American millions are making themselves felt in China more and more see, in an interview at Dresden, where Von Waldersee was commander-inchief of the allied forces in China. Continuing, he said:

"We have come into closer political touch with the United States and that country will exercise a favorable influence in the world's politics."

ee was surveying the present position in-chief in China. Although he chose his language with caution, Count Von Waldersee made several statements of the first importance. "The English Japanese alliance is of pre-eminent significance," he said. "It reveals the seriousness of the world situation. FIRST SALE OF SHADE TOBACCO.

Rather a Disappointment to the Con neutlout Growers.

Hartford, May 1.-The first sale of shade-grown Sumatra tobacco leaf was held at Foot Guard hall in this city today, all the shade-grown tobacco raised in the Connecticut River valley in the season of 1901 having been brought in by agreement of the growers to be sold by auction. There were dealers and manufacturers present from New York. Chicago and Boston, and there was great interest in the sale, as it was expected it would fix the market value of this tobacco, which before had not been in the market. The prices varied from $2.80, the highest, to twenty cents for the lowest, the leaf of the low-priced bales being dark and short. The bidding at the start was not lively, nor did it gain as the sale progressed. The fine leaf, of good color, well sorted to large sizes, brought the best prices, although it did not average over $2. Indeed, much of the crop sold was at a price. Some growers withfdrew parently fixed, and will hold for a better rate, which they feel sure will come. The general feeling is that the sale was not a success in the way in which it was carried on, and that the growers could have made better figures at pri-The opinion of the experts who attended the sale was to the effect that the prices were fairly good, but no one was enthusiastic. The general opinion seems to be that if the sale had been in New York there would have been better prices.

After a spirited debate the advocates of this plan succeeded in passing a vote to reconsider and make the matter the special order of the day for next Tues-

Section 2 or article 2 of the constitution relating to the time and place of holding sessions of the general assembly was adopted unanimously as amended yesterday immediately after the convention went into session to day. Then sections 3 and 4 relating to representation in the house and senate were taken up. Mr. Warner of Salisbury, leader of the town equality delegates, made a short speech urging all who had originally favored the plan to support it now. He was followed by Mr. Perry of Fairfield, who explained that should the "1-and-60" plan measure fail of adoption, at least two other plans would be offered-the Lines plan and the Brothwell plan. The Lines plan is the one which met with favor yesterday at the caucus of the op-ponents of "town equality," while the Brothwell plan calls for one representative for each town and one additional from each senatorial district. Fisk of Branford asked whether the convention had not already adopted sections 3 and 4 by the required num-

USE MADE OF AGUINALDO.

Further Testimony by General MacArthur-Filipino Leader's Craftiness, Washington, May 1.-Major Genera MacArthur to-day continued his testinony before the senate committee on the Philippines. Answering a question by Senator Culberson, he said that Aguinaldo and the Filipino people were justified in concluding that the actions of the United States army were sympathetic. The Filipinos, he said, were in a resentful and vindictive opposition to Spain, and any active force on their part against Spain naturally helped the United States, and vice versa; but there was a distinct purpose through the intercourse between Americans and Filipines to repudiate the idea of direct o-operation which in any way committed the United States to a policy. General Merritt, he said, was under the strictest orders not to commit the government but Aguinaldo was anxious to make an artificial record which would oblige General Metritt to do something he did not want to do. "The Filipino," said General MacAr "has quite a comprehensive thur. knowledge of Latin diplomacy." Aguinaldo was landed at Manila aboard an American warship, because he was a useful individual, who could be employed in a manner that would contribute to American success.

IN THEIR NEW HOME.

REV. MR. AND MRS. FRED WINS-LOW ADAMS LATE OF THIS CITY.

Warm Greetings from His New Charge and Some of the Good Words from the Schenectady Papers Concerning Him.

The many friends of Rev. Fred Winslow Adams, late pastor of the Epworth E. church, this city, will be pleased to read the account given below from the Schnectady Daily Union of his first appearance as pastor of his new charge in Schnestady. The church was crowded at both services. It holds twelve hundred people. The Schnectady Eve ping Star said very compliment ry things of Mr. Adams' inaugural services, and the Morning Gazette voted a column to it. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are very pleasantly situated in their new home, occupying a fine new him a reception Monday night. The Daily Union says

"The Rev. Fred Winslow Adams, the new pastor of the State Street Methodist church, occupied the pulpit of that church yesterday morning and evening, addressing large congregations at both services. Mr. Adams, who comes to the local church from the pastorate of the Epworth Methodist church at New Haven. Conn., made many friends on his he is just the sort of man the society has sought to meet the needs of the church. He is earnest, eloquent, selfpossessed, without a trace of self-consciousness, spiritual, and, evidently practical to a degree, and the masterful of Life," which will be seen at the manner in which he handled the topics to which he addressed himself was an earnest of the definiteness of his call successful of the many realistic plays to the Christian ministry.

