

SAILORS OF IMPERIAL GUARD HAVE MUTINIED

ALSO, THREE REGIMENTS AT RIGA REFUSE TO DO POLICE DUTY.

Carver humbles himself and receives in audience Father John of Cronstadt—Belief that present deadlock in strike situation will result in violence—German Squadron in Baltic—Rumor attributes its presence as preparatory to flight of imperial family—Telegraphers vote to continue strike.

London, Dec. 5.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Times says: "The sailors of the Imperial Guard have mutinied."

"The three regiments at Riga have refused to perform police duty. The emperor has received in audience Father John of Cronstadt."

"Count Alvensteben (former German ambassador at St. Petersburg) has brought an autograph letter from Emperor William to Emperor Nicholas."

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at St. Petersburg thinks that the present deadlock will result in violence, but without serious loss of life. At the same time he is convinced that foreigners are in very little danger.

St. Petersburg, via Eydtkuhnen, West Prussia, Dec. 4.—It is reported from Cronstadt that a German squadron has been sighted in the Baltic sea near the Russian coast. Rumor attributes the appearance of the squadron as preparatory to the flight of the Russian imperial family.

Agrarian and anti-Jewish outbreaks are reported to have occurred in the governments of Chernigoff, Terek, Kursk and Kasan.

News which has a serious parallel in the French revolution comes from a little village on the borders of the Baltic, where the people have organized the "republic of Novargansk." They have issued a manifesto abolishing the rule, not only of the emperor but of the Diety, which has been read in the churches and the popular assembly halls.

Vienna, Dec. 5.—The Tageblatt publishes a communication from Odessa, which was conveyed by boat to Podwoloczyska, Balchic, and then telegraphed, saying that a thousand reservists have suddenly been released from service and are hungry and homeless. They are parading the streets asking for food. Governor General Kaubars refuses to help them and they are threatening to steal and plunder.

The same communication says that travelers arriving at Odessa from Kieff report that a serious fight occurred there last Friday between engineers and Cossacks.

The fight took place in front of the arsenal and many hundreds were killed or wounded.

TELEGRAPHERS TO STAY OUT. Their Congress votes to continue the strike.

Moscow, Dec. 3, via Eydtkuhnen, East Prussia, Dec. 4.—The congress of telegraphers has adopted a resolution to continue the strike, declaring that it will be impossible to secure justice until a regime of civil liberty is introduced by a constitutional assembly.

The house porters declared a strike to-day. Their meeting was held in "Red place" under the walls of the Kremlin. Their orators harangued the crowd from the block on which the Strelitzers were executed. The meeting was dispersed by dragons.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3, via Berlin, Dec. 4.—Only the military telegraphs between Moscow, Viborg (Finland), and Tsarskoe-Selo are working. Several factories are again in operation. The streets are full of life and there have been no excesses. The feeling of depression is somewhat lessened.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Just before telegraphic communication with Odessa ceased the following was received by the operators here: "This is the last telegram you will receive, as your Russian comrades are going on strike. We wish ourselves luck in a better position. In the meantime, farewell."

ROSEN WITHOUT NEWS. Russian Ambassador Applies to State Department for Information.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Ambassador Rosen called upon Secretary Root at the state department to-day respecting conditions at St. Petersburg, but it developed that he had no information of his own and was simply after news. Inquiry here discloses the fact that when Mr. Meyer, American ambassador to St. Petersburg, was recently in this country, on leave of absence he secured permission from the state department to increase the force of servants employed at the American embassy. Usually these servants are paid out of the private purse of the ambassador, but the present conditions are abnormal. It is impossible to learn here when Mr. Meyer secured his additional help; whether they were taken from America or picked up in England.

At the close of the session announcement was made by Mr. McClung that there was nothing to be given out concerning the meeting, and that whatever action was taken would be put before the corporation at its meeting about three weeks from now. No action regarding football was taken.

New York, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt is at Dr. William T. Bull's private hospital in East Thirty-third street, convalescing from a serious surgical operation. It was said at the hospital to-day that the condition of the patient was favorable, and that her complete recovery was only a question of a few weeks, inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt have planned to return to Newport farm for the Christmas holidays, when they will entertain a house party.

THREE CITY ELECTIONS.

DEMOCRATS MAKE CLEANSWEEP IN WILLIMANTIC.

Keen Campaign Followed by Close Count—Rockville Democrats Also Carry All the Offices—Biggest Vote in History of the City—In Putnam a Democratic Mayor is Elected While Republicans Capture Rest of Ticket.

Willimantic, Dec. 4.—The regular city election was held here to-day and resulted in a sweep for the democratic ticket, the entire ticket being elected, with the exception of two ward aldermen. While Willimantic is generally democratic, the campaign by the republicans this year was a keen one and resulted in a close count on nearly all the offices. Former Representative Daniel P. Dunn was elected mayor over Ernest P. Chesbro by a vote of 768 to 625. Frederick A. Sanderson defeated Clarence A. Bowen for clerk and treasurer and John S. Sullivan was the successful candidate for city sheriff. The board of aldermen will have, as a result of to-day's election, four democrats and three republicans. To-night the democrats, in view of their victory at the polls, held a big celebration.

Putnam. Rockville, Dec. 4.—In the city election here to-day the democrats carried all before them, electing their candidates for each office on the ticket. Mayor George Forster was re-elected over Francis T. Maxwell by 264 votes and the balance of the ticket went in by a majority of about 100. F. A. Randall, republican, for twelve years city clerk, was defeated by John N. Keeney, and Frank Farrenkopf defeated Joseph C. Hammond for the treasurership. Michael Shea was the successful candidate for city sheriff. Three republican and democratic aldermen were elected making a tie in the common council. It was the biggest vote in the history of the city.

Rockville. Putnam, Dec. 4.—Putnam voters to-day elected a democratic mayor and republican officers for the other places on the ticket. There was a keen fight for the election of the oad of the ticket by Alderman Edward Mullin, democrat, and former Mayor William R. Barber, the republican candidate. Alderman Mullin won by fifteen votes. The republican nominees elected were Archibald McDonald, alderman at large; Charles H. Brown, city treasurer, and Simon Farley, collector.

The common council will have five republican members and four democrats.

MOVEMENT AGAINST FOOTBALL SPREADS

PRES. BUTLER, OF COLUMBIA, ENDORSES ACTION AT THAT INSTITUTION.

Declares Years' experience Has Shown Rules Committee Does Not Desire to Reform Game—Chicago University Starts Movement for Reform—Academic Council of California University Takes Matter into Its Own Hands—New York Coroner's Jury Suggests Laws to Eliminate Brutality.

New York, Dec. 4.—The action of Columbia university in abolishing football was discussed to-day by Nicholas M. Butler, president of Columbia, in a letter printed in the college daily paper and addressed to alumni and students. The letter, in part, was as follows: "The action of the committee on student organizations in putting an end to the present game of football at Columbia university has my cordial approval, and I wish to state why that action is in the best interest of the whole university. The game which this committee has devised and developed is not a sport, but a profession. It can be participated in by only the merest fraction of the student body. The great public favor with which even the fiercest contests are received is not a cause for exultation, but rather for profound regret.

