Newport, R. I., June 4.-While dashing along in a good whole-sail breeze off Brenton's Reef lightship this after noon, with three lower sails set, the big hollow steel mast on the Belmont syndicate's cup defender Constitution, collapsed like a boy's blow pipe, through the sudden breaking of the starboard and windward spreaders

The mast broke off only a few feet below this spreader, about three-fifths of the length of the mast above the deck, and as the topmast was carried away at the same time none of the spars except the boom struck the deck, and the later only hit it a gentle blow, which did not injure the hull at all.

None of the salls was torn and all can be used again. Fortunately three seamen had just come down from the masthead after taking in the clubtopsail, but the wreckage swept over-board Second Mate Edward Nelson. He was promptly hauled on board, howwithout gustaining anything more than a few bruises.

The designer, "Nat" Herreshoff, was on the deck when the mast collapsed, and with him were W. Butler Duncan, the manager of the yacht; C. Oliver Iselin, who managed the Columbia two years ago when she sustained a similar accident; Rear Commodore C. L. F. Robinson, of the New York Yacht club, and Newbury Thorne, and all escaped injury. The Constitution will be taken to Bristol to-morrow morning where, fortunately another steel mast is nearfinished. The yacht will be immediately refitted, but it will probably be ten days or two weeks before she is in from the river dead. shape to sail again, so that the races off this port scheduled for June 15 and 17 will have to be postponed.

Mr. Duncan expressed great regret to-night over the accident, but said

Cleveland, June 4.-The one-hundred mile race from Cleveland to Erie today between the Cleveland passenger steamer City of Erie, owned by the Cleveland and Buffalo Transit company, and the Tashmoo, Detroit's crack passenger boat, owned by the White Star company, was in many respects the most noteworthy race ever sailed on fresh water.

The Eric covered the distance in four hours, nineteen minutes and nine seconds, beating the Tashmoo by five seconds elapsed time. Aside from winning the speed championship of the Great Lakes, the Erle won about one hundred thousand dollars for those who bet on her.

The conditions under which the race was sailed were ideal. The course was lined from start to finish with excursion boats of all kinds, and the shores were crowded at points with people Car-led Overboard-Races Off Newport | Both boats were stripped to fighting trim. NO APPOINTMENTS YET

To Fill the Vacancies in the gine in the yards of the Southern Rall-Board of Police Commissioners.

THEY WILL APPEAL TO THE SU-PERIOR COURT.

Mayor Studiey Asks an Opinion From The Hearing Yesterday on the Charges

Mayor Studley yesterday afternoon after having held a hearing on the removed those four gentlemen from office and sent to each one a notice of the engine. that action. There was a rumor late last evening appoint commissioners to fill the vacancies caused by these removals, but no appointments were made last night and Mayor Studley stated that probably the appointments would not be made for at least three and possibly four days.

A question has been raised as to the legal method of filling the vacancies caused by the removals and this question has been referred to Corporation Counsel Robertson for an opinion. The charter directs that in June of each year the mayor shall appoint two police commissioners for a term of three years from the first days of July next succeeding.

The removals will leave three vacan-cies to be filled. Mayor Studley has already announced his appointments directed by this section of the charter having appointed Joseph C. Kelly and James P. Manning to take the places of Wilson H. Lee and E. P. Avery, whose terms expire this month. The only member of the present board to remain in office with unquestioned title is David Corey. This makes, with the vacancles to be filled because of the removals, five commissioners to be appointed this month, while the charter only gives specific authority for the mayor to appoint two. It is this ques- pursuing columns could come up. tion as to the power of the mayor to appoint the additional three that has been referred to Corporation Counsel Robertson, whose term of office will not | leoted but the garrison was released.

The charter provides that such appeal may be made to Lord Kitchener Sends Details of the any judge of the superior court, that the appeal must be made returnable not less than three days nor more than six It further provides that notice of the appeal must be served on the mayor at least forty-eight hours before the hearing on the appeal. It was learned from a reliable source last night that in case appointments to fill vacancies caused by the removals are made before the appeal is decided the removed commissioners will apply for an injunction to restrain such appointees from acting. A meeting of the police board was to have been held last night but only two commissioners appeared, Mr. Lee and Mr. Cory. Mr. Landers visited the police building early in the evening but only stayed a few moments. He said that he had received the notice of the police board meeting but that he had not received notice of his removal.

The two commissioners remained at the commissioners' room in the police versation with the superintendent,

THE VLAKFONTEIN FIGHT.

London, June 4.-Lord Kitchener, in dispatch from Pretoria dated to-day,

"Dixon's report of the fighting at Vlakfontein, forty miles from Johannesburg, May 29, just received. On our side 1,450 men, with seven guns, were engaged. The force was returning to camp at Vlakfontein, when the enemy, under cover of a veldt fire, cushed the rear guard, consisting of two guns of the Twenty-eighth battery and 330 men of the Derbyshires and Yeomanry. They temporarily captured the two guns. When the remainder of the force came into action the Boers were driven off and the guns were recaptured, and the Beer position was occupied. "Our casualties were six officers and fifty-one men killed, six officers and 115 men wounded and one officer and seven men missing. BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY OF DEA-CON JACOB P. MERROW.