"Mr. Adams, previous to his taking up the work of the ministry, was a Span of Life" has never been conceived newspaper man, and a successful one. by a playwright. Manager Donazetta He worked his way through college, serving on several of the Boston papers while he pursued his studies, and later he became the city editor of one of the Portland, Me., dailies. This by way of explanation. The style of Mr. Adams pulpit oratory partakes of the peculiar incisive character of the observing man of letters and of news. He adapts himself to the subject at hand with a fervor that lacks nothing by reason of its intensity, and ere he finishes the thought, he brings to its concluding period a rare ray of that supremest light of all those that have sought out this world and, in its effulgence, he illumines the thought until it glows and glistens with perennial brilliance,

"In the morning Mr. Adams spoke on 'The World's Greatest Reality,' while in the evening he preached on the sub-ject 'The King's Touch.' The impression created by Mr. Adams was altogether felicitous. Before the sermon in the morning he prayed the divine blessing on the Rev. Mr. Brown, who yesterday occupied the pulpit of his new charge at Middletown for the first time in the relation of a pastor. He spoke feelingly of the work of Mr. Brown in this city, and prayed that he might

THE MASON BROTHERS APPEAR TO-NIGHT.

Dan and C. A. Mason, in "Rudolph and Adelph," will be seen at the Hyperion to-night. She sings charmingly. Miss Nellie Maskell is excellent as Rosiland McGovern, and Anita Laurence is a lively Flo. The Sisters Laurence, a pair of handsome, Hthe-limbed young women, make good as Tessie Brown and Jessie Brown. Lew H. Grand Opera House.

"O'Flynn's Stone Wall," which is being produced at the Grand opera house the last three days of this week with a matinee on Saturday, is one of the funniest farce comedies which has ever been given here. It consists of three splendid acts, interspersed with spec ialties by such noted actors actresses as Billy Wood, Marie Warfield, Fay Temple, Harry Foster, Helen West the Wilsons, Frankle Partridge, and John Jenkins. Tom Waters, who appears in the cast as Ignatius Flynn, is the world's greatest trick planist, and is a whole show in himself, ceeping the audience convulsed with laughter from the start to the finish. Major C. Nowak, who assists him in various parts, among which is that of 'Officer Short," who is always on duty, is the smallest man in the world, measuring exactly 34 inches in height, is twenty-three years old, and speaks fluparsonage. Mr. Adams' people gave ently three different languages. He is a great drawing card. May Wallace as Mrs. O'Flynn, monarch of all she surveys, is also a very clever actress and is seen at her best in this piece. The music is very catchy and the dancing is excellent, introducing a number of new and difficult steps. There was a very large and appreciative audience in attendance at the first performance last evening, and judging from present indications they will play to very large initial appearance, and he proved that houses the rest of the week, as the play is well worthy of a visit from all lovers of good comedy. Popular prices prevail.

A more remarkable scene than the human bridge in "The declares that his company this season is the best he has ever engaged to present this play. There will be a matine Wednesday.

Poll's Wonderland Theater.

The drawing power of the Poli bill i evidenced by the large business that attended last evening and the local indications that the current will keep strong in that direction to the close of the week.

The bill deserves big patronage, for it is ideal vaudeville. Edmond Hayes and company are leading the line with their uproarious comedy, "A Wise Guy," and Smith and Campbell, the two jokists, are telling a lot of new ones and singing new songs.

Reidy and Currier, in solos and duets Gracie Emmett and company in "Mrs. Murphy's Second Husband:" the Three Millettos, in acrobatic act; Hayes and Eileen, the DeWitts, the Mazziortas, in musical act, and Arthur Buckner, in bicycle novelties, complete the bill, The Two Juliets.

A decidedly strong bill is booked for Poli's next week, with the farce comedy "The Two Juliets" as one of the leading features. This act will be presented by Lena Merville, Sidney Booth and Marion Elmore.

Quigley brothers will play their new skit, "The Congressman at Large," and the latest colored novelty troupe, Anderson and company, in "Lady Afritea," will also be a great feature.