"We ourselves cannot reform this game, and the experience of years has shown that the rules committee do not desire to reform it. Columbia university owes it to its traditions to put an end, so far as action by it can, to this state of affairs. It has done so. We must have the qualities of manliness, loyalty and courage built upon a moral foundation, and not allow them to rest upon a purely physical one—for in the last analysis purely physical basis is a purely animal basis.

"The best judgment of those best qualified to judge is that we have done a distinct public service in shutting the present game of football and its committee on rules out of Columbia university.

"What next? I do not know and cannot predict. Sober reflection will, I am confident, bring even the most enthusiastic follower of football to see that the action taken is the only really effective way to open the door to a truly reformed, instead of a tinkered, football."

FOOTBALL BRUTALITY.

New York Coroner's Jury Suggests Passage of Laws to Eliminate It.

New York, Dec. 4.—A verdict suggesting the passage of laws to eliminate brutality from football was returned to-day by the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Harold R. Moore, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who was killed while playing football for the Union college football eleven during a game against New York university. Coroner O'Gorman charged the jury that if any one was to blame for Moore's death it was to fix the responsibility. The jury's verdict stated that death was due to an accident, and then continued: "Said game as now played is dangerous to life and limb. We suggest that prompt and effective action be taken for the enactment of laws to prohibit all brutal features from the game which may be necessary to eliminate all dangers to the players."

Class Contest Yesterday May be Last—Added Interest.

New York, Dec. 4.—Interest was added to the annual football match between the sophomores and freshmen of Columbia university, played at American League park this afternoon, by the fact that it is the last game of football that Columbia students may engage in, according to the recent prohibitive decree of the faculty which goes into effect on December 31. The game resulted in a victory for the sophomores by the score of 5 to 0.

There will be a mass meeting of students to-morrow to discuss the recent action of the faculty in abolishing football and to take action either of endorsement or protest.

REVISING OF FOOTBALL.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Directors of Swift & Co. have voted to increase the capital stock of the company $25,000,000, which will bring the total up to $90,000,000. In a circular issued to-day the stockholders asked that the proposal be voted on at the annual meeting to be held on January 4, 1906. As the company is controlled by the directors through stockholdings, the proposal will be favorably acted on. The immediate purpose of the increase is not stated.

FANNY CROSBY NOT IN NEED.

Bridgeport, Dec. 4.—Miss Fanny Crosby, the blind poetess and well-known writer of religious hymns, has issued a card denying the statement that she is in distress, and protesting against the sale of her autobiography on these grounds. She says that the so-called autobiography is being sold contrary to her desire.

FIRST SESSION OF CONGRESS.

NO UNUSUAL INCIDENTS BUT ABSENCE OF FLOWERS MARKED.

Hundreds of Handsomely Gowned Women Furnish the Only Color Scheme—Senate in Session but Twenty Minutes When It Adjourns Out of Respect for Late Orville H. Platt—Speaker Cannon Re-elected—Laugh on Youngest Member of House.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The assembling to-day of the members of the Fifty-ninth congress was marked by no unusual incidents, but it attracted to the capitol crowds of spectators who took a lively interest in the proceedings. The day was perfect. The sun shone brightly and the air was keen. Society was out in force and filled the reserved galleries, while visitors unable to find seats roamed the corridors to catch glimpses of public men. In the senate the proceedings were brief, but most of the spectators seemed to find quite as much interest in observing the senators who remained on the floor after adjournment, as they could have experienced had the session continued longer.

The house was in session for more than three hours, and with the proceedings followed the programme that has marked the opening of congress for many years, there was enough of interest to hold an exceptionally large audience during the entire time.

One noticeable feature was the absence of flowers; which heretofore have been common to both chambers. On opening days the display had been so great that this exhibition alone would have been sufficient to draw great crowds and the absence of floral tributes, due to a resolution adopted unanimously by the senate and to an order of the speaker in the house, robbed the occasion of much of its picturesqueness.

The only color scheme given to the chambers to-day was that of the galleries where hundreds of handsomely gowned women gave a splendor to the event that made it the beginning of the congressional social season.

BRITISH CABINET OUT; BANNERMAN SUMMONED

LIBERAL LEADER CALLED BY KING TO FORM NEW MINISTRY.

Balfour's Resignation Handed in Yesterday Afternoon—Entire Programme Cut and Dried for Some Time—John Morley Will be One of Sir Henry's Chief Advisers in Drawing Up New Cabinet—Lord Rosebery Will be Completely Ignored.

London, Dec. 4.—The political crisis in the United Kingdom reached a climax this afternoon, when Arthur J. Balfour, the premier, formally tendered the resignations of himself and the members of his cabinet to King Edward, who accepted them. His majesty has invited Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman to an interview to-morrow morning, when he will offer him the mission of forming a new cabinet. Sir Henry will accept the task, and within a few days, even within a few hours, a new government will be formed.

A brief official announcement was made to-night that the cabinet had resigned; that the king had accepted the resignation of his ministers and that Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman had been selected.

It would now appear that the entire programme has been cut and dried for some time, and it is even probable that the Liberal leader has already completed his cabinet, though this, like everything else in connection with British officialdom, must be left to surmise.

It may be stated as certain that Lord Rosebery will be entirely ignored in the make up of the new cabinet and that John Morley will be one of the chief advisers of Sir Henry in drawing up the list of his official family which will be presented to his majesty.

Mr. Morley himself is considered likely to go to the Indian office, and it is probable that Herbert Henry Asquith will be chancellor of the exchequer. The foreign affairs portfolio will go either to Lord Elgin or Sir Edward Grey, though the latter is considered likely to be made secretary for the colonies. Aside from these there is a degree of uncertainty.

The meeting of the privy council, which was set for to-morrow morning, has been postponed until a later date. It is understood that the king will leave town to-morrow afternoon to be the guest at Lord Alington's house party at Crickel, Wimbourn, but this is still indefinite.

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER.

Cincinnati, Dec. 4.—The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Pere Marquette railroads to-day were ordered placed in the hands of a receiver by United States Circuit Judge Henry Lurton, and Judson Harmon, formerly United States attorney general, was appointed receiver, giving bond for $200,000. Application for receiver was made on behalf of Walter B. Horn of New York, a creditor of both railroads, and was agreed to by the defendants in answers admitting the principal charges of insolvency. It was declared that Walter B. Horn was a creditor to the amount of $82,986.13 for money loaned, which the defendant had admitted inability to pay.

PERKINS TO RETIRE.

Morgan's Partner to Resign Vice Presidency of New York Life.

New York, Dec. 4.—It was stated on good authority this afternoon that George W. Perkins, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., will retire from the vice-presidency of the New York Life insurance company and from the chairmanship of its finance committee at the coming election, next April. A friend of Mr. Perkins declared to-day that this step has been taken at the suggestion of Mr. Morgan himself, and that the decision would be formally announced very soon.

After Mr. Perkins had been told of the report and had been made acquainted with all the details which accompanied it he declined to either confirm or deny the story.

