

ANGLO-GERMAN TREATY

Official Announcement of the Signing of an Arbitration Convention Between the Two Countries.

BRITISH PUBLIC SUPRISED

NOT ALTOGETHER PLEASED BY THE AFFAIR.

Just Such an Agreement That the Powerful Organs Urged the Government, Prior to King Edward's Visit to Emperor William, at Kiel, Against—The Good Fellowship of England and France in Contrast.

London, July 13.—Official announcement was made to-day that an arbitration treaty between Germany and Great Britain was signed yesterday by Foreign Minister Lansdowne and Count Wolf-Metternich, the German ambassador. It comes as a complete and altogether pleasant surprise to the English press and public. It was against just such an agreement that the Spectator and other powerful organs urged the government prior to King Edward's visit to Emperor William at Kiel. By the papers which echoed that warning the news of the signing of the arbitration treaty is swallowed either with palpable dislike or with ill-concealed disappointment.

The only whole souled appreciation comes, curiously enough from opposition papers. The Daily News, the government's most bitter opponent, warmly congratulates King Edward upon his latest achievement. The Liberal Daily Chronicle and the Morning Leader follow suit, while such a staunch mouthpiece of the government as the Daily Telegraph devotes half of its editorial on this subject, to the expression of the belief that the Anglo-German treaty cannot compare in importance with the convention concluded with France.

A similar method of evading criticism is pursued by the Standard, but the Morning Post frankly decries the government, characterizing Lord Lansdowne's latest diplomatic stroke as a "policy of unsettled convictions and of promiscuous amiability."

The Daily Mail and other papers accentuate the fact that the agreement is very limited in scope and deals with minor matters. The Daily Mail declares that "there unhappily is no indication whatever on the part of Germany of such an amicable disposition as exhibited by France" and adds that only if the German naval programme was reduced could both governments be congratulated upon the latest arrangements.

An especial point is given to the editorial stress upon the priority of the Anglo-French agreement by the fact that at almost the moment when Lord Lansdowne and Count Wolf-Metternich were signing the document at the foreign office, M. Cambon, the French ambassador to Great Britain was laying the last stone of the new pier at Folkestone. There the French ambassador made a speech, which is given great publicity, and in which he declared he was cementing the good fellowship and friendship of the two nations, created by the Anglo-French treaty. These expressions are used with much effect in the editorials of the government organs, in order to offset the fear, not expressed except in the Morning Post, that the French public may entertain in view of the present development, grave doubts of British sincerity in the recent Cambon-Lansdowne treaty.

The Daily Telegraph, undoubtedly voicing the official opinion here, says: "Bismarck's principle of Toujours en Vedette will still remain a necessity at Wilhelmstrasse, but it must remain the vital idea under all circumstances of our own admiralty. But every person of common sense must rejoice in the elimination of petty friction from the diplomatic intercourse of Great Britain and any other great power. We should desire above all things a similar arrangement with our kindred, the United States, and there is nothing in the world to prevent an identical agreement with Russia."

In support of its criticism the Morning Post says that those who welcomed the Anglo-French treaty as a master stroke laid stress on the fact that it left Germany isolated. "Now an agreement with Germany and the presence of a German squadron at Plymouth are proofs that Germany is not isolated."

The Standard, while not taking the treaty as an outcome of King Edward's visit to Kiel, says it is an appropriate sequel to that meeting.

With a few such sentences the Standard proceeds to dilate on the stability and advantages of the Anglo-French entente.

SENSATIONAL WAR REPORT

NEARLY 30,000 JAPS BLOWN UP AT PORT ARTHUR.

Russian Mines Said to Have Caused Terrible Havoc Among the Mikado's Troops—General Staff at St. Petersburg, However, Has Received No Information Regarding the Attack.

London, July 13.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says that the Japanese casualties by land mines at Port Arthur Sunday night are reported to have been 29,000, but none of the many other special war dispatches mention a Japanese disaster at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, July 12.—A dispatch from a Russian correspondent at Mukden dated July 11, says: "According to intelligence received here the Japanese last night attacked positions near Port Arthur and were repulsed with enormous losses, not less than 30,000, it is said, being killed or wounded by our mines."

St. Petersburg, July 13.—7:30 a. m.—The general staff has received no information regarding the reported attack on positions near Port Arthur and the loss of 30,000 Japanese killed or wounded by Russian mines.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

St. Petersburg in Ignorance of Japanese Advance to Ta Tche Kiao.

St. Petersburg, July 13.—3:14 a. m.—The Japanese advance to Ta Tche Kiao is shrouded in mystery. No telegrams have been received by the general staff or the admiralty since Lieutenant General Sakharoff's dispatch of July 10, with the exception of a report from General Kurapatkin covering the events detailed by General Sakharoff, which was delayed because it followed the emperor on his journey to the Volga region.

TWO MEN MURDERED.

Shop Set on Fire to Conceal Evidence of Double Crime.

New York, July 12.—George F. Abbott, sixty-eight years old, a junk dealer, was found murdered in his little shop in Chapel alley, near Pearl street, Brooklyn, to-day. In Abbott's stable was found the body of Frederick Van Hasker, an acquaintance. Both men had been shot through the head and then beaten with some blunt instrument. Their hands and feet were tied with rope. In Van Hasker's left hand was a revolver.

The bodies were discovered by firemen, who responded to an alarm sent in by a boy who saw smoke coming from the junk shop. The flames had been kindled in a rubbish heap in one corner of the place, evidently by the murderer with intent to conceal his crime. The police of the Adams street station say that the two men must have been killed at least forty-eight hours ago. The police theory is that the murderer returned to the junk shop to-day and set fire to it.

Two men have been held for examination and as witnesses in connection with the crime, Charles V. Johnson, an employe of the junk dealer, and Oscar Dahlgren. It is said that Abbott had quarrelled with a former employe who had threatened to get even with him. The murderer is thought to have placed the pistol in Van Hasker's hand.

BURIAL OF MARK TWAIN'S WIFE.

New York, July 12.—Samuel I. Clemens (Mark Twain) and his two daughters, bringing the body of Mrs. Clemens, who recently died in Italy, arrived to-day on the steamer Urinoz Oskar. Mrs. Clemens' body will be taken to Elmira, N. Y., for burial.

