 500 horse power, it is believed that 500,000 cubic feet of air can be treated in one day.

The Russian government is experiencing great difficulty in its efforts to restrict the almost universal use of liquor among the laboring classes. The Minister of Finance says the government is anxious "to save the population from the baneful influence of the Innkeepers, who in order to make large profits adulterated their spirits with noxious and deleterious substances which were proving ruinous to the lower classes. The average peasant was not content with remaining in a public house until he has spent his last farthing, but often pawned his clothes, furniture and future crops. The public houses were acknowledged to be the most powerful agents of ruin and disorganization in the economic life of the Russian people, and threatened the impoverishment of the whole agricultural population."

The superiority of American shoes is recognized in Germany, but according to Der Schumarkt, a Berlin trade journal, this does not mean that shoes will be imported from this country. An English firm has adapted American machinery and the factory system of this country, and is turning out shoes on American models. It has forty retail establishments in England and France, and is about to open others in various German cities. This leads the German trade journals to suggest that the remedy for foreign competition is not a protective tariff, but the prompt adoption of American models and American machinery by German manufacturers. In fact, it is announced that a Dusseldorf firm has already "produced a number of original American forms, copied from the product of first-class, very expensive American manufacturers."

A new electrical process of tanning hides has just been patented in Germany. The hides are first of all soaked in a solution of acetate of lead and then transferred to one of lead chloride, which is deposited on the fibrous tissue. After a thorough washing the hides are hung up in a tanning solution of the usual kind and connected to the positive pole of a very low tension dynamo machine. The other pole of the dynamo is connected with a cathode plate, composed either of an alloy which is not attacked by the chemicals in solution or generated, or of some of the cheaper metals plated or polished with plumbago. Only a very moderate current is employed, from about 50 to 100 amperes for each square yard of hide under a tension of three volts. The process is completed by finishing the leather in the usual way. It is said to show a large gain in time over the old tanning method.

The agricultural papers are sounding notes of warning about the Belgian hare fad, which has overtaken the Pacific coast and parts of the Middle West, and threatens to extend eastward. "Go slow with this graceful, long-eared rodent," advises the American Agriculturist. Papers in California, with an eye on the future, are questioning the wisdom of the craze. The danger is in the wonderful productivity of the animals. An authority says that with a pair for a start it is easily possible to close the first year with three hundred young. This suggests the possibility of untold millions in a few years, and the setting loose of many of them to prey upon the crops. Of course, the experience of Australia is cited. There the rabbits, originally introduced only thirty years ago for colonial sport, have overrun the sheep farms and made a veritable desert of vast grain areas. At one time one hundred million acres was infested with them in Australia; the government has paid millions of dollars to eradicate the pest, and to this day is utterly unable to successfully cope with it.

A PROPHECY. When John W. Gates fired the shot that was heard around the world at the bull market he was denounced as a liar, a thief and a villain of several other descriptions. But subsequent events have shown that while Mr. Gates was probably not telling the truth so much for truth's sake as for the sake of his pocketbook, he was telling the truth. The prices of iron and steel have gone down and it has been generally acknowledged that production must be decreased. Now comes the Iron Age and says that iron and steel prices must be placed very low if business is to improve.

Mr. Gates will perhaps not care to say I told you so, but he certainly did tell us so, and even if he was a prophet for profit his foresight is entitled to recognition.

SOME HOPE. If, after the definite reports of the massacre of all the foreigners at Peking, it should turn out that the foreign ministers have been protected and saved there would be much rejoicing. It is impossible to tell what "news" from China is reliable and what is not, but hope will be revived by the dispatch sent by Admiral Bruce to London from Taku, under date of July 7, to the effect that there are grounds for hoping that Prince Ching, with his army, is at Peking protecting the legations against Prince Tuan, his army and the Boxers. Minister Wu at Washington says that Prince Ching, who, according to Admiral Bruce, is attacking the Boxers, is not only the head of the Tsung-Li-Yamen, but is also commandant of one of the Peking garrisons. There are several garrisons in Peking, each composed of a separate nationality, and Ching commands the Manchurian force. At last advises this force comprised about ten thousand soldiers. They had been drilled in foreign tactics at the military school of the North by instructors who had been taught the art of war by German officers and would undoubtedly prove very effective. The minister also points out that the movement has degenerated into rioting and looting, all principle having been lost, and so it is reasonable to expect that the strongest and best and most influential of the Chinese mandarins will find it necessary to combine to crush the Boxers, from an instinct of self-preservation and regardless of their foreign or anti-foreign sentiments.