It Was a Surprise on Him-Home for the Friendless Donation Day To-day-Fair Haven East Borough Meeting Monday

The party of friends of Deacon Jacob Merrow called at his home, 41 Clinton avenue Monday evening, the occasion being his seventy-eighth birth anniver-His friends, most of them connected with the Grand avenue Baptist church, met at the residence of S. J. Latta on Peck street and proceeded in a body to the Merrow home, taking the good deacon completely by surprise. But they were given a cordial welcome and the evening was passed very pleasantly. Late in the evening refreshments were served. Mr. Merrow was congratulated upon his good health and wishes expressed that he might be spared for many a year more. During the past winter he was in very poor health, but at present he is very well for a man of his age. He has a large circle of friends, and all would have been glad to congratulate him upon his anniversary could they have been present on the occasion of his surprise visit. James P. The Fair Haven East borought meeting Monday evening voted a 5 mill tax which is one mill smaller than last year. This reduction was possible because of the reassessment, which gives a borough grand list of about $1,500,000, and a larger tax was not necessary. Some would have liked a 4 mill tax, but a study of the figures shows that a 5 mill tax will be none too much to raise the amount necessary to run the The pay of tax collector was reduced from 4 to 3 per cent., but it is said this will give him within $18 or $20 last year. ANNUAL DONATION DAY TO-DAY.

For the Home for the Friendless With Reception at the Home.

The annual donation day, or reception at the Home for the Friendless, occurs this (Wednesday) afternoon, The Home will then be open to the public, and the managers will be glad to take guests over the building and answer their enquiries as far as possible, but while the first remark made by a stranger is always "How pleasant and homelike every thing is" the first question is bard to answer for it usually takes some such form as this: "How can you do so much with such a slander income?" In fact the managers themselves are often astonshel that they can keep the Home open with such slender incomes. It sometimes seems as though It was not until the very last penny was spent and every one was discouraged that an un expected and generous awakening to the needs of the institution came. has always come in past times of need, and this fact gives us courage for the future. Thrift and economy are willing workers can do wonders, and so the Home for the Friendless has grown and prospered. The scope of its work ever widening until now are gathered in through its easy opening portals aged women who are poor and friendconvalescents not yet strong enough to go back to work, poor ignorant, helpless girls who ask to be saved from the past, and many homeless little children to whom no other door is open. All these make a large family, There are many feeble ones needing tender care; many unskilled hands to be trained to useful labor, but the main object of the Home is to awaken each young minds. This work is surely a most important one, and the Home may fairly be reckoned among the most useful of the agencies for good in our community. Its endowment is very slender. If it were not for the annually repeated generosity of the people of New Haven it could not exist. The managers ask everyone who enjoys the blessings of a box 612 Yale station, or to F. H. The Fitch Property on Orange Street-

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the Fitch property on Orange street, which has been a landmark for the past eighty years, was sold under the hammer to settle the estate of the late Lewis Fitch. The auctioneer was Edward C. Beecher and the price which the property went for was $6,700. The purchaser was Dr. Timothy H. Bishop, of Church street. Although not exactly known, the property has now on it a house over eighty years of age. In 1839 the house next to t was occupied by the father of Edward C. Beecher, and at that time there were but five houses between the Fitch house and East Rock. cost the late Mr. Fitch $200 a foot and to-day is worth about $150. "All of the above writers agree with me that the use of the Carlsbad Waters exerts a very beneficial influence in diabetes. I have, in the course of many years treated a very large number of patients suffering with the disease, and have, with great interest noticed the effect of Carlsbad Water in reducing the amount of sugar. My invariable experience has been that almost without an exception an improvement was marked and noticeable during and after the use of the same, even where no strict diet was observed." Field, a lawyer of Brooklyn, and were largely attended by prominent men of Brooklyn and other places. The deceased was a manufacurer of paper, and had mills at Boonton, N. J., with offices at 116 Nassau street, New York. He was a prominent member of the First Reformed church of Brooklyn, and died suddenly at his home of heart failure. He had a few minutes before his death returned home from a meeting of the board of trustees of his church. He was superintendent of the Sunday school of the church for ten years. His age was forty-six, and he had lived in Brooklyn for thirty years. For many years he had a store in Fulton street, Brooklyn, where paintings and artists' materials were sold. Ten years ago he retired and engaged in paper manufacturing, and did a large business. He leaves a widow. ASSEMBLY

DERRY TROLLEY EXTENSION RESU-LUTION PASSED BY THE SENATE.

A New Itinerant Venders Bill Reported Favorably-A Resolution Passed Providing for Adjournment June 12-Indeterminate Sentence Bill Recalled and Amended - Other Matters Acted Upon by House and Senate Yesterday.

