MAN BELIEVED TO BE ONE OF FOUR ARRESTED.

Taken Into Custody at Los Angeles on Probably be Allowed to Go When President Leaves the City-No Charge Against Him

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.-Acting under instructions from the secret service bureau at Washington the police to-day arrested a man who is suspected of being one of four brothers of Czolgosz, the assassin of the late President McKinley. It is known, however, that he was arrested to-day and confined in the city jail. No charge has been lodged against him, the police simply detaining the man on suspicion until after the president shall have left Los Angeles.

It is said that Czolgosz has been living in this city for several months, being employed in a tamale factory.

His actions, it is said, have been not out of the ordinary and no complaint is made of the man other than that of his relation to the assassin of President McKinley.

Early in the afternoon the Reliance's tender Sunbeam brought C. Oliver Iselin over and Captain Lem Miller of the Columbia went on board. From the willingness for a brush subsequently manifested on the part of Columbia, which had heretofore avoided such an encounter, it looked as though Mr. Iselin and Captain Miller had reached an understanding by which the Columbia was to accept the Reliance's frequent challenges more read-

The weather was brightening when at 3:40 p. m. the Reliance slipped out of the harbor from the direction of New Rochelle and came tearing into the cove at a twelve knot clip, bringing a fresh northeast wind. Mr. Payne said the former course was the more probable. He call ed attention to the civil service status of the carriers and said that the appointees were secured through the civi service commission, their selection therefore not being optional with him. ### BRITAIN AND BALKAN CRISIS.

Every Effort to be Made to Avoid Being

London, May 7 .- The British governnent's attitude in the Balkan crisis may be summed up as being one of passive indifference. It is pointed out at the foreign office here that Great Britain is not bound by any treaties to interfere in behalf of Bulgaria. Although she was chiefly responsible for bringing Burgaria into existence Great Britain never undertook the preservation of Bulgaria's interests, though she is rledged to maintain the integrity of the unanimous desire of the whole people

The British foreign office also understands that neither Russia nor Austria intend to interfere, unless some unseen issue becomes involved. Thus Turkey appears to have a clear hand; but the British foreign office is inclined to the bellef that Turkey will not go so far as to commence hostillties against Bulgaria but will content herself with threats and, perhaps, by other means than force secure reparation for her alleged wrongs.

One thing is certain. Foreign Secre tary Lansdowne will use every effort to avoid entangling Great Britain in the pending impending difficulties in the

PROGRESS WITH LAND BILL

PASSES ITS SECOND READING IN Merc'd Sateen Petticoats THE COMMONS.

Vote Stands 443 to 26 -Only the Radical Section of the Liberals Cast Their Ballots in Opposition-Government Apparently Very Willing to Consider Amendments.

London, May 7.-The Irish land bill has passed its second reading in the House of Commons by 443 votes to 26 In the house to-night John Morley, Liberal, who was received with opposition cheers, congratulated the Irish party on the issue of the years' battle. He said the bill was a bold and courageaus measure and a revolutionary extension of the land purchase system Its remedies were abnormal but it was a creature of social necessity; therefore he would support it. The bill had many defective clauses which will entail its defeat and it would save time if the Irish secretary, Mr. Wyndham would point out what concessions he was prepared to make. Continuing, Mr. Morley said the bill marked the collapse of the system by which England had governed Ireland since the union and that it would cre ate fresh problems and inevitably lead to further changes. He declared him-

In winding up the debate Mr. Wynd ham made light of what he called the bogey of home rule." In dealing with the act of 1881 he claimed it had created a strategic deadlock and that now both parties in the struggle desired to bury the ancient feud. He showed how baseless was the fear of a general repudiation of obligations. The best security was the for a peasant proprietary, but the cash security was ample. Mr. Wyndham said he could not g fully into the points and details which had been raised but he intimated his intention of discussing the first clause which lays down the zones of reduc tion, in counsel with members repre senting all interests of the house and not with any pre-determined view to pass it in its present shape.

Continuing, Mr. Wyndham said that many of the points raised in the course of the debate were matters for discus sion in committee. The conclusion the government had arrived at seeme illogical. It had arrived at them i view of three considerations which i considered essential, namely to deal adequately with the congestion in Ireland, to cheapen and expedite judicial procedure and to protect the interest of the general taxpayer. The division was then taken and the bill passed its second reading.

An analysis of the division shows that all the Nationalists, the main body of the ministerialists and almost all the Liberals voted with the major ity. The minority consisted of the radical section of the Liberals, including Sir Charles Dilke and a couple of

Meeting of New Haven Auxiliary To-

Morrow. These last two days our friends in Hartford have had a treat, for the annual meeting of the McAll association has been held there. The programme arranged for it was unusually rich this The delegates assembled Wednesday in Farmington Avenue church. Reports were read from different sections of our country, showing growth in sympathy for this mission. Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Haynes, pastor of the United church, this city, gave a most inspiring address. Yesterday there was a service wholly in French, modeled on the regular meetings of Paris Other interesting features were reports from the field secretary, Rev. Mr. Rossiter, and from Mrs. Wayland, of Philadelphia. To-morrow morning at 11 o'clock in the United church chapel will be held the regular meeting of the New Haven McAll auxiliary. Delegates from this city to the Hartford meeting will give reports, and an exceedingly interesting hour may be expected. All are cordially invited to attend this service.

Used Bad Money to Obtain Good Gas-Probate Will Contest-Superior Court Cases-Other Legal Items of Import-

George H. Belcher, who conducts a saloon at the corner of Water and Bridge streets, has been arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Parmelee. The charge against the accused is that of passing counterfeit coin.

In Belcher's saloon is placed a prepayment gas meter and into this it is alleged that Belcher put a spurious quarter some time ago. This was re-turned to him and he was asked to replace the bad money with genuine coin. This the complaint alleges he refused to do and on a second occasion put bad money into the meter. After refusing a second time to make restitution he was arrested at the instance of the Gas company.