It is almost too much to expect that the ministers will come safely out of Peking, but it is cheering to know that there is some ground for hope.

INCONVENIENT AND EXPENSIVE.

If we are going to stay in the Far East, and the present indications are that we are, it is plain that we shall need a cable to the Philippines. As things are now the government at Washington can communicate with Manila only in the most roundabout way, and its communications are at any point subject to foreign interference. The existing route of cablegrams from Washington to Manila is as follows: To New York by land; to Valencia, Ireland, by cable; to Brighton, England, by cable; to Havre, France, by cable; to Marseilles, by land; to Alexandria, Egypt, by cable; to Suez, Egypt, by land; to Aden, Arabia, by cable; to Bombay, India, by cable; to Madras, by land; to Singapore, Malayan Peninsula, by cable; to Saigon, Cochinchina, by cable; to Hong Kong, by cable; to Manila, Philippine Islands, by cable—the distance being 14,000 miles and the number of transmissions fourteen. And for this communication the government is now paying about $400,000 annually for its own messages. A roundabout way and a round sum to pay. Four hundred thousand dollars is the interest on $10,000,000 at 4 per cent.

HASTY SISTER COLLINS.

Mrs. Emma Collins has, it appears, been a little too hasty in taking on a new love before she was really off with the old. A month ago she was granted a divorce by Judge Simmons at Fort Scott, Kansas. The next day she married J. H. Johnson, of Joplin, Missouri. The judge, learning of her intentions, wired her a warning that if she married so soon after being divorced he would set the divorce decree aside. The telegram was received half an hour after the wedding. Since that time she has remained in Joplin. At the command of the judge the young woman appeared the other day in his court, although her friends had exerted every possible influence to modify the inexorable judge. Judge Simmons used some very pertinent and pointed phrases in the scoring he administered to the delinquent. He said: "Your method of transacting business was too swift for me. At the moment the court was seriously engaged in the unpleasant duty of severing your marriage relations with one man you were spreading the feast for a wedding to another. Our statute expressly stipulates that the decree does not become absolute until six months after its rendition. You made use of the statutes of Kansas to obtain a divorce, and then in utter disregard of those statutes you married in Missouri. Duty requires that such an example be set in your case that others may be deterred from following your example. I do not intend to advertise the Sixth Judicial district of Kansas as a dumping ground for domestic infelicities of matrimonial adventurers." Having told the young woman what he thought of her, Judge Simmons then set the divorce decree aside, so that she is the wife of Mr. Collins once more, and the marriage ceremony with Mr. Johnson becomes void or bigamous. It is reported that she will apply for divorce in Missouri, hoping for better luck next time.

In time Sister Collins will doubtless be able to get things fixed to her satisfaction, but the next time she wants to be married she will be careful that both her hat and her divorce are straight.

FASHION NOTES.

A FICHUS AUF DEMPO. Fichus play an important part in current fashions. Many of them are long scarf shape, narrow at the ends and widened towards the middle. All around goes a soft frill, and sometimes this is a little widened on one edge as it approaches the wide part of the scarf. The scarf is folded double so that the wide flounce edge hangs a little deeper than the other. Sometimes the shape of the scarf is a little modified to increase its effect, and the edge that is to hang deepest is curved down. Such a fichu folds softly over the shoulders, high or low, and the ends are loosely knotted just above the bust, hanging to about the knees. The simplest costume is made beautiful by such shoulder finish. The fichu may be shaped to provide folds fitting up over the shoulder, but that is not necessary. The fichu that rounds down over the shoulders seems the most admired, though one that is drawn higher at the shoulders and that reveals the throat in a point front and back is graceful. The fichu may be draped over a high necked gown, too.

Fluffy fronts for bodices are fewer, though the white ones are as numerous as ever. This is because of the style for bodices that are straight from belt to bust, and also because summer styles afford so many other and newer ways of displaying airy and dainty notions. If one has a skirt that billows with ruffles and is decked out with elaborate scarfing, she has no need to build out the front of her above the waist with a foam of lace. The lack of such fronts does not signify that they are out of style, but rather, that so many dresses do not require any such finish. With a gown made throughout in severe outlines, the fluff front is as desirable as ever, unless the wearer may wish to announce to everyone the fact that she has endorsed the new up-and-down corset. On a dress like that shown here any degree of fullness in the front is permitted. This gown was dark blue linen, and was finished with bands of the goods, white stitching and white duck revers embroidered in blue. Tailor finish for linens and kindred fabrics is very abundant just now.

