SYMPATHY FOR THE NUNS AND THEIR SCHOOLS.

Considerable Feeling Worked Up in Their Behalf-Collisions Between the Clericals and Counter Demonstrators -Anti-Clorical Meetings-The Greatest Excitement in Brittany-Premier Combes Not Likely to Recede,

Paris, July 23 .- The agitation pro voked by the order of Prime Minister Combes to close the congregationist schools recalls to some extent the scenes enacted when M. Ferry, then premier, expelled the Jesuits in 1880 Demonstrations in favor of the nuns and teaching friars are taking place in Paris and many places in the provinces where the prefects presented themselves at the schools and ordered that the institutions be closed. Up to the present, however, no serious incident has been reported. The nationalists have joined the clericals in engineering the agitation and their leaders are in the forefront of the effervescence in Paris. Considerable sympathy has been worked up on behalf of the nuns and their schools have been made the particular objects of demonstrations. The clericals called upon their sympathizers to the Sisters of St. Vincent of de Paul, in the northeast quarter of Paris, which was closed this afternoon and a considerable crowd gathered there, compelling a large body of police and mounted municipal guards to form a cordon in the streets leading to the school. A few trifling collisions occurred between the clericals and counter demonstrators, who replied to the clericals' cries of "Long live the good sisters" and "Vive Ia liberte" with "Down with the priests," and "Long live the re public." A nationalist member of the chamber of deputies was arrested while trying to force his way through the police cordon, but was subsequently re

The greatest excitement in the prov inces is displayed in the clerical stronghold of Brittany, where the peasants have gathered in front of the nuns'. schools in several places and declared they will not allow the nuns to be expelled. For instance, at Landerneau a crowd of farmers and women have mounted guard before the school of the white sisters, awaiting the arrival of The inhabitants of the village of Ploudaniel, who also are guarding the sisters' school, seized a lay school master and thrashed him with nettles. At la Bresse, in the departlice, accompanied by gendarmes, thrice tried to approach the congregationist school in order to effect its closure, but was obliged to abandon the attempt be cause of the threatening attitude of the At St. Ambroix, Nimes, the demonstrators detached the horses from carriages which were conveying the sisters to the railway station, and dragged the vehicles with their occupants, back to the convent, shouting "Down with the tyrants." The gendarmes were powerless to prevent the demonstrators from carrying out their plans and reinforcements had to be summoned. Against these and similar incidents, however, must be set ooff the ed by F. F. Brewster, of New Haven, addresses in support of the government voted by many municipal councils.

While considerable sympathy is felt with the sisters personally, Minister Combes undoubtedly feels that Lamkbin, Knave, Scott, Wif-Waf and he is supported by the mass of the Uike. country and is not likely to recede from the position he has taken up. The trouble is caused mainly by the ambiguity of the wording of the law of asso- bow last. The wind was light from ciations, which has led branches of the porthward making it a close match to congregations, such a sthe schools now the first mark, a run to the second, closed, to suppose that their position was legalized by the request for authorization made by headquarters. was even the interpretation of the matter accepted by M. Waldeck-Rousseau. the former premier, but Prime Minister | round. Combes takes a contrary view.

The Temps takes M. Combes severely to task. The establishments now closed, says the Temps, appear to have been drawn into a trap, an dthe paper points out that there are not enough lay schools to receive all the children turned into the streets and that primary instruction being obligatory, the government should have provided accommodation in the official schools. Twenty thousand children in Paris alone will need schools. The Temps asks what the government intends to do and adds:

"If it allows the schools to ask for authorization and to re-open in the autumn it was not worth while to take the trouble to close them with such great noise.'

STATISTICS OF PHILIPPIE WAR. WENT ASHORE AT NEWPORT 2,561 Engagements With the Enemy 7 he Total Casualties.

Washington, July 23.-Major James Parker, of the adjutant general's office has compiled some interesting statistic regarding the war in the Philippines. There were 2.561 engagements with the enemy, more or less serious, between February 4, 1899, the date of the battle of Manila, and April 30, 1902, fixed as the virtual downfall of the insurrection The larger portion of these fights were attacks from ambush on the American troops or skirmishes in which only small detachments took part. "In almost no case in these engage ments," says Major Parker, "did Amer ican troops surrender, or have to retreat, or have to leave their dead and wounder in the possession of the enemy, notwithstanding that in many cases the percentage of loss was high.

