Mr. Untermeyer's statement goes on to say: "The differences were finally settled and the interests of the Standard Oll company are now closely allied with those of the American Smelting company, while the United Metal Selling company become the selling agents for the Consolidated company. The certificate increasing the capital stock to $100,000,000 was filled with the secretary of state in Trenton to-night. In order to avoid any further complication the new stock was immediately issued and delivered to the Guggenheims and they have conveyed their properties to the company so that the amalgamation is now complete."

Trenton, N. J., April 8 .- A certificate was filed late to-night increasing the capital stock of the American Smelting and Refining company to $100,000,000. The original certificate of incorporation was for $65,000,000.

ASSESSMENT COMMISSION

To Give Public Hearings and Draft a Bill to Present to the Legislature of 1903-Concurrent Action on the Matter of Bids for Street Sprinkling-Westville Citizens Want Signs Placed or

The board of councilmen at the regular meeting held last night transacted a large batch of routine business, but no new business of special importance came up except a resolution presented by Councilman Sullivan, of the Third ward. This resolution provides that the mayor shall appoint a commission to consist of four members of the court of common council and five citizens to look into the present methods of assess ment and taxofion of property in New Haven, which is alleged to be unjust, and hold meetings and give hearings to citizens, and then, after having heard the opinions of citizens, to draft a bill praying for such changes in the present law as, from the opinions expressed at the hearings, shall be deemed desirable and feasible. The resolution provides that such bill, after having been drafted, shall be presented in the legislature of 1903. The resolution was referred to the commit tee on legislation.

The board concurred with the aldermen in granting to the Manufacturers Street Railroad company permission to extend its line across the Ferry street drawbridge to the property of the Na tional Wire corporation, and in referring the bids for sprinkling streets in which there are car tracks back to the director of public works with instructions to advertise for new bids.

When this matter came up Councilman Dawson, of the Tenth ward, moved to concur with the aldermen in referring the bids back, and his motion prevailed, there being no opposition and the members evidently not realizing what was being done. After the mo tion had been passed Councilman Harkins, of the Twtifth ward, asked that an aye and nay vote be taken on the question, and his request was granted. The vote resulted in 17 for referring back the bids and 16 against. Later in the meeting Councilman Sullivan, of the Third ward, asked for a reconsid-(Continued on Eighth Page.)

Hyperion Theater. Highly pleasing to all classes is "The Volunteer Organisc," which comes to the Hyperion te-night. The story is a sweet one, new and original. The piece may truly be called a semi-religious one, inasmuch as its plot has so much to do with the church, and, Indeed, one of the central characters is a broadminded, progressive minister, who, notwithstanding his liberal ideas, does not fall to accomplish in his flock the end which he sets out to attain. It has remained for William B. Gray to construct a part for a dominie that is absolutely flawless, so much so, in fact, that he is almost daily the recipient of communications from pastors who were charmed with the part of the stage preacher and the grand moral of the play, "The Volunteer Organist." love story in the play is a most tender one, and so enraptured does the spectator become that he almost finds himself rushing down the aisle to congratulate the young minister and Grace upon their betrothal. tempt to kidnap Washington in May, 1782, all but succeeded. General Washington established his headquarters at the Hasbrouck House at Newburghthen a little hamlet—on the 4th of April, 1783, but the army did not follow until some weeks later. During this interval he was nearly alone and took very little, if any, precaution against personal molestation. The Ettrick House, where the attempt was made, was situated about four miles south, in a rather lonely place, near Murderer's Creek. The Tories expected to overpower the general while at dinner with the Tory Ettrick and his daughter, and hurry him, under cover of darkness down this creek in a boat to the Hudson, only a mile distant. This thrilling episode in Washington's life is the leading event in "King Washington," which has been recently dramatized and will be present to-morrow and the legislature. One son survives him. The funeral will be held to-morrow af-Thursday at the Hyperion. Miss Lizzie Ryan, a young woman who resides on Frank street, last evening had a very narrow escape from being ground under the wheels of a trolley car on State street and it was only the prompt action of the motorman that saved her life. She started to cross State street between Court and Elm in front of a trolley car. slipped when in the middle of the track and fell in front of an advancing trolley car only a few feet away. Quick as a flash the motorman dropped the fender, which picked the young woman up and carried her about thirty feet before the car could be stopped. People on the sidewalks rushed into the street and assisted the motorman and the conductor to pull her off the fender, expecting to see her badly injured and probably She was unconscious, having fainted, and the police ambulance was called. In it she was taken to the New Haven hospital, where it was found that she was not seriously injured and she was sent to her home on Franklin minister to China, and the officers of the Russian bank, received sixteen elaborate satin banners from the residents of the sections of the city and country occupied by the Russians, where, through the grace of the czar, soup kitchens have been established for the help of the poor. The people of these sections sent these banners in as a token of their gravitude.