THE FIGHTING AROUND PRETORIA.

In my telegram of June 13 I gave an outline of the comprehensive operations east of Pretoria, and I now furnish details of the severe fighting which fell on General Hamilton's division, extending over three days. General Broadwood and Gordon moved to turn the left of the Boers' position on June 9. They had a considerable chance of success, as they had the start of the Boers, who had taken little precaution to guard their left flank. Unfortunately, the operation was stayed on Sunday, owing to negotiations with Botha, through his wife, who went out from Pretoria. Botha took advantage of the respite to improve his position, and seized the hills which Broadwood would have taken if he had not been restrained by headquarters.

On Sunday evening Botha rudely repudiated his overtures, and on Monday the second phase of Hamilton's turning movement developed. But Botha had recovered his left, and the fighting was severe. Broadwood advanced against the kopjes on his front, the mounted infantry protecting his left and Gordon's cavalry his right. Perceiving a gap in the enemy's line behind which two guns were firing shrapnel with damaging accuracy, Broadwood determined to attempt to cut this in order to break up the Boers' front line and reduce their artillery fire. "q" battery galloped for the gap and unflinched.

The Boers, seeing an opportunity, did what they had rarely done before. A large mounted body charged in close formation across the open up to within 600 yards of the battery and opened a murderous rifle fire. The Twelfth Lancers were ordered into the open in front, where they formed and charged. The enemy did not wait long enough for the squadrons to get really home. They retreated, but ten of the dead and several wounded. The guns were saved, but the cavalry, as they rallied, came under rifle fire again. However, they had attained their object.

Simultaneously another mass of Boers attempted Broadwood's right flank. The Household Cavalry wheeled out from behind a kopje and charged. The moral effect of the naked steel and the shouting troopers was too much for the enemy, who broke and fled demoralized. A hundred of them encircled in a kraal evacuated it in sheer terror of the sword. It was a decided cavalry coup; the enemy were scattered and broken, and our mounted infantry came up and held all the positions taken.

General Gordon, on the right, was not heavily engaged, but was in touch with the enemy all day. The Seventeenth Lancers losing two officers. Hamilton's infantry, as already reported, shelled the enemy out of the under features below their main position and prepared the way for an assault on the morrow. Gordon maintained himself in spite of threats on his flank. He was slightly to Broadwood's right rear rather than on his flank. Broadwood in the morning sent the following message to Hamilton:

"If Pole-Carew supports you strongly enough to release your mounted infantry and your own come to my assistance, I can advance; otherwise I must be content simply to hold my position." It proved impossible to detach mounted infantry, consequently Broadwood was unable to advance. The Heidelberg commando threatened his right, but was kept in check by guns and carbine fire. The brunt of the day fell on Hamilton's infantry and the Guard's brigade, which was diverted to his support.

The Boer position consisted of a steep ridge with a plateau beyond, succeeded by a second position artificially strengthened. The plateau afforded little cover, as there were no stones and the grass was burned short. Under cover of a five-inch and field-guns the infantry advanced to the assault at two o'clock. The Derby's were on the right, the City Imperial Volunteers in the center and the Sussex regiment on the left. They seized the plateau under shrapnel and rifle fire. Once on the summit they were received with a murderous fire from an ascertained range from the Boer second position. They were enfiladed by a one-pounder Maxim on the right and swept at short range by shrapnel. It was impossible to advance further, and the First Coldstream Guards were rushed up in support. But attempts to bring up artillery aid failed owing to the steepness of the ascent.

For two hours the infantry lay exposed to a commanding fire of all arms. It seemed that we were about to have a repetition of Spion Kop, and that our infantry would be dislodged for want of artillery support. Casualty succeeded casualty among the prostrate men. Then with a magnificent effort Conolly hauled the Eighty-second battery on to the plateau. It unlimbered amid a tornado of concentrated fire, but withstood the blast. Fifteen rounds of its shrapnel at one thousand yards had their effect; the five-inch guns found the position of the enemy's quickfiring and the enemy broke.

The long extended line of prostrate men who had taken punishment all day leaped to their feet and a shimmering line of bayonets swept forward to the assault. The Boer position was taken just at nightfall. The casualties were about one hundred in our infantry. The enemy evacuated all their positions completely and fell back before midnight.—London Times.

