

KANSAS CITIES UNDER WATER.

Hundreds of Lives Lost and Millions of Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

Thousands Driven From Their Homes to the Hills--Fire Adds Horror to the Deluge.

THE STRIKEN TOPEKAS.

Conservative Estimate Places Loss of Life at 175 to 200.

Topeka, Kansas, May 31.—To-day has been one of great horror and suspense to the people of North Topeka and of Topeka. Huddled together on hills and house-tops and in trees, with little or nothing to eat, they are just beginning to realize the extent of the awful calamity that has befallen them through flood and fire.

With 175 or 200 lives lost; millions of dollars of property destroyed; with hundreds of pistol shots as signals of distress, blended with the agonizing cries of the unwilling inhabitants of the treetops and roofs of houses, and the waters creeping upward and then slowly subsiding and alternately changing hope to despair, the capital city has passed the most memorable Sabbath day of its existence.

The arduous work of the heroic rescuers was not abandoned in the least by the conditions which confronted them. For long, dreary hours, knee-deep in water and sometimes in water up to their necks, they worked with night and main. To-night they can point to 200 or more rescued persons, who otherwise might have been swept away in the current.

Briefly stated, the present condition of the flood is this:

- One hundred and seventy-five to two hundred people drowned. Eight thousand people without homes. Four million dollar loss of property. Floating dead, five. Floating bodies seen, twenty. People missing, 200. Houses burned as the result of fire in lumber from stacking time, probably 200. Burning houses floated away, setting fire to others and thus causing the spread of the flames. Banks collapsed, two. Wholesale grocery stores flooded, two. Big business blocks almost ready to crumble, fifty. Wholesale commission houses deserted, six.

Rock Island trains containing 150 passengers held by high water.

City waterworks plant useless.

The known dead: Karl Rupp, Orville Rupp, two Rupp girls, G. P. Garrett's five-year-old son, and twenty unidentified bodies.

Leading men have made a careful examination of the flood and all its conditions, and as a result of their investigation they give 250 as the probable number of lives lost. Amore conservative estimate places the number of dead at 175. The higher number is as likely to be correct as the lower.

The number of heads is merely a matter of guess. Twenty members of rescuing parties tell of how they saw people drop from houses to be swept away by the flood, and others tell of men who, terrified at the approach of fire, dropped into the water, where they sank and did not reappear.

This estimated number of dead does not include the large number classed as missing, who cannot otherwise be accounted for. Neither does it include the number who are supposed to have lost their lives in the flood. In the latter class there is absolutely no means of arriving at even an approximate number of victims. The water is so high and the current so strong that all that can be done now is to rescue those who are in the buildings surrounded by water. It will be at least three days before the correct number of dead will be known.

Work of rescuing the victims of the flood is being pushed with vigor. Better results have characterized the efforts of the organized forces since 4 o'clock this afternoon than during all the preceding twenty-four hours. Two little steam launches are now puffing up and down the river picking up survivors.

A larger steamboat is expected here by a special train on the Rock Island within twenty-four hours. If possible to run the train, the boat will be brought to a point two miles above the city and launched there.

A train load of small boats was in use to-day, but they were useless in battling against the mighty current.

A wire cable is stretched across the Kansas avenue bridge. To this will be attached a sand dip and refugees will be brought across in this. If the flood shall not rise further and those not yet reached can keep their places a few hours longer there need not necessarily be much larger loss of life.

Large contributions have already been received for the benefit of the sufferers. The amount given by Topeka citizens alone will aggregate $100,000. To this is to be added an immense quantity of clothing, provisions and general supplies. Outside towns have generously offered aid, notable among which is Galveston, Texas.

To-night the portion of Topeka not affected by the flood is crowded with refugees and people from the surrounding country who have come to witness the flood conditions.

There is great anxiety to-night as to what to-morrow will bring forth. If the river shall not receive any more

KANSAS CITY'S FLIGHT.

Water Supply Cut Off--Dead Floating Down the Rivers.

Kansas City, Mo., May 31.—With the waters of the Kaw and Missouri rivers nearly four feet above the disastrous level of 1881 and their swollen tide spread over twelve square miles of the city and its suburbs, Kansas City to-night is suffering from the worse flood of its history.

In the valley of the Kaw or Kansas river, between this city and Kansas City, Kans., twelve bodies were counted as they floated past during the day. In nearly every instance they were lying across pieces of wreckage. On the roof of a cabin that came swirling down could be seen the body of a woman and her child.

The financial loss has been increasing all day and bids fair to continue. The heaviest loss is at Armourdale, where the losses to the packing industry and others is placed conservatively at $2,500,000. Argentine, another suburb, has suffered losses estimated at $500,000. Other losses which cannot now be estimated will increase the total very materially.

Armourdale, with a population of 15,000 people, is deserted and its site marked only by the tops of buildings and a number of fires.

Seven fires, believed to be chiefly box cars burning, could be seen from the bluffs to-night. There is some danger that the flames will spread to the partially submerged buildings, adding greatly to the already heavy loss.

The fire started from the flowing of the flood into a lime house.

The refugees from Armourdale in the immense auditorium of the convention hall, although several hundred found refuge with friends in more fortunate parts of the city.

Two-thirds of Argentine is under water. More than 4,500 people in this suburb found safety in the higher part of the town.

All bridges over the Kaw river are down and the only communication with Armourdale is by boat.

Kansas City to-night is without a water supply, the flood having disabled the pumping station and the utmost care is being taken that no fires shall break out. Even a small fire, it is feared, would start a conflagration. Only one street car line in the city is running to-night owing to the disabling of the power plant by the flood.

The railroad yards are blockaded with trains unable to get out. Not a train has gone out of the city except to the east to-day and it is said there is little prospect of an improvement in the situation for several days.

The stage of the river at 6 o'clock to-night was 20 feet 7 inches. The previous high record was made in 1881, when the river rose to 26 feet 3 inches. By to-morrow morning, according to the prediction of Superintendent O'Connor of the weather bureau, the level will be 31 feet.

The Union passenger station, by the rise of the flood to-day, was rendered practically useless. At one end the water was three feet deep and at the other four feet. In the baggage room baggage was fastened to tackle and suspended in the air out of reach of the water.

Numerous rescues, some of them made by the narrowest of margins, occurred during the day.

Two-thirds of Argentine, a railroad and manufacturing town on the south bank of the Kansas river, six miles from Kansas City, is inundated by ten to twenty feet of water, and probably $500,000 of damage has been done. Forty-five hundred of the sixty-five hundred inhabitants are homeless and nearly three thousand are destitute.

Five bridges have been swept away, all the railroad tracks and factories are under water and business is entirely suspended.

The Santa Fe railroad's loss is very heavy, but can scarcely be estimated until the flood abates. The railroad has one hundred miles of track in the Argentine yards and several miles of freight cars stand submerged. Some cars have broken loose from their trucks and floated down the river. The current has left the old channel and has moved south, taking all the buildings in its path. The Santa Fe track is under water all the way to Holliday, eight miles from Argentine, up the Kansas river valley. The Turner bridge, three miles above Argentine, went out at 10:30 this morning. Its wreckage lodged against the county bridge at Argentine, which succumbed at noon. The Belt line steel railroad bridge, just below the county bridge, fell immediately afterward. Then in succession the Twenty-fourth street bridge and county bridge at Fifth street were carried away.

The railroad bridge was valued at $15,000 and the other four at $25,000 each, making the bridge loss $175,000. Five hundred dwelling houses are under water and with a further rise many will be swept away.

The river is full of wreckage, and

The supply department at Leavenworth, Kan., will be available for the shipment of tents to the flooded localities should these be found necessary.

THREE WITNESSES RETURN.

Boys Who Turned State's Evidence in Waterbury.

Waterbury, May 31.—Three of the boys who turned state's evidence in the preliminary hearing of the strikers charged with murderous assault of the trolleyman at Waterville on the night of February 26, and who suddenly disappeared last week, returned last night. It is expected others will arrive to-morrow.