The number of troops that have been transported to the Philippines and have arrived there up to July 16 last was 4,135 officers and 123,803 men. The average strength, taken from monthly returns from the period of the insurrection, was approximately 40,000.

Major Parker summarized the casual ties of the American army as follows: Killed or died of wounds, 69 officers and 936 enlisted men; deaths from discase, 47 officers and 2,535 enlisted men deaths from accidents, 6 officers and 125 enlisted men; drowned, 6 officers and 257 enlisted men; suicides, 10 officers and icals called upon their sympathizers to 72 enlisted men; murdered, 1 officer and meet outside of the school conducted by 91 enlisted men. Total deaths, 139 officers and 4,616 enlisted men. Wounded, 190 officers and 2,707 enlisted men, a to-tal of 2,897 killed and wounded and deaths other than by disease 282 officers and 4,183 enlisted men. Total, 4,470. A large portion of the deaths by drowning occurred in action or in active operations against the enemy. Major Parker makes the percentage of killed and wounded to the strength of the army, 9.7.

ACCIDENT TO U. S. DISPATCH BOAT SCORPION.

Struck Hard and Fast at the Blue Rocks in the Upper Harbor but Managed to Back Off With Her Own Engines Last be Slight.

Newport, R. L. July 23.-United States dispatch boat Scorpion went ashore at the Blue Rocks in the upper harbor to-day, having struck hard and fast, but she backed from the position with her own engines at 6:15 o'clock tonight, although it was not high water until 9:35. She then proceeded to the believed that the damage to the vessel is very slight. She was coming in from the fleet off Block Island this noon and when moving to her anchorage her engines failed to reverse at the order and word came back that they were on a center. The anchor was immediately let go, but though considerable chain was paid out, the book failed to find holding ground and she made straight for the Rocks on the Mayer estate where she brought up. At first an attempt was made to free her by simply reversing her engines, but though powerful, she would not budge. Lieutenant Commander Buhs, who is in command, found that she was well aground forward, with plenty of water aft. Having failed with the first effort of her engines, the boats were swung out and lowered and yet there was no make such an accusation. movement. Her magazine was opened to permit the moving of weights and changing her trim. Launches were sent to her from both the training station and the torpedo station and each took a turn in landing on a jagged rock, from which they were worked off with more or less difficulty. Before high tide to-night she succeeded in backing off the rocks with her own

MUCH FITZSIMMONS MONEY.

Iwo to One Odds on Jeffries Brings It Out.

San Francisco, July 23.-Jeffries in dulged in but light exercise to-day at the Reliance club in Oakland. He arose early and skipped the rope a number of times. He then spent the lunch hour lished: in comparative quiet with Delany and his retinue of trainers. He tipped the beam at 217 pounds to-night, but expects to weigh 218 when he enters the ring on Friday night. Fitzsimmons took a jog along the drives at Golden Gate park this mornng and was rubbed down at the Terminal hotel, after which he partook of hearty luncheon and sparred with Griffin and Andy Gallagher at the Dlympic club. Experts on the scene icclare that there is apparently nothing further to be desired in the condition of the man.

The consensus of opinion seems to be however, that Fitzsimmons' age and the difference in weight are against the chances of the Cornishman, and that ffries is the logical winner. The receipts, the club managers state, have almost reached the $29,000 mark. The betting odds show Jeffries still a favorite at 2 to 1 and 16% to 4, with much Fitzsimmons money in sight. Sporting men from all over the country are arriving, and several excursions are expected to reach here to-morrow.

When the estimates for Ireland came up for discussion John Redmond, chairman of the Irish parlianentary party, moved the reduction of the salary of the chief secretary, George Night-Belief That the Damage Will Wyndham. Mr. Redmond maintained that Mr. Wyndham had done nothing for the country and that the Irish problem was more dangerous to the empire to-day than it had been for a quarter

Mr. Wyndham, in refuting this assertion, declared he could at present offer no constructive policy and maintained that there could be no cessation of agrarian strife, no revival of industry bay and anchored for the night. FEARS FOR KAISER'S LIFE CIRCUIT RACES AT CLEVELAND. THE HOWE & STETSON STORES

THE EMPEROR ADVISED NOT TO VISIT POSEN.

Court Chamberlain Appeals to Him to Remain Away from the Army Manoevers Owing to the Bitter Feeling of the Poles-Danger That Some Polish Fanatic May Attempt to Kill Him-Racial Feeling at Fever Heat.

