MIMIC NAVAL WARFARE.

ELABORATE PROGRAMME FOR THE COMING MANEUVERS.

Combined North Atlantic Fleet to Take Part-Search Problem Which Will Involve One Equadron, to be Known us the Hostile One, and Another Known as the Defending One, Will Open the Operations.

Washington, July 28.-An elaborate programme for the maneuvers of the combined north Atlantic fleet off the coast of New England and Long Island sound during the month of August has been prepared at the navy department. The general features of the movement of the ships will be worked out by the department, leaving to Admiral Barker, the commanding officer, the numerous details incident to the maneuvers. From the third to the tenth of August the search problem will be developed between Eastport and Cape Ann. This will include an effort on the part of a presumably hostile squadron to enter an anchorage ground in the face of the de-

Following this there will be a cessation of two days during which the combined fleet will proceed to Long Island sound and anchor abreast of Oyster Bay on the night of Saturday, August 15.

They will remain there during Sunday and on Monday they will be reviewed and inspected by the president. From there will be joint demonstrations by the combined fleet against the batteries at Portland, Me. These will continue day and night and all the arts of mimic warfare will be resorted to by the menof-war, to gain safe entrance to the harbor. Umpires will decide on the merits

When the summer maneuvers are concluded the ships will go south and begin a season of target practice at Gay Head in the vicinity of Martha's Vineyard. They will consume the first week of September, and at its conclusion the will disperse to the various navy yards for repairs preparatory to their winter cruise in the West Indies. More than thirty vessels are expected to take part in the maneuvers.

Mr. Frohman has gone extensively into the production of musical plays, and will this season have several notable examples of this form of entertain ment. From France will come a number of successes and new plays. German dramatics also will be adequately represented. The interesting announce ment is made that Miss Maude Adams will return to the stage in October, impleting the Frohman list of already famous stars. Mr. Frohman has arranged the tours in America of Sir Henry Irving, Marie Tempest and Mrs. Langtry. This season will see the inauguration by this manager of the anproduction of French plays in the United States, under his personal direction, to be presented by an all-French company headed by Mile. Wiche.

PEACE IN FAR EAST.

Report That It Will be Maintaine

Buring Coming Winter. ondon, July 29.-The Dally Chronicle this morning on the authority of a "usually well informed correspondent" hears that peace will certainly be preserved in the far east throughout the coming winter. The correspondent says that Russia has made important concessions to the United States and Japan, while Great Britain, which has conducted her negotiations on more sober lines, also has obtained her desires.

The Chronicle adds that an important Russian declaration will be issued shortly. Meanwhile, the paper says, it is significant that two British warships eve just left Wel Hai Wel. "It is un derstood." says the Chronicle, that the strained situation in the far east was liscussed at a cabinet council in London last week and that present happy issues of the negotiations was announced at yesterday's council.

Pekin, July 28 .- Ratifications of the Anglo-Chinese commercial treaty have been exchanged.

This treaty was signed by Sir James L. Mackay and the Chinese commissioners at Shanghai last September. It provides for the abolition of likin barriers, while native custom houses enumerated in the government records are retained. By the terms of the treaty list of the custom houses, concerning whose number there is a great divergency of opinion, must be furnished to

NEW YORK LABOR SITUATION.

More Employers Commence to Force Matters-Iron League Acts.

New York, July 28.-Another important move was made in the labor situation to-day when the Iron league, employers of the iron workers, following the action of the Employers' association, sent formal notice to the House smith and Bridgemen's union, that un less their men returned to work by next Monday, their places will be filled by any men who are willing to work individually under the joint arbitration agreement.

The Iron league will insert in news papers advertisements calling for 1,000 riggers, iron workers, derrickmen, riveters, finishers and other iron workers adopted: at union wages and hours and steady employment to all signing the arbitration contract.

In taking this step, the iron employ ers received the support of the newly organized board of building trades, which comprises a majority of the skilled unions which have signed the arbitration plan and whose members, about 45,000, are now at work.

More than 200 men, principally hous shorers, and hoisting engineers, individually signed the arbitration agreement to-day and it is expected that three times that number will sign and go to work before Saturday. Charles Eidlitz, president of the Employers' association, said to-day: "It is no longer a matter of conjecture months will end. Work will be going on as briskly as ever in New York within two weeks. The great mass of mechanics here are satisfied with the agree ment we have made with them, and the few who are holding back will soon find a way to go to work."

SEWER TRAGEDY.

Martin Ebelt Held by Grand Jury fo Murder of Wife.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., July 28 .- Martin Ebelt was held to-night for the grand jury for the murder of his wife Augus ta, whose body was found in a sewer on Sunday. He confessed freely and without the least tremor or fear.

This morning Ebelt was examined by the coroner and Chief Foley and then taken to the morgue, where lay the body of the murdered woman. Ebelt gazed upon the corpse with an indiffer nt air and admitted that it was that of his wife. In response to further ques-tions he suddenly exclaimed: "Oh, I did say that he had been tired to death by her demands for money and had decided to get rid of her.

When the inquest was resumed in the vening he said that a week before he which he calculated would serve to hide the body. He then prepared the way that their triumph in government would take her to the place On the way, he said, they quarrelled, and after choking her to death with his hands he tied a shoestring around her neck and lowered the body into the sewer, expecting that it would be swept

RAILROAD ABSORBED.

Rock Island Takes Over the Evansville and Terre Haute.

New York, July 28.-The Rock Island system, through the medium of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, today acquired the control of the Evansand Terre Haute and its subsidlary lines by taking over the holdings of the syndicate headed by Edward S. Hooley, senior partner of the firm of Edwin S. Hooley & Co., the fallure of which was announced on Monday. Official announcement of the change in ownership was made late this afternoon by L. B. Pearson, assistant secretary of the Evansville and Terre Haute, after a meeting of the board of directors held at the office of the roads. At the same time Mr. Hooley resigned as president and director of the Evansville and Terre Haute, and B. F. Yoakum, president of the St. Louis and San Francisco, was elected to succeed him in both offices. Mr. Hooley also resigned the presidency of several subsidiary roads, and Mr. Yoakum was elected in his place. other changes were made in the board of directors of any of the lines, W. L. Stow, of the suspended firm of W. L. Stow & Co., who is also a director of the Evansville and Terre Haute, retaining his connection with the property. Among those who attended the meeting were W. L. Stow, B. F. Yoakum, Henry W. F. Carlton, Charles A Nones and several others. From sources other than official it was learned that the price paid was around 50.

AMALGAMATION EFFECTED AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE.

An Address Issued-It Declares the Manifest Unrest in the Nation Demonstrates the Dissatisfaction of the American People With the Present Management of the Government.

Denver, July 28.-Amalgamation into one party was to-day effected by the two factions of the People's party in national conference.

The following address reported by the committee on resolutions was

"The manifest unrest which everywhere appears in the nation demonstrates the dissatisfaction of the American people with the present management of government and argues the necessity of the reform forces coming together in united action-at the ballot box to obtain proper legislation whereby the right of the people of self-government may be had for themselves and their posterity. Therefore, we the populists of the United States, having this day at the city of Denver united forces with the distinct understanding that all past differences as to policy shall be and now are permanently settled and experience having demonstrated the futility of any attempt to secure the enactment of our truth either through the epublican or democratic parties, we elleve the time is now at hand when the United Peoples' party should declare itself emphatically opposed to any affiliation with either of these parties and unqualifiedly in favor of national political action.

fundamental principles are known to all populists and are nowhere better stated than in that immortal document enunciated at Omaha, July 4, 1898. However, for the benefit of the uninformed, we declare our unyielding adherence to the demands for (A) s money, whether stamped on gold, sliver or paper, to be coined and issued exclusively by the government and made a full legal tender for all debts, both public and private; (B) a system of trans portation and the transmission of intel-ligence, owned by the public and operated by the government at the cost of service; (C) land for use rather than for speculation and abolition of alien ownership of land; (D) American ships for ent of subsidy. "And as an open door for all economic reforms we urge the rule of the people through the optional referendum and initiative and the recall of derelict officials. "Confident in the justice of the principles here set forth, firmly confident about their enactment into law. With principles firmly established, equal justice would prevail, privileges would be eliminated and ours would be, as patriots everywhere desire. a government of the people, for the people and by the people. William V. Allen.

"J. S. Felter. "J. M. Mallett, "Dr. R. H. Remelin, "A. Poynter, "Frank W. Owens. "Members of the Committee."

The conference adjourned sine dithis evening. It is expected that the two national committees which will meet here to-morrow will ratify the action of the conference in the adoption of resolutions providing for amalgamation. The committee to nominate an organization committee was empowered to add to its membership one man from each state and territory in the union. This committee is to carry on the work of organization until the next national convention when it is expected that formal amalgamation of the two populist parties will occur.

MERIDEN WOMAN SUICIDES. Crazed by Alcoholism Mrs. William Weller Takes Polson.

Meriden, July 28 .- Crazed by alcoholism, Mrs. William H. Weller, aged thirty, of West Main street, committed suicide this evening by swallowing carbolic acid. The act was the culmination of a long series of attempts to kill herself. Two weeks ago she attempted to drink poison in an alley near her home but was frustrated by a police man, who knocked the bottle from her lips. To-night after a slight altercation with her husband and she arose and crying "I'll do it this time," she rushed to the pantry and before he could reach her drained a two ounce botttle of carbolic acid and died almost immediataely in terrible agony. Mrs Weller is believed to have been dement ed by alcoholism.