General Tung-Fu-Sian has been looked upon as the most formidable of the Chinese generals. He is an ex-Mohammedan of Central Asia. In 1890 he commanded the Chinese troops at Aksu, in Kashgaria, and in 1895 he was intrusted with the task of crushing the Tung-Yan rebellion in the province of Kinng-Tsu. He supported the Boxer movement, and? when commanding the Chinese troops near Pekin, boasted that no foreigner should enter the Chinese capital. It is understood that he directed the bombardment of the foreign quarters at

MINISTER WU SEEKING NEWS.

Conflicting Advices at Washington Regarding Russia's Attitude.

Washington, April 8.-The Chinese minister was an early caller at the state department to-day to seek information as to the report, based on advices to the state department, that there had been an interruption of diplomatic intercourse between Russian and China, Mr. Wu had not been advised of any such development, and the information before the state department was so contradictory that it did not permit any clear explanation of the real state of affairs. The doubt arises from the fact that

Mr. Rockhill's latest dispatch does not mention any such disarrangement, and the officials feel bound to accept this as pretty strong cyldence that prior intimation of discord have not taken actual form. Yet the dispatch received from Mr. Squiers, the American charge d'affaires in the absence of Minister Conger, appears to have already made itself manifest. It is thought possible at the state department that the circumstances to which Mr. Squiers refers ocurred prior to the receipt in Pekin of the last Russian note, and that the trouble may have been adjusted subse-The state department maintains an attitude of doubt and expec tancy, and is not yet prepared to admit that there has been an interruption of intercourse between the two countries ed in Washington about a week age delivered to China that Russia had what amounted to an ultimatum on the signing of the Manchurian agreement This followed the usual course of ultimatums and fixed a definite limit of days within which China could act. It also conveyed the clear intimation that unfavorable action by China would lead to a severance of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The limit of time fixed is believed to have been one week and to have expired last Wednesday. China did not sign within the time limit, and the next day, Thursday, Russia addressed her not to the powers which has been accepted as removing the pressure over the Manchurian agreement. This at first seemed to be a waiver of her prior intimation of an interruption of diplomatic intercourse, and yet there was no such explicit waiver, and the latest advices from Pekin, reporting that an interruption has now actually occurred, seem to be directly in line with the threat prelously conveyed. In case there proves to be an interruption of the relations between Rusarrange the negotiations between Russia and the powers. It probably would be confined to a termination of the entente long maintained between Russia

The administration is watching the events in China with intense interest in the belief that the next week or two will develop whether there is to be absoute harmony among the powers or a break in the international concert. Germany and Russia are the nations in whose policies the United States is particularly interested just now, If Germany adopts Count von Waldersee's suggestion that her armed forces be withdrawn from China, other nations, it is believed, will follow suit, as fear of one another's intentions is regarded as the reason why the European nations are keeping se many treops in China. Mr. Rockhill's advices to the state department regarding the negotiations at Pekin are more hopeful in tone than they were a week ago, but it is still apparent that the subject of indemnity is bound to consume much more time This is owing to the original difficulty namely, the excessive demands of one at least of the great European powers A minimum, claimed by one nation for indemnity to the amount of $70,000,000, with conditions attached that might swell it to $100,000,000, would, if allowed, leave all the other powers in the aggregate about an equal sum for division between them. For the ministers have been assured by the best technical authority that China's ability to pay a money indemnity is limited to the sum of about $200.000,000 or $250,000,000.