The boys were found by officers at Otis, Mass., near New Boston, about fourteen miles over the Massachusetts border. Write by Massachusetts justices were served on them as they slept on the shores of a lonely lake. The boys will testify at the trial Tuesday morning.

MANY LIVES ENDANGERED.

OLD DOMINION LINER LOST HER PROPELLER.

New Steamer Monroe Rendered Helpless at Midnight Saturday--Drifting for Some Time at Mercy of the Waves--Taken in Tow by the Jefferson of the Same Line.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 31.—The Old Dominion line steamer Monroe, Captain Hulpin, from New York for Norfolk, Va., discovered to-day about ten miles off this city in a disabled condition. She had lost her propeller and was drifting about at the mercy of the waves. She had a cargo of four thousand tons, and carried 200 passengers. It appears from the story of the mate, who came ashore, that the Monroe was passing Little Egg Harbor inlet when the propeller slipped off and went to the bottom. This was about midnight Saturday. It was some time during Sunday morning when the passengers became aware that an accident had happened, as the boat was then drifting with the tide. The accident was explained and the passengers accepted conditions without a murmur, believing, as the captain stated, that it was only a matter of a few hours when a passing steamer would pick them up.

It was nearly 10 o'clock, however, before the steamer Jefferson, also of the Old Dominion line, happened by and took her in tow. The Jefferson was bound for New York. It was decided to anchor off Atlantic City and then send the mate and a crew ashore to wire for assistance to New York. This was done and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon another vessel arrived and took the disabled steamer in tow. For a while it was feared that the Monroe would be washed ashore. The ocean was rough and the currents were carrying the boat towards the inner bar when assistance arrived.

New York, May 31.—Captain Dole of the Old Dominion line steamer Jefferson from Newport News and Norfolk, which arrived to-night, reports that the steamer Monroe of the same line, which left New York yesterday afternoon for Norfolk and Newport News, was sighted at 9 a. m. to-day, at anchor off Brigantine shoals on the New Jersey coast. The Jefferson steamed along side and found that the Monroe was disabled by the loss of her propeller. A hawser was immediately put out and by 10 o'clock was made fast to the Monroe. The Jefferson then proceeded with the disabled vessel in tow toward New York. After seven hours towing the hawser was transferred to the Merritt & Chapman Wrecking Co.'s tug I. J. Merritt, which had been sent from New York to the assistance of the Monroe. The Merritt then proceeded for Norfolk where the vessels should arrive Monday afternoon.

CARS PLUNGED INTO SEA.

FORTY INJURED IN A WRECK ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Train Derailed Near Santa Barbara, Cal., Part of It Going Down a Forty-foot Embankment and Two of the Coaches Into the Pacific--Some of the Injured.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 31.—A Southern Pacific passenger train was derailed at a point about a mile south of Rincon last night. Four cars plunged down an embankment forty feet high, two of them being partly submerged in the sea. About forty people were injured, some of them seriously. Many sustained broken bones and were badly bruised. A woman whose name was given as Mrs. J. C. Smith had both arms crushed so badly that they will have to be amputated at the shoulder. A special train which left this city early in the evening returned at midnight with all of those who had been injured, physicians having dressed their wounds on the way to this city.

The wounded were taken at once to the Cottage hospital and every physician in the city is on duty to-night. Many of those whose injuries were not severe were taken on a special train to Los Angeles. It is a matter of the greatest surprise that none were killed, as many people were fastened beneath the wreckage.

Among the injured are: Mrs. Nason Johnson, Fort Madison, Ia., bruised and badly cut about the head. A. W. Garr, Lawton, O. T., cut and bruised. J. F. Carr, Creston, Ia., cut and bruised. Mrs. J. F. Carr, Creston, Ia., bruised. Mrs. Alice Stebbens, Ithaca, N. Y., cut and bruised. Mrs. J. M. Casey, Fort Madison, Ia., cut and bruised. Robert Casey, bruised and slightly cut. Nelson Johnson, Fort Madison, Ia., internally injured.

Mrs. C. H. Smith, Los Angeles, both arms will have to be amputated; internal injuries. Train Agent O. M. Wells, right shoulder and back injured. It is not known what caused the wreck. It is believed, however, that the rails spread as the engine was passing over them.

CHARLES EMORY SMITH'S REPLY.

Former Postmaster General's Answer to the Tuloek Charges.

Washington, May 31.—Postmaster General Payne to-day made public the reply of former Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith to the charges of former Cashier S. W. Tuloek, of the Washington city postoffice, regarding the postal administration. Mr. Smith says that he investigated the allegations of irregularities when they were made, and that the evidence adduced in most cases was believed to be a justification of the transactions complained of, adding that the criticism betrayed a lack of knowledge of conditions incident to the Spanish war and the measures necessary to meet the requirements.

Mr. Payne said to-day that Mr. Smith's letter practically closes the Tuloek incident, although other documents on the subject will be made public later. These include the replies of former First Assistant Postmaster General Heath and of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, the report on the former investigation of the Tuloek charges, to which Mr. Smith refers, and the reports of the postoffice inspectors and civil service representatives who investigated the Washington postoffice. Owing to the great volume of documents Mr. Payne said that all of the documents except Mr. Heath's reply will be briefed, although the documents will be open to public inspection, if wanted. The first answer of Mr. Smith to the Tuloek charges will not be made public. Mr. Payne explained to-day that Mr. Smith had forgotten about Mr. Tuloek's charges and the investigation he ordered, and until the papers were accidentally found by Francis W. Whitney, secretary to Mr. Payne, it was not known that the charges had been investigated at the time. These papers showed that Mr. Smith had divided the charges into groups, noting directions for investigation as to each group and subsequently recording against each group the results of the investigation. These results constitute "the exhibit" to which Mr. Smith refers in his letter. Mr. Payne said that Mr. Smith in his prior letter had entirely forgotten the Tuloek charges and did not recall the name or the fact that he had investigated the charges.

Holyoke Papermakers Decide Not to Strike.

Holyoke, Mass., May 31.—Eagle lodge of paper makers without a dissenting vote, decided not to call a strike of all paper-makers in this city because the American Writing Paper company has refused the demand of the union that all local mills be unionized. This demand will be passed over at present and the grievance committee of the union will present the new wage schedule to the manufacturers this week.

Professor Stokes at Groton, Mass.

Groton, Mass., May 31.—Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president, who came to attend the exercises at the Groton school where her two sons, Theodore, Jr., and Kermit, are students, passed a very quiet Sunday. With her two sons and Mrs. Cowles, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roosevelt attended the usual morning service at St. John's chapel, where Prof. Stokes of Yale talked to the boys on the capacity for work, friendship and faith.

SAFE BLOWERS AGAIN.

Burglarize Postoffice at South Meriden--Got $50 to Money and Stamps.

Meriden, May 31.—Expert burglars entered the postoffice at S. F. Clark's store in South Meriden, Sunday morning, blew open the safe with nitro-glycerine, secured about $50, one-half in stamps and the rest in cash, and departed leaving no clue as to their identity. The police claim it was the work of professionals. They used a sledge hammer on the combination knob and inserted the explosive in the opening without having to bore a hole.

500 WERE KILLED.

Official Estimate of Number of Asiatic Turkey Earthquake Victims.

London, May 31.—The British consul at Erzerum reports that an official estimate places the number of persons killed in the earthquake in the Van district of Asiatic Turkey at 560, while the loss of cattle was incalculable, as owing to the lateness of the spring a large majority of the animals were indoors. Nearly a score of villages were completely destroyed and many more were partially demolished. The center of the seismic disturbance was in the neighborhood of Mount Gipan.

GREAT TEXTILE STRIKES.

100,000 PERSONS WILL BE AFFECTED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Four Additional Firms Agree to Give Shorter Hours--Strength of the Strike in Lowell Will be Tested To-day--Mills to be Opened to Those Wishing to Return.