Berlin, July 23.-Court Chamberlain Von Morawski, a Polish landed magnate, has appealed to Emperor William not to visit Posen during the army manoeuvres to be held in September, as his majesty had planned to do. The chamberlain fears that some Polish fanatic might attempt to harm the emporer. Racial feeling is described as at fever heat and several Berlin journals take the view that it would be unwise for the emperor to expose himself unnecessarily. The Post (Conservative) says it is informed that it would greatly relieve those responsible for his majesty's safety to learn that he had given up the trip. Prominent Germans residing in Posen are glad that the Polish officials and nobility have determined not to attend the festivities, as thereby the chances of unpleasant ineldents arising are lessened.

It is scarcely likely that Emperor William will act upon Chamberlain Von Morawski's appeal, because his majesty never permits himself to change his plans on account of the timidity of his advisers. He goes anywhere he thinks duty calls him; and, besides, it is his purpose to declare the government's Polish policy whilein Polish territory; and his giving up of personal supervision of the manoeuvres would be unprecedented

The Polish question is regarded as the most pregnant in the government's domestic policy. While no observer be lieves the Polish agitation can really amount to much ultimately, it is embarrassing the relations with Austria and Russia. The Poles in Galicia enjoy local self government and possess privileges which are not in vogue in Russian-Poland. Contrasts are made in the Austrian press on the conditions existing in Galicia and the conditions in the province of Posen, which annoy this government and tend to weaken the triple alliance. Indications are not wanting that Russia is indisposed to use the Polish passion by giving greater freedom to the Russian Poles, thus creating along the Russian frontier a Prusian population in sympathy with Count Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, is well aware of the disagreeable features of the Polish agitation, and it is quite likely he will devise measures to quiet the extreme violence of the Polish feeling.

This informal reception was a very felicitous af fair and was most thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all. An elaborate dinner was served later in the evening, about twenty partaking of the feast. Among those present at the dinner were Philo S. 2:04 Pace and 2:07 Trot Furnished Sen sations for Record Crowd.

Cleveland, July 23.-The 2:04 pace and the 2:07 trot furnished sensations for the record breaking crowd that attended the grand circuit races here to-day. The unbeaten Dan Patch was always a I to 5 favorite for the pace and he won both and cut his record to 2:03% in the opening heat. The performance did not tire the favorite in the least and he took the deciding heat with ease. The first heat of the 2:07 trot went to Monk, who had sold for $50 to $10 on the field. Lord Derby was far back and the judges decided that Spear had made an improper drive. He was taken down and Saunders put up behind Lord Derby. The drive down the stretch was terrific, and Monk was nipped at the Direct Hal had the 2:15 pace at his mercy, a break losing him the second heat. He was an odds on favorite in the betting ring. The champion, Crescues, was exhibited on the track. Attendance, 11,000. Summaries: 2:12 Class-Trotting-Purse $3,000-Three in

THE ECONOMIC LEAGUE.

ANOTHER SPIRITED MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Kelly Declines to Serve Longer as President-Presence of "spoils Pollticians" His Reason for Refusal-Question Causes Much Discussion-Other Matters Considered

The Economic league held another spirited meeting in the Brickiayers' hall last night and there was a larger attendance than at any time since its organization. The first part of the neeting progressed smoothly and there was not much heated discussion of the matters considered until Andrew J. Kelly took the floor. Mr. Kelly last veek resigned the presidency of the eague for the reason, as he stated, that there were a number of so-called 'spoils politicians" in the ranks and hat he could not conscientiously serve the league in the capacity of president so long as there were such members He last night reiterated that statement in no uncertain terms and it was no a hard matter to guess to just whom he referred when he spoke. The occasion for this arose when, after a somewhat complimentary speech, O'Brien moved that Mr. Kelly be invited to again take the chair. This motion prevailed but Mr. Kelly declined saying that he could better serve the interests of the workingmen, in whose interests he was present, on the floor than he could in the chair and that he would not take the place as long as there were "spoils politicians" present This position he said was final and his decision would not be changed until such persons whom he considered obnoxious and opposed to the principles of the league were weeded out of the so-

At the previous meeting it was also stated that Mr. Kelly was a candidate Island railroad trains will be in waiting for office. During a lull last night this gentleman took occasion in one of the most spirited speeches imaginable to state emphatically "first, last and all the time" that he was not seeking any office and that he would not accept any political office if tendered him and that his main idea in connection with the work of the league was to awaken the workingman to his proper position in society and to assist him in selecting the right men for the various public offices and endeavor to guide them in what he considered the proper path. This subject of "spolls politicians" seems to be a thorn in the flesh of the league and more than two hours were consumed last night in a discussion of the proper standing which a professional politician should have in the community. William J. Gleeson stated that he had had some experience in A Lawyer politics in several parts of the state and article in the Philadelphia Medical Journal, seem to establish beyond a question or a doubt the fact that the birth-rate in this country is lower than that of any European country excepting France; that the birth-rate of the American-born population is much below that of France; and that the fecundity of the American woman is lower than that of the woman of any other country. France is alarmed at her condition; we are indifferent, for we are constantly recruiting our population from Russia, from Sweden, from Germany, from Ireland, or from Canada.