Belcher was taken before United States Commissioner Wright, who set May 16 as the date for the preliminary examination. He was released pending the hearing on $300 bail furnished by Adam Ziegler.

Appeal was taken to the supremcourt on the ground that hie court erred in not allowing the claims of the trustee as preferred claims instead of general.

OLD CIRCUS DAYS.

A Glance Backward to the Time of Balley and Turner. Collier's Weekly of recent date publishes the following in its interesting series by Charles Day of New Haven,

'The Old Circus Man.'

"The first touring tent-shows in this country boasted of neither bands nor band wagons, the performers parading on horseback in costumes after the manner of the 'mummers' of the stage in the same era. The pioneer Turners of Danbury, Conn., used a band wagon until it nearly fell apart and the musicians, through the economy of Na-poleon B. Turner, were transferred to an ordinary box wagon, much to the disgust of George F. Bailey, who was the active director of the small outfit. This was in the early fiftles, and Mr. Bailey, without authority, had a band wagon built at Cincinnati and shipped to Frankfort, Kentucky, and placed on a second hand running gear. While playing at Washington Mr. Bailey did himself proud by sending the bandand wagon-to serenade the president. The chief magistrate divided his compliments between the band and the

"James Redmond, a successful American manager prior to 1842, had used two elephants in harness as a band team. In 1842 he visited Europe with Carter, the Lion King, and on his return organized for the road for the season of 1843 with four elephants drawing the band wagon. The pachyderms were named Virginius, weighing 8,600 pounds; Hannibal, 9,000; Columbus, 9,-300; Slam, 9,500 pounds.

"In 1857, Tony Pastor was one of the band mounted on an elephant in the parade of Raymond & Waring's men-Antonio beat the bass drum and Bob Hale, the rest of the band, beat the cymbals. One day the lads fell out, and in the way of variety beat each other, making a discord.

"In 1849, Spaulding & Rogers present ed novel features in their public parade, including the Apollonicon-a musical mechanical organ -- drawn by forty horses four abreast, driven by one man. During the tour of New England in 1850 the business was so large and the spread of canvas so great that Dr. Spaulding invented the use of quarterpoles, and was the first manager to put in seats eleven tiers high, with extrafront seats running down to the ring. "In 1847, Seth B. Howes imported a drove of camels from Cairo, Egypt, and they appeared in harness in parade. In 1870, James French, with his Oriental Circus and Egyptian Caravan, made a free feature of a troupe of performing Arabs mounted on camels. During the seasons of 1852 and 1853 the firm of Seth B. Howes, P. T. Barnum and Lewis B. Lent showed in free exhibit ten elephants and a gorgeously carved and painted "Car of Juggernaut." In 1879, Adam Forepaugh had ten elephants behind the first band wagon, and kept increasing the number annually in competition with P. T. Barnum until the rivals both advertised and produced of Assassin Booth's Burial. A very enjoyable evening is anticipated by the members of New Haven commandery, K. T., and their ladies this evening. An entertainment of a musical and literary character has been provided, in which Miss May Bradley and Sir Walter S. Garde are to sing solos, Sir Arthur D. Perkins will entertain the party with his comical sayings and the probability is he will make some local hits. Fichtl's orchestra will furnish the instrumental music. The programme ends with a lecture by Sir George L. Porter, M. D., of Bridgeport. His subject will be "Tragedy of the Nation." Dr. Porter was the only commissioned officer detailed by the government to take charge of the burial of the body of J. Wilkes Booth, and is probably the only living person to-day who knows where the body was first buried. He deals with the subject of the assassination of President Lincoln, from its inception in Canada, until the death of the conspirators. Dr. Porter remained in the service many years after the close of the war. After the lecture light refreshments will be served. The committee having the matter in charge consists of John H. Pearce, Fred H. Waldron, Frank Bishop, Walter S. Garde, Wallace S. Moyle and John McCarthy.

It Is Often Found in Pure Food. The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed most sickness comes from the wrong food and just so surely as that is the case right food will make the sun shine once more.

An old veteran of Newburyport, Mass., says, "In October, 1900, I was taken sick and went to bed, losing 47 pounds in about 60 days. I had doctor after doctor, but all food hurt me so I had to almost live on magnesia and soda. All solid food distressed me so water would run out of my mouth in little streams.

BANKING COMPANIES. Hearing on Proposed Charters for Bank ing and Trust Corporations, The senate chamber was secured for a hearing on two petitions of Perkins & Perkins, attorneys of Hartford, fo charters for banking and trust com panies. One petition asked for the privilege of establishing branch banks anywhere in the state.

The latter feature was dropped from a substitute proposition for the incorporation of the "United Trust Company of Connecticut." The corporators named are Charles E. Perkins, Lewis C Grover, George C. F. Williams, an Louis F. Heublein of Hartford, Ex-Governor O. Vincent Coffin of Middletown, Francis T. Maxwell of Rockwell, Daniel E. Bradley of New Britain, and ex-Insurance Commissioner Frederick A. Betts of New Haven. The minimum capital named is $100,000; maximum, $1,-

Attorney Charles E. Perkins presented a substitute resolution with the same corporators and capital named, but with some of the objectionable features of the original measure stricken out. This had been submitted to the consideration of some of the bank men who had objected to the former bill. Mr. Perkins said that the corporators are ready to organize the company. The chief issue at present appeared to be whether another banking institution should be chartered in Hartford. He argued that there was no good reason why another banking institution should not be allowed to engage in business. As to the allegation that a new company will not be profitable and will not ess, that is a matter fo the corporators to consider in launching their project. They are willing to put in their money and try the experiment.

Meriden piled up four olution amending the charter of the runs at the very outset, and the New New London Gas and Electric company | Haven team went them one better by by increasing its capital to $100,000 was scoring five. The Blues added another tally to their score in the second and did not score again until the seventh, visitors sent a man around the circuit in the seventh and the final score stood to 5 in New Haven's favor.