GOLDEN RULE MAYOR, SAMUEL M. JONES DEAD

EXPIRES AT TOLEDO HOME OF COMPLICATION OF DISEASES.

Born in Wales He Came to This Country to be Beloved and Honored—Entered Politics in 1897—Elected Mayor of Toledo Three Times—Nominated for Governor as a Non-Partisan Candidate but Lost.

Toledo, O., July 12.—Samuel M. Jones, the golden rule mayor, died at his home at 5:07 o'clock this afternoon as the result of a complication of diseases. The immediate cause of his death was an abscess on one lung. The mayor had suffered for years from asthma, and this was the primary cause of his fatal illness. The death of Mayor Jones has caused the greatest sorrow all over the city. Although many did not believe in his ideas on sociological problems, everybody loved and respected him. His one great stronghold with the people of Toledo was his honesty. The mayor was taken ill two weeks ago last Thursday, and for the last forty-eight hours previous to his death, was in a comatose condition. All the members of his family were at his bedside at the time of his death. He leaves a widow and three sons.

The remains of Mayor Jones will lie in state at Memorial hall on Thursday and Friday until noon, and the funeral services will be held at the residence on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The pallbearers will be selected from his employes.

Samuel Milton Jones, known all over America as "Golden Rule" Jones, was born in Wales in 1846. His parents came to America and settled in New York state when he was three years old. Up to the time Mr. Jones was ten years old, he worked at anything he could find to do during the summer and attended school in winter for a few months. In 1864 he went to the oil fields of Pennsylvania, where he worked as an engineer. In 1875 he was married to Alma B. Curtis, of Plainville, who bore him three children. After the death of his wife, Mr. Jones moved, in 1882, to Lima, O., and leasing lands, struck what was known as "the first large oil well" in Ohio. He was one of the original incorporators of the Ohio Oil company, which afterwards sold out to the Standard Oil company.

In 1892 he was married to Helen L. Beach, of Toledo, and moved to that city. Two years later he started a factory for the manufacture of oil pumping apparatus, which is now known as the Golden Rule factory. Here he gradually instituted a number of innovations, setting up the golden rule as the only regulation of the shop.

In the spring of 1897 came his first introduction to political life. The republican party was split in three factions, each with a candidate for mayor. At the convention two of the factions saw the necessity of uniting to prevent the third from winning out, and Mr. Jones was selected as the man on whom both could unite, who would be strong enough with the church people and popular with the workmen. After a struggle in the convention Mr. Jones secured the nomination, and in the election that followed was elected by a small plurality. His administration of the office, while honest and efficient, did not suit the different factions in the republican party, however, and when his term expired he was refused a renomination. Mr. Jones then appealed to the people as an independent candidate. In the election that followed he carried every precinct in the city but one and polled 70 per cent. of the entire vote cast. He was renominated by petition in 1901, the democratic party leaving the place of mayor blank in his favor, and he was elected for a third term by a handsome plurality. In 1903 he was again renominated by petition, and, with both a republican and a democratic candidate against him, he was again elected.

By the terms of the election bill passed by the Ohio legislature last winter his term of office was extended until January, 1906.

In 1899 Mayor Jones was nominated for governor by petition as a non-partisan and polled over 100,000 votes, carrying the cities of Toledo and Cleveland by large pluralities.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 12.—Wm. Syphert, a private in the Fifth infantry, to-night shot and killed Sergeant Samuel Philpot, also of the Fifth infantry, stationed at the Plattsburg barracks. There had been bad feeling between the men because of the alleged attention Philpot had been paying to Syphert's wife. Syphert was placed in the guard house, but he will be brought to the county jail in this city to-morrow.

Serious Auto Accident.

Providence, R. I., July 12.—An automobile occupied by Ezra K. Perkins, a prominent manufacturer of this city, and his guest, O. L. Judd, of New York, a traveling salesman, was struck by an electric street car at the entrance to the grounds of the Pomham club at Riverside this afternoon. Judd's skull was fractured, and it is thought that he will die. Perkins, who was operating the machine, received only painful injuries.

HILL GRATIFIED.

His Opinion on the Gold Standard of Judge Parker.

Albany, N. Y., July 12.—Former Senator Hill to-night gave out the following interview on Judge Parker's declaration for the gold standard: "I am gratified that the convention so enthusiastically endorsed the brave and manly stand of Judge Parker, and that the whole country has so favorably received it. The party is in the position in which I wished it to be, having endorsed the present gold standard. The financial question is now entirely out of the campaign, and the republicans are powerless to drag it in. The road to a successful campaign has been cleared."

GRAND JURY ACTS QUICKLY

NEGROES INDICTED IN NEW JERSEY ASSAULT CASE.

Three of Them Will Have to Serve Forty-nine Years in Prison if Given Maximum Penalty on All Counts—Grand Jury Recommends that the Punishment for Rape be Capital or Imprisonment as Jury Shall Decide.

Mount Holly, N. J., July 12.—The grand jury of Burlington county today returned three bills of indictment against Aaron Timbers, Jonas Sims and William Austin, one for felonious assault upon Mrs. Elsie T. Biddle, one for assault with intent to kill, and one for breaking and entering the residence of Thomas Stricker. For these three offenses the maximum penalty is forty-nine years.

Indictments were also found against Joseph and Israel Timbers, brothers of Aaron, and Horace Robinson of Burlington, as accessories after the fact and for obstructing the police officers in the discharge of their duty when they were searching for the three principal offenders.

In making their presentment the grand jury offered the following resolutions: "This grand jury hereby recommends that the law of this state providing a punishment for the crime of rape be so altered as to provide for capital punishment or for imprisonment for any terms of years in the discretion of the trial jury, the present punishment for the said offense appearing to be inadequate."

GOLDSBOROUGH HELD.

Charged With Murdering His Friend, Ten Eyck, in Wallingford.

Wallingford, July 12.—Robert Goldsborough was held for the October term of the superior court to-day on the charge of murdering his friend, Albert W. Ten Eyck of New Haven, while they were celebrating the Fourth of July in Wallingford. This action was taken after a hearing in the borough court at which various witnesses testified, some declaring that they deemed the shooting accidental, while others said Goldsborough knew it was loaded. Goldsborough is a colored boy, and his victim was also colored.