EASTER.
Lo, the stone's rolled away!
'Tis the world's Easter day!
For the Lord is arisen,
He hath broken death's prison,
While the angel of vision,
Stands ward at the door.

"Why weepest thou, Mary? No longer here tarry For He is not here. In love and in pity Speed on to the city, Go tell His disciples The Lord draweth near."

Along the white highway,
Nor pausing for by way,
So swiftly sped she;
The trees bending over
Made a leafy green cover;
The flowers from their places
Turned up smilling faces;
To ber glad news bringing
They seemed to be singing;
"Lo, out of death's prison
Our Sun is arisen
To shine evermore;

'Tis He Who hath made us, 'Tis He Who life gave us; We bend low before Him, We praise and adore Him Who reigns evermore."

On, on to the city, In love and in pity, So swiftly she sped To where sad watch keeping, In care their soul's steeping, His weary disciples Mourned lonely their dead.

Unto them told the story
How the great King of Glory
Hath conquered Death's night.
"From the grave He Hath risen,
"Tis no foolish vision,
The stone's rolled away.
Lo, His feet shod with light!
Lo, He walketh in might!
"Tis His glad rising day."

O, sad souls in prison
To you is the vision,
Come out from your night.
Why weeping here tarry?
Go speed ye with Mary,
Go find ye the light.
The glad news then bear ye
To where, steeped in care, ye
Shall find His sad children
Alone with their night.

O, tell it for glory.
Yea, shout the glad story—
He reigneth in might.
For us He hath risen,
Yea, opened Death's prison,
The grave's conquered quite.
And He dies nevermore,
And we love and adore
While we live in His light.

At Naundorf in the Hunsruck near the Rhine a Roman temple has been found enclosed in a walled enclosure measuring 220 by 200 feet. The temple stands in the middle and is sixty feet by fifty. Small bronze statuettes of Mars, Jupiter and Mercury have also been found.

On the occasion of the celebration of the conclusion of her fiftieth year as a teacher in the Philadelphia public schools, Miss Anna Lyle made some pertinent comment on the changes in school work, comment which carries weight because of her exceptional experience as a teacher. She doubted endly if any of the younger teachers would round out fifty years of school ork as easily as she had done, as the work is being made much harder each | year for both pupil and teacher. Naturally, she prefers some of the old ways to some of the new, and perhaps she is of the Boston public school administraright. Her own career is evidence on that side. "I think we have too many etudies and give too much attention to the higher branches," she says, "Instead of to the plain, practical studies that fit children for the working life. Most of my pupils have gone to work in

THE EPIDEMIC.

New Haven is going through an experience which will cause a great deal of learned discussion before it is over and after it is over. It will also cause a great deal of suffering, sorrow and expense. There are now more than two hundred cases of typhoid fever in this well-ordered and usually healthful place, and there are no sure signs that the epidemic has reached its height. Not long ago there was a similar epidemic in Philadelphia after a rain, and the same cause seems to be back of the sickness here that was talked of there Some of the doctors here think that the sickness is traceable to one spot. This may be so, but it is also reasonable to suppose that if the typhoid bacillus s what it is said to be it has been washed into the water supply from various places. When the first beavy rain came a few weeks ago it came on frozen ground, and the earth badly needed a washing. It had been uncommonly dry for almost a year, and the bacilli were perhaps more numerous and more distributed than some have thought. However this may be, demands all the skill and care there are to combat it. If Dr. Dibble were alive perhaps he would seatter a crumb of comfort, or at least uncertainty, by laughing at the bacillus theory as it has been set forth by some of the doctors in the present case. But until we know better there is nothing better to do than to do as we are told by those who are supposed to know. It is certainly conducive to safety to boil the water before drinking and take pains to keep the general health in as good condition to resist disease as possible. And above all don't get scared. Perhaps fear doesn't tempt the typhoid bacillus to attack the fearful one, but it does tend to lower the vitality of the fearful one, and is therefore to be avoided.

THE BOLD HERR KAMPE.