Walsh, Meriden's alleged star twirler, was taken out of the box in the second summary:

DIAMOND NOTES. A new home plate is a feature and the new scoring system is a big improvement. "Old Joe" Theisen was behind the bat for Meriden and he showed up well. He led his team in batting. Captain Canavan was one of the lusty oachers yesterday. He is out for another championship pennant. Fischman stole home from third on Walsh and that sounded the Meriden pitcher's death-knell. The foul-strike rule met with the favor of the audience. It hastens matters and keeps things going.

The new press stand was void of wire netting and after the first few foul tips most of the reporters sought the grandstand. Drew sent four fouls into the reporters' quarters and then struck out twice. Drew will be a lucky man if he remains in the league throughout the season. Hayward, at short, made a sensational stop of a grounder and saved at least two runs by his play. The crowd gave him an ovation. "Charlie" Kennedy, of Bristol, formerly with the Bristol team and last season with the Springfield team, was the umpire. His work was entirely satisfactory. The new score cards distributed to the audience are certainly the best that have ever been used in the State league. They afford everyone a chance to score the game in a proper manner.

The New Haven team will play in Bridgeport to-day and will meet Hartford in this city to-morrow afternoon, The game will begin at 3:45 and a large crowd will attend.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion Theater.

"The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," freely arranged from the French of Gavault and Berr by Clyde Fitch, will be pre-sented here for the first time at the Hyperion to-morrow, matinee and night, by Amelia Bingham herself and her company of distinguished American players. Its scenes are laid in aristocratic surroundings in Paris at the time of the carnival, and its aim is to show the frothy side of cosmopolitan life abroad, with about an equal mixture of fun and seriousness. Mrs. Johnson, whom Miss Bingham will impersonate, is a young widow, of faultless, highminded motives, who has come to be regarded as "frisky" on account of her light and careless demeanor. Fitch's inimitably witty dialogue and ingeniously daring situations form the spice of the play. Its cast is a notable one and its production, both sartorially and scenically, ranks with "The Climbers" and "A Modern Magdalen," which were considered record breakers in point of lavishness and artistic detail. "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson" comes here lirect from the Princess theater, where it is in its third popular month. Seat sale now open. Prices $1.50, $1 and 75

In Pixley and Luders' new comedy opera "King Dodo," which will be seen at the Hyperion next Monday and Tuesday nights, the musical numbers have all proven of the "whistling" kind, Among the most widely known hits are "The Tale of a Bumble Bee," "The Lad Who Leads," 'Look in the Book and See," 'Diana" and "They Gave Me a Medal for That." The company of seventy-five people includes Raymond Hitchcock, Cheridah Simpson, Flora Zabelle, Greta Pisley, Margaret Mc-Kinney, Robert Lett, William Corliss, Oliver Holden, Albert Juhre, a chorus of pretty girls and an augmented or-New York .....1 1 0 2 3 0 1 0 *-8 12 5 chestra of fine musicians. The "matinee girl" always has he own ideas of the play and the players, as well as everything in general. Her delight is to admire the leading lady, adore the hero, roundly detest the villain and laugh at the witticisms or predicaments of the comedian. Jack Drumeir, who enacts the role of Captain Thorne with E. V. Phelan's "Secret Service" company, which comes to the Hyperion for two performances next Wednesday, opening with a bargain matinee, has had some interesting experiences on account of the many charms his acting seems to have for the typical "matinee girl." Seat sale on Monday. Prices: Bargain matinee 25 cents to all parts of the house; night, 25 cents, 35 cents and 50 cents.

This house is practical in every sense of the word and shows the interior and exterior of half a dozen rooms and a cellar. A wide variety of locale is found in the three scenes employed in the piece. The first act represents the interior of the general office of the Manhattan hotel in New York city. The second act shows the handsome residence "Doves Nest Villa," and the third act gives a quaint picture of a country R.H.E. | railroad station. Mr. Daly will be seen as John Henry for four performances, 0 0 0 1-5 8 3 beginning Thursday night. Seats will be placed on sale at the box office on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Grand Opera House,

The Rentz-Santley company which has long been the leading and largest burlesque organization on the American stage opened a three night and Saturday matinee engagement at the Grand opera house last night and there was one of the largest audiences of the season present. The show has many new and novel features, including a number of the latest and most popular songs, hits of last year. There is a breezy batch of bright and scintillating lines which was thoroughly enjoyed, and much appreciated by all as was evidenced by the thunderous applause. The company is composed of very lever comedians, scores of handsome and winsome burlesquers, who posses pretty voices and a number of high class vaudeville artists, who furnished a very clever part of the evening's entertainment. The laughable satires "A Trip to the Coronation" and "He Hocks in Here," the latter a take-off of David Warfield's great success "The Auctioneer" were given with a vim and snap which caused all to become decidedly enthustastic. Numerous opportunities are afforded for the introduction of novel and pretty dances and the singing of catchy songs, both solos and chorus, and there were all done in excellent style.

The vaudeville bill which occupied the latter part of the programme was comprised of Charles Robinson, eccentric character comedian; James and Sadie Leonard, comedy sketch artists; John Lyons, grotesque comedian and juggler Richard Wild and the Japanese gymasts, the Yamamato brothers.

The Rentz-Santley company will appear at the Grand to-night and to-morrow night, with matinee Saturday.

George S. Starling, who has been identified for many years in a managerial capacity with some of the very best theatrical attractions, announces the appearance of Miss Lavinia Shannon in the original John Brougham version of "Lady Audley's Secret" at the Grand Opera house next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The play is a very strong one, and no doubt, under Mr Starling's able management, it will be presented with every attention to detail. Miss Shannon is well known to local theater-goers and her recent success here in "Beyond Pardon" has added greatly to her reputation as an actress of rare ability. Undoubtedly she is fully qualified to adequately portray the many exacting emotions required by the part of Lady Audley.

