There was no delay in securing action on the Alaskan treaty and very little opposition to it was manifested. Senstor Teller said that he considered the Alaskan boundary so well determined as to make it not a mater of dispute. Therefore, while he would not delay it he would not vote for it. Senator Mason made a few similar remarks, adding that he considered the procedures proposed by the treaty non-American. ADDRESSES CHAMBER OF COM-MERCE ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

With Special Reference to the Condition of Affairs in Venezuela-The Situation | cuples the somewhat unequally balancin Its Various Phases Most Clearly Cuttined and Defined,

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night Professor Theodore S. Woolsey of the Yale law school United States, though it is only too spoke on "International Law" with strongly desired by the powers. special reference to the state of affairs Professor Woolsey was introduced by President Bradley. The address dwelt principally with the Venezuelan troubles which is just now occupying so much attention. In substance Professor Woolsey's address was

Texas, with a population of some two nual income to creditor claims. "Venezuela is about twice as large as tery has been a checkered one. Since her withdrawal from Spanish rule in 1847 her people have been in an almost continual state of warfare. Various dictators have declared themselves only to be overthrown by a more powerfu! leader. The inhabitants have lost, for the most part, the stability and stamina which marks a healthy and prosperous nation. The only Spanish blood has been nearly obliterated. The country has failed to make the most of its resources, yet it has had sufficient stability to make occasional loans. These loans have brought on most of the trouble. The London Mail and the Times estimater Venezuela's debts to be about twenty-seven millions, to which interest of seven millions must be added. This is the foreign debt alone. home debt amounts to some twenty-five millions. To offset this her income amounts to eight millions per annum. This great indebtedness was incurred principally through the medium of bankers, who sold various bonds to innocent purchasers. These purchasers had no remedy except through diploma-

"Venezuelan loans have been to a great extent railroad loans, for which interest at 7 per cent, was guaranteed. These loans not being met settlements were made which involved a further stretching out of the debt. The claims of the various countries are based on three items-injuries to subjects, injuries to property, and loans and guaranty.

"France was a heavy creditor, but came to a settlement after years of almost hostile relations, which settlement was based on an apportionment of customs duties. The customs duties constitute the principal income of Venezue.al "Holland and Germany claim payment of railroad loans and guarantee. Great Britain claims damages and interest; Italy claims the same. United States also has varied claims for loans and interest.

"The great fault in the Venezuelan matter is that the powers are deciding their own claims, acting as judges in their own behalf. This seems unjust. "A state can press claims against a weaker state by so-caled punitive measures — either bombardment of threatened bombardment. "Another means is by pacific blockade, which presents the curious anmaly of a war measure in a state of ployed in 1827, when the powers desired to compete with the famous "Elmina," to independence of Greece without a owned by Frederick F. Brewster of the war with Turkey. A peaceful blockade was established which on the accidental ing the fastest boat of its kind in the meeting of the opposing fleets resulted in the destruction of the Turkish squadron and the consequent independence of members adjourned. Greece. Since then Greece has been a sort of ward of the powers.

"This method of pressing been used seventeen or eighteen times during this century. This blockade utterly shuts out all commerce with the blockaded country. The question of a third party's rights in entering is an in-

"The outsider may claim that if it is neutral rights. If it is not a war measure, and it does not pretend to be this, the neutral denies the right.

"As the restraint of customs duties means a loss of one-half of Venezuela's income the blockade will not continue indefinitely "President Castro, at first indignant and threatening dire results, calmed down and submitted gracefully. The capture of Venezuelan gunboats by Germany was rather high-handed and due to the over-eagerness of the officers who too earnestly seek personal aggrandizement. Germany and England suffer the same unpleasantness as does the Unit-

PROFESSOR WOOLSEY SPEAKS | ed States. Claims cannot be settled by

"The Monroe doctrine has served to ontrol the otherwise rapacious tendencies of some of the powers. England has been too busy with her own affairs to attempt a vigorous policy.

'Attempts have been made to proure President Roosevelt as an arbitrator, but, though the United States oced position of one who dictates largely without incurring a corresponding responsibility, the government steadfastly refused to appear in the matter. This policy of avoiding responsibility cannot be too closely adhered to by the The question of preference of claims, of the percentage of customs to be allowed the various creditors, and the like, arose in confusing order. Mr. Bowen was permitted to act as Venezuela's representative in the settlement. This settlement is similar to that of the De Castellane trouble, I. e., the apportionment of a certain percentage of the anand one-half millions. Venezuela's hisclaims, will go to The Hague tribunal. Venezuela does not deny these claims; she maintains, however, that they are without security, and therefore denies the right of the powers to levy on the customs.