Bold people seem to be after the North Pole in earnest. Several expeditions will soon start for it, and there are several ingenious schemes for reaching it. The boldest and most ingenious is that of Herr Kampe, who proposes to make a dash for the Pole in a submarine boat now actually being built at Wilhelmshaven, submerging it at the edge of the ice surrounding Spitzbergen and continuing in it as long as the ice pack is found to be unbroken. The craft can remain submerged for fifteen hours and in that time travel fifty miles, while the promoter believes that the ice pack does not extend continuously in any direction for more than five miles. The little vessel will be able to descend one Kampe's theory is that the ice is not more than twenty feet thick. If possible this scheme is even bolder than that of Andree, who started for Five labor bureaus and three farm col- open spaces he believes in or turn

SOME MORE UNCERTAINTY.

If there was anything certain in this uncertain world it was that Woman would make a large improvement in President Harris of Amherst college school management if she were allowed advocates a church trust. "No man of to take part in it. And it was more than certain that the women of Boston would. But what has happened? Let lation of a small town, when, even then, G. W. Anderson of Boston tell. As activity. Mr. Anderson is satisfied that there is little danger that men without these results have not been accomplished up to the present time. One of the chief results of woman suffrage in school affairs in Boston, it is alleged, is an "increase of race and sectarian bigotry." In 1887 only 725 women voted in the election of that year. In 1888 there was a violent sectarian controversy over Swinton's History, and 19,940 women cast their votes. This extraordinary increase Mr. Anderson regards as and is in the Byzantine style. The boindicative of "woman's capacity and lero is of Venice lace and the collarette liking for religious and sectarian con- of frilled muslin. The sleeves are of flict." The few women who do register and vote, he asserts, are largely under the domination of leaders, with whom the test of official excellence is found "more in religious bigotry and in a willingness and capacity to flatter | and follow these self-constituted leaders than in a straightforward and able performance of public duty." Nevertheless, he is confident that the female vote will be valuable in time, especially in preventing the "Tammanyizing"

Her religious opinions were brought tions of an exalted position, but also in experience of affairs, and strengthened by loog and constant intercourse with the foremost English statesmen of two generations, that made her what she constitutional sovereign.

There were, however, occasions when she took independent steps, and some of these had a considerable influence on politics. Louis Napoleon was one of the few great sovereigns who were not related to her, and to few persons could the coup d'atat which brought him to the cordial personal relations she established with him undoubtedly contributed to the good relations which for many years subsisted between England and France. Bismarck detested English court influence, and was greatly prejudiced against her; but he has left a striking testimony to the favorable impression which her tact and good sense made upon him when he serced to a high degree the power of choosing the right moment and striking the true chord, and she appears to have been an excellent judge not only of the feelings of large bodies of men, but also of the individual characters of those with whom she dealt. She had a style of writing which was eminently characteristic and eminently feminine and it to easy to trace the letters which were entirely her own. Her letters of congratulation, or sympathy, or encouragement on public occasions scarcely ever fulled in their effect, and never contained an injudicious word. The benutiful letters to those who were suffering from some grievous calamity, Whether she was writing to a great public character, like the widow of an American president, or expressing her sorrow for obscure sufferers, there was the same note of true womanly sympathy, so manifestly spontaneous and so manifestly heartfelt that it found its way to the hearth of thousands. The tact for which she was so justly celebrated, like all true tact, sprang largefrom character, from the quick and lively sympathies of an eminently af-fectionate nature. No one could have been less theatrical, or less likely in any unworthy way to seek for popularity; but she knew admirably the occasions or the methods by which she could strike the imagination and appeal most favorably to the feelings of the people She showed this in the very beginning of her reign, when she insisted, in defiance of the opinion of the Duke of Wel-It is rather, however, by the example