The company injudes Theodore Bab ock, Giles Shine, Doan Borup, Marshall Farnum, Thad Shine, Hudson Liston, Millie Liston, Violet Stewart, Louise Muldener and others. Matinee

Poll's Theater

Every act on the three-feature Poli bill should be seen this week. There is a splendid array of talent. Keno, Welch and Melrose have their crobatic comedy work as one of the big things this week and their human bridge and ladder feat is a startler. The trio work a 'series of marvelous tricks and the clown member furnishes lots of sport. Isabelle Urquhart and her company have a dainty sketch, "Even Stephen." This is an artistic and amusing performance in every way. Laura Comstock, besides offering some very special scenery, has a good trio of boy singers.

Others are the King and Huber company, the Garrity sisters with songs and dances, the Four Juggling Johnsons in a splendid juggling feat and Rado and Bertram in a good comedy sketch.

Mosher's bull terriers, with their bagpunching act, are very slick dogs and olways receive a big hand. The vitagraph has new views. Prices: Evenings, 10, 20 and 30 cents; afternoons, 10 and 20 cents; ladies at matinees, 10 cents.

HENRY LEE: THE IMPERSONATOR Next week Henry Lee, the great impersonator of great men, past and present, will present his famous act. Lee's work is so exact and wonderful as to be almost startling. Besides this, there is the very interesting feature of the dressing-room work, for white pre paring for each character the curtain s drawn, showing the artist "making up" in his room, assisted by his valets That he is an adept in the art goes without saying, for the marvelous changes he perfects in such brief time are the proof. His engagement here is week only. Popular prices as usual.

Sir Frederick Holder, the first speaker of the Australian commonwealth house of representatives, started life as a schoolmaster in South Australia, of which colony he was premier when federation was accomplished. He has been for many years a Methodist lay preacher, and he has never permitted any political work to interfere with his preaching engagements. The first commoner of the commonwealth frequently figures in the pulpits of the Melbourne Methodist churches.

Holland believes it has brought to an end its thirty-year war with the ancient empire of Atjeh, in the north of the island of Sumatra. The war began in 1872. The sultan of Atjeh and his son have surrendered to the military governor of the province. Lieutenant General Van Heurtz, who has received from Queen Wilhelmina the Grand Cross of the Order of William. The whole of Holland is rejoicing, for scarcely a famtly exists that has not some relative either in active service in the Dutch Indies or lost during the long war.

Kang Yu Wai, a rich and powerful Chinese reformer, has come to this country in the interest of a movement to have his countrymen, both at home and abroad, take up western customs of life and civilization. He also wants Emperor Kwang Hsu to be ruler in fact as well as in name. Accordingly he is safe only outside the flowery kingdom, for the Dowager Empress would seek nothing better than to have the silken cord tightened around his throat. At one time he was a member of the tsung-li-yamen, China's ruling board, but his revolutionary views got him into disfavor and he left China. This ardent reformer, the first rich man of his race to advocate radical reform, is now on the Pacific coast organizing his countrymen as sharers in the movement he has at heart.

While King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena were recently passing in son whom he may consider dangerous their automobile through a small Ital- or objectionable. Among his first vician village a breakdown occurred and a crowd was attracted to the spot. In the crowd were two English motorists. Secure, as they thought, in speaking in a strange tongue, they carried on the following conversation: "Pretty motor his exile entails the loss of his position "Yes, and the lady is pretty, "More than can be said of the man. Did you ever see such a little man in such a big car?" "I am out of brandy. I wonder if he can supply me. Let's ask. Perhaps he speaks French." "I shall be most happy to oblige you," said the king in perfect English, turning and holding out his flask. Then, as he prepared to leave, he added: "Can I be of any further use to you? My kingdom is at your disposal, and it is not so ed out that admission was by invitasmall as its monarch."

SOME BLUNDERING CITIZENS.

Some enthusiastic and well-meaning citizens of St. Louis, who admire the the Russian aristocracy and has helped fearless and energetic prosecution of them to understand the true nature of Missouri "boodlers" by Mr. Folk, the the policy which their government is Circuit Attorney, tendered that official a house valued at $15,000 as a testimonial of their appreciation of his services o the people of St. Louis. Mr. Folk, and a popular speaker, and M. Reguel while gratified at this recognition of his Wolff, brother of M. Eugen Wolff, the work, declines to accept the testimonial, "I have done," he says, "no more than my duty; no more than my oath of office requires, and cannot accept any emuneration other than the salary allowed me as Circuit Attorney."

Of course a man who has done what Mr. Folk has wouldn't accept extra pay in the shape of a "present" for doing it any more than he would accept the large sum said to have been offered him if he wouldn't do it. The citizens of St. Louis who offered him the house should have known better. If they can persuade him to stay in office and serve them they might properly ask him to do that, and they will be fortunate if he will consent to do it.

MOTOR INTOXICATION. Motor intextention is the latest. It

s the temporary mental disorder of speeding automobilists. It was discovered and named in Paris. At the last meeting of the Societe d'Hypnologie et de Psychologie M. Hachet Souplet spoke of the intoxicating effect of rapid motor locomotion. The mental and moral state of the driver becomes abnormal. He grows vindictive, furiously aggressive, and lets himself be carried away by the angry impulse of the moment. The high rate of speed works him up into the very same state of mind which makes the habitual drinker of alcohol regardless of consequences. Both abuse, swear and use vile language, M. Hachet Souplet quoted a number of instances from police reports of trials of automobilists in which self-control and the sense of dignity entirely deserted gentlemen of high education and breeding. Dr. Berillon, an eminent man, corroborated everything M. Hachet Souplet had said Dr. Berillon knows a motorist who ran over a peasant and rushed on after he did so as furiously as before. He returned home in the state of depression that follows a long rush forward at the pace of an express train, and never gave a thought to his victim on the road until he read three days after how he had killed him. He then felt very sorry, declared himself guilty of the death of the peasant, and settled an annuity on his family. This is scientific, and while it will not cheer those who are wounded or slain by the lunatics it may encourage the lunatics. Will golf-intoxication yet be found necessary to explain the golf