The week will mark the vaudeville debut of Isabelle D'Armonde, of this city, late of "The Gay New Yorkers." and there will be many more fine specialties in the list.

WELCOME TO PASTOR.

Hearty Reception at the First Methodist Church Last Night. The members of the First Methodist hurch in particular and the Methodists of the city in general most heartily welcomed the new pastor of the First church, the Rev. Dr. Baker, at a reception given in the Sunday school rooms of the church last night. rooms were very nicely and approprintely decorated for the occasion, and during the receiving hours several hundred persons called to assist in assuring Dr. Baker that his presence in their midst was most acceptable and that they would endeavor to cause his erm of service in the local vineyard of the Lord a pleasant and congenial one. The heartiness of the many handshakes should have been some intimation of the sentiment. There was a short programme the exercises being opened with a vocal duet by Miss Winans and Mr. Griesbeck, members of the church choir. William H. Bartholomew, representing the official board of the church, then in most fitting manner formally welcomed the Rev. Dr. Baker, assuring him of the hearty co-operation during his ministry of all members of the church and he expressed the desire that his stay here would be most pleasant, which he said was the wish of the entire congregation. Dr. Baker in responding thanked all for this outward manifestation of their desires and assured them that he would use his best endeavors to further the work of the church in all its branches and that it was very gratifying to have such genuine sentiments expressed. After a vocal solo by Miss William T. Hill, the Rev. Dr. Rall, of Trinity church, the Rev. Mr. Lutz, the new pastor of the German Methodist church, the Rev. Dr. Phillips of the Church of the Redeemer, Dr. Richards, the new presiding elder of the New Haven district, and the Rev. Mr. Winaus of the Westville church. The remarks of all were of a felicitous nature, all being a brief welcome. Mr. Galesback then favored those present with a vocal solo. The remainder of the evening was spent in an informal manner during which light refreshments were served, The Boys' Brigade of the church attended the reception in a body, marching to the church after their regimental drill at the armory.

DEWEY DAY CELEBRATED.

A Party of Fifty Yale Seniors Masquerade and Ride About in Smedley' New Automobile Truck.

Four years ago yesterday Admiral

Dewey won a naval victory in Manila highest pitch of enthusiasm. The day would have, in all probability, ended without even the pretense of a passing Yale Medical .. 0 1 0 0 1 3 0 0 0- 5 7 ecognition by local citizens had not a party of about fifty Yale seniors last night made themselves conspicuous riding around in Smedley's big new trucking automobile and decked out in mas querade costume. In the automobile vere representations of Admirals Dewey, Sampson, Schley and Cervert, Uncle Sam, Prince Henry and George Wash ington. Sampson and Schley sat at opposite ends of the big truck, and it was ill Uncle Sam could do to keep peace between them.

The automobile was headed into the campus about 8 o'clock and surrounded by a large body of students, who listened with shouts of approval and laugher to the sallies of Uncle Sam, Dewey, Sampson, Schley and Prince Henry Uncle Sam in his speech unwittingly nentioned Schley's name before Sampson's, and a rough house between the wo was narrowly averted in consequence. Dewey told of the victory at Manila, and he and Prince Henry explained, to the satisfaction of all presnt, the cause of their little difficulty in oreign seas.

After about an hour of mirth-making he masqueraders headed down Chapet Much red fire and red water vas consumed during the celebration.

Unions.

The grievances of the members of the Carpenters' and Brewers' unions, which have for some time past threatened a strike of the workers in these two crafts, have been amicably settled. The carpenters made known their dissatisfaction some time ago, when they presented a grievance to the contrac tors which provided that $2.80 should, after May 1, 1902, be the minimum rate among the men for an eight hour day. The contractors were at first inclined to hold out against the increase, but they decided a few days ago that the men should be granted all they asked for in regard to wages.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the brewery proprietors met and signed a contract with their men for one year and this matter which had assumed more threatening aspects than the other was agreeably settled. By the terms of the contract signed the brewers will be given a slight increase in wages, which however, will not affect all branches of

A TREMENS VICTIM.

Made Things Lively at Police Headquarters.

James R. Phillips, a man arrested last evening by Detective Ward on the charges of being drunk and begging, was seized with an attack of delirium tremens at police headquarters and became so violent that several policemen were required to hold him. He was later taken the the hospital in the police ambulance.