Of the reign of Queen Victoria it may be truly said that very few in English history have been so blameless as this, which was the longest of all, Her court was a model of quiet dignity and decorum, singularly free from all the atmosphere of intrigue, and from all suspicion of injudicious or unworthy favoritism. She managed it, as she managed her family, with a happy mixture of tact and affection, and, though gave it to such persons and in such a way that it seemed never to be abused. No domestic life could in all its relations have been more perfect, and her love of children amounted to a passion, Among the great female rulers it would be difficult to find one less like Queen Victoria than the Empress Catherine of Russia: but they had this commor trait of an intense love for children and a great power of winning their affection. There is a charming letter of Catherine to Grimm, describing her life mong her grandchildren, which might almost have been written by the Engish queen. Her vast family, spread through many countries, was her abiding interest and delight, and although he had to pay in full measure the natural penalty of many bereavements, she at least never knew the dreary loneliness that clouded the last days of her great predecessor, Elizabeth. The transparent simplicity and unselfishness of her character were not generally appreciated, and her own ooks contributed greatly to make her people understand her. It is in general far from a wise thing for royal personages to descend into the arena of literature, unless they possess some special aptitude for it. They expose themelves to a kind of criticism wholly different from that which follows them in their public lives-a criticism more minute and often more deliberately malevelent than that to which an ordinary writer is subject. was pledged at the anniversary of the church. Dr. John F. all indebtedness. The Easter edition of "The Parish of Christ Church" is just off the press. It is full of newsy items pertaining to Episcopalians. Dr. Lindsley stated also that Westville is still necessarily supplied by the infected reservoir, the inhabitants being duly warned to kill the germs in the water by thorough boiling.

He would give neither a minimum nor a maximum estimate of the length of life of the germ, but said that the present condition of the city water is favorable to its growth. The drouth which occurred late in the winter allowed an extraordinary amount of surface matter to accumulate, and this being followed by heavy rains, the matter was flooded into the streams so that the water now flowing in the pipes is filled with it. This is about as fortunate a condition for the multiplication of typhoid germs as could be desired.

This afternoon will be held the first official meeting of the city board of health since the epidemic broke out. It Ith since the epidemic broke out. It not yet been officially informed there yesterday afternoon from Bridgethat there has been an epidemic of tymember of the board, yesterday, it is reported, commented on this fact, say-"At our last meeting nothing was id to the board about the present epidemic, although I am informed now that there was a sufficient number of cases to warrant such a belief being entertained then. I don't understand it

Dr. Wright was asked concerning this criticism last night and said that, since the last meeting of the board was held two weeks ago and the first cases of tvphoid were reported last Wednesday, ho could not see how the epidemic could have been discussed at the meeting. S. E. Dibble, another member of the board, said last night that the reported criticism against Officer Wright must be an idle rumor, or at least the expression of an individual opinion. This afternoon Dr. Wright will present a full report of the epidemic to the board.

Yesterday an official report from the state board of health was published, stating that as yet no other source of infection has been discovered than that of the Bethany reservoir. The commulcation stated that its purpose was to deny distinctly any desire on the part of the health officials of keeping back information that the public ought to know regarding the cause and probable prevalence of the disease.

There are now twenty-six cases in the two hospitals in the city, Grace hosital having seven cases and the New Haven hospital nineteen.

BOARDMAN MINSTRELS. The business manager of the Boardman minstrel show has received two letters from prominent high schools of the state asking under what conditions he could present the show for the ben-efft of their respective athletic associations. As the show has not yet been given here he is quite undecided about the matter.

These letters show the popularity of good minstrel show, and no doubt the immense success with which the Boardman show was crowned last year prompted the writing of the above mentioned letters.

The entertainment is to be given on Friday, April 26, in Music hall, and everything will be done to make the affair a success. Dancing will follow the entertainment.