A large amount of business was finished up in the long sessions held by the House and the Senate at Hartford yesterday and the indications are now that the pending business will be finished so that the assembly can adjourn June 12. The House yesterday concurred with the Senate in adopting a resolution providing for adjournment on that date:

The resolution giving the Fair Haven and Westville Railroad company permission to extend its tracks to Derby was passed in the Senate yesterday without debate and comes up for action in the House to-day. The House will undoubtedly concur. The committee on judiciary reported to the Senate a new Itinerant venders' bill. It provides for a state license of $100, a local license of $25, and a deposit of $500, with the state treasurer. The penalty is not more than $50 fine, nor more than sixty days in jail. An itinerant vender is defined as a person engaged in a temporary or transient from place to place. No itinerant vender shall be exempt from these provisions by reason of associating himself temporarily with any local dealer, auctioneer, trader, or merchant.

The committee on railroads reported a substitute bill for the one drawn by James D. Dewell, of New Haven, providing for state supervision of street railway compaines. The bill provides for the supervision of the street rallroads by the railroad commissioners, as to public safety, and provides that appeals may be taken from municipal, borough and town authorities to the board of rallroad commissioners.

The Senate passed a substitute medical practice act, increasing the examination fee from $10 to $15, and requires that the candidate shall be a graduate of a medical college in good standing, and also authorizes the state board to revoke the license of a person convicted of felony.

In the Senate the resolution concerning the Farmington Street Railway company was advocated by Senator The resolution validates the sale of the franchises and property of the Hartford and West Hartford Horse Railroad company to the Farmington Street Railway company and authorizing he latter to hold the property acquired came up for action. for the incorporation of the latter com-pany. New Haven gentlemen, including General E. S. Greeley, who are interested in this road, oppose the passage of the resolution.

Senator Bree opposed the resolution. He said that a suit is now pending affecting the rights of the parties at interest and he thought it would be improper for the Senate to pass the resolution. Some of his constituents, he said, were interested and he thought the resolution should be rejected. Senator Kennedy also strongly opposed He said the matter resolution. should be left with the courts where it To pass the bill would be a dangerous precedent. The people who are anxious to get special legislation must think they have no case if they come to the legislature.

Senator Kenealy said the legislature Where the Superior Court Judges Will sits for the purpose of curing defects the commission on the revision of the in the present law. What is asked for by this company is the remedying of a ber. defect in the present law. Justice to the parties required the passage of the Senator Landon asked if there was any opposition to the resolution before the rallroad committee, and what was the real question at issue. Senator Burton replied that there was opposition, but the committee believed that the charter should be granted.

Senator Bree said that Judge Wheeler decided that the organization of the Farmington Street railway was not properly organized. He read from the judge's decision. He said there was a possibility of doing serious injustice

o the earlier bondholders. Senator Kenealy said that the railroad committee had considered question of fact and their report should be accepted. Because an action is pending in court is no reason why legislation asked for should be denied if justice requires it. The parties here had expended their money, had improved the road were running it satisfactorily and came to the legislature for justice, Senator Burton called attention to the ent owners by the state treasurer. The resolution was adopted. It will be strongly opposed when it come up in the House, probably to-day. He said the appropriation as to examine into the scales and that it ought to be given to

New Haven. Mr. Peebles, of Mansfield, stated that Storre was able to do the work and ought to be given it. The amendment giving the money to Storrs was passed. It was reconsidered and the amendment rejected. The original bill was then tabled. The railroad committee reported unfavorably on the petition of D. B. Spalding and others for a street railway in Groton and favorably on the resolution of C. I. Alger and others for

The cities and boroughs committee sent in two reports standing five to four this morning on the resolution amending the charter of the city of New Both reports offer substitute bills, the difference of opinion being on the course of appeal for damages, the majority report sending damaged parties to the courts to thresh it out again.

The House and Senate concurred in passing a resolution naming July 25 1901, as Connecticut Chatauqua day. On that day Governor McLean, United States Senator O. H. Platt and Senator Franklin Burton will speak in Plain-

The House receded from its previou action to-day and concurred with the Senate in rejecting the bill changing the name of the Connecticut Literary Institute to the Suffield academy.

The Senate debated at some length the free text book bill, Senators Kenealey. Allis and others opposing it, and Senator Bree supporting it. Senator Kenealey wanted some measure passed that would give the benefit of the large gain on school books to the towns who might purchase them and sell to children. Tabled.

It places salaries of state's attorneys in New Haven, Hartford and Fairfield counties at $4,000 a The superior court may allow for Hartford assistant $1,000; Waterbury $1,200 for assistant: New Haven $1,000 for assistant; Fairfield county $1,-000 for assistant. The state's attorneys in Tolland county $1,250; Litchfield, $1,800; Windham, $1,700. These salaries are increased in various amounts.