American firms are getting most of the contracts for building bridges in South Africa, and there are good reasons for it. A writer in the Century Magazine refers to the interesting facts that all existing railroad spans of more than 500 feet have been built since 1870, and probably more in America than in all the rest of the world put together. and certainly these are much better and cheaper and have been more rapidly and safely constructed than those of any other country. In a word, American engineers have built most of the greatest and most difficult bridges in the world, and in less than half a century, largely within the last quartercentury, have developed the art of bridge building to a perfection that no other kind of construction has reached in hundreds of years.

An epidemic of scarlet fever, starting in Cincinnati, has spread in the last few weeks through a number of towns in Ohlo, and the health authorities, after taking extraordinary precautions to confine the disease within the limit of its first ravages, were puzzled to understand the means by which it was carried elswhere. They made an investigation and have now come to the conclusion that much of the contagion was spread by tame pigeons and doves, which carried the germ from place to place. The evidence on which this theory is based is that scarlet fever spread under strict quarantine from a house on the roof of which there was a large pigeon cote. The only live stock about the house not quarantined was the pigeons. which flew about the neighborhood. If they didn't carry the disease germs the by way of it at much cheaper rates. authorities don't know how the fever The journey will be practically all was spread.

THE TRACKLESS TROLLEY.

We have wireless telegraphy and ess trolley makes its appearance. The irst trackless trolley line in the United States will soon be in operation in Franklin, New Hampshire, the city ouncil having granted permission to a ompany to erect poles and wires for he system between the rallroad stations. Work upon the new line is to be begun at once; a fine stretch of macadam road will serve to give the trackless rolley an excellent opportunity.

The idea of such a line is not a new ne. As far back as 1882 Siemens & Halske ran a carriage through the streets of Berlin by means of a suspended wire. The idea was not further developed at the time, however, and nothing practical was done in this direction until comparatively recently. We do not see why the trackless trolley cannot be made useful in some localities, though it may not compete with the trackful trolley.

MUST PAY.

A decision which has just been made y the Superior court of Pennsylvania will tend to teach municipalities a needed lesson. In Lazerne county there s a township with less than seven thousand inhabitants and an assessed valuation for purposes of taxation of but little over $1,000,000, against which judgments have been rendered for debts amounting to nearly $64,000. This sum is simply the aggregate of expenses inurred for meeting which no taxes were levied. The people to whom the noney was owed got tired of having their just claims ignored and appealed to the county court, which ordered that a tax should be levied sufficient to pay off the judgments, together with the expense of collecting and the cost of the legal proceedings. The township authorities carried the matter up to the Superior court, which has affirmed the decision of the county court. That township has got to raise this large sum by taxation, and can no longer as a debtor snap its fingers at its creditors. The decision does not affect one townsame county which have pursued a imilar course. In one of them it is said the schools have been suspended most of the time for a year, because mismanagement of officials had wasted the school money. To all these places the court's decision comes as a mandate to pay their debts and do it at Waldeck-Rousseau, the former Premier of France, lunched together on the Emperor's yacht shortly after the Vilhelm-Morgan meeting, and that the Emperor revealed to M. Waldeck-Rousseau that he wasn't overwhelmed by King Morgan's intellectual grandeur His conversation, said the Emperor. "failed to reveal to me that he had any clear comprehension of the vast harmonies and conflicts of the commercial universe. I was amazed to find him not well informed regarding the historical and philosophical development of nations. His political economy leaves him unconcerned regarding socialism, which undoubtedly will soon constitute the most stupendous question everywhere Mr. Morgan's ambition is to remodel the world, but I can't see where he has a single great idea. His chief merit lay in seizing the right time in which to effect combines on a scale which heretofore nobody had dared to attempt. In doing so Mr. Morgan was rather the instrument of irrepressible economic forces than an inventive genius." If the German Emperor didn't say this it reads as if he might have said it. It is possible that Mr. Morgan isn't deeply concerned about some of the problems that are engaging the attention of men like Emperor William, Perhaps, too, he doesn't claim to be an inventive genius. But he has managed to make kings notice him and he has more real power than some of the kings have If he is only the "instrument of irrepressible economic forces" he is a very