Philadelphia, May 31.—The general strike of the textile workers of Philadelphia will go into effect officially to-morrow morning, and the leaders of the textile unions to-night claim that fully 100,000 persons will refuse to go to work unless their demands are agreed to. Four additional firms agreed to-day to give their employees the 55 hour week, making a total of forty-seven firms, who employ about 12,000 persons. It is expected that nearly all the dyers in the city will refuse to go to work to-morrow.

Lowell, Mass., May 31.—The strength of organized textile labor in Lowell will be put to the test to-morrow morning, when the gates of the Booth, Massachusetts, Tremont and Suffolk Lawrence, Hamilton, Appleton and Merrimac mills, the seven largest corporations in Lowell, will be thrown open to receive such of the 17,000 or more operatives who nine weeks ago went out on strike on refusal of the agents to increase the wages 10 per cent. as desired to return. Upwards of 10,000 operatives are expected to respond to the call of the mill bells.

The Textile council at a meeting to-night, at which fourteen unions were represented, voted to continue the strike. The statement was made that the stationary firemen in the seven mills who were not affiliated with the strikers, and who were not supposed to be in sympathy with the movement had pledged themselves to go out on strike in the morning. Should this prove true it is expected that the mills must rely to a great extent on water power instead of steam.

EXTENSIVE CHANGES.

To be Made in the Constitution for Races Beginning June 8.

Bristol, R. I., May 31.—The yacht Constitution arrived here from Glen Cove this evening in tow of the tender Satellite, and will be given a thorough overhauling before leaving for Sandy Hook to take part in the series of races which begins there June 8. August Belmont, manager of the Constitution, was a passenger on the Satellite and upon his arrival he had a long conference with Nat Herreshoff, during which the changes to be made in the boat were discussed. Mr. Belmont started on the return trip to New York city this evening.

So far as can be learned it is the intention of Mr. Belmont to have extensive changes made on the Constitution, including an improvement of the smaller spars, and the stepping of a new main mast in place of the one now in use. The Herreshoffs have a new main mast in readiness, so there will be very little delay in this work.

RELIANCE AT NEW LONDON.

Heads a New Mainmast and Sails Eastward.

New London, May 31.—The sloop yacht Reliance was towed into this harbor early this morning by the tender Sunbeam. The morning was spent bending a mainmast. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Reliance got under way and sailed to the eastward.

McGovern Will Forfeit $7,000.

New York, May 31.—Sam H. Harris, manager of Terry McGovern, announced to-night that the doctors in attendance on McGovern, after an examination to-day, had decided that the pugilist would certainly break down by the continued training for his battle with Abe Attell at Fort Erie on June 15. For this reason the match has been declared off and the $1,000 posted with the International Athletic club of Buffalo will be forfeited. McGovern is suffering a severe attack of malaria, the doctors have advised him to go to the mountains and rest for two months, by which time they believe he will be completely restored.

FATAL RIOT AT BALL GAME.

LYNCHING NARROWLY AVERTED IN PITTSBURG.

Six Negro Crap Shooters Draw Revolvers When Ordered from the Grounds--One Beaten to Death After a Desperate Fight and Another Was About to be Hanged When the Mob Came to Its Senses.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—In a riot at a baseball ground at High Bridge, in West Liberty borough, to-day, one negro was killed, two were probably fatally shot, a third was badly beaten and thrown over a hill and three white boys were severely but not fatally wounded. One of the negroes escaped lynching by a very narrow margin.

The dead: Charles Kelly, negro, aged thirty, literally pounded to death. The injured: William Davis, negro, shot in the back and neck, probably fatally; Sandy Garrett, negro, shot in left breast; George Foster, negro, badly beaten with clubs and stones; Leo Merin, white boy, aged seventeen, shot in the hand; John Pierce, white, aged thirteen, shot in the groin; Joseph Tumetha, white, aged seventeen, shot in the face.

The ball ground at High Bridge is a popular resort on Sundays and to-day fully two thousand persons, men, women and boys, had congregated there to witness a game between two of the local amateur teams. Before the game had started, "Sandy" Garrett, a large negro, whom the Belthoover club carried as a mascot, discovered the presence of six negro crap shooters and gamblers who had come upon the ground with their paraphernalia prepared to do business. Sandy objected to this, and backed by a number of the Belthoover men and rooters for the club, ordered the gamblers from the grounds. The latter refused to go and produced a brace of revolvers.

The players then began to retreat and the negroes began shooting. Finding that Sandy had been partially stunned by a blow over the head, his friends rallied and with reinforcements made a rush for the gamblers. By this time probably 1,000 men and boys were in the pursuit. George Foster, one of the fugitives, was caught and terribly beaten and thrown over a hill. The two remaining fugitives continued their flight, using their revolvers freely. They took refuge in a chicken coop standing near the roadside and when Sandy made a dash for the coop, intending to drag the men out, he received a bullet in the breast under the heart and fell to the ground with a groan. Following this up, the men inside the coop would open the door, fire into the crowd and then jump back to safety. One of the mob climbed to the roof and the next time the negro inside opened the door to fire, a huge rock fell and landed on his head. There was a shout of delight from the hundreds. The negro, who was identified later as Charles Kelley, fell forward, and at the same instant both arms went out and from his hands flew two revolvers. There was a rush. The man was literally pounded to death.

Still thirsting for vengeance, the men rushed the coop and in a few moments, amid muffled shouts and curses, they emerged, dragging the second negro with them. Then a shout came "Get a rope; get a rope." In a few moments a stout rope was secured and with shouts of glee, it was tightened about the half dead negro and a dozen men at the other end of it started down the hill, for a distance of at least 300 yards. The negro was bleeding from a dozen cuts and bruises and bullet wounds, and was apparently more than half dead.

Over the rough ground, the victim of the mob's fury was dragged to a large tree. Soon men were climbing the tree to fasten the rope to almb, and it was only a question of minutes when there would have been a lynching. At this critical moment, some one yelled "Let him alone, let the law deal with him. Can't you see he's about all in." The crowd came to its senses apparently and some one else yelled, "Here comes the officers," and this settled the lynching. The negro to all appearances dead, was left lying on the ground with the rope still around his neck and the crowd walked away.

It was fully three hours later before a physician was summoned to examine the victim, who proved to be William Davis. He was later taken to a hospital in a very serious condition.

Search for Murderer. Winsted, May 31.—The entire Winsted police force engaged to-day in a hunt for the slayer of Clarence Carey, a colored youth, aged twenty-four years, who was shot last evening while walking on the Central New England railroad track near the South cemetery. Carey received a bullet in his thigh and died this morning at 9:15 o'clock at the Winsted hospital. From the information they have received, the police think the man they want was one of a party of three men, supposedly Italians, who were last seen going along the railroad toward New Hartford.

REV. DR. FAUNCE'S ADDRESS

PRESIDENT OF BROWN UNIVERSITY SPEAKS TO YALE MEN.

He Discusses the Hated Doctrine of the Survival of the Fittest-Ministers Should Tell What They Know of God-A Very Powerful Sermon.

At Center church last evening took place the introductory graduating exercises of the senior class of the Yale Divinity school.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Faunce. His subject was "The Finality of Jesus." The reverend doctor assailed some of the philosophical teachings of Spencer, Huxley, Darwin and others whom he classed as pseudo-scientists...

He deprecated the need of armies and naval armaments as accessories to the conquest of the weaker races, and threw out the suggestion that foreign missionaries would live more in consonance with their faith if they drew their strength from the divine inspiration rather than their power for good from the strength of the government of which they are citizens.

The speaker instanced Helen Keller's first message to Phillips Brooks, in which she wrote in a childish, simple way to that great divine: "Please tell me something you know about God."

The reverend doctor's address was quite lengthy and the earnestness of his utterances was as interesting as the purity of his diction was charming.

THE STOCK MARKET SITUATION.

In commenting upon the extreme break in stock prices Jacob Berry & Co. says: "The market we are now having is largely an outgrowth of the sudden fortunes that were amassed as the result of security inflation and stock watering schemes during the last few years."