WOMAN TERRORIST ON TRIAL.

Accused of Conspiracy to Assassinate General Treppoff.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3, 9 p. m. (via Eydtkuhnen, East Prussia, Dec. 4.)—The trial of Mademoiselle Leontief and a dozen others who are charged with being implicated in a terrorist plot to kill General Treppoff, is proceeding behind closed doors. The evidence developed the existence of a big conspiracy with ramifications at Moscow and elsewhere which had for its purpose the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius, already accomplished, and of General Treppoff and other "tyrants." The plot was discovered by accident through a courier who was carrying a message to one of the conspirators in Finland.

FOR MUNICIPAL LIGHTING.

RESOLUTION TO PURCHASE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

Introduced into Board of Aldermen but Tabled—Bonding of City for Bridge Over Mill River a Stumbling Block to Humphrey Street Extension—Crown Street Extension and Widening of Grand Avenue and St. John Street Favorably Reported.

The December meeting of the board of aldermen was notable for the introduction of a large number of important matters.

A resolution for the regulating and licensing of bill posters by the city was referred to the committee on ordinances, which committee likewise received a communication from the mayor concerning the regulation, by the city, of football ticket speculating. Chicago has laws intended to effect this purpose, and the communication was accompanied by a statement from Mayor Dunne regarding their working in Chicago.

The estimates for 1906 were submitted by the board of finance and referred to a standing committee consisting of the chairman of the committees of the board, who will give the estimates a public hearing in city hall on Thursday evening. Alderman Curtiss was chosen chairman of this committee.

A report from the street committee ordering the extension of Crown street to meet Prindle at Wooster, and recommending that the board of finance include in next year's estimates the money necessary to carry the matter to completion, was read for the first time.

The petitioners for the extension of Humphrey street were given leave to withdraw, as the object to be effected was embodied in resolutions before the board.

Surveys and assessments of benefits and damages were ordered by the street committee for the widening of St. John street between Olive street and Grand avenue, and also of Grand avenue between Olive and State.

The bridge street grade crossing matter was laid on the table.

A gas light was favorably reported for Orange street between Chapel and Court, and also electric lights on Maple street near Boulevard, at Newhall and Hazel and in Bay View park.

A report favoring the execution of the new contract with the United Illuminating company for the city's electric lighting was made by the lighting committee. The report was tabled for printing.

MADE DIRECTOR FOR TAKING OUT POLICIES

HUGHES' PROBE UNCOMFORTABLY NEAR MUTUAL RESERVE LIFE'S HEART.

Hornee H. Brockway Enlightens Committee as to How He Got into Directory of Company—Put on Pay Roll at $300 Per Week—Had Taken Out $6,000 in Policies on Request of President Burnham—This Sum Paid to a Publicity Agent to Publish Articles Favorable to Company.

New York, Dec. 4.—The most interesting development in the legislative life insurance investigation to-day was contained in the testimony of Horace H. Brockway, a hotel proprietor and director of the Mutual Reserve Life insurance company, who said that he had given $6,000 to President Frederick A. Burnham of that company at the demand of Mr. Burnham in 1898. Mr. Brockway told the committee that Mr. Burnham told him that if he would take out a policy in the Mutual Reserve that he would make him a director. Mr. Brockway then took out policies amounting to $6,000. After having been a director for some time he was put on the payroll of the company at $300 a week, receiving that salary for four months and then it was cut to $200 a week. Asked what he did to earn that money he said he looked over some loans for the company, was consulted by policy holders as to whether the company was a good one to insure in and did whatever he was asked to do. He had been getting $300 a week eight weeks when Mr. Burnham demanded the $6,000.

What President Burnham did with that money was shown by the subsequent testimony of George L. Eldredge, vice president and actuary of the Mutual Reserve Life insurance company, who told the committee that President Burnham told him that he had given it to Hillary Bell, a newspaper man and publicity agent of the company, to secure the publication of articles favorable to the company at a time when it was being criticized in the newspapers. Mr. Bell said that he could accomplish much more with the money if he were not compelled to report to the company just what he expended it for.

Mr. Brockway said he is still a director of the company. The reason why President Burnham was not called before the committee was given by his physician, who told the committee to-day that Mr. Burnham is too sick to appear or even make a deposition.

Vice President Eldredge also told the committee to-day that his company had much trouble with Andrew J. Clune when he was superintendent of insurance of California, and in six years from 1897 paid Thomas J. Clarke, the commissioner's brother, $7,500 in counsel fees to represent the company before the insurance department and legislature of that state.

Mr. Hughes was investigating the relations of the Mutual Reserve Life insurance company with the New York state insurance department when the committee adjourned until to-morrow.

Vice President Eldredge had been on the stand nearly all day.

Senator Armstrong, chairman of the committee, said to-day that the committee expected to finish its work by December 31 but that, if it did not, the committee would not pass out of existence when the legislature assembled unless that body so ordered.

SUDDEN DEATH IN NEW LONDON.

Man Expires on the Street—Identity Unknown.

New London, Dec. 4.—An unknown man, about fifty-five years old, weighing about 180 pounds, with reddish mustache and hair, died suddenly on Main street this afternoon. The only clue to his identity is in the statement he made to a local physician, to whom he went for treatment at noon, that he was a stonecutter belonging here, but with no friends or relatives here. He had arrived on a Central Vermont railroad train at noon and had a baggage check, over $70 in money and various small articles, but no identifying papers upon his person.

VALUABLE ANTIQUES AT PEABODY.

Rare Collections come to light after 25 Years.

A discovery of unusual importance has been made at Peabody museum of Yale university. Beginning about the year 1880, the late Prof. O. O. Marsh started the collection of antiquities of the Chiriqui Indians of the province of Panama. The collections were bought from time to time from A. DeZeltner, the French consul at Panama, and from J. E. McNeil, who for many years was a resident of Panama.

Professor Marsh continued buying the collection for 19 years until 1879. He stored away the collections in unopened boxes in an obscure part of the museum, where they have remained for 26 years, no one having knowledge of their value.

Within a few days George Grant McCurdy, head of the anthropological section of the museum, has opened this almost forgotten collection. It is found to be much larger than was expected and to have a very exceptional value. It consists of more than 5,000 different objects largely pottery, of great diversity of shape, great symmetry of execution and in many cases ornately figured, the whole, it is said, making a collection much more valuable than any belonging to a museum.

Besides the potteries there are 50 objects in gold, and a few in copper, these objects including figurines, amulets, and charms and other gold antiquities. The various objects and the collection are to be classified and put on exhibition. One reason why they had not been discovered before was the crowded character of the museum.

The Chiriqui Indians of Panama province represented by the collection had a civilization in pre-historic times second only to that of the Aztecs, and to the Peruvians under the Incas. They, however, left no large monuments. The antiquities of the collection were taken largely from graves and had to be transported from the interior of Panama to the coast on horseback, but they show only slight breakages.

There is probably more deception and adulteration in this one article than in any other food product.