PEOPLES' PARTY AGAIN ONE CALIFORNIA PRISON BREAKING. BRITISH FISCAL PROBLEM

Iwelve of the Thirteen Escaped Convicts Still at Large,

Placerville, Cal., July 28 .- Of the thirteen convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary at Folsom yesterday twelve are still at large. Joe Murphy, who was serving a fourteen years' sentence, for robbery, was shot dead last night at Pilot Hill. S. M. Gordon, the eported leader of the gang, who had been sentenced to forty-five years, for robbery, deserted his followers soon after they left the prison. He was heavily armed and it is not known in which direction he sought safety. A negro convict named Seavis, who was reported wounded in the first encounter with the officers, appears not to have been injured. The eleven outlaws who remain together are making for the Sierra Nevada mountains. They are closely pursued by the sheriffs of Sacramento, Eldorado and Placer counties, each backed by numerous deputies and assisted by a company of militia. About twenty guards from the Folsom prison are also engaged in the chase and it is believed that the fugitives will anticipated as all are heavily armed. anticipated by the unexpected action of the convicts, who to-day released all of the free men they held as hostages. It is thought that this course was prompted by lack of ammunition. The eleven are now believed to be near Placerville in Eldorado county, in a rough county and not far from the mountains which they evidently hope to make their refuge.

The fight at Pilot Hill last night between the convicts and their pursuers seems to have been a more serious affair than at first reported. After they had looted a provision store at Pilot Hill, they were practically surrounded by the sheriffs of Sacramento and Placer counties, each commanding a strong posse. All four horses on the convicts' wagon were shot and one of the criminals was killed outright. Then the outlaws raised a white flag and marchd up the road with the guards and others whom they had captured on each side of them. A general volley was not orered, as it might have killed several innocent men. In this deliberate maner the second escape was made.

Pursuing officers have been instructed to shoot the convicts on sight and their death or capture in the near future is Sacramento, Cal., July 28,-The coroner's jury in the case of W. L. Cotter rendered a verdict of murder against all of the convicts who escaped. Inquest was held at Folsom prison.

LARNED BESTS WARD.

Wins Finals in Cup Singles at Longwood.

Boston, July 28 .- The tennis followers who went to Longwood to-day to see the finals in the cup singles were given a rare treat in the five set match befought battle, and although there were no long rallies, the playing was remarkable for the accuracy and clever headwork by both men. Up to the intermission Ward led two sets to one, but in the third set he was wilting considerably and after a short rest, Larned came out and took the necessary two with comparative ease. Ward played a fast game at all times and repeatedly returned shots which to almost anyone else would have been impossible. His cut was very effective and his quickness on his feet gave him a great advantage over Larned, who was considerably slower. Ward lacked the strength, however, and finally succumbed to Larned's steady, brain work.

The playing of the champion was almost beyond criticism. At times it semed as if with more care he could have saved many points lost by driving into the net but at other times his playing was so brilliant and accurate that he seemed invincible. He lobbed with great effect, and as usual played the side lines both on his cross drives and straight shots for many points.

Ward took the first at 6-4, and if he ould have kept up the pace he would undoubtedly have wen out. As he weakened, however, Larned came up, and although Ward took the third at 9-7, Larned followed with two easy wins at 6-2, and 6-1. The win this afternoon gave Larned the right to challenge W. J. Clothier, the winner last year, for possession of the cup. The match will played to-morrow at 3 o'clock. The

CABINET'S DECISION TO BE AN-NOUNCED SOON.

Special Meeting Will be Called in Several Weeks-Premier Balfour Will Address the National Conservative Union October I When Government's Policy

London, July 28 .- It is stated that arangements have been made to call a special meeting of the cabinet about the ded life. The affair was entirely inend of September, by which time it is anticipated that the ministers' investigations of the fiscal problem will have been completed and the cabinet will be the Rev. Dr. Littlefohn, then rector of in a position to reach a definite decision on Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's proposals. Premier Balfour will address the National Conservative union, Octobe surrounded. A desperate battle is the government's policy on that occasion. Mr. Chamberlain's opponents The work of the pursuing posses has claim, as a result of the reception given been rendered less difficult than was to his proposals by parliament and th country, that he is already shifting his ground. They point to inspired articles in the press and the conduct of the campaign leaflets at Birmingham as showing the tendency of Mr. Chamberlain to abandon the policy of solely taxing food and substituting modified dutles on foreign food and manufactures, the revenue from which instead of being devoted to old age pensions would be applied to removing and relieving the taxes on sugar, tea and tobacco

GREAT SERVICE IN NEW YORK. Held at St. Pairich's for Repose of Pope's Soul.

New York, July 28 .- The first great service for the repose of the soul of Pope Leo was celebrated at St. Patrick's cathedral to-night. It was the chanting of the "office for the dead." The decorations of the vast edifice heightened the effect of the ceremony. Bands of mourning, black edged with purple, swathed the massive white pillars and the marble pulpit. The great catafalque rose fifteen feet high at the gates of the sanctuary, its sides and ends bearing the papal coat of arms in plue and white. Surmounting it was the triple crown in white and gold resting on a crimson cushion, while three great candles ten feet high glimmered with a throng that began assembling in the afternoon. More than a hundred priests and seminarians awaited in the vestry and then filed out to the sanctuary. Archbishop Farley was accompanied by Bishop-elect Colton of Buffalo and Monsignor Edwards. Before him marched the dominicans in their robes of white and the Franciscans clad three sets it was a hard and closely of the sanctuary of the sanctuary prayer for a few minutes and then the office" was intoned by the Rev. Dr. Richard O. Hughes and Professor Ungerer, director of the sanctuary choir. After the psalms had been chanted the essons were intoned. All chanted the 'Miserere" and the ceremony was ended by the reading of the "commitment" by the archbishop.

Solemn pontificial mass will be celebrated to-morrow by the archbishop.

FOUR DROWNED.

Sad Accident at Herris Island, Near Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, July 28 .- A sad accident followed shortly after the formal opening of the dam No. 1 in the Allegheny at Herris Island this morning, in which four young people were drowned. Their names are:

Joseph Brown, aged nineteen. Henry Brown, fourteen, brother of Joseph. Frederick Bulger, jr. Edna Shipley, 13.

After the ceremonies incident to the opening of the dam, which is the first to be built in the proposed Allegheny river slackwater system, the three boys were riding around below the dam in a skiff and seeing three girls friends on the bank, invited them to join in the ride. When all had been seated, the skiff was headed for the dam and when within a short distance from the structure the suction from the "Bear trap" drew the boat, in spite of the boys' frantic efforts, under the water flowing over the dam. The accident was witnessed by hundreds of people and rescuers were quickly at work, but before the party could be reached four of the number were drowned. Two girls were rescued in an unconscious condition, but were soon revived. All of the bodies of the victims, except Edna Shipley's, have been recovered.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Everit Celebrated Last Evening.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Everit was quietly celebrated at their home, 8 Eld street, last night. The event was one of exceptional pleasure to the celebrants in that they were surrounded by their children and grand chilldren, and many of their relatives and intimate friends who called to shower congratulations upon them for having arrived at the fiftieth milestone in their wedformal and the guests came and went during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Everit were married in St. Paul's lhurch on July 25, 1858, by the church, and later bishop of the Episcopal church. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Everit settled in Akron, O., where Mr. Everit was engaged in the lumber business. He assisted in the raising of the 184th regiment of Ohio, and went out as captain of a company in the three months service. His company was stationed at Arlington Heights and was in Washington when General Early came nearest to the city. At the conclusion of the war, about 1865, Mr. and Mrs. Everit returned to ed in this city. They lived for some time on Whitney avenue. THE HOWE & STETSON STORES

Advance Styles In Walking Suits.

We are showing some walking suits in men's suitings and fancy mixtures, in styles which the leading tailors, believe will be the popular ones this coming season. Coats are similar to a man's Prince Albert; some cutaway effect. Skirts are somewhat modified from those of last season, having a bit more fullness. Just the weight for use in the mountains, and for early fall wear.

LEO'S WORK WELL DESCRIBED. When history is written in the years that put Leo XIII in right perspective ft will show that the adjustment of the great Romish church to living and progressive civilization began with him While as loyal a churchman as ever sat on the papal throne, he recognized in the growing spirit of democracy a larger life for the people of the world, which life the church was to influence from within rather from from without. He won large victories, but through conciliation instead of conquest. He was a great man in a place of great influence; great in the purity and simplicity of his life. He came into his high office a "prisoner," as had been his predecessor, but instead of entering a hopeless struggle against the bars of his prison, he began the creation of a new and more fitting kingdom for his church; the spiritual life, through which he saw the material world could be better shaped. Perhaps he saw in the sacrifice of local temporal power the possibility of world wide sovereignty,perhaps not. He was pope of Rome, but he was a man interested in things human, studying the problems that try the souls of every-day men. Sensitive to the common and uncommon needs of the world, he wrote the philosophy of religion and the poetry of hygiene. In fulness of years his life commanded the respect of the world in death, the world's sorrow.-Universalist.

CORONER INVESTIGATING

The Death of Katherine Belleca Who Was Killed by an Automobile.