LOCAL FINANCIAL NOTES

CONSOLIDATED R. R. RIGHTS EXP. FIRE TO-DAY.

How to Properly Finish Up and When to Pay the Installments—First Mortgage 4 Per Cent on Main Line of $2,000,000 Due and Payable To-day—Interesting Facts.

New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad rights expire to-day. All transactions to-day are in brokers' terms, for cash and both the rights and subscriptions must be in the office of the company before the close of business to-day; attached to the subscription paper must be a check for the first installment of $50 per share; the second installment will be $40 per share. August 1; the third installment will be $40 per share, November 1, and the fourth and last installment, $45 per share, January 2, 1904. Any or all of the installments can be paid to-day, and interest on all payments made will be allowed from June 1 at the regular dividend rate; interest on these installment receipts, however, will be paid in one sum only on January 2; whereas holders of regular stock certificates get dividends June 30 and October 1. Rights have recently sold from $7 1/2 cents to $12.25, closing at $1. The Boston market has bought these rights rather more freely than the local of New York markets. The stock has sold from 190 to 191, closing at 190 1/2.

The first mortgage 4 per cent. bonds secured by the main line from Williams Bridge to Springfield, Mass., are due and payable to-day; the authorized mortgage was for $5,000,000, but only $2,000,000, known as series A, were issued. The bonds were all registered, no coupons being printed, and in denominations of $1,000 and $5,000. They were signed by George H. Watrous, president; W. L. Squire, treasurer, and countersigned by Frank D. Sloat, comptroller of the state. In 1881 no railroad bonds had been issued at as low a rate of interest as 4 per cent., 5 per cent., and 6 per cent. being the ruling rate. The Northampton railroad in 1879 had issued $1,200,000 6 per cent. bonds not being able to float an issue at a less rate. Some doubt was expressed in 1881 by financiers and bond holders as to whether the 4 per cent. issue could be placed with investors except at some discount, but the whole issue was awarded to W. T. Hatch & Sons of New York city at a small premium, and this house succeeded in a few months in placing all the bonds at from 3 to 4 per cent. premium. They were aided by the rising tide of prosperous business which followed the resumption in 1879 of specie payments. Since 1881 most of the leading railroads of the country have placed at par bonds bearing both 4 and 5 1/2 per cent. interest, thus largely reducing a part of their fixed charges.

Pennsylvania railroad rights are quoted at 2 to 2 1/4. Security Insurance rights are scarce at $3 to 24. New Haven Water company stock is offered at 122 1/2; New Haven Gas Light company at $65.

Hartford Street Railway bonds and those issued assumed by the Fair Haven and Westville R. R. are now a legal investment for trustees and savings banks in Connecticut; the floating supply of these bonds is very small and this legislative act really enlarges the scope of investments for banks but very little.

CITY OWNERSHIP

Of Quasi-Public Corporations—Work in Chicago Slums. The morning service at the Church of the Messiah yesterday was largely attended, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dickerman, having chosen for the subject of his sermon "Christian Citizenship." Mr. Dickerman's discourse dwelt at some length on the value of pure government and clean citizenship and took as examples Berlin and London. Mr. Dickerman heartily advocated municipal ownership of different plants; plenty of parks and bath houses, not only in this city but in all American cities.

In the evening O. P. McCauley, former superintendent of public schools in Chicago and at the present time a post graduate student in Yale university, spoke on the work being done in the slums of New York by the university settlements. Mr. McCauley has spent some time in the work in New York and his address was highly interesting.

SNAP, PUSH AND GO

Is What One Should Get from Food. A young St. Louis lady learned a food lesson she won't forget. She says: "I suffered from indigestion for nearly 10 years and although I tried all kinds of foods for breakfast I could not eat any of them until one day I discovered Grape-Nuts and now I wonder how I ever did without it. I am a stenographer in a business office and need all the energy possible but I formerly spent the greater part of every morning wishing I had gone without breakfast for I was continually reminded of it by the uncomfortable distressed state of my stomach. How much ability I lost through this I could not tell you but now all is different for I eat some fruit and a saucer of Grape-Nuts and work hard all the morning and never think about my stomach until lunch time comes. "I feel the good effects of Grape-Nuts in a sharpened brain, better memory and increased thinking capacity. The only difficulty I have about it is that I never want to limit myself to the required amount for I love it so." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There is a reason why Grape-Nuts sharpens the brain. It's fun to make new and delicious desserts by the recipe book found in each package of Grape-Nuts.

KANSAS CITIES UNDER WATER.

THE STRIKEN TOPEKAS

(Continued from First Page.) flood water west of here, the improvement in the situation will be marked. If the water shall rise at Manhattan and Wamego to-morrow will see a repetition of the worst of the flood scenes and the distress here will be greatly intensified. Either contingency is entirely within the range of possibility.

There is ground for hope that the worst has passed. The treacherous Kansas river appears to be slowly receding to-night and the five mile wide stream is settling back into its rightful channel. Up and down the official gauge has flattered all day. To-night, however, City Engineer McCabe issued a bulletin giving out the cheering intelligence that the waters had subsided to the extent of exactly 7 1/2 inches. It may be some hours before another drop may be noticed.

KANSAS CITY'S PLIGHT.

(Continued from First Page.) crowds of people lined the banks to-day, watching the procession of houses, cars, trees and other debris that floated down. The stream is over three miles wide. The situation in Armourdale to-night is one of utter desolation, with every prospect that the financial loss, already heavy, will be greater within the next twenty-four hours. In the section situated all the large packing houses—Armour's, Swift's, Cudahy's and Swartzchild & Sulzberger's. The loss to these plants alone will be close to $2,000,000, as the agents of Swift & Co. estimate their loss alone to be close to $1,000,000.

The Armour Packing company suffered a loss from water roughly estimated at a half million dollars. In addition to this there are a great number of freight cars upon the tracks, in all of which the freight is ruined, and the loss in this direction cannot be computed for weeks. All the residences in the district are under water, most of them being but one-story affairs, and fully 16,000 people from this suburb have been compelled to abandon their homes and take to the higher ground for safety. In very few instances have any of them saved anything of their property and in most instances very little clothing.

At 9 o'clock seven fires were burning in as many places in the railroad yards. At 6 o'clock the most serious blaze of the day broke out in some cars standing opposite the west end of the Union depot. The flames ran rapidly from car to car and within three hours thirty of them had been destroyed. Among them were several oil tanks, which threatened great damage to everything in their vicinity. The wind carried the great sheets of flame toward the south and the current here carried patches of blazing oil down-stream. Fortunately there was an open space directly north of this fire, which afforded egress for the burning oil and it was carried swiftly out to the river. Directly south of the viaduct stood a large warehouse. Close to it stood a number of cars loaded with lime, and at 6 o'clock they were all ablaze and with them were the warehouse and all it contained. The damage in this fire could not be less than $100,000.

Irish League Convention Closes.

Liverpool, May 31.—The convention of the Irish National league, which opened here yesterday, closed to-day with a demonstration by 30,000 Irishmen. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., who presided, referred to the fact that Irish voters saved the government from defeat over the London education bill, said: "The English people must realize that Balfour is premier by virtue of the Irish vote. If they are fit to rule England they are also fit to rule Ireland."

Citiman—I suppose your town is getting a bit more fashionable now? Subbubs—Yes, indeed; we used to complain of our "chills and fevers," but now everybody refers to it as "malaria."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE MILFORD RACES.

Well Managed—Prompt Payment of Purse by the Secretary and Treasurer. The first race meeting of this season at Meadowside park was held on Decoration day at the Milford half mile track and was well managed by the members of the Driving club. During the forenoon of Saturday the weather in this vicinity was cool and threatening, with a few drops of rain which prevented a much larger attendance at the races. The new grand stand was full to its capacity while the space near the inside rail on both sides of the judges' stand was occupied by fine teams containing many spectators.