Two statements in which Ten Eyck after he received the injury exonerated Goldsborough from any intention to shoot him were submitted to the court. One of these statements was taken by Constable Thomas J. Kinney. It was as follows: "I do hereby declare that I was shot in North Lake street about 12 o'clock noon on the above date (July 4), which in my judgment was accidental by Robert Goldsborough."

It was signed by A. W. Ten Eyck and witnessed by Daniel O'Donnell, Fannie Sullivan, Jennie Adley and Ella Ten Eyck.

The other statement prepared by the medical examiner, Dr. McGaughey, says in part: "I believe that death is impending, and that I was shot accidentally fooling and playing with Goldsborough. He shot at me thinking the cartridge was blank. This is my dying declaration made in the presence of D. J. Riley, Thomas J. Kinney, Stephen Sabo, and Ella Walsley to Dr. J. D. McGaughey, medical examiner for Wallingford." This also bears Ten Eyck's signature.

MEAT PACKERS STRIKE; PRICES OF BEEF TO SOAR

ALL THE GREAT PACKING CENTERS ARE AFFECTED.

If Prolonged the Trouble is Expected to Cause Widespread Inconvenience, Possibly Equaling the Anthracite Coal Famine of Two Years Ago—The "Killers" Start the Walkout—Girls With the Men "to the Last."

Chicago, July 12.—As the result of a stubborn disagreement chiefly over wages for unskilled labor, one of the most extensive strikes in the history of the meat packing industry of the United States began to-day in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Mo., and other cities where large packing plants are located. If prolonged the strike is expected to cause widespread inconvenience, possibly equaling the anthracite coal famine of two years ago.

The unanimity of the strike was completely involved. In Chicago alone 18,000 men are on strike.

The effect of the strike upon the food supply of the country and the prices of meats is being earnestly discussed, notwithstanding the announcement to-night that the packing houses, contrary to somewhat general expectations, will continue operations without any close approach to a strike. How much alleviation in the furnishing of supplies to the public this course may afford is a matter of wide variance of opinion. The packers declare that hundreds of men who could not be provided with places have been applying daily for work.

The walkout here was started by the employes of the killing departments at the various packing houses. The killers were followed by the workers in other departments as fast as the current work left by the slaughterers could be cleaned up. Thus as the workers in each department disposed of their part of the work they threw off their aprons and departed. This consideration was shown the packers, the labor officials announced, because it was not the desire of the men to cause the employers any financial loss as a result of neglecting meat that was on hand to be dressed.

Watched by cordons of police, the strikers filed briskly out of the packing houses, carrying overalls, rubber boots and knives, cleavers and steels. The strikers were greeted by crowds of women and children, many of whom joined hands with the workmen on the outward march. Whatever the future may have in store in the way of riots, there was to-day absolutely no sign of disorder.

A picturesque scene was presented when the sausage factories and canneries were left by their forces. There are 1,000 girls employed in these two departments of the meat industry. Clad in their variegated garb of factory girls, this army of feminine strikers tripped blithely along the main thoroughfare of the streets and were roundly cheered as they emerged through the gates and distributed themselves in the crowd of men who had awaited their coming.

"We're with you till the last," the girls exclaimed, smiling as they stood around and talked over the situation.

"How long do you think it will last?" inquired one of them, looking quite serious.

"I don't know," he replied, "except that President Donnelly says that they managed to hold out fifteen months in Buffalo, and I guess we can do as much."

President Michael Donnelly, of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of North America, the leader of the strikers, said in a conversation this evening that he believed the strikers would have little difficulty in withstanding a siege of more than a year with the strike funds the unions have on hand.

Arthur Meeker, of Armour & Co., said to-night: "We consider the demand of the union for an advance in wages of unskilled labor entirely unwarranted by industrial conditions."

HIGHBALL BREAKS HIS LEG.

New York, July 12.—Highball, the American Derby winner, and one of the best of the three-year-olds broke his leg at the ankle during the running of the Seagate stakes, at Brighton Beach to-day. Bud May, half owner of Highball, would not consent to have him shot, as Highball is insured for $25,000. A telephone message was sent to a representative of the insurance company in New York to come at once to look over the Derby winner and end his agony.

Only three faced the starter for the Seagate stakes, with Highball favored at 11 to 20. Highball showed in front to the first turn, when he bore out and Odum had to hit him over the head to keep him in. Knight Errant then assumed the lead and showed the way to the finish, winning easily by two lengths from St. Valentine. As the field swung into the stretch, Highball was seen to falter, and Odum at once pulled him up and dismounted. After several attempts to walk him off the track, a man held the broken leg, while several others pushed him to the infield, where his leg was strapped up so it could not touch the ground.

PECULIAR SUIT.

Man Wants Damages for Attention Paid Sweetheart.

Montreal, July 12.—Jerome Internosia, former Italian consul at Montreal, has entered suit against Vincent Bonelli, a wealthy merchant of Vicksburg, Miss., who has a summer home in the mountains at St. Agathe. Internosia is engaged to marry Bonelli's daughter Annie, and that the engagement was broken off through the efforts of the defendant.

Internosia makes no demands for injured affections, but sues for the amount of money expended during his courtship. He gives an itemized account of the money spent for postage, fruit, flowers, cab hire, etc. His principal charge is for 465 hours that he spent in Miss Bonelli's company at the rate of $2 per hour. He also charges for increased living expenses involved in moving into a new house which Bonelli bought, intending to present it to his daughter at the time of their wedding.

PULLED TRIGGER WITH HIS TOE

Being Despondent an Ivoryton Man Shoots Himself With a Rifle.

Ivoryton, Conn., July 12.—John Coughlin, aged forty-five, a prominent carpenter and builder here, despondent over illness of consumption, this morning placed the butt of his rifle against the stove in his room, held the barrel to his head and pushed the trigger with his toe. The shot entered his right eye and caused death almost instantly. Mr. Coughlin owned a nice home and line in it. His wife and he have been separated for about twelve years. The report of the rifle was heard by Gilbert Kelsey, a neighbor, who went to the house and found Coughlin dead.

PICKED UP IN THE SOUND

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN TOWED INTO BRIDGEPORT.

An Envelope Dated Washington, D. C., Found in His Pocket on the Right Hand Side of Which Was the Stamp "Executive Mansion, Official"—Addressed to John R. Connor, Paterson, N. J.