THE POOR GROWING RICHER

The wail that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer continues to be heard, but how about the stubborn facts? The circulation statement for established both for the total amount of money in circulation and the estimated circulation per capita. The best previous record was that of the figures of December 1, 1902. The total money in circulation was then estimated at $2,352,710,158, and the population was figured at 79,686,000, a per capita circulation of $29.52, and this was the second month when the per capita circulation had exceeded $29. The figure for May 1, however, is $29.58, or six cents higher than the old record. The treasury estimates that since December 1 the population of the country has increased 571,000, but the estimate of money in circulation has made a net increase of $21,643,562, advancing, therefore, at a greater rate than the population. During the month of April the treasury officials figure that the money in circulation has increased by almost $22,000,000.

do they continue to wail? Six cents will buy much if it is carefully spent. It will, for instance, buy a cigar and a stick of candy, and it is almost a quarter of the amount needed to buy a ticket to a baseball game? Prosperity is surely on us, and we shall have to be care ful that it doesn't destroy us by causing us to live too high.

RUSSIANIZING FINLAND.

The Russianizing of Finland is going on rapidly. General Bobrikoff, Governor and now practical dictator of Finland, has lost no time in using the power recently conferred upon him of expelling, without legal process, any pertims were Count Mannerheim, M. J. Castren, M. Wentzel Hagestam and M. Reguel Wolff. Great sympathy is felt for the Count and the Countess. He is not a man of great private means, and as manager of the Helsingfors branch of the Northern Bank. His banishment is regarded as an act of private revenge on the part of the Governor for an incident which occurred a little more than a year ago. On that occasion General Kalgorodoff, who then held the post of Governor, forced his way into a private concert given by the Countess on behalf of a charity and was requested to leave by Count Mannerheim, who point-been invited. Another reason given is that the Count has many friends among pursuing in Finland. Of the other exiles M. Hagestam is a retired publisher and bookseller, M. Castren a barrister British Vice-Consul, who was dismissed at the request of the Russian govern ment, is the manager of a wood and paper mill near Imatra. In his case too personal revenge is believed to play a part, for he once turned a Russian gendarme off his premises with the assistance of a water hose.

THE SOUTHERN TABU OF THE PRESIDENT. "Justice" writes to the editor of the Richmond Times Dispatch.

"Since you have been at the pains to endeavor to correct twice in your editorial columns the false report that two members of the Southern Education Board dined at the Unitarian Club banquet in New York where two were also said to have been guests, perhaps you will allow me space to correct several incorrect reports and misrepresentations with reference to invitations given by President Roosevelt to negroes, I should not deem this worth while if I had not read the letter of your matronly correspondent, 'Virwho so severely criticises the authorities of our university for inviting the president to speak there June 17. That he has consented to deliver an address there only twelve days after the date set for his return to Washington from his strenuous western tour is strong evidence of his sincerity in promising some time ago to avail himself of an early opportunity to visit the university. I am quite sure, too, that in spite of adverse criticism, the President will be received at Charlottesville with characteristic Virginia hospitality. . "The president did invite Professor Booker T. Washngton to dine with him one evening more than a year ago, because this would give him a good opportunity to hear the suggestions which he knew in advance that wise colored leader wished to make with reference to the advisability of appointing white democrats of the best class to prominent Federal offices in the south. The president is such a busy man that he often invites to luncheon or dinner gentlemen who have business with him, and that without any idea of raising the question of social equality. The president having disclaimed any intention to set an example of introducing such equality at the White House or in the south, would it not be well to accept his declaration contained in his letter to Mr. Clark Howell, and let that old matter rest? When Queen Victoria entertained Professor Washington and his wife at luncheon would any one presume to say that by that act of hospitality to a great negro educator she meant that Englishman and negroes should all be on terms of social equality in South Africa? When Professor James Bryce, author of 'The American Commonwealth,' entertained this same educator and his wife at dinner, does any one suppose that great scholar and statesman imagined that he was setting

They taught him to hemsitch and they taught him how to sing,
And how to make a basket out of variegated and when Lady Henry Somerset invited them to spend several days in her home, dld those noble ladies wish to be understood as favoring social equality between the races in South Africa and in our southern states? That does not follow by any means. They were simply recognizing the great work done by that wise I eader of the negroes in America. They doubtless honored him as an exceptional man of his race, and as he is the nelv negro who has been invited to the family table in the White House (so far as we are informed), ought we not to regard the president's invitation as also exceptoinal

"But 'Virginia' will want to know why negro guests attended the president's official reception. Well, that can be easily and satisfactorily explained. Ever since negroes have held Federal offices of a certain raik in Washington they and their wives have been invited, as a matter of course, to these formal receptions, just as the minister from Hayti and wif wife (who are negroes) are invited to the more formal state dinners at the White House. Such negro officials were invited to official receptions by Cleveland, Harrison and McKinley, and it may be taken for granted that no president would appoint a man of any color to a Federal office in Washington and then ignore or 'sunb' that officer whenever invitations were sent out for an official

The Beautiful Summer Millinery.

UR Millinery Shop is a-riot of bloom these days. Been inspired by the big influx of mid-Summer Hat orders to make this second opening quite as important really as was the first.

There never was a time when Hats were lovlier, that's certain. What with the be-wilderment of color, the marvelous grace of Hat-line, together with the free play of the Milliner's own taste if she be an artist, for in a way this is a Spring of distinctive individuality in Hats too, the season is remarkable and will "stand out" as a period of great Hat beauty.