Coroner Mix yesterday held the first hearing in the inquest over the death of three and one half year old Katherine Belleca, Killed Monday by the automobile owned by Col. Frank Bigelow of Whitney averue, and opeated by William Richards of 54 Kensington street, William F. Sargent, of 60 Dickerman street, and C. F. Smith of 40 Perkins street, who were on the small front seat of the machine, left the scene of the accident immediately and it was after some search that the police learned their names.

Richards is held in bonds of $1,000. He and young Barnum appeared before the coroner yesterday morning. This morning at 10 o'clock the inquest will be continued and Sargent and Smith will be before the coroner to testify.

It is claimed by Richards that the machine wits not going at a high rate of speed, but that the child ran so close to it that it was absolutely impossible to stop it before the child was struck. Attorney J. P. Goodhart has been retained by the parents of the child.

Four young children who witnessed the Four young children who witnessed the accident testified during the afternoon session and the hearing was then continued until this morning.

PARROT'S "PULPIT ORATORY"

And Final Escape Caused Plenty of Merriment Last Evening.

An anarching sight was witnessed in front of the postoffice about six o'clock last evening. A small boy had a parrot in his arms when another boy pushed the bird from the little fellow's grasp. Immediately a large number of newsboys engaged in the scuffle for regain, possession of he bird. A big crowd of people witnessed the flight of the crowd of people with essent the flight. A big bird and the chase by the bors. The parrot kept up a continual chatter and some if its expressions were not of the "pulpit oratory" variety. Finally the bird escaped by reach-ing a high roof, and then flying toward State street.

POLICEMAN'S ROUGHNESS

Brings Upon Him the Condemnation of Crowd of People.

An officious policeman, employed by the town of Orange and stationed at Savin Rock displayed a degree of authority yesterday afternoon which bought down upon him the condemnation of a crowd of people.

The officer grabbed an old man who was trying to get on a trolley car and threw him forcibly against a post at the walting station in the grove. The old gentleman was slow in getting on the car and the "officer" thought that he was too slow.

NOT TO HAVE FLOAT

A meeting of the daughters and grand-daughters of the Ninth regiment held a largely attended meeting in Music hall last evening and voted not to put a float in the parade as the danger attached to the carrying of nearly 150 children on the float was considered too great. Very pretty bhdges were adopted and these may be obtained at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, at Music hall,

THE CREW THAT NEVER SAILS. The captain's authority over an ocean liner, and equally, of course, his responsibility for her, extends only over the time when she is crossing the sea. Practically the responsibity ceases when she approaches land on either side, for the pilot assumes charge of her navigation as soon as he come abroad When the ship arrives at her pier, or as soon, to be exact, as she is within halling distance, the captain, is no longer in control. She is then under the authority of the marine superintendent, who is in command of the piers and tugs and harbor front equipment of the line, and who takes charge of the docking of all

To bring a giant finer to rest at her pier is a delicate operation. The flow of the tide, the headway imparted by her engines before they stop, the depth of the water, must all be taken into consideration, for the quarters and narwould mean a bad smashup. But with the skill of long experience the superintendent by voice and hand, controls the great vessel perfectly, and with tugs helping her and cables drawing her she glides into her resting place as quietly and easily as a tired child slips beneath the covers at night. Practically, from the movement when the liner is made fast she is turned over to the crew that never sails. Her offlcers remain on duty, and their work is port as at sea. But the law requires that the crew of each vessel shall be every voyage. In the case of the liner they are again signed immediately, but during the period while the vessel lies in port they are not officially connected with her, and the work which naturally would fall to their lot is performed by the port crew.-Earl Mayo in Leslie's

LONGEVITY OF FILIPINOS. Manila newspapers which have just reached Washington give interesting features of the Philippine census, which has just been completed. It seems that the census records are now being examined at Manila prior to their shipment to Washington. They disclose some interesting facts in regard to the longeyity of the Filipino people and indicate that despite the many epidemics prevalent some survive to a green old age. It was first noticed that a great number of Philippine people were over a hundred years old. Finally the examination of a schedule from Laguna province disclosed an old fellow who claimed "six score and ten" as the length of his existence. Considerable interest was aroused when an old woman laid claim to one hundred and forty years. The clerks were then instructheir age at over one hundred years. There were a surprisingly large number of these, but the record for age had In New York state there are thirty-sev by no means been established. Batangas province came to the front with an old lady who boasted of one hundred and fifty summers. Laguna province a once returned to the charge with a little brown brother who modestly claimed hundred and seventy rainy seasons

Director of the Philippine Census Sanger and his assistants think it hardly probable that these ages can be correct, and an effort will be made to prove them by an examination of the church persons were born. As the Spanish church authorities were very particular to have both births and deaths carefully recorded it is believed that an investigation will not show these old folks to row, and if she were to ram the pier it be as aged as they have stated to the census enumerator.

Assistant Director Almsted has cited some facts regarding the taking of the census of the United States which tend to prove the majority of old people who claim very excessive age to have forgotten how old they were. One old man claimed to be one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty years of age Upon investigation of the records of the census ten years before it was found that he had aged fifteen years in ten as arduous and almost an incessant in years. The several census returns for still earlier years proved that the old gentleman had been adding fifteen and paid off and discharged at the end of twenty years to his age for every ten years actually lived .- Washington Star.

HOW THE "LAMB" ESCAPED. For once it is not the "Jamb" who has ome to grief in Wall street. This is conceded on all sides.

Everybody agrees that the public, which is another name for the "lamb," is not in the market and has not been in it for several months. It is the millionaire plunger, the nouveau riche trust nfagnate, who is being squeezed in such ursine fashion that his moans are audible throughout the country. The gentlemen who ordinarily "milk" the market are themselves being milked and the process is painful.

It is easy enough to understand how the unprecedented situation came about -how the "lambs" got out and the wolves were left to hold the bag. The very innocence and weakness of the "lamb" saved him from overwhelming

The general public-the element which usually furnishes the victims for a Wall street killing-held its stocks on such small margins that it was speedily 'wiped out" when the present decline began. It lost what money it had up but it saved whatever it had in reserve because the decline was so steady and unbroken that there was no temptation to go in again on the long side, and the "lamb" rarely gambles on the short side.

Hence the "lamb" has taken his relytively small losing with equanimity and has settled back to enjoy the unprecedented and soothing spectacle of the blg plunger taking his medicine. And the big plunger has had to take it in heavy doses.

In his case he was margined more heavily than the "lamb" and when called upon for additional margins he has respanded again and again, until there are instances where stocks bought at 170 have been margined down to 115 with the prospect that they will have to be carried down still further.

In some cases, in many cases, the de-mand for additional margins could not be met even by multi-millionaires, and it is these fallures to respond which have led to the throwing of huge blocks of stock on the market, thus accentuating the decline and rendering the bur den of the surviving plungers harder to

It has been a woeful time for the gen tlemen who have been buying diamond: by the pint and champagne by the shipload, and from all indications the sledding is not likely to improve appreciably in the immediate future.

As for the lamb, well, he is still the same fleecy, innocent cosset and the money he has miraculously saved out of Wall street is probably flying around it the corn pit or on the cotton exchange for where the shearer of wool abides there the "lamb" delights to gambol .-Chicago Chronicle.

A POSTAL CLERK'S FEAT OF MEM

ORY.
The wonderfully retentive memory of railway postal clerks in the service of Uncle Sam was recently exemplified by Frank J. Thrasher, of Roxbury, who sorts the mails between Boston and New York. Mr. Thrasher has been in the railway postal service for about a dozen years. A short time ago he took ted to make note of all who had given the "case examination," embracing all of the post offices in New York state and also in the New England district. en thousand post-offices and in the Nev England states about five thousand making a total of about forty-two thousand places to which mail in those districts may be directed and which have to be handled by the railway mail clerks he 2rst saw the light of day just one during the quick transit of trains between Boston and New York or Albany.

The "case examination" taken by Mr Thrasher consisted in the sorting of a ser'es of cards representing the whole number of forty-two thousand post-offices embraced in the above named districts, and properly disributing them records of the municipality in which the His task was accomplished without an error, and his distribution was at the rate of thrty-three and one-half cards per minute.

In performing this wonderful feat of memory Mr. Thrasher has the distinc tion of having broken the record, and in recognition of his ability he has received a letter of commendation from General Superintendent James E. White of the railway mail service at Washington.-Boston Herald.

Juveuile Day's Great Success-Carnival Nights Next Week-The Baby Show. The great success of the first annual "Juvenile Day" at Savin Rock yesterday fixes it as a permanent feature each year of this popular resort. The largest number of children and ladies ever seen at the Rock turned out to enjoy the fine attractions. It was estimated that fully 7,000 persons enjoyed the affair. The presents were a great delight to the children and not a single solitary young one was disappointed, as the management had presents enough for all. The day was perfect and people came from Woodmont, Waterbury, Naugatuck, Seymour, Cheshire and other surrounding towns to enjoy the attractions. The Punch and Judy show was a great hit. The theater was also crowded.

"Juvenile Day" practically closed with the awarding of the diamondstudded gold watch. The affair took place at the theater, the selection of the lucky one being made by Henry E. Adkins, the popular blind almanac man. The successful number was 2,278.

