RUSSIAN ADMIRAL'S REQUEST OF AMERICAN COMMANDER AT MANILA.

Board Ordered to Examine and Report Condition of Battered Ships-Their Shows the Oleg Will Require Sixty Days, the Aurora Thirty Days and the Jemehug Seven Days-Japanese Consul Active.

Washington, June 4-The following cablegram was received at the navy department to-day from Admiral Train. dated at Manila, to-day, and was sent immediately to the president:

"Adfiral Enquist states that the Aurora and the Oleg are both seriously damaged and are not seaworthy. The Jemtchug is in bad condition. He makes the request to fill up with provisions and coal. Will require fourteen days ordered to examine and report their condition. One hundred and thirty men wounded. Permission has been granted fifty to be landed."

Secretary Taft has received the following cablegram from Governor General Wright dated at Manila last

"Three Russian warships, the Aurora, Jemtchug and Oleg, under command of Admiral Enquist, anchored in Manila bay this evening. One hundred and forty-three wounded.

Manila, June 4.-Rear Admiral Train has appointed the following board to investigate the condition of the Russian warships, which arrived here yesterday and said to be in unseaworthy condition: Commander Calkins, Lieutenant Commander McElroy and the Ohio's carpenter, Harding. The board will begin its investigation of the warships immediately. Rear Admiral Train has offered the Russian ships the necessary coal in lieu of fourteen days' here, but there is a question whether the Russians will be able to carry such quantities of coal on account of their damaged hulls-

The deaths to-day aboard the Russian ships now bring the total of killed up to forty-one and there are five additional cases in the hospital. American navy surgeons are assisting the Russian surgeons in their work of caring for the wounded. Rear Admiral Enquist now claims that he lost his flagship in the naval fight and then transferred his flag to the Aurora and left the fight Saturday night. He said that continued Sunday. He declared that the Japanese attack was so sudden and ferocious that his section was completely overwhelmed. The ships of his section while attempting to reach Vladivostok were at the same time looking for a fight with the Japanese and when they encountered their opponents they fought gallantly.

The Russian ships steamed into Manila at a speed of fifteen knots. The Russians are now taking on food sup-disposition of the Russian vessels. ENQUIST ASHORE.

Governor Wright in Company With Admiral Train

Manila, June 5.-Rear Admiral Enquist, accompanied by Rear Admiral Train and the French consul formally called on Governor-General Wright this morning. After the usual greetings had been exchanged, Governor Wright ask-

"Admiral Enquist, do you wish to stay at Manila permanently?" Rear Admiral Enquist replied: "My ships are unseaworthy. I have not heard from my government, and I request time to make repairs. Governor Wright then said that according to his construction of the neuremain long enough to make necessary repairs, and, after these were finished, they must leave within twenty-four hours, or dismantle and interne. Rear Admiral Enquist requested permission to bring his ships behind the breakwater for repairs. This request was granted him, and the ships will be moved Tuesday morning.

Narita Goro, Japanese consul. called on Governor Wright just before Rear Admiral Enquist called and made in quiries regarding the probable disposition of the Russian warships. On leaving, Goro met Rear Admiral Enquist in the corridor of the governor's residence found in the house of an Armenian adand tendered him a profound saluta-

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY,

Why Russians Essayed to Go Through Tsu Straft.

Tokio, June 3 (delayed in transmisslon).--A telegram from Sasebo says: "A member of the Russian staff, beng asked why the Russian ships took the risk of essaying the Tsu strait, said: 'We were confident of victory. Reaching Vladivostok was not the only object of our fleet. The emperor commanded us on leaving the Baltic to fight and defeat our enemy, and we were auxious to obey his order. were confident and ready to fight from the start. Our mission is ended.'

"Of the captives brought to Sasebo the battleship Nicolai I. is the most seriously damaged.* There are many holes in her port side over three feet in diameter, and the majority of her quick-firing guns on the port side were destroyed. Her forward funnel is partly shot away and one hole along the water line measures ten feet."

A dispatch from Malzuru says that the Japanese battleship Asaihi was largely engaged with the Russian battleship Borodino. After the Borodonio took fire and began sinking the Asahi suspended firing, but the Borodino continued to fire. Practically her last shot struck the Asahi astern on the starboard side, killing Lieutenant Morishita and seven other men. Morishito repair damages. A board has been ta's leg was shot off, but, using his sword as a crutch, he managed to rach the deck, where he died. A dying sailor asked for paper on which to write a farewell message to the Japanese navy. He wrote: "Banzai! I die a glorious death."

SMALL AFFAIRS AT FRONT.

Small Detachments of Russian Cavalry Driven Back.

Tokio, June 4.-It is announced at mperial headquarters that the followng has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian armies:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of June the enemy's cavalry, numbering about thirty, came to Slashahotzu, nine mlles east of Changtu. On the same day at noon cavalrymen of a like number appeared at Nanchengtzu, six miles northwest of Whyuanpaomen, but were repulsed.

"On the same day also our scouts attacked the enemy's cavalry five miles north of Changtu railway station, killing one man and two horses and capturing one saddle horse.

"Otherwise there has been change."

TOGO SEES ROJESTVENSKY. Latter Deeply Moved by the Former's Kind Words.