HOW TO CHEER AN INVALID.

As a proof of thoughtfulness, carry flowers, and I advise you to select fragrant ones. There are some to the influence of which strong men have been known to succumb. If the magnolia and the jessamine are not in season, the hyacinth or tuberose will do as well. You will never know just the appreciation that gift inspires, for courtesy demands that next until the front door is closed behind you may be sent to the furthest corner of whatever staid back yard your friend possesses. Even the modest violet has been renounced with a speed which spoke well for the unselfishness and kindness of heart of the favored recipient. There are some civilized people who feel that strong perfumes are barbaric and belong to the Orient, along with the bangle and the nose-jewel. But this doubtless is a somewhat morbid feeling, so do not regard it.

If not convenient to visit the florist, the next resource is to make some delicate peace with your own hands. How the poor patient's eyes will sparkle when you tell her you have brought her some lemon jelly and that it can't hurt her. Indeed, it cannot! You are only the ninety-eighth person whose thoughtfulness has been put into a mould, but this is redress even for wrongs like this. Doubtless there are compassionate neighbors to take it off her hands, even if the household boasts no omnivorous boy or goat. Your delight in concocting and presenting that questionable compound, compared to her delight in passing it along, will be "as moonlight unto sunlight and as water unto wine." So you are sure to give pleasure whatever you do.—Self-Culture Magazine.

TRAILING SHEEP.

How an Immense Flock is Driven from Oregon to Market. J. J. Carson, a well known sheep drover, is in Portland preparing to start "on the trail" with 8,500 yearling wethers, purchased in Morrow county. He says he would like to buy about six thousand more, but remarks: "They are holding 'em too high for me. I am willing to pay $2.25 a head for wethers and $2.75 for ewes, but eastern Oregon sheepmen think they are worth more, so we can't trade."

Mr. Carson says he will start his big flock just as soon as the sheep have been shorn. He will probably ship by train from Heppner to Huntington and ferry across the Snake River near the terminus of Oregon, Idaho and Washington. He has not yet solved the problem as regards crossing Wyoming, as the new quarantine law of that state was framed to prevent "trailing" across its lands. He is thinking, therefore, of spending the summer and fall in the Wood River Mountains, and will decide in the meantime how to invade Wyoming.

He thinks this will be the last band of sheep "trailed" across the state of Idaho, as the Snake river plains are now nearly all claimed for range, and the winter has been about all taken up. In one locality he will have a twenty-five-mile drive between watering places and as six miles a day is a fair day's travel the sheep will have to go without water for four days on a stretch. He will drive over this region in the night time, as the weather will be too hot to enable the animals to travel without water. The country along there is sagebrush and sand, and great care will have to be exercised in order to avoid losing sheep. He will provide one band with twenty bells, he says, and by counting these and the black sheep frequently the men will be able to miss any large bunch that might be left behind.

"Trailing sheep across Oregon, Idaho and Wyoming used to be a picnic," Mr. Carson says, "when the country was OUR FAMILIARITY with the markets of the World and our established reputation as Diamond Merchants is a guarantee that the faulty and imperfect stones frequently offered as bargains by small dealers are not found in the stock of THE GEORGE H. FORD COMPANY, 754 CHAPEL ST., 320 STATE ST.

open, but now we expect more or less trouble from people who claim the grass all along the route. We can hunt and fish while the sheep are resting during the heat of the day, and our frequent change of location creates perpetual novelty. Once in a while some irate farmer or cattleman gets after us, fearing our flocks will eat his grass all up before we get by, but we have thus far avoided any serious trouble, and we hope to pull through without any in this, our last, trailing venture across Idaho." Mr. Carson has been purchasing Oregon sheep for the "trail" for quite a number of years, he says, but never had to pay as much for them as now. "Five years ago," he said, "I bought all the yearlings I wanted at $1 a head in eastern Oregon, and drove them through to Central City, Nebraska, where I had them fed on corn that cost eight cents a bushel and on hay at $2 a ton delivered. And yet our firm made no money out of the transaction—just came out even. We hope to make money now."—Portland Oregonian.

ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB.

FLEET ANCHORED IN MORRIS COVE LAST EVENING.

Thirty of the Most Famous Boats on Their Annual Cruise—Fast Racing from Greenwich—Enroute to Newport for the New York Yacht Club Races.