We can, however, give an absolute guarantee of the Purity and genuineness of DE POSSEL brand of Oil. We import it direct from France, where it is pressed from selected Olives. Only the first pressing is used. If you are a lover of exquisitely fine Olive Oil, try DE POSSEL.

IN AND ABOUT THE COURTS.

Action will be brought by Attorney John L. Gilson, on behalf of F. E. Nettleton, of Goffe street, against Quinpiac lodge, I. O. O. F., for $3,000 damages.

Mr. Nettleton sues for benefits which he alleges are due owing to the death of his father, the late R. O. Nettleton, who had been a member of the lodge for fifty-one years.

The action is in regard to benefits, both death and for sickness, which it is claimed the lodge refused to pay owing to some dispute regarding the payment of dues.

$10,000 DAMAGE SUIT.

Hiram Swain, of 219 West street, a structural iron worker, has brought suit for $10,000 damages against James O'Laughlin, the contractor for the new Felt theater in this city. S. Z. Felt, proprietor of the theater, has been garnished in the suit by Constable Peter J. McNerney.

HAD FIT IN COURT.

The deliberations of the city court yesterday were suddenly disturbed by a man in the prisoners' pen suddenly giving the most awful groans and then falling on top of another prisoner in a fit.

Several policemen carried the man down the "bridge of sighs" and thence out into the open air, where he was resuscitated.

The man's name is William Galway and his case was continued until tomorrow. He is charged with breach of the peace.

BRINGS SUIT.

Alleging that he was assaulted by a conductor of the Consolidated Railway company because he refused to pay two fares, Philip A. Bulger, of 311 James street, has brought suit in the court of common pleas against the trolley company in which he claims damages of $1,000.

AN APPEAL.

An appeal was filed yesterday in the probate court by Bertha Niederpruem, widow of William Niederpruem, former proprietor of Heublein's cafe, from her own account on the estate. Mrs. Niederpruem sets up now the claim that the $3,500 which she represents as assets of the estate really belonged to her, for she had advanced it to her husband out of her personal funds during his illness. If this is found to be so, the Niederpruem estate will prove to be insolvent.

ANOTHER RAILROAD SUIT.

Mary Smith, of Cheshire, is plaintiff in a railway suit. She alleges that while alighting from a car on August 5 at Wooster place the car was suddenly started up and she was thrown to the pavement in the street. She alleges that her left arm, shoulder and side were severely injured by the fall.

BRONSON WILL CASE CONTINUED. Waterbury, Dec. 4.—By mutual agree-

MRS. FAY'S WONDERFUL TALENT.

Mrs. Fay at the New Haven theater this week catches mental queries as well as written ones, she describes the questioner, his habitation, name and occupation, until the audience gasps at such revelations and begin to believe it is revelation from the Old Nick. People go again and again; night after night finds the same curious ones, who, when asked why they are there, reply: "We just couldn't help it. Mrs. Fay is a wonderful woman and we must have her answer our questions."

Violation of Corrupt Practices Act—Fifteen Men Served and Plead Guilty—Costs Also Added but Afterwards Remitted.

Hamden and Hamdenites have been considerably stirred up over the sensation created by the issuing of warrants for fifteen of their prominent citizens by Prosecutor Downer at the instance of Attorney E. P. Arvine, of this city, acting for George L. Fox, for violation of the corrupt practices act.

The men fined were: Harmon W. Wakefield, rep., and Stephen H. Hoey, dem., candidates for auditors; George H. Gorham, rep., and Patrick Mahor, dem., candidates for assessors; Patrick Kelley, dem., candidate for school committee; Patrick Nolan, dem., candidate for board of relief; Thomas B. ENTERTAINMENTS

Hyperion Theater.

George Primrose and his big minstrel company will be the attraction at the Hyperion theater on Thursday, December 7, when a performance of genuine negro minstrelsy will be presented. As each and every member of this up-to-date organization will be in black face, and when the curtain goes up for the first part it will be seen that this form of entertainment has, at last, been placed where it belongs in the amusement world, giving the public what it wants—pure and wholesome fun and up-to-date novelties.

The opening part will consist of two scenes, the first will be that of "ye old time" minstrel troupe of 1843 with Sambo, Bones and Tambo, and all the old time costumes and surroundings, changing to a modern first part, wherein the entire company will take part in what is said to be the handsomest scenic interior ever put on the stage. During this part all the old time songs as well as the latest comic songs, jokes and ballads will be rendered by a host of comedians, singers and dancers.

LA SIGNORA DI CHALLANT. The presentation in English by Alexandra Warda, the famous Polish emotional artist and tragedienne, of the title role in Giacomo's prominent drama "La Signora di Challant," announced for Saturday night's performance at the Hyperion theater has created such furore among the theatrical managers of the eastern cities will come to New Haven to witness the performance of so excellent a play by so famous an artist.

EDNA MAY COMING.

Dainty Edna May will be presented by Charles Frohman at the Hyperion theater Tuesday, December 12. Miss May has a better play than ever, "The Catch of the Season" tells a pretty and decidedly interesting love story, and Miss May and Farren Soutar act these love scenes with feeling and charm. Many novelties and a plentitude of attractive features, including a coterie of clever comedians, a bevy of beauties selected from English, French and American show girls, garbed in the most exquisite gowns ever seen upon the stage, a score of song hits, half a dozen sung by Miss May herself, and others by members of the company. After a five months' crowded run at Daly's theater this company will fill out the remainder of the season in a few cities selected by Mr. Frohman.

New Haven Theater.

The attraction at the New Haven Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 11, 12 and 13, will be Theodore Kilmer's new melodrama entitled "Wedded and Parted," Matinee Wednesday.

Poll's New Theater.

Della Fox, dainty and charming with pretty dresses and a pleasing manner, held the feature line of the vapidville bill at Poll's last night. Miss Fox scored an individual hit with her clever song numbers and her chic manner. The three sisters Camaras, graceful and astounding equilibrista, gymnasts and acrobats, were the astonishing part of the program. No more daring or sensational work has been seen in this city as that performed by the sisters last evening, head to head, hand to hand balancing of the most daring kind, was executed with ease. They got a rousing hand at the conclusion of

SEATS ON SALE IN TWO PLACES.

Satisfactory Rehearsal Held Closed Doors Last Night.

It has been decided by the managers of the New Haven Oratorio society to hold the sale of seats for the concert on Thursday night in two places; at the M. Steiner Sons' Co., from 4 to 6 p. m., and in the Woolsey hall box office in the morning from 11 until 1 p. m.

On the day of the concert Woolsey hall box office will be open all day until the hour for beginning, 8 p. m.

Last night the oratorio held the first rehearsal before the concert in Woolsey hall with the grand organ. It was a most satisfactory rehearsal, and augured brilliant things for the presentation night. It looks now as though a large audience would do honor to the concert of St. Christopher, and to the first concert of the year by the oratorio society. Although many excellent seats at 50 cents and 75 cents are to be had, there ought not to be a vacant seat in Woolsey hall on Thursday night for it ought to be a salute to the glory of New Haven, as a musical town, that a distinguished composer who has been internationally honored, received his reward in his own home city. There is no reward for genius other than that of appreciation—a trite remark, but a true one.