Tokio, June 4-2 p. m.-Vice-Admiral Togo visited Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky at the naval hospital at Sasebo on Saturday and expressed his sympathy for the admiral's wounds. He praised the desperately courageous fight of the Russians and expressed his hope that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky would soon be able to return to Russia. Rojestvensky was deeply moved by the admiral's words and thanked him. congratulated Japan on the courage and patriotism of her sailors, and said it lessened his regret and the sorrow of defeat to know the high character of the victors.

RUSSIAN DESTROYER TOWED IN. Brought to Shanghai by British Stenmer Ruling.

Shanghai, June 4 .-- The steamer Buling has arrived here towing in a Russian destroyer which was found helpless north of Shawaihan with three crews aboard.

Shanghai, June 4 .-- A Russian torpedo boat which was towed in here to-day reports that she had been drifting for six days with 180 men on board and water sufficient for only one day left and with very little food. The vessel is damaged forward. Her crew has already been transferred to the Russian transport interned at Woosung.

Governor General of St. Petersburg Other Bodies Manifesting Pernicious Activity-Document of Great Importnuce at this Moment.

St. Petersburg, June 5-2:10 a. m .-The Russian government has shown that it has not weakened in this hour of disaster. Instead of yielding to the stormy demands which the radicals hoped Admiral Rojestvensky's defeat would force the government to grant, the emperor on Sunday issued a ukase conferring greatly increased powers on Governor-General Trepoff, making him assistant minister of the interior in place of Major-General Rydzefsky, who is made a senator; also chief of the department of police and commander of the corps of the gendarmie. General Trepoff is given the right by the ukase to close all assemblies and congresses, to suspend indefinitely all societies, leagues and other bodies manifesting pernicious activity, and to take all other steps necessary to preserve order so as to prevent interference with the established regime and to suppress the revolutionary propa-

This ukase, which entrusts almost dictatorial powers to the head of the imperial police to control the agitation almost peremptorily demanding a constitution, representative government and the surrender of the vital principles of the autocracy, and to put down the dissenters with which the revolutionaries are threatening the country, makes himself responsible to the em-

The document is of the deepest imortance in the present state of Russia and indicates that the government, while steadily proceeding in its plans for the fulfillment of the imperial promises contained in the rescript of March 3, is determined not to be swerved from its purpose by the pressure of military and naval disasters, but in its own time and as speedily as possible to give the nation the legislative body on which the Bullgin commission has been working. In it may perhaps also be read the idea that the war will continue and that the question of peace will not be submitted to a Zemsky so-the labors of the Buligin commission, which has now been printed and submitted to the commissioners, does not embody a definite plan for the organization and functions of a new governmental body, but rather a collection eation of the necessary data for the formation of an assembly giving alternative views of the various points in dispute and leaving the final decision in the hands of the ministers.

The material gathered by the commission has been grouped under six heads: First, a historical survey of the forms assumed by popular representation in Russia from the fifth to the sixth century; second, consideration of the effect of the summoning of a popular assembly on the country under present circumstances; third, the extent to which suffrage shall be granted, whether on universal, educational or property qualifications and whether classes and occupations should be represented; fourth, the extent of the assembly's right to interpellate ministers; fifth, the extent of the assembly's rights over the budget, and, lastly, what provinces of the government should be removed to the competency of the assembly.

Thus nothing regarding the "imperial douma" has been pre-determined, Minister Buligin reserving the right to give his opinion to his co-ministers.

ROYAL DINNER.

Kuiser Entertains Guests Who Will Attend His Son's Wedding.

Berlin, June 4.-All the visiting princes and princesses dined with Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria to-night in honor of the Duchess Cecilia and the crown prince, Frederick William, who are to be married next Tuesday. Altogether 240 person were present at the dinner, and included among the guests were cabinet ministers, generals and admirals.

Duchess Cecilia madr a remarkable personal impression on the guests. She was animated, cordial and unaffected. Emperor William took Grand Duchess Anastasia to table and by his attentions to her quite disproved the storoes of discord between them.

At the conclusion of the dinner Dulh ess Cecilia called for two glasses of champagne and handed them to the two pages who bore her train. There were no toasts. The dinner ended as a torchlight procession of students with flags and music came down Under den Linden. The royal party went out on a balcony, where the duchess and the crown prince stood in a brilliant light so that the marchers could see them. Five hundred persons were either overcome by the heat Saturday or injured in the crowds which came to view the entrance of the Duchess Cecilia into Berlin. Tihty-six of them are in a erious condition.

London, June 4.-Shortly after the British battleship Caesar collided with the British bark Afghanistan during a fog off Dungeness Saturday morning the British battleship Hannibal fouled and seriously injured the German schooner Emma Luise.

WARSHIPS TO ATTACK THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

BLOODLESS STRUGGLE BETWEEN LAND AND SEA FORCES.

Fortress Monroe First to be Tested.

Washington, June 4 .- Sixteen warhips will attack the defenses of Washington and Baltimore at midnight on June 11, and continue their offensive operations for six days and nights. Meanwhile the fortresses along Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac river, constituting the artillery districts of the Chesapeake, Washington and Baltimore, will put forth every defense of which they are capable. With it all, the struggle is to be bloodless, practically noiseless, devoid of the spectacular and intensely interesting only to the army and navy experts who are playing the game and know the constructive effect of the unloaded mines and the empty shells.