=Our Hats at $5====

To be sure only an artist could get up such Hats for the money. The ordinary Milliner would cheap en them. The ordinary Milliner couldn't succeed in making a Hat at $5 that could be put into the same class with the most expensive Hats so far as good taste and smartness of outline in concerned.

Yes, the Summer Millinery Show extends all over our big Millinery Salon from one end to the otherfrom the tables that show Hats at $25 down to the tailor or Outing Hats at $1.98.

Come in and stroll about and see what's new in the Paris and New York Millinery world. You may be quite sure its here.

inance Board Wants to Know Why the City Should Spend $2,700 When it Can Get a Lot for $1 000.

The board of finance held a regular neeting last evening. The following etter was received from the fire comissioners in reference to the Fourth ard engine house:

New Haven, May 7, 1903. To the Honorable Board of Finance of the City of New Haven:

Gentlemen-At a meeting of the board of fire commissioners held May 6, 1903, was instructed to submit to your honorable body the following resolution,

The board of fire commissioners, having accepted your recommendation to visit the several locations regarding the selection of a suitable building lot for a new fire engine house in the Fourth ward, viz., lot corner of Lamberton and Hurlburt streets, lot on First street and the Lynch property on Kimberly avenue, beg to advise your honorable body that the full board of fire commissioners visited the several lots spoken of, and after due consideration are unaninously agreed that the Jirch B. Foote ot on Howard avenue is the most suitable for all practicable fire purposes, and, by vote, adhere to their former action in recommending the purchase of the said Jireh B. Foote lot

Respectfully submitted, est: S. J. METZGER, Attest: Secretary Board of Fire Commission-

After Clerk Norris read the letter it was ordered placed on file. The following letter was then read: "I have a lot at the corner of Lamberton and Hurlburt streets, which I wish to offer the city of New Haven for a fire engine house site, fifty by one hundred and fifty feet, for twenty dollars per front foot, the lot facing on Lamberton: or, in other words, one thousand dollars for the lot. "WILLIAM BUTTON,

"Per C. Welton."
One of the members then said that it seemed a funny thing for the city to spend $2,700 for the Foote lot when one just as suitable can be purchased for

It was then voted that a copy of the Button letter be sent to the fire commissioners and that they be asked whether Mr. Button's proposition had been considered or not. If it has been considered the board of finance wishes the fire commissioners to advise them in reference to it. The engine house matter was then tabled.

The following transfers were asked for and granted: By the controller-From contingent to election account, $2,152.80; from contingent to board of selectmen, $75.25. By the police commissioners-The transfer of $28.62 from naintainng and repairing buildings to enting polling places. The controller's report was then read and the payroll signed. The meeting

While Mrs. Polk was in the bathroom he window curtains caught fire from lighted candle she carried. Thinking only of the safety of the other tenants in the house, she tried to put the blaze out, and in doing so her bathrobe caught fire. She jumped into the bathb and turned on the water, hoping to extinguish the flames, but not before she had been severely burned.

EDUCATORS' CONVENTION.

INTERESTING MEETING IN FOY AUDITORIUM LAST EVENING.

speeches by President Arthur T. Hadley, Ernest J. Lederle and Mtss Lina L. Rogers-Audience a Large One-The Addresses in Brief-To-day's Pro-

Last evening in Foy auditorium was held an extremely interesting session of the sixth annual conference of Eastern Public Education associations, which is being held here under the auspices of the Womens' School association of New Haven.

Speeches were given by President Hadley of Yale, E. L. Lederle, commis. doner of health of New York city, and Miss Lina L. Rogers, supervising school nurse of New York city.

After a short address of welcome by Miss Beach, President Hadley was introduced. His address was in substance as follows:

We of New Haven are much interested in the new educational movement that is growing so strongly. I am very pleased at the interesting programe which you have arranged. practical and what is of the greatest importance it is also useful. We have a programme which gives the basis for education in a sensible light. The older methods of education which are being superseded by the new movement is typified best in the story of the boy who attended a school where the main and only subject was the crossing of "ts" and perfection in grammar and syntax. On examination two sentences were given the young man to correct. They were: "A hen has four legs" and "He done it." The boy thinking it one sentence wrote "He didn't done it. God done it." This speaks loudly of the old time methods.

"In the present up-to- date school let there be good order, good rules, quiet ways and good hygiene, which is a necessity. There must be firmness of action and firmness of purpose.

The great importance of correct early training cannot be overestimated. It reminds me of the workman in a Pittsburg steel mill. He picked up a piece of steel and tempered it in a The next piece took ten times as long. Questioned, he replied: The first piece was carefully tempered by a man who took pains and time to do it. I can make a tool that will be a perfect one. The second piece was tempered by a man who either was in a hurry or else had his mind on something else. It takes ten times as long for me to make a tool out of it, and it will not compare with the first one in quality when done.' is exactly the situation. If the primary schools will exercise the greatest care in the earlier education of children there will be no breakdown, no failure in the tempering of the character of the child in after life and education.

Miss Lina L. Rogers spoke briefly on the subject of "Nurses in the Public Schools." In substance she spoke as

"On the first of Otcober work was begun in the matter of sanitary care of school children by nurses. A diagnosis slip is given to the nurse who gives the child a consultation slip. Many cases occur which are difficult to cope with. One child took care of four children while suffering from eye disease. The children had to be taken to day nurseries while the child was appointed. There are now twentyeight nurses who care for one hundred schools with 75,000 children. The mothers help quite a bit but owing to ignorance of the mothers, who cannot read directions, the nurses go to each house and demonstrate the treatment. The board of education helps us greatly, giving all bandages, lint and all the necessities of a hospital. We are in the greatest need of a better place to operate. As Dr. Lederle has told you, the work has been very successful and is constantly improving and growing."

At the close of the addresses Dr. Lederle discussed various questions with those interested. His subject was "Medical Inspection of Schools."

THIS EVENING'S RECEPTION. At the reception this evening from 8 to 10 at the pariors of the Y. M. C. A. the receiving party will be composed of the officers of the Women's School association of New Haven, together with delegates representing the various women clubs of New Haven. ### M'ALL MISSION.