The incorporation of the Willimantic Traction company was passed in the House with provision that it least two miles of track within years. The barbers' license bill was passed after one or two amendments. It provides for the issuance of licenses to barbers at a nominal fee. An appropriation of $30,000 was also made for statutes. The House concurred with the Senate in the passage of the resolution for adjournment, June 12. Senator Bree's half-fare bills for children on trolley roads were all rejected by the Senate yesterday. Senator Burton, chairman of the committee on railroads, in opposing the measure, said that no one would be bene fitted to any extent. Senator Bree made a strong speech in favor of the principles in the bill. He said in 1899 the committee on railroads reported unfavorably a bill providing for half fares for school children, and it passed in the house by an almost upanimous vote. He believed the principle involved was right, and he that the state which created these corporations had a right to impose a reas-

Elizabeth Cady Stanton wants the Bible changed. She declares that such parables as refer to woman as "the author of sin" "an inferior," "a subject," 'a weaker vessel," should be relegated to the ancient mythologies as mere allegories, having no application whatever to women of this generation. She declares that "the greatest block to-day in the way of woman's emancination is the church, the canon law, the Bible and the priesthood. *

* It is not civil or political power that holds the Mormon woman in polygamy, the Turkish woman in the harem everywhere. The central falsehood from which all these different forms of slavery spring is the doctrine of original sin and woman as a medium for the machinations of Satan, its author."

A Rare Sideboard

At Chamberlain's. Choice Antique Art.

A genuine Heppelwhite (sometimes erroneously called Chippendale) Sideboard of St. Domingo Mahogany, made in the year 1790. Restored by Hellrigel.

The winning characteristics of this Sideboard are graceful swell front, delicate spindle legs, holly and ebony inlay, and distinct crotch veneer; the whole surface being polished almost to mirror brightness.

This unusually unique piece of furniture was either made in this country, or imported from England during the year designated, and is indeed an art gem of that peri-

It is now on exhibition and sale in our store at the Orange Street Entrance. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to everyone interested to examine it.

"Martha Washington" Tea Table of the same period is also on exhibition. This, too, is a "Heppel-white" Mahogany Iniaid Table.

Courier was a discourse on medical progress, and therein the following statement was made: "Animal magnetism had begun to be known, the forerunner of hypnotism and Christian Science." The meaning of the above is obscure Christian Science has indeed followed to meet the need arising from the un-

Christian Science.

In an issue of the Journal and

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier:

folding in thought of the seeming power of animal magnetism and hypnot-I am aware that there is existent today no system, therapeutical or religlous, except Christian Science, that has the principle by which animal magnetism and hypnotism in their claim of power can be destroyed, and the spiritual basis scientificatlly attained. this is the carnal mind overthrown in its purpose, and spirit proven supreme in the redemption of the sinner and nealing the sick.

Note, I say, scientifically, I mean by this, that no system has the revelation except Christian Science to understand the foundation of animal magnetism and hypnotism. Neither have they the remedy in accepting the fact of its unreality, and acknowledging man in his spiritual image and likeness, all and only: spirit as the one substantial, real mmortal essence of being.

Nor do they apply this fundamental fact to experience, seeing the human yield to the divine in spiritualization, Other systems are all reaching out for God, for the origin of existence. And their result of good in healing and saving mankind is because of their hon-

But the science of being which our Master taught and lived has come to this century in a scientific understanding of His work and the practical application thereof through Christian

Every loyal Christian Scientist is taught to destroy animal magnetism or hypnotism as having power to af-fect his well-being. He sees it as of human invention, its basis-carnal mind.

Spirituality is his goal. The omnipotence of spirit is the foundation for his work. This calls to thought an instance in practice. A young lady, a teacher of physical culture, was holding her class session when suddenly she closed her eyes, seemed to lose the sense of her surroundings, and was in environments known only to herself. She spoke, but thieves? to no one present. A Christian Science practitioner was called, an absolute stranger to the patient; the one in whose home she was holding her class bringing help to her in this way. As this Christian Scientist entered, although the young lady did not open her eyes, she exclaimed, "I do not want that newcomer here!" Her presence disturbed the spell under which she them seemed existing. No reply was made, and soon she said, "I hope that lady will not force me to ask her to In about one half hour after the Christian Scientist began treatment, the patient, opening her eyes, exclaimed:

"I have been here before. I recognize that table!" Then, looking at her hostess, she remarked, "Surely I know you!" She looked strangely about her and asked, "Have I been acting foolishly?" Crossing over to the Scientist she embraced and kissed her, then took a chair. Intelligence became more and more evident. The Scientist returned home, thanking God for His potency manifested in liberating this victim of hypnotice influence. She learned that the young girl had been treating with hypnotist. She urged the patient's friends to consider, if such a power could be exerted, what safety had one if the same human will turned its purpose for evil. Christian Science eliminates the pow er of the human will. Modest as the results have been in the limited understanding of Christian Scientists to-day they have given an undentable proof of God's Omnipotence to free us from the seeming power of will and the effects of its domination. It is useless, at this date, to decry the claim of power in directed will. To rest in righteous indolence that one does not believe the phenomena produced by it is only losing time. It is pushing its way for intelligent consideration of the community. And Christian Science is teaching its adherents to meet it with the weapon of spiritual might to disarm its mischievous effects. One conclusive evidence to the Christlan Scientist that animal magnetism and hypnotism are of mortal conception, not divine, is its claim of influ-ence for good and evil. The teaching of the Christian Science church gives supremacy to only one good God. And there they rest on an eternal rock, Evil rises and falls, but God rules supreme, immortal. "He whose right it is shall reign." "And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing, and He doeth according to His will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabiants of the earth; and none can stay His hand, or say unto Him, What doest (Daniel iv, 35.) This is our principle, that evil must fall before the Omnipotence of God, as we are educated more and more out of the false sense of matter, mortal mind as power, and accept the truth, God as all.

transacted. Some question has been raised as to the signing of the police pay roll this week, the charter forbidding the removed commissioners from acting pending a decision on appeals. The pay roll will, however, be signed to-day. At the beginning of the present fiscal year. just after the organization of the board, the president of the board was authorized to approve the pay rolls for the

The full text of the mayor's order, removing the four police commissioners, was made public at 3 o'clock yes-terday afternoon and is as follows:

"This is to certify that on the 1st day of June, 1901, I did issue a summons to you to appear before me at the office of the mayor in the city hall of New Haven, Conn., on Tuesday, the 4th day of June, 1901, at 10 o'clock in the forencon to show cause why you should not be removed from the office of police commissioners in said city; that said summons contained the charges against you to which you were to answer if you desired to be heard; that it appears by the returns of the officer served the same that a true and atattested copy of said summons and charges were duly served upon you; that on the said 4th day of June, 1901. at 10 o'clock in the forenoon you did appear before me at the said office of the mayor and did immediately thereafter retire and decline to be heard with reference to the said charges; that thereupon at such time and place I did have a full hearing in regard to the said charges therein contained and after said hearing I consider the said charges are true and founded in fact and that you have been incompetent and have been unfaithful and that the require ments of the public service demand Therefore, by virtue of the author consisting of Commissioners Clarke and Shannahan, and accompanying the return was the following request:

"It is desired that you certify whether or not they are totally unfit for any police duty owing to mental or physical disability, and if so whether such disabiliy is due to injury received or exposure endured in the performance of duty in the department.

John H. Clarke, "John F. Shannahan, "Committee on Efficiency."

The report of the surgeons May 29. as given above, was their reply to this request of the commissioners for more definite information.

The hearing at the mayor's office in the city hall yesterday morning at 10 o'clock was conducted with dignity and decorum, but was not without its dramatic incidents, notably when his honor ordered from the room Attorney Goodhart, counsel for the removed commissioners. Fourteen witnesses were examined, and of these eleven testified that in their judgment the men retired were thoroughly capable of performing police duty. No sufficient reason for their retirement was brought out, although the mayor made every effort to bring such fact to the surface. absence of the accused commissioners was regretted and made the examination ex-parte of necessity, but it made no difference, for the examination was continued in firmness and fairness, just as if the commissioners were present.

Just as the big bell in the city hall tower struck 10 Attorney J. P. Goodhart, counsel for the four commissioners, entered the mayor's office, advance ed to his honor and said:

Mayor, I have some papers here I wish to file with you in reference to the hearing about to com-as the first attacks your jurisdiction in the matter of the removal of the police commissioners."

"You may file whatever papers you have, Mr. Goodhart," was the only re-"May I not read this paper so that you may know its contents?" The mayor glanced up and smilingly answered, "Ye-es, you may read it." Mr. Goodhart then read the following motion to discuss the charges: To the Hon. John P. Studley, Mayor of the City of New Haven: The undersigned, having been summoned to appear before your honor to the older ones who by years o answer the charge of performing certain official acts without proper or legal cause and for improper reasons, moves that said charges be dismissed, because

NO APPOINTMENTS YET found that your applicant was not induties, and that the requirements of public service did not demand his renoval.

Dated at New Haven, this 4th day of his reading the mayor smiled again and said: You may file that motion if you so

Mr. Goodhart handed the paper had another motion to make. This motion was for a more specific statement of the charges, and for counsel to be present, Mr. Goodhart read the motion, which was as follows:

To the Hon, John P. Studiey, Mayor of the City of New Haven:

The undersigned having been summoned to appear before your honor to answer the charge of performing certain official acts without proper or legal cause and for improper reasons, moves:
1. That said charge may be amended by stating what acts your applicant has done without proper or legal cause. 2. In what manner your applicant exceeded the power vested in him by the city charter. What acts your applicant did for improper reasons.

4. With what "improper reasons" your applicant is charged,
5. By stating in what particular your applicant has been unfaithful in his duties as police commissioner. All of which your applicant respectfully requests that he may properly prepare his defense.