These exercises are to constitute the only joint operations of the army and navy during the year. SOLUTION OF THE SOCIETY'S been designated "joint exercises" to distinguish them from the more elaborate programme of "combined army and navy manocuvres" which was first planned, but which failed of approval for lack of an adequate appropriation the Next Few Days Are Likely to See from congress. The operations are to be conducted under rules which have been agreed upon by a joint board of rection-Mr. Hyde to Begin Proceed- army and navy officers. Considerable iportance is attached to the distinction between manoeuvres and joint exerclses. Manoeuvres are held to apply to operations where actual war conditions are simulated, while exercises mean are to be attempted.

In the present instance the object of each of several forms of attack by the navy will be to demonstrate the strength or weakness of some particuar phase of the defense.

The results will be known only at the conclusion of the exercises, and then known only to the proper authorities. permanent solution, satisfactory to all This precaution is emphasized as important that the character and strength of the various defenses may not become known to possible enemies of the country.

None of the ships of the navy will be ruled out of the action by the umpires, ind none of the guns of the fortifications will be declared silenced,

From the information obtainable the programme first contemplates the test Expert artillery opinion has long held that this fortress is the principal defense of the Chesapeake and consequently the cities of Washington and Baltimore. SATURDAY'S SPORTS.

PRINCETON OVERWHELMED YALE 18 TO 2.

ekson, Pratt and Bell Hammered Hard-Harvard Defeated by Dartmouth-Yale Freshmen Lose at Cambridge-New Haven Succumbs to New London

The great hopes centered in the Yale varsity base ball nine this year were rather rudely shocked by the unexpected outcome of the opening game in the championship series with Princeton, when last Saturday on Yale field the Tigers administered to the sons of Eli what was probably the worse defeat in the history of modern Yale-Princeton baseball, the score being 18 to 2. Jackson, Pratt and Bell were all landed on by the Tigers with a vengeance each man getting at least one hit and most of them two and three. The fielding also was a great disappointment from a Yale standpoint, ten errors going to their discredit. The work of Kinney at third was a particularly bright spot in the general gloom.

Princeton outplayed Yale at every point last Saturday. After the fourth inning the game became pretty discouraging from the Yale standpoint. Jackson allowed 7 bases on ball, and Bell 2. Jackson, however, scored one of Yale's runs on a home run hit. This seemed to tell disastrously on his pitching, the big pitcher being winded by his long run.

Byram pitched a splendidly effective game for Princeton, and did not allow any two hits in the same inning. Princeton also played errorless in the field. The score:

The Musical Feature Always an Important Item.

The musical feature of Ringling Brothers' Word's Greatest Shows, which will exhibit here Wednesday, the enormous programme. The concert before the ring performances bigin is a delight to the musicianly inclined, as well as the larger element of the crowa which prefers tuneful numhers. Professor Gunweller, the bandmaster is,a composer and soloist of distinguished fame and singularly gifted as a leader. The music written for the gorgeous spectacle, The Field of the Cloth of Gold, ranges from the deeply spiritual to the floridly sensuous, and is rendered by the circus band of fifty soloists with a musical skill and effect that lends not a little to the delight of the production. This factor of music is one of the many excillent points which favorably separates Ringling Brothers' great tented exhibition from all others. and gives the firm name the universal distinction of "greatest." Ringling Brothers' great canvas pavilions cover more than fifteen acres of ground and constitute a veritable city of tents. The mammoth stage for the spectacular production of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," which is presented in the hippodrome amphitheater, is the largest ever constructed, and the tent is absolutely impervious to rain.

This sorrow, combined with serious complications necessitating an operation, resulted fatally on May 25. The heartfelt sympathy of friends here is extended to

LEVENE RECOVERING.

Boy Knocked Down by Automobile on Saturday Much Improved.

The condition of eight-year-old Samuel Levene, of 81 York street, who was run over by an automobile at the upper end of West Chapel street late Saturday afternoon as the rush was being made to the city from the Yale-Princeton baseball game, was said at Grace hospital last evening to be much improved and that he would probably be able to be around again in a few days. No bones were broken, and beyond a severe shaking up the boy sustained no serious injuries.

Owing to the congestion in the road caused by the crowds returning from the game the automobile was going slowly at the time of the accident. The Levene boy, who, with a number of others, had been jumping on and off trolley cars, stepped directly in front of the automobile, so that it was impossible to prevent the accident.