Detectives Wards and Donnelly saw two suspicious looking characters on George street and shadowed them, Ward saw one of them accost a man or the street and saw the man hand him some money. Ward immediately placed him under arrest and started for the police station. On the way the man became violent and tried to break away. Ward held him, however, until they reached the station house where he became very violent. It was ascertained that his name was James R. Phillips and that he came from Bridge

The other man, George Moran, was arrested by Donnelly, and locked up under the charges of drunkennes and

A story is told of the bishop of New Caledonia, now on a visit to England. He recently addressed a large assembly of Sunday school children, and wound up by asking in a very pleasant way "And now, is there a-a-n-y little boy or a-a-n-y little girl who would like to ask me a question?" A thin, shrill voice called out: "Please, sir, why did the angels walk up and down Jacob's ladder when they had wings?" "Oh, ah, yes-I see," said the bishop, "and now, is there a-a-n-y little girl who would like to answer little Mary's question?"

The excavation of Gezer is now going on. First mentioned in the Egyptian records of Thotmes III and ten times on the Amarna tablets, Gezer appears in Bible history as a strong city in the time of Joshua, unconquered by the Israelites, captured by a Pharach and given to his daughter, Solo mon's wife, and rebuilt by Solomon for the defence of his empire. Lying on the edge of the maritime plain, close by the road from the sea to Jerusalem, Gezer was a battle ground of the Maccabees and also of the Crusaders. Its identification is perfect, for M. Clermont Ganneau found in 1874 its boundary stones bearing its name. After unusual delay the firman has been granted. The most thorough work will be done, and the excavation will remain open. The American School is co-operating in the work, and makes an appeal for funds

He was regarded as the embodiment of the spirit of reaction which has been all-powerful since the death of Alexander II. His name was a synonym for distrust of all liberal measures and for belief in arbitrary government. Every reactionary step taken in home policy, whether in the sphere of local government or in the sphere of education, was ascribed to his initiative. It was generally believed that he used every means in his power to thwart the liberal policy of General Vannovsky, the Minister of Education, and that throughout the period of disorder it was he who advocated the most rigorous methods of repression. Moreover, he was regarded, not as an intellectual force, like Pobiedonostzeff, but as a shallow man, without deep convictions, who used to profess liberal principles before he found himself in a responsible position. In private life he is said to rather popular person.

LITTLE BELGIUM'S BIG COLONY. Belgium is a little country, but it has big colony in Africa, and it has a big job on its hands there. There is talk that an international conference will be assembled to consider means of preventing the continued infringement by the Government of the Congo Free State of the General Act of Berlin, 1885, The "State," or rather the Belgians who run it, have been establishing privileges and monopolies which, it is held, this, the Congo State has no right to establish privileges and monopolies which relate to foreign trade. The essence of the contention is that the Congo State's policy of destroying all competition amounts to something like international fraud, and is a mere meckery of the Berlin act. There is a system of absolute monopolies, and no one dares to enter Free State territory. Of late the situation has grown worse, The Congo State has now got into its own hands three-fourths of the commerce. At the same time the condition

> A new development is the trouble on the Nile, where by a treaty with England the Congo "Free" State was permitted to occupy for a time a strip of territory reaching to the river at Lado and to fortify it. Friction between the Belgians and English occurred some time ago, the former, it is alleged, havfrom Uganda, a British province, have attacked several Belgian posts. British troops have appeared and estabished themselves "on Belgian territory," and the leased strip is now the Belgians. This is only what has long been expected. When Lord Resebery dervishes were still strong on the upper Nile, and it was desired to pit the er's victory at Omdurman the situation longer needed. To be added to this is the fact that the Belgians have used their position on the Nile in an unexpected manner to divert trade from the British territory. Cruelty to the natives has also had a bad effect on Africa soon, but it is evident that there is likely to be considerable trouble begot men and things arranged to suit themselves and each other.

WHAT OLD PEOPLE SHOULD EAT Sir Henry Thompson, one of the greatest living authorities on foods and feelings, states, in a recent publication that "what is called indigestion does not depend upon any fault of the digestive apparatus, but solely upon its being called upon to accomplish work which is beyond Its powers; so that the remedy is not to be found in the gas tric juices of the pig, or in the inges tion of the various chemically prepared messes advertised as being digestible

He (Sir Henry) would leave the pepsin and the messes to be appled, if at , by skilled physicians in cases of Hiness which may possibly require them and lays down, as of practically uni versal application, the principle that the elderly person neither requires no can digest as much food as the yo person, and that this principle should govern the arrangement of his life. The total amount of food should be stead diminished as age advances, and this total amount should be divided among a larger number of meals than sufficient for his wants in former days In other words, not only should the entire daily demand upon the digestion be diminished, but the demand made at one time should be diminished also.