Your applicant further prays that he may be represented before your honor Dated at New Haven this 4th day of June, 1991. The mayor smiled again and gave the attorney permission to file the motion.

"Will you not grant these motions, Mr. Mayor? "No." replied the judge.

"Well then, I ask permission to direct my clients to withdraw from the hear-

The smile had left the mayor's countenance as he replied: "Mr. Goodhart, you will leave this office by the private exit to the hallway, and not through the general office."

Mr. Goodhart turned toward the door leading into the general office, opened it and rushed out, exclaiming: "Commissioners, come with me."

The mayor's form appeared in the doorway and he called out to Patrolman Doughan, pointing his finger toward Mr. Goodhart: "Officer, remove that man.

The officer started to carry out the order, btu the lawyer forestalled him by making a hasty exit, followed by Commissioners Clarke, Avery, Shanahan and Landers.

Mayor Studley conducted the examinution personally. He was the only lawyer present and while he followed court usages closely, he stated that there was nothing criminal against the four commissioners but they had exceeded their duties or powers. He was sorry, he said, that the four commissioners had gove away, but said that nothing would be allowed that was unfair to them, as he was in duty bound to get the truth of the matter. He permitted no memoranda to escape his scrutiny and even the notes of the surgeons were taken by his honor and marked "Exhibits."

The first witnesses called were Drs Whittemore, Thomas H. Russell and Francis Bacon, who testified to examining Captains Brewer and O'Keefe and Sergeant Bergin. They agreed as to the physical fitness of the men and made out a certificate to that effect, as follows: This is to certify that having on 28th May, 1901, made a thorough examination of James P. Brewer, William O'Keefe and Patrick Bergin we find all of them in good physical and mental condition.

In our opinion they are fully capable performing active police duty. FRANCIS BACON,

THOMAS H. RUSSELL. FRANK H. WHITTEMORE. New Haven, Conn., 28th May, 1901.

Judge Studley here explained: "This hearing is at request of a citizens' committee who asked the mayor to investigate the removal of these three police officials. This is an unpartisan hearing and if there is anything to be said in favor of the four police commissioners' action in removing these men, I shall be pleased to hear it that I may learn all the facts." The four police surgeons followed with tes mony, as indicated by their certificate of good health printed above. Wilson H. Lee, president of the police board of commissioners, testified: I know no reason to disqualify Captains Brewer, O'Keefe or Sergeant Bergin from performing the duties of the positions they occupy. "On May 14 I was present at a meeting of the board of police commission-It was a regular meeting and was called to order by Mayor Driscoll, who presided during the meeting. At that meeting a typewritten resolution was introduced by Commissioner Avery, It was generally discussed. I recall statement made as to the mental or physical condition of these men, nor de I recall that any reason was given why the resolution should be passed. I knew of this resolution only when it was presented.

"About twenty-four hours before the meeting Commissioner Avery had a friendly talk with me about the advisability of retiring these men. During the conversation he tried to impress me that the officers were lax in their duties. He did no impress me with any laxity on the part of these men that as president of the board I felt ought to be investigated. I didn't consider this onversation as important as perhaps I ought in view of later developments As I stated to him: If officers are to be promoted why don't you take some of service have earned promotion?

"He intimated that Commissioner Clarke would not agree to it. While these men ing there will be at that time a large might have been acceptable to Mr. Avery he gave me to understand that they would not be acceptable to Commissioner Clarke. I cannot give the exact conversation that took place be cussed this matter to find if there was competent, was not unfaithful to his a combination against these men, and if so to break it up."

Captain Brewer testified that the day before the meeting he called Commissloner Avery up on the 'phone, and he asked: "What is the matter, Cappy?" When Mr. Goodhart had concluded 1 told him rumors were around that I is reading the mayor smiled again and was going to be retired. He said: Don't you worry, Cappy; I'll take care

I never have been told by any member of the police department that I had any Illnes physically or mentally that would debar me from performing police duty. Suddenly, just before 2 o'clock, without the slightest warning, the starboard lower spreader, over the end of which run two of the mast head shrouds, made of inch steel wire rope. collapsed or broke off on the mast. This brought the strain on the three remaining steel shrouds, which promptly gave way and almost at the same instant the big steel mast began to fall over the post. It went over so gradually that those on deck saw it coming in time to get to windward with the exception of Second Mate Nelson, who was caught in some rigging and went overboard under the big-mainsail. Fortunately some of the mainsail. crew saw his predicament and by quick work he was hauled aboard. The mast collapsed or bent about two-fifths of the way above the deck or a few feet below the lower spreaders which broke. As it went over the topmast shrouds broke that wooden spar into two pieces. One short off at its foot where it enters the top of the mast and again well up the pole toward the top. Part of the topmast was saved, but some ten feet of it went drifting out to sea. As the mast came down, shorn of its topmast, it was seen that it would not strike the deck, and as the boom sagged on to the port rail, quite sently, the hull was not injured in the slightest degree, head sails, of course, were swept into the water, but the bowsprit remained intact. Both the upper spreaders were broken short off when the mast went down, but the topmast shrouds, which lead over them held well, and in doing so smashed he big wooden pole which they were intended to hold in place. Some of the shrouds, when the upper part of the mast was fairly down, were carried over the stump and remained there when the yacht was taken into the harbor.