Annual Meeting of the Association in Hartford,

Hartford, May 7 .- The twentieth annual meeting of the American McAll association was begun this morning at the Farmington Avenue Congregational church, with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Stone, wife of the Rev. Dr. George M. Stone of the Asylum Avenue Baptist church. There was a large number of delegates present from all parts of the country. The address of welcome was made by Miss M. B. Lewis. The response was by Mrs. Parkhurst, wife of the Rev. Dr. C. H. Parkhurst of New York.

The report of the general secretary, Mrs. Harriet Harvey of Philadelphia, showed that the year had been one of strengthening and growth to many of the auxiliaries. There have been two losses by death in the officers of the association during the year, being Mrs. James F. Stone and Miss Lilla S. Pechin of Philadelphia. The report of the corresponding secretary was given by Mrs. H. L. Wayland. The luncheon and social hour was from 12:30 until 2 o'clock. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Abraham R. Perkins, was presented, showing the finances of the association April 6, 1903. The total receipts were $55,027.71. The cash receipts from auxiliaries amounted to $25,567.04. There have been two legacies during the year, one of $10,000 from Miss H. S. Benson and one of $5,000 from James R. Taylor. London, May 7 .- The rush for prospectuses for the Transvaal loan was unprecedented. At the hour of issue thousands of people stood in the opuring rain, four deep, in the streets leading to the Bank of England. The scene in the lobbies of the bank during the first issuing of the prospectuses resembled a football scrimmage, in which the weakest went to the wall. Later street hawkers sold copies of the prospectuses as fast as they could get the cash. crowds continued to enter the bank long after the usual closing hour. It was understood late this afternoon that the Transvaal loan had already been subscribed for twenty times.

KING EDWARD'S BALD HEAD.

New Coin in India and Trouble It is Causing.

King Edward's bald head is seriously threatening the stability of British rule in India. It seems that on the new rupee, just issued by the Indian mint, the profile burst of the king appears hald and uncrowned. Therefore native feeling is stirred to its profoundest depths, and the effigy of royalty has been brought into ridicule and contempt. Also it is taken by the million of the Indian empire as a direct insult to them that the kaiser-i-hind should be put on Indian coins in condition which appears to them improper and even immodest. In India every respectable person would no more think of uncovering his head in public than than he would of well, there is nothing that he might do which would be more immodest. A poor Indian may have a wardrobe made up only of a breechclous and still be good form, but let him remove his head covering in public and he commits serious breach of decency. Only in the seclusion of his own home, when no stranger are by, does custom permit him to be uncovered. On the rupes of the reign of victoria the queen appeared crowned, and all was well: but the Indian mint, with singular disregard of native feeling on the subject, has placed on the nev rupces the head of her son, not only un crowned, but bald. It is as if some Indian rajah had built a statue of the king in Hyde park and represented the monarch in a suit of pajamas.

England governs many millions o people in India, and has about 200,000 white people there to do it. That she is able to accomplish this remarkable feat in the governmental way is owing to the fact that she has been studiously careful, since the Indian mutiny, to study the racial prejudices and customs of the inhabitants. It is by a close attention to little things that she perpetu-

The rebellion which followed the insistence upon the use of the greased

Chainless, pedals clearing the ground at least six inches, cushion frame, with

He says that unnecessary fancy work should be avoided to reduce cost, and that copper rims are preferable to steel or wood. It is also important that bicycles intended for the Chinese trade should have luggage carriers and brakes of simple construction,-Nashville Banner.

Mr. Elmer Botsford, of New York, to Deliver a Free Lecture on Alaska Saturday Evening Next-Orchestral Club to Play in Foy Auditorium Next Sunday.

Saturday evening next, in Foy Auditorium, a lecture is to be given by Mr. Elmer F. Botsford, of New York, on Alaska and the Klondike." It will be illustrated with over one hundred views and will be one of the treats of the season. The entertainment is a complimentary one to members of the association, their friends and the general public

The speaker is well known as a lecturer and ras met with great success in this field. He is a lawyer and is president of the Joseph Ladus company, of Yukon. He has been to Alaska and the Klondike many times and his lectures are not merely book lectures. but contain personal experiences, which only make a lecture of this kind of interest to the general public.

Mr. Botsford has in his collection of views a complete set of views of Alaska scenery taken during a trip down the coast to Dawson, and contrasting the old and new methods of transportation. The views of the railway which winds its way up the mountain from Skagway are said to be especially fine. He has also a number of views of the native Indians, with their curious lodges and totem poles.

At the regular mass meeting for men next Sunday afternoon as usual in Foy Auditorium, the speaker will be the Rev. Dr. M. E. Phillips, 'educational and religious director of the association. A feature of the meeting will be a musical programme by the New Haven Orchestral club. The club has been heard before at these Sunday afternoon meetings and are adways greeted by a large audience.

Their programme next Sunday has been carefully prepared and will be particularly adapted to the occasion. The full orchestra will be present and a feature of the programme will be a duett by Messrs. Field and Clark of

THE LATE JAMES H. BURGESS. The following obituary and appreciof the late James H. Burgess, formerly of Westville, where his parents now reside, and which is quoted from an Elmira, N. Y., paper, will be interesting to his many local friends:

"James Howard Burgess, whose death was noted in last Tuesday's Advertised, was born in New Haven, Conn., October 8, 1867. In May, 1884, he removed to Elmira with his parents and finished his education here in this city. He was employed as bookkeeper for the firm of Tompkins, Fassett & Cracker as long as they were in business. Then he entered the office of Herendeen & Mandeville. Here he was rated as one of the best accountants. He remained with the above firms until the fall of 1901 when he received a most deserving offer from the Rand Drill Company, of North Tarrytown. He accepted this offer. At this time Mr. Burgess' health began to fail. under careful supervision of skilled doctors he began to regain his

Thousands of tired, fretted mothers, of skin-tortured and disfigured babies, of all ages and conditions, have certified to almost miraculous cures by the Cuticura remedies when the best medical skill had falled to reliove, much less cure."