Bridgeport, July 12.—A body was picked up in the sound beyond the Bridgeport light this afternoon and towed into the harbor and taken to the dock at the foot of Pembroke street at 5 o'clock this evening by one of the oyster steamers. Cullinan & Mullins were notified at 8 o'clock this evening, when the body was towed into the harbor, and they took the remains to the morgue, but after making an inspection and notifying Medical Examiner Downes the body was hurried to Lakeview cemetery and buried.

The remains were those of a stockily built man, about five feet five inches tall. A dark coat and vest and a pair of gray trousers were on the body. In the pockets of the coat were found a number of memoranda which may lead to the identification of the body. An envelope was the first matter found. It was dated at Washington, D. C., May 27, 1904. On the right hand side of the envelope was "Executive Mansion, Official."

The envelope was addressed to "John H. O'Connor, Paterson, N. J., 48 North 11th street." The street number and name of the street is very indistinct. A visiting card bearing the name of "Mrs. Frances A. Rowe" was found in the pocket. On the back of the card was written "Merry Christmas; Happy New Year." There was a small memorandum book in the pocket, on which were a number of addresses as follows: "Mrs. Wm. Dickinson, 67 Bodine street, Long Island City;" "J. Bigley, 31 Leonard street, New York city;" "Miss Mammie Harvey, 2513 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C."

His other belongings was an Erie road time table of the Newark branch and three cents. The envelope would indicate that the name of the deceased was John H. O'Connor of Paterson, N. J. It is possible that the man fell off a passing steamer and that the body had floated to this side of the sound.

NOMINATION CROOKED; BRYAN WILL SUPPORT IT

NEBRASKA OPENLY DECLARES THIS IN PUBLIC STATEMENT.

Gives Reasons Why He Will Stick by Parker and Davis—His Chief One is That the Ticket Stands Against Imperialism—Does Not Abandon Fight on Economic Questions—Will Begin to Organize for 1905 as Soon as the Election is Over.

Lincoln, Neb., July 12.—W. J. Bryan to-day gave out the following statement: "I shall vote for Parker and Davis, the nominees of the democratic national convention, and shall do so for the following reasons: "First—Because the democratic ticket stands for opposition to imperialism, while the republican ticket stands for an imperialistic policy. On this question, which was the paramount issue in 1900, and which must remain an important issue so long as an attempt is made to hold colonies under the American flag—on this issue the convention was unanimous, the platform emphatic, and I have no doubt that the candidate will carry out the platform."

"Second—Mr. Roosevelt is injecting the race question into American politics, and this issue, if it becomes national, will make it impossible to consider economic questions that demand solution. The election of the democratic ticket will put a quietus upon this attempt and permit the race question to work itself out without the bitterness which Mr. Roosevelt's conduct has engendered.

"Third—Mr. Roosevelt stands for the spirit of war. His friends present him as a man of blood and iron. He believes in strenuousness, and inculcates a love for warlike things. The democratic ticket stands for peace, for reason and for arbitration, rather than for force, conquest and bluster.

"Fourth—The democratic platform declares in favor of the reduction of the standing army, and as this plank was unanimously adopted there is reason to believe that a democratic success on this subject would bring some advantage to the people.

"For these four reasons I feel justified in supporting the ticket, but I shall not misrepresent the situation or appeal for votes for the ticket upon false grounds. A democratic victory will mean very little for any progress on economic questions so long as the party is under the control of the Wall street element. On the money question Mr. Parker is as thoroughly committed to the side of the financiers as Mr. Roosevelt. If he does not go so far as the republicans would in retiring silver dollars, in establishing branch banks, in enlarging the powers of the national banks and in the substitution of an asset currency for the present currency, it will be because he is restrained by the democrats in the house and senate. Nothing good can be expected of him on the money question.

"On the trust question the democratic platform is very much better than the republican platform, but the nomination of Parker virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank. Unless in his letter of acceptance he commits himself to attempt anti-trust legislation we need not expect him to pursue a different course from that pursued by President Roosevelt.

"So far as the labor questions are concerned, we must await Judge Parker's letter before we shall know whether the laboring man has anything to expect from his election. The labor plank as prepared by Judge Parker's friends on the sub-committee was a straddling, meaningless plank. In the full committee planks were adopted in favor of arbitration, the eight-hour day and against government by injunction; also a plank on the Colorado situation. If Judge Parker is silent or ambiguous on these subjects it will mean that the financial influence back of him will not permit him to take the labor side on these disputed questions.

"On the tariff question some little progress may be hoped for, but the Parker men on the committee were necessarily in favor of a very conservative tariff plank, and it remains to be seen whether Judge Parker will carry out the positive and definite plank which was submitted by the full committee. This is the situation:

"Judge Parker stands for enough things that are good to justify me in giving him my vote, but, as I have tried to point out for several months, the triumph of the Wall street element of the party denies to the country any hope of relief on economic questions. I have nothing to take back. I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive."

saying several times that she made her sister the gift on Christmas morning, 1902, and testifying that her sister went to Hartford for a week's visit on December 23. Asked how she reconciled the dates, she corrected her testimony, saying the gift was made, as a matter of fact, on December 22.

Dr. H. M. Clapp was recalled after Mrs. Amy A. Masters had been called to the stand and asked if she had knowledge of immoral relations between Mr. Bullock and Miss Flora Rhodes. She was not permitted to answer, as Judge Bishop ruled out that question.

Dr. Clapp contradicted testimony given by William W. Ward, of this city, with regard to a visit to an inn in Stratford, also contradicting Mr. Bullock's statement that the latter had said to him that it was blackmail to charge him with paternity of Miss Shaller's child.

Samuel Preece contradicted testimony given by several witnesses for the defense, stating, in brief, that he had not made his sister-in-law a present of the ring, and that although he had gone to church as a member of the Shaller family party, he had not accompanied Miss Shaller home on Saturday evenings from the choir practice.

Miss Shaller was recalled and contradicted a number of witnesses who had located her at several socials and who said they had seen her in company with Preece. She also contradicted Mrs. Bullock's testimony, and Mrs. Blakeslee's upon the point of her not being at the Bullock home on the night of the alleged assault.

Mrs. Shaller will be called for a few questions in the morning and the arguments will then follow. The case should reach the jury by to-night.

IN AND ABOUT THE COURTS

REBUTALS TAKE UP DAY IN BULLOCK CASE.