The attendance evidently was sufficient to make the races profitable for the management. Dr. Thomas Martin gave the word to the drivers while the following gentlemen managed the other details of the events: F. L. Newton, F. S. Oakes, R. H. Meachen and C. H. Smith. The races were started very nearly on time and were not delayed until late in the afternoon as they are at many tracks. Three regular races of half mile heats were on the programme with one hundred bushels of oats for each class.

Allen Risk showed considerable speed with a fine pacing mare Birka by Gambrell 2:10 1-2, he by Gambetta Wilkes. Milford, Conn., May 30, 1903. 100 Bushels Oats, 2:30 Class. In many heats the time taken by the judges was faster than indicated by outside watches, which was immaterial as the horses didn't get records.

The heats in the 2:20 class were fast for cool weather in the early season for horses that have had but little training.

The match race with owners driving was a close race, as indicated by the summary. The track is located on the border of Long Island sound, with the northern hills on one side and the salt sea water opposite. The view from the judges' stand includes Charles Island and other summer resorts, and is very gratifying to spectators. In the recent races the management has laid the foundation for abundant entries for future races by very prompt payment of purses. As the races were finished George W. Smith, the secretary, called up the winning drivers, who were promptly paid by the treasurer. Another race meeting may be held at the track July 9. The outing was evidently much enjoyed by the patrons. E. A. Dickerson, who formerly resided in this city, made a short visit with some New Haven friends yesterday. He has passed the winter in Cleveland, but will soon locate in New York city. D. S. Gamble, of this city, has recently purchased the fast sorrel pacer Fanny McGuire.

Mrs. Caroline Marks, widow of Marx Marks and mother of Morris F. Marks of the firm of G. Fox & Co., died at her home in Hartford Friday night, after an illness of several months. She was a sister of William Frank of this city. She leaves also three sisters and one son. The funeral occurred yesterday.

LOCAL HORSE NOTES.

COLTS AT N. W. HUBINGER'S FINE STABLE.

Races Won by the Fast Pacer Martha Marshall, 2:06 1-4—Horse Stock Owned by Burton A. Davis—Other Notes of Track and Road Horses—Items Published in the Trotter and Pacer.

Horse stock is increasing in numbers at N. W. Hubinger's stables in this city. He has three very fine foals of this year's crop, each of them sired by the trotter Metellas, 2:11, and each of them out of good and well bred trotting mares. The first foal to arrive was a horse colt, whose dam is the three-year-old mare Graceful, a stout bay sired by Hardwick, he by Directum, 2:05 1-4. Graceful's dam is the trotter Grace Hastings, 2:08, by Rayonne Prince. The second foal is a filly out of Grace Hastings, 2:08. On the 28th of April the roan mare Margaret, 2:15 1-2, by Eagle Bird, foaled a horse colt that is pronounced an extra fine one.

In the same stable is a right good filly, bay-roan in color, a year old and sired by Hardwick and out of Margaret, 2:13 1-2. Another yearling is a strong horse colt that may be kept entire, as he has good strains on both sides of his pedigree. His dam is Grace Hastings, whose dam was Impetuous, Hardwick, whose dam was Dictator. This colt stands 19 1/2 hands high and is called Direct Haste. The yearling filly has been named Anniversary. As the stallion Metellas, 2:11, has been in training at Memphis, Tenn., the brood mares have not been bred to him this spring, which is much regretted by admirers of that horse. It is understood that Mr. Hubinger preferred to keep his 2:11 trotter at home for breeding purposes during last winter, but finally decided to send him away. A New Haven man remarked that "in regard to breeding it was $2,000 out of Mr. Hubinger's pocket not having Metellas at home for service."

It is safe to assert that the horse was never so fast in May as he has been this year. E. F. Geers, who has had Metallas in hand since last winter, recently won a matinee race at Memphis with him, beating three fast horses; time 2:13-2:11. John B. Judd is busy with a stable of horses in training. One of the trotters in his hands is a bright bay four-year-old stallion owned by Charles W. Beardsley, of Milford, Conn., and bred at Hamlin, Village Farm. The colt was sired by the fast trotter Rex Americus, 2:11 1-4, by Onward, 2:25 1-4. The dam of Rex Americus was Glean, by Dictator. The dam of the four-year-old was Hetty by Mambrinus King; second dam Homora (dam of Fantasy, 2:06, and Wisdom, 2:27) by Almonarch, 2:24 3-4. A good authority has stated that Mr. Beardsley's colt is registered as "Messenger." Why the young trotter should have a name that has been given to several other horses is not understood.

A fine sorrel mare owned by Dr. W. A. De Forest and a good bay trotter owned by H. E. Bridge are also in Md. Judd's hands. Mr. Judd has traded the black pacer Carroll for a good young pacer, with no record. Carroll has shown fast quarters, but has not had any race experience.

H. E. Bridge has bought Twilight, 2:27 1-2, and sent the pacer to James H. Lewis at New Milford.

The bay pacing mare Inta, 2:20 1-2, by Petosky, he by George Wilkes, has recently foaled a fine horse colt that is whose death occurred at Hartford on May 20, 1902. The sire and dam of Bow Bella was Electioneer and Beautiful Bells, 2:29 1-2.

George C. Ives, of Mount Carmel, is fond of fine horses and occasionally breeds some good colts. His fast trotting mare Flora recently foaled a horse colt sired by Mr. Doolittle's Brown's St. Bel. A valuable young mare owned by Mr. Ives is Spring Queen. Her dam was the trotting mare Autumn Queen, 2:29, by Volunteer, 55.

A pacer that has raced consistently and done so well on both track and road that her admirers have increased in numbers is the fast mare Martha Marshall. Her first record to attract much attention was 2:19, and was considered a creditable mark for the conditions under which it was obtained, but it did not remain long, as she soon went to a record of 2:19 1-4. The following year she was placed in the care of Trainer Andy McDowell, who campaigned the pacer in fast company on the Grand Circuit, which was a severe test of speed and endurance. One of the notable races that she won that year was the $1,500 contest at Cleveland. In this race Martha Marshall didn't allow any one of the ten starters to win a heat from her. In the $2,000 pace at Columbus there were thirteen starters that finished the race with Martha Marshall's name at the top of the list. Later in the same season she was started in a fast race with Dan Patch and other flyers at Brighton Beach, where she won the first heat from the entire field and was the only horse that got to the wire ahead of Dan Patch that year. Her campaign of 1901 was not in accordance with her owner's original intention, which was to rest her that summer.

During last year Fred Noble campaigned the pacer and gave her a still faster mark and set her name in the list as Martha Marshall, 2:06 1-4. Her owner, Burton A. Davis, of this vicinity, is now confident that she is finally in foal to Direct, 2:05 1-2. The speculative foal will have a creditable pedigree and speed inheritance. Martha Marshall was sired by Grand Marshall, he by Gambetta Wilkes, and has other strains of good blood. Direct, 2:05 1-2, is a well bred descendant of Hambletonian and is fast at either trot or pace. His trotting record is 2:13 1-4. A promising horse colt that Mr. Davis bought at a sale not long ago has improved perceptibly. He is a bay, one year old and trots in conformity to his trotting inheritance. He was sired by Charles Wilkes, 2:21 3-4, he by Red Wilkes. The colt's dam was Lottie

Russell by Lord Russell, a full brother to Maud S., 2:08 3-4. James L. Nesbit, of this city, is well pleased with the chestnut pacer Amber Wilkes, which he purchased several months ago from C. M. Darling, of Lyndonville, Vt. At some of the sleighing carnivals last winter the pacer led theseveral members of the fast brigade over the snow and demonstrated that she has speed enough for a race. She may be started in a few races this season. Her individuality is enhanced by fast strains in her pedigree. She was sired by Red Elm, 2:16 1-4, a pacing son of Red Wilkes, who has 161 in the Standard Oil. The dam of Red Elm was Flaxy by Bourbon Wilkes, a well bred son of George Wilkes. The dam of Amber Wilkes was Bonita Wilkes, by Abdallah Wilkes. A good young trotter owned by Mr. Nesbit is "Vermont Elm," a two-year-old gelding sired by Red Elm, 2:16 1-4, dam Molly Smith, by Harold, sire of Maud S., 2:08 3-4.