On presentation of this number th watch will be finally awarded, but in case the number should not be sent it there will be another drawing, so every one is advised to hold on to his or he coupon for a couple of days, or until Saturday, when another drawing wi probably be held.

"SUMMER FOOD"

Many people have tried the food Grape-Nuts simply with the idea of avoiding the trouble of cooking food in the hot months.

All of these have found something beside the ready cooked food idea, for Grape-Nuts is a scientific food that tones up and restores a sick stomach as well as repairs the waste tissue in brain and nerve centres. "For two years I had been a sufferen from catarrh of the stomach due to improper food and to relieve this condition I had tried nearly every prepared food on the market without success until 6 months ago my wife purchased a box of Grape-Nuts thinking it would be a desirable cereal for the summer months. "We soon made a discovery, we were enchanted with the delightful flavor of the food and to my surprise I began to get well. My breakfast now consists of a little fruit, 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, a cup of Postum, which I prefer to coffee, graham bread or toast and two bolled eggs. I never suffer the least distress after eating this and my stomach is perfect and general health fine. Grape-Nuts is a wonderful preparation. IMPORTANT ADMIRALTY DECI-

In the Cases Against the Schooner Lyman M. Law and Her Cargo. The New York Law Journal contains digest of the decision that has just been handed down by Judge Hale of the United States district court of Maine in the cases of the steamer North Star of the Maine Steamship company and the schooner Hope Sherwood against the schooner Lyman M. Law and her cargo. The opinion contains a very interesting discussion of the law of salvage. The importance of the case brought forth some of the best known admiralty lawyers in New England. Benjamin Thompson of Portland, Me., appeared for the steamer North Star and her crew. Frederic Dodge of Boston appeared for the schooner Hope Sherwood and her crew; Bird & Bradley of Portland, Me., appeared for S. D Warren & Co., the owners of the two thousand tons of coal on board the schooner Law; Eugene P. Carver of Boston and James D. Dewell, Jr., of New Haven appeared for the schooner Lyman M. Law and the Insuraunce Company of North America. The following is the substance of the decision:

It appeared that the Lyman M. Law. a large deeply laden coal schooner her numps unable to reduce the water in her hold. Passing steamers had paid no attention to her signals, and one refused to render any salvage service, but took off her crew, with their effects. After lying through the night, during which she had filled above the deck forward, the North Star, a large passenger steamer, on her regular trip from New York to Portland, the schooner Hope herwood, and the crew from the life station went to the rescue of the Law, and by 10 that night she had been towed by the steamer into port. With er cargo and freight she was of the value of $36,000. The risk to the men from the two crews and the life savers who went on board and remained to steer and work the pumps was considerable, as she was in danger of sinking at any time, and there was also danger that the North Star, which was not fitted for towing, might be disabled by the fouling of her propeller, owing to the unmanageable condition of the Law. The Sherwood, besides the services rendered by her crew, stood by during all the time to give any assistance needed. The North Star, with her cargo and freight, was of the value of about $460,000. The services were skillfully performed, and the Law and her cargo were saved without loss. It was held that $12,000 would be awarded as salvage, $9,500 to the North Star and crew, and $2,500 to the Hope Sherwood and crew.

Holycke Shuts Out Bridgeport and New Loudon Does the Same Trick to Meriden-Norwich Takes Double Header.

Springfield, Mass., July 28.-Springield's errors overbalanced the superb pitching by Bowler this afternoon and New Haven won 5 to 4. Bowler was in fine shape and allowed the visitors but two singles, besides fielding his position finely. Poor work by Roger Connor in dropping four thrown balls three of which resulted in runs, together with the wretched fielding of Donovan and Fischman, was responsi-

"BILL" CLEMENTS TO PITCH

For New Haven Team on Savin Rock Grounds This Afternoon.

"Bill" Clements, an old-time Connecticut league player, will appear in the box for New Haven to-day. Clements has played with Meriden, Springfield, the Hartford Eastern league team, and played with the Bristol State league team when that team won the championship two years ago. Clements has been with the Providence team this season. He will probably remain in New Haven during the rest of the season.

To-day's game will begin promptly at 3:45 and Bridgeport will be the visiting team. To-morrow the Norwich team will play on the Savin Rock grounds. The New Havens will conclude the week with New London at Savin Rock.

FIELD DAY

Of Connecticut Knights of the Golder Eagle.

The committee in charge of the field day of the Connecticut Knights of the Golden Eagle, to be held at Lighthouse Point on Saturday, August 8, has completed all arrangements for the same A large number of athletic events have been arranged for, and suitable prizes will be given to the winners. Principal among the events will be a ball game between teams from the various castles of the state for a gold-lined silver cup presented by the past grand chiefs of Connecticut. This cup is to be contested for yearly and is to become the property of the castle whose team shall win it three times.

The grand castle has offered a prize of a large American flag to every castle which turns out fifty or more members on that day, and all castles are endeavoring to turn out the largest number of nembers possible. G. T. Hewlett, G. C., has been selected as chief marshall, and he has selected competent aides; and under his skill-

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills

When All Else Fails.

Every child born into the world with an inherited or early developed tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp and blood, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence, it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest and most effective treatment available, viz., The Cuticura Treatment. Warm baths with Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent, to cool the blood in the severer cases, are all that can be desired for the speedy relief and permanent cure of skin tor-tured infants and children, and the comfort of worn-out parents.

Millions of women use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Cintment, for preassisted by Culicurs Cintment, for pre-serving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands, for annoy-ing irritations and weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves. GRANGERS HOLD SWAY

THE PLAINVILLE CAMP MEETING GROUNDS.

Interesting Exercises Were the Order of the Day-This is Closing Day for Chantauquas-Veterans' Day To-morrow -Camp Notes.

Yesterday was Grange day at the Chautauquan assembly. The programme of the day was opened with he usual chapel service at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut conducted the Bible hour at 9 o'clock and delivered a disourse on "The Golden Age of Israel." At 10 o'clock the cooking class was con-ducted by Miss M. E. Robinson, and at the same hour Miss A. R. McDonnell instructed the junior Bible class. The auditorium was well filled when

Leon H. Vincent addressed the assem-

THE MARRIED COUPLE.

How They Were Fooled by a Bargain Furniture Sale. The July morning broke bright and clear. General humidity had beaten a retreat that seemed permanent. Mary had been reading the advertisements and one of these had left an abiding impression in her mind. It related to furniture, and as there were a few pieces lacking in the newly appointed ome, she had firmly resolved, with Tom's consent, to go shopping. The breakfast hour furnished her opportunity. She broached the subject to fom, mentioning the beautiful day, the lacking furniture, and the bargain laden advertisement she had read. Tom's udgment was that about the last place in the world to get a bargin was at a bargain sale. Then Mary pointed out that little or no use had been made of the word "bargain." She reached for the newspaper and began to read: $13.00 bureaus for $9.75; $12.50 fron beds for $9.37; $21.00 couches for $16.00, "Hold on, hold on,' said Tom. "You don't take any stock in rot like that, do you?"

Now, Mary's heart was set on seeing that furniture and Tom, observing the cloud of disappointment gathering in that lately wedded face, yielded to Mary's pleading, and went to the big sale "just to see." Strange to say, they were confronted by bargains, absolute ly true to the advertisement. But when they entered the store Tom had said to Mary, "Why didn't you tell me it was Chamberlain's Building Improvement sale that was advertised?" It makes a mighty difference who it is that advertises bargains.

INDUSTRIAL COMBINATIONS.

Henry Clews is one of the wise men of Wall street, and what he has to say concerning finance and business is well worth attention. He thinks that the Morgan school and financial schools of similar type have closed for a long vacation, and he also thinks that "there is hardly any question that within the next few weeks there will be a general novement to dissolve enormous industrial combinations. This will not be done with unwise haste, but the sweeping out will be thorough."

Mr. Morgan is certainly not as popular as he was, and the fact that he is apparently having a good time on his yacht in these trying days looks to some of those who consider themselves his victims very much like the fiddling of Nero when Rome was burning. And there are enough industrial combinations in trouble to give weight to Mr. Clews' prediction concerning them. But his prediction seems to be rather sweeping. It is not probable that the principle of combination is to be immediately abandoned, though it is probable that the great "principle" of over-capitalisation, and that other great principle of capitalization of losses are to have a hard time of it. Indeed, they are already in serious trouble. There will be some, and perhaps many, industrial combinations dissolved, or, at least, reorganized. Much money which has gone into them has already been dissolved, and more will be. But there will be some industrial combinations left when the storm is over, and perhaps they will have learned how to do business more soundly and safely than it has lately been done by them. If they don't there will be more trouble.

BRIDGE WHIST VERSUS READING

There is a depression in the book trade in England, and a bookseller, said to be one of the most astute in the business, does not hesitate to declare that the depression is directly and entirely caused by bridge whist. The idea is that the card game has become so popular and so dominating in its influence as a fad or fashion as to monopolize a great part of the attention generally given to the reading of books. Commenting on this state of affairs, the London Outlook says: "A stock of five hundred packs of playing cards is more easily sold than two copies of any book. The bookshops remain empty. The most adroit advertisements of publishers fail to incite interest in books among a card-playing and card-ridden public. Some six years ago cycling was an equally formidable rival, and produced a disastrous stagnation in bookselling. As a craze it ended within three years. Will bridge retain its hold

This is surprising, not to say astonishing, talk. It doesn't seem possible of a state of mind which is not favorable to reading. Perhaps one trouble When the new tenement house law with the book trade in England is that tended by those opposed to it that it Something of that kind is observable in would stop the building of tenements this country, where bridge whist is, or mind as most of the new novels.