THE VERA CRUZ AND PACIFIC. The Vera Cruz and Pacific railroad nay not be a very powerful competitor of our Panama canal, but it will be an interesting one. While everybody has been talking about the canal the building of this railroad has been quietly but persistently going on, until now only lifteen miles of track remain to be laid, and if all goes well the road will be opened in October. It runs across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in southern Mexico. Only about twelve hours will be necessary to make the run across Mexico. It is expected that goods put on board a vessel in New York harbor will reach San Francisco by the new road twelve days later. The advantage of the route over the transcontinental lines within the borders of the United States is that freight can be carried water, as only half a day is to be Pitgrims.

Who bides beneath a roof to-day, If he may set his foot abroad Along the woodsy outland way, is little better than a clod!

There is no thing in all the land That does not seem articulate; The grasses smile, and understand The virgo calling to his mate.

Tall pine-tops unto pine-tops breathe in signings nurmurous as the sea; And through the birchen copse beneath There runs a fluting barmony.

In the half-dusks of tangled green The pale wild-rose's censer burn And in each hollow may be seen The fragile laceries of the ferns.

While over all, for all to share, Placid and pure and wide and high, Mist-winnowed by the searching air, Broods motherly God's open sky. Then grip the onk-staff, ye who may, And set the pligrim's foot abroad! Who, willing, bides within to-day is little better than a clod! —Clinton Scollard in Youth's Companion.

It is interesting to note at this time when the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics association is preparing to have a genuine old fashioned Mechanics Fair, some of the souvenirs that recall the earlier days of this association that have just come to light.

On September 30, 1887, a copper box was placed in the corner-stone of the old building of the association, corner of Chauncy and Bedford streets, Bos-

Some four years ago the box was renoved from the corner-stone and taken to the office of the association in Mechanics building. On the afternoon of July 9th the box was opened in the office of the association at a meeting of the regular board of government.

It is a medium-sized box and shows in its outside appearance little evidence that it had lain more than forty years in the corner-stone. Many interesting relics were found therein, among which s engraved the names of the officers of association and others. Besides this, there was considerable printed matter; copies of gold, silver and bronze medals; sundry coins, reporte and other printed data. Among the coins might be mentioned a gold-plated medal, being formerly an award to Palmer & Hall for telegraphic apparatus exhibit of 1856; an 1856 copper cent; an 1857 cent with flying bird on one side. which is quite a rarity; an 1857 fiftysilver piece; a twenty-five-cent silver piece of the same date; a dime and a half dime; a three-cent piece with a six-pointed star on one side.

Besides the above was a book entitled, "Franklin Statue Memorial," which was prepared and printed by authority of the city council of Boston in 1857. A pamphlet consisting of an "Address on the Occasion of Laying the Cornerstone;" a copy of the "Constitution of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic association, instituted March 15,1795, and incorporated March S, 1806;" a copy of the "Boston Almanae for the year 1857;" likewise a "Catalogue of the Library of the Massachusetts Charltable Mechanic association," printed in 1853. There were also copies of the follow ing Boston papers of September 29, 1857;

Post, Evening Gazette, Boston Daily Traveller and Boston Daily Courier, These relics are of the greatest interst to seekers of the antique. One can hardly help wondering what the feelings of those living at that time would be were they able to revisit this world, and, dropping in at the fair, note the marvelous improvements and discoveries that will be exhibited there this fall. and compare them with what forty ears ago this same association, for the instruction and enlightenment of the public, offered way back in 1857.

Prof. G. S. During the past 24 years he has received his annual payments with regularity and great equanimity of mind and, having already drawn $9,840, he has come to the conclusion that he has found the elixir of life in an Annuity.

At age 70, $1,000 deposited in The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York will yield an annuity of $134.77 for life.

THE EXCURSION Of English Hall Sunday School.