It is commonly asserted and is by many believed that the average duration of human life has been increased by denistry, but Sir Henry inclines to the opinion that the loss or failure of teeth is one of nature's kindly warnings; that the use of them, and by im plication the use of foods which require their active exercise, should be dimin ished in corresponding proportion. principle which he applies to food he applies also to all the forms of alcohol. and he contemptuously rejects the idea wine is the milk of old age."-Detroit Free Press.

FLOWERS IN BACK YARDS Potted plants and select conservatoies are expensive. The "common peo ple," whom Abraham Lincoln said "the Lord must have loved, since He made so many of 'em," can ill afford maintenance of flower gardens and hothouses which cost so much, but a move ment started in Brooklyn indicates the wonderful possibilities of back-yard flower gardens for crowded cities, and experiments in Cleveland and some other cities demonstrate the almost unlimited possibilities for community good in the planting and care of such flowers as bachelors' buttons, California poppy rbenas, nasturtium, candytuft, petunia, zinnia, balsam, marigold, four o'clock, morning-glory, calliopsis, calentula and similar hardy flora. They all love the outdoor life and will flourish in any ground that will nurture a tin can, broken stick, a rusty hammer, an old tey, a discarded kitchen utensil.

Digging in the earth is said to be panacea for most of the ills that assail the flesh. The man who works all day in the factory, in the foundry, in the store, in the office, will find healthful enjoyment in tackling the back yard with a pick and shovel during the early hours of evening. All of the plants named above grow from seed and grow surprisingly well, and when they begin to blaam and fill the back-yard atmosphere with fragrance, they tempt the women from their onerous duties to take a peep, and they make the little child's heart beat faster and ask mother if "our garden" isn't about the prettiest sight on earth.

If you are going to make a garden in the back yard—and if you haven't decided to do so, now is the time to think it over-dig deep and loosen up the soil thoroughly and then fertilize, if you can afford it. But if you can't, go ahead and plant anyhow. And don't plant little exotics that would worry a professional florist. In time your labor will find its reward in the satisfaction of having helped to beautify your neigh-borhood.—Baltimore News.

Sherman Island

Meal Estate.

This is one of the "Thimble Islands" off Stony Creek, twelve miles from New Haven. It is about a mile from the shore; is the most picturesque of the group; contains fourteen acres; has pasturage for stock; grove of beech trees; winding path through heavy growth of sumac bushes; two never failing wells of excellent water; dock; electric launch and row boats. There are four cottages containing from five to thirteen rooms each, and these have been for many years occupied by the owner and related families. Steamboat meets all trains, and mail and grocery service is excellent. Will rent as a whole, or will rent the cottages separately.

IT WAS LINCOLN

THE MYSTERIOUS FIGURE THAT PRAYED

All Night With Beecher-Fact Only Recently Known.

During the year 1862, the hopes of the North were at their lowest ebb. It was in that year that the second battle of Bull Run had been fought and lost, Memond, and the strength and resources of the nation seemed to have been fruitlessly wasted. Henry Ward Beecher was then in Brooklyn, and was, perhaps, more prominently associated with for the shipment of horses and mules. the cause of the North at that time than any other minister of the gospel He had preached and lectured and fought its battles in pulpit and press all over the country, had ransomed slaves from his putpit, and his convictions and feelings were everywhere

Late one evening a stranger called at his home and asked to see him. Mr. Beecher was working alone in his study was his custom, and this stranger refused to send his name, and came muffled in a military cloak which completely hid his face. Mrs. Beecher's sus delons were aroused, and she was very unwilling that he should have the interw which he requested, especially as Mr. Beecher's life had been frequently threatened by sympathizers with the The latter, however, insisted that his visitor be shown up. Accordingly the stranger entered, the doors owner and merchant, moved the adwere shut, and for hours the wife below could hear their voices and their footsteps as they paced back and forth. toward midnight, the myserious visitor went out, still muffled in very great his cloak, so that it was impossible to gain any idea of his features.

THE ENGINEERS CONVENTION

Hearing on the Proposition to Extend an Invitation

The special committe to which was referred the communication of the mayor regarding an invitation to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to hold its next national convention in 1904 in this city, met last evening in the aldermanic chamber in city hall and gave a public hearing.

A large number of citizens appeared luding a delegation from the local Sixision of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the engineers present being Frank Gates, J. E. Minor, H. H. Potts, George B. Close, Charles Lewis, G. Nichols, J. Keeler, H. Lowden, C. nnett, and C. A. Smith.