Rev. Charles G. Smith, the new pastor of the Grand Avenue Baptist church, began his labors with the church yesterday, preaching morning and evening and conducting the monthly communion service at noon. He leaves this morning for Toronto, Canada, to remove his family here and will return in time to preach a week from next Sunday. His inaugural sermon in the morning was founded on the text in Acts 20, 35, "It is more bleesed to give than to receive." In referring to his new pastorate Mr. Smith said: "This morning, by your unanimous invitation and by the good hand of Almighty God, our Father, we commence our ministry in this place and you open a new chapter in the history and work of this church. It is a solemn, sacred occasion, fraught with deep responsibility and large and ever-increasing opportunity. I am sure it is the unanimous wish of every one here that our service may be united and that we may stand shoulder to shoulder and back to back, preaching nothing up but Christ and nothing down but evil. That it may also be beneficent service. We do want erely to gather here weekly to hear a sermon or enjoy an hour's fellowship; that would be a base motive and our influence would be as the dead sea-a menace and a curse. We desire that our lives may be so enriched with the Christ spirit and so fired with the blessed evangel that our influence may be as the river Jordan flowing through the land, blessing and refreshing all it touches. And, best of all, we want our union and work to be joyful and our tuning and tension to be 'Rejoice in the Lord alway.' We want to work, not as though we had to work and were toiling under the lash of a taskmaster-that were to be slavery; we desire to labor because we love and because we cannot help it, crying out, 'Lord, I would serve and be a son, dismiss me not, I pray!' We want to be joyful, not only in the sunshine, when skies are fair and life is a summer sea, but also in the shadow, when clouds are hovering over us and the winds whistle and the billows roar. The key to all joyful service is to be found in the beautiful and deathless words of the Lord Jesus, plucked by St. Paul from oblivion and added to the church's abiding treasure, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' It is unescapably true that the happiest Christians are those who live in the atmosphere and

New Haven Man Makes Gift of Funds to Erect Sleeping Barracks for Patients-

One of the most welcome of the announcements made at the annual meetng of the New Haven County Anti-Tuberculosis association, Wednesday, was that S. W. Hart, of this city, had promised the association funds for the erection of a sleeping barracks for the use of patients. As is indicated by the reports of the meeting of the association, the greatest need of the sanitorium which has been erected at Wallingford, is more extensive sleeping quar-ters to accommodate the patients. This need will be met in part by the gift of. Mr. Hart. It will be patterned after the similar structures erected at the sanatorium in Liberty, N. Y., and will contain accommodations for eight patients. Its location has already been decided upon as toward the east of the sanatorium buildings on the Gaylord farm. The cost is not settled, but will be at least twenty-five hundred dollars. Work on the construction of the barracks will be begun at once and it is planned to have it ready for the use of patients before fall. Mr. Hart, who is the proprietor of the Hart Dormitory, and a prominent real estate dealer and local business man, has been prominent in the work of the association since its inception, and has aided it in various ways. Interesting Relic of General Hawley's First Company.

The Hartford Courant has the following: Mrs. Edward L. Curial, of Anoka, formerly Elizabeth Treat, (daughter of the late Deacon Atwater Treat, a prominent and well-known citizen of New Haven), is now visiting friends in the east. She says she has an autograph album which she prizes very highly, and it is of considerable interest now, for it contains the name every member of General Joseph Hawley's "Company A, First Connecticut Volunteers." from captain down. She also has some portraits of the men given her at the time. It came about this way: When Miss Elizabeth Treat was a young girl, Captain Hawley's company was encamped in Alumni Hall, Yale college, early in the spring of 1861, and drilled on the campus just opposite Deacon Treat's residence, and while there was, of course isited by hundreds of people.

Miss Treat conceived the idea of obtaining the autographs of the company and went to the captain one day and modestly requested permission, which was readily granted, he, the captain, assisting her and signing his own name in her album first.

AT WESLEYAN.

At the meeting of the trustees of Wesleyan university to be held this filled, one in the department of Greek, left vacant by the death of James Cooke Van Benschoten, and the other in Latin by the resignation of Professor E. T. Merrill. Among the candidates for the Latin department is Professor Karl P. Harrington, '82, now professor of Latin at the University of Maine. Professor Harrington is a son of Rev. Calvin Sears Harrington, D. D., professor of Greek at Wesleyan from 1861 to 1863 and of Latin from 1863 to 1868. Professor Harrington is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and has many strong friends among the alumni who would be very glad to see him receive the appointment . The Harringtons are also well-known in this city and own a house on High street.

When seen this afternoon in regard to the matter President Raymond said that Professor Harrington was one of a dozen candidates for the chairs of Latin and Greek, but that no nomination had been made for the office as yet, or had any steps at all been taken in the matter.-Middletown Tribune.

CITY WATER SUPPLY.

Foresight of the Late George P. Merwin

It is not generally known that, the late George P. Merwin, president of the Hubbell & Merwin Co., determined by his vote in the common council that New Haven should have a running water supply. Had he not voted for the enterprise it would have fallen. It was before the civil war when the matter was decided. Mr. Merwin was a man of progress and when the plans for establishing a city water works were launched he foresaw that inevitably they would be consummated in due time. But others rooted to old customs, fought the plans night and day. The question whether the city should give a granchise to the newly organized water company was made a political question with determined advocates on both sides. Mr. Merwin was elected a member of the city council of New Haven and his position on the water question was well known. A careful canyas of all the members had been made and it was found that the factions were close to a tie; indeed Mr. Merwin's vote was needed to carry the vote in favor of the new water system. He had other business out of town around about the time the decisive vote was to be taken, but he did not permit it to lure him away from his duty as a city official. He was in the council chamber at the time the vote on the water question was taken and his vote it was which decided the question of giving the water company the franc