ALL RIGHT IN VERMONT.

The people of the South seem to be-Heve that the people of the North aren't lynching, and it is fair to say that there is some justification for their belief. Some of the people of the South also seem to believe that there are suffrage restrictions in the North almost as wicked, on the face of them, as the suffrage restrictions in the South. The constitution and the statutes of Vermont are cited to show that there is foundasays: "Every man of the full age of twenty-one years, having resided in this State for the space of one whole year next before the election of Representatives, and is of quiet and peaceful behavlor, and will take the following (freeholder's) oath or affirmation, shall be entitled to all the privileges of a Commercial schools in Russia are freeman of this State," And the statutes take the freeman's oath, or vote at an election, until he has obtained the approbation of the board of civil authority of the town in which he resides." This is taken to mean by some thoughtful southerners that a partisan board can decide what men of voting age and having the constitutional qualifications for residence and so forth, possess in addition a sufficiently peaceable and quiet behavior to entitle them to vote. The New Orleans States says concerning this: Beside this iron-clad device for maintaining political power in the hands of the dominant party in Vermont, the statutes designed for the purification of the electorate in Louisiana are mild and colorless. The "grandfather clause" is the only one now attacked, and that never shut out a solitary voter in Louisiana, nor was it designed risks. Are you all ready, Jacobs? Folready become practically obsolete, and negroes who were free before the war, on a special roll and permitted them to vote without complying with the general requirements provided for the ordinary voter. If this roll should be lost or destroyed to-morrow, the influence upon the vote of the State in the election next April would be so slight as to be scarcely perceptible. It wouldn't injure the Democrats nor would it benefit the Republicans.

Of course the performance in Vermont is all right, but it certainly would look queer if a southern State should adopt such a clause in its Constitution and set up a partisan board to decide upon the peacefulness of the behavior of men of voting age.

SOME RUSSIAN REFORM.

There is going to be some "reform" n the city government of St. Petersburg. Power is going to be more centralized and responsibility is to be more definitely fixed. That is to say, by a new law the Municipal Council is going to be more completely under government control than it was before. Councillors hereafter will be elected every six years, instead of every three. The voters will consist (1) of persons (of both sexes) having property of the ratable value of $1,500; (2) of trading companies, scientific societies, religious, charitable, and other associations; (3) enement occupants paying a tax of $16.50. Jews are excluded from the franchise entirely. The electors will be divided into two classes. The first, comprising the larger ratepayers, paying in the aggregate one-third of the rates, will form one body and elect onethird of the Councillors; the second class, comprising the rest of the voters, will elect the remaining two-thirds of the Councillors. Only those will be eligible as Councillors who have the right to vote and some small educational qualification. The total number of Councillors is to be 162. The executive is to consist of the mayor, the deputy-mayor, and eight ordinary members. All important decisions and resolutions must be approved by a special board receiving its instructions from the Minister of the Interior, and including the Prefect of St. Petersburg, the Public Prosecutor, the Directors of the Chamber of Finance, and other of-

St. Petersburg's head man will be able to keep his head on his shoulders if he keeps his eye and his mind on the special board.

A Merry.Ge. Sound. Whillikins was a writer bold Who never lost a chance:

Who never lost a chance;
While good at many sorts of work,
His best hold was Romance.
He wrote a lively, stirring thing,
A take of love and youth,
With a dashing maid and a clashing blade,
But never a word of truth.
"It's very good," wrote the publishers,
"but the public taste at present is for character study."

G. Whillikins then bled him home To make another start. He studied up psychology: He took men's souls apart;

He took men's souls apart;

He learned the naive, the morbid,
The crazy, quaint and queer,
And wrote a book without a nlot,
[Noie: Time elapsed—one year.]

"Why didn't we see this before?" the publishers asked. "Political Economy is what's selling just now."

Once more G. Whillikins set out.
With economic lore
He soaked his very being full—
It oozed from every pore.
He proved all poverty a crime,
And chose a "workingman"
For here, one who ran a critical or hero, one who ran a strike
Upon a novel plan.

day over identifying some of them wh

ment of raising silkworms, instituted in May by Albert Labarthe, has proved a practical success. Already many thousand yards of genuine Chicago slll have been reeled off the cocoons by Mr. Labarthe. He will during the next day or two send the remaining cocoons to the agricultural department at Washington, which supplied him with the eggs, for an official test of the quality of the silk.

"The point of this experiment," said Mr. Labarthe yesterday, "does not lie in the proof that the silkworm can form his cocoon in the United States as readily as in France or China, but in the fact that he can do so after being fed on the red mulberry instead of the white. There are no white mulberries in this country. "The effect of this test is to show that it is practicable to begin the slik industry in Chicago at once. I have had experience with the industry in the department of the Loire in France. It is likely that I will now import a large number of eggs and begin the raising of worms on a big scale. shows me that I will be able to feed my worms on the red mulberry for the five years during which the white mulberry trees which I will plant are growing. The white mulberry is, of course, better food than the red. But it is not absolutely essential. There is no reason why within ten years a vast amount of silk should not be produced right here

"The chief requisite of silk raising is the necessity for sedulous care. The eggs are first placed in an incubator. In three days the worms are hatched These are fed on the mulberry about thirty days. At the end of that time they form the cocoons. In ten or twelve days these cocoons are steamed. This is for the purpose of killing the worm inside. Then the cocoons, whose outside is the silk, are sold to the manufactories. Twelve hundred or 1,-500 yards of unbroken silk thread comes rom each cocoon. It is reeled off and the process of manufacture begins. The cocoons, with the worm inside, bring 3 a pound. If the industry gets started here," concluded Mr. Labarthe, "the price of silk will certainly be much

Mr. Labarthe did not care to make an estimate as to the probable cost of silk under these conditions. It would be "cheaper," he said. He spoke in a way which suggested that the woman's millennium may soon arrive, and that an average of six silk dresses to every wardrobe is not an impossibility.—Chi-Correspondence, Philadelphia

THE INFALLIBILITY OF PRECE-

DENT.
A case recently decided by the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit Illustrates what to a layman will appear an extreme instance of fidelity to precedent and infidelity to justice and common sense. A man by the name of Burt was carrying insurance on his life for the benefit, we presume, of his family. A murder was committed. Burt was suspected of being the murderer; the evidence convinced a jury of his guilt, and he was convicted and hanged for it,

According to the decisions, when a man is executed for crime no insurance can be collected on his life. This is probably fair enough in the case of ordinary murderers, but Burt was not an ordinary murderer. In fact, after-discovered evidence showed that he was not a murderer at all, but had been convicted under a mistake. The mem-bers of his family were no doubt gratifled to establish his innocence, and they thought under the circumstances they might be entitled to his life insurance. But the United States Circuit Court of Appeals refuses to depart from the pre cedents and its decision as reported in Case and Comment is as follows:

Prior to that time, so far as is known, it was a good, steady, stay-at-home kind of land, but it soon acquired the roaming habit and since then has been more or less restless. It has apparently ought to, but the next thing some lakeabutting property owner would wake up some morning to find the "floating is land," as it has come to be known, had snuggled up his way. About three years ago it moved eastward from a po-sition which it had for some years held the upper end of the lake, it taking advantage of a strong wind as a propelling power. A similar power recent-ly brought it to J. H. Parker of Boston, who owns a beautiful farm abutting on the lake. A few days ago the "floating island" set sail and fetched up at its old abiding place.

TWO PORTABLE BUILDINGS.

The Eaton School Fire-Other School Matters.

The total damage of Eaton school by the fire Monday will not exceed, it is tions for the Eaton school pupils, as the school cannot be repaired in time for the reopening of the schools. The work of repairing the damage will be started as soon as possible.

The school committee held a meeting in the rooms of the board of education on Center street yesterday noon to receive bids for the construction of two portable school buildings. The contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, Da-vid H. Clark, whose bid for the work was $2,185. There were seven bidders in all, and these, with their bids, were as follows: John Osborne, $2,336; R. Heft, $2,338; Knell, $2,485; Clark, $2,185; Hawkins, $2,226; Fogarty, $2,500; Murdock, $2,190. This use of the portable school buildings in New Haven will be an innova-tion, and it is felt that they will meet a long-feit need. The buildings, which will be plain wooden structures, will be large enough to accommodate about the same number of pupils as are commonly seated in an ordinary school room. The buildings will be constructed so that they can be moved from one portion of the city to the other where they are the most needed.

GERMANIA LODGE, I. O. O. F.

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY WAS CELEBRATED YESTERDAY.

Six Hundred Germans from All Parts of the State in Attendance-Speeches by Grand Officers, Mayor Studiey and President Gensbauer-Splendid Bauquet-Dancing Concluded the Festivities.

The exercises attendant upon the fiftieth anniversary of Germania lodge No. 78, I. O. O. F., were opened in Music hall yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the presence of about six hundred persons. There was a very large attendance of the members of the lodge and the number of invited guests from out of the city and in the city who attended was very surprising.