Plenty of Conflicting Testimony—Arguments to-day—Stoddard Unable to Furnish Bond—Criminal Superior Court Adjourned—Margait Arraigned—Smith Case Continued—Ullman Confirmed as Receiver—City Court Cases.

When the case of Miss Shaller against Rev. Mr. Bullock, of Stratford, was resumed yesterday morning Mr. Bullock was on the stand for cross-examination. He said he told the trustees of his church about the charges and they told him to fight it out. He said, however, that he did not tell them of the papers he signed. He said he paid part of the money with a loan from Miss Whitney, of Bridgeport.

When asked if he sought to have Dr. Cogswell suppress from his report on the death of the Rhodes baby that he was its father Lawyer Goodhart objected. After much wrangling between counsel Judge Bishop said that, as he had ruled out reference to another case as to whether the defendant had not been dismissed from Unity church, Chicago, under charges of immoral conduct, he felt that this testimony as to the fatherhood of the Rhodes baby ought to be ruled out, as it would occupy much time, very needlessly. After a secret conference between counsel on both sides and Judge Bishop, Mr. Bullock was allowed to testify that Flora Rhodes was once a domestic in his household, but that he never had any immoral relations with her.

Mr. Bullock then testified that Dr. Clapp never took any pay for professional services rendered the Bullock family. He also said the Shallers never asked him for any money. He said he knew of no reasons, besides those previously given by him, why Miss Shaller should sue him. Witness then said he had an interview with Miss Rhodes' grandfather, Mr. Griswold, and mentioned the absence from the state of Miss Rhodes and her nurse, Mrs. Masters, but asserted that he did not suggest their leaving. He also said he had not hired a detective to induce Miss Shaller to go to a hotel in New Haven since the trial was brought. After Mr. Bullock said he had not found his drawings of the cross his testimony was closed.

Livery Dealer Charles Wakeley, recalled, testified that Dr. Clapp paid $4 for a team to take Belle Shaller away August 28, 1903. This witness was introduced to try to impeach Dr. Clapp's testimony.

Some large maps were introduced of Stratford Center and Mrs. Helen Hubbard testified about the ability to recognize persons under the electric light. Mrs. Hubbard has testified that she saw Miss Shaller talk to Samuel Preece there in 1902. Miss Shaller had said that they had not spoken in ten years.

Here the defense rested at 12:30. On the rebuttal Lawyer Judson introduced Hiram Smith, of Stratford, a member of Rev. Mr. Bullock's church. He went south November 29, 1902, he testified, attending the choir till that time. He was introduced to try to show that he, not Preece, was the man with Miss Shaller seen by Mrs. Hubbard. He was unable to place the date in 1902. He said that he had worn a beard for twenty-five years. Preece had only a mustache.

Mrs. Thomas Whitmore, of Hartford, aunt of Miss Shaller, testified that Miss Shaller visited her in December, 1902, remaining there a week. Miss Shaller's movements were called for while there, and Mrs. Whitmore said that Miss Shaller received no gentlemen callers and never went out unless some relative went with her.

Arthur W. Burritt, who sold some glass to repair the panes broken by Miss Shaller, testified to the accuracy of the accounts.

Miss Ida Gorham, who stood by the switch in Stratford last week and tried to recognize several of Lawyer Judson's witnesses in the spot where Miss Hubbard said she saw Preece and Miss Shaller meet, testified that she was unable to recognize Mr. Judson.

Here the court took a recess until 2 o'clock. When the afternoon session opened C. A. Shaller, father of the plaintiff, was called to the stand and testified that until Mr. Bullock's arrest he had no knowledge of what had been agreed upon at the office of Dr. Clapp. Mrs. Samuel Preece, sister of Miss Shaller, testified that it was she who had made Miss Shaller a present of a ring that has figured in the evidence. Mrs. C. Sherman, of Milford, had previously testified that Miss Shaller told her that Mr. Preece gave the ring to her. Mrs. Preece became somewhat confused in her testimony, however,

SEASON OF EXCURSIONS.

EVERY DAY A BUSY ONE FOR TROLLEY OFFICIALS.

Many Organizations Spent Yesterday at the Several Shore Resorts—Others To-day—Partial List of the Sunday Schools and Other Organizations Which Will Spend a Day at the Several Shores.

This is the season of excursions, and no one is better aware of it than those officials of the trolley road who have to deal directly with the excursionists. Every day is their busy one and they are constantly in receipt of communications from various parts of the state with reference to plans and details of entertainment at the many delightful shore resorts in close proximity to New Haven.

Yesterday was one of the busy days for the trolley officials, and at least a dozen organizations from various parts of the state passed the day at the Rock, or some other resort. Among others was a party of about 300 from Derby. They spent the day at the Rock coming and going in special cars.

Quite a number of excursions and picnics are billed to take place to-day, among them being the German Lutheran church at Double Beach, a party of 300 from Bridgeport at Savin Rock. The members and friends of the City Mission will leave the city early this morning on special cars to go to Stratford, and there be transferred to the Shelton line, and then be taken to the Pine Rock park, a resort among the hills.

Of the coming excursions, picnics and trolley parties, the following are thus far scheduled and arranged for. The Waterbury Business Men's association at the Momauguin and the German Lutheran church at Double Beach on Thursday, the Howard Avenue Baptist church, the Howard Avenue M. E. church at Double Beach and the Grace M. E. church at Lighthouse Point, and the Plimpton Mutual Aid society of Hartford at Savin Rock on the 16th, popular excursion No. 2,002, comprised of persons from New Milford and points south, to the number of 400, at Savin Rock on the 19th, a private party of about 100 from Bridgeport to the Rock on the 20th, the Taylor Congregational church Sunday school at Double Beach and popular excursion No. 2,003 A from Litchfield to the Rock on the 21st, and also the Union Sunday school of Hartford at the Rock on the 21st, the employees of R. Wallace and Sons of Meriden at Double Beach on the 23d, the Stanley Works Sick benefit society of New Britain, to the number of about 600, will be at the Rock on the 30th, as will also be the St. Mary's Y. M. club of South Manchester. The Ladies' Aid society of the A. O. A. of Middletown will be at the Rock on August 3.

This is a list of events thus far scheduled, but there will be many more arranged for in the meantime, which will be sandwiched in from time to time. The trolley officials figure that they will have use for at least thirty extra cars on every fine day during the remainder of the summer.