Naturally, there was a large increase of imports, the total value being nearly $185,000,000, as against $157,933,000 for 1903. Obviously, the difference is represented for the most part by supplies brought into the country for the use of the army and navy. But exports also increased in a ratio that must be extremely gratifying to the government, which finds in the commercial prosperity of the country a guarantee of political stability and an assurance that the financial problems of the immediate future, due to the progress of the war, will no be too difficult of solution. In 1902 the aggregate value of the exports from Japan was $144,172,000. For 1904 the figures are $158,992,000, a total never before attained. It will be observed, however that while Japan is steadily increasing her exports, the value of the latter still remains lower than the value of her imports. Secretary Taft is preparing to call for bids for furnishing an army of laas he will seek open markets in the purchase of canal supplies, so Secretary Taft will go into the markets of the world in his search for competent laborers to do the manual labor of constructing the great waterway. Representatives of organized labor have protested against this procedure, but these protests will not be heeded by the administrationganizations in carrying out the "open door" policy with regard to laborers on the canal. Those who have protested against hiring cheap workmen from forelgn countries have been informed that no discrimination will be shown; that competition for the contracts will be open to all, and that the government will accept the most advantageous bids. It has been determined, however, that about 15,000 Japanese laborers will be contracted for at the very start, for it is now apparent that they can be employed at much lower rates than laborers from the United States or from any other country for that mat-

Secretary Taft has taken steps to avoid drifting into the peonage system in Panama. This will be a serious problem because of the fact that it will be necessary to hire laborers in large gangs through contractors who will have entire charge of them. This is liable to give rise to the objectionable practices that have become so common in the South, where the peonage system has progressed almost into a condition of slavery.

A LIBRARY ON WHEELS.

There are many things on wheels nowadays, including the dreaded and deadly automobile. A library on wheels is the latest addition to the facilities of the Washington County Free Library at Hagerstown, Maryland. This institution has endeavored to extend its benefits to the people of the entire county and not have them confined to Hagerstown alone. This has been rendered somewhat difficult by the remoteness of portions of the county from the Central Library at Hagerstown, one section being as far distant as twentyeight miles and as far as twenty-five miles in another direction. There are, however, good facilities for reaching outlying sections by rallroads which radiate from Hagerstown in no less than eight lines. Branch libraries or substations were established some time ago in every town in the county, in many of the schools, railroad stations and other public places. But there are many farmhouses or dwellings of the poor in the rural districts in which there are persons who want books and cannot go one or two miles for them.

the Province of Manchurla Japan has all along disclaimed any territorial intentions. When the Russian Government expressed its willingness to negotlate, a proposed basis of agreement was sent to the Japanese minister at St. Petersburg. Its first article suggested a mutual engagement to respect the independence and territorial integrity of China and Korea, with the understanding, however, that Russia When the bailots are, all counted and should recognize the exclusive right of Japan to give advice and assistance to Korea in the interest of reform and hardest good government. After diplomacy gave place to the arbitrament of war, the Japanese reiterated. They repeated the disclaimer as to territorial intentions. They have all along insisted that the Chinese should have China, Manchuria included Do they see things otherwise, now that they are paramount in Asiatic waters and apparently invincible wherever and whenever the Russians confront them in Manchuria?

Those who regard the answer to this nuestion as a matter of indifference to the people of the United States take a superficial view of the case. It is not long since the president of the Japanese House of Peers declared it to be the sacred duty of Japan to stretch a helping hand not only to China and Corea, but to India-to all the Asiatics capable of civilization. He added: 'As their more powerful friend, we declare them all to be free from the coke which Europe has placed upon them, that they may thereby prove to the world that the Orient is capable of measuring swords with the Oc-cident on any field of battle." This rings almost like a challenge flung in behalf of one race in the face of another. Apart from its belligerency, it has the sound of a settled policy in the successful outcome of which the speaker had abundant falth. Recent events in the Straits of Korea, to say nothing of what happened at Mukden and in the vicinity thereof, divest such utterances of none of their significance-They suggest stupendous possibilities. For more than a year the brown, as against against the white, has been having things his own way. Incidentally, he has exploded some notions on the subject of supremacy, mental and physical.

The answer is not a matter of indifference to the people of the Uniteda States. On the contrary, it is charged with interest. This country is investing many millions in a big canal. It has some stepping stones between its Pacific coast and the Middle Kingdom, one of them being at Honolulu. The Phillippines are peopled by Asisatics in whose welfare, so called, the Japanese may some day cultivate special concern. Not too soon-they are very busy now-but soon enough perhaps-However inadvisable it may have been to take title to the Philippines, no American would question the inadvisability of keeping them were Japanese concern to become, so to speak, too acute. "I believe," said the President of the United States in Brooklyn resterday, "in that which counts most -the officers and enlisted men, the man behind the guns, the man in the engine room, the man in the conning tower." Far Eastern developments give timeliness to this expression of be-

CONTROL OF EMIGRATION.

From Europe to This Country Shows That England Must Fall in Line, A timely article in the North American Review is entitled "Control of Emigration in Europe," and is written by James Davenport Whelpley. A vigorous administration of American laws affecting immigrants has been effective in restricting the number of undesirable foreigners coming to the United States to seek homes in the New World, because it has made the steamship lines more careful as to the class and condition of the people whom they will receive as passengers, and this restraining influence has been reinforced by a determined effort made by certain European governments to keep their people at home. Mr. Whelpley gives an interesting analysis of the laws which have been passed to that end in Italy, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Germany, Russia. Holland, Denmark and Scandinavia. England is practically the only Euro pean country which does not place restraint upon citizens contemplating departure, and the only European country also in which immigration restriction has become an economic ne- 11-5t

"SALOME."