"Although it appears unjust, still the power of might rules in these questions, much as the facilities of the rich enable them to often gain an advantage over a poorer man.

"The United States is unquestionably helping Venezuela, but in so delicate and diplomatic a manner as to escape responsibility. As this country plays a large part in the world's affairs she must adjust herself to the rapidlychanging conditions.

"The rumors of war with Germany are totally unfounded. We must learn to make light of such difficulties. The Venezuela trouble teaches the lesson that we must be chary in trusting the little South American states." A vote was passed thanking Professor Woolsey for his courtesy in addressing the chamber.

NEW HAVEN YACHT CLUB.

Meeting Held in the Tontine Hotel Last

The New Haven Yacht club held a meeting in the Tontine hotel last evening, with a good attendance present, A committee was elected to bring in a list of candidates for the various offices of the club at the next annual meeting, which is to be held in the same place on March 11. The committee appointed for this purpose was Messrs. James H. Parish, Charles R. Waterhouse and C. W. Rawson. It was voted to hold the annual dinner on the same night as the meeting. The committee elected last evening to have charge of the dinner was Messrs. Jams H. Parish, E. N. Searles and C. W. Rawson. It was also voted to elect a regatta committee on the same evening. The club was reported as being in an excellent condition, having a membership of about 120 men, seven applications for membership, and about forty-three vachts in the squadron. Morton F. The attraction at the Hyperion on Saturday, February 14, at the bargain matinee, prices 25c, 50c, and at night will be William A. Brady's beautiful production of Lottio Blair Parker's romance of the south entitled "Under Southern Skies.

This is the play that for three months tested the capacity of the Theater Republic in New York city and after played successful engagements in almots all of the principal cities of the country.

Mrs. Parker, who is also the author of the well known rural play, "Way Down East," has chosen a new theme for her "Under Southern Skies," and has treated it as delicateyl as that of her former success; the characters are true to life, none being over drawn, gave their second grand masquerade and the situations are at times as ludicrous as at others also melodramatic. Charles Frohman send his young tar, Ethel Barymore, to the Hyperion next Tuesday evening, for one night only, in two plays that are as odd as "Captain Jinks," the comedy in which he presented her the past two seasons. The chief play is a three-act conceit, "A Country Mouse," writted by Arthur Law. It had a run at the Prince of Wales theater, London, last winter. The second is a one-act sketch, "Carrots." It was a feature last season at the Theater Antoine, Paris, In 'Carrots" Miss Barymore does a boy's part. In "A Country Mouse" she enacts the role of an unaffected country malden, who enters society for the first time and experiences a series of mishaps-the most serious of which results in her becoming a duchess unexpectedly. Both plays scored a run together for three months at the Savoy theater, New York, with Miss Barrymore as the star. The same company that supported her during the New York run will

Grand Opera House

At the Grand opera house the last three days this week, with matinee Saturday, is Elmer E. Vance's dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's sea novel. "Treasure Island." It is a very peculiar fact that no one has ever before brought out an adaptation of this book, for it has for many years been the pride of boys from ten to eighty years of age, and was considered one of the greatest books, told in most excellent language and picturing so vividly to the mind scenes of tragedy and blood-thirsty wickedness without conveying a single thought of its untruthfulness. Mr. Stevenson in "Treasure Island" has shown a wonderful faculty of being dramatically interesting without being vulgar in speech. The scenes in this play are taken from the book-which has been followed as nearly as possible with the exception of two instances, which were positively necessary to make a successful play. In the first act Mr. Vance graces Squire Trelawney with a daughter and a pretty little love story; in the second he has graced the Squire also with a colored servant, which brings good comedy. The one woman of the piece has a life entwined so cleverly among the lives and characand seamen that it immediately appeals to the fancy and to the heart-strings of the more sentimental.

The colored servant keeps the audience in an uproar continually throughout the performance. The cast has been especially engaged for this-its first season-and has proven remarkably clever in the parts constructed for the various members. The scenic and mechanical effects are very elaborate, especially in the htird act, when a big storm scene is very truly represented.