The twenty-fifth annual ball of the Sarsfield guard, Company C, Second regiment, was held in the armory last night and was, without a doubt, the most successful one ever given by that ed the following as wardens for the next popular company and that is saying a great deal. The decorations were in green and white and were in pattern very much on the line of the decorations used at the Yale Junior promenade. The entire celling and sides of the vast armory were covered with cheesecloth of these colors and the festooning gave the ball room a beautiful Draperies were hung behind each box and the entire appearance of the interior of the armory was beautiful. Nearly all of the officers of the Second regiment were there in their full dress uniforms. Governor Mcthe death of Dr. Anderson. Mr. Vib-bert is the son of Rev. The grand military march just pravious to the ball was one of the features of the evening. At promptly 9 o'clock the governor and his staff emerged from the room of the Governor's Foot guard and to the tune of "Hall to the Chief" they marched across the armory to the governor's box, where they formed for the mili-tary march. This march was led by tary march. Governor McLean and Captain Donovan, of the Sarsfield guard, together with Adjutant General Cole and Lieutenant Laffin. They were followed by the members of the governor's staff accompanied by Colonel Sucher, accompanied by his staff. The Second regiment band played for the state military leaders while they marched about the armory in fours and when they reached certain points designated by guides they formed in various figures and made a beautiful appearance. Finally they formed in lines of sixteen and to the tune of "Hall Columbia" they marched around to the governor's box, where the colors were saluted in honor of the commander-in-chief and received by Colonel Sucher and Adjutant Wells, The colors were then placed in the box of the governor, where they remained during the evening. The whole effect was very pretty and was watched by the march great applause rang out from the onlookers. In the march of the guests there were fully 200 couples and ened with a spirited two-step "Semper From then on until after 4 clock this morning the dancing continued. There was an intermission of two hours, during which time a delightful lunch was served. Governor McLean was obliged to leave the armory about 10:39, but the members of his staff that were there remained until the ball was over. In the guests' box, which was one of the most attractive of any on the floor, were Colonel and Mrs. I. M. Ullman, Colonel and Mrs. Woodruff, Sheriff Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Poli, Mr. and Mre. THE NEW MALLEY BUILDING

THE FINE STRUCTURE WHICH IS BEING ERECTED ON CHAPEL ST.

Some Facts About the Building Thu Will be a Credit to the City and the State-Will Have Every Convenience That is Known to an Office Building

In the front window of the store of the Edward Malley company there is a fine picture of the Malley building that is to be erected on Chapel street, next to the Insurance building, and for pleted will be one of the most imposing in the state, and for architectural features will be one of the most noticeable in New Haven. It will be a credit to the city and to the busy street that it will front on. The improvements in the new building will be of the most modern and up-to-date character, and from roof to cellar it will be absolutely The picture that so clearly sets forth the way the new building will look when completed is admired by a large number of people every day, all of whom are impressed with the simple vet imposing design.

In every feature and detail the building will represent the advanced metheds of modern building, and no expense will be spared to insure the highest type of construction. It will rise eight stories high and the front will be of Indiana limestone and red brick. rapid-plunge elevators are to be run at the rate of 400 feet per minute, giving the finest elevator service obtainable. As to the offices, it is sufficient to say that they will be fitted up with all of the conveniences and each office will have direct light. Electric lights will be furnished free of charge, and the heat and janitor service will also be furnished free for the office tenants. Other improvements in the offices will be wires for telephone and tickets for messenger service. One of the comforts that will be especially marked during the hot summer months will be the arrangement for ice water founts on each floor. There will also be a roof retreat where tenants can take their letters, briefs, etc., during the hot weather and get the benefit of the cooling breezes that are to be found at such an altitude. Everything in the building will be for the convenience of

The entire lower floor will be occupied by the store of the Edward Malley company. There will be also a "run" for bleycles in the basement, where ample storage room will be provided for The edifice is expected to be in all respects the most modern office building in Connecticut. It is a matter of congratulation with the public that Mr. Malley is erecting so fine a building It is, morever nearly on the site of the premises where this enterprising townsman and highly sagacious and successful business man began business in New Haven many years ago, from the start evincing those qualities which have marked him as able men of the state.

REHEARSAL OF HORA NOVISSIMA Last Night-A Fine Performance of Professor Parker's Work Assured on

Tuesday, April 16. It is safe to say that not one of the members of the Gounod chorus who were present at the rehearsal last evening will soon forget it, for a more rigid over intricate passages, and back and the rough places were polished so smooth as to be positively slippery. As an onlooker expressed it, "I have been a member of several choruses in other cities, but in respect to the finishing process Agramonte is the most exacting of all conductors." However this which the foundations are now being may be, the Gounod society showed laid. The Malley building when com- last evening the good effects of the faithful, persistent drill of the past few weeks, and it may be safely assumed that Professor Professor Parker's beautiful work, "Hora Novissima," will receive on Tuesday of next week a very spirited rendition.