OUTING. Outing for December is an unusually fine number of this splendid magazine, and a specially interesting article at this time is one by Walter Camp on "The Straight Road to an Open Game in Football." Professor Sneath expects to be able to return to the north in January, but it is barely possible that he will not return till after Easter. He has not been in robust health for two years.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES.

NEW HOUSES BROKEN INTO AND VALUABLES CARRIED OFF.

Scene of Operations New Mansion Houses on Prospect and St. Roman Streets—Valuable Tools, Workmen's Clothes and Keys of Nails Carried Away.

A series of robberies of the most persistent kind has just been brought to light. The first of these was reported to have taken place on the evening of November the 21st, while the most recent took place between Friday night and Saturday morning last. The scene of action selected by the perpetrators, who up to the present have not been discovered, are the many new mansion house now being built in the vicinity of Prospect street, St. Roman street, Edgell road and vicinity. According to the story as related by one of the contractors, the thieves, by their methods of breaking into the places, seem to be amateurs at the work, and it is generally thought that they are well acquainted with the district, and also the places broken into. One instance where two unopened bags of nails were carried off shows that a wagon or other vehicle must have been used in getting the stolen goods away to a safe hiding place. Expensive tools belonging to the workmen have been taken, causing them not only the loss of the same, but also a great inconvenience, as some of them could not be replaced for several days. Two valuable automobile lamps belonging to Mr. Ferguson of Cleveland, O., one of the contractors, were also carried away. On the evening of November 21, at the new mansion house being erected for Mr. Stoddard, not only the men's tools were stolen, but their overalls were also taken, and it was noon time before work could be begun. The next robbery is reported to have taken place at the new residence being built for Samuel York. Here doors were broken down. The men's tools were carried off and also a set of valuable lamps which Mr. Ferguson, the contractor, had left in the building over night. The following evening the house being built for C. H. Treadway on St. Roman street received the same treatment, and here again tools, clothes and other movable materials were carried off. The same house was again visited early Saturday morning, when the most daring of all the robberies took place. Two full keys of nails were taken, cement and sacks, workmen's clothes and many valuable tools. Several other houses in course of construction in various parts of the city are also known to have been visited by the thieves, and all seem to be the work of the same band.

At 8 o'clock Miss Cornelia M. Bowen, principal of Mt. Meigs Institute (colored), Alabama, will give a stereoscopic lecture on her work. Miss Pierce will sing plantation songs.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the meeting of the King's Daughters' union will be held in the First Methodist church.

William J. Palmer, founder of Colorado City, Colorado, has given that city $1,000,000 or more in the way of parks, large sums to its charitable institutions, built a driveway up the Bear Canyon, and now has bought up another large tract of ground to convert into a park.

The horse seems to be holding its own in spite of the competition. According to the report of the secretary of agriculture, there are now more horses in this country than ever before, with a correspondingly higher value. The secretary's valuation of them is $1,200,000,000. This leaves out of the reckoning $250,000,000 worth of mules.

First Lieutenant Philip von Franck, retired, the oldest German army officer, completed the other day the hundredth year of his age in Charlottenburg, and was the subject of innumerable congratulations and attentions. The Baltimore American says that its prophecy made shortly after the great fire that the demand for good real estate in Baltimore would soon be greater than it had been for many years is already fully justified. With a steady increase in the suburban population there is a growing demand for city residences and there are more people in the city than ever before. Property values have increased in nearly every part of the city and real estate investments give large returns.

The late Count of Flanders was a collector of books, paintings, sculpture, prints and all kinds of art. His collections are believed to be of great value, as they undoubtedly are wide in scope. But there was one particular in which the count's differed vastly from other collectors. Whereas they mostly leave such work as classifying and cataloguing to paid servants, the Count's attachment to his pursuits was so keen that he did all such work with his own hands, devoting several hours to it daily.

In the course of an interview with a representative of the Paris Matin, M. Jullit, the engineer of M. Lebaudy's balloon, declared that a balloon could scarcely be injured by rifle fire. Two hundred bullets through the silk would only slightly diminish the balloon's powers of ascension, while its exceedingly mobile properties would render the possibility of disablement by shell fire exceedingly problematical. But should it be seriously rent the aeronauts would probably be able to reach friendly territory in safety before the final collapse.

Henry C. Lea of Philadelphia has his own opinion about the Quay statue for which the Harrisburg legislature voted $20,000 of the state's money, Governor Pennypacker approving. "It is impossible," says Mr. Lea, "to imagine that the community will patiently accept the shame of thus honoring in perpetuity the memory of a man who prostituted his remarkable abilities to the systematic debauching of public morality; of a man whose achievements was the building up of a machine which rendered graft a profession and enabled the gang to rule and plunder at will; of a man whose sole claim to remembrance is that he covered his native state with ignominy and rendered it a byword in the nation as the typical exemplar of political corruption."

THE FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Congress is at it again, and there is a good deal for it to be at during this session. The matter to be discussed, if not settled, include the questions of protecting the interests of policyholders in insurance companies, Statehood for the remaining Territories, Panama Canal construction, immigration, and the treatment of the Chinese under the present exclusion law, raising revenue against a possible deficit, control of corporations engaged in interstate business, corrupt use of money at elections, the Philippines, San Domingo and other western republics, tariff questions and commercial competition with Germany, as well as the usual diversified subjects which the various executive departments annually present to be reviewed by Congress.

The indications are that there will be an uncommonly lively session. The people are more awake than usual, and perhaps Congress will be.

THE FAMINE IN JAPAN.

Japan isn't anywhere near as distressful a country as Russia is after the war, but she isn't entirely comfortable. A famine prevails there over a large area. Out of 1,000,000 people who are troubled, at least half are actually starving, not knowing where to turn for the necessary sustenance wherewith to keep alive. So many instances of petty theft have occurred that the police are unequal to the enormous work of arresting. They now merely forward the statistics to headquarters, and nothing more is done. There are cases where parents are selling their children in order to decrease their responsibility and gain a little money. Wholesale emigration to other provinces is going on. The unhappy people leave stealthily at night to avoid their creditors, taking a small bundle of their earthly belongings. The talk is that there are too many Japanese in Japan. By and by perhaps the surplus Japanese will find a good living in Korea, Manchuria and the United States.

PRINCETON'S LAKE.

Mr. Carnegie is so rich that he can give almost anything he takes a notion to give. Perhaps he could even give an ocean if he wanted to. Anyhow, he has given a lake. A while ago Mr. Carnegie bethought himself that Princeton University needed a lake on which to do aquatic stunts. So he arranged to have one made, and it is approaching completion. This lake extends from Princeton to Kingston, a distance of three miles, and in its widest portion will be about 800 feet across. At Kingston a large concrete dam is to be constructed to hold the combined waters of the Millstone and Stony brook. The dam will be 27 feet high and 600 feet in length. The waters will thus be backed up to the lower borders of the university campus and will be kept alive by the inflow of the Millstone and Stony brook. Altogether it is estimated that 1,200 acres of meadow farm and farm land will be flooded to a slight depth. Two high arch bridges will cross the lake, while several islands will be constructed to add attractiveness to the scenery. Mr. Carnegie pledged himself for $385,000 for the building of the lake. Princeton has been able to hold her own in land games, and now she may also be able to hold her own in water games.