In Berlin, and many other European cities, Oscar Wild's "Salome" has long been famous, says a London Letter to the Boston Transcript. Last night it was produced in London for the first time. And this morning London critics in their hasty screeds find fault, some with "Salome," some with the perfor-mers, some with both-at any any rate they find much fault.

Of course "Salome was not performed publicly; nor in any well known theater, for the play is barred by the Lord Chamberlian, the stage censor, as dangerous to public morals. In London we are very good, and we wish to remain so, and the Lord Chamberlain is one of our phylacteries, both in the Greek and pharisalo senses of the word. So "Salome" was produced at the Bijou Theater in Victoria Hall, Bayswater, a district in the wrong side of Hyde Park; and it was a subscription performance, organized by the New Stage Club, which consists largely if not wholly of what the London critic calls amateurs. In the theaters on the right side of Hyde Park there are also amateurs,

They are people of some social They are women, who, as the Munich Simplicissimus recently put it, do not shrink from any sacrifice in the cause of art. They are there for some sufficient reason, be it only their luminous understanding of the fact that the object of the stage is to make the largest amount of money in the shortest possible time. But this wretched New Stage Club that somehow managed to get a lot of people quite a mile from their accustomed haunts, does not understand that the stage ought to be a moneymaking machine. At most they could only hope for succes d'estime. And from the press point of view they have not got it. Even the audience did not applaud very much. The audience included many people who dd not think that the kind of gratification one desires from the stage ought to be expressed in terms of noise. To play "Salome," even in one of the great theaters where every kind of stage effect could be contrived with comparative ease, would be no easy matter. On the little stage of the Bijou Theater it was naturally more

From the well the prophet's voice is heard, and Salome demands that he be brought before her. The soldlers dare not obey, and Salome turns to their captain, a young Syrian, who loves With him she prevails, and lokanaan, brough to the terrace, curses her as the daughter of an evil woman. But Salome is facinated by his beauty; with a wealth of Oriental imagery that she may be allowed to touch him, his hair, his body; offers herself to him, a princess and a virgin. She begs that she may kiss his mouth, declares that she has never loved before; and the young Syrian, mad with jealousy, stabs himself to death. In the pleading, passionate girl the prohet sees only an incarnation of evil. Again and again her love has flashed into anger, and her endearments into ridicule, and now she swears that she will some day kiss his mouth. Ickanaan is led back to his prison, and Herod, Herodias, Tigellinus, the envoy of Caesar, and others

He flatters Caesar's envoy, and exalts himself: insults Herodias, says Iokanaan's denunciations are not meant for her, think that he may be a holy man, and looks continually at Salome, sitting moodly apart. He beseeches her to dance for him, offering her finally whatever she may desire, even to the half of his kingdom.

Herodias commands her daughter not to dance; but Salome dances, and then, as in the Bible, demands that the head of John the Baptist be brought to her in a charger. Now Herodias and the Jews are delighted, and the tetrach confounded. Anything but Wonderful is the description of the treasures he offers rather But Salome is inflexible, and Herodias drags the signet ring from her husbands's finger and gives it to

She places it before her on the ground, kneels beside it, talks to it, foundles it, raises it and kisses it. "I have kissed thy mouth, Iokanaan, I have kissed thy mouth." Then the tetrarch, besides himself with rage and fear, cries, "Kill that woman." And the soldiers rush upon the kneeling girl and rush her with their shields,

As one af the matutinal critics sageremarks, the idea of representing Saome as enamoured of John theBaptist is not original. Possibly that legend is as old as the Bibical version, and dramatically considered it is much more logical and effective. The play is indeed a singular effective presen tation of some of the great human emotions in a more primitive and mystic time, and in the writing there is much to recall the glamour and imagery of the East.

EDWARD A. STREET, City Clerk.

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen of the City of New Haven.

To the Honorable Beard of Aldermen of the City of New Haven.

The Director of Public Works respectfully reports that, as ordered by the Court of Common Council, he has caused a survey and layout, and an assessment of damages and benefits to be made for the extension of St. Ronan street, from Lawrence street to Edwards street, and the establishment of a grade thereon, the lines of which, as surveyed and laid out by him, are described as follows, viz.:

Both the casterly and westerly lines commence at the southerly line of Lawrence street and extend in straight lines to the Northerly line of Edwards street, and are in direct extension of the present lines of St. Ronan street northerly of Lawrence street.

The grade extends in a straight line from the present grade at Lawrence street to the present grade at Lawrence street to the present grade of Edwards street and its intersection with the extension of St. Ronan street, with such modifications at and near the corners as is shown by the red lines on the profile map.

The lines of the above described layout are fully shown by the red lines upon a map of the said layout on file in the office of the City Engineer, dated April 29, 1902, and numbered No. 647, and the grade is shown by the red lines upon a profile map of the raid layout on file in the same office, and dated April 28, 1902, which map, and profile map, dated april map, dated april was above described, is made a part of this layout.