A solemn lodge session marked the opening and after appropriate remarks yb Fest President J. Anugust Gensbauer, prayers were said by ex-Chaplain Gottfried Lehr. An address of welcome was then given by his honor, Mayor John P. Studley. Intermingled with these exercises were several selections by an orchestra of fourteen pieces stationed on the rear of the platform. The historical address was delivered by the secretary, George K. Meiler, which was followed by addresses by the following: Grand Master Frank B. Upson, Deputy Grand Master C. S. Davis, Grand Warden Sidney W. Challenger, Grand Secretary Frederick W. Botsford of this city, Grand Treasurer Marigold, Grand Representatives William P. Hutchinson and James A. Carpenter, District Deputy Grand Master George H. Rudolph of Meriden.

This part of the programme was com pleted about 7 o'clock and the invited guests and Odd Fellows then regaled themselves with one of the finest banquets ever served.

The tables occupied the entire length and breadth of the banquet hall, which s directly below the main hall. They were very elaborately decorated and presented a most animated appearance. Speeches were made by most of the Grand lodge officers; also by Mrs. Hillman, past president of the assembly of Rebekah, and several other prominent Rebekahs.

The hall was beautifully decorated with palms and potted plants being used in abundance, especially on the stage, and there were festoonings of national colors and emblems of the order everywhere about the room. There was a large banner with "Welcome" extending entirely across the stage and the emblem of the order suspended be-with enthuslasm. Too much credit cannot be given the now estimated, $15,000. The question lis untiring efforts in making this celebration one of the greatest in the history of German Odd Fellows in the state. The entire affair was a great success and most of the planning and carrying into execution of the plans was by Mr. Gensbauer.

THE MAD MULLAH. The name of Mohammed Abdileh con eys little to English ears, but nevertheless it is that of a man who has a very wide reputation, and whose appearance in the newspapers is an everyday occurrence. As the Mad Mullah of Somaliland, Mohammed Abdileh is well known. But little is known of this second Mahdi, whose influence over the warlike tribes of Somaliland has caused so much trouble and expense to the government. He was born of poor parents, owning few cattle in the southportion of Somaliland, In his youth Mohammed was initiated into the mysteries of the occult sciences and sorcery. These he learnt among the tribe of the Danakil, which has always been renowned for its magicians. A study of the Koran and the Arab writings followed in the Marabout school. was taken with the idea of making the pligrimage to Mecca, and not content with one journey made the sacred visit three or four times. His object was to obtain a greater reputation for holiness than that held by the other pilgrims. After his last pilgrimage Mohammed returned to Berbera, but met with small uccess in that commercial town. See ing no prospect before him but that of remaining a poor, begging pligrim, he etermined to strike out a new line for nimself, and established himself among a powerful inland tribe. Here he madhis position secure by his appearance of holiness, his impressive airs, and the assurance with which he made his prophecies. At this time and hereafer he magic learnt in his boyhood stood him in good stead whenever his holiness was not able to overawe his somewhat turbulent followers. He assumed the title of Mullah (priest and heaven-sent). and even that of Mahdi (prophet). Overwhelmed with presents by credulous followers, Mohammed Abdileh oon was among the richest of the land, and with his riches his influence grew

His pride waxed very great, and one day he ordered all the Korans of the ordinary priests to be burnt, saying that he himself was the living Koran, and that he was to be obeyed as a new prophet sent from Allah. Not content with persuasion, the Mullah, following the example set by Mohammed the Great, threatened with death all those who disbelieved, and in following up these threats caused the disturbances which brought about the Somaliland campaign. Possessing the power of calling forth the enthusiastic support of the tribesmen, the Mullah has not had to rely upon himself alone for the conduct of his campaigns. If report speak ruly, besides the Austrian, Karl Inger, he has a lieutenant, an English naval officer, who, after his disgrace in the service, sought a career and revenge in

The chimney stack, which is sixty feet in height, is completed. An ammonia pumping plant has also just been completed. It is on top of one of the main buildings and is quite a little structure in itself. Ample barns have been erected near the factory buildings. A spur track is also to be had, which ill connect the factory with the main line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company.

Altogether, the new plant is a great credit to New Haven enterprise and will benefit the town of Orange as well as the city of New Haven.

COAL FELL ON HIS FOOT.

Theodore M. Johnson suffered a very painful accident Monday afternoon. Johnson, who is employed as a fireman by the Consolidated road, was working about his engine when a large piece of coal, weighing about sixty pounds, slipped from the tender. The piece of coal was in one solid block, and it fell on his big toe and crushed it. Dr. Sweet attended the case. Johnson had avery bad night and suffered a great deal from his injury. CAPTURED BY MOORS.

Adventures of a London Times Corres pandent.

We were crossing a small gully, thick erimson-blossomed oleanders, when suddenly I discovered that I had fallen into an ambush. Flight was imossible, and as I was unarmed, resistance was out of the question. From every side sprang out tribesmen, and in second or two I was a prisoner, surrounded by thirty or forty men, one and all armed with European rifles. I received no rough treatment at their hands, but was told that I was their prisoner and must proceed to Zinat. On arrival at the woods which surround the several villages which lie scattered on the Zinat hills messengers were sent to inform Raisuli of my capture, and in a short time I was taken to him. He was seated under some olive trees in a little gully surrounded by his men and by the headmen of the neighboring tribes, who had collected on learning what had taken place. Raisuli received me pleasantly enough, I had known him in the days before he took to brigandage, and this no doubt stood me in good stead. He is a young man of handsome appearance, refined in feature and manner, and with a pleasant voice. He was dressed in the ostume of the mountain tribes, a short brown cloak covering his white linen clothes and reaching only to the knees, with a turban of dark blue cloth. His legs were bare, and he wore the usual the London Times, yellow slippers of the country. After a thort talk with Raisuli, who narrated to me all that had taken place, he led me into what remained of his house greater part of which had been burned by the troops. Up to this time I had nothing to complain of in the at of the tribesmen, but a great titude number had collected in the vicinity, all had committed in the place. There was a good deal of hooting and cursing, but him to be able to hurry me through the crowd, now very threatening, and his own followers closed round me and guarded me from the mountaineers. It was an unpleasant moment, for I soon perceived that no authority existed over this collection of tribesmen, who numbered at this time perhaps two thousand-though by nightfall number was probably doubled-and that there would be no possibility of protection did they proceed to extremes It was with no little relief that I saw a small door opened in the remaining portion of Raisuli's house, where I was pushed in. A moment later the door was closed again, but it seemed as though the crowd without would break it down. But Raisuli and his men, and a score of personal friends among the tribesmen, formed up against the door-anxious to catch a glimpse of the Christian captive, and not a few inclined to wreak summary vengeance on me for way outside, and were able to dissuade the rabble from their intention of dragging me out. The room in which I found myself was very dark, light being admitted only by one small window near the roof, and it was some time before my eyes became accustomed to the gloom. When I was able to see more clearly, the first object that attracted my eyes was a body lying in the middle of the com. It was the corpse of a man who and been killed there in the morning by the troops, and formed a ghastly spectacle. Stripped of all clothing and shockingly mutilated, the body lay with extended arms. The head had been roughly backed off, and the floor all was swimming in blood. The soldiers had carried off the head in triumph as a trophy of war, and they had wiped their gory fingers on the whitewashed walls, leaving bloodstains everywhere. However, I was not to suffer Country club this afternoon there will the company of the corpse for long, for half-a-dozen men came in, washed the body, sewed it up in its winding sheet carried it away for burial, and a little later the floor was washed down, though no attemt was made to remove the bloody finger marks from the wall.

Here I remained alone for some ours, and it certainly was an anxious I reviewed the situation quietly, and came to the conclusion that, in spite of the danger which I knew existed, I had much in my favor. The fact that the language of the people was almost the same to me as my own tongue of great assistance, and among mountain tribes I have a large number of personal friends, who, I belleved, and rightly, would protect me as far as they were able. Unfortunate-ly, few of my influential acquaintances among the mountaineers had arrived, though to my joy I learned from the conversation of the guards outside the door that they were expected during the coming night. I decided meanwhile to pretend absolute ignorance of any danger, and to talk of my condition as only one of a series of adventures that I have undergone in Morocco and else

At sundown Raisuli and some of his men brought me food, and I had a long conversation with them. Raisuli was polite, but made no secret that he in-tended to make us of me, though he had not yet decided in what way. He, however, kindly informed me that, should the attack of the troops be renewed, I should be immediately killed. His career, he said, was practically finished, and his sole desire was to cause the Moorish government as much trouble and humiliation as possible, and he argued that there would be no easier way to do this than by causing my death. However, he promised me, at the same time, that, provided no fresh attack was made upon the lace, he would do his best to protect me. I was allowed to communicate with the British legation, but was not aware till later that this letter never reached its destination, though the following morning I was in direct communication with his majesty's minister, and throughout my captivity difficulties were put in my way in corresponding with the British legation. During the night a large contingent of the Anjera tribe arrived, among them several influential men on whose friendship I felt I might implicitly rely; and as a matter of fact I owe my release, and probably my life, largely to these men.

There is no need to give the details of the nine days I spent at Zinat. Sufficient to say that I suffered vedy considerable hardship. Though never actually roughly handled, except for a few insulting blows with slippers, etc., my discomforts were extreme. During those nine days I was never able to wash; I never took my clothes off, with the result that I was smothered with vermin; once I went for thirty-six hours without any food, for none was procurable, as the village had been burned, and during the whole time my what they could for me, but it was little they could do. There must have been some four thousand tribesmen present, and they obeyed no one, and no one had any authority over them.