Dr. Tingley, of Norwich, has recently purchased in this vicinity a chestnut mare that can pace fast, but is eligible to slow classes. She has been worked on the Milford track, where she showed remarkable speed for the early season. Trainer Sullivan will handle her this year. Strikes in this city have recently been of very common occurrence. The hack drivers and stable men employed in the livery stables quit work a few weeks ago in consequence of demands made by union leaders. Several of the union drivers caused much trouble in a disgraceful way at funerals by halting the funeral procession. Recently the truck drivers and men working in the truck stables quit work in a shameful way. Some of the drivers left partly loaded trucks in the street, unhitched the horses, which they stabled and quit work. Since this strike commenced some of the trucking firms have demonstrated that they can get along without union labor.

Another strike has occurred among the coal cart drivers. Bread, pie and cake bakers are at present on strike, but may be at work when this copy appears in print. One of the rubber companies and several other factories have recently had strikes. A firm who employs about one hundred men had a strike, when all the men quit work except a faithful colored man. I can write considerable on this subject, but I can't make the article favorable to the strikers, many of whom will probably be anxious to get the good situations that they left on strike.

The Australian Review of Reviews says that in New Zealand every second person over sixty-five years old has a State pension; in Victoria about every third person above that age is fed by the State; in New South Wales the proportion is nearly that of New Zealand.

The number of theological students in Germany has diminished gradually from 4,367 in 1830 to 2,149, or less than half, although the population has doubled since 1830. The insufficiency in the number of candidates for the ministry is discussed as a matter of exceeding gravity by German theologians.

A country editor in Kansas thus neatly alludes to an important event in his town: "A handsome girl baby—which is not to be wondered at, considering its mother—came to Jim Brown's house, and will stay until she finds a better fellow than her dad, a thing that will take her many years to do."

Queer things happen in Texas. A murderer, J. E. Shutt by name, about to be hanged, was allowed just before the hour set to call up Governor Lanham at Austin by long-distance telephone and make a verbal appeal that his life be spared. The governor and the trembling prisoner had a long conversation over the telephone. The governor recited the enormity of the crime and informed him that the law would have to take its course. Shutt was led from the telephone to his cell in a state of collapse.

The American college professor in many institutions is only a "hired man in a cage," according to M. Leopold Mabileau, the French sociologist, who is delivering a series of lectures in French at the University of Chicago. He says that in American colleges founded by private individuals the professors are not free to think and write as they pleased, but are controlled to a large extent by the opinions of the board of managers.

A unique position is held in the city of St. Louis by Mrs. Graham Frost. In one of the first banks there she occupies a position known as that of the "hostess." Her duty is to explain banking methods to the women patrons, thus relieving them of embarrassment and expediting the course of business. Mrs. Frost finds that nearly all women need instruction as to the clipping of coupons, renting safe deposit boxes, real estate matters, redemption and exchange of money and so forth. Beneficial results have accrued to the bank from Mrs. Frost's employment, the volume of business being greatly increased. It has already 6,000 women depositors.

The Pingree potato patch is to be abandoned in the city of its birth, Detroit, where it originated ten years ago. Mayor, afterward governor, Pingree, in the effort to aid the deserving poor of the Michigan city, devised the plan of making use of vacant lots. The scheme was to afford an opportunity to those willing to do the work to raise garden vegetables to aid in the support of themselves and their families. Besides making use of vacant lots in the city limits, there were large tracts of land in the suburbs of Detroit, which the charitable organizations interested hired and devoted to the work. The plan was copied in other large cities in this country, and the fame of the Pingree potato patch plan was extended abroad.

L. Frank Baum, the author of fairy tales, tells a good story at his own expense. While at a southern winter resort recently a woman who has a penchant for meeting all kinds of celebrities secured an introduction to Mr. Baum and asked for permission to present her little daughter, a miss of seven, "who knows every one of your books by heart." The young lady, lank-haired and round-eyed, extended her hand in a mechanical fashion, and, staring straight into the author's face, she remarked: "Mr. Baum, I think you're a very wonderful man!" Somewhat embarrassed by this direct praise, the children's author patted her on the head and asked: "Why do you say that, my dear?" "Because mamma told me to," answered the child complacently, and in the roar of laughter that followed the stricken mother made good her escape.

UNAPPRECIATIVE. What should be thought and said of people like the people of Oregon, who neglect to take advantage of the referendum on measures passed by the recent legislature? When the time for filing petitions expired it was found that petitions with 2,900 signatures demanded the referendum on the Lewis and Clark fair bill, 4,900 on the portage railroad bill and 3,222 on the corporation tax bill. All these failed, as 4,386 signatures were required. It is said that enough petitions were outstanding to make up the necessary total on some of these measures, but through carelessness were not forwarded to Salem in time.

People who do not appreciate the referendum probably ought not to have it. It is too good and too high for them. Very likely such people wouldn't know enough to appreciate municipal ownership of public utilities.

FROM CORNFIELD TO CITY. What can be and is done in this wonderful country is illustrated by the rapid transit of Birmingham, Alabama, from a cornfield to a city almost as big and enterprising as New Haven. The big real estate edition just issued by the Birmingham Ledger sets forth the strange story in a complete way. Thirty-two years ago the site of the bustling Alabama city was a cornfield. Today the city and its suburbs contain 100,000 inhabitants, and in the past ten years the population of Jefferson county has doubled. Millions of dollars are now being invested in Alabama industries, and her iron, steel, coal and other products are successfully competing with Pennsylvania and England in the markets of the world. Birmingham is the center of this industrial region, and its wealth is being poured into what its citizens are proud to term the "livest city in the South." The Ledger presents two pictures that show in a striking manner the rapid growth of Alabama's largest town. One shows the first house in Birmingham built in 1871, at a cost of $50; the other is of the new First National bank building, not yet completed, which will cost $750,000.

ANOTHER ONE NAILED.

One by one the roses fade, and one by one the pleasing old lies are nailed by scientific investigators. The other day J. W. T. Duvel read a paper before the Biological Society of Washington on the vitality of seeds, in which he exploded the good old notion that seeds found in mummy cases and tombs, and known to be several hundred and even thousands of years old, will, if planted, germinate. The truth of the matter, he said, is that the vital energy of seeds expires quickly, so that the stories which have gone the rounds about Egyptian wheat and prehistoric cliff-dweller corn germinating after a lapse of thousands of years are falsehoods pure and simple. Where or how they originated is a mystery, but, like every other scientific humbug, the story has as much vitality and longevity as the miraculous grain which is described. A while ago the British Association for the Advancement of Science, as a result of the members seeing, hearing, and reading a great deal about Egyptian wheat sprouting, decided to investigate the matter thoroughly. The results of this investigation have recently been made known. The association experimented with the seeds of some 382 species, including wheat and corn, and discovered that out of this entire lot there were only three or four species that would germinate after a period of fifteen years. Of the entire 382 species all were treated alike; that is to say, placed in dry, dark and cool places, where the conditions were exactly the same as in the case of the grain found in mummy cases. The great majority of species lost all vitality after a period of four years, and the few that did germinate at the end of the fifteen-year period produced very weak and feeble plants. These were the seeds of very hardy and vigorous plants indigenous to desert countries, where the struggle for existence is very hard, and not wheat and corn, which were among the earliest to lose their vitality. Moreover, of the entire number of seeds of the three varieties which produced after fifteen years in storage, only a few produced plants.

GREAT AND GOOD WORK.

Chicago has a right to point with pride to itself, even though its death rate is not going to zero as rapidly as at one time it appeared to be. It has a Municipal Voters' League which has been in existence since 1896 and which has done great and good work. In 1896 the league elected what was termed an "honest minority" of the city council; in 1897 this minority was increased in numbers; in 1898 it was almost large enough to organize the council, and in 1899 it succeeded in doing this. The ground taken by the league from the outset has been entire indifference to the national politics of candidates in the city elections—"fitness, competency and integrity" being considered paramount to all other considerations. Thus, in 1901, while the Democratic nominee for mayor was elected by a plurality of nearly 30,000 votes over his Republican opponent, of the thirty-five aldermen elected, twenty-one were nominal Republican and only fourteen Democratic, showing that a large number of those who voted for a Democratic mayor voted also for Republican aldermen.