Much of the time last evening was spent on the "Adstant Angelorum Chori" of Professor Parker's, which is a short number, exceedingly interesting, and written for unaccompanied chorus. This will precede the longer work at the concert. Short as it is, it bristles with technical difficulties, and if the Gouned society can sing it through from beginning to end without dropping from the pitch it will be a marvel This work, which won the first prize in the Musical Art society competition in 1898, and is dedicated to Walter Damrosch, is founded on the old medie-val hymn of Thomas A. Kempi's "Angels stand in chorus singing, praise to their Creator bringing."

The final rehearsals of the Gounod society will occur on Thursday evening of this week in College street hall and on next Monday evening in Republican

YALE SOPHOMORE SOCIETIES.

The Plan for Their Merger With the Junior Organizations. While the full details of the plan for the merger of the Yale sophomore societies with those of junior year are still kept back and reports are somewhat contradictory, it is ascertained on high authority that the sophomores now freshmen-will be taken into the tunior societies progressively, begin ning next November; that in the united societies there will probably be both separate and joint meetings of members of the two classes; and that a feature of the plan will be the delay, if not the total elimination, of all pledges in of the worst evils of the old system, and break up the hereditary "cult

It is stated authoritatively, also, that the most ultra members of the present sophemore societies have joined with the conservatives in surrendering to the faculty decree, and will make no effort to perpetuate secretly the present so phomore organizations. This was a point at which the faculty feared The new plan has been arranged by committees representing the iunior and sophomore societies.

THE STOCK MARKET. Spasm of Liquidation Throws It Into a Condition Bordering on Demorilization New York, April 8 .- A temporary constriction of the money supply and the advance in the rate for call money precipitated a spasm of liquidation this morning which threw the stock market into a condition bordering on demoralization. What happened to-day in the mon agreement, what is bound to hanpen in due course of time. Neverthe less, the day's events came as a surprise. Even the most enthusiastic bull has agreed to the proposition that such rampant speculation as has been going on for weeks past was bound to be followed by a relapse of corresponding Only the enthusiastic bull has clung to the supposition that the relange was still remote and has continually moved forward the supposed date of its occurrence in the hope that there was time for still another speculative turn. Even the wild and excited market of last week, which was an ominous symptom, left the bulls unprepared for in many stocks were still wildly prevalent before the opening this morning and the explanation was offered that Thursday's flurry in call loan rates was due to manipulation by the bears. But the instant the market opened it became evident that the developments since Thursday had induced a widespread determination to sell stocks. Another palpable fact was that some of the most powerful operators in the market had already sold their holdings and taken profits during the wild excitement of last week and were compactly organized on the bear side of the market this morning. Perceiving the vulnerable condition of the market, the bears fell upon the market with great fierceness and cut a wide breach in prices at the first onslaught. The extent of the first declines, which were made by successive drops of from 1 to 2 1-2 points between sales, invited to quick profit taking by the bears, and the violent railies which ensued, en-couraged the bulls to make some stand against the reaction, hoping that the flurty was temporary and the market prepared to renew the advance. This was the only period of the day when there was any show of positive strength and Sugar, People's Gas, Texas and Pacific and a number of less important stocks were marked up sharply over last Thursday's level. But the strength was short lived and after the demand from the bears had been satisfied many of the banks began calling loans. This brough a fresh supply of liquidation on the market and invited fresh attack by the bears. The selling became precipitate as the falling in prices wiped out margins and uncovered stop loss or-ders and the unlucky bulls jettlsoned great bales of stock in the hope of saving other holdings from shipwreck. The only important demand at any time came from the shorts and the occasional spasmodic railles were not held in any case. This was true of the last as of former rallies and although prices had not fallen back to the lowest all around they were again on the down grade in most cases and the closing was irregular and only slightly above the lowest. The fall reached an extreme 8% in Rock Island, 6% in Delaware and Hudson, 51/2 in Amalgamated Copper, 714 in Colorado Fuel pref., and from 2 to 5 points in practically all of the active stocks in the list. The grangers, Pacifics, Southwesterns, southerns, coalers, trunk lines and high price specialties were most acutely afoan. The movement of money to the interior as disclosed by Saturday's bank statement was unexpectedly heavy and would be sufficient if continued to quickly wipe out the surplus of the New York banks. But any considerable stringency in New York would undoubtedly arrest this movement to some extent, although the purely commercial needs in money are likely to be met without regard to distress of purely speculative borrowers. The sub-treasury drain which is destined to continue, is more feared than any other source of encroachment and the conditional offer of the secretary of the treasury to redeem government bonds for the sinking fund is felt to offer little hope of relief for the stock market.

