TWENTY DEAD TAKEN FROM PENN. R. R. WRECK

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED OTHERS INJURED, MANY SERIOUSLY.

Details of the Terrible Disaster Near Harrisburg-Full Box Car of Dynamite Exploded-Prominent Persons on the Express Train-Daughter of Senator Knox and Samuel S. Shubert, the Theatrical Manager Among the Injured-List of Identified Dead.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 11.-Twenty persons are known to be dead and more than one hundred others were injured, many seriously, in the railroad wreck and dynamite explosion which occurred early to-day on the Pennsylvania railroad in the southern part of this city. That no more persons were killed is considered remarkable by the Pennsylvania railroad officials, as a full boxcar of dynamite exploded directly at the middle of the heavy express train. The list of dead and injured is as fol-

The following is a list of the dead: V. L. Crabbe, Pittsburg. George Zeigler, Pittsburg. James R. Phillips, Pittsburg. Paul Bright, Pittsburg. Mr. Shaw, Harrisburg.

J. L. Silverman, Philadelphia. Mrs. Robert G. Dougherty, of Phila-H. K. Thomas, Parkerburg, Pa., engineer of express train-C. Kurlman, Altoona, Pa. Norma Martina, seven months old-Nine unidentified bodies.

The train carried a number of prominent persons, most of whom escaped with only slight injuries. Among those on the train were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Tindell, of Pittsburg, the latter the daughter of United States Senator Knox; Mrs. A. J. Barr, wife of the proprietor of the Pittsburg Post, and her two daughters; Victor L. Crabbe, sonin-law of Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, assistant to President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Samuel Shubert, the theatrical manager of Mr. Crabbe died in the Harrisburg hospital at noon, a few minutes before his father-in-law reached his bedside. Mr. Shubert was reported to be badly injured, but the others were only slightly hurt.

The wrecked train was the second section of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express leaving Philadelphia at 11:05 last night. It consisted of a combina tion baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers.

There are various stories of how the wreck occurred, but the official version

About 1:40 o'clock the engine on an east-bound freight train was flagged by the crew of a shifting engine ahead on the same track. The engineer quickly unusually long one, came to a sudden halt. The strain on the air valves was a severe one, and a connecting air hose in the middle of the train blew out. This caused the middle of the train to "buckle" and the damaged cars fell over on the passenger tracks.

Just as this happened the Cleveland express came thundering up and "sidewiped" the wreck. The express was stopped within its own length and the third sleeper was opposite the wrecked cars. Before any one could leave the passenger train, which was not very badly damaged, a few slight explosions occurred, and then there was one great flash and roar that shook the earth. The whole affair occurred within the period of a few seconds.

A scene of horror followed the explosion of the dynamite. The passenger cars and some of the freight cars instantly took fire. As the reverberation of the terrific explosion died away in the hills across the Susquehanna river the agonizing cries of the injured could be heard. Men and women came tumbling and climbing from the car windows or crawled from under the wreckage. No one for the moment seemed to know what to do, and many of the passengers, momentarily seized with terror, ran wildly about the fields on the north side of the railroad or waded into the shallow waters of the river which parallels the railroad on the south.

Realizing their safety and the danger still threatening others, the frightened passengers turned in and began the rescue of the living. As they approached the wreck another explosion occurred, which sent them scurrying away Fearing that the entire freight train might be loaded with dynamite, no one railroad men, who knew the contents of the burning freight train, led the

The work of rescue was at first slow and it seemed as though the flames would envelope the entire express train before those who were pinned beneath the heavy wreckage could be freed. Everywhere there came cries for help, and the frantic rescuers worked with willing hands. Scores of those who were trapped in their sleeping berths or pinioned under wreckage were taken out badly hurt. The advancing fire drove the res cuers back as they were about to take others from the wreck and the unfortunates, men and women, were soon enveloped in the flames. The cries of the dying were heart rending in the extreme, but nothing could be done for them. An alarm of fire was sent in, but when the firemen reached the scene the flames had done their work so far as the victims of the wreck were concerned. The entire train was consumed

After the victims in the wreck were beyond human aid more attention was paid to the injured, who presented a (Continued on Fifth Page,) months ago,

The first speaker was John Manson who said that he favored the machines; that those which had been tried here had proved very satisfactory; that they would save the candidates a lot of money, and were productive of a quick and honest count.