How high-minded and high acting the league is is indicated by the fact that it objected to the re-election of one alderman who had a high business standing, because his respectability did not prevent him from tacitly approving of what appeared to be corrupt measures. Quite a number of eminent citizens, the friends of the alderman, addressed a petition to the league, asking that its action rejecting him as a candidate be reconsidered, on the ground that the alderman in question had voted for questionable measures in order that he might thereby secure votes for measures which were recognized to be meritorious; in other words, these leading citizens of Chicago held that it was entirely warrantable to trade bad legislation for good legislation, as this appeared to be about the only way in which public affairs could be carried on. The attitude of the league, however, was that of no compromise with corruption, holding that trades of the kind suggested would form a class of defence which would prove equally available to the "boodler" as to the so-called reputable citizen.

It seems reasonable to believe that what has been done in Chicago can be done in other cities which need such work. If Chicago has enough righteous men to save her there is hope for the other places.

How She Got Ready.

She'd dressed up to go out with him, 'Twas on the topmost floor; Before the mirror she had posed A weary hour or more. At last she started down the stairs, And he was waiting there. She tumbled on the second floor To see herself again.

Before another mirror there She turned and turned and turned, And took her time and primped as though She only was concealing. She patted her hair and touched up tucks And felt her fluffy hair, And rearranged her next "flat" hat With undiminished care.

And then she gathered up her skirts And fixed them in her hand, Coquettishly looked back once more Into the mirror, and went down the stairs. To the reception room, Where he was huddled, like a chunk Of rainbow-colored gloom.

He smiled, as any husband should, But managed not to speak, And it was well for he was sure He'd waited there a week. He rose to go, but she advanced Upon the large rug first, And back and forth in front of it Began to pass and pass.

She started with her hat and hair And gradually worked down, Inspecting things, until she reached The bottom of her gown. She caught her skirts again and looked To see how she'd appear, And, evidently satisfied, "flat" hat She said: "I'm ready, dear."

He heaved a sigh (but made it soft) And headed for the street, But hearing not the footfalls Of her "Lookees" feet. He turned—he staggered, and then fell Against the nearest wall— She was gazing in the mirror In the hat-rack in the hall! —Baltimore American.

HAIR ON THE HUMAN FACE.

Some Inconsistency—A Plea for the Abolition of Beards and Mustaches.

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier: I had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Knop's lecture at Foy Auditorium on Friday evening, and was much interested in what the gentleman said upon the subject of tuberculosis and its prevention. While listening to his dissertation upon the propagation of disease germs play in the propagation of disease, I looked about at the goodly number of doctors gathered there and was impressed by the inconsistency of medical men as shown in their facial adornments—in the number who wore beards and mustaches as constant appendages, while assuming to advocate, in precept and example, the importance of asepticism. Many of those present, prominent in medical and lay circles for knowledge and skill, wore flowing beards, while the number displaying mustaches included quite all whose age did not yet justify the "venerable beard." Even the lecturer himself could not be excepted, and spoke to us of germs and germ-carriers from lips overhung by the fifth-catching mustache. It seems to me that medical men, of all actions, should bring precept and practice closer into alignment than they do in this very striking particular. It is better known to them than to the laity that beards and mustaches are, in the very nature of things, filthy and egregious carriers as well as nesting-places for germs, and, knowing this, there is no excuse or justification for the practice. In a matter of this kind, for which there is neither need nor justification, the medical men should be at least consistent with the principles of their science and exemplars for the less instructed laity. But, as a matter of fact, there is to-day no other class, no profession, which cultivates beard-growing so generally as do medical men. Look over an assemblage of doctors with this in mind and see for yourself and make mental comparison the next time you look over an assemblage of lawyers or even of preachers.

Happily the beard and the mustache are rapidly going out of fashion, but in this commendable and gratifying movement it must be conceded that the hygienic principles of medical men took no part either in inculcating it or in exemplifying it. The laity is leading the professionals in the A B C of hygiene—a clean face—and the germ-lore medics are not even slowly following the good example. The one qualification dear to the young doctor is apparently a beard, and after the possession of his diploma it seems to be the object of solicitous cultivation. Then, too, the younger fraternity wear them trimmed all alike. There is the "doctor's beard," forsooth, in the dawn of the twentieth century!

havior and go among the well from the sick chamber with a clean face, relieved at last of the incongruity of scrubbing hands with bicarbonate solutions while nurturing a meeting-place for germs beneath their nostrils or fringed about their chins and cheeks. The flowing beard is disappearing, is being relegated to the "wayback" where it belongs—the signifier of uncleanness, uncouthness, of ignorance. The mustache, once so universal, is now almost wholly limited to stable-boys and policemen. It is no longer in favor among people of discriminating taste, of cultivated minds. Look over an assemblage of lawyers, of scientific, of business men, and note how it has disappeared from the place it once occupied; observe how popular the clean-shaven face has become with men of such calibre. And good riddance. It has gone to keep company with the dirty hands and matted locks of "good old" feudal days.

Facial beard indicates vanity wholly out of place in a manly man. The wearer of an inexcusable mustache publicly advertises his vanity or slavishness to a silly fashion—take which horn you please. A weak face may be made to appear stronger by a beard, but the wearer is self-convicted of a purpose to appear to be what he is not, to deceive. A strong face needs no artificial aid, and the fact that it is clean-shaven shows that its owner is not only candid, but conscious of his independence. He is not a deceptive, nor is he frivolous, and these are admirable corner-stones in character.

I would like to ask the devotees of beards how George Washington's strong, noble face would look ornamented by a mustache. How would Henry Ward Beecher's or Phillips Brooks', or the face of any other strong character, in life or in history, whose owner has or had the good sense and the good taste to avoid beard-growing, the example of medical men to the contrary notwithstanding?

I hope the time is not far off when men will no longer resort to beards, in whole or in part, to "save their faces," and when even medical men will re-gate the "doctor's beard" to the garret of the outgrown past with the wigs, perukes, earrings and stocks of simpler days. J. D.

A few minutes after striking the stone bottom of the quarry he was able to stand and walk to the carriage of the party of students.

Poll's Theater.

The Watermelon Trust is the aggregation to head this week's Poll bill. They are five colored stars in songs and dances.

One of the comedy sketches to be presented will be by the Sam Edwards company, entitled "A Pass for Two." This is from the pen of E. E. Kidder and is said to be rich in situations of a comical nature. The principals to present it all come with good reputations for good work. It will prove of interest to the patrons this week.

Harry Smirl and Rose Kessler have their acrobatic comedy sketch entitled, "A Bell Boy and the Waiting Maid." This allows for some of that extremely difficult acrobatic work built around a lot of comedy that will be highly amusing.

Edward Gray as the mimic and comedian will be an added attraction of merit. Boyce and Wilson as "The Two Jacks" with their vocal work of superiority, are to be included in the week's offering. Robbins and Trennan as the comical duettists in songs of a popular variety, and Haight and Dean in the one-act comedy "Hook and Eye," with the vitagraph as the closing act will be the exceptional treat to be offered vaudeville devotees this week.

Prices, evenings 10, 20, 30 cents. Afternoons 10, 20 cents. Ladies at matinees 10 cents.

AGED WEST HAVEN MAN

Struck by New York Express and Instantly Killed.

Carrying in his hand some flowers which he was going to place upon his wife's grave in the Oak Grove cemetery, Leman G. Atwood was struck by the Boston express just west of the West Haven railroad station at 4:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon and instantly killed.

Dr. James F. Barnett, medical examiner, concluded that the man was killed through his own carelessness. Years ago Mr. Atwood was a prominent real estate dealer but for some years re-resided on Elm street and did a little farming. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Helmer, who resides in New York, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Whitmore.