A COTTON-PICKER THAT WILL PICK

One of the long-felt wants in the South is a cotton-picker that will pick cotton. Many inventors have long been at work to make such a machine, and now there are indications that a Mr. Campbell has succeeded. Tests are now being made of the machine. It has been found that in going over the rows the first time the machine picked 91 per cent of the open cotton, and going over the rows the second time gathered 6 per cent more, leaving only 3 per cent on the ground to be gathered by hand. It is said that the cotton thus gathered from the plants was remarkably free from dirt and leaves and averaged well with the hand-picked staple. But by means of a cleaner, also the invention of Mr. Campbell, ordinary cotton was raised at least a half grade or more, and the planters who watched the operation of the machine agreed that it would be of great value to the cotton growing industry, aside from the saving of labor cost, as the difference in the value of the cotton that has gone through this process is from $1.25 to $1.50 on each bale by reason of freeing the staple of dirt and trash. It is claimed for the machine that it will pick ten acres of cotton in a day at a cost of $10, or about a quarter of the cost of hand picking. If it will many southern negroes will find a part of their occupation gone.

And so he asked her to be his wife (Only he put it thus, you see): "Ah, will you not promise to float through life Like this, together with me?" (What a chestnutty speech!" thought she.) But she answered: "Oh, yes!—through life like this We will paddle and drift and float!" (Which shows that she was a wise little miss— He was doing the work, you'll note. PHILIPPINE RAT CATCHERS.

Bounty for the Capture of the Animals in Manila. The Manila rat is much more in demand than is the Buffalo rat. Since the American occupation of the Philippines rat catching has become a big industry. It has thrived so much under a personal form of government that 150,000 of the animals were caught in Manila during the last year. Incidentally that meant only good rats in Manila are dead rats. This wholesale slaughter of rats is carried out under the direction of the Philippine Board of Health. It is one of the means used to prevent the much dreaded Asiatic plague. In an informal discussion that some Buffalo physicians were having the other night Dr. R. H. McMullen, recently returned from the Philippines, told about the increase in the United States Government had been making on the pest carrying rat of Manila. Dr. McMullen was attached to the Board of Health there. "Although it is an established fact that rats are carriers of the infection of the dreaded Asiatic plague, yet comparatively few Americans in Manila are alive to the importance which the Board of Health authorities attach to the trapping of rodents, or are aware that the city has an organized corps of seventy-five rat catchers, and that they trap about a hundred and fifty thousand rats a year," said the doctor. "Such is the case, nevertheless, and, were it not for this rat brigade, it would be difficult to say, where the pest would stop. "If one pauses to think that bubonic plague is epidemic in Hong Kong and other Asiatic ports which are brought in close relationship with Manila by reason of the immense freight and passenger traffic between the mainland of Asia and our new possessions, while in Manila there is only an occasional sporadic case, he will readily realize that every precaution must be taken to prevent the spread of the disease in the islands. "To what extent the system of rat-catching holds in check the plague is only a matter of conjecture, but it is undoubtedly great, and well under conditions anti-dumping American occupation, this active rodent was largely responsible for the destruction of an immense amount of property. "The corps of rat catchers is divided into seven sections, one being assigned to each of the health stations. Each man, who in turn hires small boys to do the actual work, receives a monthly salary of 10 pesetas, which is $5, and in addition, three centavos (1 1-2c) for every rat he catches. This bounty amounts to about six pesos a month. So he receives an income of 16 pesos a month—an average clerk's salary. A rat catcher must be industrious. He is hired by the district medical inspector, and if he fails to corral a certain number of animals he is promptly succeeded by a new aspirant. "The Oriental professional resorts to many ingenious ways in attempting to fool the officials and incidentally, increase his revenue. When the trapping was started the officials were none too strict, and it was soon noticed that some of the trappers were making quite an amount of money. Investigation revealed the fact that oftentimes one rat was made to do duty several times, being kept on the grounds earning bounty for its captor until decomposition set in. To remedy this the inspectors now make each trapper bring his rats to the station every morning, and there the right front is chopped off and the rat is labeled with the street and the number of the house from which it came. All rats are then taken to the crematory. "But the clever native found a new means of evading the law. He conceived the idea of starting a rat farm, and before the authorities were aware of it the business of breeding rodents, in order to collect the bounty, assumed goodly proportions. "Once a month an auditing is made, at which time all the traps which are furnished by the authorities must be accounted for by the catchers. "One of the principal acts in this rat drama is enacted at the waterfront, where every precaution is taken to prevent rats from coming ashore from ships arriving from plague infected ports of Asia. Cargoes are closely watched, and while they are being discharged tin funnels are placed on the hawsers to prevent the rodents from reaching the wharf."—Buffalo Express.

WORLD'S GREATEST MELODRAMATIST. D. F. St. Clair, in Public Opinion, quotes Theodore Kremer, the author of 50 successful melodramas, as saying: "Having written so many plays, I am often asked how a young playwright should go about getting his play produced. There are comparatively few responsible managers or men who give the final word as to the production of a play. These men are all overworked and do not have time to really read the plays they are compelled to read, therefore it is almost impossible for an outsider or new writer to get direct hearing before them. He must either hold the center of some stage himself as an actor, or he must be able to secure the interested friendship of some successful actor for whom he is able to write a promising play. I always read my plays to the managers, because I can interpret their meaning with my own voice and action much better than they can understand it by reading the plays themselves. After reading to these managers some of the ambitious plays that I can't get played, they have exclaimed with regret: 'Mr. Kremer, if we could only get actors to act that play as you read it, we would undertake its production.' But, as I have said, the actors and the plays are just what the people want. To get something better the people must be educated by seeing something better, not at their own unwilling expenses. We need free dramatic art schools and theaters where the Shakespeares, Schillers' Moellers, Racines, and all the great ancient and modern dramatists can be played and studied and enjoyed. These free performances would be and by create for dramatic art an atmosphere in the life and habits of the people."

Alderman Curtis said that the minimum cost, according to engineers, would be $400 per lamp, or about $240,000 for this city, and the maximum $500 per lamp, or $300,000 total.

Alderman Healy introduced a resolution that the board of aldermen favor the purchase of the United Illuminating company by the city.

The curfew ordinance was reported and tabled for printing. An unfavorable report on the proposed ordinance for compelling the use of hearse instead of hacks for the burial of infants was accepted.

Alderman Devine asked for unanimous consent for an order for work on the bridge and street across Mill river connecting Humphrey and Alton streets.

A motion to reconsider the first order was made and the chair declared it carried. On a dispute a yeas and nays vote was taken and there were: Yeas 7, nays 9. Reconsideration, therefore, was lost.

A resolution was passed to ask the corporation counsel as to whether the board of finance could disregard an order of the board of aldermen.