It, was a trying time, but my only chance lay in pretending to place implicit confidence in them, and thus gain time while the negotiations for my release proceeded. No words of praise are sufficient for the great tact displayed by Sir Arthur Nicolson, the British minister, in conducting these negotiations. From the very beginning he realized the difficulties af success. and hroughout, in every dealing that he had with the tribesmen, he showed the greatest tact and skill. He from the very commencement warned the Moorish government not to take any steps to treat with the mountaineers, and conducted the entire proceedings himself. Mulai Ahmed, the young Hhereft of Wazan, being the means of commu nication between the British govern ment and the tribesmen. These negotiations were doubly difficult owing to the fact that the mountaineers had no recognized chiefs and that many tribes were concerned. Yet, so ably were the negotiations conducted that throughout the whole proceedings the ignorant and fanatical tribesmen placed entire confidence in the minister's word; and though delays occurred, as they always do in Morocco, there was never a serious hitch.-Tangier Corresondence of ANIMALS' LOVE OF THE CHASE. "The first time I had the pleasure of meeting Gilead P. Beck was at a bear hunt. B'ar behind," said the owner of "Golden Butterfly," explaining, The difference between the hunter and the hunted has seldom been more briefly put. But the case was one in which either party, man or bear, might naturally exchange places, in the Stock Exchange phrase, "according to the turn of the market." Apart from the instinct of the natural hunting animal, there is among many which ought only to understand the part of the hunted a curious liking to change places when they can, and to enjoy in the active form the pleasures of the chase.

A contributor to the Live Stock Journal, noted for his knowledge of the points and habits of horses of all breeds and classes, describes some instances of this propensity in the case of Arab horses. After noting the natural intelligence and resource of the breed, as shown in the fact that a halfbred colt, by one of Mr. Wilfrid Blunt's Arabs, caused the rescue of another colt which became entangled in the ice and frozen mud of a pond, by galloping into the stableyard, and there neighing and making such a noise that the groom's attention was aroused, he describes an adventure with another Arab pony in Leicestershire. He had taught it to ush open gates and to be very handy generally. One morning at Mel ton he was riding the pony, which he used as his covert back, when a boy hit at him with a whip, but missed him. "Now I always hold that a boy, however small, who is big enough to molest a horse, is big enough to 'eat stick,' as they say in India. Wherefore I pursued, and the young villain ran. He nade for the cattle market, which is entered by gates of considerable magnificence and weight. One-half of the gate was open, and it was clearly the boy's intention to shut it, and intrench himself. The little horse also realized the fact, and to my horror seized the bit in his teeth and made a rush, just getting through at full speed as the gate swung to. My knees escaped by a hair's-breadth. However, I ran into my quarry immediately, but as he was nearly frightened to death, did not give him his deserts. The way in which an rab enters into the spirit of any chase s truly marvelous. I was riding thi (which I bought of Lord Kitchener) along a bridle road, I myself being ost in thought. Suddenly, from i walk, I found the 'desert born' extended. The cause was not far to seek. My terrier had put up a hare, and was in full pursuit, going rather too fast to do much yapping, wherefore I had not no-life was threatened. My friends did self footsore, and this brilliant burst such an unnatural strain upon a man as ended in her losing puss."

For pig sticking, where the sportsman on the ground traversed, the Arab is recommended as probably the best mount, partly from his natural hardness, but also because he is exceptionally keen on the sport, picks his own way better than most other horses, and is particularly plucky when his rider come to close quarters with the boar. The horses which take the most active part in hunting big game, and in ictual chase, at the utmost speed, are those used by the sword hunting Arabs of the Nile tributaries. These are habitually ridden in pursuit of the giraffe, elephant, rhinoceros, the hunter riding right up to the heels of the quarry, and hen leaping off and ham stringing it with the broad two-handed sword. A pony called "Bashom," was ridden at giraffe after the fall of Khartoum. One day he managed to get loose when he was not taken out, and poined the hunting party of his own account., This pony is a pure-bred Arab, originally purchased at Damascus. Occasionally a vicious horse will hunt a human being or some other animal most persistently with a view to injuring it. A case lately heard before courts illustrates this. The defendant was sued for injuring a horse by hitting its leg with a stone. There seemed no loubt that he had done this. But the lefense was that it was a very vicious norse which had killed a man. When een by the defendant it was chasing a poy, who cried out for help. The defendant, knowing the horse's history, came to the rescue, and threw a large stone, which stopped it, and caused it injury. A donkey which was known to have a dislike for dogs was seen to course a setter puppy in the most relentless manner, until it drove it into a stream, where the pursuer endeavored to kill it with its fore feet. On the other hand, the true sporting instinct, ometimes exists without any desire to kill at all. A beagle puppy has more than once been known to run alongside of a hare which it had been hunting by scent with the rest of the pack for som time, and with the utmost keenness without attempting to bite it. In the same way, no dog can resist folding in a kind of mimic chase when a herd of pigs stampedes on a bean stubble, or any open ground where they are turned out in the autumn in a more or less

An old hunter seldom loses its taste for what was once the main occupation and excitement of its life. It is impossible to know what may have been the past of a horse, as the "handy-to-rideor-drive" animals are very numerous, and the riding part of their services closes first. Consequently when hounds are running near a road the most unexpected things happen to those driving dogearts, bakers' carts, or even trades men's vans, from the uncontrollable desire of the veteran animal they are driving to join in the chase. We remember on one occasion to have seen the road strewn for more than a hundred yards with newly baked loaves scattered from a baker's cart, in which they had been piled up for a Saturday's delivery. The hounds were running with the highway, and the heavy division gayly pounding along the road at best pace, were at once joined by the baker's horse, which, afheap, and upsetting him over the off ter bumping the driver over a stone wheel on to the green edging, was soon well with the first flight until a wheel came off in collision with a farm cart. Most animals have a kind of instinct for toining in a "hue and cry" of any king. Thus on Exmoor the half-wild cattle and ponies will gallop with the hunters, keeping as much as possible in line with them.-London Spectator.

THE ATHLETE'S HEART.

Statistics of Rowing Men Seem to Show That It's a Good Organ.

The many rowing contests which have occupied the country for the past month -the college regattas at Poughkeepsie and at New London and the two blg open regattas here on the Schuylkillticed the circumstance. As it was a ridge and furrow grass field of fifty or have furnished a large number of cases of extreme exhaustion among the oarssixty acres at least, and the ground in a state of hard frost, I was glad when men at the finish of the races, and has got a pull at my little steed. By this however, the terrier had run her- "Does not the rowing of races impose to be harmful to his future health?" A canvas was made of the men who rides with his eye on the pig, and not have rowed in the University of Pennsylvania crews from 1877—the first | well developed is in no danger how hard crew-down to the present year, and the result, instead of showing an increased mortality among oarsmen, demenstrates that they are an uncommonly healthy set of men. Out of the 113 men who made up the Pennsylvania crews during the period, all but two are alive and in good health to-day. These two died of typhoid fever, and their deaths can be in no way attributed to rowing. These facts contradict any amount of theory regarding the harm ful effects of rowing. Of the whole number of 113, nine have not been heard from for several years, but the Alumni Association is authority for the fact that they are still alive. Full particulars

> Aside from the two men who are dead, there are also two men who have benealt to them, but all of the remaining men are still devotees of the sport, and a large part of them can be found annually at the boat races.

> These two men who are not whether rowing did them any harm are E. I. Sterns and R. H. Eisenbrey. Sterns, on 1896 rowed in both the varsity and the freshman races, and in the fall he was taken down with appendicitis, which may have been caused by he unusual strain to which he was subjected, but the causes of the disease of the appendix are so vague in the minds of the doctors that it is an open question whether his case should be attributed to the oar. Eisenbrey was forced to quit this year on account of the weakness of his heart, which his physician claimed to have been due to the strain of rowing. Only one physician has as yet examined Eisenbery, and it is by no means certain that his heart has been really affected.

> Dr. Morgan, in 1872, made up statistics of the men who had taken part in the Oxford-Cambridge races from 1829 to 1869, and his results are about the same as those obtained from the University of Pennsylvania oarsmen. From a total of 294 oarsmen, 255 were still alive in 1873, and of these 115 described themselves as benefited, 162 as uninjured, and 17 said, with reservations, that they had been injured. Of these 17 cases all vere found to have gone into races without the proper preliminary training, or to have rowed while they were recovering from Illness or were otherwise poor health.

> A prominent member of the faculty of the University of Pensylvania medical school has made a study of the heart action of athletes. He has examined a large number of men in athletics, especially rowing men, and he has come to conclusion that no man in perfect health, who has been properly trained is injured by rowing, but that on the contrary his heart is so strengthened that, with a moderate amount of exer cise after he has finished his active rowing career, there is no reason, so far as the heart and lungs are concerned, that he should not live to a very old age.