The next speaker was John Doughan, who was in favor of the machines. He was followed by Henry Donovan, who was also in favor of the machine, principally because they would do away with the political grafters. The next speaker was Judge Simeon Parents.

A meeting will be held this evening in the High school auditorium at which the parents of all the children in the eighth grade of the grammar schools are requested to be present. The meeting is for the purpose of explaining to the parents of the scholars who are about to enter the High school, the course of study, the work, rules and regulations of the High school, with a view

The eigth grade of the present year's scholarship is an exceptionally large one and it is the hope of the school offiuntil the finish of the school course in the city if possible. Every year with the promotion of the scholars in the grammar schools many do not return to take up the higher course, and it is to remedy this if possible that the meeting will be held. BREECHES BIBLE.

Copy on Exhibition in This City. Fo Editor of the Journal and Courier; Dear sir: Apropos of your recent article concerning the "Breeches" Bible it may be on ifterest to your readers to know that a copy of this celebrated book is now on exhibition in the window of the Kingsbury-Reeves company at 22 Crown street.

The book bears the date of 1955 and eccivees its peculiar name from the fact that Genesis, chapter iii, verse 7, reads, "And the eyes of them both were opened and they sewed figge tree eaves together and made themselves breeches." The version differs considerably from that ordered by King James and peculiar renderings are abundant.

On the title page of the book in faded characters is written "Clement Knapp, his booke, August the 20th; 1640. Ye booke cost £8 10s 8d. This would be nearly $50 in our money and shows the great value of books at that time, as the purchasing value of money was much greater then than now, laborers receiving but a few pence a day. Some gathered from the fact that it was 150 years old when Benjamin Franklin set up his press in Philadelphia.

We shall be very glad to allow the book to be inspected by anyone who may be interested.

Yours respectfully, Roscoe Reeves.

There is no disgrace in being a cook, but there is eternal disgrace in being a poor cook."

Count Michael Michaelovitch Barzimoff, commander of a Cossack regiment in the Russian army, has arrived at Portland, Ore., to represent the Caucasian provinces at the Lewis and Clark exposition. He attracts more attention because of the fact that he wears the full uniform of a Cossack commander. The late Grand Duke Serglus was once saved from assassination by this officer. This was in Moscow fifteen years ago. An anarchist was stealthly approaching the Grand Duke, dagger in hand, when the count, observing the move, dashed the spurs into his horse and just in time cut down the would-be murderer.

The last year's tables exceeded any previous record by more than $30,000,-000. The item of sugar was largest on the list, amounting to 5,000,000,000 pounds, bringing about 2 1-2 cents a pound, against 5 cents in 1870. On the other hand. According to the Belgian press the king has laid before his ministers an original and unique plan for showing to the world what the kingdom produces. A boat having specially arranged exhibits of the products of Belgium is to be sent out specially equipped under governmental supervision, and carry the Belgian flag: It is to carry guns for salutes, and is to be clothed with special governmental privileges to insure its official reception at calling ports. If the first boat proves that such a system of showing goods is beneficial, a second one will be similarly equipped. The idea is enthusiastically received by the people and the press; and it is thouht that such a display will materially enhance the opportunity of Belgian manufacturers to introduce their products into the markets of the world.

The competition was open to all the women scientists of the United States. Four years ago Miss Stevens was given the place at the Naples table, but at that time there was no competition. #### DIVORCE IN JAPAN.