Steinertone Upright

CALLED THE VERTICAL GRAND A New and Wonderful Invention

While the grand piano is usually to be called the most effective musical instrument as pertaining to tone and action the price of this piano is not within the reach of everyone—not speaking of the space it occupies. The wonderful appliance of the Steinertone system as contained in the Steinertone grand piano has also been applied to the UPRIGHT piano divest sitself of the limitations as usually found in all other uprights and is transformed into a VER-ITABLE GRAND pianoforte of remarkable tonal powers and hammer repetition. This wonderful instrument must be heard to appreciate its superiority over all other uprights. The Steinertone company invites the public to see these UPRIGHT GRAND PIANOS and when they have tested them and have been informed of the low manufacturer's prices they will find at once good reasons to purchase the Steinertone Vartical Grand as a house instrument. Remember the Steinertone plano and the low prices they are sold for—either cash or time payments.

STOCK MARKET FEATURES

QUIETUDE PREVAILED WITH UNDERLYING STRENGTH.

A Good Trading Market Expected With Trend of Prices Upward-Not Worried Over Bank Statement-The Steels

-Amalgamated-The Crops, Etc. Stocks on Saturday ignored the weak 'tone of the foreign markets, and rallied somewhat, but ran off again on liquidating sales. A trading market-this week and next is confidently expected.

The poor bank statement, with the decrease of $10,000,000 cash did not alarf traders. Neither did the four per cent, money. The reason was that the decrease in cash was likely to be all explained satisfactorily.

The market expects to feel the further Equitable squabble, as the covering of methods is not liked. The trouble, it was felt, was not over.

The $2 transfer tax is driving away much business from Wall street, but it bothers the professional traders who operate daily, as the tax amounts to quite a sum in the course of the deal-

The marking up of Amalgamated Copper was due to the alleged bellef in speculative circles that after the annual meeting next Monday a statement of the company's affffairs will be made which will throw a good deal of light on its finances and place it in a more favorable light.

Particular strength was displayed by the Reading, Jursey Central, Copper, and Brooklyn Rapid Transit stocks, in all of which instances the special incentives for speculative buying are sufficiently familiar. One New York firm says in its letter: "Based on our knowledge of the situation, we venture to predict that Amalgamated Copper will, in a short time, be placed on a 6 per cent basis, and that the stock will sell well above par. The technical position of the stock is splendid."

The reports of slackening demand and shading of prices in the steel industry are set down for all that they undoubtedly mean, namely, the normal amount of reaction necessary after a season of great and rapidly expanding activity.

The advance in Reading was utilized by the men who put it up to distribute some of their holdings. But when they tried to sell thy could only do so on concessions.

The Monon has increased its dividend on the common stock to 1 1-2 per centsemi-annually after paying 1 1-4 per

There was considerable foreign selting of Steel preferred. It was said that stock was being sold there for New York account-

Political buying occurred in Brooklyn Rapid Transit. The tip that it is going up is around in all political circles. The publication of the Frick report of the conditions in the Equitable caused a decline in London, which was reflected in a lower opening here. From the Wall street point of view the findings were no more sensational than rumors have suggested. As to the crops one new feature is that winter wheat deteriorated during May in about the usual degree; that the percentage condition will be considerably reduced in the government estimate due on June 10, but that the condition will still be found higher than the average, and very much higher than for the same time a year ago.

TO SAIL FOR ENGLAND. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tibbits, of the Tibbets' restaurant on Crown street, will wish Mrs. Tibbets a very pleasant trip abroad, Mrs. Tibbetts sails on June 21 for England for a visit to relatives, whom she has not seen since she left Derbyshire to come to this country, when she was sixteen years of age. She will visit her uncle and other relatives, and will improve the opportunity to see various important cities and towns of England. She will be away from six weeks to two months.

ENJOYABLE OUTING.

The Derby Press club, consisting of New York newspaper correspondents and other newspaper men, held an enjoyable outing at Lighthouse Point Saturday afternoon. The party came down the Housatonic river on a steam launch and visited Milford harbor, and went thence to Lighthouse Point.

Games, foot races and other sports were indulged in, and later an unusually fine dinner was served to the party at Butler's restaurant.

The party left for home about five o'clock, so as to enjoy the early evening on the water.

SLIGHT FIRE IN BRANFORD. The Branford fire department was called out Saturday noon. The chimney in a house on Rogers street occupied by David S. Adams caught fire.

Little damage.

LOCAL FINANCIAL NOTES.

New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad stock has again risen in price selling from 198 to 202, closing at 200. Merganthaler Linotype rights are quoted at 8 1-2 bid and 8 7-8 asked. Security Insurance rights have a ominal quotation of 5 with very few

Chicago and Northwestern rights accrued on June 1. They expire on June 16 and assignments or subscription can only be made on warrants which will be forwarded to stockholders early this week

Swift & Co. sold from 106 1-2 to 107 1-2 but the stock is very dull. The regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent will be paid July 3 to holders recorded June 21.

STEINERTONE VIR TOAL GRAND

In Shape of an Upright Planoforte.

With the advancement of scientifiinventions that spring up daily, the placing upon the market of a new upright piano by the Steinertone 'company is of immense interest and value to the plano purchaser. As it is generally known, grand pianos are very expensive, and take up a great deal of room, and an upright that contains all the elements of a grand must be welcome news.