George Klimt and Alma Hearn are playing the leading parts in the new melodramatic production, "hTe James Boys in Missouri," a play that tells a romantic love story beautifully. This production will be seen at the Grand opera house on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week, with matinee Wednesday.

"A Modern Magdalen," a new and original play by Haddon Chambers, which was produced by Amelia Bingham last season at the Bijou theater, New York, proved to be the sensational success of the theatrical year, totaling a run of over 200 nights, will be at the Grand opera house on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, February 19, 20 21 with matinee Saturday. Among the prominent members of Miss Bingham's company are Roselle Knott, and that sterling character actor, W. J. Ferguson, together with a brilliant array of players as follows: Hobart Smith, Daniel Jarrett, Harry Lillford, George Spink, Bernard McGuire, Frederick Leet, Robert Dudley, Katherine Fisher, Laura Osborn, Marion Johnson, Alice Braham.

Poll's Theater.

Poli's bill this week continues to attract large audiences. It has Dave Genaro and Ray Balley as the headline feature, both great favorites, their sketch, "A Victim of Circumstances." tI allows Dave to introduce some very clever dancing and has Ray Bailey with her good coon songs. Miss Bailey has a very handsome wardrobe, which is much admired by the feminine portion of the audience.

"Adam the Second," with Matthews and Harris as the principals, is a novof the first class. It has a very elaborate stage setting. The "Seminary Girls" is a very pretty offering of H. T. MacConnell, who gave the beautiful "Beaux and Belles" octette. In this latest one he has a sextette that has some very pretty songs and some very pretty young ladies. The comedian work of Ted T. Burns creates a lot of laughter.

SAHARET COMING TO POLI'S NEXT WEEK.

The beautiful Saharet, whose dances arouse immense enthusiasm as the emphatic hit of "The Little Duchess" company, will give the headline act next week surrounded by a bill of the best vaudeville talent, with Kathryn Osterman and company in a comedy sketch besides Milt and Maude Wood with their dancing, singing and acrobatic act, and a host of others.

A DECIDED HIT.

Miss Marie Cahill Scored Great Suc cess in "Nancy Brown."

Dainty Marie Cahill added new laurels and won many more admirers to her already long list at the Hyperion last night. She was the stellar attraction in the new musical comedy; "Nancy Brown," which has met with such phenomenal success since its initia performance and her charming, vivacious manner enraptured the audience and brought forth storms of applause One or two repetitions of the several very catchy and bright songs which she gave did nto suffice and she gracefully responded to the vociferous encores. In the second act she was particularly gracious and invited the audience, particularly the Yale students who were out in force, to assist her in the rendition of the popular "Nancy Brown" and "Bamboo Tree." The students responded with alacrity and the lovelty was intensely enjoyed.

The production in its entirety is on stupendous csale, the costumes, stage settings and scenic effects being gor The music is of the bright catchy order which lingers long in the minds of those who hear it and the words of many songs are decidedly unique. The chorus is splendidly balanced, the girls being much above the average both in personal beauty and inging ability.

An audience which packed the Hyperion to the walls witnessed the performance and "great success" was the concensus of opinion of Nancy Brown. HAMILTON & C SUCH IN L. Fr.

Some unmarried young men and women of David City, Nebraska, whose hearts once beat high with hope of marriage and domestic felicity, formed some time ago an organization intended to encourage marriage and mitigate the terrors of its cost. The plan was that when a member of the organization got married he or she was to be entitled to a certain specified sum, raised by assessment on the other members. The unmarried young men and women of David City paid in their dollar a month assessments faithfully in the hope of receiving the benefit of $200 after marriage. But a change came o'er the spirit of their dream, and we now read that those who were once eager to marry and have something to pay with have given up the struggle, and with a sharp realization of what life is have organized themselves under the title of "The Harrison Mutual Burial Association of David City, Nebraska." They now mean to have a respectable burial. We hope they wont be obliged to give that aspiration up as they seem to have had to give up the idea of having a happy marriage, with money on the side. They can be sure that they will ultimately be dead, and we hope they will be sure of something better than a pauper's burial.

LINCOLN DAY TO-DAY.

GRAND OBSERVANCE OF THE AN-NIVERSARY

This Evening by the Young Men's Republican Club-The Programme for the Occasion.