Mr. Gates stated that the Brother-hood convention would open in Norfolk, Va., May 12, and it was desired that some official action before that date to-wards extending an invitation for the next convention to meet here, be taken. Mr. Minor, Mr. Potts and Mr. Close representing the engineers, also spoke and urged that some arrangements be made to invite the convention and to offer inducements to have it meet here.

General E. E. Bradley, president of the Chamber of Comemrce, also spoke in favor of the invitation, as did President E. I. Atwater and George B. Johnson of the Business Men's association. and Attorney J. B. Tuttle. Andrew B. Kelly, who is at the head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen in New England, also spoke in favor of extending an invitation, but opposed any appropriation being made from the city treasury for the convention. He said that taxes were high enough already without adding any further burden and thought that a sum sufficient to proentertainment for the convention could be secured by subscriptions from business men and other citizens. He suggested that a pleasant feature to offer would be the donation of trolley cars by the street railroad company for a trolley ride some evening of the convention, and said that trolley companies in other cities where the conventions have been held have done this. He aise suggested that an exhibition showing New Haven's manufactures and other industries woold be an atractive feat ure and an inducement. Many in-ducements like this might be offered, he thought, without appropriating public

Anthony Carroll also opposed any appropriation being made by the city. The committee decided to consider the matter in executive session next Monday night to prepare a report and rec ommendation to the common council The meeting will be held Monday even ing before the session of the aldermen and the report will be prepared for submission to the aldermen the same night motion ultimately was withdrawn.

London, May 1 .- According to the Liverpool Post, one-third of the £34,-000,000 of the capital of the shipping combine will be required to liquidate the White Star line interests. The paper also says that a substantial proportion of the preference shares will be handed over to the owners of the White Star line, who will also get £3,000,000 in hard cash from the sale of the debentures.

London, May 2.- The debate in the house of commons and the explanation of Mr. Balfour have done nothing to reconcile the press to the shipping combine. The morning papers of all shades of political opinion continue to attack the government "laissez faire" attitude contrasting it with the more prudent methods of Germany.

The Daily Graphic and the Daily Telegraph, however, admit that the public has been needlessly scared. The Graphic is of the opinion that Mr Ralfour's assurances with regard to cruiscompetition will settle the wider trade question.

The Telegraph regards the panic as ourely artificial, but says it has not been created in vain if it wakes Great Britain up to the necessity of providing the capital necessary to meet the evergrowing competition.

Seventyive players, including a number of college men, started in the preliminary cound-the first sixteen to qualify for match play for the president's cup and the second sixteen for the club cup. A third cup also was offered by a local hotel for the third sixteen.

Percy H. Jennings, Yale, tied Chamnion W. J. Travis for low score in the qualifying round, each turning in on 80. In the match play in the afternoon Travis was paired with F. O. Reinhart, Baltusrol. The match proved a close one and though Travis did not show his usual strength in putting he had his man beaten at the sixteenth hole. The surprise of the afternoon was the defeat of Jennings, who played Travis close match in the United States ampionship last September and who equalled the champion's score this thousand pounds, but all have been paid morning. Byron Bay, on the northern coast of New South Wales, forms the little known threshold of a beautiful district. rich in tropical or semi-tropical vege-"Here may be seen," an observant vicitor, "all sorts of splendid trees, shrubs, creeping plants and vines, growing in wonderful luxuriance. Perhaps the most beautiful of all is the bean tree, Castanospermum australe, well known for its handsome dark timber. This tree sometimes attains a height of about two hundred feet Some of the gigantic nettle trees attain an equal height, with a diameter sometimes of about eight feet. In the magnificent brushes grow also numbers of other handsome trees-the teak tree, or Flindersia; the Rosewood, Dysoxylon fraseranum, which has a red, rose-scented timber; the native beech, Gmelina leichhardtil, the silky-oak, Grevillea robusta, a most valuable timber tree: the red cedar. Cedrela toona: immens figs, whose huge thin buttresses extend from their stems for yards in all directions; and numbers and numbers of other plants too numerous to mention. The beautiful graceful bangalow palms, which bear the ponderous botanical name Ptychosperma cunninghamii cabbage tree palm, Livistona australis, also in many places abounds; and the beautiful little walking-stick palm, Kentia monostachya, the Midgimbill of the natives, grows here in millions This is one of the prettlest and most graceful of the plants, especially when its bright red fruit is ripe. It grows sometimes to a height of about twenty feet, with stems not more than an inchor two in diameter." The country, generally, includes some of the richest and best watered lands in the commonwealth, and is admirably adapted for dairying, as shown by the remarkable progress effected by the Byron Bay butter factory since its establishment some few years ago. It is, we are told, a purely co-operative concern and is controlled solely by the farmers of the The correct title of the firm is The North Coast Fresh Food and Cold