Nineteen yachts of the Atlantic Yacht club raced from Greenwich to Morris Cove yesterday and dropped anchor there for the evening, having covered the thirty-four miles in very fast time. A splendid southwest wind was blowing, and as the yachts passed the committee boat anchored off the "Sperry Light" they made the finest appearance of any fleet seen in these waters in some time.

The yachts started off Greenwich Point at 11 o'clock, all boats crossing the line at one signal. By a mistake some of the schooners and the Water Witch, Vesta and Sylph started ahead of the signal. The first boat to cross the line at the finish was the Water Witch, owned by Commodore David Banks, which crossed at 3:40:32.

A famous boat accompanying the fleet is the schooner Vesta, owned by Major J. Frederick Ackerman, which took part in the ocean race with the Fleetwing and Henrietta in 1870. The stakes in that race amounted to $90,000.

The fleet anchored last evening in the Cove just off the Pequot club house. This morning at 9 o'clock anchor was weighed and the fleet will proceed to Shelter Island. From thence on the next day the trip will be to New London and on the following day to Newport, where the yachtsmen will witness the race of the New York Yacht club off Newport. The regatta committee in charge of the racing on the cruise is composed of C. T. Pearce of New York and A. F. Aldridge of New York.

The racing summary follows: Schooners. Finish. Nirvana, George Tyson.....3:53:34 Atlantic, W. Marshall.....3:44:52 Water Witch, David Banks.....3:40:32 Vesta, J. F. that a Chinese newspaper asserts that Prince Ching's troops have arrived at Peking to rejoin the Europeans and defend them against the rebels. KENNEDY'S CABINET, giving his estimate of the amount of force he regarded as necessary to represent the United States, was carefully considered. An agreement was reached to say nothing about the admiral's figures, on the ground that it would be impolitic to make our needs known to the Chinese in the first place and also because of a desire on the part of this government to avoid being put in the position of appearing to set up a standard for the other powers in this matter. It is understood, however, that the pitch of Admiral Kennedy's communication is the necessity of speedy reinforcements, if quick action is desired, and on the latter point there is not a dissenting voice among the cabinet officers. If reinforcements are to be gotten to China speedily they cannot come from the United States.

SAVIN ROCK THEATER.

Alabama Troubadours Entertain a Large Audience.

The Alabama Troubadours delighted a very large audience last night in the new Savin Rock theater. The show opens with the company as cotton pickers, singing while they work. Songs and dances follow in quick succession, there being no waste of time between the features.

Following the first part an olio of unusual merit takes place, including Clarence Powell, monologist; Rosie Johnson in a clever waltz-dance; a Rough Rider drill by twelve men of the company, singing camp songs between the drills; Miles Dewey, the boy soloist; Cooper and Bailey, eccentric comedians, in a decidedly funny sketch; Howard and Brandon in a very difficult acrobatic turn; Jimmy Turner in a very fancy skating act. The show closes with a cake walk participated in by the entire company. The audience by their applause pick out the cake winner.

A party of thirty members of the Pequot club attended the show in a body last night. They came over in a launch. Several members of the Atlantic Yacht club of New York attended last night's performance, while the club fleet was anchored at Morris Cove.

NEW ENGLAND STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Action of the Board of Directors Yesterday.

At a meeting of the directors of the New Haven Street Railway company held yesterday afternoon it was decided by a majority of the board that it closes with a dividend for the quarter. The board thus decided, it being deemed wise financial policy that the income of the company from the Winchester avenue road—the New England's only source of income—be applied to the reduction of the company's debt.

A SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

To Be Held by Orange Voters To-Morrow Night.

A special town meeting of the town of Orange will be held in the town hall in West Haven to-morrow night for the purpose of reconsidering the action taken a short time ago to reimburse Balliff William Clifton for damages which he was compelled to pay as the result of civil proceedings brought against him by a man whom he arrested while acting in his capacity as a town officer. The amount of the judgment secured against Clifton was $400, and at a special town meeting held about two weeks ago it was voted to reimburse him for the amount of the judgment which he paid. Since then the matter has been further discussed among the citizens of the town, and many are of the opinion that the money should not be paid to Clifton. A warm meeting is expected to-morrow night.

Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. Catarrh caused difficulty in speaking and to a great extent loss of hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved. J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Not Much Impression Produced Yesterday by Events.