BABY'S ECZEMA

CURED BY CUTICURA

Now Six Years Old with Thick Hair and Clean Scalp. Cure Permanent.

"My baby was about six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with it. It would soon form again and be as bad as before. I tried several things and then went to the doctor. He said it was Eczema, and prescribed an ointment, which did not do any good. A friend spoke of Cuticura Soap. I tried it and read on the wrapper about Cuticura Ointment as a remedy for Eczema. I bought a box and washed her head in warm water and Cuticura Soap and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old and has no trace of Eczema."

MRS. C. W. BURGESS, Franklin Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21, 1898. Mrs. Burgess writes Feb. 28, 1903: "My baby, who had Eczema very badly on her head, as I told you before, after using the Cuticura Remedies was cured. She is now six years old and has thick hair and a clean scalp."

This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disgusting, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors, as well as adults, infants and children, and is sure to succeed when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

The remembrance of last season's still lingers in a host of youthful minds who will receive the news with exceeding pleasure and great anticipation. Arrangements for the event are now under way and they are on a more elaborate scale than heretofore. It seems a great undertaking to promise every juvenile a present, but not one of the 10,000 that attended last year was turned away, and the hundreds or thousands more that attend this year will not be disappointed. The presents will be worth having and will greatly please the young. This year "Juvenile Day" will be Tuesday, July 19.

The King of Denmark has a very valuable collection of birds' eggs, which includes specimens of nearly every kind in existence. The collection is considered to be worth about $75,000.

I am convinced, said Senator Daniel at the St. Louis convention, "that the country is on the verge of a great catastrophe and calamity." Another defeat of the Democratic party could hardly be called that, could it?

A Sheffield (England) firm has received from an Eastern potentate an order for a bedroom suite in solid silver. The designs are of oriental character and of a most elaborate description. It is to be of solid silver throughout and includes a bedstead, a cabinet, a dressing table, a dozen chairs, three foot baths, and three hot water cans. The bedstead is of the most ornate character. Each of the four pillars will be surmounted by gracefully moulded female figures nearly three feet in height. The moulding of the room and other decorations will also be in sterling silver.

The English maritime reports are to the effect that at no past time has the shipping business of the United Kingdom been in a more unsatisfactory shape than it has been for the last six or eight months. It has been impossible during this time to obtain freight money sufficient to pay running expenses and depreciation, to say nothing of profits. Four or five years ago conditions were quite the reverse, and it was said that some of the ship owners were earning a sufficiently large return on their tonnage to pay the cost of construction if the profits were continued through a term of three years.

Secretary Taft has introduced a reform at West Point which he claims may be of benefit to the service, but which will stir up some feeling among army officers, and especially among the cadets. In future the latter are not to be allowed to choose which branch of the service they will enter, but will be assigned to their places by a board. The custom has been to allow the first few high-standing cadets in the graduating class to go into the engineers, the next group to the cavalry, and those who remain to the infantry. This gave the cadets an added incentive to take high rank so that they could have some choice as to their future. But the secretary states that this system often threw men into a branch for which they were not fitted, and the result was a detriment to the army.

The life of an express locomotive in England is estimated at twenty-five years; that of a freight locomotive at twenty-six years, and that of a switch engine at twenty-seven. In the United States the life of an express locomotive is eighteen years, of a freight engine sixteen years, of a passenger engine nineteen years, and of a switch engine twenty-two years. In eighteen years, however, the American machine has run 2,000,000 miles—double the average travel of an English locomotive.

Bourke Cochran, the New York congressman, recently told a meeting of the Women's Federation of Clubs "that between polygamy and divorce the difference is all in favor of the former." "Polygamy," he continued, "comprehends a group of wives at one time, while divorce simply means driving them apart."

The storing of coal at Gibraltar is accomplished by means of a very curious plant which has just been completed for the pumping station at Landport. In the huge rock fortress the coal store, boiler house and the engine room adjoining are worked under compressed air, and are necessarily airtight. The store to which the coal has to be conveyed is hewn out of the solid rock and is absolutely bombproof. A special feature is the arrangement of the coal plant in such a way that it does not interfere with the air pressure. The coal is lifted from the coal tip fifty-seven feet below the horizontal traveler. The skip by which the coal is conveyed is raised by means of a steel wire rope working over pulleys and around a driving drum. The time occupied by the skip in travelling from coal tip to coal store is two minutes. At this end, and on a level with the motors, a sentry box is hewn out of the rock, where the man who controls the gearing for hoisting the skip is housed and has practically a full view of all three operations.

NOT STRICTLY NECESSARY.

We should always honor the old, unless they are old drunkards, old criminals or something else that is not honorable, but perhaps we are not under obligations to honor them by electing them to office for which they may not be fit. Army and navy officers have to retire at sixty-two and sixty-four, judges are called old at seventy, and even college professors are finding pensioned quiet after seventy more desirable than the daily grind. Henry Gasaway Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president, will be eighty-one years old next November. Why the Democrats nominated him is one of the puzzles that were constructed at St. Louis. He is still fairly vigorous, we suppose, and probably likes to be told that he doesn't look a day over fifty. He is worth forty millions or so, and some think that fact had a little to do with his nomination. This idea would be plausible if the Democratic party didn't despise and hate wealth and "capitalists" so. Another notion is that because he is a cousin of Senator Gorman of Maryland his nomination will induce Gorman to do his best to get Maryland to vote for Parker and Cousin Davis. But whatever the reasons for his nomination, the fact remains that he is a pretty old man, and if he should be elected and be called upon to be president it is not believed that it is in him to be as lively and strenuous as President Roosevelt has been. The waning strength of Henry Gasaway Davis does not seem calculated to add strength to the Democratic ticket and the Democratic cause.

TOO MUCH AND TOO STRENUOUS.

The recent utterance of Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster of Phillips Andover, on "Athletics and Ethics" is attracting some attention. This is a part of it: The first duty of the school, as well as the college, is to train its students mentally, morally and physically. In themselves, athletics offer splendid opportunities for this training, but athletic contests are coming to be regarded more and more as an end rather than as a means. Far too much importance is attached to success, until nothing short of victory will satisfy the contestant or his friends. Questionable methods have become lamentably common. Players early are taught that skill in disregarding rules is a prime requisite of a successful athlete. And the worst feature of this lamentable situation lies in the fact that it is largely graduates of our leading colleges and universities who are engaged in this demoralizing business.