Attached to the 9:35 a. m. train for Meriden Tuesday were three special cars filled with the members of English hall Sunday school on their way to Hanover park. Under the efficient management of Judge L. W. Cleaveland, this; school continues its sessions throughout the year and therefore enjoys all the more its annual midsummer excursion. This year Hanover park, near Meriden, was selected and a very enjoyable day was the result. The broad lake with its boating parties was in itself a beautiful picture, but there were also the large "merry-go-round," pronounced by everyone the finest ever seen, the dizzy-looking switchback, casy-going swings, etc. In the spacious pavilion instrumental music of an excellent quality by Scelev's orchestra of New Haven, was to be heard at different times during the day and in the afternoon a short praise service was held. The lunch tables were early occupied and in the afternoon cake and cream were served to all. Assisting Superintendent Cleaveland in various vays were the missionary pastor, Rev. W. D. Mossman, Messrs. Frank Young Ward Church, Clark Sweezy, Edward Biggs and Frank Miller, Mrs. Edward Myrick, and Misses Hewitt and Street. Among the teachers present were J W. POLICE BELIEVE THEY WILL MEET IN JAPAN.

Attorney Friend, However, Says They Are Parted Forever-Police Say Captain Pawned Jewels With Woman's Floured in Settlement.

New York, July 23.-It is not at all probable that May Yohe will receive more than the $16,000 which was handed over by Mrs. Strong's counsel yesterday for the redemption of her jewels pawned by Captain Strong in this city.

Both Captain Titus and Lawyer Job Hedges intimated to-day that they had evidence to show that May Yoke knew where every piece of this jewelry was pawned, and that it was done with her

He is said to have put it very bluntly to her that rather elaborately trimmed. I will note she and Captain Strong had been losing

Information is reported to be in the hands of Mr. Hedges which can be used to conclusively prove that May Yohe has used a part, at least, of the $7,100 received on the jewels pawned in the edge of the brim bound with black, on agreement he will meet May Yohe before the middle of August.

It is reported upon good authority that May Yohe did not come back to this country with the great array of jewels which were hers when she left for Japan, and that the value of the property which was in the strong box two weeks ago has been greatly exaggerated.

The theory of the police is that Captain Strong and his companion are to-day just $16,000 richer than when they came to this country, and that this money has been secured because a mother has been moved by a strange story of separation and has wanted to protect her name.

It is understood that when Miss Yohe was brought face to face with these facts yesterday she was anxious for a speedy settlement of the case. Mr. Hedges said to-day:

"The incident is closed as far as I am concerned. Miss Yohe has all the jewels which were pawned in this city. Where Captain Strong is and what he has done with the jewels which were in the safe deposit vault I do not know. I have heard nothing as to his where abouts nor has his family.

"I will not say who furnished the money to redeem the powned jewels. The money has been paid, all parties concerned are satisfied, and that is Captain Titus said to-day that when the complaint against Captain Strong well, but I think that not only was her was withdrawn last night he had not husband a selfish an, but she was a a single clew as to his whereabouts. very unwise woman not to consider her various grain crops on the whole. When asked if in withdrawing the complaint counsel for May Yohe was skill of the middle-class wife as cook not guilty of compounding a felony the captain replied: "No. There was no captain replied: warrant out for Captain Strong's arrest. If a wararnt had been secured in any court, and application had then been made for a dismissal of the complaint, the parties would then have been liable.

"I believe that had Captain Strong been arrested it would have been difficult to convict him of larceny. would have taken a great weight of evidence to prove that the fewels had not been pawned with May Yohe's knowledge and consent."

Emanuel Friend, counsel for Miss Yohe, did not come down to his office until late this afternoon. He was in conference with his client until a late hour last night arranging her plans for the future. Mr. Friend said to-day: "This whole incident is closed. May Yohe will in all probability go to Japan very soon. She will not meet Captain Strong, as he will be at that time thousands of miles away from her. They have separated forever."

It was reported this afternoon that th econdition of Mrs. Strong was much improved because of the apparent satisfactory setttlement of her son's trou-

HATS WORN AT THE PARIS RACES.

The hats specially created for the two great racing events of the year were of the broad-brimmed order, large Trianon hats having the lead. The most dicided novelty, however, was a hat like a big mop cap with a flat beret crown. such as children used to wear. Two of these attracted much attention at Auteull a week ago, at which time they made their first appearance. One of these was made of a large plateau of white soft straw, the crown being formed by pleating the straw, as one would do with a piece of muslin, and tying it in with a torsade of soft, white The brim sloped down on the right and at the back, and was slightly lifted on the left over a double row of pale pink ostrich tips.