Cuticura Treatment is local and constitutional -- complete and perfect, pure, sweet and wholesome. Bathe the ffected surfaces with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, dry without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and lastly take Cuticura Resolvent to cool and cleanse the blood, and put every func-tion in a state of healthy activity.

More great cures of simple, scrofulous and hereditary humours are daily made by Cuticura remedies than by all blood and skin remedies combiged, a single set being often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases

YALE, NAVY AND U. OF P.

To Meet in Three-Cornered Boat Race on Saturday of This Week.

Yale and the University of Pennsyl vania are likely to meet in a rowing race next Saturday. Yale will present her second, the Quakers their 'varsity crew. If it is finally arranged the match will be a three-cornered affair, the competitors being Yale, the University of Pennsylvania and the Annapolis naval cadets.

Last Saturday the University of Pennsylvania sent its crew down to Annapolis to race Annapolis in the annual dual rowing match between these two eights. The race proved a fizzle because of a high wind and the swash of some big boats which sfamped the Quakers. It was really no race and the Annapolis cadets invited the Quakers to try it over again. They suggested this week Saturday and the Quakers seemed to be agreeable. The Annapolis management telegraphed to Captain Cameron B. Waterman of the Yale 'varsity crew, asking if Yale had any objection to the University of Pennsylvania coming into the race. He answered that Yale agreed to the proposition. Yale has not met the University of Pennsylvania on the water since 1897, when the Quakers rowed with Harvard and Cornell against the blue at Poughkeepsie. Yale finished a close second to Cornell and the University of Pennthe triangular race next Saturday against the Quakers and Annapolis: Stroke, Adams: No. 7, Cross: No. 6, Miller: No. 5, Stubbs; No. 4, Fish; No. 3. Shaw; No. 2, Auchineless; and bow, Johnson; cosswain, Minor.

The Grand avenue police were notified and the body removed to Flynn's undertaking establishment. The man was about forty-five years of age, heavily built and well dressed.

The body had been in the water too ong for positive identification, but it is supposed by the police and Medical Examiner Bartlett to be that of Cautain Thomas Coggeshall of the twemasted schooner Oakwoods, who was drowned off Morris Cove on the evening of April 3. Captain Coggeshall and Captain McGann of the schooner Eaglet were upset in a yawlboat in a choppy sea. Captain McGann managed to hold on to the bottom of the boat but his companion perished before help came. Captain Coggeshall's family in Newport, R. I., have been communi-

We are indebted to Mr. Andrews for his kind and valuable assistance in serving the refreshments. A very agreeable surprise was given Mrs. Reed. One of the girls presented her with a beautiful orange cake. The few fortunate ones around. Thus another milestone has been passed in the history of this school and o the school motto, "As we do pass this way but once, let us do all the kind deeds we can," has been fulfilled. This school was forced to move into these quarters, as those that promised and pledged to help it did not keep their promise or pledges and left the founder thirty dollars in debt. We believe that there will be people raised up to help carry on this noble work, as we believe it is of God.

YESTERDAY'S STOCK MARKET Prices Go Down Without Any Clear

Renson. New York, May 7 .- Prices went downwards on the stock exchange to-day without any very clear reason, although the theories current for the decline tool a wide range over the whole financial field on the part of the board room traders, who had the market to themselves. The factor which came in for most discussion to-day in seeking an explanation for the decline was the problem of the foreign exchanges and possible gold exports. The developments in connection with the new Transvaal loan, for which subscriptions were open to-day, were of foremost significance as bearing on the exchange question. The terms of the loan are much as expected and the strength sylvania was third. The Yale second of sterling reflected the continued direccrew oarsmen will row as follows in tion of funds towards London. Subscriptions for American account are small, but the maturity of foreign loans in this market makes the London pressure for money effective in New York. Only 3 per cent. of the subscriptions is required to be paid on application, but the over-subscription promises to be so great that it is estimated that applicants will not receive over 5 per cent. of the amounts asked for. On this basis the 3 per cent on the total applicants. sis the 3 per cent, on the total application would amount to something over half the total sum of the full subscrip-

The immediate pressure for credits in London is thus easily understood. Another cause to which the day's depression is attributed was the slump in the sinking fund bonds of the United States Shipbuilding company. These bonds have never had more than a nominal market, but their last sale price on the exchange was 80. Sales to-day were made as low as 49. No explanation of this incident was offered. There was a much greater show of authority to-day for assertions that the Rock Island and St. Louis and San Francisco deal was about to be consummated. The market closed, in fact, with a general conviction that an announcement was imminent. Amalgamated was well sustained. The market closed steady, but only slightly above

Bonds were irregular. The total sales, par value, aggregated $1,410,000. United States twos coupon advanced 1/4 and the new fours declined 1/4 on the

When his death was announced, the school room was filled with weeping, for he was a boy member, and in the Junior Christian of the Baptist church officiated. Interlove him. Far beyond his years he understood the deeper truths of religion. His atstreet, who has been in impaired tentive, absorbing mind drank in every word from the pulpit, and his unfailing memory rehearsed it afterward in the home. To their parents sitting in their grief comes the vision of the child happy in the company of spirits celestial, and in their hearts abides his patient, pure and loving presence as a priceless memory.

PAPER.

The large use of Old Colonial Furniture in modern house furnishing has led to a demand for reproduction of some of the beautiful old wall papers that adorned the walls of famous colontal residences built early in the last century. Some of the best are the "Shepherdess" pattern from the walls of the old Livingston maner at Catskill-onthe-Hudson; the "Rose and Anemone" from the Wadsworth homestead in the Genesee valley, and many more that, as we have not the space to enumerate, we would like to show you.