Starting in 1895, the number of suppliers has steadily reased, until about three hundred farmers now send cream to the factory. The butter output for the past twelve months was over one thousand tons, which realized in London one hundred and seven eighths per hundred weight. Suppliers received an average price of 7.97d per pound, and an additional bo nus of one-eighth d. in dividends at the end of the season, making a total of 8.095d for butter exported. curing department was started in 1897. and the number of pigs put through annually has increased from one hundred and twenty per month to about six hundred. The total number of pigs slaughtered last year was seven thousand head, for which suppliers were paid an average price for three and one-half pence per pound for pork. The was one hundred and twelve thousand pounds. The original cost of the buildings and plant employed was twelve ter already quoted, altogether an ideal present rate of progress, the butter output from the northern rivers will astonish the world. herds are up to the standard one finds in Victoria, or on the southern coast of the state, the great majority of the stock being of nondescript breeding. and such as Illawarra dairymen would never dream of putting in the milking pail: yet it is wonderful the quantity of milk these scrub-bred cattle yield. The manager of the Byron Bay factory has a fairly good idea of the number of cows milked by each supplier, and he estimates that, on an average, the yield of the herds in the district is not less than two gallons per day for about eight months of the year, which gives a return of eight pounds per cow per annum. The better class of cows easily return from twelve to fourteen pounds per annum, and the farmers are gradually improving their herds. At the las Bangalow show several of the cows tested 3.6 of butter-fat, yielding at the rate of fifteen to eighteen pounds of commercial butter per week. "In the same measure as a discord will disturb and sometimes upset a symphony in music, so a clashing dash of color in wall, floor or window decoration, or a piece of furniture mantelpiece or chandelier not in forn with its surroundings, will create a dis-

of money. Even where money is spent lavishly the results are often unsatisfactory, and sometimes failure is complete. Yet, where the means are limited and the expenditure is of necessity relatively small, artistic skill and good judgment often produce gratifying resuits. The general effect is not dependent on the costliness of the wall paper, the carpets and the draperies, but on the color sense and skill with which they are combined.

'As you enter a home the hall gives he first impression of the interior, and good. this impression should be a good one. A good color for the woodwork of a reception hall would be either natural or green oak. If the former is used the With the latter either a rich red or tan Solid color burlaps are ery suitable for the walls. The ng should have some decoration in heraldic or Gothic style. If the hall is square and spacious it may be treated as a rom, being furnished with pictures and ornaments. If the floor is of hardwood, an Oriental rug in proper colors rill lend a charm and the appearance of cosiness and comfort. In hangings there is an everabundance of fabrics vbich may be used to good advantage, such as tapestries and velours. Verone velours and velours with leather applique or borders.

"It is only a few years since all parors were furnished in white and gold, presenting a very flat appearance. White enamelled woodwork is the most appropriate for a modern parlor. With this any good color, especially nile green or rose, can be used with great offect.

"The walls may be treated in two toned brocade paper, oil color or silk broade; or tapestry may be employed. If the latter, the wall spaces can be dirided in panels. A plain wall is pleasantly relieved by good frieze, height of the room permits, and a decorated ceiling. There is a great tendncy to simplicity in draperies to-day. Small figured silk armuses and brocades are used to a great extent. In some ooms, with high ceilngs and plain winlow frames, cornices and embroidered ambrequins are in good form

IMPORTANT MEETING OF QUIN-NIPIAC CONCLAVE.

State Officers Expected to be Present-Series of Illustrated Addresses Closed-History of Plymouth Church Being Prepared-Montowese May Festival.

Next Monday evening there will be held an important meeting of Quinnipiac conclave, Heptasophs, on which occasion the new degree team of New Haven conclave will be present to confer the degrees on candidates. E. S. Wade, one of the enthusiastic members of the order, who was in New London Wednesday, learns that eighteen or twenty members of the order from that city and Groton will be present at Quinnipiac's gathering; and others are expected from conclaves in this city. It will be an important meeting and the conclave hall will undoubtedly be crowded with Heptasophs.