As Mr. Stearns was and is an athlete and in thorough sympathy with athletics, he can hardly be suspected of talking through his hat in this matter. He has told the truth and told it well. By and by athletics may be relegated to their proper place in institutions of learning. And they may not be. If they are not perhaps the presidents of those institutions may yet be and feel honored by being allowed to wear the coveted letter while delivering the baccalaureate sermon.

NOT SO VERY UNCHRISTIAN.

Count Katsura, the Japanese prime minister, shows that even if Japan cannot yet be called a Christian nation she is doing pretty well for a nation that the Russians would like to have called Pagan. The argument against Japan is sometimes expressed in this form: "Russia stands for Christianity, and Japan stands for Buddhism;" but, the premier says, the truth is Japan stands for religious freedom. This is the principle embodied in her constitution, and her practice is in accordance with that principle, for in Japan a man may be a Buddhist, a Christian or a Jew without suffering for it. Thus there are Christian churches in every large city in the empire and in almost every town, and complete freedom is given to every Japanese citizen to worship in accordance with his own convictions. These Christian churches send out men to extend the influences of Christianity from one end of the country to the other just as freely as such things might be done in the United States. There are numerous Christian newspapers and magazines which obtain their licenses precisely as other newspapers and magazines do, and as a matter of course, while Christian schools and Christian associations for philanthropic work are accorded a direct recognition by the government. There are Japanese Christians among the members of the national Diet, the judges of the courts, the officers of the universities, the editors of leading secular papers and the officers of the army and navy. The government has made special arrangements to have American and British missionaries and Japanese Christian ministers accompany the armies in Manchuria for the purpose of acting as spiritual advisers to the Christian soldiers. Count Katsura implies that it would be difficult to find similar instances of religious liberality on the part of the Russians. Again, as indicating the desire that the government has to conduct the war now going on on the highest plane of civilization, he refers to the fact that, under the authority of the minister of education, orders were sent to the teachers in all of the institutions of education, from the primary schools upward, and requests addressed to the recognized representatives of all of the religious bodies in the country, asking first that every means should be taken to discountenance wrong tendencies concerning the war among the people, and to positively emphasize the following points: "That the war is one between the state of Japan and the state of Russia; that it is not waged against individuals; that individuals of all nationalities peacefully attending to their business are to suffer no molestation or annoyance whatever, and that questions of religion do not enter into the war at all."

If such acts are not the acts of a Christian nation they are, all the same, Christian acts, and nations that are called Christian might consistently imitate them.

DO AS THE ROMANS DO.

One of the Strange Effects of Life in Rome on the Temporary Visitor. The strangest thing about life in Rome is that one not only does as the Romans do, but ends by thinking as the Romans think, feeling as the Romans feel. The best illustration I know of this is the mental attitude of the foreign residents toward certain superstitions, notably the belief in the evil eye—the malechio or jettatura, as it is indifferently called.

I never knew an Italian who did not hold more or less to this superstition. Americans who have lived long in Rome either reluctantly admit that "there does seem to be something in it," or, if they are Roman born, quietly accept it as one of those things in heaven and earth of which philosophy falls to take account.

GEMS

make the beautiful more attractive and have inspired poets, craftsmen and artists alike through all the ages, to put forth their most skillful efforts. The FORD COMPANY

In certain respects the Italian is markedly free from superstition as compared with the Celt or the Scot; for instance, the fear of ghosts or spirits is so rare that I have never met with it; on the other hand, the belief in the value of dreams as guides to action is deep-rooted and widespread. The dream book in some families is held hardly second in importance to the book of prayer. The Italian's eminently practical nature makes him utilize his dreams in "playing the zotto," as the buying of lottery tickets is called. To dream of certain things indicates that one will be lucky and should play. The choice of the number is the chief preoccupation of the hardened lottery player. It is decided by the oddest chance—by the number on a bank note that has been lost and found again, or the number of a cab which has brought one home from a delightful festivity.—Century.

CHINESE LABOR FOR THE SOUTH.

It is very doubtful if any number of white foreign laborers can ever be induced to come south and work in competition with the negro. The Chinaman, however, would have no such scruples, and we are of the opinion that he would prove a potent factor in solving the so-called and much-discussed "race problem." Be that as it may, we know he will work, and work is what we want. The wonderful resources of the south can never be developed without labor. The negro cannot begin to supply the requirements of our growing industries, and the white laborers at the south are so few they cannot at present enter into the calculation of the labor supply. Now the treaty between this country and China whereby the United States is authorized to exclude the Chinese laborer expires next December. At that time we sincerely hope that China will insist that her people wishing to come to this country be treated on an equal footing with other nations. We also trust that con-

Object of the district conventions will be to arouse an enthusiasm among all the members throughout the domain and start the fall and winter work. I desire that all shall become interested and keep interested.

Note III—Remember we want to show by October 1st a gain of five hundred in this domain.

I have decided to have the page's rank conferred at four district conventions by lodges that have been designated upon a class of candidates furnished by the lodges of the district they are in.

After your lodge has voted favorably upon these applicants, present them at your district convention for initiation. Be sure and have your quorum with you. And with true knightly pride in your lodges and love for the order, come to the district convention with a large delegation from your lodge.

Josephine Kirk Locked Up for Taking Cheap Jewelry. Her penchant for cheap jewelry and stage diamonds got Josephine Kirk into trouble yesterday morning. Lately Josephine has been making the rounds of the department stores collecting trinkets of this nature, but yesterday morning being slightly under the influence of liquor she bungled a job in one of the stores and fell into the clutches of Detective Donnelly.

Josephine lifted a cheap pin from one of the counters in the store, but became a little confused, and instead of throwing away the card on which the pin was fastened she threw away the pin, which was picked up by one of the clerks, and kept the card.

When searched at police headquarters she had a handkerchief full of cheap paste diamonds and other gew gaws. This is not the first time Josephine has been in the toils, and this morning she will be arraigned on the charge of theft.

HARDWARE DEALERS

Held Annual Outing at East Shore To-Day. The annual outing of the members of the Connecticut State Association of Hardware Dealers will be held at the Mousaugun on the East shore to-day, and the indications point to a large attendance. A large number of guests have been invited, including a representative from each manufacturer of hardware in New England.