The Japanese are as smart as we are n some ways, and perhaps in some ways they are as good. But they do believe in and practice divorce. The causes for which a man may divorce his wife in Japan number twenty-eight. The causes for which a Japanese woman may secure a divorce from her husband number only three-cruelty, failure to provide or infidelity. It is unnecessary to recapitulate the twentyeight causes given to the Lord of the Household. The Japanese Lord and Master may divorce his wife for talking too much, and that that cause must be frequently used the fact that in 1904 there were 299,733 marriages and 61,289 divorces indicates.

Woman seems to be at a great disadvantage in divorce in Japan. And yet we read that the Japanese women make the best of wives.

SHOULD BE AMENDED.

Connecticut's general railroad law is again up for discussion and it doesn't ook any better than it has looked when it has been up for discussion before. It is especially defective in its lack of provision for determining the necessity for new roads. Under this law any twenty-five men from outside the State can come together in a lawyer's office in the State, organize a company and build a railroad wherever they choose, run it with steam or electricity, and sell as many bonds and things as people will buy. Of course this means speculation, unnecessary | paralleling, and in the end more burden on the public,

The proposed amendment to the general railroad law which is now before the legislature is intended to correct, and will correct, this condition of things. The law should be changed. As we have said before. Connecticut has all the railroads she needs or can support, and she doesn't need and hasn't needed a loosely-constructed building of others. Rather does she need the most careful examination of here, but they never are both at home each new railroad scheme and the most at the same time."-Chicago Recordopen and sharp discussion of it. Nobody is more deeply interested in this matter than the public. It is the public that in the end pays for the games of speculation. The Connecticut public will find safety and profit in having its legislators look directly and critically after new railroad schemes.

MORE GOOD WORK.

The Massachusetts State Board of Health keeps at it. It is apparently making a special effort to secure purity in malt liquors. It began by bringing an action against the Harvard Brewing company on the charge of preserving its product with salicylic acid, to which the company pleaded guilty and paid a fine. It followed this by a similar action against the Massachusetts Breweries company, in which it secured a conviction on two counts. Tuesday, on complaint made by the board, the Superior court of Suffolk county imposed a fine of $700 on the Frank Jones Brewing company for using salicylic acid in its ale, and also fined the New England Brewing company $200 for placing the same substance in its beer. Both firms had pleaded guilty to indictments returned by the grand jury.

A recent bulletin of the State board shows that of forty samples of beer and ale analyzed eight were either adulterated or varied from the legal standard. During the month of March fortyone convictions were secured against manufacturers or dealers in various articles, including cream-of-tartar, mace maple syrup, hamburg steak, mllk, cocoa, ale, tincture of lodine, zinc ointment, fruit jam and distilled water. A wide range of foods, beverages and drugs is covered by these convictions.

Our feet must look narrow and slim his season How it is to be managed in every case cannot very clearly be understood, but the bootmakers are helping us all by building their pretty wares in such a maner that slenderness of appearance is induced. Women with small and daintily shaped feet are with much daring actually wearing at this moment in those circles where fashion reigns supreme and mud is not white kid boots with toe caps of black patent leather, and nothing could be more charming.

Alas that fashion should lay such a trap for those pedal extremities are not all that beauty would have them be. The wise, of course, will abjure white, which makes the foot look ever so much larger than it need do, but they may choose one of the other colored leathers, such as dove and green, both of which have an excellent

Kid cravats arrive to match these new kid boots. They started their tri umphant career primarily as the accompaniment of motor car shirts, and were liked at the outset for their smartness and because they clean and even wash so well. White gloves and a white waistband complete the quintet of smart adjuncts, and if the cravat be a colored one all the rest of the little et ceteras must, of course, match. As this is quite a new note in sartorial fancies it should at once be seized as the hall mark of smartness for a new

The shoemakers have discovered what the glovers have also found out that champagne colored kld makes the feet as well as the hands look their neatest and smallest, and in con-sequence it is being used now for outdoor and indoor shoes and has met with great popularity.

Also be it known that a very smart evening shoe is made of brown Russia leather treated in what is known as the zebra manner, with bars of narrow ribbon to match it in color. These are formed in stripes so arranged that the foot is made to look long and siender whether it is naturally so or quit the reverse.