It is claimed by those who have been using the Steinertone vertical grand that it is fully as powerful in tone, and has just as fine a repetition and lightness of touch as a grand pianoforte. Iti s therefore a pleasant innovation to record this fact, and as these instruments are sold at manufacturers' prices they will be welcome and bought by people wishing the very finest piano on the market for the least

ROYAL ARCANUMITES Aroused Over the Big Increase of

Rates. Announcement of the new rate schedule adopted by the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum at its recent meeting in Atlantic City has provoked much hostile feeling among the older mem-bers of the order. The rates show an increase on an average of 50 per cent. It is said that the feeling is such tha the enforcement of the new rate sched-

GOLDSTEIN - WOLLMAN WD-DING.

Largely Attended Event at Music Hall-One of the most enjoyable and largely attended Jewish weddings which has taken place in this city for some time occurred yesterday afternoon at the Temple street synagogue when Benediction-Rev. Mr. Mossman. Miss Mollie Goldstein was united in marriage to Walter Wolman, both of this city. The affair at the synagogue was followed by a reception and banquet at Music hall, which was attended by about 500 people. The bride is the daughter of Joseph and Sarah Goldstein of 37 Silver street and the groom is the son of Louis and Bessle Wolman. He is employed as superintendent of the Bradley Manufacturing company. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rabbi Rosen, assisted by

Rev. Mr. Freedman. The bride is a charming brunette and she was beautifully attired in a tion, which will be held this year on brocaded white satin gown with white silk chiffon ruffles. The goods from a present to the bride from Mexico, and the cutting of rates will be discussed Orange blossoms hung from the vell which she wore and she carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses. She was attended by four bride's maids all of whom were in white. They were Miss Alice Metz, Miss Lilly Wiener, Miss Edith Wolfson and Miss Blanche

The groom was attended by Nathan I. Goldstein and the ushers were Albert E. Goldstein, Nathan Rosenberg, and Philip Lishine. There were a large number of out of town guests among whom were: H. These guns of both sides, however, will be trained on the target the same as in actual warfare and their fire will be indicated by the discharge of a blank cartridge in a one-pounder. This is in the interest of economy, as the cost of a blank cartridge for a 1pounder is much less than for a 12-inch disappearing or a naval gun. However, disadvantage to the navy will result in degree from this, as it will be impossible for the officers of a ship to know that they are being fired at. Consequently it will be impossible for them o ascertain what are the locations of 'dead angles" in which they might lie unharmed, while they dropped constructive shells into the fortifications, To locate and destroy the mine fields constitutes another problem. For some weeks the artillery has had four boats planting mines. These mines are not oaded, but constructively they will be just as dangerous to the navy unless located and destroyed through countermining operations. Then, with the minees disiregarded, the naval ships will demurely sail by the fortifications in broad daylight while again, construstively they will be hammered by

This portion of the exercise is to develop the accuracy of the range finders and the gun trainers. For this fire, the channel area is divided into plots, each about the size of a battleship and each with a distinctive number. The range finders are located apart from each other, that a given object on the chart may be considered as one point in an angle. When a ship is located in a certain plat, its course and speed is observed as it moves to another. Then the gunner is communicated to by telephone to train his gun for a certain plat and fire at a given second. During this activity on land, the guns of Bugle call-"Lights Out," Comrade the navy are also to be put into active operation, and broadside after broadside technically, will be hurled at the defenses. When these exercises have been concluded before one set of defenses the actors will move to another. Forts Washington and Hunt constitute what is termed the Potomac artillery district. Here, too, the garrisons have been doubled and here, too, will the game be played. The Baltimore artillery division comprises the defenses of Forts Howard, Smallwood, Carroll, and Armistead.

The operations of the defenses are under the general supervision of Major General James F. Wade, commanding the department of the Atlantic. The men and officers under him for the exercises will number nearly 10,000.

HALTZMAN-KAISER

Preminent Hebrew Couple Married in This City Yesterday.

One of the prettiest weddings of its kind that has occurred in this city for a number of years took place late yesterday afternoon at Lennox hall on Broadway when Miss Florence H. Kalser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaiser of 36 Pearl street, was united in marriage to Joseph Haltzman of New York, a well known Wall street real estate broker, who is prominent socially among the wealthy Hebrew colony of

There were over a hundred invited guests present, many of them coming from New York, Boston, Hartford and surrounding cities about the state. The ceremony, whic was at 5 o'clock. was performed by Rabbi Yazgower, of the Olive street synagogue, where the bride has been an attendant and Sunday school teacher, the young couple standing under a huge bower of ferns. A brother of the groom officiated as best man, while Hiss Haltzman of New York, a sister of the groom, was the bride's maid of honor. There was a single bridesmaid, Miss Rose Kaiser of this city, a sister of the bride. The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of while lace and white satin, with vell.

The decoration of the hall, in charge of Moore, were exquisite. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception folowed until 11 o'clock, a wedding supper being served during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Haltzman left at a late hour for an extended trip to Washington and neighboring cities. On their return they will reside in West 42d

The father of the bride is the well known merchant tallor of Chapel street.