When Andrew Carnegle sailed for Europe last month he said he expected to return in the fall and to find waiting for him his magnificent new home on Fifth avenue, in the block bounded by Ninetieth and Ninety-first streets grove of great trees growing just a confidently and prosperously as if they had furnished the shade for the place

This axle is covered in the middle by against its side. Two large hooks, like fish-books, are then placed under the two main roots of the tree. These hooks are suspended by a cable stretching over the top of the pole at-tached to the axic. This cable is now pulled over the top of the pole by a machine, and the hooks pull the tree up without injuring it, bringing the small fibrous roots and the earth that surrounds them.

The pole is then slowly turned so as o lie flat, and the tree lies against the soft felt saddle. The tree can then ither drag along the ground or it may be suspended by elevating the pole. This apparatus is now attached to sort of wagon, the bottom of which protects the roots of the tree, and the whole is drawn by from four to eight

Some trees that have been moved to Mr. Carnegle's place are as much as 17 inches in diameter. One of them was estimated to weigh about 10 tons. Twenty-nine were transplanted in all, and to-day every one of them is giving evidence of perfect strength and posessed of its original luxuriousness. When the landscape gardener took Paris. harge of the Carnegie lot, it was found that there was only one tree on the place. It was a huge silver leaf poplar. Mr. Carnegie's explicit orders were, "Woodman, spare that tree." He determined that this splendld specimen of plant life should be saved at any ost. It was a curlous specimen, heavlly incrusted with unshapely bark, altogether symmetrical in its foliage chems, not in fact the kind of a tree that would have been selected to become a part of the general decoration plan of the place.

But arrangements were made to ave it. While the house was going up it had to be covered with a heavy eathing of iron to protect it from the construction work proceeding all around it. Then there were fears that was dying, in view of the fact that t was growing on a mound above the other ground. A most had to to be constructed around it then. AMERICAN GIRLS AS I KNOW THEM.

My study of the American girl has been twofold; first, in Paris, and afterward at her home. At first I considered her simply a refreshing change from the stereotyped English girl, good to look at and god to talk with It was apparent, even then, that American girls would become famous in Paris for their unusual gifts of conversation and their general good looks. I soon was able to drive down any of the great avenues at home and pick them out as I saw them pass. more distinction in their looks and manner than the girls of any other country; a freedom in their expression. They never have had difficulty in making places for themselves in the life of

But, though I knew something of them abroad, it was not until my present tour of this country that I began to know them as they are. They have many qualities for which I look in vain among the belles of France, and they can rival my country women now in beauty and dress. First of all, I think they have more general culture, and are better educated. I have been astounded, in going about the country, to observe the numbers of large and flourishing colleges for women which everywhere exist. One can hardly believe that there are so many women seeking "higher education,' as you call it here. And the young women, I have met showed the results of this education. They were able to discuss innumerable subjects intelligently. could hardly mention any branch of art of which they were ignorant, and usually they could talk well on the drama, poetry, and art generally. Another thing which impressed me was the fact that so many American young women can speak French.-Sarah Bernhardt in Success.

PLEASURE RIDING.

With the revival of Bicycle riding as a sport, comes a demand for a better class of wheels than has been called for during the past two years.

Sales are now running more largely on Bleycles costing from forty to fifty dollars, with many buyers at still higher prices. The Hygienic cushioned frame models come in for a share of attention from those who care for comfort than high speed. They are especially appreciated on our somewhat rough pavements.

The NATIONAL Bicycles cover the range of models most in favor, with the Roadster at Forty, the Special at Fifty, Racer at Fifty-five, and Chainless at Sixty-five Dollars. I shall be glad to have you call and try one on the road There is something about them that cannot be fully explained. A trial demonstrates their superiority.

Hyperion Theater. An important dramatic event is the tour of the Otis Skinner, Eleanor Robson and Sarah Cowell Le Moyne company under the direction of Liebler & class histories will be read by Freder-Co., in Robert Browning's "fragment of ick R. Haight, New Haven; Maurice a drama," "In a Balcony," and W. B. Yeats' symbolic play, "The Land ven; J. A. Parker, Louisville, Ky.; and Heart's Desire." For the latter play, Walter Bruce Howe, Washington the enterprising firm has engaged a grave of Elihu Yale, the founder of the and with such regard for particular fitness to intelligently interpret, delight-L. The event is one that should not alone enlist the attention of the entire appeal very strongly to men and wonot, for the perfection and beauty of the production has been conceded, and no one has yet presumed to question the consummate art of those taking part in the performance, Among American romantic actors now living, Otis Skinner is probably without a peer, while Mrs. Le Moyne long before she became an actress, won deserved fame as a nelocutionist, and particularly as tranced, and in her reading discovered new beauties in his own verse, while in th presence of royalty she pleaded the cause of the master mind and added fresh laurels to his fame. Miss Eleanor Robson, who will appear as Constance, no longer needs an introduction to an American public, and no little interest will be created by the opportunity this tour will afford, to see the "coming American actress," for by many is Miss Robson so regarded. The single presentation of "In a Balcony" at Walthe auditorium of Hendrie hall, at plomas will be conferred by President lack's theater in New York last fall, has left the impression among those who witnessed it that this tour prove one of the most notable in the history of the drama in America, and with that impression a corresponding interest should be created everywhere The production is so beautifully mounted that it cannot fall to set a new and higher standard for the presentation of similar plays. Seats now on sale. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50.