The other was made on a wired shape of white sprigged net over pink tulle, and was trimmed underneath with a quantity of large pink roses. About the crown was a tiny garland of black for get-me-nots. But at the Grand Prix there were quite a number of these hats. One, made out of a plateau woven in cielblue straw, was wreathed with halfopen white roses and had a black velvet bow underneath. A second was in sky-blue lisse bordered narrow with black velvet. The brim of this one shelved slightly downward all the way around. A long amazon feather lay on the edge of the brim, sweeping round from front to back, it being shaded from or "Marle Antoinette turban," although Canadian Pacific

Among the most striking hats were the Trianons made of white lace over white illusion. Different kinds of lace were used. In one case it was deep Venice edging, some of which was sewn to the edge of the broad brim so as to fall in a ru e all around. This hat had a pale blue chiffon scarf knotted round the low crown, which fell to the wearer's waist. A spray of yellow roses, as f freshly cut, lay on the brim.

A white hat of quite the largest size was draped round the edge of the brimby a scarf of creamy lace, the ends of which fell over the shoulders. Around the crown were placed a number of white ostrich tips, so us to droop forward over the brim. This arrangement of tips, called a Marquise, promises to be very fashionable. At the back of the hat was a long wedge-shaped bow made of piece velvet, bright emerald green, the loops of which fell over the hair. A burnt Leghorn straw had a long cream lace scarf draped round the brim, a twisted scarf of palest blue silk, and two bunches of ripe peaches. Another had a wreath of pink roses round the crown, veiled with yellow lace, the which were placed two long, black Sixth avenue shop.

There is evidence also that Captain plumes. Two huge pink roses, and one black one, with a lot of leaves, were arranged carelessly on the brim. Flat plateau hats were also worn. One was trimmed with an immense white bird, another was entirely covered with purple plus and green leaves, and a third with a large flat bow of or-onge-colored velvet and a cluster of apricots. But this style of hat is considered to be less smart than the Trianons and the others described in the preceding paragraph, and more suited

The Mother of Every Girl Should See That She Can Prepare Food. A rather pathetic incident came under my notice a few months ago. young woman who had married the man of her choice made the discovery, when too late, that she was totally unfitted for the duties she would have to perform in her new position. She had no experience in cooking anything besides frying bacon and making tea. Even porridge was a failure when she attempted to make it. "The reason of all this?" you ask. Well, her mother was so accustomed to cook for her famlearn. The mother's excuse was that the bulk of the dealings was confined to regarding his meals, and she feared doenjoyed. No doubt the woman meant that every right-minded reader will agree with me. So much comfort and domestic peace depends upon the and housekeeper that I winder at any mother expressing her unwillingness to teach her girl every branch of househoud work. NEW SHAPES FOR LATE SUMMER

AND EARLY FALL Some rather important changes in shapes are in contemplation. For one thing, there is a return to the original form of toque, viz., with circular lowblocked crown and brim turned up straight all the way around and of the same height as the crown. This toque, called by different milliners by such names as "bolero," "Mercedes toque," specially designed to wear with tail made costumes is far from being undress hat, since its trimming alm nvariably consists of ostrich feathe wings or handsome conteaux, to any which algrette may be added. IN TWO HEMISPHERES.

Priestly Visitor to Waterbury Who

Has Labored in Many Climes. There is at present in this city an Italian priest who has seen active service in many parts of the world. He is the Rev. F. A. Bergeretti, and is the guest of the Rev. M. C. Karam, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes. An American reporter met him yesterday in the office of D. H. Tierney, the real estate man.

His friendship with the Rev. Father Karam dates back from 14 years ago, when they were fellow priests in Palestine. Both labored there for several years and were close companions during that time. Father Bergeretti was born in Italy, and after being educated and ordained was sent on mission work to Australia. From this place he went to the Island of Ceylon, near India, where he labored for 15 years. During his pastorate in Ceylon he built six churches. Then he was sent to Palestine. He was stationed at Betblehem in charge of an orphan asylum. Bethlehem he built the church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, at a cost of $120,000. This church is a very beautiful one, and has often excited the admiration of tourists. It is entirely of stone and looms up massive looking with comparison to the desolate structures around it. From Palestine he went to Venezuela where he opened a college of the society of Don Bosco, which he had entered a few years before. This society has now about three hundred and fifty colleges throughout Europe and America, notwithstanding the fact that it was founded only about fifty-five years ago. While in Venezuela the usual revolutions went on and Father Bergeretti performed such meritorious service in behalf of the wounded and in administering the sacrament to the dying that he was presented by the government with a medal of the bust of Bolivar. The municipal authorities of Valencia gave him a gold medal for service in a smallpox epidemic in that city. He is now on his way to California. where he is to take charge of an Italian mission. A number of other Italian priests of his society will accompany him. These are now on their way to this country and will be here the latter part of this month or the first part of next month. Father Bergeretti will stay in this city for a few days more at the least. Father Bergeretti speaks several languages. He is not yet entirely familiar with the mysteries of English, but talks distinctly and can make himself understood easily. He was seven months in a hospital in Valencia, caring for smallpox patients. While in Ceylon he had charge of fourteen mission churches, and during the year was accustomed to visit each church at regular intervals.-Waterbury American.