When the board adjourned it was to meet again next Monday evening.

The preliminary steps to organization were taken by the house. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was re-elected speaker, the members of the house took the oath of office; the officers and floor employees of the body were re-elected; the rules of the body were made, and members went through the formality of drawing for seats, all of which was witnessed by the presence of the crowds in the galleries.

In a brief speech on the adoption of the rules, Mr. Williams of Mississippi, touched on the interest of the country in tariff legislation, and told of the new republican "ideas" which were being "waited to Washington on breezes from every part of the country."

Mr. Williams was asked by the youngest member of the house, Mr. Wharton of Illinois, for an explanation of what he had meant by the word "kid" in asking for support in opposition to the rules from the new republican members.

Hartford, Dec. 4.—Of the twenty-seven prisoners at the state prison in Wethersfield to petition the board of pardons for freedom at the December term of the board to-day five were pardoned and one was paroled. The parole of Attorney Percy L. Johnson, of Bridgeport, was extended so that he may go to New York.

James F. Taylor, who was sent up to prison in July, 1887, for life for murder in the second degree, petitioned the board for the sixteenth time, but no pardon was granted. He, with William Chamberlain, killed Margaret Ernst, of Spruce street, New Haven.

In the case of James Bradley, of Bridgeport, the prisoner's mother, a woman of seventy years, appeared before the board to plead for clemency for the petitioner. Bradley is serving a sentence of three and a half years to eight years on two counts of statutory burglary, and was sentenced February 26, 1902.

Among the pardons granted was one to John Levery, sentenced from New Haven county July 6, 1897, for fifteen years for criminal assault.

The paroled prisoner is George Hull, sent to prison from New Haven county April 2, 1901, for seven years for breaking and entering. He was found guilty on seven counts.

The petition of Hannah L. Chase, of New Haven, charged with arson, did not come before the board. When the case was reached the board was informed that the application had been withdrawn.

JEWISH MASS MEETING.

ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING AT WARNER HALL LAST NIGHT.

Rev. Zeff of New York City Delivers an Eloquent Address Lasting Two Hours.

It was a whole souled gathering, interested in the welfare of their suffering brethren in aching Russia, last night at Warner Hall. The meeting was under the auspices of the Jewish Defence society of New Haven. The hall was extremely packed. The stage was decorated in mourning colors.

There were three other speakers to speak, but when the Rev. Mr. Zeff had concluded the time was too late for speaking, and since his eloquent harangue had so aroused the audience the latter part of the meeting was spent in selling pictures, illustrations of the Russian atrocities and the receiving of contributions.

COACH REID AT WHITE HOUSE.

President Talks Over Football Season With Harvard Man.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Among President Roosevelt's guests at luncheon to-day were Dr. William T. Reid, Jr., head coach of the Harvard football squad, and Herbert White, connected with the athletic association of the same institution.

At the beginning of the football season, which came to a close last Saturday, President Roosevelt had a conference with Dr. Reid, Walter Camp and several other authorities on the game with a view to such a modification of the rules as would eliminate its brutal features, prevent "slugging" so far as possible and at the same time bring about more open play. It was too late at that time to make any changes in the rules for the present season, but the coaches promised to use their influence to prevent unnecessary brutality by teams with which they were connected, and to consider, in the light of developments, changes in the rules of the game.

The conference to-day, which was comparatively brief, enabled the president to get the benefit of the observations of Dr. Reid and Mr. White during the season just closed. While nothing was disclosed regarding the details of the conference, it is stated that no conclusions of a definite character were reached. The president is anxious that the game of football, as a college sport, should not be abandoned, but he strongly favors a modification of the rules along the lines indicated. Unless brutality and danger to the lives of players is reduced materially, he realizes that the sport is practically doomed. The president is conferring personally and by letter with football authorities, but as yet is not prepared to announce the result of the consideration he has given and is giving to the game.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—The University of Chicago has started a movement to secure reforms in football, and the plans have gone so far that a committee has been appointed to investigate the game and to make recommendations.

Another Football Death.

Sidney, Ia., Dec. 4.—Harry Rowe, eighteen years old, died to-day of internal injuries sustained in a football game three weeks ago. He did not tell of his injury until dying, saying that he did not want his death to be charged to football.

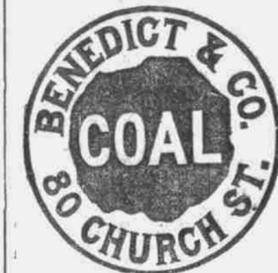

John Mitchell Recovered.

Indianapolis, Dec. 4.—President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, presided at the meeting of the national executive board in session at headquarters. Business transacted was routine. Mr. Mitchell has recovered from his sickness.

YESTERDAY'S STOCK MARKET.

Much Further Unsettling Under Continued Influence of Russian Disturbances.

New York, Dec. 4.—The stock market showed much further unsettling today under the continued influence of the widening effect of the Russian disturbances and our own tight money market.

Money continued in rather scanty supply and lent above 8 per cent. from the outset. Some of the forces of depletion of bank reserves also were still in operation.

The financial center has to bear the brunt of the disorderly conditions of Russian finance. The slump in Russian government bonds was reflected in free liquidation of other securities in which Paris is largely interested.

Space forbids enumeration for the many specialties seldom active which made fairly sensational gains. Their slight influence was shown in the removal of the weakness in the late general market.

United States Government Bonds. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,310,000.

United States new fours registered declined 1/2 on call.

WAS A LANDSLIDE. Huge Mass of Rock Broke from the Cliff.

The residents of Westville living near West Rock were greatly startled at about 10 o'clock Sunday night by a loud rumbling noise coming from the direction of the rock.

The cause of the sounds was the breaking of and rolling down of a huge mass of rock and earth from the face of the cliff.

It had probably become loosened by the action of the frost and the rain of Sunday so weighted it down that it was started from its place.

BABY'S AWFUL SCALP ECZEMA

Top of Head Covered with Scales which Peeled Off, Taking Hair with Them—Scalp Now Clean, Hair Thick,—Speedy and

PERMANENT CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My baby was six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with it. It would soon grow again and be as bad as before. My doctor said it was Eczema, and prescribed an ointment, which did no good. I then tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed her head in warm water and Cuticura Soap and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old, and has no trace of Eczema.—Mrs. C. W. Burges, Iranistan Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21, 1898."

SALT RHEUM CURED

"Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment cured me of salt rheum from which I suffered for eight years. My feet would be cracked on the bottom and between my toes so that they would bleed. They itched all of the time, and sometimes I could not walk. (signed) Mrs. E. L. Shaw, West Fryeburg, Me."

FACE HUMOR CURED

"I had an eruption on the side of the head near the hair and nothing did it any good until I used Cuticura. I have always used Cuticura Soap, as have my daughters, and we think it the best soap in the world.—Mrs. J. Chadwick, Pensacola, N. H., May 10, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every kind of Humors from Scabies, from Itchiness to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c, Ointment, 25c, Beal's, 25c. (In form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per trial 50c, may be had of all druggists. A single trial will cure the most distressing cases when all else fails. Potter Drug & Chem. Co., Sole Proprietors, Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, "How to Cure Eczema.")