New York, July 9.—Not much impression was produced on the stock market to-day by events and the professional contingent which conducted practically all the transactions fell again to very small proportions. The larger volume of dealings and the more important operations which characterized last week's market were not in evidence to-day. Nevertheless the price movements of the day were quite wide, owing to the small floating supply of stock. The undertone of the market, too, was unmistakably firm.

The grain carrying roads were well taken all day in anticipation of to-morrow's monthly crop report, which is expected to show an improved condition from rains in the northwest. The large decrease in reserves shown by Saturday's bank statement remained unexplained to-day and the continued ease of the money market left no room for immediate apprehension on that score. It is the more remote periods regarding which doubts are felt, and lenders hold out for full rates for time loans going over for the longer periods, though the supply of funds for short periods is abundant. The doubtful factors in the future are the absorption of the revenue surplus by the treasury, the possible foreign needs for money growing out of the future developments in China and the working out of the over extension of credits in Germany and in Russia. The bond market to-day was dull and changes were mostly small and irregular. Total sales par value $550,000. United States news is declined 3/4 and the old is advanced 7/8 per cent. in the bid price.

YESTERDAY'S BALL GAMES

NEW HAVEN LOSERS AN ERRORLESS GAME IN BRISTOL. Ashie Hit at Opportune Times—Norwich Defeats New London and Waterbury is Vanquished by Meriden.

Bristol, July 9.—Both Bristol and New Haven played an errorless game this afternoon, but the home team won by hitting Ashe at opportune times. There were five home runs made during the game, four by Bristol. The batting of Leptine was the feature, as at four times at bat he made four hits. Score: Bristol... 10-0 0 0 2 0 0 1 2 4-10-0 New Haven... 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 1 0-4-10-0 Batteries—Reisling and Clarke; Ashe and Duff.

Norwich, July 9.—The extremely loose playing by New London, and the apparent ease with which Norwich hit Gallagher, accounts for the former's defeat at Norwich to-day. There was about five hundred at the game, but the game was not interesting. Score: Norwich... 2 4 0 3 0 2 2 1 4-14-3 New London... 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0-3-4-0 Batteries—Curran, Mack and Manning; Gallagher and Lamar.

Meriden, July 9.—Meriden avenged its defeat of Saturday by beating Kerins all over the lot for a total of twenty-one hits, including any number of doubles. The visitors secured but one run, when with two men out in the eighth inning Hickey fielded the ball wrongly and allowed one man to cross the plate. Kerins was very poorly supported. Brown's work was most satisfactory. Score: Meriden... 0 2 1 0 2 3 0 0 8-21-1 Waterbury... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0-1-7-7 Batteries—Brown and Vigneux; Kerins and Buss.

ITS CENTENNIAL.

The Ellsworth Ecclesiastical Society. The Ellsworth Ecclesiastical society completed its centennial Tuesday, and held a "historical feast" at the Congregational church. About 200 were present. The historical addresses were divided between formal and special presentations, the former by two occupants of the pulpit, the Rev. Messrs. Arthur and G. F. Goodenough, and the latter by Samuel E. Everett, Giles Skiff, John Reed, C. E. Dean and Mrs. C. W. Everett. There were letters from the Rev. M. N. Miles (born in Ellsworth over ninety years ago and one of the oldest living Yale graduates) and the Rev. J. O. Stevenson, D. D., both of Iowa now. There were thirteen present whose church membership dates back forty-five years and more, two of whose memberships date back seventy years. Ancient documents and old-fashioned articles, bedrooms, adorned the church.

TO LOCATE IN CLINTONVILLE.

The Old Card Factory Secured by the Liquid Air Company. The Connecticut Liquid Air company has decided to establish its plant at the old card shop in Clintonville. The company had expected to locate its works in the Fifteenth ward, near Townsend avenue, and had arranged with Walter Swain to give a site for the building and erect it and take stock in payment. Now the building for the works has been completed all but the roof, but a hitch has occurred in the arrangements and it has been deemed advisable to secure the Clintonville plant, which is in every way better adapted to the needs of the company.

PASSED AWAY.

Respected Beacon Falls Resident. George Osborn, a well known resident of Beacon Falls, died at the home of his son-in-law, Selectman Cornelius Atkinson, on the Cheshire road, Saturday afternoon, at 12:50 o'clock. He was seventy-five years of age and had long been a resident of Beacon Falls, where he was much respected. Mr. Osborn had not been ill long, and was confined to his bed only a few days before his death.