Robert Orr, City Employe, Injured Yesterday Afternoon.
Robert Orr, residing at 22 Market street, a city employe engaged in the work of catting down and removing the dead eim trees about the city, had a wonderful escape from serious injury, and perhaps from instant death, yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, He was engaged in the removal of a large tree at the corner of Hughes place and Greene street and was sawing off a large tree at the corner of Hughes place and Greene street and was sawing off a large tree at the corner of Hughes place and Greene street and was sawing off a large tree at the corner of Hughes place and greene street and was sawing off a large tree at the corner of Hughes place and greene street and was sawing off a limb about thirty feet from the ground. In doing this work Orr was fastened to the solid part of the tree with a strap which passed about his waits and which has been critically safe heretofore. Yesterday, however, this strap broke and before Orr could grasp the limb of the tree with his hands he was precipitated to the ground face downward. The descent was a rapid one and the unfortunate man struck the ground head first and on his face. It was badly scratched and bruised, and there were several rather deep gashes on the right side. Both wrists were strained and it is thought that one of the small bones in the left wrist was broken. Dr. L. M. Gompertz was called to attend the man, and he does not anticipate any serious results from internal injuries or the like. From the position of the man's body when he struck and the force of the fall it is rather marvelous that the neck was not broken or a more serious injury sustained than was. oken or a more serious injury sustained

Colored Youth at Savin Rock Astonishing

Young Ellis T. Jackson, the colored youth holding the boards at the Saxin Rock theater, is a marvel to all who hear him play upon the musical instrument of which he has become so proficient. While he plays a number of instruments, he is at his nest on the trombone. His execution is perfect and his technique is superb. The tone of the trombone was never sweeter, and the young-ster hids fair to be another Arthur Fryor, who is Sousa's pride.

There are five other acts that are funny, thrilling and amusing in their turn. Tonight the Arion Singing society of forty-five voices will present a concert in conjunction with Atwater's orchestra in the park. Four selections will be sung, two of which will be accompanied by the orchestea. A large platform will be creeted for their convenience nea the bandstand.

THE SARGENT STRIKE.

Pays Appropriate Tribute to the Late Mr. Sargent Says That a Settlement is Far Off.

President J. B. Sargent of Sargent & Co. was seen last night and he talked freely about the strike of the men at his factories. He said that yesterday afterneon he received word indirectly from the strikers who wanted to make some roposals for concessions. These proposals were later received and read by the members of the company. One of the matters presented by the committee was in regard to the minimum rate of rages per diem for the laborers. The riginal statement was altered yesterday by the strikers so as to have it proide for a scale of $1.50 a day for those eighteen years or over. Mr. Sargent said last night that that plan would never be adopted by the firm as some of the old men employed by the firm, those who are incapacitated for a great deal of work, do not begin to earn $1.50 a day. The president of the company said last night the firm had not agreed to an increase of 15 per cent, as has been "Voted, That the clerk be instructed frequently stated. He said that this would also be a move that the firm would never take as an increase at that rate would lavolve a tremendous outlay of extra salary. The other matter of importance referred to the firm yesterday afternoon by the strikers was that in regard to the "all card shop" clause. The strikers have come to the conclusion that Mr. Sargent's first statement on that matter-that he would never agree to the all card shop paragraph-was going to They have frequently made request for an all cerd shop, and as many times the same answer has come back. Yesterday the strikers eliminated the clause and in its place a clause has been substituted which provides that shop committees shall be ecognized in cases of discharge. This, Mr. Sargent says, has always been the custom and he will still abide by it.

They all allow credit for such a return, -- but there are different ways of doing it.

In most establishments, this exchange and refund is purposely complicated by red-tape and bother. It's as hard to get your money back in most stores as it was to earn it in the first place. And, in the end, the general practise is to give, not cash, but a "credit check" which you must spend