THE STOCK MARKET

Upward Course of Prices Receives a Decided Check.

New York, June 4.-The upward course of prices received a decided check to-day. After the strong opening in continuation of yesterday's special cast of such unusual excellence strength the whole market, with a very few exceptions, turned weak. was a pretty general rally in the afterfully act and look the roles assigned to noon under the leadership of a few strong stocks, but before the close there dramatic circles everywhere. Liebler & were some ragged breaks in prices again and the closing was decidedly Mrs. Le Moyne and Miss acute weakness of Sugar was a determining influence in the early dealings. Yesterday's rumors of an increase in the dividend on this stock were pretty generally discredited this morning and there was, besides, an explicit denial of a statement put out yesterday that litigation with the company's principal competitor had been settled. The principal selling had been effected before the actual announcement of the unchanged dividend, and there was some recovery later in the day in sympathy with the general strength of the market. The stock's extreme decline was

> The fact that the other coalers did not respond to the early strength of Ontario and Western, on the report of its purchase of the old Delaware and Hudson Canal, in spite of reassuring statements that the transaction was with the full knowledge and approval of the Erie Railroad company, was considered rather ominous

> Reports of drought in the southwest gave rise to the cross speculation usual at this period of the year to bull wheat and bear the grain-carrying railroads. The effects of this were particularly manifest in St. Paul and the Southwesterns. The decline in Union Pacific reached 214 and in St. Paul 216. Current reports of a falling off in new orders received in the iron trade, although actual consumption is reported to be still running close to production, awakened reminiscences of last year's collapse in the steel securities. was, besides, very heavy selling by professional operators to take profits on yesterday's rise, London joining in the selling and reversing its position of yesterday. The identity of the sellers was the subject of rather anxious surmise. The announcement of the Sugar dividend relieved the market of a disturbing element, and its recovery set in from that time.

The market's principal movements later turned on the various stories of wide-reaching adjustments in the railroad world. Allegations that the Missouri Pacific was to be accorded an influential interest in Southern Pacific in it return for relinquishing to the Pennsylvania the Wabash and Lake Erie U. properties, and that Union Pacific was to have a voice in Atchison affairs, were factors in the buying. Pennsylvania rose an extreme 3 points, Southern Pacific 4% and the Wheeling and Lake do 2d pfd. Erle stocks 2 to 4 points. Rock Island rose an extreme 61/6. The movement seemed to be based on the belief in a belated admission of the company to a share in the advantages of the Northern Pacific settlement. The rise in Ontario and West- 4s, reg. 1907 impressive, showing the evolution of ern on its canal acquisition reached 44. General Electric advanced 13 points on reports of heavy earnings. States Express advanced 5, Des Moines and Fort Dodge 3¼, Brooklyn Union Gas 3½ and Peoria and Eastern 3. The Eries were again heavily bought just before the close. Last prices were in-variably below the best, the final reaction reaching a point or over in some of the important stocks. The money market was not an influence in the trading, as rates continued easy in spite of a late recovery in sterling exchange to the gold export points. The bond market was irregular in sympathy with stocks. Total sales par value $3,285,000.

United States refunding twos advanced ¼ per cent, on the last call,

FLORENCE CRITTENDEN HOME" IN NEW HAVEN. At a recent meeting of the Federa ion of the Churches of New Haven the subject of rescue work among wome received a large amount of attention. As a result a committee was appointed of which Rev. Stewart Means of St. John's Episcopal church is chairman, to consider the matter.

Upon investigation is was found that the plan of the Florence Crittenden homes, which are in successful opera-tion in more than fifty different cities in this country, seemed the most practical, and therefore measures have been adopted looking toward the organization of such a home in New Ha-ven. A meeting will be held this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Center church chapel when Mrs. Emma ". The Unmatchable June Sale of Undermuslins.

Not mere cheapness. Not fussiness. Not the sewing that barely holds together. No. The test of this supreme occasion in undermuslins is beauty, refinement, character, neat sewing, thoroughly good materials—the daintiness that is real, the merit that is true. This June Sale is completely beyond the scope or power of other stores. By sheer force of unmatchable qualities and tremendous purchasing, we continue to forge ahead in the volume of the selling and in the favor of our patrons.