Among the prominent guests expected are Editor R. H. Williams of New York, of the Iron Age, and Edward G. Baltz the associate editor of the Hardware Dealers Magazine. Mr. Simmons, representative of the Harvard Mutual Insurance company, is also expected to be present.

President W. A. Church of Derby will call the meeting to order promptly at 10:30 and several matters of vital importance to the hardware trade will be brought up. One of the important features of the meeting will be the election of a new secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. L. Wray, who has recently retired from business and moved from Hartford to Boston.

Reports of the several committees appointed at the annual meeting in March will be read and several important questions acted upon. The hardware trade has been suffering in this section of the country considerably of late, owing to reckless jobbers who call on the retail trade and quote extremely low prices, thus destroying all profit to the local dealers.

The aim of the association is to prevent these grievances to the manufacturers and ask their co-operation in the elimination of the evil. The question of hardware insurance will also be acted upon, and it is expected that the competition by the catalogue houses will be looked into thoroughly. Resolutions will undoubtedly be made and referred to the manufacturers.

At the close of the business session dinner will be served on a very elaborate plan, after which the members and guests will indulge in speeches and toasts. At the close of the dinner all will proceed to the Pequot house, where they will be the guests of the Massachusetts Association of Hardware Dealers. The Massachusetts association will hold its meeting there at the same time, and it was voted to extend an invitation to the Connecticut association to participate with them in the celebration.

The officers of the Connecticut State association are: President—W. A. Church, Derby. Second vice president—George J. Bassett, New Haven. Secretary—Charles L. Way of Hartford. Treasurer—Lewis B. Crosby, New London.

Directors—A. H. Abbe of New Britain, J. J. Noxon of Middletown, Herbert T. Clark of Willimantic, T. L. Jones of Greenwich, F. M. Lyon of New London, J. R. Hill of Danbury, George E. Baldwin of Bridgeport, F. T. Terry of Ansonia, D. B. Wilson of Waterbury, C. H. Freeman of Norwich, Eli C. Birdsey of Meriden, Henry Lockwood of Stamford.

NOMINATION CROOKED; BRYAN WILL SUPPORT IT (Continued from First Page.) ride the party. The New York platform was vague and meaningless, and purposely so because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them.

If he had sent to the Albany convention the telegram that he sent to the St. Louis convention he would have had very few instructed delegates from the south, and no possible chance for the nomination. But he and his managers adroitly and purposely concealed his position until the delegates had been corralled and the nomination assured. Then his friends attempted to secure a gold plank, which was overwhelmingly defeated in the committee.

After the party had rejoiced over the harmony secured by the omission of the question, and after he had secured the nomination, he injected his views upon the subject at a time when he could not be taken from the ticket without great demoralization. The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods, but the democrat who loves his country has to make his decision upon conditions as he finds them, not upon conditions as he would like to have them.

"After having stated that I shall support the ticket, and after having given my reasons for so doing, I think it due to the democrats of the nation to say that, while the fight on economic questions is postponed, it is not abandoned. As soon as the election is over I shall, with the help of those who believe as I do, undertake to organize for the campaign of 1908, the object being to marshal the friends of popular government within the democratic party to the support of a radical and progressive policy to make the democratic party an efficient means in the hands of the people for securing relief from the plutocratic element that controls the republican party and for the time being, is in control of the democratic party. This plan of organization will be elaborated soon."

MONTEWSE POSTOFFICE ROBBED. Safe Cracked by Burglars and $50 in Plunder Secured. Burglars Monday night forced an entrance to the postoffice in Montewse, and, blowing open the safe, rifled the cash drawer and got away with $50 in money and stamps. Judson D. Foote is the postmaster and the office is located in a general store kept by him at Montewse Center. When Mr. Foote came down to the postoffice at 6:45 o'clock yesterday morning he found the front door of the store open and the doors of the safe within also open.

It is believed that the burglary occurred after night. There were no other tenants in the building and the burglars had comparatively easy work of gaining an entrance. This was done by forcing the door with a crowbar. The burglars had evidently planned to drive away with the booty with Mr. Foote's horse and wagon, for they had gone to the barn and thrown oats in the horse's manger to let the horse feed while they were doing the job in the postoffice. The harness was also taken down from its place and left where it would be convenient for the burglars when they were ready to harness the horse, but these plans were not carried out and it is evident that they were scared away.

When Mr. Foote came to the office he found that the burglars had taken from the stable two blankets, which they had soaked thoroughly in water and then placed them about the safe for the purpose of muffling the noise of the explosion. On the floor they left the tools which they had used in breaking in. These included a large crowbar, a chisel and a sledge hammer.

Postmaster Foote came to this city immediately after he discovered the robbery and consulted with Postmaster Howarth, United States Marshal Parmelee was called and steps were taken to apprehend the thieves. The gang left nothing behind them that would enable the authorities to trace them, except the tools which were found on the floor of the postoffice. These bear no mark that would furnish any clue to the burglary.

In the opinion of the postoffice officials the job was done by a gang of expert safe crackers.

JEDESMAL CLUB BANQUET. Last evening there was an invitation banquet given by the Jedesimal club at its headquarters, the Pleasant View hotel, West Haven. The committee on arrangements are to be congratulated upon the successful carrying out of their plans. A excellent menu was served and much enjoyed by all present, who voted the banquet a great success.

VARIOUS ITEMS. Fifty applications for enlistment in the navy have been received at the naval recruiting station since it was opened Monday in the Insurance building. Many of the applicants wanted to enlist providing they would be assigned to the new battleship Connecticut. As the recruiting party cannot guarantee this some of the men withdrew their applications.

Awake from Doze When Game is Lost—Bannon and His Playing—Eleven Innings in Hartford, Hartford Winning—Springfield Shuts Out Holyoke—Korwich Wins a Game.

New Haven took a long breath yesterday and while holding it thought she had a walkover with Bridgeport. In the eighth inning, however, there was a rude awakening, for the Blues were caught in a doze and by the time they had finished wiping their eyes three runs had been scored. The game was interesting from beginning to end. A special feature was the fielding of Bannon. He was both erratic and brilliant. He has received considerable "knocking" during his occupation of the "six spot," but an impartial critic must acknowledge that he has done well, whether he keeps his legs open or shut.