GENERAL MERWIN MUCH BETTER.

The public will be glad to learn of the steady improvement of General S. E. Merwin, who has been confined to his home for a number of weeks owing to a surgical operation. The operation to which General Merwin submitted was a similar one to that performed for Professor Brewer at Johns Hopkins Medical college some months ago, and from which he recovered in a few weeks.

CONSISTENT PROGRESS

And improvement has distinguished the career of the Chickering Piano since 1823. Its superiority has been universally admitted by the artists of every decade of the past century, and perhaps the most emphatic success ever won by any piano may be credited to the Chickering Quarter Grand—a creation which has won the most enthusiastic plaudits from the music lovers in all sections of America.

Call and test the wonderful tone quality of the Chickering Grand and note its dainty size, making it adaptable to the smallest drawing rooms. M. SONNENBERG PIANO CO., 23 Steed, 801 Chapel Street.

STOCK MARKET FEATURES

MARKET HELD FIRM IN SPITE OF RUSSIAN TROUBLE

Panic in Russian Securities Not Heeded—Industrialists Were the Most Active Features Again but Nickel Plate Rose Sharply Also—Great Excitement in the Cotton Market on Reception of Government Report—Swift & Co. to Increase Its Stock $25,000,000.

The strength of the stock market yesterday was rather a surprise to many in Wall street, in view of the panic in Russian securities and the low state of New York bank reserves.

It looked as if the market was strongly supported to avoid a drop or because the foundations are so strong that higher prices must come later on, when the pinch as to money is over.

The industrial stocks were a feature again yesterday. National Lead made a new high record. American Locomotive, Virginia-Carolina Chemical, the equipment shares and Amalgamated Copper were active and strong.

The report that the president's message would contain radical recommendations limiting the state authority over industrial corporations and increasing government supervision seemed to have little influence.

Nickel Plate issues were strong, with a rise of from 5 to 7 points in the common.

As to the Russian bonds, a Berlin dispatch says: "Russian bonds had one of the worst days of the year on the Berlin bourse. Enormous quantities of government and railway securities were thrown upon the market, apparently at whatever they would bring. The heaviest fall was in state bonds of 1895, which lost 5 per cent. The Russian loan of 1905 subscribed for in Germany fell 3 points. The drops in railway securities were somewhat less than in the case of government securities. Speculative selling of St. Petersburg exchange assumed new dimensions. December bills sold down to 212.25 and January down to 210 1/2. Fear is 2 1/2. Fear expressed last the St. Petersburg resources of the imperial bank to such an extent as to impair the gold standard."

Notwithstanding the European news, there was little liquidation apparent in our market.

The report of the Shannon Copper company intimates that dividends are likely to begin soon. However, the manager reports a "continued reduction in the grade of smelting ore," which in itself is not encouraging.

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone stock—a Washington stock—had an advance of 6 points yesterday on the bid price and was quoted at 56 bid, 57 1/2 asked.

There was a big bulge in cotton on the reception of the government report at about 1 o'clock. The government estimate of this year's cotton crop is 10,167,818 bales. In New York prices jumped up at once from 40 to 50 points. The government report was regarded as very bullish. The news had a far greater effect on the New Orleans market, where prices went up 125 to 140 points for some of the options, with January there jumping from 11.60 to 12.40 and March from 11.55 to 12.15, and May to 12 cents less than before the publication of the report were on the basis of 11.35 for January, March 11.75 and May 11.85. The first trades made following the publication of the government figures were January 11.85, March 12.20 and May 12.30. The New Orleans quotations were over a cent per pound higher than these advanced prices, whereas the two markets before the publication of the report were selling practically on even terms. Later, however, this abnormal difference was adjusted by a break of 80 points in the New Orleans market from the top, while prices here sold off only 30 points and later recovered about 15 of this reactionary movement. The trading in both markets was on an enormous scale. Talk of a merger of Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Cotton Oil was again heard, but the report was not confirmed.

The New York, Ontario and Western railroad, recently acquired by the New Haven road, is showing an improvement in its earnings over these of last year at this time.

The big packing concern of Swift & Co., in which about a quarter of a million dollars of New Haven money is invested, announces to its stockholders that a vote will be taken at the coming annual meeting, January 4, on the increase of the capital stock from $35,000,000 to $60,000,000. This great increase of capital will be used to extend the sale of the Swift output all over the world. This company controls or directs the policy of the Merwin Provision company on West river and of the Sperry & Barnes company on Long wharf. The late E. H. Barnes, of this city, was a director of the Swift concern. At the present time John R. Redfield, of Hartford, is the only director in Connecticut. More than $5,000,000 of the stock of this concern, it is regarded favorably in this city. The firm made an increase of $10,000,000 in stock last year. There is a bond issue of $5,000,000. The stock is now selling around 105. The new stock will be issued at par to stockholders.

A miniature portrait of the painter accompanies a description and biographical note attached.

MR. BALDWIN IMPROVING. Ex-Assessor Charles A. Baldwin, who has been confined to his home, 32 Edge-wood avenue, for about two weeks owing to an attack of vertigo, while in his real estate office, is doing very nicely, though still obliged to remain indoors, not having recovered his strength yet sufficiently. His condition, the public will be glad to learn, is quite favorable for his full return to his former fairly good state of health.

A REPORT. Yesterday's Naugatuck News says: "Manager Welsman of the Naugatuck football team, said to-day that the local high school team is willing to play the New Haven high school eleven at any time. It is reported to-day that the New Haven team was trying to arrange a game with Naugatuck for this week, but if they are Manager Welsman does not know anything about it."

YALE GRADUATE. Bridgeport, Dec. 4.—Once a well known and respected resident of this city, Robert Shadobolt, a lawyer who for a score of years has been practicing in New York and Brooklyn, is now held by the New York police charged with embezzlement of $3,000. The complainant is Mrs. Catherine M. L. Redow, formerly of this city, but now of Brooklyn, who charges that the attorney appropriated a trust insurance fund for this amount to his own use.

Good Taste in Interior Decorating

The man who intends to have a dress suit made does not go to a third-rate tailor. Why should he be less particular about the clothes that he orders for his house? There is a good taste that governs the clothes of a house as surely as there is for the garments of a man. The "Thompson Shop" is thoroughly informed on everything that good taste calls for in interior decorating.

The Food Value of a Soda Cracker. You have heard that some foods furnish fat, other foods make muscle, and still others are tissue building and heat forming. You know that most foods have one or more of these elements, but do you know that no food contains them all in such properly balanced proportions as a good soda cracker? The United States Government report shows that soda crackers contain less water, are richer in the muscle and fat elements, and have a much higher per cent of the tissue building and heat forming properties than any article of food made from flour. That is why Uneeda Biscuit should form an important part of every meal. They represent the superlative of the soda cracker, all their goodness and nourishment being brought from the oven to you in a package that is proof against air, moisture and dust—the price being too small to mention.