To-day is Lincoln's birthday, and as such is a legal hoffday. There will be no stock market to-day. The day will not be generally observed in this city. The schools, which usually take advantage of all possible holidays, will be open this year. There will be exercises in some of the schools in commemoration of the day. The business houses of the city will remain open as usual, and the banks will be closed to-day. A notable observance of the de will occur in the Lincoln day banquet at the Young Men's Republican club this evening, which will begin at 7:30 sharp. There is every indication that every seat will be occupied, and that at the last moment there will be cals for tickets, which cannot be supplied, because it has been determined that no tickets will be sold in excess of the number of seats available in the hall. Hence there will be no overflow opportunities. For the remaining lickets the rule first come first served will be observed. The programme for the evening is as

Frank Rice, president of the club, will act as toastmaster. Fleming will cater and Well's orchestra will furnish music. The committee in charge of the banquet is composed of Theodore H. Macdonald, chairman; John A. Hull, W. G. Merrels, C. W. Pickett and B. N. Blatchley. Last night Governor Chamberlain was the guest of honor at a banquet in New York, but he will return to Connecticut to keep his engagement with the Young Men's Republican club. Rev. Dr. Baker's response to the tosst "Abraham Lincoln" will undoubtedly be a feast. Those who have heard Dr. Baker speak of him in the highest terms as an orator and entertaining speaker.

A Big Handkerchief Event.

Worth from 19c to 50c for 11c ca.

Some months ago we got a great Dublin maker of Handkerchiefs to promise us the first big lot of high-grade "Seconds" he would have this year because we knew how good his Handkerchiefs are.

We little thought they'd come so early and our hopefullest expectations didn't let us hope they'd be so splendid a "Find."

They include these kinds;

Plain hemstitched Handkerchiefs purest of Irish linen,

Hemstitched Embroidered, woven also of the purest of

And a lot of sheer Cambric hemstitched Embroidered

They're worth from 19c to 50c each. Take your pick and choice of them at 11cts.

The hurts in them are nothing worse than occasional bits of uneven machine work in the weaving which really counts for nothing, and in some you'll find small holes which latter can be easily darned. There are several hundred dozen of them and they'll be on sale Thursday on the Front Special Table, West Store.

The Housefurnishing Sale.

That folks think there are Real Bargains in this Housefurnishing sale is evidenced by the way they've continued to come everyday.

Buyer said he had more money and more people on the second day than on the first. Thursday's bargain list isn't as long as was Monday's, for some of the good things are gone, not all though. There will be attractions aplenty for you who put off coming until Thurs-

Special Table Linen News.

"Ah! that's good,"--we can hear a lot of women say, those who depend upon us so absolutely for their Table Linens and who have been waiting for this very announcement. So we'll get right down to it;

Remnants of bleached and cream damask Table Linen, lengths range from 11-2 to 31-2 yards long and the lot--though 'twill be found to include some of our finest Damasks---will be sold cheap.

Napkins, but no cloths to match, which makes them odds and ends. They're in full dozen and half dozen lots and they too will be marked at prices that will make them go quick.

Fine Cloths, no Napkins to match so they're in the disgraced class. Fine, double satin Damask Cloths, 2x2 1-2 and 2x3 yard sizes, many of them the handsomest cloths we have. Your choice less 25 per-cent.

75ct Overgaiters 59cts a pair for the fourteenth of February. From Raphael Tuck and Sons and from other designers of equal note, as low as 1ct.

In Our Fascinating

Wash Goods Store.

We probably sell more Cotton Dress Goods in January and February than all the other stores together. Your support you see makes us dare more in the matter of buying than any other store would care to risk, so it is to you we owe the fact that our well earned reputation for the lovliest showing of Cotton Dress Goods, and the broadest in point of vartety, has gone broadcast over all the state.

Take for instance the Wash Goods at 12 1-2cts a Yard. Of Percales more than two hundred patterns.

Of Dimities, Batistes and Swisses, another two hundred. Of Ginghams, fully a hundred of the 12 1-2ct kind alone. Of smart Ducks and Piques in plain colors and polka dot on light or dark ground, another enormous showing, at 12 1-2cts a Yard.

A few of the novelties that are inexpensive.