"The heart," said he, "is both a very delicate and a very strong organ—that is if it is well developed it will stand an enormous amount of strain without any permanent injury, but if it is not well developed it is very easily weakened. Violent exercise, like rowing, places a great deal of strain on the heart, beit requires so much more pressure to force the blood through the body. Like any other muscle that is worked, the heart under the added labor, becomes larger, and most athletes have extra large hearts, just as they also have larger muscles throughout the body. "If the strain is put upon the heart suddenly it dilates-it becomes larger but more muscular-and that is the danger in athletics. If a man exercises gradually then his heart also increases in size gradually because the muscles become larger and this is a perfectly normal condition. It simply means that the athlete has a stronger heart than the average and one that can cope with the extra strain that is put upon it. A man needs a larger heart to row a race and if gradual exercise has so provided brought into prominence the question. him with one then he can safely undergo the most severe tests.

"It is the same way with the lungs and they must be developed gradually until they can undertake the extra work. A man with his heart and lungs the race. He may completely keel over at the end of the race, but it will likely be from sheer exhaustion and his heart is so strong that the effect is not at all injurious he will be as good as ever in a few moments."—Philadelphia Record.

al friend of Governor Chamberlain,

Who Makes the Money? The Man Who Keeps in Touch $

Do you know that the losses in the Industrial and Railroad stocks in the past few months would pay the national debt? You do not hear of any failure of this magnitude occurring in Gold Mining, do you? Panics, labor strikes or any other calamity can never bother the gold mine. Why? Because they produce money. Get wise and buy a good gold min-ing stock such as I have placed before the New Haven public. They furnish money to run the government. We sell stock in producing mines that hold up through all hard times and increases in value every day you

Do not take 3 per cent. when you can make 12 per cent. Now is the time to invest your savings in mining stocks

OBITUARY NOTES.

Former New Haven Resident,

T. Collins Pratt, a Much Esteeme

The funeral of T. Collins Pratt, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Buell Goodsell, 1085 Broad street, Meriden, Conn., yesterday morning, will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from his daughter's residence. M. Pratt was extensively and most favorably known in this city and was highly esteemed by all. A number of years ago he was connected with a prominent clothing house on Church J63 B. street. Later he became local agent for a large New York clothing house and had an office on Chapel street. About two years ago his health became impaired and he gave up business and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Goodsell, whose husband is a son of Bishop Goodsell of the Methodist church. Deceased was a man of sterling honesty and integrity and had a great many friends who will be grieved to hear of his death. He was a member of the First Methodist church of this city for many years. His age was sixty-two years.

HOME FROM ST. LOUIS.

E. B. Moss Tells About the Connecticut Building,

E. B. Moss, general superintendent of the H. Wales Lines company, returned July 27 from St. Louis, where he had been getting the Connecticut building at the Louisiana Purchase exhibition, for which the Lines company has the contract, under way. Mr. Moss is quite enthusiastic over the prospect and be-lieves Connecticut's building will compare very favorably with the rest, although somewhat smaller than some of

The state buildings are all located in the northeast corner of the preserve known as Forest Park. They are being built of wood frames with staff on the outside. The excavation for the building representing this state was started Friday and the work will be completed before the beginning of the year. George Stretch will remain in St. Louis in charge of the construction.

The plans of the Connecticut building were accepted without the suggestion of a change just as they were submitted by Architect Hapgood.

Hon. Isaac S. Taylor, director of works, and all the exposition officials with whom Mr. Moss and Mr. Stretch had occasion to consult promptly extended to them every courteous attention, and afforded them every facility within their power to proceed with the Messrs. Moss and Stretch also met L. F. Parker, brother of W. D. Parker, of this city, who gave them a most cordial reception and manifested a deep interest in the proposed Connecticut building, and the part that Connecticut had already taken and would be expected to hereafter take in the exposi-

YESTERDAY'S STOCK MARKET.

Pronounced Reaction at Close and Prices Fall Again New York, July 28 .- The stock market this morning showed the continuing effect of the clearing of the atmosphere which resulted from yesterday's and Friday's failures and the market became quite generally strong. . But the brighter sentiment over the outlook did not hold its full force throughout the day. There was a pronounced reaction at the last which wiped out the most important part of the day's gains and carried a few of the grain carriers a point or more below last night. New York Central was the conspicuous leader of the advance, rising at one time 2 1-8 over last night on buying reputed to be of the best character. The sentimental effect on the market of the buying of this stock and the Pennsylvania and the affiliated stocks as well as of the coalers and other high grade railroad stocks was considerable. Atchson suffered most acutely amongst the market leaders and its drop to 1 5-8 below last night upset the late market and led the whole list downward. The grain carriers were not strong at any time and were presumably affected by the reports of hot winds in the corn belt and by the weather bureau's weekly bulletin on corn and shipping of wheat, Reports of crop damage were einforced by the upward movement of prices in the grain markets and the development of profit taking in those markets did not save stocks from the late reaction. The improved sentiment this morning was largely due to the understanding that the closing out of hypothecated securities for loans, both of the failed firms and of others under ressure for repayment of loans on collateral for which the market is not active was to be suspended for the present and to await a more favorable market. Late in the day there was indication of a resumption of selling out of collateral on some loans. The buying through commission houses was reported to be better than for many weeks and was hopefully regarded. But this buying did not follow the market upwards. There was evidence of a purose to drive in the bears in the calling in of stocks loaned for delivery on short contracts and in the character of some of the rumors which were set afloat. There was a report of a private settlement between the Union Pacific interest and one of last week's falled firms, looking to taking over of large holdings of Southern Pacific and a resumption by the firm. This was denied when the Union Pacific directors assembled to Lindsay, M. Mother Stories; j L641 declare the regular dividends. Toledo, St. Louis & Western was reported to have passed to Grand Trnuk control. An offer of fifty for Evansville & Terre Haute control was alleged to have been made by an anonymous bidder. Colorado Fuel was said to have acquired the tah Iron company, and its pr Reiser, F. Hardening and Tempering up nearly a dozen points on a few intervening sales just at the last. The other stories were effective in varying degree in causing sharp bidding for the stocks. The renewal of the steel billet pool seemed to be hopefully regarded Trent, W. P. MET AT GROTON.

State Commission in Care of Fort Griswold Heights

The commission appointed by Gover-nor Chamberlain to "Protect and care for the Fort Griswold Tract" on Groton Heights has just held its first meeting, which took place at the residence of Mrs. Cuthbert H. Slocomb at Groton. There were present: Mrs. Sara T. Kinney, of New Haven; Mrs. Cuthbert

H. Slocomb, of Groton; Ernest E. Rog-, of New London; Mrs. Adrian J. ers, of New London, Sits. Robinson, Muzzy, of Bristol; Lucius F. Robinson, of Hartford; H. Wales Lines, of Meri-

They organized by the election of Mrs. Kinney as president and Mr. Rog-ers as secretary. Mrs. Slocom submit-ted a full and interesting report of correspondence to President Roosevelt, etary of War Root and other United States government officials, together with a full account of the successful efforts to place the care and protection of this interesting and sacred spot with the state of Connecticut. The commis sion also visited old Fort Griswold, which except as it has been changed by storm and time remains substantially as it was when Colonel Ledyard and his brave followers defended it to th last against a vastly superior force by n they were barbarously massacred after surrender.

OVERDOSE PROVED FATAL. Pomfret, July 28.—An overdose of morphine caused the death of Leonard Arnold of this town, who was employed on the farm of Dr. Murray in Abington. Arnold was found unconscious in his room this morning and died a few hours later. It is supposed that he had been in the habit of taking the drug in small quantities, and swallowed the overdose accidentally. He was fiftysix years old and unmarried. He was tyler of the local Masonic lodge.

"But your country is so new," said the foreigner, "you have no traditions." "Oh, I dunno. We've got old enough to have men here who can hold their grandchildren on their knees and tell of experiences they had when 'they were professional baseball players."-Chicago Record-Herald.

Most Popular in the World

What is the most popular advertised medicine in the world? A few years ago it was supposed to be a brand of rills made in England claiming a sale of 6,000,000 packages a year. This record is badly beaten, sowever, to-day by the famous American family medicine Cascarets, Candy Cathartic; which are selling at an average of over 10,000 boxes every day, over a million boxes a month, and over twelve million boxes a rear. This appears to be evidence of overwhelming popularity, the most noteworthy as record.

that it is one of several hundred made at the same time-cut out by machinery, stitched together "any old way", and exactly like all the other ninety-nine. It has just one definite measurement—the bust measurement—and in all other respects you are expected to fit it-not

The suits we sell here are made more carefully, and while we don't fit them as carefully as we would a $35 "tailor-made", yet we have assorted sizes and varying lengths and widths in them enough to promise you a suit that looks as if it had been intended for your own wearing not for the wear of a woman somewhere near your size. Styles have a lot to do with looks, too-and our styles are "different" and effective.

And, Beside All This, Our Prices Have Been Very Much Reduced.

At $2. Suits in navy blue and black mohair, sailor collar, trimmed with white braid.

At $2.50. Suits in navy blue and black mohair, with deep, flaring sailor collar; trimmed throughout with fancy braid.

At $3.75. Suits in blue and black mohair, with fancy notched collar, embroidered anchor and insignia.

At $4.25 to $10. Suits of exclusive and distinctive styles tailored by people who make to fit; large variety of really tasteful and "dressy" styles. Pure Rubber Bathing Caps, 25c, 39c and 50c; handkerchief caps (an Atlantic City novelty) 50c, 75c and $1.