It is rather odd that we should al try to follow one pattern of foot. A few years ago the girl with the delsmall one did her very best to make it look athletic in appearance by wearing square toed and masculine looking boots. Now she is pleased to show it as nature made it in shoe leather of the most fanciful and pretty

Antelope skin is a favortite choice among the rich, and the very smartest walking shoes are built of a pale gray shade of this skin, with pretty patent leather backs and fronts. That has tainted the coal. It has been spoilt by falling into bad hands. This is why an officer of the Teamsters' union, full of sympathy for firemen who were "condemned to daily contact" with tainted coal, has asked the Union Traction to break its contract with the company which delivers

That demand is made inthe interest of all the union men who use the wost of north side cars. If the coal is taint ed, the power which it generates must be tainted. The cars that power moves must suffer pollution, and the union men who ride in them be exposed to a horrid contagion. The cars may have been made by union labor and be operated by union men, but that will not protect those who ride in them against the deadly influences of tainted coal. The union man who wishes to escape infection from that source will have to follow from the cradle to the grave-from the mine to the kitchen stove-every lump of coal he uses. He will have to do that to make sure that it has not

NEW HAVEN DEFEATS MERIDEN NINE TO SIX!!

Blues Break the Ice and Land a Game-Corcoran in the Box-Had a Serious Ascent in the Ninth Inning-Bridge port Defeats Norwich and Holyoke Wallons New London-Bartford Take Wallops New London - Hartford Takes Springfield Into Camp.

And it came to pass that on the eleventh day of May, 1905, New Haven won a game. The Blues are no longer "Wanderers" on the "Prairie." They have struck the straight and narrow path that leads to the pennant; they have discovered themselves and others also; they have struck a gait which the rooters feel confident they will keep up, and they have given a tinge of joy to the hearts of all interested in good baseball, and Manager Danaher is not the least among them.
"Phil" Corcoran did the trick yesterday and won the game from Meriden, 9 to 6. It might be said that he was assisted by eight other players, among whom was Theisen. Besides playing a fine game at first, the former Silver City player made one of the cleanest home runs ever seen at the Savin Rock grounds, hitting the ball over the left field fence into the trees. Corcoran had a decided ascent in the ninth inning. Having a good lead, he eased up in his work, with the result that the first four men up each got a hit, scoring three runs. It looked rather serious and Captain Rogers gave Deering the word to warm up. Corcoran wanted to stick it out, and "Terry" finally allowed him to do so. Meriden was finally retired by a double play with three men on bases

CO-OP'S NEW QUARTERS.

Yale Student Store Moved from South Middle to Swell Fayerweather.

The Co-op is moved. From its ancient abode of dust and worn paint in South Middle it has moved to new quarters in the basement of Fayerweather. For years its large stock has been rambling over the ground floor rooms of South Middle once occupied as a reading room. Two recitation rooms opening on by cutting out the brick partition, Fittings of polished oak, counter, shelves, etc., have been put in to replace the third room is used as storeroom, especially for duplicate books. One corner of this is shut oc by an oak partition, making an office for the manager.

One significance of this moving is the fact that the center of the campus is moving to the north. The dining hall, Woolsey hall, Lampson hall and other buildings are a part of this shifting.

The Hill-Harriman Gossip Bld Uu Sharply-Steels Stronger-Gas Stocks Weak-Prices Close at the Best-Sentiment Changes for the Better and Stocks Take a New Start-Gates' Bullish Talk-The Wheat Prospect-The Iron Situation-The Weakness in the Tractions.

The market yesterday suddenly after a variable opening grew stronger, especially in the Hill-Harriman group and late in the afternoon positive buoyancy developed.

There were no notable developments, sentiment simply grew a little optimis-Some authorities were shabby enough to say it was only a covering of

The highly favorable government report on the condition of winter wheat, indicating a yield of 460,000,000 bushels, of course had a good influence on sen timent, but rumors in regard to leading railways were a great factor.