The interesting series of Sunday evening illustrated addresses at Pilgrim Congregational church, which have been held during the past season, were brought to a successful close last Sunday evening. These meetings have been held under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Alexander F. Irvine, Several hundred lantern slides have been used and the addresses illustrated by a series of most excellent pictures. From now on until further notice, the only service in the evening will be that of the Y. P. S. C. E.

A new manual of the Pilgrim church is being prepared. Pastor Irvine is preparing a history of the church, which will be printed with the new Local stockholders attended the meeting of the Fair Haven and Westville Rallroad company yesterday. The prospective increase of the stock to $5,-000,000 is looked upon as likely to make this company a pretty big corporation. Fair Haven people who are familiar with the property from the time it was first started and operated with horses and building one line from Fair Haven East to the center of the city, see a wonderful development of this line of

The Quinnipiac Brick company, which is controlled by William Spittler of Fair Haven, is now making 45,000 brick per day. The demand for the product is very active and the company could sell at once all of the product they could turn out from now until next fall.

The annual May festival at the Montowese Union Baptist church will be held on Wednesday, May 7. Dinner will be served from noon until 11 p. m., at twenty-five cents per plate. cream will also be sold. There will be fancy table with many useful and ornamental articles; also a housekeepers' table with home made food. These festivals are always very interesting and many city people go out to enjoy the hospitable entertainment.

Wednesday, May 7, from 2 to 5 p. m. They will also serve chocolate and ice cream. There will be an entertainment in the evening, comencing at 8 o'clock, when "Dr. Baxter's electric invention, or make over," will be presented. The members of the company are well known in Fair Haven, four being members of Fort Hale lodge, N. E. O. P., and three members of the Grand avenue Baptist church. The admission to the entertainment is ten cents. The ludies propose to make this sale and entertainment a very enjoyable occasion. The East Side Social club gave their annual ball at Harmonie hall Wednesday evning

Some of the grocers and marketmen are discussing the early closing movement. Last year an attempt in this direction was not successful.

Miss Lena Lang has for her guest Miss Mae Sherwood of Hartford. Ernest R. Roberts has re-enlisted and is now a member of Company E. Eleventh regiment. United States infantry. He goes out for three years and has sailed from San Francisco for Manila.

Under a new arrangement, the Fair Haven nad Westville road conductors will turn in their collections at the car house on Grand avenue, instead of at the corner of State and Chapel streets. A large safe has been sent to the car house to contain the cash collections.

Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Davis of Quinniplac avenue, who was injured a few days ago by a car, is able to be out again.

Uncertainty and Confusion of Sentiment. New York, May 1.- The volume of dealings fell off again in to-day's stock market and the movement of prices indicated much uncertainty and confusion of sentiment. The flurry in call money to 15 per cent, would go far to explain the action of the market, but there were some supplementary causes which continued the action of the with the rise in the money rate. The preparation for the May disbursements, which are unusually heavy this year, was of course the primary cause of the left in the money rate. Another notable center of strength was in the southern trunk lines, which had no other explanation than the reports of very large north and south traffic. The movement af feeted Louisville and Nashville, Illinoi Central, Chicago, Indianapolis an Louisville, and, to a less extent South ern Railway. The fixing of the May semi-annual dividend rate on Pennsyl vania at 3 per cent, induced large buy ing of that stock and helped the other trunk lines. For two years past the May dividend on Pennsylvania has been 2½ per cent., while in November there was a declaration of 2½ per cent regular and 1 per cent, extra. The rate of disbursement is unchanged therefore by to-day's rate, but the fact that it is called regular is accepted as a declara tion of confidence in the future on the part of the directors. THE ROBERTS RILL APPROVED

For Services to the Grove Street Investigating Committee The board of finance in regular ses sion last night approved a large batch of bills including the bill of Charles F. Roberts for $125 for services as stenographer for the special committee on the Grove street pavement investigation. This bill has been bung up for a long time and the corporation counsel rendered an opinion to the effect that it was not a legal claim against the city inasmuch as the committee had no authority to contract for the services of a stenographer. The finance board, wever, took the view that it was an equitable claim and so approved it.

DRESS GOODS SALE

Second Day.

Very fast cutting this morning on all the goods advertised yesterday, but one of the peauties of the sale is its bigness. There will be plenty for tomorrow. The Etamines and the fine, navy-blue Skirting Serge are selling fastest, as might be expected. What fabrics more popular could be offered? But there isn't anything in the lot that isn't good and in demand;—that's another beauty of the sale.

If you miss this chance, you miss one of the best things that this store has been able to advertise in years. And if that isn't saying a good deal, then we don't know a strong statement when we write one.