Business in bonds was relatively less active than that in stocks and the movement of prices was irregular. Total sales par value, $3,510,000. United States refunding 2s advanced 16 and the new 4s 14 per cent, on the

New Haven physicians who have made long and thorough tests of Kurefrit, the new and powerful blood tonic and intestinal germicide, strongly endorse it as a preventative in the present typhoid crisis. It is antiseptic and acts directly and quickly on the typhoid bacillus and the intestine in which it sets up its fatal work. Its wide use at the present time would, it is said, unquestionably prevent the dreaded typhoid developing in many who would otherwise fall victims to it. Kurefrit is for sale by all druggists. > Impires Announced and Some of the New Rules Not Adopted-Meeting at the Garde Yesterday Afternoon an Important One-New London Franchise Awarded.

There was a meeting of the directors of the Connecticut State Baseball league yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Garde and considerable business was transacted. The meeting was called to order by Secretary O'Rourke at 2:45 in the absence of President Whitlock and adjourned at 5 o'clock. The principal business that was transacted was that of looking over the schedule and making any necessary corrections and of the appointment of umpires for the season. The schedule was carefully gone over by the different managers and only a few dates were changed. The following were the changes made: Friday, May 17, Meriden at New London, instead of Meriden at Norwich, Bristol at Norwich instead of Bristol at New London, Waterbury at New Haven instead of New Haven at Waterbury; Saturday, May 18, New Haven at Waterybury instead of Waterbury at New Haven, Meriden at Norwich instead of Meriden at New London, Bristol at New London instead of Bristol at Norwich: Saturday, June 29, Norwich at Derby intsead of Derby at Norwich. The rest of the schedule was very satisfactory and was adopted as presented.

The following umpires were appointed: George W. Hart, jr., of Bridgeport, Thomas McCann, of Bristol, David Hill, of Seymour, and Cooney Best, of this city. Frank B. Cox, of New Britain, was appointed substitute umpire. of the above men are efficient and have had considerable experience at holding to the young people. The ceremony the indicator.

This amendment required only a one-fifth vote for adoption, and, receiving the necessary vote, It was adopted. Councilman Davis, of the Eleventh ward, then moved to adjourn and that the next regular meeting be held ten minutes after adjournment. This motion was defeated by a vote of 16 to 15.

The petition of the Southern New England Telephone company asking permission to erect public telephone boxes on the streets then came up for action. President Stoddard stated that the law firm with which he is connected now had some legal business for the telephone company and he asked to be excused from taking part in any action that might be taken in the matter. He retired from the chamber, and, on motion of Councilman Wheeler. Councilman Dawson was elected chairman pro tem. A motion was offered to refer the petition to a special committee, but Councilman Bracken, of the Twelfth ward, objected to such action, saying that the matter should properly go to the street committee, which, he believed, was competent to deal with the matter. On his motion the petition was referred to the street committee. This is non-concurrent action, the aldermen having referred the petition to a special committee. The special committee on bath houses to which the matter of building public bath houses was referred sent in a communication urging that the work of erecting bath houses be begun at once. PLOT TO KILL M: LOUBET.

Private Information Said to Have Been Received by French Detectives.

London, April 8 .- A dispatch to the Evening News from Paris says that the French detectives were privately informed of a projected attempt to assassinate President Loubet during his coming trip. Extraordinary precautions have been taken everywhere and the usual police protection has been doubled. Outsiders have been excluded from the railroad stations. Ten thousand soldiers have been detailed to maintain order during the French president's stay at Nice, where stringent orders have been issued rigorously to suppress the slightest hostile demonstration. President Loubet, however, is inclined to laugh at the detectives' fears that an attempt will be made upon his life.