There's Dublin cloth, a sort of soft canvas weave and the colors are pretty shadings of green, cadet, pale blue, tan and the Ilke, 17c Yd And Knickerbocker Suiting is another of the new things, 25c Yard Then there's mercerized Cheviot with its silken shimmer, to say nothing of its color beauty. That's 39cts to 59cts a Yard.

Shirtwaists and Shirting Stuffs.

That show in one of the windows of Scotch Madras, (25c to 39c) French Percales (25cts Yard) and of Silk Ginghams (50cts Yard) doesn't begin to represent the strength of our collection in these popular things. Another shipment of Imported Swisses (25cts a Yard) is here too. And a maker of yard wide Linen Suitings (25cts Yard) has just sent us some choice plain colors in these goods, Galatea for boys' suits. every color made, 15cts a Yard. Pretty Madrasses and Ginghams for shirtings too at only 15cts Yard.

Challies, 6cts Yard. Fresh lot of these just in. Prettiest patterns and colors we've ever had for the money.

We're Fully Ready For You With The New Laces.

Paris and Vienna and all the other fashion centres say "Laces." You'll see few gowns this Spring and Summer, save the cloth tailor gowns, that haven't their just mead of Lace. It's going to be Lace, from the great coarse Antique, yes, the kind they used to use so much on Curtains, and there are going to be entire waists and gowns of this antique lace worn, to the fine, delicately woven Paraguay and cobweby filet.

Real Antique Lace can be had at from 29c to 89c a yard, depends on width. And imitation Antique, Edgings and Insertions, they range from 8c to 50c

Cluny Laces are beautiful and will be used for entire waists with edgings and insertions to match for skirts,

2 to 7 inches wide and from 22cts to $2 a Yard.

Real Wool Lace in cluny effects, for waists and trimmings, are on the high sea of favor.

And there's a silky Lace made from a wood fibre, that's enchanting. Gun Metal Lace-edging and Insertion, is as its name would lead you to picture, in beautiful lustrous color effects and not at all expensive, at $2.19 and $2.50 a Yard.

Venise Bands are still with us but in new designs and patterns.

Shirtwaist Patterns. Ready to put together and made of the finest, softest of Pongee, all white or in linen color, the latter embroidered in black and white, $3.98 and $5.98

A Forecast Of What We Shall Have To Say In Spring Dress Goods.

One of the things that surprises us is the number of handsome weaves and colors that are brought out in the lower-priced goods.

That's nice for there's never a dearth of beautiful things in the more expensive goods. Here's an illustration! A canvas Mistral in really charming colorings and a goodly choice at that, for as little as

And some pretty Batiste, like nuns veiling a little in its soft tractability, for as little as 50cts a Yard.

These are only two-there are other kinds of goods with prices ranging even lower, pretty, attractive serviceable things that women of taste would buy.

Among The New Weaves is Acoliene, a soft, exquisitely silky, thin, graceful stuff made of silk and wool threads, as tractable as crepe-de-chine. It's $1.50 a Yard.

The new Crepe-de-Paris and the Voiles are crowding in faster than we can record them.

And so are all the other new Spring and Summer Dress things.

Novelties In Shirt Waist Silks. Wash Silks but please don't confound them with the ordinary kind. These are in the new, black and white and blue and white check effects and are considerably heavier in body than the usual kind. 50cts a Yard.

A Corset Special.

Well Known C B Corsets, gingham and Madras, in pink, blue and lavender for 89cts instead of $1. Thursday.

All the New Models in the C. B. Corsets are

FIRE INSURANCE REPORT.

Figures Showing Business Done in the State in 1902—Fire Loss Too Large. Hartford, Feb. 11.—The first part of the insurance commissioner's animal report to the governor was filed to-day. This part deals with fire and marine insurance companies.

"The conditions disclosed in the financial statements of the fire insurance mompanies filed in this department," says Commissionier Upson, "show a marked improvement in the business throughout the country, over that of the last three years. In this state the business has not been satisfactory. The fire loss is still much greater than it should be.

"It is to be regretted that any property owners in this state should risk financial loss by placing their insurance with companies not licensed to transact business in Connecticut, nor in any other state, and yet my information leads me to believe that this is being done by men of affairs who would not ordinarily take such hazards. Such companies are prohibited from transacting business here, but the business is usually done by correspondence so that it is impossible.