VISITORS.

Miss Mary Chipman Peck, of Bristol, is the guest of Mrs. F. A. Fowler, of Humphrey street, and spent Memorial day with the Fowler family at a cottage at Burwell's Beach, Woodmont.

Arthur Peck, of Hartford, also spent Saturday with the party, returning to Hartford yesterday.

QUALIFIED TO CIVILIZE.

Where, for instance, did we become qualified to protect the law abiding from ladrones and assassins? Was it in Breathitt County, Ky., where in a total population of 20,000, they had over forty cowardly murders within two years, and where the eye-witnesses of a killing dare not testify against the criminals for fear of experiencing what they have seen? Or in South Carolina, whose late Lieutenant-Governor is under indictment for the assassination of a defenceless man?

Where did we qualify for the task of teaching others to handle funds belonging to others without enriching themselves? Perhaps it was in Michigan, where the last of ten indictments for bribery and fraud in connection with governmental transactions have just been disposed of by the circuit court of the county in which the capital is located. Was it up in St. Louis, where a dozen or more city officials have recently been sent to the penitentiary for selling the rights and interests of the city to conscienceless bootlickers, or in the surrounding States of Missouri, whose Lieutenant-Governor has just confessed to distributing $5,000 of bribe money, or so much of it as did not stick to his own fingers? Or was it in Minneapolis, whose police officials have graduated from the force to the State's prison? Or was it in Pittsburgh, where a citizenship, grateful for God knows what, is about erecting a monument to a political boss who robbed it of public franchises worth untold millions of dollars, and persistently let his public contracts at prices double, and more than double, those which responsible contractors were ready to accept?

Was it in Pennsylvania that we acquired a teaching knowledge of the art of administering public trusts in the public interest—by continued experiment with the opposite course—or was it at Washington, where the chosen and sworn representatives of the people permit every industry that contributes to a campaign fund to write the tariff for the protection of its own industry, pay lobbying railroads four prices for carrying the United States mails, and authorize a private company to charge a dollar a word for cable messages to the government could do it profitably at half or quarter the price?—Detroit Tribune.

The Greatest Event in the Greatest Year of the School of Style. Clearance Sale of Women's and Misses' Suits, Waists, Cloth and Silk Coats.

AN annual event that becomes of greater importance with every repetition. Don't get the idea that because this is a "Clearance" that you must take your choice from a lot of odds and ends. We do not allow our stocks to "run down." The variety here is practically as great as it was in April—perhaps even more styles (though in lessened quantities) are shown now than then. It is the quantities and the prices that are reduced—the choice is large enough to suit the hardest to suit.

This has been the greatest season that the School of Style has ever known—much greater than the natural growth of the business would have led us expect. In number, in character, in the exclusiveness and in value-for-price we have exceeded all previous showings by a heavy per centage, and the increased business followed that state of affairs as naturally as the day follows the night.

WE believe that the women of this city know the character of the garments displayed in the School of Style. If so, the following schedule of reductions in prices will be all that is necessary to print.

SOMETHING of the comprehensiveness of the offer can be gathered from a glance over the following detail, but don't imagine that the whole list is printed here. We have selected the things that will probably interest the greatest number, but we haven't told more than half the whole story.

You will observe of course that the suits and coats are Spring weights and styles—this is not a sale of strictly Summer wearables. However, for real practicality there is nothing like the Spring weight garments. Not only is their full value available in the early Fall but half the days of Summer are Spring days at the shore or in the mountains, so far as temperature is concerned.

THE EDW. MALLEY & CO.

FESTIVAL OF "SCHVOWETH."

Interesting Services at Congregation B'nai Scholom and the Other Jewish Synagogues in This City Last Night. The members of Congregation B'nai Scholom attended the evening service at their Olive street synagogue last night in large numbers, and the services were of much interest. Rabbi S. Koppelman, an aspirant for the vacant pastorate of the synagogue, conducted the services and gave a most interesting and able lecture on the delivery of the ten commandments to Moses. This holiday in the Jewish calendar commemorates the giving of the ten commandments to Moses on Mount Sinai, and is one of the most important. During the services the ten commandments are read and discourses delivered on the same to the various congregations throughout the civilized world. The lecture was given in English and was the first ever given in the synagogue in English, the customary language being German. Rabbi Koppelman is a young man, but very talented, and it is quite likely that he will be called by this congregation. He will conduct a number of the remaining services during this holiday—"Schvoweth." This evening he will deliver another lecture in English and also one in German. Services were held also in all the other synagogues in this city.

VELOX DEMONSTRATION

To be Given at Paul Roessler's Son's Store This Afternoon and Evening. A demonstration of the famous velox paper will be given at the store of Paul Roessler's Son, the popular optical dealer, at 816 Chapel street. This paper meets one of the greatest requirements of all photographers. Other printing paper has sometimes made it difficult for amateurs to accomplish successful work, but with the introduction of this paper this difficulty has been removed. Instead of having to wait for sunlight, which is necessary for printing on all other kinds of paper, you simply have to place your frame in front of the lighted gas jet for a short while; then take the velox paper out, put it in the developer, afterward the Hypo, and then after washing it in water you have your picture all ready for mounting.

VERY FINE SERVICE

Held Yesterday Afternoon in Foy Auditorium—Evangelist Kellar, of Brooklyn, the Speaker. Yesterday afternoon in Foy auditorium Evangelist Kellar, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the speaker at the men's mass meeting. Mr. Kellar was the speaker here one week ago and many were glad to have an opportunity to listen to him again. In spite of the many attractions elsewhere there was a fair-sized audience present and it was repaid with a most earnest address. The music of the afternoon was by Miss Grace Walker. She sang "Rock of Ages." She has a beautiful soprano voice and her singing was much appreciated. A determined effort is being made to make these Sunday afternoon meetings so attractive that the attendance will increase rather than diminish during the warm weather. Many excellent speakers have been engaged, and a fine musical service is being planned for each Sunday.

DEATH CHAIR FOR WOMAN.

Mrs. Taylor, Who Killed Her Husband, to be Executed July 5. Monticello, N. Y., May 31.—After an all night session the jury in the case of Mrs. Kate Taylor, charged with killing Lafayette Taylor, her husband, came in early yesterday and returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Mrs. Taylor was in the court room and was much affected when the verdict was announced. She sat with her face concealed in her handkerchief during the proceedings in court. The prisoner was then sentenced to the death penalty, and her execution set for the week of July 5 at Dannemora prison.

THE NINTH'S MONUMENT.

Sum of $1,500 Still Needed—Prominent Society's Interest in the Affair. Elaborate preparations are being made for the dedication of the Ninth regiment's monument in Bay View Park on August 5. The committee in charge of the erection of the monument and the dedicatory exercises are working arduously to make the event a notable one. The monument will cost twenty-five hundred dollars. Of this amount the state has appropriated one thousand dollars and the voluntary subscriptions from New Haven people and interested parties throughout the state have reached fifteen and fifty dollars. The total more than covers the bare cost of the monument, but there are incidental expenses to be met, which will necessitate the procuring of twenty-five hundred dollars more. Included in these incidental expenses will be the cost of compiling and publishing the regiment's history. Thomas Hamilton Murray, of Boston, an author and journalist, and the secretary of the Irish-American Historical society, has been secured to write the history of the regiment. In recognition of the services of the Ninth regiment, and in honor of the dedication event, the Irish-American Historical society will hold in this city at the time of the dedication the society's grand annual banquet, to which the old veterans will be invited. This society, of which William McAduo is the president, numbers among its members some of the noted men of the country. The qualifications for membership demand that a person should have an Irish ancestor. John D. Crimmins, a multi-millionaire, of New York city, formerly president of the society, will attend the banquet. President Roosevelt is a member of the society. At St. Andrew M. E. church yesterday morning the Rev. W. A. Richard, D. D., presiding elder of the New Haven district, held the quarterly conference at 9:30 and preached at the 10:30 service.