Persistent reports that the Southern Pacific was to be placed on a 3 per cent, dividend basis was the cause of the sharp rise in that stock, which preceded other market advances. Southern Pacific pf. was strong; also for the first time in many days. It Wall street a rumor at once arose that Union Paclific dividend was to be increased, but as action on the dividend is quite a long ways off yet this idea was thought to be rather thin.

There were fewer stocks offering

The feature of the returns for the first week in May was excellent gains on the southwestern roads, Kansas and Texas leading with $54,000 and Missouri

Pacific following with $43,000.

Money continued easy and sterling exchange was steady, although the market was quiet.

In the afternoon the short interest taking alarm at the scarcity of stock offerings for sale, began to take in its commitment hastily. Early in the day there had been a sharp rise in Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and in Northern Securities shares

The buying of divers stocks by the 'Gates contingent" preceded the publication of a bullish statement by John W. Gates. He said stocks had passed from weak into strong hands. He also gave a list of the stocks he thought ought to be bought now.

. "My opinion is," said Mr. Gates. "that good stocks are going higher, and I think Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville, Illinois Central, Amalgamated and Steel pf. Purchases at the present level of these stocks will show a handsome profit within the next few weeks, in my opinion.

For such a promising crop report as the government issued the response was disappointing. Union Pacific, St. Paul and Southern Pacific were bid up, but Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, and Atchison responded but faintly.

The Gates following were credited with being mainly responsible for the advance in Union Pacific, though there was a fair amount of covering by room shorts and buying by scattering commission houses.

Of the two the unfavorable report of the "Iron Age" on the pig iron situation was more of an influence than the very promising statement of the government regarding winter wheat This probably represents current speculative sentiment.

Reports that the supreme court would hand down a decision in the franchise tax case unfavorable to local corporations caused considerable selling of all the tractions and of Consolidated Gas. The Metropolitan shares were especially heavy, both declining 2 points-

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit company has the cash in the treasury to pay the franchise tax at once if the matter is decided as expected. The Metropolitan it was said, had made no provision for it, and will need about $5,000,000. Pennsylvania did not sell off on the Harrisburg accident, but it failed to respond to the afternoon rally. The directors of the Twin City Rapid Transit company have voted to increase the common stock of the company from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. A special meeting of the stockholders to vote on the increase will be held on May 31. and if it is ratified $1,000,000 of the stock will be offered to stockholders this year. The proceeds are for extensions and improvements. The Interborough Rapid Transit company has passed the million a day mark, having hauled 91,654,420 passengers in the ninety days making up the quarter ended March 1, 1905. This is an average of 1.018,382 passengers a

A devoted mother seems to listen to every call of duty excepting the si preme one that tells her to guard he health, and before she realizes it som derangement of the female organs ha manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happi-ness and amiability.

Tired, nervous and irritable, the mother is unfit to care for her children, and her condition ruins the child's disposition and reacts upon herself.

The mother should not be blamed, as she no doubt is suffering with back-ache, headache, bearing-down pains or displacement, making life a burden.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for this condition. It strengthens the female organs and permanently cures all dis-

What We Mean By "Bargains" in Under-Muslins.

Some people think that a bargain is something that is bought for almost nothing. They're wrong. A thousand dollar automobile may be a bargain. A five thousand dollar diamond necklace may be a bargain. Anything that's sold at a low price in consideration of its value, is a bargain. It's a transaction that presents an advantage to the purchaser.

Some people think that a bargain in under-muslins is a garment that is sold for a few pennies. Not so. With us, the biggest bargains are not the very cheapest goods, but the better qualities. Where in one case, you may save a couple of pennies, in others your saving is very considerable. We have made it worth a women's while to buy the better class of muslins; that's why we do such an immense business on these higher-grade garments. It's a case of "the more you pay, the more you save."

Just ask to see some of those 39c., 50c., 75c., 85c and $1 garments, and you'll see what Malley's mean by "bargains" in Under-Muslins.