Comparisons of 123 companies which did business in the state in both 1901 and 1902 show the surplus as concerns polloy holders increased $6,789,196.50 during 1902. The total 488ets show an increase of $28,485,470,49, and the liabilities, including statutory deposits of $22,004.482.95. The average premium rate charged in 1902 was .08 per cent, higher than in 1901. The percentage of losses incurred to premiums on risks of losses incurred to premiums on risks written was 44.85 for 1901 and 37.83 for

The plan is in nature similar to the one made many years ago between the iron other men. The Italians were dissatisfied with a substitute foreman and wanted him removed. This demand was refused and they quit work and marched off the pier in a body. There was no disorder and no interference with the men who took their places. As a precautionary measure police reserves were sent to the pier to preserve order. other men. The Italians were dissatisfied

YESTERDAT'S STOCK MARKET,

Relapses Into Condition of Apathy With Narrow Pineluations.

New York, Feb. 11.-The stock maret relapsed into a condition of apathy to-day, with narrow fluctuations, without any show of interest. Even the speculative combination which made the activity of Monday and took the opportunity to realize suspended its operations. This obvious fact was accepted as an acknowledgment that the efforts to attach outside interest into the market were again a failure. Wall street continues to puzzle itself with efforts to explain this determined indifference on the outside public. As a result of to-day's renewed lethargy there were very few stocks which covered a range equal to a full point, and the general level of the market was alternately above and below that of last

There was an unexplained rise of 7 points in New York Dock, and substantial gains were made by the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie stocks. The general market showed itself quite indifferent to these movements. The late advance in the Eric stocks might be supposed to have had a more substantial influence on the general sentiment But this also was quite ignored. COSGROVE'S FAMILY SHOE STORE, 45 Church Street, corner of Crown.

The Centerville church embroidery class were delightfully entertained last Tuesday afternoon at the house of Mrs. Alson Todd by her niece, Miss Gertrude Smith, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Todd and Miss Edna Spencer. Besides the class were friends in the neighbor-hood and several ladies from out of town. Among the latter were Mrs. Woodhouse, Mrs. Weich, Miss Welch and Miss Bishop from New Haven and Miss Carrie Hitchcock of Bethany.

The ladles have been working for many weeks under the tuition of Miss Jones, from Christ church, New Haven, and the work is progressing slowly but surely toward their aim, the completion of a handsome set of violet altar hangngs before Ash Wednesday.

The material is a rich brocade em-broidered with Passion flowers and gold crosses, with Crown of Thorns for the pulpit. A stole to correspond will be presented by the class to the rector, the Rev. James E. Coley, who during his residence in the place has been the means of not only evoking unusual interest among his parishioners but also in promoting a kindly and forbearing spirit among the people. Owing to his untiring efforts, much has been done toward improving the church edifice and its surroundings, By reason of his efficient work the handsome gift of a parish house has ocen received. An artist from New York is now at work painting the scenery for the stage to be used in this building the first time on the evening of the nineteenth, when a supper will be followed by a dramatic entertainment. The curtain will portray a favorite mountain scene in the vicin-OUTSIDER.

YACHT DESIGNING AT YALE.

New Course of an Optional Nature Adopted by Sheffleid.

A new course in yacht designing was instituted at the Sheffleid scientific school yesterday, which is an optional course open to members of the senior and junior classes only. Dr. W. C. Marshall, who has for some time been carefully studying this subject, is in charge of the course. Students who join the classe will be compelled to have a good knowledge of descriptive geometry and mechanical drawing. The membership of the class will be limited and the preference given to seniors. This new course was suggested by members of the senior class.

lendency of the Times

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by all

Two Silk Bargains for Thursday.

One of them is a "guaranteed" taffeta that sells usually at 75c a chase. yard. It is made from fine Italian silk, with a bright lustre and a perfect black. It is warranted by its manufacturer not to break or crack.

The other is a Peau de Soie, which is the dress silk of the season. A fine weave, suranteed against cracking and "pulling" at seams. It is as good a silk as was ever bought for $1.25 a yard. Thursday only, $1 a yard.

Loop Hair Pins.

You may have seen the the newspaper account of the lady who created a distinct sensation at the Horse Show by a new style of hair-dressing. She wore her hair low down on the neck, and used a new sort of hair pin which gave great possibilities in effe t.

That style is spreading like fire in dry grass, and we have the new hair-pins that make it easy to follow. It is the "loop" hair-pin and we sell it for 25c.
